

Temptation 831

Chapter 831

"Boom!"

A deafening explosion sounded from not far away.

Upon hearing the sound, Han Xinying and Bai Jiajia jumped in fright.

Su Fan's face was serious as he immediately went out to check.

He quickly approached the site of the explosion, and his expression turned extremely complex.

Sang Kun's body had already been blown into two pieces.

The whole person was already at death's door.

Hu Fang was very insidious, seemingly worried that someone might tamper with his medium-sized yacht, he had actually buried mines nearby.

Sang Kun, unaware of this, stepped on a mine while checking the yacht's condition.

No matter how skilled Su Fan's medicine was, this time, it was beyond saving.

Moreover, the medical environment on the island was extremely primitive; even if Sang Kun's injuries were less severe, he couldn't have been saved.

Su Fan could only come to Sang Kun's side, using True Qi to sustain his final breath while asking, "Do you have any last wishes?"

Sang Kun could no longer speak, only pointing difficultly to his pocket.

That pocket clearly contained something.

Su Fan unzipped it and saw a small notebook, upon opening it, he discovered it was a diary.

But on the diary, there were Sang Kun's dark web account and password, as well as his family's contact information.

Su Fan immediately understood: "You want me to give your money to your family?"

Upon hearing this, Sang Kun forced a faint smile before dying completely.

He was indeed very unfortunate; Su Fan had spared his life at first.

But later, he encountered Wade who wanted to kill him.

Sang Kun's ear was flown off by Wade, but he also managed to survive.

However, just as the saying goes, he escaped the first but couldn't avoid the fifteenth.

While checking the yacht, he was blown up by the mine Hu Fang had buried!

Su Fan could only sigh helplessly.

Without Sang Kun, they would have to navigate the medium-sized yacht themselves.

Bai Jiajia probably knew how to operate the yacht, but finding the correct route was uncertain.

Nevertheless, it didn't matter; as long as they reached the sea, they might encounter other ships and seek help.

Su Fan collected Sang Kun's diary and returned to Hu Fang's room.

Seeing him come back, Han Xinying and Bai Jiajia curiously asked, "What happened just now?"

Su Fan truthfully replied, "There are mines near the yacht, Sang Kun was killed by an explosion."

After speaking, he looked at Bai Jiajia and asked, "Can you operate the medium-sized yacht?"

Bai Jiajia nodded: "Yes, but I'm afraid there might be mines or bombs nearby."

Su Fan replied, "Don't worry, this time I'll make sure thoroughly before taking you over."

He believed there was only one mine around the yacht.

Such mines, unlike firearms, were not easily acquired.

Indeed, Hu Fang had only one mine which had already been triggered by Sang Kun.

After giving Feng Beibei and Qiao Ya preliminary treatment, the group rested together in the room.

Another night passed, marking Su Fan's fifth day stranded on the island, which could very well be his last.

At dawn, he cautiously checked the surroundings of the yacht.

After thoroughly inspecting several times, he was completely certain.

The yacht was free of any more issues; Sang Kun certainly met his fate in this place.

With the yacht verified, Su Fan took Bai Jiajia to see it.

When the tide rose, they could operate the yacht and leave this place.

Such a large target would easily be detected by nearby ships' radar.

Regardless of which ship they contacted, they would be rescued.

After inspecting the yacht, Bai Jiajia remarked, "This is a very old model yacht, but it can indeed be operated."

"I can also navigate this type of yacht. Later we can sail out and see what luck we have."

Chapter 832

Su Fan nodded upon hearing that, as he had the same thought.

As time passed, the tide gradually rose in this area.

The medium-sized yacht moored here began to float.

Su Fan immediately carried Feng Beibei and Qiao Ya, the two injured ones, onto the yacht.

Then he carried fresh water and food onto the yacht as well.

Finally, he boarded the yacht with Han Xinying and Bai Jiajia.

Bai Jiajia indeed knew how to operate this type of yacht, which soon started moving under her control, gradually distancing itself from the island.

However, this yacht was very old, and many navigation instruments were broken.

This time, after heading out, they might not be able to find their way back.

Su Fan certainly did not plan to return to the island; drifting on the sea would make them more likely to encounter a ship and get rescued.

This time, they clearly had luck on their side. After sailing in one direction for about three hours, they encountered a rescue boat from the Bai family!

Soon, the Bai family's large yacht arrived in the area.

Su Fan also saw Bai Chunlin, a high-level master of the Bai family, once again.

