

Temptation 401

Chapter 401: White Foam

If Su Fan had encountered this situation when he first arrived in the city, he truly would have been at a loss.

But now, things were different, he knew that the only thing he needed to do in this situation was to be shameless!

So he didn't even wait for Bai Man to continue speaking and sealed her fiery red lips with his own, preventing her from saying anything further.

"Let... let me go!"

Bai Man could only struggle and cry out, but how could Su Fan possibly let her go.

After holding Bai Man's incredibly beautiful face and showering it with dozens upon dozens of kisses, Su Fan's dormant dragon revealed its rough and fierce terror once again.

Bai Man could feel very clearly, during this period, a distinct stretching process.

What frustrated Bai Man even more was that Su Fan didn't even think about cleaning the house before eating.

After regaining some strength, he began to bombard her like a storm once again.

Bai Man knew without looking that the originally clear dragon saliva was now going to turn into the white foam in the bathroom.

In the room, the wonderful symphony began to sound again.

Su Fan's offense was like a frantic drummer, desperately hammering at the drums as if to smash them completely.

Deep in Bai Man's throat, she could not help but let out a beautiful note from time to time.

Yet Su Fan kept kissing her, preventing her from freely expressing her emotions with her voice, leaving only the occasional muffled sound.

Because tomorrow morning, they still had to go to the villa of Bai Man's second brother to deal with his problems.

This time, Su Fan obviously couldn't let Bai Man be so exhausted that she couldn't rest her body like last time.

On the third surrender, he didn't continue, but instead took the extremely tired Bai Man to the bathroom to clean up, and then they went to sleep together.

The two lay in each other's arms, Bai Man, tired from Su Fan's exertions, fell straight into dreamland as she lay on the bed.

Although Su Fan had thoroughly released himself three times in a row, he was rare to sleep with Bai Man, so of course he wanted to play with that pair of warm scented jades as he drifted off to sleep.

The next morning, the two woke up almost at the same time.

Bai Man grumpily swatted away Su Fan's hand, which was still on her snowy peak, then got up and dressed.

Su Fan also felt a bit emotional, but he quickly got dressed and washed up, as he and Bai Man had important matters to attend to that day.

Bai Man's second brother's villa was a place Su Fan had visited before.

When he came last time, in addition to Wang HaiMei and Bai Xiaolin, there were many other relatives of the Bai family here.

This time was different, many people were absent, even Bai Man's fourth uncle did not show up.

However, unlike last time, there were two additional figures in the villa's living room.

These two women were familiar to Su Fan, both distinct in their own right.

One of them was Deng Hai Lin's secretary, Wang Xiaoxiao.

The other was Deng Hai Lin's wife, Shen He.

Their appearance here was quite a surprise to Su Fan.

The gazes of Wang Xiaoxiao and Shen He were mostly fixed on Su Fan.

Everything had been as Deng Hai Lin had predicted, those people truly had not given up on the idea of Deng Hai Lin.

Although it was a bit embarrassing, even difficult to accept,

Shen He and Wang Xiaoxiao decided to follow Deng Hai Lin's advice and latch onto Su Fan, the big tree.

According to Deng Hai Lin, Su Fan had achieved so much at such a young age, and his future rise to prominence was practically guaranteed.

Under such circumstances, these two women were naturally willing to seek support from Su Fan.

The benefits they could bring to Su Fan were certainly not few.

Aside from their stunning beauty and graceful figures, Deng Hai Lin's company and assets were additional benefits they offered to Su Fan.

It was up to Su Fan whether he dared to accept this grand gesture.

Chapter 402 - 402 The Coldness of the World

Bai Man was not surprised to see Wang Xiaoxiao and the others here.

After everyone had arrived, Bai Man spoke up, "The matter concerning my second brother has now been essentially cleared up."

"It's been acknowledged that he was set up, but unfortunately, the key witness, Mr. Deng Hai Lin, met with an accident."

"Since my second brother was framed, as long as we return the embezzled funds and make use of the family connections, there's a possibility for his demotion to be reconsidered, and there may still be chances for his promotion in the future."

Having said this, Bai Man could only look towards those who still came to attend the family meeting this time.

Seeing who had come this time, Bai Man didn't even feel like bringing up the matter of money.

The Bai family's elite was mostly active in the political arena.

Compared to families that specialized in business, they certainly had less wealth, but it wasn't as if they had no wealth at all.

However, after scanning the room, Bai Man realized that those who had come were relatively ordinary family members.

And these people seemed more like messengers for those who hadn't come.

