

Temptation 781

Chapter 781

Han Shiguang nodded with a smile, "My private jet is at Yangcheng Airport, if Divine Doctor Su can go to Tianhai today, I can wait for Divine Doctor Su."

Su Fan nodded, "Okay, I will come to find Mr. Han again in two hours."

This event, though an unexpected occurrence for Su Fan, was greatly beneficial for him as well.

Besides gaining an additional two months to catch his breath, he also broadened his social network.

Eastern medicine was his foundation, but his business journey was clearly not going to end with just eastern medicine.

As his business developed to a certain level, he obviously needed connections of Han Shiguang's caliber.

Another very important matter, which Su Fan was still unaware of,

was that Han Shiguang's daughter, Han Xinying, also possessed an extremely yin constitution.

She was the fourth person with an extremely yin constitution that he had encountered, after Liu Qing, Su Ya, and Jiang Yuan.

If he could cure Han Xinying, he might even gain the favor of Miss Han.

Undoubtedly, this would lead to further resolution of his body's problems.

Not only that, his power would also climb to a new level.

After the neutralization from the three women with extremely yin constitutions, Su Fan actually discovered another issue within his body.

It seemed that the fiery poison within him wasn't truly a poison, but something particularly special.

However, with his current level of knowledge and medical skill, he couldn't clarify what exactly the issue was.

It was like when oil was first discovered, locals called it black water, and the more superstitious believed it was the Stygian river erupting from the ground.

But it turned out not to be polluting black water, nor any Stygian river, but a resource that drove the whole world mad.

It's highly possible that the fiery poison within his body was of a similar nature.

But as of now, he couldn't be sure what it really was, and further observation and research were needed.

After parting with Han Shiguang, Su Fan first sought out Bai Man.

Upon reaching Bai Man's office, he said directly, "Sister Man, I need to take a trip to Tianhai. If it's quick, I might need a week, but if slow, it might take a month or even longer."

Bai Man, after hearing this, asked with curiosity, "What do you need to do in Tianhai? And for such a long time?"

Su Fan did not hide anything and shared Han Shiguang's situation, "The Senior Vice President of Spruce Global Capital for the China region, Vice President Han Shiguang, has requested me to go to Tianhai to treat his wife and daughter."

"His wife's family has a very strange inherited disease, and he wants me to help take a look."

"Of course, if I also can't figure out what it is, I might return tomorrow after going there today."

With so many perplexing diseases in the world, although Su Fan was confident in his medical skills, he did not know if he could treat Han Shiguang's wife and daughter.

Once Bai Man understood the situation, she nodded and said, "Then go ahead, and after you get to Tianhai, try not to conflict with anyone else."

"The people there are either rich or powerful, and if you provoke someone significant, it will be trouble for you as well."

Su Fan nodded with a smile, "Sister Man, you don't need to worry about me, just take care of yourself."

Bai Man rolled her eyes at him, "Am I a child, to not be able to take care of myself?"

"Anyway, just try to make it a quick trip and come back soon. I'm not quite used to you not being in the hospital."

Su Fan said with a smile, "All right, I'll hurry back once I'm done with my business. Actually, I too have grown accustomed to going to the hospital every day for work, heading to the company after hours, and spending weekends going out with Sister Man."

Had it not been inconvenient for Han Shiguang's wife and daughter to come to Yang City, and had Su Fan not needed something from him, and considering the vast gap in their status,

Su Fan would have really preferred to have Han Shiguang send his wife and daughter to the affiliated hospital for treatment.

Chapter 782

After discussing the matter with Bai Man, Su Fan went to consult with Director Zhang and his office assistant, Lu Wenwen, to inform them that he would be leaving the hospital for a while.

Besides them, he also approached Liu Qing to notify him of the same thing.

Subsequently, he personally reached out to Mayor Jiang Gao and school leaders to inform them that he would be leaving Yang City for a while to treat patients in Tianhai.

His schedule in Yang City was already quite fixed, and many people were waiting for his treatments.

However, whether it was Mayor Jiang Gao, Nalan Xue, or Yan Henglong from Xijing, they could manage with Chinese medicine for a while during this period.

Among them, Nalan Xue was almost completely healed; Yan Henglong still needed further observation and ongoing medication.

Mayor Jiang Gao required long-term comprehensive treatment, but his condition had stabilized, so consuming Chinese medicine during this period was sufficient.

Having discussed with these individuals, his affairs were still not completely settled. He had to speak with Yin Qianyu about relevant matters.

