Chapter 135: Are You Sick?

"I said it was a misunderstanding, I'm not some pervert, are you deaf?"

Su Fan was extremely frustrated.

This girl with the long ponytail looked fine, but why was she so stubborn?

"Still being defiant, huh? Then I'll beat you until you admit it."

With that, the long ponytail girl stepped forward decisively.

She attacked Su Fan again using Tai Chi Palm.

Su Fan's anger rose as well.

This girl's Tai Chi skills were great, but he wasn't just a pushover either.

He just hadn't utilized the energy flowing within his body previously.

If he truly utilized that energy,

no matter how good the girl's Tai Chi skills were, she definitely couldn't withstand that force with the technique of using the opponent's force against them.

"You're forcing my hand."

Su Fan gritted his teeth and mobilized the energy within his body.

"Ruo Shui, stop!"

At that moment, an elderly man with snow-white hair and an ethereal presence walked out from the doors of the Tai Chi martial arts hall and called out to the long ponytail girl.

"Dad!"

"This jerk was harassing a high school girl, I was teaching him a lesson."

As she spoke, the ponytail woman was going to continue, but the elder had already stepped between Su Fan and her.

"Dad, don't stop me."

"Why are you so hot-tempered? Our Tai Chi Boxing is about cultivating character and nature, how can I trust you with the martial arts hall if you act like this?"

The elder spoke authoritatively, and the ponytail girl reluctantly withdrew.

"Let's reserve judgment until I have investigated,"

The elder looked at Su Fan.

"You're young and have an impressive demeanor, how could you be here harassing high school students?"

Su Fan explained.

"I didn't, I'm a doctor at the city's first hospital, doing voluntary clinics at Citizens Village, I wasn't familiar with the area, couldn't find a toilet, really couldn't hold it anymore, and just peed here, how could I expect a girl to turn up here..."

"Oh, you're a doctor from the city's first hospital?"

The elder's face immediately softened a lot.

"Nonsense, you say you're a doctor, and I could say I'm Wu Zetian. The hospital is such a dark place, just a place where they eat people without spitting out their bones, who would believe you guys would come out for voluntary clinics?"

The ponytail girl shouted agitatedly.

"You're being prejudiced..."

Su Fan said indignantly.

"One person doesn't represent everyone, there are plenty of good doctors, you're not a doctor, do you really understand my profession?"

He said, pointing at the girl who was still shaken and frightened.

"You can ask her, what did I do to her just now?"

The elder looked towards the trembling girl.

"Young lady, don't be scared, tell us, what did he do to you just now? I can make decisions for you."

The girl blushed, shaking her head.

"We, we just ran into each other, he, he didn't do anything to me yet."

"That's because he didn't succeed yet."

The ponytail girl said angrily.

Su Fan was speechless

Wasn't this blatant harassment?

He pointed at the water stain on the ground

"Look, the spot where I just peed is still here, why don't you sniff it to see if it's right..."

"Bastard, dare you to insult me?"

The ponytail girl was about to explode again.

But the elder stopped her once again.

"Ruo Shui, are you too idle? Why don't you go back to Zha Mabu and stand all night?"

The ponytail girl pouted her lips.

"Then, then, just because he says he's a doctor, you believe him? Where is the evidence?"

"May I see your work badge?"

The elder looked at Su Fan with an impassive expression.

Su Fan quickly reached into his pocket.

Damn.

He had left his jacket in the car, and his ID was in the car as well.

"I left it in the car, I'll go get it now."

"Hmph."

The ponytail woman scoffed again.

"Typically pretending, trying to escape, in your dreams..."

"Dad, he's just a liar, you can't trust him."

The elder's face also fell.

"Young man, this way, it's hard for me to believe you, if it really doesn't work out, I'll have to call the police."

Su Fan had an afternoon session scheduled for the clinic, he had no time to waste at the police station.

Suddenly he looked at the ponytail woman.

"Your menstrual cycle is very unstable, and you suffer from severe chills in your womb, often causing unbearable pain."

Su Fan's sudden statement stunned both the elder and the ponytail girl.

The next moment, the ponytail girl's face flushed.

She yelled at Su Fan,

"Right, you really are a pervert. Not only do you have a tendency to expose yourself, but you also have a habit of spying. Tell me, how long have you been watching me?"