Coming along with the Bai family was Han Shiguang.

When Han Xinying saw Han Shiguang, she immediately rushed over.

Han Shiguang himself felt a huge weight lifted off his chest as he hugged his daughter.

These past few days, he had been worried sick. Fortunately, with Su Fan's protection and care, Han Xinying had remained safe.

To those unaware, it might even seem as if Miss Han had just gone on a vacation.

Su Fan and his group soon boarded the Bai family's large yacht.

Su Fan also felt relieved; being on the deserted island had been very inconvenient.

If they had remained stranded, they might have faced the danger of running out of food and water.

After Su Fan boarded the yacht, Han Shiguang quickly came over with Han Xinying to express their gratitude.

Bai Chunlin likewise brought Bai Jiajia over to thank Su Fan.

If it weren't for Su Fan's care, the two would definitely have faced misfortune.

Han Shiguang said very gratefully, "Divine Doctor Su, we owe you so much. Without your care for Xinying, who knows what might have happened to her."

After speaking, he continued, "Divine Doctor Su, is there anything I can do to help you?"

Han Shiguang was not one to play games.

Su Fan had saved Han Xinying's life, and he intended to properly thank Su Fan.

Su Fan's greatest desire was, of course, Han Xinying.

During this time on the island, he had developed a relationship with Bai Jiajia, but had not found an opportunity with Han Xinying.

Otherwise, his strength could have improved further.

However, this was obviously not something he could say to Han Shiguang.

He could only shake his head and say, "Mr. Han resolved the issue between me and Paliaya Castle before, and I haven't thanked him for that. There's no need this time."

Upon hearing this, Han Shiguang immediately shook his head, "That matter was part of the payment for your treatment of my daughter, it's what I should have done."

"As for this time, consider our family owing you a life-saving debt."

"In the future, if you need any help from our family, we definitely won't refuse."

After Han Shiguang said this, Bai Chunlin, reluctantly, had to say:

"Divine Doctor Su, for your aid to our Bai family of Tianhai, we are willing to repay you in a similar way as Mr. Han."

This time Su Fan did not refuse; there might be a time when he would need the Bai family of Tianhai and Han Shiguang's assistance.

Now having goodwill from the Bai family of Tianhai and Han Shiguang was evidently a very good thing.

Afterward, the Bai family's large yacht took several of them to shore.

Feng Beibei and Qiao Ya were sent to a hospital in Tianhai for treatment.

Bai Jiajia followed Bai Chunlin and the others back to the Bai family.

Chapter 833

Su Fan, along with Han Shiguang and Han Xinying, returned to the Han family mansion.

Upon arriving at the Han family mansion, Su Fan became aware of many events that had occurred in the outside world during this period.

Among the numerous events, the biggest one was probably the $10 billion USD bounty on Liu Chuanxiong.

Su Fan was very tempted by the $10 billion USD.

However, he didn't know where Liu Chuanxiong and his group were currently hiding.

Returning to Tianhai, Su Fan still stayed at the Han family mansion.

Life in a bustling metropolis versus on an island was clearly different.

During the time on the island, Han Xinying didn't receive proper treatment. Now that she had successfully returned home, her subsequent treatments were certainly going to follow.

After taking a shower and changing clothes, Su Fan started calling Bai Man and others, inquiring about the situation in Yang City.

Although he hadn't contacted Yang City for nearly five days, the time felt much longer.

In Yang City, Zhao Chunqiu was currently at Eastern Medical Group, so nothing significant had happened.

Everything seemed to be progressing in a positive direction.

Su Fan couldn't have expected that Han Shiguang's bounty on Liu Chuanxiong would drive Liu Chuanxiong to desperation.

No matter how well Liu Chuanxiong could hide, the $10 billion USD bounty made him extremely uneasy.

The only way to solve this problem was to eliminate the person who issued the bounty, Han Shiguang.

Once Han Shiguang was dead, there would naturally be no one to pay the bounty to the international assassins who wanted to harm him.

Su Fan also didn't expect that half a day ago, the cheerful Han Shiguang would leave the Han family mansion never to return.

That afternoon, Su Fan was continuing treatment for Han Xinying in the therapy room when he suddenly heard a commotion outside the mansion.

Han Xinying, who was receiving acupuncture treatment, wondered, "What's happening outside?"

Su Fan shook his head and said, "I'll go take a look."

Han Xinying obediently nodded and watched Su Fan leave the therapy room.

Outside the therapy room, Su Fan saw many people in the Han family mansion.

