

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 11

Ji'lahni POV: day 3

I groaned in pain. I couldn't even tell you what hurt at this point. Let's just say my arm was the least painful. "Shaw, Min, you good?" "Yea we good. you?" They both answered and asked. "Yea. I'm good." I said as I sat up on the cot that was just that a box cot no mattress and a thin a*s wool blanket. Since we've been here they have done almost everything to us except rape us because their alpha had strictly forbid it claiming that he had plans and didn't want us ruined before he was able to collect on his plans. We were battered and bruised but trust me we have done our fair share of damage since we knew they couldn't kill us or f**k us up permanently. So we fought like our life depended on it because it did. We also were trying to learn everything we could about this place. We have been on our own since we were young so we had to always make sure we knew our surroundings and also how to find each other if we came up missing and how to survive if possible until we were found with the knowledge that someone is looking for us and when we met Lynn we included her into our family so now even though we don't know how long she will take to find us we know she will be looking, and that is all that matters right now.

"So how many guards did you count today are they any new ones?" I ask Mina. Coming to my cot. "I counted 25. 2 at every exit and there is 5 exits there 4 guards on us instead of 2 like before probably because of the other day" She said with a smile. Since the 1st day here when they thought we were knocked out after they took us to the lab because they were collecting our blood we weren't exactly sure why but we do know is somehow our blood affects them in a bad way. So while they dragged us out. Shawna was able to grab a knife, when Mina distracted the guards and nurses in the lab. When they were dragging us Shawna sliced her hand and I simply got blood from my open wound and smeared some on Mina's hand. When they least expected it, we grabbed their hand so they let go of us and slapped them across face, kicked them in the balls and tried to hightail it out of there but because we didn't know the layout we didn't get far and we got f****d up for that and the men had to be transferred to the medical clinic because although wolves could heal, But our blood cause them not to be able to heal as they should. So now the men were walking around with our hand print on their faces. The only regret I have is that I didn't have my bird finger in position when I hit him. I thought Smiling to myself.

"That means that the other 11 are on the outside of the camp. And that isn't counting the chefs, nurses, and the alpha himself." OK "how many vials of our blood do they have now and what were you able to find out from nurse d**k head?" "As of now they have 36 vials and Zane plans to use us as weapons against other packs to eliminate them like some type of world domination type s***. I wasn't able to find out why only our blood affects them." Shawna shrugged. We found that piece out yesterday apparently we were the only humans with blood that could hurt a werewolf ever in history. We couldn't figure that s**t out because our history didn't have anything about werewolves or even our bloodline being anything special.

"OK here's what we all know. They are planning to use our blood as a weapon against other pack, there's 25 guards protecting the compound 4 on us and 2 on each door which are 5 exist. Ok for me I know the guards rotate shift every 22 hours they take 1 hour breaks every 6 hours. The alpha leaves the compound at 9pm every night and returns at 9am every morning from what I hear the nurse say. They exit out the back by the kitchen. So that must mean that's where lower level employees come and go which would be the best option for us if we have the opportunity to escape we would have to have a solid plan before we even attempt to try and break out. Feeling dizzy and nauseous I vomited yet again. "Hey cousin are you sure you're OK. You have been vomiting since you got here and you look like your losing weight and color." "I'm fine I told you I think because I wasn't at 100% before we got thrown in here that I have more then likely regressed and my arm must be infected. But we can't worry about that now. All we have to do is stay alive at least until we can escape or Lynn finds us. At least then I didn't want to let on but I really wasn't doing OK. And I know if we had to escape I would only slow them down that's why I had a plan on top of our plan. I would make sure they made it out alive even if it kills me. With that thought I got ready for another day of BNB aka beatings and blood.

Makahi POV: 5am

"Kahi help me she's going to kill me." I jumped up to Summer screaming in my head. "Where are you?" I asked hopping out of bed throwing on some sweats not bothering to put on a shirt. I added Hunter, Shadow, Montago and Blaze into our mindlink. "She drugged me to the med clinic." Summer screamed. I raced to the clinic seeing everyone crowding at the door I hear Summer screaming and crying from outside everyone parted as me Shadow, Hunter and Montago approached. Walking into the clinic I see Summer on her knees half shifted and looks like she's been in a hell of a fight and lost and the most interesting part is she lost to a human who was holding two blades at her throat which judging from the blood running down summer's neck she was prepared to use it.

But before I could say anything Montago roared "MATE!" The stranger eyes widen for a split second before she focused back on me. seeing Montago's struggle to control his wolf. "Montago calmed down now." I commanded using my Alpha aura to push the command he visibly settles and nods a thanks my way. I don't usually use my aura on him because he is my Beta and my best friend. Turning back to the woman making sure I remain calm because I don't want Montago to lose his s**t trying to protect his mate if that's what she was. "Can you tell me why you have your knife at my future mates throat." "Well that's simple I want to know what she has done to my friends. I haven't heard from them at all and when I got here I couldn't track them. I have been trying to reach Lateri with no luck so here I am. Seems as though this one has had it out for them from the beginning so I figured why not start with here." She said squeezing the blade tighter causing more blood to flow as Summer screams in pain. "Lynn I presume. I'm Alpha Makahi." "I know who and what you are, wolf." She said cutting me off.