To put it bluntly, they were not here to help, but to gather intelligence.

Even so, Bai Man still couldn't help but speak up,

"Regarding the matter of the sixty million, I've already mentioned it last time."

"You all, and the others who didn't come today, how much can each family contribute?"

After Bai Man spoke, some people looked around, while others silently lowered their heads.

They had only come to act as messengers today; how could they be willing to contribute money?

Bai Man spoke lightly, as if Bai Hua could be rescued and might have opportunities in the future.

But could such matters really be so simple?

Even if Bai Hua could escape this time, it was uncertain how long it would take for him to be rescued.

There were those with thicker skin who directly said with a smile, "We really want to help out with the second brother's ordeal."

"But we just earn a meager salary, the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak."

"Our family doesn't have any savings to speak of, we can't just stop living our lives to help reduce the second brother's sentence, right?"

After this person finished speaking, the others around nodded in agreement.

It was clear that these people had one attitude: Bai Hua was completely useless now, and they would not pay a dime to help reduce Bai Hua's sentence.

This scene made Wang HaiMei so angry that her heart ached.

In the past, no matter what major or minor issues these people encountered, they would run to their house first thing.

As long as the request wasn't too excessive, her husband would generally comply.

Who would have thought that when their own family was in trouble, these people would show such unpleasant true colors?

Bai Xiaolin quickly poured a glass of water for her mother, and when she looked at everyone, she too realized for the first time.

These relatives were actually this detestable.

"Alas..." Bai Man sighed, knowing all along that these people were unreliable.

Now, she wasn't actually all that disappointed, but her gratitude towards Su Fan grew even stronger.

If not for Su Fan, with such a large amount owed, her second brother might never see the light of day, and might even spend the rest of his life in prison.

In the living room, the other members of the Bai family certainly weren't concerned with Bai Man and Wang HaiMei's attitudes at this time.

They were convinced that Bai Man and her group wouldn't be able to raise the sixty million this time.

The person who had just spoken to Bai Man in that sarcastic tone was one of her cousins, named Bai Dongyang.

This time, among those in the living room, he was the most influential apart from Bai Man, and also represented those Bai family members who hadn't come.

Bai Dongyang couldn't help himself and quietly made a snide remark to the person next to him,

"Things are not that easy!"

"That's a whole sixty million, not six thousand, with such a huge hole, it's not so easy to fill!"

Chapter 403: Spend Lavishly

As soon as Bai Dongyang finished speaking, the few people around him immediately nodded in agreement.

"Indeed, it's not that we don't want to help, but such a huge hole, how is it possible to fill?"

"Exactly! It's a whole sixty million, how can we fill it?"

Their voices weren't loud, but in the quiet living room, they were extremely harsh to the ear.

It was bad enough that they were unwilling to lend a hand, and now they were even making snide remarks.

Both Wang HaiMei and Bai Xiaolin were infuriated, with Wang HaiMei's heart aching even more from the anger.

While these people were making sarcastic and scornful remarks, Bai Man opened her mouth and said:

"Sister-in-law, there are fifty million from Su Fan in this card. We just need to come up with the remaining ten million."

As soon as Bai Man spoke these words, the villa's living room boiled over as if someone had thrown a bomb into it, reaching a peak of frenzy in an instant.

Unable to help herself, Wang HaiMei suddenly stood up, looking incredulously at Su Fan and asked Bai Man:

"Sister, are you serious? Mr. Su Fan is really willing to put out fifty million to help my family?"

As Wang HaiMei spoke, she couldn't help her eyes from reddening.

Having just experienced the fluctuations of human warmth and the cold realities of the world, her heart had turned cold and desolate.

Who could have imagined that in such a situation, Su Fan would actually be willing to contribute fifty million to help her family through this crisis!

The delicate and flawless face of Bai Xiaolin was also filled with disbelief as she looked at Su Fan.

She even doubted whether she had heard wrong.

She and her mother truly appreciated Su Fan.

After all, it was Su Fan who had saved Wang HaiMei's life last time; otherwise, she would have been gone.

This time, while other relatives stood by and watched, Su Fan was actually willing to put out fifty million to assist them.

This was no longer a mere timely help; Su Fan was simply the savior of her and her mother!

Su Fan originally thought that Bai Man would offer the money in her own name.

Unexpectedly, Bai Man had mentioned him, letting Wang HaiMei and her daughter know who their real benefactor was.

Su Fan was not a person who expected something in return for his favors, but since Bai Man had already mentioned him, he nodded right away.