After telling Yin Qianyue that he would be temporarily leaving Yang City, he only needed to inform the staff at Dongfang Pharmaceuticals.

For the staff at Dongfang Pharmaceuticals, he did not need to notify each one individually.

Calling Wang Xiaoxiao and letting her inform the others would suffice.

In the span of two hours, Su Fan was nearly constantly on the move.

He was either meeting people or on his way to meet someone, and he spent any spare time on the phone.

He hadn't realized before how many commitments he had in Yang City.

Only now, as he faced a long absence, did he realize how closely he was tied to Yang City.

When he had handled everything and went to find Han Shiguang, he remembered again that he had overlooked one detail.

He needed to notify the Yang City Martial Arts Association that he would be away for a while.

Immediately, he made a call while walking.

Having a certain social status evidently brings many considerations.

Fortunately, after speaking with the Yang City Martial Arts Association, he could consider his affairs in Yang City completely accounted for.

By the time he reached the hospital entrance, Han Shiguang's car was already waiting for him.

Han Shiguang was not sitting in the car but instead politely opened the door of the Cullinan for Su Fan.

The more successful the individual, the more humble they tend to be in their everyday life.

As their material world is fully satisfied, their spiritual life is often immensely pleasant.

Such a person does not need to showcase themselves through anything, so they are naturally very humble.

After Su Fan got into the car, Han Shiguang also entered, and then they headed to the airport.

He often flew both domestic and international, hence owning his private plane.

Clearly, Su Fan could also own one if needed in the future.

The flight from Yangcheng Airport to Tianhai International Airport took about an hour and a half.

Su Fan smoothly arrived and boarded Han Shiguang's private plane together with him.

The private plane's cabin was like a comfortable airborne office, also serving the purpose of a living room.

Han Shiguang smiled at Su Fan and said, "Divine Doctor Su, make yourself comfortable, feel free to sit wherever and just inform the cabin crew if you need anything."

Su Fan nodded slightly, then settled into a seat.

Han Shiguang, also quite casual, took a seat and pulled out a book to read.

For tycoons like him, not only was their intelligence very effective, but they were also invariably voracious readers.

Only by possessing more knowledge than others can one seize opportunities that others have yet to notice.

Or perhaps succeed in areas where others have tried and failed by adopting an entirely new approach.

Upon boarding the plane, Su Fan began to close his eyes and rest.

More than an hour later, Han Shiguang's private plane smoothly landed at Tianhai International Airport.

Under Han Shiguang's lead, the two disembarked shortly and got into another one of Han Shiguang's Cullinans.

This time, Han Shiguang instructed the driver to head directly to his villa in Tianhai.

Han Shiguang's villa was a true seaside villa, boasting a prime location with a beautiful sea view.

Arriving at the villa, he invited Su Fan to his home's treatment room to tend to his daughter.

Chapter 783

Su Fan followed Han Shiguang, passing through numerous buildings before arriving outside a very advanced treatment room.

This private treatment room was certainly on par with any top international medical center.

When Su Fan arrived outside the treatment room, he just happened to meet a bald foreigner with a stethoscope walking out of the room.

Seeing the foreigner, Han Shiguang quickly stepped forward, "Professor Harold, how is my daughter's condition?"

The bald foreigner didn't answer directly but rather helplessly spread his hands.

Then, he said, "We've been old friends for many years, you know my level of expertise in medicine."

"In this world, there are very, very few diseases that I completely don't understand."

"Unfortunately, I have conducted a comprehensive examination on your daughter, but I still don't understand why she exhibits such symptoms."

"I have carefully reviewed the diagnosis from all the other doctors, and I don't believe this to be a genetic defect."

"However, I can't explain why this is happening."

Professor Harold was highly eloquent; he spoke a great deal, but in essence, it was all pointless.

A doctor from the medical university hospital could have conveyed his meaning in a single sentence.

And that would be, "Unfortunately, we have done all we could!"

Although Harold had spoken a lot of nonsense, Han Shiguang still understood his meaning.

Immediately, Han Shiguang could only nod his head and then asked, "Is there really no way at all?"

This time, Harold shook his head, "I have a hypothesis that your daughter might be suffering from a rare brain disease."

"I have the latest medical equipment being shipped from North America."

"I plan to use this equipment to perform a final examination on your daughter."

"If we still can't find the cause, then I'm afraid I'm helpless."

Upon hearing this, Han Shiguang breathed a slight sigh of relief.

Professor Harold was the best doctor he could find.

If even Professor Harold was unable to help, he would have to accept this harsh reality.

His daughter, who had just turned twenty, would be leaving him soon!

