

Temptation 641

Chapter 641 - 641

Such a scene enraged everyone present to the utmost.

Many special forces members were even ready to rush into the hospital at any moment to blow the criminal's head off with a single shot.

The other security officers and special forces members weren't a match for the criminal and now dared not act rashly.

Su Fan didn't continue to waste time as this time, the opponent had thrown a patient down.

Who knew if next time, this crazed criminal would throw Bai Man down?

Thinking this, he immediately moved from the blind spot of the large conference room toward the hospital building.

This position was also blocked by security officers.

Upon arriving, Su Fan didn't barge through but said to the security officer, "I am Su Fan, the president of the Yang City Martial Arts Association, I need to check the situation over there, may I?"

After Su Fan mentioned his name, the security officers who had been blocking him immediately stepped aside.

The criminal this time was a master of explosive energy.

The best way to deal with a master of this level was, of course, to ask a master of the same level to come.

As the president of the Yang City Martial Arts Association, Su Fan's kung fu was definitely stronger and not weaker than that of the criminal upstairs.

After crossing the security line, Su Fan immediately approached the hospital building and then climbed through a window to enter.

This direction was the criminal's blind spot.

Entering the hospital building from this spot meant the criminal definitely wouldn't know.

Su Fan quietly entered the hospital building and quickly approached the fifth-floor conference room.

This time, the criminal was excessively monstrous.

Not only were his methods extremely brutal, but he also had firearms and explosives like bombs.

If this criminal wasn't dealt with soon, it was unknown how many more people would suffer.

While Su Fan was entering the hospital building, the criminal Guo Song and the negotiation expert for the security officers were still negotiating.

Fueled by previous lessons, Guo Song already planned not to escape using conventional methods.

Listening earnestly downstairs, the negotiation expert heard Guo Song say, "I now need a helicopter and a pilot."

"The helicopter must appear on the hospital's rooftop helipad within fifteen minutes."

"If you disagree, starting from now, every half minute, I will throw someone off the fifth floor."

"You'd better make up your mind!"

It must be said, Guo Song was absolutely bestial.

Just to save his own life, he began to mercilessly trample on the lives of others.

No sooner had he spoken these words than he threw yet another patient out of the fifth-floor conference room window.

In such a short span of time, the security officers simply couldn't deploy an air cushion below.

Moreover, deploying an air cushion was a job for the fire department.

Although many firefighters had already arrived nearby, they clearly hadn't caught up with the first two patients.

Not only that, but at such a height, an air cushion's protective effect was very weak.

Falling from that high, even if one landed on an air cushion, they were likely to die.

Seeing how agitated Guo Song was, the negotiation expert downstairs could only start speaking soothingly, meanwhile buying time for Su Fan and others.

The negotiation expert said, "Don't be agitated, let's talk this over."

"Isn't it a helicopter you want?"

"The helicopter you requested is already on its way."

"Now, I hope you can stay calm and stop harming the hostages."

While the negotiation expert and Guo Song were talking, Su Fan, of course, moved toward the fifth-floor conference room as fast as he could.

As he gradually approached the conference room on the fifth floor, he slowed down his pace,

As the opponent was a master of explosive energy like him, he needed to be cautious.

In the conference room, Guo Song was unaware that Yang City's affiliated hospital had a master like Su Fan there.

Having calmed himself a bit, he then began approaching the nearby conference room.

He needed to find an suitable opportunity to strike suddenly, catch Guo Song off guard, and thoroughly eliminate this menace.

Chapter 642: No Starting Point

Scholars disrupt the law with their culture, heroes break the ban with their martial arts.

Those who practice martial arts have always been unstable elements from ancient times to the present.

Like Su Fan, who does not rely on powerful martial force to commit atrocities and kill the innocent.

It can be said that they are relatively few.

Most martial artists, after acquiring a certain level of strength, will use powerful martial force and various means to grab benefits.

This is also inevitable, as 'poor scholars and rich warriors' goes; training as a martial artist is very expensive.

They spend most of their time practicing martial arts, which obviously leaves them no opportunity to engage in work.

Not only that, but during the process of practicing martial arts, they also need to undergo a series of dietary and medicinal supplements.

Sometimes, they even need to purchase various priceless treasures to enhance themselves.

Some martial artists might choose to be bodyguards for various elites of the upper class, or even for big bosses.

Others may open martial arts gyms and various types of martial arts training classes.

But the income earned this way is clearly very limited.

Therefore, quite a few martial artists choose to break the law with their martial force, to obtain everything they want through their own powerful martial strength.

Guo Song in the conference room of the affiliated hospital is such a martial artist.