"Yes, there are fifty million in this card. Once we gather the remaining ten million, Mr. Bai should be able to handle it lightly."

Su Fan spoke of Mr. Bai, not using any other reference.

That was because he didn't know what else he should call Bai Hua.

Logically, considering his relationship with Bai Man, calling Bai Hua 'second brother' was acceptable.

However, the last time he introduced himself to Wang HaiMei and Bai Xiaolin, he had said he was Bai Man's cousin.

Now, if he started calling Bai Hua 'second brother', it would certainly be interesting.

While Su Fan pondered this internally, unknown to others, Bai Man couldn't help but secretly kick him.

Without regard for their surroundings, he even made a joke about her!

Luckily, the others were unaware of the situation, otherwise how could she face these people in the future!

At this moment, all eyes in the living room were primarily on the fifty million Su Fan had offered.

Especially Bai Dongyang, who had just cynically stated the situation was a hole too big to fill.

Yet not long after, Su Fan had metaphorically slapped him hard across the face.

After the initial shock and excitement, Wang HaiMei had already come back to her senses.

She immediately began excitedly, "Our family's total savings, plus properties that can be quickly sold, can make up about five million."

Saying that, she looked at Bai Man and asked, "Bai Man, you..."

Halfway through her sentence, Wang HaiMei found it difficult to continue.

She was well aware of Bai Man's situation, earning just a fixed salary.

If Bai Man wanted to contribute money, she would have to take out everything, including selling her house and car, which would completely ruin her financially.

This caused the words to die on her lips and she swallowed them back down.

Bai Man obviously understood her sister-in-law's predicament and immediately took the initiative to speak.

"I'll try to borrow some. I can manage to gather three million."

Compared to Su Fan's extravagant fifty million, three million obviously seemed like nothing.

But as an ordinary working-class individual, at most a high-income worker, coming up with three million was already her limit.

Certainly, Su Fan did not wish for Bai Man's life to fall into ruin, and he began to think of borrowing money from Feng Zhenghua or Shen Xin.

Just then, unexpectedly, Shen He spoke in her gentle voice.

"Mr. Bai Hua's issue has always caused Hailin great guilt and self-blame, and he has already paid a heavy price for it."

"Regarding this matter, before Hailin left, he mentioned that our Hailin Materials would be able to contribute ten million to help Mr. Bai Hua."

Shen He and Wang Xiaoxiao were doing this, of course, to forge a connection with Su Fan.

Chapter 404: Secretary Wang's Gesture of Goodwill

In the villa's living room, a succession of good news moved Bai Man's sister-in-law to tears.

During this period, any ripple in her home had been essentially bad news.

But this time, because of Bai Man and Su Fan, and actually owing to Su Fan, her family finally saw a glimmer of dawn!

When the entire family treated her husband as a discard, it was Su Fan who had thrown down fifty million to help them survive the crisis.

Even when it came to Deng Hai Lin's side, the significant testimony he was able to offer was all because Su Fan had saved Deng Hai Lin before.

Otherwise, without the chance to settle his affairs, Deng Hai Lin would have met his demise.

At this moment, Wang HaiMei and her daughter Bai Xiaolin looked at Su Fan with the utmost gratitude.

The likes of Bai Dongyang, who had been sarcastic and mocking in the living room just a short while ago, were now severely slapped in the face by Su Fan.

Now their faces shifted between pale and flushed, the shame making them want to disappear into the ground.

They could have never dreamed that the seemingly ordinary Su Fan could take out such a huge sum of fifty million!

That was fifty million, not five thousand!

And that's not all, Hailin Building Materials Company was also willing to provide ten million to help Bai Hua through the difficulty.

Bai Hua had been framed all along, coupled with the matter of returning sixty million in illicit funds.

The punishment from above for Bai Hua was bound to be lenient.

After this, the Bai family patriarch would use his connections to work things out for Bai Hua, making him get off lightly, with no trouble at all!

At this moment, people like Bai Dongyang were both afraid and regretful.

If they had known, even if they did not contribute money, they wouldn't have made careless remarks here.

Su Fan's gaze, of course, did not linger on Bai Dongyang and the others.

Apart from Bai Dongyang having a somewhat significant status, the rest of the group was just mouthpieces for other important members of the Bai family, not worthy of much attention.

Even Bai Dongyang was short-sighted and equally unworthy of consideration.

At this time, Su Fan was somewhat concerned about Wang Xiaoxiao and Shen He.