After having the villa's servants send Professor Harold away, Han Shiguang continued to lead Su Fan into the treatment room.

Entering the treatment room, Su Fan saw numerous highly advanced medical devices.

Compared to this room, the equipment in the treatment rooms of the university hospital seemed like ancient relics in a museum.

On the treatment room's bed lay a young woman with exceptionally pale skin.

She appeared to be about twenty years old.

Her skin was originally fair, but now it was excessively pale.

When Han Xinying saw Han Shiguang, she smiled joyfully and said, "Dad!"

Han Shiguang smiled and nodded, then said, "It seems these Western experts are all show, no go. This time I've brought a specialist in traditional medicine to see you, there's definitely no problem."

He said this aloud, but he didn't hold much hope for Su Fan in his heart.

Before Su Fan, several experts proficient in both Western and traditional Chinese medicine had diagnosed Han Xinying, all in vain.

Han Shiguang even worried that Su Fan, who had come from far away, might turn out to be like those other experts.

However, he had diligently verified everything concerning Su Fan.

At the university hospital affiliated with the medical school, Su Fan had indeed miraculously saved numerous lives several times.

If that had not been the case, he wouldn't have personally traveled to Yang City to invite Su Fan.

Upon hearing the mention of a specialist in traditional medicine, Han Xinying was momentarily startled.

In her mind, specialists in traditional medicine were all old men and old women.

She had never associated a traditional medicine specialist with Su Fan.

Chapter 784

Su Fan saw Han Xinying's puzzled gaze and immediately said with a smile, "Miss Han, hello, I am Su Fan, fairly proficient in traditional Chinese medicine. Let me take your pulse first."

Upon hearing this, Han Xinying was immediately surprised, "So you're the expert in traditional Chinese medicine my father mentioned? You are truly impressive."

"You look to be about my age, yet you can already treat people. I can't do anything but spend money," she remarked.

Han Xinying's words were not meant to be sarcastic, but were genuinely out of admiration for Su Fan's abilities.

Su Fan smiled and did not respond, but instead went to the bedside and began to take Han Xinying's pulse.

The moment he took hold of Han Xinying's wrist, he was startled in his heart!

An extremely Yin constitution, the fourth extreme Yin constitution he had encountered!

Although he was shocked inside, his face remained calm as water, showing no change.

After suppressing the shock in his heart, he began to seriously diagnose Han Xinying's condition by taking her pulse.

Soon, his brows gradually furrowed.

He did not know what was wrong with Han Xinying.

Yet it seemed as if she were a bottle with a small hole, her vitality steadily leaking out through that hole.

Although the rate of this leakage wasn't very fast, Han Xinying was certain to die after three months.

After taking Han Xinying's pulse, Su Fan spoke up, "Mr. Han, Miss Han's condition is rather complex. Shall I discuss it here?"

Understanding that Su Fan meant well, Han Shiguang nevertheless replied, "Divine Doctor Su, please speak here."

"Xinying already knows about her illness..."

Hearing Han Shiguang say so, Su Fan spoke forthrightly, "Miss Han's cellular tissue and organs are deteriorating at a relatively stable rate."

"Unless some unforeseen circumstances arise, Miss Han's life will come to an end in three months."

As he spoke these words in an utterly calm tone, shock filled the expressions of both Han Xinying and Han Shiguang.

The reason for their astonishment was clear.

What Su Fan said was completely accurate!

However, to make such a diagnosis, other doctors had used all sorts of medical equipment and conducted very detailed blood tests on Han Xinying.

Only then did they reluctantly reach this more or less accurate conclusion.

Su Fan, on the other hand, was extremely capable; without the aid of any modern medical equipment and just by taking the pulse, he had made an accurate diagnosis for Han Xinying.

This left Han Shiguang not only shocked but also filled with hope.

"Divine Doctor Su, your diagnosis must be correct. What exactly is Xinying's illness, and what is the treatment plan going forward?"

After a brief moment of thought, Su Fan replied, "At present, I do not have a cure, only treatment to address the symptoms and slow the progression of the disease."

Although he could only treat the symptoms rather than cure the disease completely,

Han Shiguang was still very excited, as until now, Su Fan was the only doctor who had been able to accurately determine the condition and propose a treatment plan.

Han Shiguang immediately asked, "Divine Doctor Su, if you can treat the symptoms, that will do. What needs to be done?"

To this question, Su Fan could reply without a second thought, "It will require dietary therapy, medications, acupuncture, medicinal baths, and other comprehensive and continuous treatments."