Guo Song is not someone who wanders around committing crimes alone, but possesses an entire criminal gang.

In such circumstances, the harm he poses to society is, of course, very significant.

His methods are also extremely ruthless.

So far, two patients have been thrown down from the fifth floor and died from the fall.

Su Fan had already arrived at the door of the large conference room on the fifth floor, but he was unable to break in.

He had just seen from the gap under the door that Guo Song's pistol was pressed against Zhang Haitao's head.

If he made even the slightest noise, Guo Song would definitely be able to "decorate" Zhang Haitao's head with a bullet.

As Su Fan began to ponder in his heart how to enter the conference room and save people, he heard Guo Song's voice again.

Guo Song was talking to the negotiation expert from the Public Security Bureau, and he was heard saying, "Listen up down there!"

"Three minutes have passed already, and now I'm going to set this time bomb in my hand for fifteen minutes."

"Next, if you don't pull any stunts, in another twelve minutes, a helicopter will be here to take me out of the country."

"If I don't see a helicopter in another twelve minutes, then you all better be ready to clean up this whole room!"

As he spoke, he indeed set the time bomb to explode in fifteen minutes.

Then, under Bai Man's utterly despairing gaze, he used a chain to lock the time bomb onto her.

At that moment, Bai Man was almost scared to the point of fainting.

The continuously ticking digits on the time bomb were driving her nearly insane!

While Guo Song conversed with the Public Security Bureau's negotiation expert, the sniper from the special forces team was locking onto Guo Song from a distance.

But since Guo Song always hid behind the hostages, the special forces sniper had no chance of taking him down.

If Guo Song didn't have a time bomb in his hands, Su Fan could still play the waiting game with him.

But now that Guo Song had chained the time bomb to Bai Man, he couldn't afford to wait any longer.

The time bomb would explode in fifteen minutes.

If the bomb were to truly explode in such a space, it's likely no one in the conference room would survive.

Su Fan was anxious to enter the conference room to save Bai Man, but this time he faced an opponent who was a master of the same explosive martial realm as he was, plus the other party had firearms, which made things extremely troublesome.

He had already waited outside the large conference room for a while, but still had yet to find a good opportunity to rush in for the rescue.

However, at this point, the situation finally started to turn around.

Chapter 643: Hidden Behind the Water Tank

Over the Medical University's affiliated hospital, the roar of a helicopter's rotor blades suddenly filled the air.

At the Security Bureau, they were obviously worried that Guo Song might throw another person from the fifth floor to their death.

When he demanded a helicopter, the Security Bureau immediately arranged one for him.

This helicopter, parked on the hospital's rooftop, represented Guo Song's hope for escape and also Su Fan's opportunity to take action against him.

After the helicopter appeared, Guo Song was indeed ecstatic.

The third person who was about to be thrown from the fifth floor by him was also spared.

But the situation was far from over; he immediately bellowed, "Everyone, come to the rooftop with me."

"If anyone dares to run, I'll detonate the bomb immediately. Let's see if you run faster or if the bomb explodes faster?"

"Remember, no one is allowed to run, otherwise it's not just their own death they'll be facing, but the rest of you will also be buried with them!"

Zhang Haitao and the other hospital leaders were already scared to death.

Especially Bai Man, who had a timed bomb locked to her with a chain, she felt she could be blown up at any moment!

As Guo Song finished speaking, he held the bomb detonator in one hand and a pistol in the other, pressed against Zhang Haitao's head.

Zhang Haitao could only comply with his commands, slowly opening the door of the large conference room.

Guo Song was undoubtedly a very cunning criminal. When he came out, he had the hospital's leadership encircle him.

In this way, even if there were snipers lying in ambush around, it would be very hard to hit him, or even impossible to hit him at all.

If Guo Song were scared, he was very likely to detonate the bomb in his hand at any moment.

He was a desperate fugitive already, and if he lost all hope of escape, he would definitely take everyone present with him in death.

Su Fan had no choice but to wait for Guo Song at the entrance of the large conference room.

He went directly to the rooftop, ready for battle.

Guo Song's group soon reached the rooftop.

A helicopter was waiting there, just as Guo Song had demanded.

The second bomb in his possession was then locked to Zhang Haitao's body with a chain from his backpack.

Afterward, he casually grabbed Lu Wenwen from the crowd, took out a third bomb from his backpack, and handed it to Lu Wenwen.

Lu Wenwen was so frightened that her legs went weak, and her hands shook uncontrollably.

Seeing this, Guo Song laughed and said, "Don't be afraid, the bomb in your hand is remote-controlled. As long as these cops don't play tricks on me, you're safe."

