

Chapter 675

675 BLACK RAIN AND DARK SKY (17)

Iris looked down to her dress and just realized, the sharp shard of the glass had cut her finger when she tried to pick the pieces. She didn't realize it because her mind was distracted.

She felt upset a moment ago and she couldn't explain why she felt that way, as if something bothering her greatly.

"Come here, luna. Don't touch it again. You can't be so reckless," Aliana said, as she helped Iris to stand up and take her to the bed, while Reed and Asher cleaned up the mess.

Iris thanked them, but they brushed it off.

"Luna, you need to be more careful nexttime," Reed said. "You might hurt the baby."

That was right. They worried about the baby more."Okay."Iris nodded. She knew some of the warriors started to treat her nicely, with the respect that she deserved because of her pregnancy. Deep down, Iris knew about that, but she didn't want to think too deeply. Still, it stung.

Zephyr gave Reed a look and the other warrior pretended like he didn't say anything and focus on cleaning the shattered cup with Asher.

"I will call for Penny to take a look on yourwound," Aliana said, after she inspected the cut. It was not too deep, if Iris had healing ability, she would have recovered by now, unfortunately, she didn't. It would take a while for her wound to heal and Aliana didn't want the alpha made a fuss over it when he randomly visited his mate again.

"No. There is no need," Iris said, shegrabbed Aliana's hand. Her expression looked pitiful now."Is there any news from Cane?"

"Do you miss him already?" Aliana teasedher."No. I think he is going somewhere with Ethan and the merchant, but I am not sure where exactly they went." She didn't know the detail of Cane's agenda, even though the alpha wanted to know every detail of what his mate was doing all the time.

Iris looked down, she stared at her bleeding finger, deep in thought.

"Don't worry, he will appear randomly againat some point because he missed you so much too." Aliana sat next to Iris, cheered her up."Why don't we take a look on Lil Thing?"

Iris shook her head."I want to see the Serafim, can you ask her for the meeting?"

Iris had requested for a meeting with the Serafim, but her knights always refused it with the reason; the Serafim was sick and she couldn't accept any guest.

That was right, the Serafim had been staying in her bedroom ever since she arrived, there was no further discussion about what happened between them and how Iris managed to absorb her power.

"Okay, I will go, but after Penny look afteryour wound." Aliana could be stubborn.

Cane kicked Aria away from him and yanked the dagger from his chest before he fell to the ground. He breathed raggedly, while Ethan took a stand in front of him.

"Hell! You are really alive!" The gammawidened his eyes when he saw Aria. She fell on her back a few steps away from them after Cane kicked her. "Damn it... what you got yourself into, Aria?"

Now everything did make sense if you involved the dark magic in it. Haco had told them, there was trace of black magic in the spot where he buried Aria's dead body, but as it turned out, her body had long disappeared.

And now, here she was. Alive.

Alpha Gallot came forward and helped Aria to stand up, he smirked at Cane, who was trying to heal from the wound on his chest.

"Shut up, Ethan! I don't need your opinion!"Aria roared. She looked at the gamma derisively."Step back, or I will not hesitate to kill you too!"

"Aria..." Ethan shook his head, he was speechless. He had not yet overcome his shock to see Aria was very much alive."You degraded yourself."

"I have degraded myself since so long ago for him, but what I get? He gave me death punishment!" Aria gritted her teeth, but her eyes filled with sadness."He didn't even want to see me that day. Why? Why did you abandon me?!"

Aria was having an outburst right now, her sadness and grievances turned into anger when she realized Cane only focused on healing the wound and didn't pay attention to what she was saying at all.

"You will not recover from that wound!"Aria hissed through her gritted teeth, tears rolled down her cheeks, it pained her to hurt Cane like this, but there was no other way to make him hers, that was what Dexter told her to do.

"Aria, what have you done?" Ethannarrowed his eyes, he glanced at Cane over his shoulder, worried, but the alpha was still in the same position, he was kneeling down with his head hung low, you couldn't see the expression on his face.

Aria's red eyes fixed on Cane. She didn't want to hurt him, she only wanted to be with him.

"I only want you, Cane, but you make thingsdifficult between us." Aria bit her lips, her heart ached so bad. She wondered why she still felt this pain when she was supposed to be death, couldn't the pain go away as well? Why she couldn't stop loving him?

"Enough!" Cane roared, he pushed himselfto stand up, as blood oozed out from the wound on his chest."You disgust me."

The last word was said in such contempt and malice, Cane meant it when he said Aria disgusted him. The sight of her was loathsome.

Hearing that, Aria was taken aback, she clutched her chest, as tears streamed down her face. This was the most painful thing that she had ever heard."You loved me, Cane. You do love me. If it were not for that runt, we will still be together and nothing like this will happen."

