Chapter 54: Posting in the Newspaper Again

"What?"

When he saw the picture and the electronic conclusion above, Zhang Haitao's glasses nearly fell to the ground.

"Gulp."

He swallowed his saliva.

His eyes filled with disbelief.

"Director Zhang, what are the results?"

Many doctors crowded around.

"The necrotic polyps in the uterus have all been removed, and the condition is good?"

"How, how is this possible?"

A group of doctors showed shocked expressions.

Liu Ye said excitedly.

"If the entire uterus had been removed, I would not have been so surprised, but the brilliance of Su Fan lay in that he accurately removed the necrotic infected polyps, retaining the uterus in an extremely good condition."

"I have never heard of such a precise surgery in the country, who could achieve this."

"Director Zhang, you are a medical authority, what do you think of my surgery?"

Su Fan looked steadily at Zhang Haitao.

At that moment, the high and mighty Zhang Haitao wished he could bury himself in a hole.

He had just stated out loud that the success rate of this surgery was less than one in a hundred thousand, and that he himself could not cure the old lady's illness at all.

But now, not only had Su Fan cured the old lady, but the difficulty of the procedure was so high...

It was startling.

This guy...

Beyond shock, he also felt some admiration.

But soon, it was just resentment.

This damned Su Fan, he actually trampled and rubbed the dignity of him as the director into the ground.

At this moment, Liu Ye added insult to injury.

"Besides, I also checked the old lady's physical condition, her body's cancer cells have completely disappeared, and her previously declining body functions are now comparable to those of a forty-year-old in middle age..."

"This, this..."

Liu Ye's words felt like a slap harshly landing on Zhang Haitao and those experts' faces.

The crowd was left speechless, looking at Su Fan as if they had seen a ghost.

"Divine Doctor, a true Divine Doctor indeed."

"Impressive."

Some young doctors and patients burst into thunderous applause.

In everyone's eyes, Su Fan was practically mythologized.

"You heard it already, I've cured your mother, you should keep your promise and release everyone."

Su Fan looked at the man.

"Son, you, you let it go."

The old woman said crying.

"Mom, it's so good you're all right, I, I surrender, I'm surrendering."

The man cried and knelt on the ground.

"Catch him."

Li Jing led people to quickly seize the man.

"Son, my son."

The old lady became excited and then passed out again.

"Captain Li, these explosives and detonators are all fake."

The arriving bomb expert discovered the ruse.

"What, fake?"

"This bastard, he was just scaring us."

Zhang Haitao and the others were first stunned, then furious.

They had been made such fools of, over a hoax?

Su Fan looked deeply at the man.

"I, I just wanted to force you to save my mom, I, I know the patients are innocent, I, I never intended to hurt everyone."

"Divine Doctor Su, thank you, thank you."

"If I can still live, I will definitely repay your great kindness."

The man being taken away shouted loudly.

"Divine Doctor Su, may we interview you?"

"Today you faced danger fearlessly, overcame opposition, and saved everyone in the hospital, where did you find the courage?"

After the police left, reporters flooded in like a tide.

All the reporters frantically took photos of Su Fan.

At this time, Su Fan once again became the center of everyone's attention.

On the other hand, as the director, Zhang Haitao was completely ignored.

"An unbearable disgrace."

Zhang Haitao, infuriated, his nose askew, swung his sleeve and walked away.

Standing outside the crowd, Bai Man stared at Su Fan with a peculiar look in her eyes.

The reason she agreed to let Su Fan go to gynecology.

Aside from keeping an eye on Liu Ye, another reason was that she thought Su Fan was impulsive and, after all, young, and his medical skills might not be so good, which might cause big trouble for Liu Ye and eliminate a competitor for herself, but who knew, on his first day in gynecology, he had once again created a miracle.

"Could it be that I really underestimated him?"

...

Director's office.

"Director Zhang, this guy has repeatedly made you lose face, I think it's necessary to fire him."

Head of Administration Sun Zhigang kept cursing Su Fan.

Having been slapped by Su Fan today, he hated Su Fan to death.