"But if these cops dare to double-cross me, I'll press the detonator and we'll all be done for!"

While speaking, Guo Song walked towards where the helicopter was parked.

Once on the helicopter, he would be basically safe.

To capture him, they wouldn't go so far as to kill the helicopter and its pilot as well.

But just as Guo Song passed by a water tank, a silver needle suddenly flew out.

"Pfft!"

The silver needle instantly pierced through Guo Song's wrist, causing half of his body to lose sensation in that instant.

But still a master of explosive energy, it was only a brief moment before he completely recovered!

However, Su Fan had already taken the detonator from his hand, and Su Fan had also snatched the pistol from him.

Guo Song was shocked and furious!

He had not expected that a master of explosive energy like Su Fan would be lying in ambush here!

But his reaction was extremely fast.

Without a second word, he charged towards where the helicopter was.

When the helicopter pilot saw that the hostage in Guo Song's hand was rescued by Su Fan, he had already made the helicopter take off and fly away.

Chapter 644: Frantic Escape

When Guo Song rushed over, the helicopter had already flown far away.

But Guo Song did not despair; he suddenly accelerated and then jumped directly onto the roof of the adjacent building.

The special forces sniper hadn't even had time to get set up when he vanished onto the opposite rooftop.

Su Fan, of course, was not going to let Guo Song escape, but he did not immediately pursue him. Instead, he went to Bai Man's side.

With a forceful grasp, he tore apart the metal chain locks with brute strength!

At this moment, the public security bureau's bomb disposal experts also arrived on the rooftop.

The chain locks and the timed bombs on Zhang Haitao were also torn apart by Su Fan with sheer brute force.

The moment the bomb was disarmed, Zhang Haitao collapsed completely on the ground, nearly scared to death.

Two bomb disposal experts quickly came over, but they did not study which wire to cut; instead, they placed all the timed bombs and the remote-controlled bomb in Lu Wenwen's hands into a bombproof barrel.

At this time, Bai Man and the others were being protected by several public security officers.

Su Fan glanced at the direction Guo Song had escaped and then said to Bai Man, "Sister Man, stay with the public security officers. I will chase that criminal."

Having said that, under everyone's astonished gaze, he did the same thing Guo Song had just done.

Under the watchful eyes of Zhang Haitao, Bai Man, Lu Wenwen, and the other hospital doctors, Su Fan surged forward and jumped directly from this building to the adjacent one.

Then, he joined the team chasing Guo Song.

A Martial Artist like Guo Song, once he became a criminal, posed a significant threat to society.

Ordinary criminals do not have easy access to firearms and explosives, but Guo Song could easily get them.

Moreover, with his skills, ordinary public security officers couldn't do much even if they encountered him.

At this moment, surrounded by numerous public security officers, Guo Song still managed to escape.

He might eventually be arrested, but at least for now, the containment net formed by the public security officers was virtually pointless.

But he should never have come to the affiliated hospital of the Medical University to provoke Su Fan.

As he desperately fled toward the suburbs, trying to escape into an area with more complex terrain, Su Fan kept chasing him.

Guo Song had previously run a distance, shaking off other public security officers and even those chasing him in security vehicles.

Behind him, Su Fan, who was also a high-level Martial Artist, was not something he could shake off.

It was hard to say who was stronger between him and Su Fan, but their speeds were similar, Su Fan even slightly faster.

But in a short time, Su Fan could not catch up to him; they always maintained a distance.

Su Fan continuously chasing him put tremendous pressure on Guo Song.

He did not understand why Su Fan kept chasing him; it seemed they had no previous grudges.

He bullied ordinary people, and if someone was related to a high-level Martial Artist, Guo Song would not provoke them.

He was worried about provoking someone related to a high-level Martial Artist, which could bring a high-level Martial Artist after him.

Being a high-level Martial Artist himself, he was well aware of their formidable power.

The most formidable Martial Artist Su Fan had encountered before was Wang Tongshan.

After Wang Tongshan, he had not encountered any other particularly formidable experts.

This time, the encountered Guo Song was undoubtedly another extremely dangerous character.

All over Yang City, a large number of public security officers were mobilized at this time.

Many public security officers came from all directions, aiming to completely trap Guo Song.

But Guo Song's tactics were undoubtedly quite adept.

Surrounded by many public security officers and pursued by Su Fan, he still managed to escape to the suburbs.

Su Fan, of course, kept chasing Guo Song all the way to the suburbs.

Chapter 645: A Worthy Opponent

After arriving in the suburbs, Guo Song did not hesitate and chose to head straight for the mountains!