Now I'm the one shocked, but why should I be if she was working with Ji'lahni and her cousins to wipe us out she would know what we are. Glancing at Montago who is barely holding his wolf in and seeing the sadness in his eyes that his mate wants to kill our kind hurts him and his wolf just as much as Ji'lahni's betrayal. Turning back to Lynn. "I'm sure you also know that we found out about your plan to wipe our kind out and you should understand that your crew had to be arrested, questioned, and will stand trial for their crime. You should also know that they confessed to the charges brought against them." I said with bile raising in my throat at the mention of the crimes they committed. Hearing my mother yelling for people to get out of the way she comes barreling in. "LYNN OH MY GODDESS!" My mother cried racing over to the girl not caring that she currently had a knife to Summer's throat she hug the girl not even trying to disarm her, hell she looked like she was trying to make sure she didn't make her lose her grip. Clearing my throat my mother finally looked at the scene before her and I could tell she smirked a little.

"Mother can you please tell your friend to let Summer go." I mindlinked "Hey she has every right to want to know where her family is and want the person responsible to pay." She responded with a shrug. "MOTHER!" I growled. "Hey watch your tone young man you may be the alpha but I'm still your mother." She said cutting me from her mind and turning to friend. "Lynn sweetie I'm glad you're here so you can help me find the girls I have been doing everything I can to find them." My mother said sadly. She definitely has been contacting all her old friends trying to find them with no help from me. "Lynn please let this i**t go so we can find the girls we will deal with her once all this is over. She said walking up to Lynn who visible sags against her. Summer took the opportunity to duck from under her Blades and scrambled over to me falling into my arms I quickly pushed her behind me still not approaching. "Now that we have that settled I would love to chat with you at our facility where we can talk safely." I said calmly "Please don't insult my intelligence I'm not going anywhere with you. But I sure as hell would love to know what the hell you think me and my friends have done to your kind." She responded which shocked my mother. She gasped and took a step back. "You knew what I was all along?"

Giving my mother a small smile. "Yes momma Lateri I have always known. My grandmother who is an ancient protector of the Asian dragon shifters she made me and my siblings train and studied the old ways of the dragon shifters, she use to tell me stories of all the shifters in existence including werewolves although I thought she was bat s**t crazy until I met you. That's why I didn't come when the girls came I went to visit my grandmother. I needed to know everything about your kind in order to make sure we were safe. I allowed them to come because I trusted that you would protect them until I got here." She finished sadly. My mom face looked guilt ridden as though she had somehow let her down she broke down crying and Lynn embraced her telling her it wasn't her fault but looking at me and Montago with hatred.

"Did the girls know about us?" My mother asked. Lynn shook her head. "No they didn't know I didn't tell them because my grandmother always told me no one can know about your existence because it would put not only them in danger but also the shifter community. So I didn't tell them and I'm upset that I didn't because they are more of a family to me then my own and I left them vulnerable to be attacked and imprisoned by likes of your son and his dumb a*s mate." She said looking at me.

“They are where they belong because you and your friends are trying to kill us with your tainted blood.” Summer yelled feeling brave now that she had backup. Frowning. “What the hell are you talking about you crazy b***h. The only one they would probably want to kill is your dumb a*s but please understand that option is still on the table if anything happens to my friends.” She sneered at Summer. “Wait so they didn’t know th that we were wolves? So why did they inject themselves with a substance that can hurt us?” I asked urgently my wolf was pacing my heart was racing afraid her answer would make me wrong about everything. “What? Inject something in their blood. First and most important Shawna is deathly afraid of needles she wouldn’t allow anyone near her with a needle. we have to go with her to get blood drawn every year and she always has to be held down.” Lynn smiled at the thought. “And what the hell would they even Inject into themselves to harm you if they didn’t even know wolves existed.” Lynn said angrily my mother hands Lynn the test results she got from the nurse behind the desk. Lynn reads the test and her eyes widen in shock at what she sees. “You think because they have whatever this is in their blood that they somehow we want to kill werewolves? Even if that were true how the hell would they accomplish that without killing themselves in the process. You all are fools.” Lynn said rolling her eyes.

“Excuse me excuse me please allow me into my clinic why on earth is everyone crowding into my waiting area.” The doc said worming his way through the crowd stopping short when he reaches me. “Oh I’m sorry alpha I didn’t know you were here. Actually I’m glad you are though. I just got back and wanted to share my findings. He said clearly not reading the room. Pulling folders out of his brief case he opened the file. “Alpha I ran every test known to man trying to figure out why the human women’s blood affected us and it turns out they have traces of wolfbane in there systems.” The Doc finished and the whole entire room damn near fainted.

“OH MY GOD! That is why yall have locked my friends away like criminals because yall found traces of wolf bane?” Lynn said through all the loud chatter. “Yes because wolf bane can be deadly to werewolves.” I said angrily. “s**t! This is all kinds of f****d up there has been a big mistake.” Lynn said worriedly. “There has been no mistake the Doc just proved that you and your friends were trying to kills us and you need to be locked in a cage along with them.” Summer spoke loudly and had other pack members nodding in agreement and growling. Lynn’s hands reached for her blades taking a step back. I can’t feel Montago’s wolf Diago pushing forward.” Everyone quiet Summer I am the Alpha and I say what will be done know your place or be out in the cellars until you do. Is that clear to everyone.” I said releasing my Alpha’s aura. Turning to face Lynn would you car to explain why is it that you and the others have wolf bane in your system? Crossing my arms over my chest.