"Especially dietary therapy, she needs to eat a special medicinal diet every day."

"Miss Han's body is like a bottle."

"The water in the bottle represents her life."

"Under normal circumstances, this bottle is intact, and only as one ages does the bottle degrade and problems arise."

"But now, the bottle representing Miss Han has a tiny crack."

"Because of the crack, the water is leaking out."

The analogy Su Fan used was very vivid.

This made Han Shiguang, as well as his daughter Han Xinying, listen very attentively to what he was saying.

Chapter 785

Han Xinying's condition was not unique to her; her mother also suffered from the same symptoms.

Her mother's family was similarly afflicted; every ten years, they faced a significant hurdle.

As they listened patiently, Su Fan continued to speak:

"My treatment plan is to make the small leak even smaller."

"At the same time, add more water to the bottle."

"This way, although long-term treatment is required, it can be ensured that the condition does not worsen."

"If there is a major breakthrough in medicine in the future, or if I make a new discovery, there should be a possibility to completely cure Miss Han's disease."

After Su Fan finished speaking, Han Shiguang immediately said, "Divine Doctor Su, please start treating Xinying now."

"But how long will your treatment take before we see any results?"

Su Fan casually replied, "If we start treatment today, Miss Han will be able to move around normally by tomorrow morning."

"Five days after the treatment, Miss Han can undergo a comprehensive examination."

"By that time, the results of the comprehensive examination will surely indicate that Miss Han has recovered her health."

"However, that health is only temporary, and ongoing treatment will still be necessary afterward."

Han Shiguang was overjoyed: "Great, Divine Doctor Su, as long as your treatment plan really works for Xinying."

"The things I promised to Divine Doctor Su before, I will still accomplish."

Su Fan nodded slightly: "In that case, I'll prescribe medicine and perform acupuncture treatment for Miss Han right now."

Han Shiguang nodded in agreement but set a condition.

"That's acceptable, but when you treat my daughter, our family's private doctor will accompany her throughout the process."

"The prescription that Divine Doctor Su provides will also be tested by our private doctor in the villa using lab mice."

Han Shiguang had a very high sense of security; even though Su Fan was known as a Divine Doctor in Yang City, he obviously still took precautions against him.

Su Fan was indifferent to these matters.

He quickly took the paper and pen from the servant's hand and began to prescribe medicine for Han Xinying.

He wrote not only the herbal decoction but also the medicinal diet Han Xinying needed to follow.

After writing it down, he handed the prescription to Han Shiguang.

Han Shiguang, of course, couldn't understand it and passed it to an old man beside him in turn.

There were two family doctors in the Han family villa.

One was the old man beside Han Shiguang, an old overseas Chinese.

Lu Lianshan was born into a family of traditional Chinese medicine practitioners and was one of the first Chinese students to study abroad.

While studying in the United States, he majored in medicine and biology.

He intended to return to his country to contribute to its construction after his studies, but at that time, the Americans made it difficult and did not allow these students to return.

Lu Lianshan had no choice but to stay in North America for over thirty years before finally managing to return to his homeland.

The other family doctor in the Han family villa was Lu Lianshan's granddaughter.

The medical expertise of Lu Lianshan and his granddaughter was also exceptional.

After reading Su Fan's prescription carefully twice, Lu Lianshan nodded: "Doctor Su's proficiency in traditional Chinese medicine is truly profound."

"This prescription is not the original ancient formula but an improved version of it."

"After the improvement, the side effects of the prescription have been minimized, but the efficacy has not been affected."

"As for the efficacy of taking this medicine, set that aside for the moment, but Doctor Su's prescription is modified very ingeniously."

"It is evident that Doctor Su is not just a namesake, and he is very formidable in both medical skill and pharmacology."

With that evaluation from Lu Lianshan, Su Fan knew that the old man was skilled.

However, it was a pity that Han Xinying's illness was not easy to cure; otherwise, the old man might have been able to treat Han Xinying's illness successfully.

After Lu Lianshan praised him, Su Fan modestly said, "Old Master, you flatter me. I still have much to learn in the field of traditional Chinese medicine and pharmacology."

Upon hearing this, Lu Lianshan immediately shook his head: "Doctor Su is being too humble. Although I do not primarily focus on traditional Chinese medicine, I come from a family that practices it and have studied it in depth."

"Doctor Su's mastery of traditional Chinese medicine is already among the very top in the field..."

Chapter 786

After Lu Lianshan, the Han family's private doctor, confirmed that Su Fan's treatment plan and the prescription he had written were fine,

Su Fan was officially able to begin treatment on Han Shiguang's beloved daughter, Miss Han Xinying.