In the forested mountain, the terrain was extremely complicated. Once he entered the mountains, he would be relatively safe.

But he had underestimated Su Fan's strength and determination.

For a thug like him, Su Fan had zero tolerance.

Su Fan was already slightly faster than Guo Song to begin with.

As he pursued him all the way to the suburbs, the distance between the two men had naturally narrowed considerably.

Su Fan suddenly accelerated and appeared behind Guo Song.

Without any hesitation, a palm imbued with Taiji True Qi struck directly towards Guo Song.

Guo Song certainly knew that Su Fan was already upon him.

He threw a punch back without a second thought.

"Bang!"

The two energy-infused attacks collided, forcing both Su Fan and Guo Song to stagger a step backward.

At that moment, Guo Song finally had a chance to speak, and he immediately said, "Why must you doggedly pursue me, friend?"

Su Fan did not respond to Guo Song's question or rather, his response was a fiercely unyielding punch.

Of course, Guo Song had not expected to easily persuade Su Fan.

When Su Fan's punch, wrapped in Taiji True Qi, came smashing over, Guo Song instantly swung his left arm to block, and his right fist aimed squarely at Su Fan's heart.

Su Fan's fist, parried by Guo Song's left arm, was deflected.

Meanwhile, Guo Song's right fist had already made contact with Su Fan's heart.

But the next instant, Guo Song's face showed utter shock!

His punch to Su Fan's heart had not made a single sound upon impact.

His hard-hitting, heavy punch was completely absorbed by Su Fan's Taiji True Qi.

After circulating through Su Fan's body for a full cycle, the force of the punch rebounded back at him.

"Thump!"

In that moment, Guo Song felt as if he had punched himself, his body swayed slightly, and his gaze towards Su Fan grew extremely solemn.

Su Fan didn't waste the opportunity to attack. His fingers, laden with Taiji True Qi, thrust sharply towards Guo Song's throat.

As his fingers neared Guo Song's throat, they seemed as perilous as a triangular army spike.

Guo Song, with his extensive combat experience, was not to be underestimated.

In the instant before Su Fan's fingers could jab his neck, Guo Song sidestepped, simultaneously extending his right leg to deliver a Yin Leg with a poking-foot technique.

This Yin Leg, also charged with True Qi, would definitely shatter the meridians if it made contact.

Guo Song's combat experience was indeed rich, but Su Fan's was certainly not inferior.

Facing Guo Song's Yin Leg, Su Fan countered with a kick, intercepting him with impeccable timing.

Guo Song's Yin Leg was only halfway through before being blocked by him.

But this time, the two were truly evenly matched, encountering a worthy opponent.

Su Fan blocked Guo Song's Yin Leg, and Guo Song, in turn, abruptly aimed a headbutt, attempting to break Su Fan's nose.

Su Fan leaned back to avoid Guo Song's headbutt, yet it still swung down towards his chest a moment later.

Sensing Guo Song's incoming attack, Su Fan immediately activated his Taiji True Qi for protection.

"Thump!"

Despite this, Guo Song's headbutt still caused a loud thud in his chest.

This time, Su Fan did not manage to use his Taiji True Qi to effortlessly deflect Guo Song's attack.

Following the headbutt, Su Fan's balance was lost, and he fell towards the ground.

Seeing this, Guo Song's eyes lit up with joy.

But he celebrated too soon, as Su Fan, the moment he touched the ground, gathered his Taiji True Qi and unleashed a sweeping leg.

No matter how rich Guo Song's combat experience was, he would not have expected Su Fan to pull off a sweeping leg in the critical moment of falling.

This required Su Fan to have already started regulating his energy before he hit the ground. To achieve this feat, one must admit Su Fan's martial talent was truly astonishing.

Chapter 646: Hard Qigong

Guo Song was indeed caught off guard by Su Fan this time.

Su Fan's Tai Chi-powered sweeping leg was as fierce as a dump truck, sending Guo Song flying horizontally.

Just as Guo Song was sent flying, Su Fan executed a move called Coiling Dragon around the Pillar and leapt into the air.

The moment he bounced off the ground, a flying kick followed, and with a "bang," it hit Guo Song squarely in the chest.

In this exchange, both were evenly matched, with Su Fan having a slight advantage, although it wasn't significant.

Guo Song felt some pain in his chest from Su Fan's kick, but he wasn't seriously injured—just minor injuries.

Performing a carp flip, he leapt up and then executed a move called Canglong Out to Sea, jumping from afar and chopping down toward Su Fan's crown with a palm strike.

