

Temptation 791

Chapter 791

"My God! Is this true?" Harold looked at Su Fan in disbelief, his speech jumbled by shock.

Su Fan could somewhat understand the astonishment in Professor Harold's heart and casually mentioned, "Miss Han's condition, I have temporarily controlled it."

"But I can't cure it in a short time."

Although Su Fan spoke frankly, he couldn't completely cure it in the short term.

But after receiving his confirmation, Professor Harold still gave a thumbs up, exclaiming, "Incredible, truly incredible."

"I am Dr. Harold, the head of North America Xin Hui Medical Center. How should I address you?"

Harold was actually a top expert in the medical field and he also served as a distinguished professor at several Ivy League schools.

After discovering that Su Fan had cured Han Xinying, he did not put on airs but conversed with Su Fan as an equal.

Su Fan casually said, "I am a practitioner of Chinese medicine, my name is Su Fan."

Harold smiled and said, "Dr. Su, can you briefly tell me how you treated Miss Han?"

Su Fan nodded, "I used the Chinese medicine theory of vital life energy."

As soon as he began speaking, Harold seemed as if he was hearing something fantastical.

After a bitter smile, Harold could only ask again, "Dr. Su, could you explain it in simpler terms?"

"I have only systematically studied 'Western medicine.' I have always been very curious about Chinese medicine but I have never had the chance to learn it."

Su Fan thought for a moment, then said, "The theory of vital life energy views a person's life as a burning candle."

"Normally, the human body has to age to a certain point before the candle completely burns out."

"Miss Han's candle was burning very rapidly and was almost burnt out."

"My treatment for Miss Han was to replace her candle and simultaneously slow down the burning speed of the candle."

This time, Harold understood, but he was even more astonished.

He quickly made up a case: "If a person's heart fails, but all their other organs are healthy, then according to Dr. Su's method, is it possible to restore the failing heart to a healthy state?"

If it were Western medicine, the only option in these circumstances would be a heart transplant.

But a Chinese medicine practitioner of Su Fan's caliber could revitalize the heart as if bringing dead wood back to life.

Su Fan did not know why Harold asked this question, but he nodded anyway, "Indeed, it is possible."

"Not only the heart and other organs but even the brain can be restored to health to a certain extent."

After Su Fan finished, an unexpected scenario unfolded.

Harold seriously asked, "Dr. Su, may I become your disciple and learn from you?"

As a distinguished professor at several Ivy League schools and a scientist in the medical field, it was astonishing that such a prominent figure would want to become Su Fan's disciple.

This event surprised both Han Xinying and Han Shiguang, who had just arrived.

Han Shiguang even thought he had heard it wrong; he assumed it should be Harold wanting to take Su Fan as a student, not the other way around.

However, after seeing that Su Fan did not immediately agree, Harold spoke again.

"I mainly want to learn the medical techniques you used to treat Miss Han Xinying, and I am willing to pay any price as tuition."

Harold had his quirks,

but his dedication to medicine was profoundly sincere.

Worried that Su Fan might not know of Harold's status, Han Shiguang immediately came over, smiling as he said:

"Divine Doctor Su, Professor Harold is a distinguished professor at several Ivy League schools."

"He has even been nominated twice for the Nobel Prize in Medicine. Although he did not win, his mastery in the field of Western medicine is extremely high."

"Some academic exchanges between you might benefit the advancement of both your medical skills."

Chapter 792

Harold, upon hearing this, waved his hands repeatedly, "I am completely clueless about Miss Han's condition."

"Doctor Su's medical skills far surpass mine, I doubt there's anything I could teach Doctor Su."

He was neither arrogantly cherishing his own broom as if it were made of gold nor was he being modest; he truly felt that way.

In the beginning, Su Fan really didn't know who this person was.

Now, knowing that the other party was a big deal in the medical field, he immediately had an idea.

He said to Harold, "It would be too forced for you to learn Chinese medicine directly from me."

"You need to start with the basics of Chinese medicine. After establishing a solid foundation, you could then move on to learn more profound things."

"During the learning process, you can ask me about anything you don't understand."

He let Harold learn Chinese medicine on his own, whatever he could learn was up to him.

After Harold had learned it, he could also promote Chinese medicine in the West, which was indeed a good thing.

However, letting him impart his real expertise to Harold, that of course was not acceptable.

Han Shiguang originally thought that Harold would be angry upon hearing Su Fan's words.

What he didn't expect was that, after thinking it over, Harold actually nodded earnestly.

"Doctor Su makes a lot of sense, I really should start with the basics."

"It's just that I don't know what the learning path for Chinese medicine is like? What basics should I start with?"

Harold was serious, he had reached a bottleneck in Western medicine.

For him, breaking through was extremely difficult. Under such circumstances, learning a completely new medical system could possibly inspire him greatly and allow him to advance further in the field of medicine.

This time, Su Fan did not refuse.

He thought for a moment and said, "Professor Harold, I'll write a list of books and related knowledge content that you'll need to study and give it to you later."

Harold immediately bowed to Su Fan, "I am profoundly grateful, my teacher."

Han Shiguang thought this was utterly absurd.