When he discovered that Han Xinying was also a body of extreme yin, Su Fan became very excited.

The pressure from Pathea Castle was immense, and he now eagerly sought more people with bodies of extreme yin to relieve his body's affliction and quickly increase his strength.

However, Han Xinying was a bit different from other women.

Given Han Shiguang's prestigious status, he had to be careful with his dealings with Han Xinying.

In the treatment room, both Han Shiguang and Lu Lianshan had left the room.

Only Lu Lingling, Lu Lianshan's granddaughter, stayed for the entire process to assist.

Su Fan helped Han Xinying up from the sickbed, and then began to give her acupuncture treatment.

On one hand, it was to stimulate the vitality in Han Xinying's body.

On the other hand, it was to transfer his Tai Chi True Qi and a small amount of vital blood to Han Xinying through the silver needles.

Regarding this treatment, Han Xinying was a little hopeful, but not very much so.

It was an inherited illness from her mother's family side, and countless top-notch doctors had been consulted.

None of these top-notch doctors managed to come up with any effective treatment plans after their diagnosis.

As her body started to weaken day by day, she had actually prepared herself for the worst outcome.

Next to Su Fan, Lu Lingling was very serious and responsible.

When Su Fan was inserting the needles into Han Xinying, Lu Lingling watched intently without even blinking.

After Su Fan performed acupuncture once, she couldn't help but ask,

"The needle technique of Divine Doctor Su looks like the 'Qihuang Twenty-Four Needles,' but it seems not entirely the same as the original 'Qihuang Twenty-Four Needles'?"

Su Fan had known not long before that both Lu Lianshan and Lu Lingling were knowledgeable in the field.

After Lu Lingling's question, he casually replied, "The 'Qihuang Twenty-Four Needles' have been lost many times during the transmission process."

"A lot of the techniques were later modified and supplemented by national medical sages."

"The 'Qihuang Twenty-Four Needles' I learned are somewhat similar, but they are a rarer branch."

What Su Fan said was half true and half false.

The reality was, the 'Qihuang Twenty-Four Needles' he learned were the true teachings!

They were not incomplete versions of other Divine Doctors or pieced together into a hodgepodge.

Along with the true teachings, his grandfather had also added his own understanding, making the 'Qihuang Twenty-Four Needles' even more powerful.

While explaining to Lu Lingling, Su Fan also began to withdraw the needles.

Han Xinying's condition was rather severe, he had to perform the acupuncture twice in a row on her.

At first, Han Xinying didn't hold much hope for Su Fan.

But as Su Fan performed the acupuncture for the second time, she couldn't help but feel amazed.

As Su Fan kept inserting the needles, the constant sense of weakness and fatigue in her body disappeared as if into thin air!

"Sister Lu, I feel like I've recovered?"

Han Xinying spoke uncertainly, completely astounded by the development.

After consulting so many experts and renowned doctors who were all at a loss, she had naturally gone through disappointment after disappointment.

Who would have thought that inviting such a young Chinese medicine expert would result in such good effects!

Upon hearing this, Lu Lingling immediately started to take Han Xinying's pulse.

Then her expression turned to one of surprise, "Miss Han, even though your body has not completely recovered,"

"but now, you indeed have improved a lot, you should be able to get out of bed and walk."

Han Xinying said with joy, "Really?"

After speaking, she looked at Su Fan behind her with great anticipation, "Divine Doctor Su, am I truly better now?"

Seeing her eyes filled with hope, Su Fan wanted to tell her she was better, but she wasn't actually cured.

He had said before that he could only offer symptomatic treatment first, then consider further steps.

Chapter 787

Su Fan hesitated for a moment, but shook his head.

"Miss Han, you have not fully recovered yet," he said.

"I still haven't found the cause of the hereditary illness in your family."

"Right now, my treatment can only maintain your health through continuous therapy."

"At the same time, I'm searching for the root of the illness, aiming to cure your disease completely."

There was another thought Su Fan had, but he did not express it.

It was that if he were to engage in dual cultivation with Han Xinying, she would gain his life vitality and essence to the greatest extent.

In such a case, Han Xinying's illness could be treated most thoroughly.

However, this plan was not something he could mention now.

Han Xinying, after hearing Su Fan's words, did not feel disappointed.

Although she couldn't fully recover, the prospect of staying alive through continued treatment was also very good.

Meanwhile, Han Shiguang was also on the phone with Brenton.

In Brenton, Hayman answered Han Shiguang's call.

