Chapter 23: Benefits

Su Man stood amidst the crowd, grinding her teeth as she glared at Su Fan.

Because Liu Ye was her biggest rival, and Liu Ye was actually defending Su Fan. They were making eyes at each other—what did that mean?

Su Fan jolted in fright and quickly averted his gaze from Liu Ye.

"Director Liu, are you serious?"

"Of course I'm serious. Additionally, our hospital director personally provided instructions to apply for various subsidies for the little girl who was admitted, offering her free medical care until she is discharged."

"Director Zhang often instructs us that saving lives is our sacred duty as doctors. We will never sit idly by and watch any vibrant life fade away before us."

"Well said, Director Zhang truly is the leading figure of the medical community in Yang City. Let's all give a round of applause for Director Zhang."

Soon, the crowd erupted in enthusiastic applause.

Zhang Haitao, caught off guard, could only smile nonstop, but his smile looked somewhat ugly. The experts and leaders following him were all blushing furiously...

The commotion ended quickly, and Su Fan headed home first.

Lying in bed, he was in high spirits.

He had thought his career might be over for offending Chen Haitao, but unexpectedly, he had turned misfortune into fortune and had been officially promoted.

"Grandpa, I've finally taken a significant step towards fulfilling your wish to revive traditional Chinese medicine."

At that moment, Su Fan's phone rang.

This number was known only to Wang Fei.

Thinking of what had happened that night, Su Fan felt a tickling urge and hurriedly answered the call.

"Giggle, what's our Solitary Doctor up to?"

As soon as he picked up, the seductive voice of Wang Fei came through.

"Sister Fei, how, how did you know? Did my aunt tell you?"

"Giggle, what era are we in? Do we need her to tell us? Videos have been flying all over the internet. An intern daring to confront the hospital director—boy, you've really got guts. Sister is liking you more and more."

"Last time, you said you weren't ready. Now, are you prepared to let sister devour you?"

Su Fan was tantalized by Wang Fei's provocative words and swallowed hard.

Last time, Su Fan was somewhat scared and only let Wang Fei service him orally. Thinking of Wang Fei's charming demeanor—if he were to go all the way, what would that feel like?

"I, I'm ready."

He whispered.

"Heh heh, remember, you said this yourself. I'll take you to my place another day. For tonight, just look at the material and fantasize on your own."

Wang Fei's voice made Su Fan's bones go soft.

She truly was a deadly temptress, yet he was also somewhat puzzled.

"What material?"

"Are you kidding me? You haven't seen the videos and photos I saved on your phone?"

"I, I haven't had the chance to look yet."

"Hahaha, then you better hurry up and watch. It's the dead of night—perfect timing. Go to battle, young man, I won't disturb you anymore..."

Wang Fei hung up the phone, and Su Fan quickly opened his phone gallery.

When he saw the content inside, Su Fan almost had a nosebleed, and his lower body instantly sprang to attention.

These were, in fact, private photos.

Various intimate parts were zoomed right into Su Fan's perspective.

Su Fan kept swallowing as he scrolled through them.

By the time he reached the last few videos, Su Fan's eyes were nearly popping out.

Because, in addition to videos of Wang Fei herself, there were others.

Bai Man!