But seeing the serious expression on Harold's face, he knew that Professor Harold was indeed serious this time.

Since Han Xinying was now under Su Fan's care, Harold exchanged contact information with Su Fan and then left with the group he had come with.

Although he hadn't been able to treat Han Xinying himself this time, Harold was very excited in his heart.

He hadn't known much about Chinese medicine before, but merely based on Su Fan being able to treat Han Xinying, it was enough to demonstrate the tremendous value of Chinese medicine in treating difficult and complicated diseases.

After Harold left, Han Xinying also looked at her father and said, "Dad, I've been lying in bed for a long time now; may I go out for a walk?"

Han Shiguang, of course, didn't know whether Han Xinying could go out or not, so he immediately turned his gaze to Su Fan.

"Divine Doctor Su, is Xinying in a condition to go outside now?"

Su Fan nodded, "Under normal circumstances, there should be no problem. If Miss Han wants to go out, I can accompany her and handle any issues timely."

Hearing this, Han Shiguang hesitated.

However, Han Xinying, bored at home, immediately eagerly spoke up, "Dad, with Divine Doctor Su going with me, there definitely won't be any problems."

Han Shiguang couldn't help but smile resignedly, "It's not that I don't trust Divine Doctor Su's medical skills, I'm just worried that it would be too much trouble for him."

"Not only to treat and care for you but also to accompany you shopping and out for fun."

Hearing Han Shiguang say this, Han Xinying immediately looked at Su Fan, her beautiful eyes full of anticipation as she spoke, "Divine Doctor Su, how about we go out shopping and enjoy some good food together?"

"There are several steak restaurants in Tianhai; their aged steaks are very delicious."

"Let's go taste them together?"

Han Xinying, although already twenty years old, still clung to Su Fan's arm like a little girl, swinging it back and forth as she spoke.

Chapter 793

Su Fan hadn't planned to refuse, and after she acted coquettishly, it was even harder for him to say no.

Immediately, he nodded his head, saying to Han Shiguang, "Mr. Han, let Miss Han take me to visit Tianhai. It's my first time here."

Since Su Fan didn't mind Han Xinying being a bother, Han Shiguang naturally wouldn't continue to object.

However, Han Shiguang still arranged four bodyguards for Han Xinying, "For this outing, let your sister Xia Chen and the others protect you."

Han Xinying obediently nodded, "Okay! I'll go find sister Xia Chen now."

"Go ahead, but don't stay out too late. Come home when it's time," Han Shiguang instructed.

By then, Han Xinying had already grabbed Su Fan's hand and ran off, calling back without even turning her head, "Got it!"

She quickly found Xia Chen and the others with Su Fan.

Xia Chen and her team consisted of a security group, three men and one woman.

Before becoming bodyguards, all four were mercenaries abroad.

Su Fan glanced at them and immediately discerned their capabilities.

Xia Chen was at the peak of the Burst Qi Realm, only a half step away from the Transformative Qi Realm.

However, that half step wasn't easy to cross, and many martial artists even spent their entire lives stuck at that final half step.

The other three were in the late stage of the Burst Qi Realm, each of them quite strong.

Under normal circumstances, such security measures were already sufficient to ensure Han Xinying's safety.

Though she was the daughter of a business magnate, Han Shiguang was a person who had always been good to others and had no enemies.

If there were no major accidents, there wouldn't be any particularly powerful martial artists targeting his family.

After calling for Xia Chen and her team, Han Xinying took Su Fan to the garage to pick a car.

Her family's garage housed a vast collection of luxury supercars.

This time, Han Xinying chose a Ferrari, while Xia Chen and her team opted for a Mercedes.

The group of six quickly left the villa.

As they left the villa, two cars appeared in the field of view of a monocular telescope.

The person holding the telescope was none other than Liu Chuanxiong, who had come to stake out outside the Han family's villa.

He was seasoned and didn't wander near the Han family's villa blindly but rather had someone watch the villa from afar with a telescope.

Liu Chuanxiong was originally here to reconnoiter. In his mind, it might take ten days, half a month, or even longer before he had a chance to make a move on Han Shiguang's loved one.

But he never expected that his luck would be so good—it was unstoppable!

He had just arrived to stake out when he coincidentally encountered Han Shiguang's daughter heading out!

Without hesitation, Liu Chuanxiong decisively waved his hand, "Follow them! Assess the strength of the bodyguards, then make a move."

"Han Shiguang is the Senior Vice President of Spruce Global Capital in the Huaxia region."

"His wife is even the legitimate daughter from the North Lee family of Starzhou. Their family has plenty of money!"

"After kidnapping Han Xinying, asking for two hundred million US dollars from them should be no problem!"

Liu Chuanxiong didn't think of asking for an exorbitant ransom; a price too low wouldn't do, as it would mean less profit for him.

A price too high also wouldn't do, as the wealthy might be reluctant to pay.

Two hundred million US dollars should be a very appropriate amount for Han Shiguang!

Compared to the risk of seeking out a Transformative Qi Realm master for a fight, kidnapping a rich person was safer and the money came quicker.

At that moment, Han Xinying and her companions were unaware that they were being targeted by a kidnapping ring.