The ten million they offered was very crucial for Bai Man and her sister-in-law.

After thinking it over, Su Fan looked at Shen He and asked, "Mrs. Shen, does this ten million come with any additional conditions?"

Shen He felt somewhat embarrassed under Su Fan's stare, as she was a very shy woman by nature.

Thinking about how Deng Hai Lin had instructed her and Secretary Wang to offer themselves to Su Fan to establish connections, she was too ashamed to speak.

Thankfully, Secretary Wang at Shen He's side was competent on her own.

Seeing Shen He shy away from Su Fan's gaze, she immediately spoke up with a smile, "Divine Doctor Su, although President Deng has passed away, he was extremely grateful for the life-saving grace of Divine Doctor Su."

"If not for Divine Doctor Su, President Deng would have been a confused ghost, unable to properly arrange many of his affairs after death."

"President Deng had great admiration for Divine Doctor Su."

"He even instructed before his death that if possible, Hailin Company was willing to transform and engage in any cooperation with Divine Doctor Su."

"This ten million, we have no additional demands for it, it's just a part of our sincerity toward Divine Doctor Su."

Secretary Wang spoke of 'a part of our sincerity,' because the remaining assets of Hailin Company, as well as the two beauties, her and Shen He, were the rest of it.

After many years with Deng Hai Lin, Secretary Wang's ability to judge character was not bad.

She was certain, with Su Fan's miraculous medical skills and his responsible character.

Su Fan was bound to achieve something spectacular in the future.

Now that they were giving Su Fan both money and themselves, it was clear they could benefit from his light in the future.

Chapter 405: Offer Oneself

Su Fan, of course, did not know what Shen He and Wang Xiaoxiao would do next.

Upon hearing Secretary Wang's words, he couldn't help but feel a touch moved.

He had, strictly speaking, only met Deng Hai Lin once, the time he saved him.

He had not expected Deng Hai Lin to think so highly of him.

It was just a shame that this businessman, who held him in such high regard, had gotten involved in a huge power struggle and had already died.

However, out of regard for the ten million Secretary Wang had just presented, he would still seek revenge for Deng Hai Lin if the opportunity arose.

It was a wise decision for Deng Hai Lin to have Secretary Wang and his wife come to Su Fan.

Su Fan, who valued loyalty and righteousness, was willing to look for chances to take revenge in the future because of this ten million.

And if Secretary Wang and Shen He did not cling to Su Fan after his death, they might have been devoured by others, bones and all.

In the villa's living room, the previously tense and oppressive atmosphere had undoubtedly become more relaxed at this moment.

Although Wang HaiMei was still wiping away her tears, her heart was extremely joyful.

The look Bai Xiaolin gave Su Fan was full of wonder and gratitude.

When she and her family had fallen into the abyss, Su Fan became her savior.

For this savior who had descended from the heavens and pulled her from the depths of despair, the beautiful Bai Xiaolin was willing to offer everything she had.

What Bai Xiaolin didn't know was that, although her mother was wiping away tears, she had come to harbor the same sentiment as her at this moment.

Su Fan, of course, did not yet know that his fortune had been quite good recently.

Although there was a martial artist with explosive power waiting for his life in Yang City, here in Xijing, his luck with the ladies seemed unstoppable.

The following events had become simpler.

Bai Man handed the fifty million bank card to her sister-in-law, Wang HaiMei.

Secretary Wang also took out a bank card he had prepared earlier and delivered it to Su Fan.

Su Fan gave a wry smile, wondering why they did not just give it to Wang HaiMei directly instead of passing it through him.

However, Su Fan didn't waste time. Taking the bank card, he approached Wang HaiMei and handed it to her.

Although Wang HaiMei was crying pitifully, Su Fan had already experienced the beauty of Bai Man, her sister-in-law, before.

Now, as Wang HaiMei wept pitifully, far from looking unattractive, she exuded an added soft, aesthetic charm.

This led Su Fan to imagine in his mind what expression Wang HaiMei might have when she was ruthlessly dominated to tears in bed.

Unfortunately, he would never witness such a scene; only Bai Hua, who was still locked up, might have had the chance.

Wang HaiMei wiped her tears, then took the bank card from Su Fan's hand with utmost seriousness and bowed to him.

She should not have bowed, as her generous cleavage became clearly visible in Su Fan's line of sight.

Su Fan couldn't help but secretly swallow a mouthful of saliva.

"So big!" Su Fan thought to himself in amazement.

Even though he had noticed before, he could not help but exclaim again.