Faced with Guo Song's palm strike, Su Fan didn't meet it head-on; instead, he instantly stepped back.

As he stepped back, Guo Song's strike missed.

But Guo Song didn't care; he wanted to maintain his offensive momentum to force Su Fan's weaknesses to show and then strike him dead with one punch.

As Su Fan stepped back, he stepped up to continue his assault with a palm strike sweeping towards Su Fan's corner of the eye, aiming to burst Su Fan's eyes directly.

Su Fan lifted his hand to block Guo Song's strike and simultaneously applied a capturing technique to grasp Guo Song's wrist.

Guo Song was greatly shocked when his wrist was caught.

He wanted to break free, but his wrist was tightly clasped by Su Fan, making it impossible to escape.

Having no other option, he attempted to use the Tiger Claw, aiming it at Su Fan's face.

Guo Song had learned a mix of skills, seemingly proficient in everything; his adaptability was much smoother and faster than Wang Tongshan's, making him a formidable opponent for Su Fan!

Other martial artists would have been drained by beauties like Su Fan had been.

But the more Su Fan interacted with women in a blending of yin and yang, the stronger his power grew.

When Guo Song's Tiger Claw attacked, Su Fan wasn't flustered at all.

"Ha!" he roared and then jerked Guo Song's arm, spinning him around violently!

Guo Song was lifted off his feet and spun around in midair.

But Guo Song didn't give him the chance, continuously spinning before throwing Guo Song out.

While his wrist was captured, Guo Song's scissor leg instantly swept towards his neck.

These legs were incredibly powerful, enough to instantly bend a steel pipe.

Su Fan could only let go of Guo Song's wrist and then arch backward, forming an Iron Plate Bridge to dodge.

Guo Song's scissor leg missed, but he quickly employed a technique called Thousand Catties Drop, crashing down fiercely.

Su Fan slightly shifted his body on the ground to dodge Guo Song's Thousand Catties Drop, while simultaneously executing a Skyward Kick.

He shot up like an arrow slanted upward from the ground, swiftly approaching Guo Song's cheek.

In agility and breath control, he clearly had the advantage.

Guo Song's Thousand Catties Drop had just hit the ground; he couldn't do anything against Su Fan.

Without using the Thousand Catties Drop to break Su Fan's waist, it was once again the exact moment Guo Song landed that Su Fan's Skyward Kick arrived.

Such timing, it wouldn't just be him, even a stronger expert would have to endure Su Fan's Skyward Kick.

"Bang!"

"Pfft!"

As a dull sound emitted, Guo Song truly endured that blow from Su Fan's Skyward Kick.

He immediately spat out a mouthful of blood, anger filling him!

Guo Song didn't rush to continue his attack this time; instead, he began to circulate his energy on the spot.

Su Fan didn't know what Guo Song was planning, but he certainly couldn't let Guo Song freely gather his energy while standing there.

He stepped forward quickly, his Tai Chi-powered palm strike bombarding Guo Song's chest.

If it had been earlier, even if Guo Song didn't fall from his strike, he would've retreated!

This time, however, it was somewhat strange!

Guo Song stood firm against his strike, absolutely unmoved.

Chapter 647: Tai Chi Hidden Strength

"Iron Horse Stance? Dragon Tiger Hard Qi Skill?" Su Fan asked uncertainly.

Guo Song sneered, "You have some insight."

After deploying the Iron Horse Body Method, Guo Song's lower body became as hard as iron, solid as Mount Tai.

At this moment, if Su Fan continued to use the sweeping leg on Guo Song, he would find it was like sweeping at an armored vehicle.

Guo Song's Iron Horse, fully named the Twelve Posts of Iron Horse, was an extremely formidable movement technique.

His Hard Qi Skill was called the Dragon Tiger Hard Qi Skill, also incredibly domineering.

At this moment, Guo Song seemed to have transformed into a different person, and Su Fan simply couldn't move him.

Su Fan couldn't move Guo Song, but Guo Song's straight punch made Su Fan retreat repeatedly.

As he retreated again and again, Guo Song continued to advance aggressively.

Different from before, after deploying the Dragon Tiger Hard Qi Skill, Guo Song was all offense and no defense.

Unless Su Fan used techniques like the Yin Leg, Guo Song would face him head-on.

Su Fan struck Guo Song's head with a palm enveloped in Taiji True Qi, but instead of dodging, Guo Song returned a heavy punch.

Su Fan was not injured, but his figure was forced to retreat repeatedly again, and the Taiji True Qi inside his body became somewhat chaotic at this moment.

Initially, Guo Song really confused him.