Lynn looked worried for a second but quickly held her head high and spoke with confidence. “5 years ago after we graduated from college we decided before we start our careers we would travel to different countries and tour old ruins and learn about ancient history we love learning about history. We took a tour in London where the tour guide an old native Americans woman told us about different types of plants and flowers that had healing properties. she told us about a bunch of different remedies and plants. Once we reached Europe we took a tour through a old ruin that was said to be the home of some Greek God’s while we were walking we came across a beautiful purple plant that looked like one of the plant the old native woman told us that would make our skin look useful and glow. We are girls in our 20's so of course we would try anything to maintain our youthful look. Once we finished the tour. we grind the flower into powder and made tea. When we tasted it, it was bitter as hell but black folks always found a way, so we added loads of sugar and drank it fast. After we finished the tea about 15 minutes in we became very ill. I remember feeling like my entire body was on fire and it felt like my skin was melting off. Ji'lahni passing out had us calling the local hospital by the time they got to us we were all passed out. Which is the last thing we remember until we woke up.

They told us that we should all be dead but by some miracle we weren't that's when we found out that we ingested wolfbane and that somehow the sugar we added counteracted the poison and toxins and made it weaker somehow. The doctors couldn't explain it because they have never had a case where someone actually lived. they told us that we will always have traces of wolfbane in our system and they couldn't tell us if it will one day affect us but asked us to get bloodwork yearly and notify them if we develop side effects. We never have and we just put it behind us as a freak accident." She Finished with a shrug. I could barely breath with what she just told me my head felt like it would explode the way my wolf howled in pain at what my mate must have been going through how much she may have suffered at the hands of Alpha Zane I have heard how evil and sick he was.

"You lying b***h kahi you can't believe that farce of a story." Summer said grabbing my arm trying to get my attention but I can only keep replaying Lynn's words over and over in my head. Actually that does coincide with my finding Alpha. When I first found out what was in their blood it intrigued me to further my research. I checked every hospital that has had wolfbane emergencies where people who came into contact with the plant and almost every hospital that has had a case of wolfbane the people always died except for 1 instance in Europe where 4 human women were brought in because they accidentally ingested wolfbane but they miraculously survived. The doctors couldn't explain why and was shocked that the women had no side effects at all so what this young lady said is true." The doctor finally looks up at us as we all stared at him. My breathe was stuck in my throat If what the Doc and Lynn said was true then that means I was wrong about Ji'lahni and she was..... "So you're saying that they accidentally ingested wolfbane that they didn't know wolves existed?" Montago asked the doctor directly he visibly swallow "Uh. I would almost guarantee that they have no idea about our kind but it is very urgent that I get Ji'lahni in here to run test she may be experiencing side effects now that her body is changing." The doctor said urgently.

"What the hell are you talking about doc we can't change human into wolves with a scratch." I said angrily losing my patience. "Oh no Alpha she isn't turning into a werewolf thats crazy. She's pregnant. Almost 2 weeks to be exact and by my calculations she was here when she conceived so it is quite possible that she carrying a pup. If she's still pregnant that is because of the wolfbane in her blood there is no way to tell if she would be able to carry a pup along with not knowing if a human woman can carry a pup to term." Hearing the doc's words hit me in the gut and it felt like all the air was being sucked out of my lung as my mind tunneled down memory lane to the first night Ji'lahni came home from the hospital my c**k was so achingly hard that it was leaking pre c*m from just being that close to her and smelling her arousal I only got half way in before I stopped it. Could I have gotten her pregnant that night. Can human women give birth to pups. How is any of this possible. "Doc how is any of this even possible?" Montago asked before I could form words. "Well beta I intend to find out as soon as I can get miss Ji'lahni back at the clinic. Is she still staying at your house Luna? I could check her out over there. He said eagerly. Finally finding my voice but it wasn't only my voice it was my wolf as well. In a deep gravel tone. "She isn't here. I allowed an evil son of a b***h take my woman and my pup." I sneered. Maka also coming forward half shifting.

Everyone gasp I heard Summer cry out. "How could you? How could you sleep with that fat bitch." Summer screamed angrily. Grabbing her by the throat. "You will respect the woman carrying your future alpha. I understand your anger but you will respect Ji'lahni or leave your choice." I said my eyes changing color to that of my wolf. "How can you say that to me after everything we've been to each other. You don't even know if she's still pregnant or even if she's still alive. Summer sneered "you better pray to the goddess that she is unharmed you're the reason your uncle has them." I said letting her dropped to the ground. Turning to Montago who was staring at Lynn unsure of what to do. "Montago I know you need to handle things with Lynn so I won't make you go while I search for the girls. You can stay and sort things out with Lynn." I said to my beta.

"Uh excuse me I don't know what Lynn he will be talking to. But lynndoria will be continuing the search for her friends." She said crossing her arms over her chest. Montago whipped his head angrily then he went up to Lynn. So close she had to look up to be eye to eye with Montago. "I forbid it! It is too dangerous. we're dealing with werewolves men. I can't very well do my duty as Beta if I'm worrying about you." Frowning at him. "Listen and you listen good. You will never in this life or the next, think that you can tell me what I can and cannot do. Those are my friends and I will continue looking for them with or without your help." She said going around Montago but before she walked pass he grabbed her arm. Without anyone seeing or noticing we heard Montago gasp everyone looked down at the blade she had pointed at his side. "You need to let my arm go you're wasting precious time. I don't want any man or wolf if they don't value what I care about most which is my friends and my family." With that's said she snatched her arm out of Montago's grasp.