After glancing around, he spotted Xia Chen.

He immediately went to Xia Chen and asked, "What happened?"

Clearly, Xia Chen had been crying; her eyes were still red.

After Su Fan's inquiry, she struggled to say, "Mr. Han had a car accident."

Upon hearing this, Su Fan's heart sank, and he hurriedly asked, "How is he now?"

With grief overwhelming her, Xia Chen said with a choking voice, "He... he died on the spot."

Su Fan had met some business tycoons, like Yan Henglong, who could be considered a business tycoon.

However, Han Shiguang had always left the best impression on him.

Han Shiguang was humble and courteous and never let others suffer losses.

His previous feud with Castle Palleya was resolved with Han Shiguang's help.

He never expected something would happen to Han Shiguang.

He still thought that after Eastern Medical Group's development, he might have some business cooperation with Han Shiguang.

But now, none of this was possible.

Han Shiguang, a giant in Tianhai's business world, had died in a car accident.

Su Fan's face turned grave, he looked at Xia Chen and seriously asked, "Was it an accident or intentional?"

Xia Chen hesitated for a moment before saying, "Based on current information, this was orchestrated by Liu Chuanxiong."

"Mr. Han previously issued a bounty for Liu Chuanxiong on the dark web. This was supported by many rich people, putting Liu Chuanxiong under a $10 billion USD bounty on the dark web."

"Probably because of this, Mr. Han was completely hated by Liu Chuanxiong."

While Xia Chen spoke, Su Fan could only remain silent.

Generally speaking, Liu Chuanxiong was now a rat everyone wanted to beat.

The Bai family in Tianhai was especially at odds with him, deadly enemies.

No one expected that, under such circumstances, he could still send people from somewhere to deal with Han Shiguang.

Su Fan thought for a moment and took out his phone to call Chen Hanqing.

Seeing it was a call from him, Chen Hanqing quickly answered, "Mr. Su, what's the matter?"

Su Fan calmly said, "Hanqing, please gather and sort all the information related to Han Shiguang and Liu Chuanxiong."

Chapter 834

Han Shiguang's death in a car accident brought the Han family into their darkest hour.

This event caused a huge sensation throughout the entire Tianhai City.

Han Shiguang's identity was the Senior Vice President of the China region at Yunsan Global Capital.

Half of Tianhai's business moguls were engaged in business dealings with Han Shiguang.

In the Han family villa, Han Xinying and her mother were holding each other, crying incessantly.

Su Fan had been in the Han family villa for so long, but it was his first time seeing Han Shiguang's wife.

The other party's age should be about thirty-eight or thirty-nine, or even older.

However, she was very well maintained, without any traces of age on her, and appeared very young, around thirty, very young and beautiful.

At this time, Su Fan was watching the surveillance video sent to him by Chen Hanqing.

These surveillance videos were footage from the section of road where Han Shiguang had the accident.

From the surveillance, he saw that Han Shiguang's car was hit by an oncoming dump truck.

It was a very fast-moving heavy-duty truck, and at the moment of the collision with Han Shiguang's car.

Han Shiguang's luxury car was directly compressed into a metal sheet, and Han Shiguang who was in the car also died instantly!

Su Fan also saw the dump truck driver, and he had seen him before.

This person was one of Liu Chuanxiong's capable henchmen, Wang Bing.

Previously at sea, it was this person who had fired an AK47 at Su Fan, who had already dived into the water.

Han Shiguang's fall was a devastating blow for Han Xinying and her mother.

The Han family was supported mainly by Han Shiguang.

Now that he was gone, many of Han family's businesses were being encroached upon by capitalists.

Han Shiguang's wife, although born into the Li family in Xingzhou.

But the Li family's influence over Huaxia's business world was limited.

The biggest difference between wealthy aristocratic families and ordinary wealthy families was vividly reflected in Han Shiguang's situation.

Wealthy aristocratic families had a large reserve of talents within the family.

When one pillar fell, another would immediately take its place to hold the fort.

In Han Shiguang's family, Han Xinying was a naive and pure young lady, and his wife Li Ruo was almost the same as their daughter.

In the Xingzhou Li family, she was also a carefree, pure young lady.

After becoming Han Shiguang's wife, Han Shiguang naturally didn't need Li Ruo to do anything.

So now, even at thirty-nine, Li Ruo still didn't have the capabilities to manage things independently.

Her hobbies were playing piano and painting, and she spent most of her life doing these two things.