He had no intention of being critical of Bai Man's less voluptuous figure, but he was certain that one of his sister-in-law's was twice the size of Bai Man's!

Su Fan stood very close to Wang HaiMei at this moment, and while no one else noticed anything unusual, Wang HaiMei did.

When Wang HaiMei looked up, she caught Su Fan staring at her chest.

She even noticed Su Fan's act of swallowing saliva.

Seeing this, Wang HaiMei was not angry.

In her heart, she even felt a bit of secret delight.

For she had resolved to thank Su Fan, no matter what.

If it were not for Su Fan, her life, her daughter's life, and their entire family, would have been destroyed!

Chapter 406: Headquarters Tour

The problems that Wang HaiMei considered, her daughter Bai Xiaolin had also thought of.

Even if Wang HaiMei could set everything aside, she knew she must show her gratitude to Su Fan properly.

Without any psychological pressure, Bai Xiaolin, who was not only unmarried but didn't even have a boyfriend, felt even more at ease.

All those countless suitors of the past, she didn't fancy any of them.

That's why she could offer her untouched body, perfectly, to Su Fan.

At this moment, Su Fan was still blissfully unaware that he would soon claim Bai Xiaolin's "first blood."

His entire focus was still on Wang HaiMei.

He was no longer the inexperienced country boy he once was, but he had never seen such large, soft peaks before, let alone played with them.

Su Fan even wondered to himself whether Bai Hua used to sleep with her head on them like pillows when she was at home, considering there could hardly be a more comfortable pillow in the world.

With that thought, Su Fan began to envy Bai Hua.

It was then that Bai Man's voice suddenly came through.

"Sister-in-law, let me accompany you to deal with the matters," she offered.

Wang HaiMei naturally nodded, "Thank you for the trouble."

Bai Man smiled and shook her head, "We're all family, there's no need for thanks."

After saying that, Bai Man also said to Su Fan, "You should go back to the hotel and rest today. Tomorrow or the day after, once I've dealt with my elder brother's matters, we'll head back to Yang City together."

Hearing this, Su Fan couldn't help but feel a bit regretful.

In the past few days, Bai Man had been so grateful to him, she was at a loss no matter what he did.

He had thought up quite a few moves, ready to really put them into action with Bai Man tonight.

Unexpectedly, Bai Man was busy dealing with her elder brother's affairs and wouldn't have time to spend with him tonight.

Despite the disappointment in his heart, Su Fan didn't let it show on his face.

He just nodded to show that he understood.

After finalizing their plans with Su Fan, Bai Man and Wang HaiMei soon left the villa to deal with Bai Hua's issues.

However, the matter was too complicated; even if they replenished the funds, Bai Hua was unlikely to be released anytime soon.

After Bai Man and the others had left, Secretary Wang extended an invitation to Su Fan.

"Divine Doctor Su, may I invite you to visit the headquarters of Hailin Company?"

Su Fan, not really caring, nodded indifferently – not being able to continue his advances on Bai Man tonight had dampened his spirits.

Although they say all women are the same in the dark,

Su Fan's personal experience had taught him that it truly was different.

Compared to other women, Bai Man obviously brought him much more pleasure.

Even though he didn't know what there was to see at Hailin Company's headquarters, Su Fan still decided to go have a look.

After all, he didn't have anything else to do with the rest of his day.

Once Su Fan agreed, Secretary Wang gave Shen He a meaningful wink.

Remembering what Secretary Wang had told her earlier, Shen He blushed uncontrollably.

She had always been indecisive, completely submissive to Deng Hai Lin.

This particular plan was also arranged by Deng Hai Lin.

But deep inside, she felt extremely shy.

Su Fan got into the car with Secretary Wang and together they visited Hailin Company's headquarters.

Shen He, of course, was also going to the headquarters of Hailin Company.

However, Shen He did not tour the company with Su Fan and Secretary Wang.

The top floor of the Hailin Company headquarters building was Deng Hai Lin's living area.

This place not only had a bedroom and a bathroom, but also a living room and kitchen.

Shen He had arrived here first and began preparing dinner for Su Fan.

Tonight, she and Secretary Wang would accompany Su Fan to spend a wonderful evening here.

Chapter 407: Nothing Tastes Better Than Dumplings

Shen He was an exceptionally beautiful woman, and she was already twenty-nine.

"A man is like a flower at forty," but when women reach their thirties, they inevitably experience various anxieties.

As men age, they become more successful, while the beauty of women lasts only a few years.

Most women, after thirty, age increasingly quickly and become ever more distant from beauty and attractiveness.