"You can't seriously be thinking of going to rescue those humans? You don't even know if any of this is even true." Summer said standing in front of me as I turn to walk out behind Lynn. Looking down at her. I didn't have time to explain anything to her. "Summer step aside we'll discuss this when I return." I said stepping around her. I can hear her screaming in anger but I ignored her because my only focus was finding my woman and my pup. I never felt so much love for someone I didn't even know but hearing I have a pup the love I felt was instant. Knowing that Ji'lahni and my baby was at the mercy of alpha Zane made my blood boil. The need to protect them had my wolf pacing and lusting for blood. "Everyone to the pack house we need a plan."

Once we were settled in the meeting room. I looked around at my men who were all barely able to keep their wolves in check because of the need to protect their future alpha my pup he is the future of our pack. All alphas only births sons it's the way the moon goddess ensures that our alpha bloodline is strong and fearless a protector and a provider for our packs. “Now that we’re all here we need a plan that will get the women out safely. In order to do that we need to find them and then we need a plan of attack. We know the secret facility will be heavily guarded. So we will need to scout before we attack once we find them we will have to be quick about it they have already been there for days. We have no time to waste especially with one of them pregnant and not knowing it. We know where his borders are so its safe to assume that his secret facility is near by knowing him the way we do we know he will want to have access to the facility so he can come and go as he pleases.” I said pacing back and forth. “If you know that then I will be able to find them from there once we’re close.” Lynn said and we all turned to her almost forgetting she was there. “How?” Montago asked.

“Well when we decided to travel to different countries we wanted to make sure that if we got separated or worse we could find each other so we got locator chips put in under our skin. I hadn’t been able to get a signal from them so they must be out of range. But I’m sure once we’re close I will be able to pick up a signal.” She answered. Damn our women were smart i thought my adrenaline was at an all time high. “Well let’s move Shadow assemble a team that will go and the rest will stay and protect the borders we leave in 30 minutes.” I pray to God we’re not to late. As I prepare to get my mate and my pups back.

Chapter 12

Ji’lahni POV:

Yea. I need to up the time-line I’m getting weaker and sicker by the day and so were Shawna and Mina they both looked like they hadn’t eating in days and I could tell they were losing hope of ever getting out. I already face the fact that I wasn’t getting out of here, understand I wasn’t ok with it but I couldn’t live the fact that we would all die because I slowed them down. I was vomiting, dizzy, and I ached all over. My arm wasn’t healing but I was able to move it but it was super ugly. The people in the lab try and clean it saying that they didn’t want the infection getting into the blood they collected. So Zane allowed them to clean it with soap and water. I feel like he wanted to keep me in a weaken state I guess less trouble for him.

“Hey we are getting out of here tonight.” I whispered. Shawna and Mina crawled over to my cot I sat up painfully. “Why now? what’s the plan?” They both asked. “The longer we stay the weaker we become so we need to make a break for it before we won’t have the strength to do it. We wait for the shift change so we know there will be no one coming in to relieve them until break time. Theo will be on shift because he always comes every 3 nights he’s the one who treats us fairly decent. I’ll act sick then Mina you ask for some water once he opens the door and steps inside Shawna you push him towards me and I’ll use the blood that we have been collecting ourselves weaken him and knock him out. We dip pieces of our torn clothes in it and wrap our hands and dip our finger tips in order to take down the 3 guards you will have to be quick so make sure blood is on you finger tips really well because you will need to go for the eyes. Once you blind the first two guards then quickly deal with the last one the one with the limp. Mina you go for the bad leg and Shawna you punch him in the head to knock his a*s out we grab their keys, and wallets. Then we head to the kitchen where the workers will be gone there we will only spend 10 seconds finding any type of weapons, food, and water that we can carry so Shawna you find the weapons I'll find the food and mina find water.

Then we head for the exit where we know two guards will be once we open the door we will have to use the surprise to take them down quickly. There will be no way to hide once the door to the facility is open so we attack the two guards at the door the alarms are going to be blarring by then but we need to get to the exit closest to the wooded area. We have to be quick timing is everything. Who ever we encounter will be stronger then us so we will need to fight smarter not harder because we will need our strength to run as far away as we can.

We are getting the hell out of here. We got this we need to get our rest eat whatever they bring to get our strength up. They thought they could break us but they don't know who the f**k they're dealing with." I said as I see the hope and determination in their eyes which is what I needed to see. I love them with all my heart I wish I could tell them that but I know they would pick up on what I was planning. So I just said it silently and I faced away from them and let the tears fall.

We all jump up when we heard the guards chatting it up with the guards who will be taking their place for their 12 hour shift. We glanced at each other and went to the hole behind Mina cot that we stored our blood in. We dug the hole with the spoons they gave us when they feed us. we had ripped the bottom of our shirts off days ago to wrap my arm in we soaked our hands and then the rags and wrapped them up and then we soaked them again. That done Shawna went into position by the door and me and Mina went to my cot now it's show time. Taking a deep breath I stuck my bloody fingers down my throat and threw up what little food I ate it wasn't hard I was going to puke it up anyway so I started the show early.