After the accident, the only way Li Ruo could think of was to take her daughter back to Xingzhou and ask her family there to avenge Han Shiguang.

As Li Ruo and her daughter were crying together, Su Fan came to their door.

He couldn't go directly in and was stopped by the villa's bodyguards.

Logically speaking, Su Fan was fully trusted by Han Shiguang.

But in these special times, he couldn't enter the room directly either.

Inside the room, the constantly crying Li Ruo and Han Xinying also noticed the commotion at the door.

Han Xinying wiped her tears and asked with a sob, "Divine Doctor Su, is there something you need?"

Her heart was filled with immense sorrow.

Her father died horribly, crushed and deformed by the violent collision.

If it weren't for that, with Su Fan's medical skills, her father could definitely have survived.

After Han Xinying spoke, Su Fan solemnly said, "Xiaoying, Madam Han, I have something I want to discuss with both of you alone."

Hearing this, Han Xinying thought for a moment, then obediently nodded.

Li Ruo didn't object either; she knew Su Fan's relationship with Han Shiguang and with her daughter.

In such times, Su Fan was still relatively trustworthy.

After Su Fan entered Han Xinying's room, Xia Chen and the other bodyguards left.

Chapter 835

Su Fan closed the door and then said to the two of them, "Xiaoying, Mrs. Han, Mr. Han has provided me with a lot of help."

"Now that he has unfortunately passed away, I am also willing to provide you with help."

"In terms of business, I don't know much, so I can't help you much."

"However, in terms of medical expertise, I should be among the top in the Chinese medical field."

"As for martial arts, I am a Martial Artist at the early stage of the Qi Transformation Realm, and I can ensure your safety."

"What are your plans next?"

After Su Fan finished speaking, Li Ruo wiped her tears and said:

"Thank you, Divine Doctor Su."

"Thank you for being willing to help us mother and daughter at this time."

"I am now planning to take Xiaoying back to my family in Xingzhou. I need to use the family's power to avenge my husband!"

After hearing this, Su Fan nodded and said, "Alright then, I will take you and your daughter to Xingzhou. But will the Li family in Xingzhou avenge Mr. Han?"

Upon hearing Su Fan's question, Li Ruo fell silent.

The Li family in Xingzhou indeed has enough strength to avenge Han Shiguang.

But how much importance Li Ruo is given in the Li family depends on two factors.

One factor is how much say her branch still has in the Li family in Xingzhou.

The other factor is that she is the wife of Han Shiguang, the Senior Vice President of Yunshan Global Capital's China District.

Now that Han Shiguang is dead, the advantages he brought her are, of course, gone.

As for her branch's influence in the Li family in Xingzhou, it is actually very little.

Their branch belongs to the fourth branch of the Li family in Xingzhou.

The other main branch, second branch, third branch, and fifth branch are all full of talents and flourishing in numbers.

Only their fourth branch has a lot of people, but none of them are exceptionally capable.

Most of them are just ordinary people, or slightly better than ordinary people.

In such circumstances, their fourth branch doesn't have much say in the Li family in Xingzhou.

Liu Chuanxiong killed the son-in-law of the Li family in Xingzhou, inevitably becoming their enemy.

But how much force her family will dispatch to deal with Liu Chuanxiong remains a big question mark.

Thinking of this, Li Ruo could only remain silent, unable to answer Su Fan's earlier question.

Moreover, she desperately wanted to avenge her husband, but she didn't know how she could achieve that.

Seeing Li Ruo in this state, Su Fan also sighed internally.

It seems that the Li family in Xingzhou is not short of money, but they are unwilling to stir up trouble.

Provoking someone like Liu Chuanxiong, a desperate outlaw, is indeed a very troublesome matter.

With Han Shiguang's death, the bounty on Liu Chuanxiong on the dark web was withdrawn.

Other business tycoons who had followed Han Shiguang in raising the bounty also fell silent one by one.

Han Shiguang's death served as a wake-up call for them.

That is, never provoke someone like Liu Chuanxiong unless it's absolutely necessary.

In the room, while Li Ruo remained silent, Han Xinying suddenly spoke up.

"Divine Doctor Su, you are so powerful, and you have killed so many pirates."

"You definitely can avenge my father, right?"

After she spoke, Li Ruo couldn't help but also look at Su Fan.

Su Fan thought for a while, then said, "Xiaoying, Mrs. Han, Mr. Han helped me a lot before. No matter what, I will avenge him."

"However, right now, I don't know where Liu Chuanxiong and his men are."