The group of six left Han's villa. Instead of going directly to eat steak, Han Xinying first went to find her best friend.

Su Fan, sitting in the passenger seat, hadn't noticed anything unusual yet.

His mind was more focused on how he could advance his relationship with Han Xinying further.

After uniting with Han Xinying, he might at least break through to the late stage of the Transformative Qi Realm, or at most, reach the peak of the Great Perfection of the Transformative Qi Realm!

Once he reached the peak of the Great Perfection of the Transformative Qi Realm, he probably still couldn't go to Parya Fort to settle accounts with those bastards.

But he would definitely have very strong self-protection capabilities.

However, Han Xinying was different from Su Ya and the others. This woman was hard to further approach.

While he was pondering these matters, Han Xinying's best friend, accompanied by a graceful young man, came out of the villa.

The young man showed a fleeting hint of coldness in his eyes when he saw Su Fan.

Han Xinying waved to them, "Xiao Bai, Brother Bai Jia, are you going out to play?"

Xiao Bai was her best friend Bai Jiajia; Brother Bai Jia was Bai Jiajia's older brother, Bai Jiawen.

Chapter 794

Every place has ancient families that have been passed down through several generations.

These families, which have been inherited for many generations and have developed very well, are known as noble families.

In Yang City, only the Liu family and Yin family can be called noble families.

Mayor Jiang Gao's family, including the newly risen Su Fan, also wield immense influence and power in Yang City.

But they can only be considered as the new elite of Yang City, not as Yang City noble families.

Mayor Jiang's family has developed only in the past two generations.

As for Su Fan, he started from scratch.

In Tianhai, there are four families that can be called noble families of Tianhai, collectively known as the Four Great Noble Families of Tianhai.

The Bai family of Tianhai is one of the Four Great Noble Families.

Su Fan, while in Han Xinying's car, glanced at Bai Jiawen for the first time and his gaze slightly shifted.

This Bai Jiawen is as unlucky as Liu Qing, having also contracted ALS.

If there were a Divine Doctor who could sense the vitality of life and give him a check-up, his condition would certainly have been discovered already.

Unfortunately, it seems that Bai Jiawen has not sought out such high-level traditional Chinese medicine for a check-up, so he remains unaware that his time is running out.

Although Su Fan noticed Bai Jiawen's condition, he had no intention of warning him about it.

Bai Jiawen's gaze towards him was not friendly, perhaps due to Han Xinying's presence.

Moreover, it would be futile to inform Bai Jiawen, as this disease is something Western medicine cannot cure.

Other Divine Doctors might or might not be able to treat it.

If he were to tell Bai Jiawen now, it would be only adding to his worries unless he was willing to help.

At this moment, Bai Jiawen and Bai Jiajia, the siblings, were already coming out of the villa.

They had been about to go out, and since Han Xinying and her group had arrived, both parties could go out together.

Bai Jiawen, leading Bai Jiajia, approached and asked Han Xinying, "Xinying, who is this?"

Of course, he was asking about Su Fan.

He had always been interested in Han Xinying, but his family had already arranged a marriage of convenience for him.

However, those old folks at home are bound to grow old one by one, and he and Han Xinying are both young.

To begin with, they can secretly date in private.

Once the old folks at home grow old one by one and they begin to take charge, he would kick out his current wife and be with Han Xinying.

Of course, Han Xinying has never shown much interest in him and may not be willing to be his secret lover.

After Bai Jiawen's inquiry, Han Xinying spoke up, "This is Divine Doctor Su Fan, extremely skilled!"

"Divine Doctor?" Bai Jiawen snorted with derision upon hearing this.

He had originally thought that Su Fan was a young master from a large family elsewhere.

It turns out Su Fan is some Divine Doctor.

Most Divine Doctors nowadays, ninety-eight out of a hundred, are frauds.

Of the remaining two, one is the biggest fraud among the frauds, and only the very last one is a true master of traditional Chinese medicine.

In Bai Jiawen's view, Su Fan is definitely not that master of traditional Chinese medicine, but one of those ninety-nine frauds.

He had no interest in such a charlatan.

In comparison, the other didn't pose any competition to him.

The hostility he felt towards Su Fan earlier was out of concern that Su Fan was a potential rival.

But now, he had dismissed Su Fan completely.

Bai Jiawen didn't bother to greet Su Fan, and continued to speak to Han Xinying, "Where are you planning to go to eat?"

Han Xinying glared at Bai Jiawen, "Bai Second Brother, aren't you going to get to know Divine Doctor Su?"

She obviously noticed Bai Jiawen's contempt for Su Fan in his gaze.

In her view, Bai Jiawen's attitude was very impolite, given that Su Fan was her lifesaver!

Bai Jiawen was slightly taken aback, not expecting Han Xinying to regard Su Fan so highly.

Chapter 795

Bai Jiawen chuckled lightly and said to Su Fan, "My name is Bai Jiawen, the second son from the Bai family of Tianhai. My friends all call me Brother Bai."

"I'm very honored to meet Divine Doctor Su," he said, extending his hand, ready to shake hands with Su Fan.