"Hey guard my cousin is sick she's throwing up can you please get her some help? The mean ugly bastard came to the cut out window. We called him lil d**k because he looked like a bodybuilder the kind that be in those competitions. "Suck it up there is nothing wrong with her it's just a little vomit." Lil d**k said laughing. Rolling her eyes. "Well can you at least get her se water?" "Yea I'll give her some water alright how about I come in and piss in her mouth that's water right." Lil d**k burst out laughing as the others join in. "Will you stop being an a*****e for once move I'll give her my water bottle." Theo said pushing lil d**k from the door.

As he opens the door and steps in Mina hops up and move closer to the door as he steps in to hand me the water. Shawna pushes him with all her mite he did exactly what we wanted which was for him to stumble in shock hitting to ground hard. They didn't wait to see if he fell they knew to focus on their mission Shawna dove on lil d**k and went straight for his eyes then nuts and Mina did the same knocking them out before limpy could react and get out his chair they both attack him while the other two guards lay limped on the floor. Theo stumbled and hit the floor I grabbed him, I really didn't want to hurt him but I had no choice we needed to get out. Ironically he didn't even try to fight back which gave me pause. I know hesitation would get us all killed. "Go ahead do it I won't fight you I hated what they were doing to you but I had no choice." He said sadly. Deciding I didn't want to blind him I chose to knock his a*s out and lock him in.

We grabbed their keys they didn't have wallets but oh well we had to move quick I could already feel my body declining but I had to push myself at least until I got them out. I had the halls mentally down pat in my head I was always looking around and I would always try and break loose not to escape but to get as much information about this place as I can. So I knew where the kitchen was. We ran as fast as we could to the kitchen. "10 seconds starting now we count out loud to keep track we all run to wear we thought our target items were. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10. We all come back with everything Shawna found 14 knives in all sizes so I let them tucked knives in each back pocket, the small knives went between rags on their hand. I grabbed the last two it wasn't strange to them that I allowed them to get all the knives because of my injured arm I stuff one in my back pocket and carried the other in my other hand. We took a deep breath because we know this was the moment of truth the guards that was guarding us have probably recovered enough to get back up and alert other. We made quick work of the keys we knew that there was a master key that they all had that open all the doors. We found the key to the door and stormed out just as the alarm sounded throughout the camp. That's when all hell broke loose.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 13

Makahi POV:

"Is everyone in position. We have to make sure that we aren't spotted." I said via mindlink. We arrived at Zane's borders an hour ago. We set up camp downwind about 1 mile away under the cover of the forest we had a clear view of the camp from here I sent out scouts to surround the compound in order to get a layout of the entire compound we didn't want any surprises once we attack. We were out numbered, it was 1 wolf for every 2 wolves. We hadn't seen any sign of Alpha Zane but it didn't matter one way or the other. Montago stuck close to Lynn I knew where ever she was going so was he. She was right about the signals once we were within 500 miles of the camp she was able to pinpoint their exact location. So we knew exactly where the girls were but didn't know how many were on the inside guarding them that was the biggest hurdle. "We need to take out as many wolves as we can without being detected. So that mean we start from the back and work our way up. Whatever team reaches an entry door let us know don't wait for us we need to cover ground as much as we can as fast as we can communication is key here we will have scouts watching and covering our back letting us know what's coming. Once inside we separate into 2 groups one to search and rescue the girls which will be me, Shadow, Montago, and Lynn and the second group is on search and attack take out as many wolves as you can once we have the girls we meet back at the entrance and get the hell out. Once we're in the scouts will get the trucks and be ready to load up at the designated location and get the hell out here. The doc gathered all his finding and is taking them directly to the counsel for review to get them cleared of all the charges. Shadow yo..... WHAT THE HELL IS THAT." I yelled as the sound of sirens blarring coming from the compound.

"Alpha it looks like something is going on the guards are scrambling to the East side of the camp." One of the scouts mindlinked. "What the hell it looks like the girls are moving towards the back of the compound." Lynn said as she showed me the screen of her mobile. Damn it that's the same way my scout just mentioned. "s**t they have spotted us and trying to move the girls, or the girls are trying to escape either way we have no time let's move!" I said and mindlinked at the same time. We all shifted at once. I glanced at Montago as he shift and Lynn easily hopped onto his back as he shifted they already moving as a unit without even realizing it that's because Montago didn't question his other half as I did and because of that my mate and my pup are in danger. With renewed determination I headed for my mate. I just hope she can forgive me once I get her to safety.

Just as we reach the clearing I see my men attacking the guards who had their backs turned heading towards the East entrance. I easily kill 2 wolves on my way to the entrance when all of a sudden I hear howling. I whip my head around to see my wolves being shot with guns, but they should have been able to heal and expell the bullets but for some reason they aren't. "Listen up they have some type of gun that has bullets we can't expel or heal from watch your back. Storm and Blaze get the wounded to the trucks Montago Shadow with me." I mindlinked just as we rounded the corner my heart stops I see Ji'lahni, Mina and Shawna fighting 4 wolves just outside the compound door they still hadn't made it to the fence which was at least a half of football field away. I see a wolf knocked Ji'lahni down and had her pinned but Mina was right their and sliced his throat. Blood boiling I rip to shred every wolf in my path. my wolf is almost feral as we kill each wolf 1 by 1. "Shawna, Mina, Ji'lahni" Lynn screamed the women looked up for brief second and they looked relived and crying they began running to the entrance.

