Chapter 79 - 79 Announcing the Decision

"Brilliant, Director Zhang actually invited the press. It seems Su Fan really made a splash by hitting the news twice, so Director Zhang isn't content with just firing Su Fan—he wants to humiliate Su Fan in front of netizens, thoroughly ruin his reputation in the industry, and make sure he'll never be able to practice medicine again,"

"Director Zhang is really clever."

Like a dog wagging its tail, Sun Zigang ran towards Zhang Haitao.

"Director Zhang, you're finally here. That kid Su Fan is way too arrogant, even claiming you'd promote him. Don't you think this kid's gone crazy?"

"Please, announce your decision to fire him quickly."

Sun Zhigang's face was all smiles.

Completely unaware that Zhang Haitao's face looked terrible.

Like he had just eaten shit.

Su Fan's luck was just too good.

I had already planned to give Su Fan a promotion, but as soon as the report was submitted, not even an hour had passed before I received a reply. And early this morning, there was a pack of journalists around my office.

I began to doubt whether Su Fan had someone high up in his corner.

This son of a bitch Sun Zhigang.

Seeking his own humiliation.

Just now at the door, I overheard Su Fan and Sun Zhigang making bets.

If Sun Zigang insists on running into the line of fire, then he can't blame anyone but himself.

"I've got it all figured out."

He said coldly and then stepped up to the podium.

Grasping the microphone.

"Colleagues, quiet down, please."

"We have convened this staff meeting today because there is a very important matter to announce."

Sigh!

Hearing Zhang Haitao's words, everyone sighed.

It seems that Su Fan being fired is a foregone conclusion.

Besides, being fired and then publicly slapped thrice by that bastard Sun Zigang? Isn't that just humiliating?

Many supporters of Su Fan felt it was unfair, but no one dared to speak out and could only silently lament in their hearts.

Bai Man's expression was icy, Liu Ye was horrified and distressed.

Luo Ya, sitting in the crowd, was already secretly wiping away tears.

Yesterday, the bomb the criminal had was fake, but the knife was real. If not for Su Fan, I might not have survived.

Facing her lifesaver, Luo Ya's heart was filled with different emotions.

Thinking that Su Fan was about to leave the hospital and disappear from her life made her miserable.

"You brat, let's see how arrogant you can be in a bit."

Liu Feng, who had been hit, was full of anticipation.

But Su Fan, with his hands in his pockets, was completely composed, with not a hint of self-awareness for the humiliation and embarrassment.

"I announce the exceptional promotion of Su Fan to attending physician, and at the same time, he is awarded the title of intermediate physician."

"What?"

Zhang Haitao's voice boomed like thunder in the hall.

People who had closed their eyes in silent tribute to Su Fan opened them.

Disbelief was written all over everyone's eyes.

"How is this possible?"

Bai Man, who was sitting in the first row, sprang up abruptly, while Liu Ye incredulously covered her mouth.

"Pinch me, am I hearing things wrong?"

Colleagues at the hospital looked at each other, dumbfounded.

Liu Feng stood there, stupefied.

"Am I dreaming?"

"Is this a dream?"

He rubbed his eyes hard.

The most miserable one was definitely Sun Zhigang.

"Director Zhang, what did you say?"

"Did you say something wrong?"

Sun Zhigang stammered as he spoke.

Zhang Haitao frowned.

This idiot, can't he see what's happening?

And the disbelief in people's eyes was also focused on Zhang Haitao.

Zhang Haitao spoke again.

"I know everyone is surprised. After all, Su Fan has only been with the hospital for three days, yet he has created medical miracles twice in a row. Yesterday, he saved us all from the hands of criminals. The outside praise is overwhelming, and whether it's his medical skill or ethics, it's plain for all to see, so..."

"After a collective decision by our hospital's leadership, and with approval from our superiors, we have decided to make an exceptional promotion of Su Fan to attending physician and granting him the intermediate professional title as an encouragement."

"Is it real?"

This time there was even a reason.

People had to believe it.

"Hiss."

A chorus of shocked gasps filled the hall, as envious and astonished eyes converged on Su Fan.

"How is that possible?"

Zhang Haitao's words, like the whip of judgment from a deity, mercilessly lashed at Liu Feng, who went weak in the knees, unable to stand, and flopped to the ground.