Out of consideration for Han Xinying, Su Fan didn't mind Bai Jiawen's attitude.

Moreover, by extending his hand, he could also take the opportunity to feel Bai Jiawen's pulse.

Seeing when this guy's amyotrophic lateral sclerosis would flare up and make him kneel and beg like a grandson.

"Su Fan, a practitioner of traditional Chinese medicine."

While shaking hands with Bai Jiawen, Su Fan gave a succinct self-introduction.

Bai Jiawen didn't care who he was, nor did he care about what he did for a living.

The handshake was merely to give face to Han Xinying.

Thus, after the two of them "got acquainted", Bai Jiawen invited Han Xinying, "Xinying, how about going to play at Bai's Dream Beach?"

Dream Beach was a comprehensive amusement park at the Seaside Entertainment Center.

It had sandy beaches, various kinds of seafood delicacies, yachts, and many other entertainment facilities.

Previously, Han Xinying and Bai Jiajia, being close friends, often went there to have fun.

But with Bai Jiawen, she hadn't really gone before.

Upon hearing this, Han Xinying thought for a moment and then nodded.

Her main purpose of going out this time was because she had been too stifled at home and wanted to relax and try some delicacies outside.

After Han Xinying agreed, the group headed to Dream Beach at the Seaside Entertainment Center.

When Su Fan, Han Xinying, and the Bai siblings went to Dream Beach at the Seaside Entertainment Center,

Liu Chuanxiong and his group were also keeping an eye on them.

Liu Chuanxiong did not drive his own car but was in a taxi.

Other vehicles following behind Han Xinying would be easily spotted.

A taxi, on the other hand, was different; taxis were commonplace throughout Tianhai.

Although Liu Chuanxiong was in a taxi, everyone in the car, including the driver, was part of his crew.

Upon seeing two more cars in Han Xinying's motorcade, Wang Bing frowned and said, "Brother Xiong, what do we do now?"

Liu Chuanxiong thought for a moment and said, "Keep following them. These second-generation family members generally don't have Qi Transformation experts closely guarding them."

"As long as they don't have Qi Transformation experts, no matter how many Bursting Qi bodyguards they have, I can handle them easily."

Hearing Liu Chuanxiong say that, Wang Bing and the others had no more concerns.

Liu Chuanxiong wasn't speaking carelessly. Without a Qi Transformation expert, any number of Bursting Qi bodyguards would be ineffective.

The bodyguards of Han Xinying and the two Bais had indeed not noticed that every so often, a taxi would pass nearby.

The experience of Liu Chuanxiong and his crew was evidently very proficient.

On the streets, there were indeed a lot of taxis.

They used taxis to trail Han Xinying and Su Fan's group, not always directly behind them but circulating around them.

Each time they would naturally continue along the road, passing through the area.

In this manner, no matter how skilled Xia Chen and his group were, they simply couldn't detect anything wrong with the taxi.

From the Bai family villa to Dream Beach Entertainment Center was nearly an hour's drive.

Along the beach, there were many restaurants and various types of shops.

Han Xinying and her group had a clear destination in mind, heading straight for Bai's Seaside Entertainment Center.

When they arrived at their destination, Liu Chuanxiong and his crew also appeared at the back of the crowd.

Seeing that they had come to this place, Liu Chuanxiong and his men couldn't help but look a bit troubled.

Liu Chuanxiong sighed and said, "Trouble now, Bai's Seaside Entertainment Center has a Qi Transformation expert in residence."

"Unless we can seize an opportunity without that old man noticing and kidnap them, this trip will have been in vain."

Chapter 796

After Liu Chuanxiong finished speaking, Li Sheng, one of his henchmen, suggested, "Brother Xiong, I think we could go into Seaside Entertainment Center and wait for an opportunity."

"If all else fails, Brother Xiong can just grab a second-generation rich kid and leave."

"After all, these people don't know who we are; we can slowly retreat when the time comes."

"Han Xinying, Bai Jiawen, or Bai Jiajia, Brother Xiong just needs to grab one of them and this operation will be considered a success!"

In this gang, Li Sheng was seen as the brains.

Most of their operations succeeded in the past because of Li Sheng's planning and strategizing.

Clearly, his analysis this time was also very sensible.

If all of them followed Liu Chuanxiong in retreating together, the target would be too big, and in the end, perhaps none would escape.

However, if Liu Chuanxiong suddenly made his move and took just one person, while the rest posed as ordinary tourists coming and going normally, they would likely be able to withdraw smoothly.

Nevertheless, after the incident, Seaside Entertainment Center might be locked down.

Their group might or might not encounter trouble; it would depend on how everyone decided to act.

Having followed Liu Chuanxiong in risk-free schemes, of course, they all had some nerve.

After weighing the situation for a moment, Liu Chuanxiong also made up his mind to do it!

"Let's go!" Having said that, he was the first to get out of the car and head to Seaside Entertainment Center.

This place was a beachside comprehensive entertainment venue, offering various seafood delicacies, an aquarium, animal performances, shallow water activities, and even a section of undersea tunnel for sightseeing.

Shortly after Su Fan and Han Xinying's group entered the Seaside Entertainment Center, Liu Chuanxiong and his gang followed suit.