"Old pal, why the sudden call?"

Han Shiguang got straight to the point, "I'd like to ask for your help to resolve the matter between Brenton and Su Fan. What do you think should be done about it?" he asked.

Hayman, who had been all smiles, turned serious upon hearing this.

"That depends on whether Mr. Su Fan is willing to reconcile with us," he replied.

Han Shiguang chuckled inwardly, as he had a fairly clear understanding of the whole situation.

It was evident that Brenton had been bullying the weaker Su Fan, and now they were saying it depended on Su Fan's willingness to reconcile.

However, since Han Shiguang called them to ask for a favor, he of course wouldn't point out Hayman's audacity.

After contemplating for a moment, he asked, "How should we reconcile?"

Upon hearing this, Hayman made a high demand, "You know, old friend."

"Su Fan has killed Howard, as well as Hayman and Ryan."

"A mid-stage Qi Stage Martial Artist, plus two peak Qi Explosion Stage Martial Artists, are very important to Brenton."

"Now with the three of them dead, Brenton has suffered at least a loss of five hundred million US dollars!"

If Hayman had said Huaxia Coin, Han Shiguang would have immediately agreed.

But the man had his eyes on a much bigger prize, not five hundred million Huaxia Coin, but five hundred million US dollars.

Han Shiguang gave it some serious thought and then said, "I can offer two hundred million US dollars to resolve this matter."

"This price should be very fair and reasonable, don't you think?"

On the other end, Hayman chose to remain silent.

Although Brenton could easily set aside two hundred million US dollars as a bounty on Su Fan, two hundred million US dollars was not a small amount for Brenton either.

But with Su Fan having killed a Qi Stage expert of Brenton, a bounty was necessary or others would even further disregard Brenton.

After a long silence, Hayman finally spoke again.

"Old friend, this matter cannot be resolved with just two hundred million US dollars," said Hayman.

He didn't state the minimum amount of money needed; he was waiting for Han Shiguang to make an offer.

But Han Shiguang just laughed, "You surely have a way to solve this matter with two hundred million US dollars."

"I have other issues to deal with on my end, so please consider it carefully," he said.

"That will be all for our communication this time," he added.

Hayman didn't simply agree to Han Shiguang's terms because of his statement.

After all, with a Qi Stage expert dead, the matter wasn't something he could decide on his own.

Thinking it over, Hayman said, "I will convey your message to the others."

After hearing this, Han Shiguang laughed, "Then Mr. Brenton, farewell!"

"Farewell," replied Hayman.

After that, the two ended the call.

No sooner had Han Shiguang hung up the phone than he witnessed a most astonishing scene!

His daughter was actually able to walk on the ground!

Chapter 788

Han Shiguang, bursting with excitement, trotted up to Han Xinying and asked, "Xinying, how do you feel?"

Although he was relatively confident in Su Fan, he couldn't guarantee that Su Fan would definitely be able to cure his daughter.

He had just been on the phone with Brenton as a pre-emptive communication.

As long as the two parties hadn't officially signed an agreement, the arrangement could be cancelled at any time.

And though Brenton was a high-ranking official in Palya Castle, he couldn't represent everyone.

Opposite Han Shiguang, Han Xinying said with utmost happiness, "Dad! I feel like I'm already better!"

"However, Divine Doctor Su said that his current treatment for me is just addressing the symptoms, not the root cause."

"A full recovery might take a very long time."

Han Shiguang didn't mind that after hearing it, "As long as you can recover, that's good, that's really good!"

"Where is Divine Doctor Su now? Your medicine must be almost ready; I will have someone send it over in a moment."

Han Xinying pointed to a rockery not far away, "Divine Doctor Su and Grandpa Lü are over there."

Han Shiguang looked in that direction and, indeed, saw Su Fan.

He immediately waved over a nearby maid and instructed, "Take Miss to rest properly."

After that, he said to Han Xinying, "I'm going to talk to Divine Doctor Su, you have a good rest."

Han Xinying obediently nodded her head and then returned to her room to rest with the servant.

Han Shiguang came over to Su Fan with great joy and expressed his gratitude, "Divine Doctor Su, thank you for treating my daughter."

"How is Xinying's situation now?"

Su Fan detailed, "Miss Han can live normally during the following treatment period."

"As long as the treatment is not stopped, she can keep healthy."

"However, I still can't determine the cause of Miss Han's illness."

"For a long time, we can only treat the symptoms, not the root cause."

Han Shiguang nodded, "That's already not easy; this illness has really tormented our family enough."