But Shen He was different; she had a very standard melon seed face, and her personality was that of a virtuous wife and good mother, the epitome of modesty and grace.

Her appearance was outstanding, and during her school days, she had always been one of the most beautiful girls on campus.

After stepping into society, her suitors were just as endless.

Even though she was already married, she still attracted a lot of attention from men.

Now that she was approaching thirty, her looks had not declined at all; instead, she seemed even more ethereal and pure.

Time seemed unable to leave any marks on her.

When Shen He arrived in the kitchen, she felt somewhat embarrassed.

Because Secretary Wang's suggestion to her was to make dumplings for Su Fan that evening.

Making dumplings was not difficult; Shen He was an excellent cook, and she could even prepare a lavish feast for Su Fan.

But Secretary Wang told her to make dumplings for Su Fan, and being someone not prone to assert her own opinions, she could only follow Secretary Wang's advice.

Making dumplings wasn't complicated; it was just a matter of kneading the dough, resting it, rolling it into strips, cutting it into pieces, and finally using a rolling pin to roll the cut dough into dumpling wrappers.

However, Secretary Wang's idea this time was to use the dough to knead dough, not simply kneading it by hand.

The sole purpose was to fully display her sincerity to Su Fan.

After Deng Hai Lin's demise, whether she and Secretary Wang could hold on to what he had left behind depended on whether they could capture Su Fan's heart that night.

So at this moment, Shen He had already taken clean clothes for changing and headed to the bathroom.

Although she was always very clean, she decided to give herself a thorough wash anyway.

Soon, wrapped in a bath towel, Shen He emerged from the bathroom and began her preparations.

She and Secretary Wang had planned well in advance, so nearly all preparations were already in place.

Once everything was ready, Shen He headed to the kitchen.

Her snowy white bath towel was soon laid aside.

At that moment, her attire became incredibly alluring, making her feel extremely shy.

She had always been a very conservative woman, never one for complex getups.

But for some reason, Secretary Wang seemed to have a keen understanding of these matters.

She wore nothing up top, and below, she donned a pair of 10D ultra-thin black pantyhose.

Yet, beneath the pantyhose, she wore no undergarments.

This created a hazy, semi-concealed allure that was barely visible.

It wasn't just men; even she, a woman, found it hard to resist such a sight.

And dressed like this, when she used the dough to knead dough later, her stockings would inevitably get speckled with flour, creating an incredibly strong visual impact!

Su Fan, however, was unaware that his dinner plans had already been made.

At the moment, he was following Secretary Wang around Hailin Company without much enthusiasm.

Hailin Company was an environmental building materials company, adopting some of the world's most innovative and eco-friendly new materials for construction.

Many of these materials were unknown to laypeople and even some industry professionals might not be very familiar with them.

Su Fan was, of course, clueless about these matters.

As Secretary Wang introduced these things to him, he wasn't very interested either.

However, at that moment, a commotion suddenly came from not far away.

For some reason, two groups of people had gathered there.

Chapter 408: The Ingrate

Su Fan glanced over, slightly puzzled, and asked, "What's going on here?"

Secretary Wang had just been secretly delighted, having completed the first step of her plan.

Unexpectedly, a problem had arisen within the company.

Her expression quickly turned ugly.

"Those people are from Vice President Li, Vice President Li... he must be planning to seize the company seal and some important documents."

As the saying goes, when the tree falls, the monkeys scatter; when the wall collapses, everyone pushes.

After Deng Hai Lin passed away, this Vice President Li immediately jumped into action.

According to Deng Hai Lin's will, the actual controller of the company now was Shen He, with Secretary Wang as the manager.

But if Deng Hai Lin had been alive, his arrangements would have been fine.

Now that he had passed away, how could Vice President Li still follow his orders?

Vice President Li was now preparing to take all the company seals, important documents, and most of the contracts.

He planned to register a new company and transfer everything from Hailin Company to it.

As for Shen He and Secretary Wang, if they loved staying with this empty shell of Hailin Company, then let them stay.

While Su Fan and Secretary Wang were speaking, they had also arrived outside Deng Hai Lin's office.

Here, several people had already been knocked to the ground.

Vice President Li then had someone bring a battering ram, ready to break the door violently and enter the office.

Secretary Wang, seeing a few employees wailing on the ground, immediately got angry.

These people were very loyal to Deng Hai Lin and her, and had stayed with the company faithfully even after Deng Hai Lin's incident.

This Vice President Li was nothing but a beaten dog back then.