Ji'lahni was lagging behind them holding her arm that looked horrible which only angered Maka even more. She looked paled and weaker then the others but I see determination. "ALPHA WATCH OUT!" Shadow mindlinked and growled just as I felt a hot bullet tear through my front leg my fur felt like it was on fire. Shadow ripped the arm off the wolf holding the gun in human form. "ALPHA ARE YOU ALRIGHT?" Shadow yelled through mindlink. "I'LL BE FINE GO RESCUE OUR WOMEN!" I yelled my shoulder was completely useless, Maka's stride was much slower but he blocked the pain because he knew we needed to get to Ji'lahni. Montago and Lynn were now at the gate trying to rip it open. When all of a sudden we see a helicopter appearing suddenly hovering inside the compound.

Alpha Zane leaped out and shift to his wolf before he hits the ground quickly gaining on the girls. As Maka reached the gate it seems like everything slowed down. Hearing the helicopter the girls turned to see Zane closing in on them, I hear Ji'lahni screamed to the others "RUN!" That snapped them out of their stupor and they turn to run without hesitating. Maka tore through the gate just as Ji'lahni stopped running with tearing streaming down her face in acceptance. The gate was ripped open and the girls were nearly to the gate and didn't notice Ji'lahni had stopped but I can see her mouth "I love you" before turning and running in the opposite direction picking up a gun from one of the fallen guards and started shooting like a pro she was a hell of a shot I broke out into a dead run forgetting my front leg was bleeding even more. I know I was far to slow because I was losing too much blood and energy.... I hear Lynn screaming "No!" As Montago held her back the girls stopped and turned seeing that Ji'lahni had turn around racing towards the guards that were chasing them. Shadow and Hunter reaches them just as they turn to get back to Ji'lahni. They were fighting trying to get loose. I let out a howl that shook the ground just as Ji'lahni pointed the gun at Zane who had stopped when he saw the gun in her hand she pulls the trigger and it only clicked realizing that she had no more bullets she turns and her eyes lands on me just as Zane eyes also lands on me. He shifted and lands a blow to the back of her head and she crumbles to the ground. Zane hurried and scooped up Ji'lahni's and raced to the helicopter as I rip through the remaining guards.

"Alpha we have to go they have more guards coming we have to get out. NOW!" I hear Montago yell from behind me killing guards beside me. He grabs me and I snapped and growl at him. "Alpha, please we need get out of here she's gone we can regroup and come back." Montago said he was now in human form because we had killed the guards that were there. Maka was feral I felt my control slipping and we were in so much pain not from the bullet but from the pain of seeing Ji'lahni sacrifice herself to save her family. Why would she do something so stupid Maka howled and growled in pain before we collapsed into darkness. I had lost too much blood my eyes were so heavy I couldn't open them but I could hear yelling. "Don't you f*****g touch me. I will never forgive you for this." I hear someone say as I fight to regain consciousness but I was swallowed back into the peaceful darkness where no pain was.

The next time I escaped the darkness I was able to open my eyes and when I looked around I noticed I was in a hospital bed. I groaned and the omega nurses turns to look at me. "Where am I?" I asked as one of the omega nurses called out to the doc. He rushed over as I tried to sit up. "Calm down alpha your still pretty weak from your wound now that you're up you should be able to shift in a few hours to heal completely." The doctor said. "What's going on why are we back here where's." I stopped as the memories came flooding back like a picture book flicking through every scene. I growled so loud the entire room trembled. "Aaaalpha please calm down you're still weak from your gunshot wound." The doc said which stocked me looking down I see where a bullet hole was in my shoulder why the hell didn't it heal I frowned confused. Seeing me looking at the wound. "Alpha it seems as though Alpha Zane has used the girls blood to manufacture a bullet that can wound or kill other wolves. We have informed the counsel and everyone is looking for him." The doc said unhooking me from the medical machines.

Bursting through the door my mother and father rushed in crying and hugging me followed by Montago, Lynn, Shadow, Shawna, Hunter, and Mina but the one person I wished would walk through that door wasn't and it was because of me. "How are you feeling son? My father asked why my mother treated me like I was her little pup again. "I'm fine dad I need to get out of here and find Ji'lahni I want all the reports from everyone who is helping to search for Zane. "Son you were hurt pretty bad how about you rest and allow everyone to search for Zane." My father said with a look of concern. "NO! I have to find my mate and my pup." I said grabbing the sweatpants turning to the doc. "Is all of the poison out of my system can I shift and heal?" "Yes technically but I'm not sure your strong enough to shift just yet." He said as I took a deep breathe Maka was anything but weak I shifted and the wounds almost healed instantly I left the clinic and headed to the pack house and shift as I claimed the steps. With everyone behind me.

I didn't acknowledge any of them my main focus was finding Ji'lahni I was going to find her and kill alpha Zane. Picking up the report that was on my desk. I hear Summer yelling and running past my guard and bursting through the door throwing herself into my arms I didn't return her hug she step back with tears in my eyes. "I'm so glad you're OK. Your parents wouldn't let me see you at the clinic. I was so worried about you. I told you it was a bad idea to go to my uncle's compound. Now that you got the human women back we can get back to normal and continue on with our mating ceremony. I know you're shocked but I decided to forgive you for everything. The way it worked out must be a sign of how it was suppose to work out. I think we shouldn't wait too long to mate I was thinking next week."