"As long as Divine Doctor Su tries his best to treat Xinying, and if you have a treatment plan that addresses both symptoms and root, treat my wife too."

"As for the matter between Divine Doctor Su and Palya Castle, I will have it resolved within the next couple of days."

Hearing these words, Su Fan's emotions were mixed.

On one hand, he was relieved; on the other, he was even more furious with Palya Castle!

They saw him as someone easy to bully, and then took advantage of their power to bully him!

This humiliation, he would definitely return a thousandfold!

After some thought, Su Fan earnestly said to Han Shiguang, "Mr. Han, thank you. Could I know the solution you have in mind?"

Han Shiguang didn't expect Su Fan to ask that, but he still responded, "I plan to use two hundred million US dollars to resolve this matter."

Initially, Palya Castle had demanded three hundred million US dollars from Su Fan, which he had not agreed to.

But Han Shiguang, with his high status, indeed had a likely chance of resolving the issue with two hundred million US dollars.

Money and power are sometimes the same thing, sometimes they're not.

Overall, power is greater than money.

Even though he knew Han Shiguang wasn't short of money, two hundred million US dollars was clearly no small sum to him.

After all, this was Han Shiguang's own money, not Spruce Global Capital's.

Su Fan had two hundred million US dollars in hand.

He didn't want to take such a big advantage of Han Shiguang. After hesitating for a moment, he still spoke up, "Mr. Han, I can come up with the two hundred million myself."

Han Shiguang shook his head, "If you can cure my daughter and wife's illness, and if your treatment plan is also beneficial to my wife's family,

"then the help you provide to my family, for my wife's family, cannot be measured by two hundred million US dollars."

"I will pay half of the two hundred million dollars, and the other half will be paid by my wife's family."

"If Divine Doctor Su can truly cure this hereditary disease, my wife's family will owe you a huge debt of gratitude!"

Chapter 789

Han Shiguang's wife, surnamed Li, is a Chinese from Xingzhou.

Xingzhou is an immensely wealthy island nation, ranked first in the world for its urban infrastructure, with its per capita GDP also topping global charts.

There are two Li families in Xingzhou, known as the Southern Li and the Northern Li.

Both Xingzhou Li families are massive, formidable entities.

Han Shiguang's wife is one of the legitimate daughters of the Northern Li family in Xingzhou.

A hundred million US dollars is but a trifle for her family.

After hearing Han Shiguang say this, Su Fan did not insist further.

His current net worth made him a top player in Yang City, but it wasn't much in the grand scheme of Huaxia.

He couldn't compare to an investment magnate like Han Shiguang.

But in his heart, Su Fan took note of Han Shiguang's kindness, a favor he was sure to repay in the future.

Those two hundred million US dollars from Palsuney Castle wouldn't be easy to secure.

One day, he vowed to make Palsuney Castle repay a hundredfold, even a thousandfold!

Now he was taking away two hundred million, but in the future, he would retrieve twenty billion, or even two hundred billion!

While Su Fan was conversing with Han Shiguang, Han Xinying also drank the prescription that Su Fan had prepared for her.

After Su Fan's treatment and drinking his prescription, she had recovered a great deal.

This made Miss Han very happy, and she was immensely grateful to Su Fan.

If it weren't for Su Fan's treatment, she might have died after some time.

Clearly, Su Fan had saved her life.

That night, Su Fan stayed over at Han Shiguang's villa.

In the still of the night, he stood by the window, gazing out at the sea.

His eyes fixed on the direction of northeast across the sea, roughly where Palsuney Castle was located.

Han Shiguang was also awake.

At this moment, he was in his study, negotiating with Brenton.

Brenton, aware of Han Shiguang's wealth, aimed to extract more funds from him.

But Han Shiguang, clearly an old hand in the business world, was much more than a match for a half-baked businessman like Brenton at the negotiating table.

Tianhai City is an international metropolis.

There are three types of people who can thrive here: those with power, wealth, and capability!

If you lack power, wealth, and are not one of the capable elites, you can only fritter away your time in Tianhai City.

In a hotel room in Tianhai City, Liu Chuanxiong was smoking.

In front of him, the ashtray was filled with numerous cigarette butts.

Opposite Liu Chuanxiong, several others were researching information.

They were sorting through the data of Tianhai's wealthy, preparing to make a big score.

Kidnapping the rich and extorting ransom seems to have become a thing of the past.

The last person to pull off such a feat was the notorious Zhang Shihao, who kidnapped Li Chao-ren's son.

However, that was the story made public; many similar incidents continue to occur, just not to everyone's knowledge.