This place was a property of the Bai family.

Upon arriving here, Bai Jiawen was like a fish in water.

In no time at all, he led everyone to a seaside restaurant.

Once everyone was seated, Bai Jiawen snapped his fingers, and a waiter immediately approached him.

"Young Master Jiawen, may I help you?"

Bai Jiawen casually said, "The Presidential Suite meal, four servings."

He actually didn't want to treat Su Fan to such fine food, but ordering only three servings would show a lack of generosity on his part.

Besides, it was just one meal; he wouldn't miss the money.

Upon hearing the order, the waiter immediately went to prepare it.

Xia Chen and his group sat at the next table.

The bodyguards of the Bai siblings sat at another table.

After the waiter left, Bai Jiawen said with a smile, "The Presidential Suite meal takes a bit longer to prepare, usually about twenty-five minutes before it's served."

"Please excuse me for a moment; I will find a couple of good bottles of wine for us to drink later."

Bai Jiawen, most of the time, managed to maintain his gracefulness around Han Xinying.

Having said this, Han Xinying of course had no objections.

However, shortly after Bai Jiawen had left, Bai Jiajia also said, "I'll take advantage of the time before the food arrives to touch up my makeup."

Han Xinying nodded in response to her words.

With a smile to Su Fan and Han Xinying, Bai Jiajia picked up her bag and left.

Su Fan casually picked up one of the exquisitely prepared menus on the table and began to check out the dishes available at this place.

After a cursory look, he couldn't help but be astonished.

It had to be said, the food here was extremely expensive.

The dishes here generally cost several thousand, and some fancily named dishes even cost tens of thousands per plate.

With Su Fan's current net worth, he could afford it, of course.

But even with money, one wouldn't necessarily spend it like this; twenty thousand for a dish was somewhat overpriced.

Of course, it was also possible that the chefs here were incredibly skilled.

The flavor of each dish surpassed that of ninety-nine percent of other foods.

If one came here to eat, purely to savor the best tastes in the world, then the high charges would not be unreasonable.

After all, it would be one of the few best-tasting foods in the world, and the prices would naturally be higher.

Chapter 797

Su Fan felt that the food at Beach Restaurant was mostly designed to fleece the rich.

The quality here probably didn't reach top world-class.

Elsewhere, Bai Jiawen had already found a room to rest in, and he had also found the alcohol he was looking for.

But he didn't leave; instead, he waited for someone.

Soon, Bai Jiajia entered the password and opened the door to the resting room.

After entering the room, Bai Jiajia walked towards Bai Jiawen.

Bai Jiawen grabbed her and kissed her hard.

"You little slut, I knew you'd come!"

Bai Jiajia rolled her eyes at Bai Jiawen and said resentfully, "Who talks about their own sister like that?"

In front of acquaintances, Bai Jiajia was the good girl, but in reality, her private life was in complete chaos.

She had given her virginity to a friend of her mother's, an old man.

From then on, Bai Jiajia had shared her favors with one man after another.

She had been with her own cousin and eventually, even got involved with her second brother.

Hearing Bai Jiajia's retort, Bai Jiawen sneered, "That's debatable. Who knows if you're even a progeny of the Bai family? Among the women in the Bai family, you're the only one who's such a slut."

"If it wasn't for the family supervision, you would have become a bitch for all men!"

Unperturbed, Bai Jiajia retorted, "Aren't I your bitch now?"

Bai Jiawen chuckled, "That's true, kneel!"

As soon as he said that, Bai Jiajia obediently knelt before him and skillfully began to unleash the beast.

Watching her adeptness, Bai Jiawen couldn't help but ask, "Tell me honestly, how many men have you sucked off before?"

Bai Jiajia spoke, nonplussed, "Why ask that? I've had plenty of yours, after all."

Bai Jiawen raised his hand and gave her a light slap on the cheek, "You dirty bitch, answer the question when I ask you."

Though she had been slapped, Bai Jiajia was not angry; in fact, she seemed somewhat excited.

She shared similarities with Wang Xiaoxiao and Yin Qianyue.

Yet, Bai Jiajia was not quite the same as Wang Xiaoxiao and Yin Qianyue.

Wang Xiaoxiao was extremely slutty but did not fancy the idea of being a female slave to anyone; she simply craved to be fucked by men.

Yin Qianyue was different, she did not enjoy normal lovemaking but desired to be treated very roughly.

Bai Jiajia, on the other hand, was like a mix of Wang Xiaoxiao and Yin Qianyue.

As she opened her red lips, ready to serve Bai Jiawen, he pinched her face and asked again.

"Speak up, how many men have you done this for before?"

Slightly annoyed, Bai Jiajia said, "What's the point of asking? Are you planning to tattle at home?"

She was not worried at all about Bai Jiawen telling on her at home.

If Bai Jiawen dared to speak out, he might end up beaten to death by the old man.

As expected, Bai Jiawen replied, irritated, "As if I'd dare to bring this up at home. I'm just curious. Forget it if you don't want to tell me."

Hearing his response, Bai Jiajia revealed a sly smile and said, "Does hearing about it turn you on?"