"I also don't know when I will be able to avenge Mr. Han."

To Li Ruo, Su Fan making such a promise already made her pleasantly surprised.

Therefore, she made a very important decision.

"Divine Doctor Su, I heard Shiguang say that you have your own company in Yang City, which is managed very well and has great potential."

"Can I entrust you with managing the Han family's business?"

Chapter 836

Li Ruo did not have a very deep understanding of Su Fan.

But Han Shiguang was extremely accurate in seeing people. During this period, Han Shiguang praised Su Fan frequently while sleeping with Li Ruo at night.

Even last night, Han Shiguang was still praising Su Fan.

This time when her daughter had an accident, fortunately, it was with Su Fan.

If it had been with another martial artist, who knows what would have happened.

Therefore she decided to trust her husband's judgment and handed over the Han family's business to Su Fan to manage.

This is also a normal phenomenon. The second and third generations of major families, both domestically and internationally, are not necessarily business elites.

For example, in some families, the father is involved in real estate, while the son is involved in esports.

The family's real estate business obviously can only be entrusted to a professional manager.

Otherwise, it would not make sense to abandon real estate for the sake of esports.

Li Ruo now considers Su Fan as a professional manager.

Su Fan could only shake his head, "Sister-in-law, I am actually only half-knowledgeable about business."

He was deeply moved in his heart. He did not expect Li Ruo to have such great trust in him.

Thus his address for Li Ruo changed from the previous Madam Han to Sister-in-law.

Li Ruo did not find anything wrong with his address.

The reason she wanted to entrust Su Fan with such an important task was for many reasons.

Firstly, Han Shiguang's high regard for Su Fan, secondly, Su Fan's strength, and lastly, Su Fan's character.

With Han Shiguang's vision, it was impossible to see the wrong person.

Su Fan's strength was even more unquestionable. He was a top expert at a young age.

As for Su Fan's character, it has been fully proven by taking care of Han Xinying on a deserted island for a few days.

Under such circumstances, she naturally was willing to trust Su Fan.

Moreover, Su Fan also stated earlier that he was willing to avenge Han Shiguang!

Li Ruo pondered for a while and seriously said to Su Fan:

"The Han family's business has actually always been managed by several professional managers."

"After my husband had an accident, I worried I couldn't suppress these people."

"So I could only entrust the family business to you."

"My husband put great faith in you and trusts you, and so do I."

Listening to Li Ruo's words, Su Fan still did not agree.

He was only a semi-detached owner in his own company; how could he help the Han family manage theirs?

But he thought of a compromise and said to Li Ruo:

"Sister-in-law, you can convene a family meeting to discuss related matters."

"If someone doesn't listen to your commands during the meeting, I will act."

"In the future, I will also provide armed support for you."

He could not stay in Tianhai forever. Yang City was his base.

After a while, he would return to Yang City.

Hearing Su Fan's words, Li Ruo hesitated. The reason was that Su Fan's method was obviously better.

Moreover, only by firmly grasping the family business herself would she have a greater chance to avenge her husband.

Thinking of this, Li Ruo made a difficult decision.

In the past, it was her husband who shielded her from the wind and rain. From now on, she decided to stand up and shoulder the responsibilities of this family.

She solemnly nodded and seriously said, "Divine Doctor Su, the Han family's gratitude for your help will be reciprocated equally."

Saying things like returning a hundredfold or a thousandfold are often empty words.

From ancient times to the present, there are countless people who repay kindness with enmity, and those who repay a drop of kindness with a fountain are rare and few.

Therefore, Li Ruo's promise to Su Fan was equal repayment.

After Han Shiguang's accident, the Han family had many matters to deal with.

Li Ruo could not continue to cry with Han Xinying here.

She quickly pulled herself together and began to handle Han Shiguang's affairs.

Chapter 837

Li Ruo pulled herself together once again as she handled Han Shiguang's posthumous affairs.

Beside her stood a young figure with a straight posture, becoming her support during her darkest times.

This figure was, of course, Su Fan.

From then on, no matter what Li Ruo did, Su Fan would accompany her, providing her protection.

Su Fan now had a slight notoriety in the upper echelons of Tianhai's society.

His fame was not due to his extraordinary medical skills, but because he had clashed with Liu Chuanxiong.

The surveillance footage of their encounter on the small island during a sea fishing trip had been seen by many important figures in Tianhai.

From that brief footage, many top leaders in Tianhai witnessed that the renowned Liu Chuanxiong was no match for Su Fan.