When he realized that this simple giant was all offense and no defense, even daring to meet his Taiji True Qi with his face, Su Fan completely relaxed.

Taiji True Qi had a wonderful use called internal strike.

The so-called internal strike was not a straightforward force, but more like shooting over mountains, hitting a cow beyond a mountain.

His Taiji True Qi directly penetrated Guo Song's flesh and attacked his organs.

After Guo Song deployed the Dragon Tiger Hard Qi Skill, he became reckless and did not take Su Fan seriously at all.

This led to the accumulation of Su Fan's Taiji internal strikes within him without his noticing.

This was normal, as Taiji True Qi was both rigid and flexible, good at concealing.

Before the complete explosion of the Taiji internal strikes, it was hard to detect.

After deploying the Dragon Tiger Hard Qi Skill, at first glance, it seemed like his tactics had changed.

Previously suppressed by Su Fan, he began to overpower Su Fan.

He did not know that such tactics were completely a pathway to death.

Guo Song was not completely unaware, as Su Fan's palm strikes could not injure him, but Su Fan's continued aggressive striking was undoubtedly problematic.

But Guo Song didn't know where the problem lay.

All he could guess was that Su Fan was perhaps desperately trying anything in a crisis.

Having no other choice, he could only keep attacking intensely.

Their battle was extremely brutal.

They were also not easy to find in the mountains and forests.

The two had fought in the mountains and forests for a long time without anyone else coming across them.

However, their battle was about to end.

When Guo Song threw another punch toward Su Fan's shoulder, Su Fan, like him, didn't dodge at all.

While bearing Guo Song's punch, Su Fan's Taiji Cloud Hand directly struck Guo Song's dantian.

Struck by Guo Song's ferociously strong punch, Su Fan fell directly onto the ground.

But Guo Song didn't press the attack, he just stood frozen in place.

After a long while, he glanced at Su Fan and then turned around with difficulty.

After taking two steps, he couldn't support himself and knelt half on the ground.

"Puff—"

A spray of blood mixed with pieces of internal organs violently burst out of Guo Song's mouth.

His entire body bled from every orifice in an instant, then he heavily fell to the ground.

During the fight with Su Fan, Su Fan had unknowingly struck many Taiji internal strikes in him.

At that moment, all the internal strikes exploded instantly, and how could Guo Song bear it?

His dantian and Qi Sea were shattered, and his internal organs burst open.

Chapter 648: Guo Song Dies Suddenly

Guo Song's kung fu was not far behind Su Fan, but there was a gap nonetheless.

His Iron Horse Twelve Stances and the Dragon Tiger Hard Qi Skill, however, were considerably oppressive towards Su Fan.

Regrettably, Guo Song lacked an understanding of a true Tai Chi master.

This led to the accumulation of Su Fan's Tai Chi hidden power within his body.

When the Tai Chi hidden power accumulated to a certain level and exploded in an instant, it directly blasted his organs such as the heart.

After killing Guo Song, Su Fan immediately went to the shoulder bag beside him.

In the opponent's bag, Su Fan found many weapons, including two handguns, a bomb, and numerous flying knives.

Su Fan, of course, had no interest in these things.

What he was truly interested in were Guo Song's cultivation techniques.

After a thorough search, he didn't find Guo Song's techniques, but he did find a USB drive.

Su Fan pondered for a moment before deciding to take the USB drive with him.

It was highly possible that Guo Song's techniques were scanned and stored in the USB drive.

Otherwise, Guo Song wouldn't have placed a USB drive among a bunch of weapons.

Even more so, this USB drive might contain other information as well.

After pocketing the USB drive, Su Fan sat down to one side to meditate and recover.

About ten minutes later, many security officers arrived from all directions.

Seeing Su Fan's somewhat disheveled appearance and Guo Song lying motionless on the ground, everyone couldn't help but cheer for Su Fan!

"Did President Su kill this thug? Well done, President Su!"

"President Su is a blessing to Yang City!"

"As expected of President Su, this thug had injured many experts in our Yang City Security System before!"

Many security officers gathered around Su Fan and were excited to see that he had killed Guo Song.

If Guo Song had escaped, many people in the Yang City Security System would have been in trouble.

The incident where Guo Song threw two patients from the fifth floor of the affiliated hospital of the Medical University had already angered and panicked everyone in Yang City.

The higher-ups had given them a firm order to take down Guo Song at any cost.

This mission was undoubtedly very challenging.

Fortunately, the President of Yang City Martial Arts Association, Su Fan, had also joined the operation.

At this moment, Su Fan had single-handedly taken down the thug Guo Song.

Following the many security officers, reporters from various media outlets in Yang City also flocked to the scene.