Before I could think Maka came forward and grabbed Summer by the throat and threw her against the wall. "Do you really think I would mate the woman who's responsible for my mate and my pup being taken from me. You stand here and tell me that it was a sign that my mate and my pup were taken from me. I said squeezing her throat, with fear in her eyes she clawed at my hands which was elongating. "Alpha please calm down she isn't worth it." Montago came to stand between me and Summer. "Get her away from me." I said turning back towards my desk to the reports on my desk. "Summer I want to know every location your family owns and have every visited please do not lie or withhold anything. Think of this as a life or death situation for you. I know 3 women that are ready and willing to kill you without a second thought." She gasped. "You can't mean that Kahi we're supposed to mate. How can you be so cold to me after everything." She cries but I feel nothing for her nothing at all only resentment. Turning to meet her eyes. "I mean every word. Your uncle has my mate and my pup. That's all I care about if you don't understand anything else understand that." I said meeting her eye to eye.

Just then we here a commotion outside along with a few grunts and howls. Bursting through the door Lynn Mina and Shawna barges in. "About damn time sleeping beauty. Now that you're back let's get the f**k outta here and go find my cousin." Lynn said crossing her arm over her chest. She glanced at Montago her eyes soften for a split second before they landed on Summer who was clinging to Montago Lynn frowned and all you saw was hatred turning back to me her face now devoid of any emotion. "All we need is to get within range of where they are for the locator chip to pick up a signal. We have been following leads and we have come up empty." Lynn said as they all came around my desk. Really looking at Mina and Shawna for the first since they came in. They look battered and bruised and weak but they also looked angry and determined. I can only hope that Ji'lahni was still alive I don't know what I would do if she wasn't and although I hadn't marked her I feel like she's alive I would know somehow if she wasn't.

"She's alive. He won't kill her he's infatuated with her for some reason. I think it has something to do with all the information your girlfriend was feeding him." Shawna sneered glancing towards Summer who was looking down avoiding eye contact. "What do you mean feeding information? what is she talking about Summer?" I said directing my gaze to Summer. "Oh didn't your girlfriend tell you. Ji'lahni told us that she's the one who started all of this she's the one who told her uncle about Ji'lahni and her blood she's the one who convinced your guard to call her uncle and have us arrested all because she was jealous and how you were attracted to Ji'lahni." Shawna said as she took a step towards Summer but Shadow held her in place. "You can't believe anything this filthy human says they're just trying to tear us apart don't you see that none of this would be happening if it wasn't for them." Summer screamed hysterically.

"ENOUGH!" I yelled using my Alpha aura I really don't have time to deal with any of this Ji'lahni is out there somewhere with a psycho. "I don't care about any of that right now all I want to do is get Ji'lahni back. Summer write down all the property your family has owned or visited." I said with my alpha aura I don't have time to ask more than once. Looking at the people in my room. "I know I would be wasting my time telling you girls to stay while we look for Ji'lahni so I won't. Montago call our friend Rico and arrange for a helicopter we can cover more ground that way. Shadow gather our best warrior and arrange guards to protect the borders while we're gone everyone is dismissed, except Lynn, Mina, and Shawna." I said reading the report from the information we gathered from other packs about their run in with Alpha Zane there were quite a long list of packs who have had issues with him. I look up after hearing the door click closed.

The girls sat in the chair across from my desk I leaned back to observe them carefully you could tell they have been through a lot but it didn't break them I couldn't help but admire them. "I know you have given your report to my Beta and I know by now you know that we're werewolves. But I want to hear everything that happened at that camp especially Ji'lahni I know they told you she was pregnant. But I don't know if you know.." "We know we knew the moment they told us she was pregnant. We have tons of questions especially you being a werewolf and all but from what we are told you all know just as much as we do. Which is why it's important we get her back. Once we do we plan to kill her so you all might not ever get any answers. We are angry that she sacrificed herself to save us. We're angry because we were so battered emotionally, mentally, and physically to know what she had planned to do. She was very sick and weaker than us we figured that it was because her arm was getting worse and not better even with them cleaning it occasionally.

They would always pick her randomly which we found out was only because Zane would try and get her to be his mate. She was afraid he would force her into it, we don't know what that means to werewolves but we don't think it's anything good. They drew so much blood from us that we would often pass out and did a few times. But Ji'lahni always fought when she felt either of us struggling she knew they wouldn't beat her as bad because Zane would kill anyone who had but they found clever ways to hurt her. The day we broke out it was really bad for her I think that's why she decided we would escape that day, she must think she doesn't have much time left. She doesn't know she's pregnant if she did she would fight to her last breathe but if Zane took her and tries to force her she may think she only have one way out because she would die before she allow anyone to force themselves on her. It's been 24 hrs and each hour that passes the less likely we are to find her. We have to find her she is all we have left."Mina said as they cried. I felt sorrow lodged in my throat almost choking me as pictures of the day before when I saw her right before Zane took her it was acceptance and sadness she recognized me even in wolf form. But she's not dead my pup isn't dead I know it Maka would feel it I don't know how or why but I just know she's alive. "Don't worry we will find her and I will allow you to kill my mate right after I do for putting herself in danger. She is alive I know it so let's stop wasting time and go find her." I said getting up heading for the door.