After being fired by a foreign company, unable to secure a high or low position, he couldn't find suitable employment.

When he was so down on his luck that he could almost no longer afford his hotel, it was Deng Hai Lin who took in this beaten dog.

After helping up a female employee covered in blood, Secretary Wang looked at Li Zhi and asked furiously,

"Li Zhi, have you gone mad? How can there be such an ungrateful wretch like you in this world?"

"What are you trying to do? Are you determined to completely ruin the company left by President Deng?"

Li Zhi, who was originally the vice general manager of Hailin Company, became furious upon hearing Secretary Wang's words.

"Watch your tone when you speak to me!"

"You're a whore who slept her way to the top, and you dare babble in front of me?"

Li Zhi's words were extremely rude.

After finishing, he then told the employees nearby, "Break the door!"

Secretary Wang had felt extremely uncomfortable being insulted by Li Zhi, and she had no way to retort.

Her work capability was indeed strong, but are there few capable women these days?

Her rise to the top, squeezing out all competition, indeed owed to her body.

Though she couldn't refute Li Zhi, she couldn't let Li Zhi truly break through the door.

"I'd like to see who dares to break the door!"

"Try moving it and see? I'm calling the police!"

While speaking, Secretary Wang immediately took out her mobile phone.

Beyond calling the police, she had no other solution for this situation.

But just then, Li Zhi quickly snatched her phone away and smashed it violently!

"Smack!"

"Crack!"

A muffled sound and a crisp sound almost erupted simultaneously.

The moment the phone hit the ground, the screen shattered.

Following that, Li Zhi, in front of everyone, fiercely stomped on the phone, ensuring it was completely destroyed!

Not only that, after doing all this, Li Zhi turned to the bodyguards behind him and said,

"Take her aside and watch her. If she behaves, fine."

"If she doesn't obey, break her limbs. I'll take responsibility for any trouble!"

With Li Zhi's word, the bodyguards hesitated no longer and immediately moved to act.

Chapter 409: Knowing When to Stop

Before coming here, Li Zhi had already given them a heads-up.

They knew that when they came to take the company seal and important documents, Secretary Wang would surely try to stop them.

At that time, the five of them planned to take Secretary Wang aside, rough her up properly, and be done with it.

Make this woman so weak in the knees she wouldn't be able to speak, and see if she would dare to go against Vice President Li.

The five bodyguards had seen Secretary Wang, dressed in black stockings and high heels, around the company more than once and had been salivating over her for a long time.

With Vice President Li backing them up this time, they were all prepared to let loose and give it their all.

Secretary Wang, seeing the look in the eyes of these five men, immediately realized something was wrong.

It was clear that they weren't just planning to restrict her freedom; they were planning to take turns violating her.

With this thought in mind, Secretary Wang could only back away.

But at this time, who would dare to defy Vice President Li and face his wrath?

Their choices were to either face unemployment or continue working under Vice President Li.

As for Shen He and Secretary Wang, how could these two women possibly hold up such a large company?

Just because other people were afraid to meddle didn't mean Su Fan was afraid to step in.

When Secretary Wang was in utter despair, Su Fan stepped forward to stand in front of her.

Looking indifferently at Vice President Li, Su Fan spoke calmly, "Let's stop here."

Upon hearing this, Vice President Li immediately flew into a rage, irate that a small fry would dare to boss him around!

Vice President Li's bodyguards were very good at reading the room. Seeing his expression, it was clear to them that their boss was angered!

The chief bodyguard then coldly shouted at Su Fan, spittle flying, "Who let this stray dog in? How dare you bark in front of Vice President Li?"

His words caused many nearby to laugh out loud.

There were also quite a few who, while not laughing, looked at Su Fan with pity in their eyes.

Did he not see his own status, yet dared to play the hero?

This Vice President Li, along with his bodyguards, were not ones to be trifled with.

By angering Vice President Li, Su Fan was obviously in for some rough times.

Even Secretary Wang began to worry, knowing that Su Fan was a Divine Doctor, not a miracle worker.

Su Fan should excel at healing and saving lives.

But fighting? That was clearly not his forte.

Now, Su Fan was alone while the other side had five men.

If a conflict were to break out, the consequences would be unthinkable!

With this in mind, Secretary Wang hastened to persuade him,

"Doctor Su, don't lower yourself to their level, let's go."

After Secretary Wang spoke, Vice President Li remained silent, but his security team leader, Chen Rui, spoke up,

"Leave? Who said you could leave?"