In an instant, flashing lights were ceaseless, and many cameras once again surrounded Su Fan.

"President Su, could you briefly explain how you took down this thug?"

"President Su, did you get injured during the fight with this thug?"

"President Su, could you tell us what happened earlier on the rooftop of the affiliated hospital?"

The reporters had many questions.

At this point, Su Fan had expended a great deal of energy and didn't really feel like talking.

But after some thought, he still said, "Earlier on the rooftop of the affiliated hospital, I was hiding behind a water tank."

"When Guo Song passed by, I suddenly attacked from behind the tank, snatching away his detonator and knocking his handgun aside."

"After a brief contact with Guo Song, he did not engage in combat and fled immediately."

"After dealing with the bomb that Guo Song left behind, in cooperation with the security officers, I went to pursue Guo Song."

"He was very good at evasion, shaking off the many security officers chasing him and escaping into the woods."

"After encountering him in the woods, a fierce battle immediately ensued."

"After a long fight, I was lucky to kill this thug not long ago."

Su Fan recounted mostly the truth; Guo Song's skills were very impressive, his strength formidable.

If not for Guo Song's overconfidence, it wouldn't have been so easy for him to kill Guo Song.

Chapter 649: Gratitude of the Doctors

After briefly describing the process of how Su Fan killed Guo Song, many journalists roughly understood what had just happened.

However, there were some things that Su Fan didn't mention.

For instance, a USB drive that had been in Guo Song's possession was now in his hand.

This incident had drained him significantly, and he didn't stay at the scene any longer.

The follow-up matters would be handled by the security officers.

All he needed to do was follow a group of security officers to the security office and provide a statement.

After completing the statement, he needed to return to the university-affiliated hospital.

The emergency event had resulted in the deaths of two patients and one doctor, while another doctor was severely injured.

Zhang Haitao, Bai Man, Liu Qing, and other doctors like Lu Wenwen were quite shaken by the incident.

After completing his statement at the security office, Su Fan returned to the hospital.

The incident had taken a heavy toll on him, leaving him considerably exhausted.

But upon returning to the hospital, he immediately went to see Bai Man.

Upon seeing Su Fan enter her office, Bai Man didn't say a word before throwing herself into Su Fan's arms.

"Su Fan, I thought I was definitely going to die!"

"Today was terrifying. Thankfully you were here, and you saved me yet again."

Bai Man, like rain falling on pear blossoms, kept crying.

Before Su Fan arrived, she hadn't found anyone to share her fears with, but now she wanted to cry her heart out in Su Fan's arms.

Su Fan held Bai Man tight, kissed her, and said, "Sister Man, it's okay now, don't be scared, I'll protect you."

While talking, he also embraced Bai Man and closed the office door.

However, this time, he did not firmly reject Bai Man.

Although he had killed Guo Song, he himself was nearly dead from exhaustion.

After moving Bai Man to the couch, he leaned beside her to rest.

Bai Man, unused to seeing him like this, was somewhat uncomfortable.

Previously, whenever Su Fan closed the office door, she definitely had a hard time.

This time, however, Su Fan seemed unusually exhausted.

Bai Man could only ask, "Su Fan, are you hurt? What happened to that thug?"

Su Fan shook his head: "Sister Man, I'm not injured, just very tired. I need to rest for a while."

"As for the assailant, he's dead now, Sister Man, you don't have to be afraid."

He kept it very simple because if he went into detail, Bai Man might not understand anyway.

Indeed, hearing that the thug was dead, Bai Man breathed a sigh of relief.

Today, she had been terrified by Guo Song.

It was her first time seeing a real-life time bomb.

At that time, the time bomb was strapped to her.

If the bomb had exploded then, she would have been obliterated!

Once Bai Man's emotions had slightly stabilized, Su Fan casually asked, "Sister Man, how about we go for a hot spring bath together this weekend?"

Upon hearing this, Bai Man nodded: "That would be nice."

Having experienced this emergency, Bai Man obviously wanted to unwind by soaking in a hot spring.

Upon her agreement, Su Fan was of course delighted.

He had already arranged with Wang Fei to go to a hot spring on their day off this week.

Given his relationship with Wang Fei now, they could do whatever they desired whenever they felt like it.

However, he wasn't sure if he could handle both Wang Fei and Bai Man at the same time during the mixed bathing session.

After all, he was eagerly anticipating the scene of both Bai Man and Wang Fei wearing either black, flesh-colored, or white silk stockings.

This time, he was looking forward to trying out some action in the hot spring with Wang Fei.