The way Su Fan treated Li Ruo now clearly reflected his attitude toward the Han family after Han Shiguang's demise.

This caused some restless business magnates in Tianhai to temporarily refrain from taking any action.

The consequences of angering a grandmaster at the Qi Transformation stage were severe, and Han Shiguang's death was a vivid example.

However, in the Han family business, there were still many who did not appreciate what they had and could not restrain their ambition.

Given their identities and channels of information, they naturally couldn't fathom how powerful the young man beside Han Shiguang's widow truly was.

Han Shiguang's short life was remarkably brilliant.

From his childhood, he excelled in academics, progressing directly through bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees.

Upon entering the workforce, he became the youngest senior vice president at Global Yew Capital.

His funeral was highly prestigious.

All the prominent figures in Tianhai attended, holding a grand burial for him.

With the end of his funeral, the Han family of Tianhai stepped into a new phase without Han Shiguang.

With Han Shiguang gone, it was uncertain how far the Han family of Tianhai could go.

After Han Shiguang's funeral, his wife Li Ruoyao, per Su Fan's request, invited all the Han family members to her villa for a family meeting.

The Han family rose to prominence due to Han Shiguang's father.

Old Mr. Han was also an extraordinary man, but he passed away due to old age two years ago.

With Old Mr. Han's passing, Han Shiguang completely became the leader of the vast Han family.

He surpassed his predecessor, possessing even greater capabilities than Old Mr. Han.

Yet no one expected that such a person would meet with misfortune and pass away prematurely.

Other than Han Shiguang, the members of the Han family were incompetent, albeit highly ambitious.

Han Shijing, the second son, believed that now with his elder brother dead, he should become the head of the Han family.

Han Shijing's villa was located in Long Bay.

It was quite far from Han Shiguang's home.

The reason for living such a distance away was Han Shijing's deep-seated dislike for his elder brother.

Among the Han family members, Han Shijing had some ability, but compared to Han Shiguang, a prodigy in business, he was worlds apart.

Originally, Han Shijing thought that with Han Shiguang around, the Han family didn't need him to do anything.

He just needed to enjoy his life comfortably, and his days would pass by.

But now, since Han Shiguang was dead, naturally, it should be his turn, Han Shijing, to take over.

Not only did he want to become the family head, but he also coveted Han Shiguang's wife!

He had always admired his beautiful sister-in-law.

In the beginning, he and Li Ruo were classmates.

During a class reunion, he invited Li Ruo and other classmates to his home, but ultimately Li Ruo took a liking to Han Shiguang instead.

However, it didn't matter. He would soon reclaim everything he had lost.

The Han family empire, built by Han Shiguang, would all fall into his hands.

Chapter 838

At this moment, Han Shijing even felt that Han Shiguang's death was just perfect!

In preparation for the family meeting two days later, Han Shijing certainly made thorough preparations.

Just then, an old man with a very sinister expression was invited to Han Shijing's villa.

Seeing this old man, Han Shijing hurriedly walked over very politely and said:

"Mr. Zheng, I need to trouble you again this time."

The old man, addressed as Mr. Zheng, coldly laughed upon hearing this: "Second Master Han, you should understand my rules."

Upon hearing this, Han Shijing's facial expression changed slightly, and he nodded.

This old man was called Zheng Chaoxi, but in the martial arts world, everyone called him Zheng the Old Freak.

The reason Zheng Chaoxi earned such a notorious nickname was because he was extremely lecherous, regardless of his old age.

It's unclear whether it's because of some deviation in his martial arts practice or if Zheng Chaoxi was inherently this way.

Over the years, Zheng Chaoxi had never turned down a woman.

At his most outrageous, he slept with all the women in an entertainment club in one night.

Zheng Chaoxi's reputation was very foul in Huaxia; most of the time, he stayed between the two Koreas and Japan.

In those places, obviously, no one would say anything about him sleeping with women.

Especially in Japan, where the sex trade is directly legal.

However, there are two requirements if you want Zheng Chaoxi to do something for you.

One requirement is money; his fee is exceptionally high, with starting prices of ten million US Dollars per task, regardless of the size of the task.

Han Shijing had commissioned Zheng Chaoxi once before, spending a total of twenty million US Dollars, equivalent to over a hundred million Huaxia Coins.

The other requirement is generally unacceptable to most people.

That is, Zheng Chaoxi demands the other party's wife and daughter, which is why he is known as Zheng the Old Freak.