Bai Jiawen didn't refute but simply nodded his head.

He was already excited with the way things were going with Bai Jiajia.

Hearing about how other men had 'trained' Bai Jiajia— that was enough to excite him to the brink of explosion.

His greatest aspiration was, after the old generation in the family stepped down, he would be able to conquer both Bai Jiajia and Han Xinying.

Bai Jiajia thought for a moment and said, "If I count you, then thirty in total."

Upon hearing this, Bai Jiawen cursed, "You little whore, aren't you afraid of catching diseases?"

Unperturbed by his words, Bai Jiajia remarked, "The people I've been with are all high society individuals, each more afraid of dying than the next. How could they possibly have diseases?"

"Besides, I get checked regularly at the hospital— I'm perfectly healthy now..."

Chapter 798

Bai Jiajia's words were cut short.

That was because Bai Jiawen had invaded her space and was now directly at her throat, causing her to only make whimpering sounds.

Like Su Fan, Bai Jiawen was no ordinary person but a Martial Artist.

However, his strength was not as formidable as Su Fan's, not even close to the state of "True Qi Transformation," and he wasn't even at the "Explosive Qi Stage," but merely at the "Cultivating Qi Stage."

Even though he was just a Cultivating Qi Stage Martial Artist, he would still manage to give Bai Jiajia a hard time each time.

Just like at this moment, Bai Jiajia was helplessly shedding tears continuously.

She wanted Bai Jiawen to ease off, but he was holding her head and pounding fiercely instead.

Upon remembering that besides him, twenty-nine other men had violated Bai Jiajia, Bai Jiawen's thoughts were far from gentle or chivalrous right now.

Not only did he lack any chivalry, but he also wanted to ruthlessly pound Bai Jiajia to death.

In the Beach Restaurant, Han Xinying had no idea that her pure, little white rabbit of a best friend was involved in such vile acts.

However, the food had not yet been served, and she was not in a hurry today either.

So at this moment, she wasn't thinking much about what Bai Jiajia and Bai Jiawen were up to.

Han Xinying was unaware of the issues between the Bai siblings, but Su Fan, being in close contact with them, did notice something.

However, it was someone else's family issue, and it did not concern him, so he preferred not to comment.

Still, Bai Jiajia was indeed very beautiful, and he wouldn't mind experiencing her if the right opportunity came along.

Twenty-odd minutes passed by quickly.

The four Presidential Seafood Meals that Bai Jiawen had ordered were ready on the table.

Soon after the dishes were served, Bai Jiawen, along with several waiters, came and took away two of the Presidential Seafood Meals.

At the same time, he spoke with a smile, "Xinying, it's quite warm today. Let's go to our separate lounges to eat."

"Otherwise, you might suffer a heat stroke, and then we won't be able to enjoy today."

The reason he made such a suggestion was, of course, because his own battle in the lounge was not yet over.

He had only planned to have a light drink initially as Han Xinying was his main focus today.

But considering that today he would at most only get closer to Han Xinying, not able to take the next step, he decided that he might as well thoroughly go after Bai Jiajia before getting closer to Han Xinying.

The rooftop of the Beach Restaurant was indeed translucent, and it was extremely hot by the beach.

After Bai Jiawen made this suggestion, Han Xinying did not decline: "Alright then."

After she nodded, Bai Jiawen smoothly took out two lounge room key cards and handed them to her.

"These are your and Divine Doctor Su's room cards. We'll rest for two hours, and after the noon sun passes and the temperature drops a bit,"

"I'll take you diving."

Han Xinying nodded slightly, then handed one of the room cards to Su Fan.

Meanwhile, the waiters promptly brought a cart over, helping them take their food to the lounges.

As for Bai Jiawen, he was eager to return to his own lounge.

He was busy dealing with this matter and hadn't completely released yet.

Han Xinying initially wanted to dine with Bai Jiajia, but she didn't know which lounge Bai Jiajia was in.

Even more oddly, Bai Jiajia's phone seemed to be off!

In fact, Bai Jiajia had turned off her phone anticipating that Han Xinying might call her.

Unable to find Bai Jiajia, Han Xinying didn't want to eat alone, so she turned to Su Fan and said, "Divine Doctor Su, may I join you in your lounge for the meal?"

"Otherwise, it's too boring to be alone in the room for two hours."

Su Fan nodded, "No problem."

After discovering that Han Xinying also possessed an extremely Yin constitution, he wanted to have more contact with her.

Only by increasing their contact and deepening their emotions could he naturally push her further away.

Whether it was settling scores with Paria Fortress or aiding Zhao Chunqiu later to head to the Land of the Rising Sun to the Liu Sheng family for their vengeance.

His strength was clearly better the stronger it became.

His physique was relatively special, and its improvement could mainly come through four avenues.

The first avenue was normal cultivation and enhancement.

The second avenue was through various forms of nourishment.

Such as food supplements, medicinal supplements, medicinal teas, medicinal baths, etc., all counted as forms of nourishment.

The third avenue was the harmony of Yin and Yang.

As long as he harmonized Yin and Yang with the women around him, the Taiji True Qi in his body would rapidly circulate and robustly grow.