Su Fan was extremely exhausted this time; he spent the following time recuperating and planning for the weekend's mixed bathing session.

With him by her side, Bai Man calmed down very quickly.

At this moment, Bai Man's heart had mostly settled down.

When someone knocked on the office door, she even went to open it herself.

The person visiting her office wasn't anyone else but Zhang Haitao.

Seeing Bai Man, Zhang Haitao smiled and asked, "Is Deputy Director Su here with you?"

Bai Man nodded and asked, "Director, do you need Dr. Su for something?"

Zhang Haitao waved his hand: "It's nothing serious, just that I and other doctors at the hospital want to express our gratitude to Deputy Director Su."

"After all, he saved everyone's lives this time."

As he was speaking, Su Fan also came over.

He said, "Director, let's try to keep the commendation meeting as simple as possible."

He didn't dislike the commendation meeting, but he also didn't want it to be too elaborate and cumbersome.

Hearing his words, Zhang Haitao immediately nodded, "Su Fan, don't worry, we'll keep everything simple this time."

Chapter 650: All Executives Meeting

The award ceremony for Su Fan was originally intended by Zhang Haitao to be a grand affair.

In all his years at the affiliated hospital, Zhang Haitao had never encountered such a sudden situation.

To express his gratitude towards Su Fan, naturally, he wanted to make a big deal out of it.

However, since Su Fan had made a request, it was certainly necessary to respect his wishes.

The main reason Su Fan had asked for simplicity was that he felt such lengthy ceremonies, lasting several hours, were too dull and boring.

The incident with shooting Guo Song was not over yet.

Public security officers soon arrived, taking him to the Public Security Bureau to report the detailed situation.

Guo Song had committed many crimes and was an extremely vile criminal.

The city's Public Security Bureau also had plans to commend Su Fan for killing this criminal.

The news of Su Fan shooting Guo Song had at this time spread throughout the households of Yang City.

The act of the thug throwing hospital patients from the fifth floor was simply too brutal.

If this thug hadn't been brought to justice, the citizens of Yang City would have been living in fear and unease.

Recording his statement at the city Public Security Bureau went very smoothly for Su Fan, and aside from the USB drive he kept for himself, he told the truth about everything else.

The Bureau's commendation required an application for approval, so during this visit, he did not receive any award for his courageous act.

Su Fan, of course, didn't care about these things.

He now had companies like Dawn Pharmaceutical Company and had lost much interest in material rewards.

However, killing Guo Song this time had once again increased his fame in Yang City.

For a businessman like him, this was undoubtedly excellent.

Businesspeople often need exposure and attention.

Only then will more people learn about the products Dawn Pharmaceutical brings to market.

Recently, Su Fan had been contemplating the product line for Dawn Pharmaceutical Technology.

Since it was a pharmaceutical company, the core products were, of course, various medicines.

But Su Fan planned three main product lines for Dawn Pharmaceutical.

The first was various kinds of almost completely harmless traditional Chinese medicine preparations, including decoctions, pills, powders, and so on.

The second consisted of various health care products based on traditional Chinese medicine.

The third was the specialty of traditional Chinese medicine, medicinal cuisine.

Most medicinal cuisines focus on the medicinal aspects at the expense of the culinary.

Therefore, although they may have therapeutic effects, they are certainly not tasty.

What Su Fan aimed to create were medicinal dishes that were not only delicious but also had health benefits.

Only such medicinal dishes were truly worthy of the name and could help more people achieve health through their diet.

After making his statement at the Public Security Bureau, Su Fan didn't return to the affiliated hospital but went straight to the company.

The hospital's award ceremony for him wouldn't be ready until at least the next day.

And by the time he returned to the hospital, it would have been nearly time to leave work.

So, in such a case, there was no reason for him to rush back to the hospital, and it was better to head directly to the company.

After arriving at the company, Su Fan convened a meeting with all the senior executives of Dawn Pharmaceutical Technology.

Dawn Pharmaceutical Company was somewhat like a makeshift outfit.

The founder was new to entrepreneurship, and most of the executives lacked experience in the field.

Nevertheless, Dawn Pharmaceutical Company was still regarded favorably by many in Yang City.

First, Su Fan was a well-known Divine Doctor in households across Yang City. Second, his frequent television appearances brought him and Dawn Pharmaceutical Company a high level of attention.

The last point was the company's substantial financial backing.

The registered capital of Dawn Pharmaceutical was two hundred million, and major shareholders including Su Fan and Shen He still had the capacity to make additional investments.

Of course, the most crucial factor was Su Fan's almost magical medical skills, which had lifesaving effects and provided him with a core competitive edge over most rival companies.