

Chapter 705

705 BLACK RAIN AND DARK SKY (47)

The letter was directed to Cane, where the person that alpha Nolan sent, asked him to meet with them inside a brothel. It was not the fancy one, you could say this brothel must be the cheapest in this area, but giving the context of their meeting, it was understandable.

Someone like Cane wouldn't come to this kind of place after all.

"You need to stop making that face, or you will scare everyone else," Cane teased his mate, who had been very sullen when she watched how half naked women walked in this cold weather, flaunting their curves.

That was true that the shifter could stand cold very well, but to wear as little clothes as possible, it was simply too much. www.Novell\(w\)orm.c0m

Meanwhile, Iris had to wrap herself so tightly and snuggle close to Cane to keep away this coldness. It was not fair!

"What face? I don't make any face," Iris replied, she pouted her lips.

On the other hand, Cane could only shake his head to see how childish Iris could be when her stubbornness came to the surface.

"It's cold outside, you can..."

"I am going inside with you." Iris cut Cane off before he could finish his words, she knew what he would suggest to her and she was having none of it. She would go with him into the building to meet with this said woman.

How she could stay inside the carriage when she already went all the way here and watched Cane enter a brothel with almost all the women tried to throw themselves to him, showing their big breasts and asses?

When the carriage stopped and Dean opened the door for them, Cane pulled down the hood of her cloak to cover her hair and face, as he did the same to himself and helped Iris to get down from the carriage.

If they could contact this woman, they must have requested to meet in a different place, but unfortunately, they could only come here if they really wanted to hear what Alpha Nolan offered.

Loyalty between the alpha was questionable and you should take as much as possible the opportunity that you could have, having a back up plan was very necessary.

Based on that, Cane decided to come and heard out what kind of trick that alpha Nolan tried to pull off.

Yes, right now the alpha Colter and Koda trusted Cane almost one hundred percent, as if they were loyal allies, but it was because they didn't have any other choice, since he was the strategist for them, but the story could be very different once they put the baby on the throne and held the power they had desired.

The moment that happened, the power that Cane held could be a threat for them. www.Novell\(w\)orm.c0m

"Okay?" Cane asked when they entered the brothel, where three women, who wore a little to none dress, approached Cane with their coquettish smile plastered on their faces.

However, they stopped dead in their tracks and their faces scrunched when they touched their chests, as if they were having a hard time to breathe, allowed Cane and Iris to escape them without any trouble.

Cane squeezed Iris's shoulder to warn her not to take things too far, but his mate only gave him an innocent look, as if she didn't understand what he meant.

The music blasted along with happy guffaws from men and women, and Iris was very embarrassed when she watched how men got themselves a pleasure from three women that he hired for this passionate night.

The three of them looked very eager to give their customer the best experience ever. The same thing happened at all of the corners and along the corridors, it would be the same sight like this that Iris saw.

It almost felt like she was walking in one of her father and brother's party, but of course this one was less fancy.

"Don't stare," Cane covered her eyes when he caught his mate staring at a woman, who gave a man a head. She made her man wailed and cursed harshly, but it was apparent that the two of them enjoyed it immensely.

Dean and Pax could feel their throats burning, their cheeks turned red when women tried to invite them to join with them.

After that, they continued to the second floor, where they would meet with alpha Nolan's messenger.

Dean knocked on the door and mentioned the passwords that he had to say before they enter the room, so the other person would be able to know it was indeed Cane and his men.

"Only one person can enter."

There was this beautiful and melodic voice from the person inside. By 'one person', the meaning was very clear that the other person only wished for Cane to come inside.

It was unsettling to hear a woman's voice from inside the room after what she saw in the first floor. Her mind played all the agitating scenarios possible.

But, she couldn't barge in too.

When Iris was in her own dilemma, Cane grabbed her hand and opened the door, as he took her inside the room and closed the door behind him.

Now, it was only Cane, Iris and two other women.

There were two women... which made Iris frown to see how beautiful and young the two of them and they looked surprised when Cane invited another person into the room after what one of them instructed.

"I said, it's only one person, who can enter the room," one of the women, who had this dimple on her left cheek reminded Cane about the condition she gave him. "You need to respect that."

Silent.

There was no reply from Cane. Iris thought he would give them a reality check or something and was adamant of how things should go on his terms, but this lack of response made Iris lift her head to see Cane was actually staring at the woman, who was speaking to him earlier, intensely.

"Didn't you hear what my sister said?" The other women asked.

"Amara," Cane blurted out the name and the woman with the dimple, smiled brightly at him.

"I am glad that you still recognized me even after years had passed, alpha Cane," she said with this gentleness that made Iris's stomach churned.

They knew each other? Who were they?

"Why did your father send you two here?" Cane asked. He and Iris were still standing close to the door, while the two women stood up from their seats and approached them. www.NoVell\(w\)orm.c0m

Iris wondered who were they, but after

Cane's question, she seemed to grasp the situation pretty quickly.

If their father was alpha Nolan, which meant, they were Leane's siblings. Iris felt not well when she learned that. They probably only two to four years older than her.

"Just like what have stated in the letter, we are here to give you the information about what happened in the Winter Moon pack and a present, in exchange for our little boy."

"Say it."

The two of them stared at Iris. They couldn't tell, who it was, but from her scent and her figure, they knew it was a woman.

"Only one person," Amara repeated what she said earlier.

This time, Cane didn't argue, he simply turned around with Iris close with him. "I will ask one of my men to listen to what you are going to say."

Amara and Tatiana were surprised because Cane was about to leave, this was not how they expected he would react.

"Wait!"

Cane stopped and waited for them to speak, as they looked hesitated, but after some time, Amara pulled something from her pocket and stretched out her hand to Cane. It was a black dagger.

"This dagger was given by Dexter with an order to hurt you, alpha." Amara held out the dagger for Cane to take. "Dexter had ordered our father to stab your eyes with this and threatened our father with our brother's life."

"And now your brother is in my hand, he is going to betray Dexter." Cane smiled, but it didn't touch the coldness in his eyes at all.

"No, alpha Cane. Ever since the beginning our father is loyal to you and Red Claw pack. Our father will not betray you if it is not because of our brother's life was in danger."

"I can see that."

Amara tried to give the dagger to Cane, as a nice gesture, but the alpha didn't want to take it. www.NoVell\(w\)orm.c0m

"Alpha Cane, the royal family is using black magic and our father heard they revived death people. There are a lot of things that you must learn about it and our father thought what they are doing is not right. We need to stop them."

"How benevolent..." Iris muttered under her breath and only Cane could hear that.

In the end, Amara and Tatiana filled Cane with a lot of information about the movement of the royal family and what kind of black magic that lady Cyan was using.

"...as a gesture of apology from our father, he sent two presents for you, alpha Cane." Amara and Tatiana glanced at each other when Cane didn't give them any response.

The two women took a step closer toward Cane and all of a sudden, they took off their cloak, in which they didn't wear anything beneath it, exposed their nakedness.

"We will replace our little brother as your hostage. You can do whatever with us."

Amara and Tatiana offered themselves to Cane.

On the other hand, there was this pregnant woman, who was extremely unhappy with this sight.