Sometimes, he spent all day and night developing Bai Man, Wang Fei, as well as Wang Xiaoxiao and Shen He.

On one hand, it was due to his primitive desires and impulses.

On the other hand, it was because this could help him boost his strength quickly.

His experiences in Yang City had already proven countless times that strength was the foundation of his existence!

Without sufficient strength, he would be bullied by Paliya Fortress.

Or even, like Zhao Chunqiu, be directly annihilated!

The fourth avenue for enhancing his strength, and the most immediately effective, was finding Extremes of Yin.

By finding nine Extremes of Yin, he could completely resolve the troubles with his body.

But the number of Extremes of Yin was not limited to nine, the more the better.

Each additional one could significantly increase his strength.

Unfortunately, women who possessed Extremes of Yin were extremely rare.

According to his grandfather's words, an Extremes of Yin happened once in ten thousand people, needing a hundred thousand or even a million people to find one.

It was extremely difficult to find, and this time, when fortune had struck and he encountered a woman with an Extremes of Yin, due to her identity, he couldn't force himself upon her.

Han Xinying did not know what Su Fan was thinking.

At this time, she had already arrived at Su Fan's resting room and was dining with him.

The soundproofing of the Seaside Entertainment Center's resting room was very good.

While Han Xinying was dining, she couldn't hear anything.

Yet, Su Fan heard the commotion caused by Bai Jiawen and Bai Jiajia, and he even knew that this time, Bai Jiajia had thoroughly feasted with both her mouths.

He could not only hear the commotion of the two, but also their conversations.

After hearing what Bai Jiajia said, he couldn't help feeling secretly shocked.

This Bai Jiajia, she really was a promiscuous woman.

Bai Jiajia's first time had been taken by a man thirty years her senior.

It really was the case, good cabbage had been hogged by pigs.

While Bai Jiawen's actions heated up, the progression with Han Xinying was very slow.

He quite liked Han Xinying, who was an innocent, pampered young lady, completely pure.

Just recently, Han Shiguang had personally served up two hundred million US dollars to help smooth over the trouble with Paliya Fortress.

The next moment, he ended up sleeping with Han Shiguang's daughter, which felt somewhat underhanded.

Moreover, Miss Han was incredibly naive.

When Su Fan was with Han Xinying, he felt a protective desire, without much primitive craving.

He only wanted to protect this naive and delicate sweet sister, not to take advantage of Han Xinying.

At that moment, Han Xinying, while eating seafood, picked up a crab and said, "Doctor Su, can you catch crabs?"

Su Fan smiled and then said, "A little bit."

Where he used to live, there was no sea, only rivers with crabs, and those crabs were very small compared to sea crabs.

Hearing this, Han Xinying proudly puffed out her small chest, "Doctor Su, I am an expert at catching crabs!"

"Let's go look later, see where there are crabs, I'll teach you how to catch them!"

Chapter 799

After learning that Han Xinying also had an extremely yin body, he wanted to interact with her more.

Only with more interaction and deeper feelings could he naturally push Han Xinying away.

Whether it was settling accounts with Paria Fort or helping Zhao Chunqiu avenge his family's annihilation at the hands of the Liu Sheng clan in Dongying.

His strength, obviously, the stronger the better.

Due to his unique physique, there were mainly four ways for him to increase his strength.

The first way was through normal cultivation.

The second way was through various forms of supplementation.

Such as dietary supplements, medicinal supplements, medicinal teas, medicated baths, and so on, all counted as supplementation.

The third way was yin and yang harmony.

As long as he achieved yin and yang harmony with those women around him, the True Qi of Taiji in his body could quickly circulate and grow robustly.

Sometimes, he would tirelessly develop Bai Man, Wang Fei, as well as Wang Xiaoxiao and Shen He.

On one hand, it was because of the primitive desires and impulses in his heart.

On the other hand, it was because doing so could help him rapidly increase his strength.

His experience in Yang City had proven time and again that strength was the foundation of one's standing!

Without sufficient strength, one would be bullied by Paria Fort.

Or even end up like Zhao Chunqiu, directly annihilated!

The fourth way for him to increase his strength, which also had the most significant effect at the moment, was to find those with extremely yin bodies.

Finding nine individuals with extremely yin bodies would allow him to completely resolve the troubles with his own body.

But when it comes to extremely yin bodies, the more the better.

Each additional one could provide a significant increase in his strength.

It was a pity, however, that women with the extremely yin body were extremely, extremely rare.

According to what his grandfather said, an extremely yin body was one in ten thousand, needing tens of thousands, or even millions of people to find one.

It was difficult enough to find one, but now that fortune had smiled upon him, encountering a woman with an extremely yin body, due to her status, he couldn't just brute force his way.

Han Xinying had no idea what Su Fan was thinking.

At that time, she had already arrived at Su Fan's resting room and was dining with him.

The soundproofing of the Seaside Entertainment Center's resting rooms was very good.

When Han Xinying was dining, she couldn't hear anything.

But Su Fan could hear the noise Bai Jiawen and Bai Jiajia were making, and he knew that this time, Bai Jiajia had completely satisfied both her appetites.