"Weren't you very capable a moment ago? And now you want to leave?"

Chen Rui had been following Vice President Li for quite some time.

He knew perfectly well how to handle such situations without Vice President Li having to spell it out for him.

Just four words, "Kill the chicken to scare the monkeys!"

To prevent more ignorant individuals from causing trouble, today they must beat Su Fan soundly.

By making an example of Su Fan and letting others see blood, they wouldn't dare to persist in this folly.

Chen Rui's words deeply frightened Secretary Wang, who grabbed onto Su Fan's arm, ready to flee the scene.

However, how could Chen Rui let Su Fan and Secretary Wang escape so easily?

At that moment, Chen Rui stepped forward swiftly, and then his right fist swung in a half-circle, viciously aiming for Su Fan's head.

The human skull is extremely tough; this punch wouldn't kill Su Fan, but it would leave him completely disoriented.

And then, with a barrage of punches following, Chen Rui intended to turn Su Fan into a bloody, battered mess.

Chapter 410: Furious Crown

Alas, all of Chen Rui's considerations in his heart were doomed to remain at the level of thought.

He had no idea that standing before him was an inner strength master who had nearly defeated all his opponents in Yang City!

"Swoosh!"

Chen Rui's punch failed to hit Su Fan.

Instead, Su Fan struck back with a slap, sending a spray of blood from Chen Rui's mouth, and several of his front teeth flew out, landing at the feet of Vice President Li!

Seeing this, the other bodyguards beside Chen Rui also became enraged.

Some charged toward Su Fan with bare fists, some brandished batons, and one even drew a triangular spike from behind his waist.

On the battlefield, to be stabbed with a triangular spike often meant almost certain death.

Such a wound is extremely difficult to heal.

Even in the city, a vital area pierced by a triangular spike can easily result in instant death.

Seeing these men brandish their weapons, Su Fan certainly did not hold back.

When the second man rushed at him with a baton, Su Fan kicked him several meters away.

"Pfft!"

The bodyguard spat out a blood spray as he hit the ground, falling unconscious, his life and death unknown.

The spot where Su Fan's kick landed on his body had caved in, clearly showing that all the bones there were broken.

At that moment, the bodyguard with the triangular spike appeared before Su Fan, "You little bastard, I'm going to kill you!"

As he spoke, he viciously aimed the spike at Su Fan's heart!

In the shocked gazes of the surrounding crowd, Su Fan's hands moved like lightning.

The next moment, the bodyguard felt his arm as if trapped in a tiger's jaw.

But he was mistaken, for Su Fan's grip, fortified by inner strength, was more terrifying than a tiger's jaw.

"Crack!"

"Ahh—"

A crisp sound of bones breaking followed by a scream like that of a slaughtered pig filled the air.

Su Fan immediately followed up with a knee strike.

In a moment of chaos, the man blacked out, instantly becoming motionless.

Then, Su Fan swiftly moved forward, throwing several punches in quick succession.

The bodyguard who had beaten the Hailin Company employee bloody was one by one left with broken bones and torn tendons by his fists.

Out of the five bodyguards, two were 'lucky' enough to get iron rice bowls and could "serve the emperor."

It's just that now, in the new society, they had no way to pursue such a career.

Anyone else witnessing this scene would have been petrified.

But Li Zhi was ruthless. Even after Su Fan had shown his skill, not only was he not frightened.

He directly charged at Su Fan with the wall-boring power drill in his hand.

It seemed he was prepared to drill a transparent hole in Su Fan's body as well.

Su Fan, of course, was particularly attentive to Li Zhi.

Under the horrified gazes of the onlookers, Su Fan stepped forward and dodged the power drill that Li Zhi was holding.

Immediately after, he landed a fierce and unyielding punch directly on Li Zhi's nasal bone: "Bang!"

With that punch, Li Zhi screamed miserably.

But Su Fan's fists continued to fall.

Another punch, and many of Li Zhi's front teeth, along with the blood, flew everywhere.

After Li Zhi fell to the ground, Su Fan stomped four times on his shoulders and thighs, shattering his joints.

In this manner, Li Zhi wouldn't die but he would no longer be able to bully others with his entourage of bodyguards.

Because he would be crippled, even unable to take care of himself.

After all this, Su Fan took out a tissue to wipe his hands, saying, "Send them to the hospital for treatment, they might die from too much blood loss if it's too late."

Having said that, Su Fan then looked helplessly in one direction.

Just now, for some reason, while he was dispensing justice, someone had reported to the public security office.