Cane's eyes darkened. He looked unperturbed with the wound on his chest, as if he didn't feel anything, though blood kept oozing out from the wound.

"Can we skip this tragic love story, please?Are we going to stay here all day and watch this cheap show?" Redmond stretched out his arms."There are a lot of things that we need to do, right? Why don't we start now?"He looked very boring and alpha Gallot guffawed at his remark.

"You can keep your pitiful story for later,miss." Alpha Gallot patted Aria's shoulder. "You have done your part and meet withhim. You can get him after lady Cyan was done with him." Alpha Gallot winked at Cane."Being captured like this and have your life in someone else's hand reminded you of old time, huh?"

Of course, what alpha Gallot implied was their slavery days.

"Get him."He waved his hand and dozen ofbeasts came at Cane and Ethan at once. They barred their fangs and claws, ready to take down the alpha and the gamma.

"Gallot, you can't kill Cane." Aria remindedhim about lady Cyan's order.

"Don't worry woman, I am not going to killhim." Gallot stretched out his hand and caressed Aria's cheek, but she swatted his hand away.

The sight of this made Redmond rolled his eyes, he got a goosebump. He couldn't imagine how repulsive it must be for Sofia to be touched by a man like him.

No wonder Sofia was infatuated by Cane. Despite the scar on his face, the alpha was way younger and was better look than alpha Gallot, Redmond had to admit that.

Meanwhile, in front of them, all the warriors from alpha Gallot's pack, were unable to come closer toward Cane, as if there was this invisible protection that surrounded the alpha and the gamma.

And not long after that, there were around thirty beasts that emerged from their hiding spot, led by Dean and Pax in their beast form. In a blink of an eye, the chaos couldn't be avoided.

"What the hell?!" alpha Gallot roaredangrily, but Redmond immediately came to his side.

"Get in the carriage!Do you want to die?!"Redmond roared to alpha Gallot and Aria, who immediately entered the carriage and he drove away from the fight.

Redmond took them to a safe place, out of the Black Market, while the fight was still happening, you could see that it was actually not a night, it was a slaughter where alpha Gallot's warriors were being ambushed and they didn't stand a chance to fight back.

"Damn, Cane!You ruin my sheet with yourblood!" Lou complained when he saw Cane was bleeding profusely."Why don't you heal? I thought you, shifter can heal in a heartbeat."

"Oh, shut up, Lou!Don't you have anotherhealer? This one is a quack!" Ethan growled at the merchant and also at the healer that Lou had called to look after Cane's wound.

She didn't seem to be able to stop the bleeding and now she felt like crying when she was called as a quick.

"I can't stop the bleeding because there issomething that obstruct my healing power,"the healer explained. She looked terrified with how angry the gamma was.

"What is that? Black magic?" Lou frowned."I thought black magic is forbidden, butwhy many people used it recently? Is there a change in law?"

"Do something with the black magic!" Ethannordered the merchant, but he threw him a dagger look, because the healer didn't have any idea that he was a magic user."You, get out." Ethan growled at the healer.

"Yes..." The poor healer immediately rushedout of the room, she was afraid of Ethan.

"Now, do something with the wound." Ethannodded at Lou, who kept glaring at him.

"Just because I am a magic user, it doesn'tmean I can do as I please with the black magic!" Lou was frustrated with this gamma.

"At least, you can think of something. Don'tyou know how to purify it?" With that was being said, Ethan stopped himself and blinked his eyes. There was someone, who could purify the black magic with only a single touch.

And as if Cane could read what was in Ethan's mind, he immediately objected it. "Don't even think about it," Cane growled.The last thing he wanted was for Iris to see him like this. It was reckless of him to let himself being stabbed.

"What is it? What did I miss?" Lou lookedback and forth between Cane and Ethan, he knew the two of them were having some kind of understand with each other."Hey! No one will tell me what is it?"

"Tell me the situation in the border andAderan's movement." Cane demanded something else. He looked slightly pale, but aside from that, he didn't show any indication that he was in pain.

Hours later, Ethan was contemplated something after he delivered Cane's medicine, which didn't help with his condition at all. The best the healer could do was to stop the bleeding, but the wound was still there.

"Hey, tell me what is it, will you?" Louapproached Ethan, who was standing in front of Cane's bedroom door."There is a way to save your alpha, right? Why don't you tell me?"

Ethan narrowed his eyes. He weighed his options."I want you to make a portal."

"Do you think I am your private carriage orsomething that could take you to places? Have some respect!" Lou barked at Ethan."I have helped you enough to create a protection, so you wouldn't be mauled by those beasts and now you order me around to create a portal? Do you really think creating a portal is an easy task? That's require a lot of energy aside from magic stone and I am tired already."

Ethan waited until Lou spoke his pieces, he crossed his arms with boring look."I want you to take me to Iris."

"Let's go then."