Liu Chuanxiong is a Qi-Transforming Martial Artist, and theoretically, a Qi-Transforming Martial Artist wouldn't be short on money,

But Liu Chuanxiong's situation is very peculiar; he has over twenty women and a hundred or so brothers to support, and he is also very extravagant with his own spending.

This forces him to take risks and get involved in major transactions.

A Qi-Transforming Martial Artist looking to make money generally has two options: serve as a bodyguard for the rich or become a hitman on the dark web.

However, being a hitman is risky and not very lucrative.

Take the example of Lin Tianhua, an international hitman who was originally preparing to enter Huaxia to assassinate Su Fan; not long after he accepted the job, Palsuney Castle revoked the bounty on Su Fan.

Liu Chuanxiong had been engaging in the no-capital business of kidnapping for ransom, initially targeting the wealthy in Dongying, North America, England, France, and Germany.

However, after pulling off three or four of these no-capital deals, the rich from these regions became more vigilant.

Chapter 790

Nowadays, these tycoons all travel in secret, and mostly by private jets, making it difficult to target them.

Having no other option, Liu Chuanxiong could only focus on the tycoons in China.

He prepared to tackle one job as an emergency measure, then continue targeting foreign tycoons afterward.

The reason for doing so was that he could flee back to China when foreign tycoons offered a reward for him.

Across from Liu Chuanxiong, a young man with very serious dark circles was fiddling with his computer.

Soon after, the young man spoke with great excitement, "Brother Xiong, I found a suitable target."

Wang Bing said as he pushed his laptop towards Liu Chuanxiong.

On the computer screen were the photo and information of Han Shiguang, along with his general schedule for the upcoming week.

This information, of course, was not hacked by Wang Bing but bought on the dark web.

It wasn't only Han Shiguang's travel information that could be bought; other business magnates' details were also available, but not always accurate.

The reason Wang Bing said Han Shiguang was a suitable target was that Han Shiguang was going to attend a cruise dinner the day after tomorrow.

The host of the cruise dinner was Mr. Kong from Tianhai Kong family, who was a friend of Han Shiguang.

Kong Lengyan's cruise dinners, held annually, had been attended by Han Shiguang for the past few years.

Therefore, it was very likely that Han Shiguang would attend this time as well.

After staring at the information for a while, Liu Chuanxiong told Wang Bing, "A business magnate like Han Shiguang will definitely have high-level qi masters protecting him."

"Check out who is in his family; don't target Han Shiguang directly, start with his family members."

Hearing this, Wang Bing immediately started to purchase information on the dark web.

Soon, he had thoroughly investigated Han Shiguang's family members.

At this moment, Han Shiguang certainly had no idea that a gang of fierce bandits in Tianhai were plotting against him.

After a busy night, he finally finished negotiating with Brenton.

After spending two hundred million US Dollars, he convinced Pareya Fort to cancel the bounty on Su Fan.

Han Shiguang returned to his bedroom, took a bath, and then fell into a deep sleep.

Without further conversation, the next morning came, and Professor Harold arrived early outside the Han family villa.

During this period, he was treating Han Xinying.

After the security personnel at the villa performed a security check on him, they let him into the villa.

Professor Harold did not come alone this time but brought his team with him.

Upon entering the villa, he went directly to the treatment room of Han Xinying.

It wasn't long before Harold saw a scene that nearly made his jaw drop!

The supposedly terminally ill Han Xinying, for some unknown reason, seemed to have recovered!

At that time, Han Xinying was walking shoulder to shoulder with a young man, chatting and laughing.

The young man beside Han Xinying was, of course, Su Fan.

Professor Harold didn't know how Han Xinying had recovered, but he was very excited!

Because however Han Xinying had recovered, just the fact that she could recover was a major medical breakthrough!

Coming face to face with Han Xinying and Su Fan, Harold excitedly asked,

"Miss Han, how did you recover? How are you feeling now?"

No wonder Harold was so excited—Han Xinying's condition, which was so severe, had significantly improved.

This meant that many other people who were on the brink of death could also potentially be saved.

In such a situation, it was natural for Professor Harold to be both very excited and extremely shocked.

Having conducted a comprehensive examination on Han Xinying, he was very aware of how severe her condition was.

Upon his inquiry, Han Xinying didn't hide anything and pointed towards Su Fan, saying, "It was Divine Doctor Su who helped me recover."

Upon hearing this, Harold almost let his jaw drop again.

The patient he had been unable to help was cured by a young doctor in his early twenties!