When Han Shijing went gambling wildly in Australia before, he provoked a powerful enemy, and his family nearly perished there.

In the end, it was because he spent twenty million US Dollars to have Zheng Chaoxi, a high-level martial artist, eliminate the enemy's entire family.

After this incident, Han Shijing paid a heavy price, but he gained a bit of a reputation.

Of course, this was because others did not know that it was Zheng Chaoxi who helped him solve the problem; otherwise, he would have been drowned in spittle.

Back in Australia, sacrificing his wife and daughter was to save his own life.

He thought that after that, he would never need to use Zheng Chaoxi again, but there was no other way.

This time, without Zheng Chaoxi's help, he certainly wouldn't be a match for the others, and there was no way he could subdue Li Ruo.

As for his wife and daughter, they were already impure from that incident in Australia, so it didn't matter this time either.

Han Shijing was destined to be a hero of his generation; romantic entanglements didn't concern him.

In Han Shijing's villa, Han Xinya, whose name differed from Han Xinying's by only one character, now wished she could die.

She saw that old monster who had frightened her countless times in her nightmares.

She was three years older than Han Xinying.

That year, she was just eighteen, going through the hellish moments of her life in Australia.

Five or nearly six years had passed, and she never imagined she would see Zheng Chaoxi at home.

Seeing Zheng Chaoxi made her want to bash her head in rather than let this old thing touch her body again.

When Zheng Chaoxi saw Han Xinya, he was quite pleased, and he said with a sinister laugh: "Girl, how many men have taken advantage of you in these five or six years?"

Han Xinya could barely speak. Since seeing Zheng Chaoxi, she had been trembling all over.

Otherwise, she might have jumped out of the window or killed herself.

Seeing her in this state, Zheng Chaoxi didn't care and continued with a sinister tone: "You haven't let any men touch you since I took your virginity, right?"

"If it's really like that, it's better. You're probably still as tight as before, maybe even tighter."

Chapter 839

Han Xinya's next door neighbor was her mother, Han Shijing's wife.

More than five years ago, the incident in Australia had a huge impact on Zhou Xueyan.

Over the past few years, her nerves had been somewhat unstable and she would often cry for no apparent reason.

However, most of the time, her consciousness was clear, and she understood that what happened five years ago was unavoidable.

If Zheng Chaoxi hadn't helped, their entire family would have died in Australia.

But this time, seeing that demon Zheng Chaoxi again, she was utterly disheartened.

From the next room, the continuous screams of her daughter were pushing her completely over the edge.

She rummaged through the room and finally found a bottle of red wine in a panic.

Then, with trembling body, she supported herself against the wall and walked out of the room, clutching the wine bottle tightly.

No matter why Han Shijing had sought out Zheng Chaoxi this time, she was prepared to kill this demon who had hurt their mother and daughter five years ago with that wine bottle.

Zhou Xueyan smoothly sneaked up behind Zheng Chaoxi.

At that moment, Zheng Chaoxi had Han Xinya pinned beneath him and seemed completely unaware that someone had entered the room.

As he reveled indulgently, Zhou Xueyan's hand holding the wine bottle smashed down viciously towards his head.

Unfortunately, Zhou Xueyan was just an ordinary person, how could she manage to kill Zheng Chaoxi in one blow?

She didn't even manage to hit him, and Zheng Chaoxi grabbed her throat and pinned her to the bed.

More than five years ago, the tragedy replayed itself on this day!

Over at Han Shiguang's house, neither Su Fan, Li Ruoyao, nor Han Xinying, clearly had any idea of the horrendous scene unfolding in Han Shijing's house.

Su Fan was talking to Li Ruo about his plan to return to Yang City soon.

Li Ruo already knew that Su Fan would be going back, but she couldn't help but ask this time, "Xiaofan, could your company expand and operate in Tianhai?"

"Since it's a pharmaceutical technology company, it should be easier to develop in Tianhai."

Su Fan was their lifeline, even if the Han family issues were resolved, they still depended on Su Fan.

Su Fan shook his head and said, "Sister-in-law, my company is a small startup. It's still relatively competitive in Yang City."

"In Qin Province, it's not worth mentioning, and in Tianhai, it would have no survivability."

"As Eastern Pharmaceuticals develops, I will definitely set up a branch in Tianhai one day."

"But that's a long way off; for now, we can only develop steadily in Yang City."

Hearing Su Fan say this, Li Ruo was naturally very disappointed.

