

Temptation 48

Chapter 48 Will You Give It to Him?

"What, what do you mean by how?"

Su Fan hadn't expected the woman to ask such a question, and for a moment, his mind hadn't caught up.

The woman's face was red as an apple, her teeth biting her lip, she took a deep breath and bravely said,

"I mean, what if, what if I became your woman, how about that?"

"Ah?"

Su Fan was stunned on the spot.

Although he wanted to obtain the woman's extremely yin body, but, but wasn't this a bit too easy?

"I, I..."

Su Fan stammered, not knowing what to say.

"Sorry, it's me, I thought too much, you, go on with your work."

The woman's budding feelings of affection were undoubtedly doused with cold water by Su Fan's hesitation, and the courage she had mustered up dissipated.

"That's right, you're the Divine Doctor at a major hospital, and I, I'm just a single mother, and even a few years older than you, I, I'm not worthy of you."

The woman's tears fell from the corner of her eyes as she turned to leave.

Heartbroken.

"It's not..."

Having come to his senses, Su Fan grabbed the woman's hand.

The woman's hand was rough, obviously accustomed to hardship.

She's a pitiful person.

"I didn't mean to look down on you, that's not what I meant."

"What I mean is, we don't know each other yet, it's all, all too sudden."

The woman's expression softened a bit, and she immediately said,

"My name is Su Ya, twenty-six years old, I dropped out of college, currently working as a receptionist in a hotel. I used to enjoy writing, but I don't have time for that anymore..."

Su Fan gave a wry smile.

"That's not what I meant. What I mean is, if we were to establish a relationship, shouldn't we take some time to understand each other? It's not just about knowing each other's names, after all, we have to consider the child, don't we?"

Su Fan was well aware.

The Su Ya before him was not like Liu Ye, that wild and unbridled woman who didn't need him to take responsibility or offer any promises.

Su Ya was a mother, she would surely think of her child first, she surely wants a status, an explanation.

And he, he was actually only eighteen, how could he possibly think about marriage.

This was not a responsible attitude towards Su Ya and Yaya.

Although he wanted to attain Su Ya's extremely yin body, there were still basic principles to being human.

It was exactly Su Fan's words that made Su Ya's heart tremble.

So, Su Fan was thinking of her and her child after all.

Her gaze towards Su Fan filled with more admiration and affections.

"So, so does that mean we could start by spending time together?"

"Mhm."

Su Fan nodded.

"Maybe we can start off as friends?"

"Friends?"

"Don't you think that's too slow? Are you, you lusting after my body?"

"Or perhaps, we can progress a bit faster."

"You, you saved Yaya's life yesterday, I have nothing to repay you with, I, I only have my body, I..."

"Stop it."

Su Fan's expression turned cold.

Su Ya was startled by Su Fan's imposing gaze.

"Did, did I say something wrong?"

Su Fan immediately said sternly,

"Miss Su, I think you've misunderstood me. When I was saving someone yesterday, my thoughts were very simple. I am a doctor, and saving lives is my duty. I wouldn't just watch a living person die before my eyes. I would save anyone."

"As for your body, to tell the truth, I desire it, but curing illnesses and saving lives is not a transaction. You're insulting my medical ethics."

Having said that, Su Fan immediately turned and entered the elevator.

"I, I really deserve to die."

Watching the closing elevator doors, Su Ya didn't have the courage to pursue him and felt extremely self-reproaching.

"He meant well, and yet I thought so poorly of him."

"What a good man, young and handsome, righteous and brave. Other men cling to me shamelessly, coveting my body, yet he, given the opportunity, refused. But, what if he had agreed just now? What would I have done?"

"Would I have, given in to him?"

No.

Just now, she had acted impulsively.

When it came down to it, she surely would have regretted it and thought less of Su Fan.

At this moment, her appreciation for Su Fan was overwhelming, yet she was also filled with shame.

"He would definitely be a good father. Yaya, Mommy is going to bravely pursue her own love."

Su Ya's cheeks flushed with shyness.

Back at the office.

Zhang Jing was no longer there, probably having really made up her mind to resign, and Doctor Wu's nosy wife wasn't there either, most likely off to find her own husband or Director Zhang to tattle.

However, at this moment, Su Fan had no mind to care about how Director Wu might deal with him but was thinking of Su Ya.

He was somewhat regretful about having rejected Su Ya.

But, perhaps it was a test from Su Ya just now.

One can't rush to eat hot tofu impatiently.

And indeed, he had just wanted to save a life.

He must have the extremely yin body, but what should he do about his relationship with Su Ya?

He suddenly remembered the secret that Zhang Jing had told him.

Perhaps having Su Ya as his lover without entering into marriage seemed like a good option.

But, would she agree to that?

"There's been an accident, there's been an accident!"

"Ah, save me..."

"Someone's been killed."

Suddenly, a series of panicked cries came from outside.

Su Fan quickly went out to investigate.