He could not only hear the commotion between the two but also their conversation.

After hearing some of what Bai Jiajia said, he couldn't help but be inwardly astonished.

This Bai Jiajia really was a slut.

Her first time was taken by a man thirty years her senior.

Indeed, good cabbages had been gnawed on by pigs.

While Bai Jiawen and Bai Jiajia were heating things up, the progress between Su Fan and Han Xinying was very slow.

He quite liked Han Xinying, a simple and innocent rich young lady, akin to a blank sheet of paper.

However, it had not been long since Han Shiguang had dug into his own pockets, spending two hundred million US Dollars to help him settle the trouble with Paria Fort.

To turn around and bed Han Shiguang's daughter right away felt somewhat improper.

Moreover, Miss Han was unbelievably naive.

When Su Fan was with Han Xinying, he only felt a desire to protect her, devoid of much primitive craving.

He merely wanted to protect this simple and fragile, well-behaved little sister, not to bed Han Xinying.

At that moment, while enjoying seafood, Han Xinying grabbed a crab and said, "Divine Doctor Su, do you know how to catch crabs?"

Su Fan smiled and replied, "A little."

Where he used to live there was no sea, only river crabs which were very small in size, incomparable to the crabs from the sea.

Hearing this, Han Xinying puffed out her chest proudly, "Divine Doctor Su, I'm an expert at catching crabs!"

"Let's go see later where we can find crabs, and I'll teach you how to catch them!"

Chapter 800

Su Fan smiled and nodded, as Han Xinying acted this way, he felt even more helpless inside.

Han Xinying possessed an extremely Yin body, and he was certainly going to find a way to sleep with her.

But when Han Xinying was with him, she was completely like a docile little sister.

This made him feel a strong sense of guilt when he thought about sleeping with her.

Of course, in this regard, he could almost take a lesson from Bai Jiawen.

After all, Bai Jiawen was capable of laying his hands even on his own sister, Bai Jiajia.

The power difference between Bai Jiawen and Su Fan was too great, and he hadn't taken the time to understand Su Fan fully.

He only thought of Su Fan as a swindler, not knowing that Su Fan was also a martial artist.

At the moment, he didn't have so much time to consider the matter of Su Fan.

Let alone the matter of Su Fan, he couldn't even care about Han Xinying.

Right now, he only felt a dilemma that prevented him from moving forward.

This made him involuntarily whisper in Bai Jiajia's ear, "You little slut, you've been played with by so many men, how come you're still so tight?"

Bai Jiajia was already so ecstatic she could faint, speaking between gasps for air.

It took her a while before she could utter a complete sentence, "That's because they're all worthless men, your... it's simply twice their size..."

It was very difficult for her to speak at this moment, but she wasn't talking nonsense.

Those she had been with before were mostly old men.

These old men who used to be promiscuous when young, were all past their prime and increasingly incompetent.

Bai Jiawen was different, vigorous with youth, full of robust energy, and also a martial artist.

What she didn't know was that Bai Jiawen wasn't usually this fierce.

The main reason he was so impressive this time was because of their special relationship which allowed Bai Jiawen to perform beyond his normal level.

Bai Jiawen messing around in the next room's resting area made Su Fan very uncomfortable.

Although he had gained a lot from this trip to Tianhai, he had already started to miss Yang City.

If he were in Yang City, with so many women at his side, he could easily solve his troubles by choosing any of them when feeling uncomfortable.

Su Fan and Han Xinying stayed in the resting area for about an hour eating, then talked for another hour.

Bai Jiawen, however, was engaged in battle next door for about two hours.

After two hours had passed, Han Xinying was becoming eager to go play by the seaside.

Immediately she said to Su Fan, "Divine Doctor Su, let's go play at the seaside. It's possible to catch fish this time, do you like grilled fish?"

Su Fan nodded slightly, "It's okay, although I haven't had much seafood."

Upon hearing this, Han Xinying laughed and said, "Then let's go fishing. We can also go deep-sea fishing on a yacht."

"Whether it's fishing or deep-sea fishing, you decide! I think both sound fun!"

Su Fan thought for a moment and said, "Then let's go deep-sea fishing."

He felt that simply fishing was a bit boring, but deep-sea fishing on a yacht might be interesting.

Having made up their minds, they went to the lobby to wait.

Soon, Bai Jiawen and Bai Jiajia appeared before them.

Bai Jiajia, who had freshened up and dressed, had once again become the picture of a well-behaved girl.

At first glance, she seemed just like Han Xinying, a pure little bunny.

But Su Fan had heard everything loud and clear from the next room's resting area—just how tempting Bai Jiajia's sweet voice could be.

Not only that, but he had also heard some utterly shocking things from Bai Jiajia's mouth.

When Han Xinying saw them come out one after another, she asked, "Xiao Bai, why was your phone turned off?"

Bai Jiajia had thought of an excuse long ago, and immediately said, "It ran out of battery earlier, I charged it a bit in the resting area."

Of course, her words were utter nonsense.

However, Han Xinying didn't probe further but turned to Bai Jiawen saying, "Bai Second Brother, can we go out for deep-sea fishing?"
