

Chapter 736

736 I WILL DO IT

"How is she?" Cane asked Grace, he washolding baby Rora in his arms, who kept crying. She was hungry, but Iris fell into a deep sleep, she was having a high fever ever since last night after they finished with the funeral.

"She will be fine," Grace said. "I can't use my power, so someone needs to constantly feed her the medicine, but there is side effect of it..."

"What is it?" Cane's eyes turned a few shades darker. www.NOv6Lw0r@.Co\(m\)

"With the medicine, the luna can't breastfeed Rora," Grace replied, she looked at the alpha apologetically.

"What else?" Cane asked in deep voice. He was trying to soothe Rora, but there was nothing he could do, because the baby was hungry.

"Give her some rest, she will be fine...physically," Grace then added. "what luna Iris is going through right now is more about mentally than physically. I can help with her fever, but I can't help more than that...and the crucial thing is, if your mind and heart are hurt, it will affect the body too."

What Grace wanted to say was; she could cure Iris's fever, but if she was still mentally not stable, she would keep being sick.

"Understood."

After that, Cane gave an order to call Della over so she could breastfeed baby Rora and also Hanna to accompany Iris. She needed her more than she needed Aliana this time, with that Cane gave Aliana new assignment.

"Let me do it," Laluna said when she overheard what Aliana told Della. "I will breastfeed the baby."

Della was frozen, she had her back against Laluna, but she still remembered her voice. All this time when she was in the Golden Light pack, she had always been careful not to reveal her face or identity, knowing there were handful people, who knew her.

Thankfully, they were too proud enough to even spare a glance to a maid, since she dressed like one, but being this close, Laluna would recognize her, if she still remembered her scent well.

Della immediately covered her face with the hoodie from her cloak at the same time Laluna approached them and stood next to the former queen.

"We don't know her and this is the alpha's baby that we are talking about, how we can let the baby is being breastfed by a mere servant?" Laluna spoke righteously.

Aliana took a deep breath to calm herself from lashing out. She had a lot of things to do and only came here to ask favor from Della, but it was her bad luck that Laluna overheard them. She didn't have time for this base argumentation.

"It's so rich coming from you, princess Laluna when you let wet nurse to breastfeed your baby."

Aliana crossed her arms in front of her chest, she wanted to talk 'gently' with Laluna, but her sarcasm slipped from her lips without her being able to stop it.

Hearing that, Laluna's face turned red. "I said, I will be the one, who breastfeed the baby, not the wet nurse. I am the mother of the future king of this continent, the alpha will prefer me over her."

Be kind. Be kind. Be kind.

Aliana repeated the words like spell. She needed to remind herself that Laluna's status was higher than her and she was not supposed to find trouble with her.

Yet, Aliana couldn't help it...

"So, you let a servant to breastfeed your baby, while you will breastfeed other baby? How can you let the future king of the continent to latch on someone from lower status?" Aliana then added, she knew her spell didn't work. "If the alpha wanted you to breastfeed his baby, he will ask you, princess."

Laluna's face turned even redder when she heard that sharp replied, but she lifted her chin up and walked toward the alpha and luna's quarter. "I will talk to alpha Cane myself."

Aliana blocked her way and stopped her from coming to the alpha's bedroom, she didn't want to disturb his time with the luna, especially with Iris's current condition.

"I will talk with the alpha." Aliana really wanted to get rid these shameless women, who kept hovering over her alpha.

"I heard you are busy. I will talk with alpha Cane myself, you don't need to worry." Laluna knew this was the perfect chance for her to be close with Cane, more so when she learned about Iris's condition at this moment. "Don't block my way and don't touch me, you can't touch royal family without permission, I hope you remember that." wWw.NoV6Lw0r@.Co\(m\)

wWw.NoV6Lw0r@.Co\(m\)

Aliana gritted her teeth and lowered her hand, she was about to stop Laluna by getting physical, but she reminded her of their status.

Laluna was actually not the royal descendent, she gained her status because of her late mate and now her son.

"Luna Iris has saved my son's life, this is my way to show my gratitude toward her, I will save her daughter's life."

That was what Laluna said before she walked away. In a sense, it was right for Laluna to do this favor for Iris, but Aliana was a thousand percent sure, her luna wouldn't want her precious baby to be breastfed by her.

"You don't need to worry, Aliana," Della said. She had been ignored entirely for the whole ordeal. "She is no longer lactating."

Prince Vemon was already one year old now and Laluna didn't breastfeed him, since he was born, there was no way she was still be able to breastfeed another baby right now.

"The alpha will not allow that to happen too."

"Oh, you are right." Aliana chuckled. She was too carried away with her irritation, she forgot about this fact.

Though, Aliana felt bad for the alpha to deal with another crazy woman on top of all the trouble, but there was nothing she could do.

With that, Della went to the alpha's bedroom, but she intentionally slowed down her step, so she wouldn't encounter Laluna again, while Aliana had another thing to do.

The sky was bleak, it was still afternoon, but the sun almost set since this was winter, though people were happy and relief to be able to see the normal sky again, but their happiness didn't last for long...

"I need to stay with my missy," Hanna said to Will. "Is it okay for you?" She was worried about her missy's condition, but she was also worried about Will. Though he looked fine right now, but sometime Hanna would find him hurting himself, albeit it was not as often now.

"I will be fine, don't worry." Will kissed her forehead. "I will walk you to the pack house."

Will carried the bag that Hanna had prepared and walked her to the pack house, he held her hand and listened to what she was saying, her voice, like usual, always gave him this sense of safety and comfort. It kept his negative thoughts at bay, as he stared at her.

On their way, they met with Nala, who was walking around aimlessly, she looked upset, but her eyes lit up when she saw Hanna.

"You must be Hanna, right? Iris's personal maid?" Nala approached her, they had met countless time and even had a conversation here and there, especially when Hanna followed Iris to the capital city, but right now, Nala acted like this was the first time they met and was actually very sweet when she talked with her. "May I know how is she? Is she fine? Can I see her? I want to say my condolence."

Hanna frowned, she was not that stupid to know this woman must have hidden intention for asking her missy's condition.

"My missy is fine, the alpha is taking care of her." Hanna could see the irritation in Nala's eyes and then added. "I am sure my missy doesn't want to see you and all she wanted now is being with her MATE and THEIR DAUGHTER."

Will smiled to see how Hanna gave Nala some attitude, in the past, Nala's status was higher than her and their situation wouldn't allow Hanna to act so brashly, but right now, Nala was only an inconvenience in their pack.

"Let's go!" Hanna hugged Will's arm and walked away before Nala could recover from her shock to see how rude that maid was.

"What the hell?!" Nala cursed, but Hanna and Will had walked away.

Actually Nala had been kicked out from the bedroom because Lou was in a bad mood. He couldn't get any information about Iris at all, let alone to see her. It was not sure what he wanted to know, but he wanted any form of news about her.

Nala couldn't understand his infatuation and like usual, they were butted head until the merchant kicked her off their bedroom and told her not to return until she got any news about Iris.

Nala had asked Kian, but he didn't want to reveal anything. That man upset her the most! He had slept with her, told her how he liked her, though he kept saying that their relationship was not right, but he couldn't resist her.

And yet, there was not a single peep Nala could get out of his mouth!

"Arrgh!" Nala scratched her head and squatted down. "It's cold..." she whimpered, she wanted to cry because it was so cold and she was only wearing thin robe.

She was very upset, she was angry, but at the same time she wanted to cry...

"Why everyone is so mean to me?" A single lonely tear rolled down her cheek.

www.OverLw0r@.Co\(m\)