Since Su Fan had defeated Liu Chuanxiong before, his deterrent power over the upper echelons of Tianhai society was very strong.

Because Su Fan had been by her side, she hadn't encountered any external resistance during this period.

But once Su Fan left, things would surely change.

Han Xinying cautiously spoke up, "Divine Doctor Su, could you perhaps run a company in both places and develop simultaneously?"

"Our family can offer all the assistance we can provide."

Li Ruo immediately nodded at this, thinking it would be perfect if Su Fan could open a company in Tianhai and develop there, leaving his presence as well.

Su Fan helplessly shook his head, "Xiaoying, sister-in-law, it's not just about the company, my work is also in Yang City, and most of the people connected to me are there."

He was being subtle, but he meant that his life was primarily based in Yang City for now.

While Su Fan, Han Xinying, and Li Ruo were talking, he unexpectedly received a call from Chen Hanqing.

Typically, Chen Hanqing would text him rather than call directly.

When Chen Hanqing called directly, it meant the matter was extremely urgent.

Chapter 840

This caused Su Fan's heart to skip a beat.

His first reaction was that something had happened in Yang City!

Although Han Shiguang treated him well, Yang City was his base; many of the women he liked were also in Yang City.

If something were to happen in Yang City, he might have to run back and forth between Yang City and Tianhai.

After Su Fan answered the phone, he immediately spoke solemnly: "Mr. Su, I have monitored something that might be detrimental to you."

Upon hearing this from Chen Hanqing, Su Fan couldn't help but ask: "What is it?"

Chen Hanqing replied instantly: "I've been monitoring information related to Mr. Han and his associates recently."

"Not long ago, I discovered that Mr. Han's younger brother, Mr. Han Shijing, has invited a highly skilled martial artist over."

"From the intercepted chat records, it seems Han Shijing invited the martial artist named Zheng Chaoxi to deal with you and others."

Su Fan heard this and asked, "Can I buy Zheng Chaoxi's information on the dark web?"

Chen Hanqing immediately responded, "I've already bought it, sending it to you now."

After he finished speaking, Su Fan received a message.

This is information about Zheng Chaoxi on the dark web.

After quickly browsing through Zheng Chaoxi's information, Su Fan's heart sank.

It's not that he's scared before the fight, but Zheng Chaoxi's strength is simply too formidable.

The dark web states that Zheng Chaoxi's current level should be in the late stage of Qi Transformation Realm, and it might even be at the peak, Great Perfection.

Globally, there are already eleven martial artists at the Qi Transformation Realm who have died at Zheng Chaoxi's hands.

Such achievements are definitely terrifying.

The dark web's information about Zheng Chaoxi is quite comprehensive, even detailing the fee for his services.

After swiftly browsing through it, he confirmed that Zheng Chaoxi is indeed a killing demon.

The opponent kills without needing any reason; as long as someone pays, he will kill. He is a professional assassin.

Upon learning that such a formidable person has arrived in Tianhai, Su Fan dared not waste any time.

He immediately said to Li Ruo and Han Xinying: "Sister-in-law, Xiaoying, we're in trouble."

Facing such a powerful enemy as Zheng Chaoxi, he decided not to hide it from Li Ruo and Han Xinying.

If push comes to shove, they might even have to abandon the Han family's business to avoid conflict with Zheng Chaoxi.

Li Ruo asked puzzlingly, "Xiaofan, has something happened?"

Su Fan closed the door of the room, then spoke candidly about what Chen Hanqing had told him and showed them the information Chen Hanqing provided.

The more Li Ruo and her daughter listened, the more frightened they became, and their hearts grew colder.

After reading it, Li Ruo thought of some very terrifying things.

She couldn't help but murmur, "No wonder Xue Yan was a bit mentally unstable after returning from Australia; such things happened!"

Han Xinying clearly understood what her mother was talking about; she was now both angry and afraid.

This time, Li Ruo had no choice but to make another painful decision — to abandon the business her husband left behind and take her daughter back to her family in Singapore.

Facing a killing demon like Zheng Chaoxi, she obviously had no solution, and she couldn't possibly let Su Fan face Zheng Chaoxi directly.

However, these were her husband's hard-earned results after years of struggle.

Abandoning these would be entirely letting her husband down.

Moreover, without the Han family's business, how could she avenge her husband in the future?

As Li Ruo sank into despair, Su Fan spoke: "Sister-in-law, Xiaoying, let's give it one last try."

"If it doesn't work out, I'll send you back to the Li family in Singapore."