"Montago get everyone ready we leave in 30." I mindlinked. "Alpha may I have a word with you? The doc ask as I was making my way to the trucks to make sure we have everything we need to rescue my mate. "Yea doc make it quick we're leaving in an half hour." "Yes of course I was wanting to know if I could come along you will need me if miss Nelson is badly hurt. There is so much we don't know about because a human has never been pregnant by a wolf let alone the fact that they are 2 babies and there has never been an instant where an alpha has ever fathered a girl pup. So I want to." "STOP!" I said feeling light headed and confused. "Did you say I'm having a girl and boy pup? She having twins? How is that even possible our women only have 1 pup and they barely make it and no alpha has even birth a daughter. How is this possible?" "Yes indeed it has never happened which is why I think its important that I be there. I have done some test on there blood to see what the anomaly was I think the wolfband some how changed their genetic makeup to the point that they can obviously become our mate and bare our pups I also think them being human somehow made it possible for an alpha to have a girl pup. Humans are fascinating beings. If she is indeed still pregnant I will need to check the pups immediately to see if they're in distress because of the wolfbane in their blood. My team and I think that if they survive, wolfbane won't affect them as they do us. They are also comparing the she wolves blood to her blood to see if there is something that we can create to increase the chances of her surviving the pregnancy and birth of your pups." He said well I stood there in shocked silence.

I was listening but was in a state of shock hearing everything the doc said. I was having a girl pup along with my boy pup I cant believe any of this is happening and I don't have time to figure it out or ask questions. "Be ready in 20 minutes and meet us at the entrance." I said not waiting for a reply. I was focused now more then ever to get my mate and my pups away from that sick twisted bastard. If he thought for one second that he would mark my woman he is sadly mistaken. I didn't tell the girls what it meant when werewolves mate because that would only make them worry more and I needed them focused in order for us to get Ji'lahni back and we will get her back I said with death and determination in my eyes. Ji'lahni hold on baby I'm coming for you.

Ji'lahni POV :

Why does my eyes feel like they're glued together and my head feels like I been hit with a 2x4. This is f****d up. I feel like when you die you shouldn't still be in pain. Unless I'm in hell. And even then I feel like you should at least be able to plead your case. I'm just saying. "Well I see someone is trying to wake up. It's about time I was beginning to worry honey." Honey? I don't remember being nobody's honey, no honey bear, honey suckle, honey bun, honey Bunny, no honey at all. So who is he talking to. My mind is in a fog the voice I heard was familiar but I couldn't put a face to it. Cracking my eyes open trying to see who is talking so I can tell them to shut the f**k up because all his loud talking was killing my head. But who I saw looking down at me made my stomach drop. No no no no this is what I was trying to avoid. How could this happen I was sure the wolf guards were going to kill me. "Where am I?" I asked in a hoarse voice my mouth felt like I have been licking desert sand. "Here drink some water, you're on my private jet we're going to a remote island that I acquired a few years ago. It's beautiful there you're going to love it. I have built a beautiful home there that you can decorate however you like you won't have to worry about anything I have a full staff who's ready and waiting for your arrival to make sure you have everything you need." Zane said like he didn't just knock my a*s out.

There is no way in hell I'm still with this sick nut cracker that held me and cousins hostage for the past few days. I would have spit my water out if it wasn't so good. After drinking the water I looked around trying to make sense of everything. "Why are you doing this?" I asked looking back at him confused. "Because when my niece first told me about you I was curious to say the least we have never allowed humans to stay in our community. We have had deliveries and such but never overnight guest and I heard about how you fought those rogue wolves that I sent to attack Alpha Makahi's pack I admit I was very intrigued by you." He smiled evilly. "So it was you behind the rogue attacks. Why would you do that to your own kind?" I asked looking at him like his crazy not to mention he was actually crazy. "Why power of course. if I weaken all the packs while mine stayed strong and easily disregarded the rogues then the counsel would see that having all the pack under my control would be beneficial to our survival. Then I would control the future of all werewolves and finally show the world who we are and that we're the superior beings. We would no longer have to hide who we are or live in fear of being discovered." he finished like a real life villain yes just like every TV villain.

"Yea you're a wacko. You understand that we as humans may not have the same natural abilities as werewolves but we are resilient and have survived countries that should have whipped us out but we still manage to survive and thrive and win in spite of everything that's thrown at us." I said looking at him like he has lost his mind. "That may be true. But those idiots failed because they tried to kill you're kind. I don't plan to kill you. Well not all of you anyway killing humans isn't the goal. I plan to use your kind to build and create a new world order and once you and I are mated we will rule this world together." He said with a smile of delight at the thought of his plan coming true. Bursting out laughing because he was obviously joking about that last part. "There is no way in the entire realm of hell that I would ever mate or anything with you. I would die before I do that." I said confidently because that was my plan since we were captured and I started getting sick. So whatever plan he got was never going to happen. I look over at him and he was still smiling like he didn't believe me. "I doubt that you want to die and leave you cousins or your pup behind." he sneered.

I frowned my pup what the hell is he ta...talking.... “You mean Razor he isn’t my pup. Isn’t that your nephew or something?” I mean I know he loony but he can’t be that crazy. “Not Razor he is actually my grandson my Son’s pup he and his mate were killed by rogues less then a year ago. When I found and slaughtered the rogues that killed my son the others begged for their lives and that’s when I figured I could use them to execute my plan. He said with a mixture of emotions from sadness, vengeance, to evil. But hold up if he wasn’t talking Razor then wh....” So what pup are you talking about if not Razor?” I asked suspiciously. He smiled got up and went to the bar and poured him a shot of tequila before turning towards me still smiling. “Congratulations you’re pregnant. It was on your medical report that I paid top dollar for.” He answered.

“You’re lying there is no way I’m pregnant and for damn sure not pregnant with a pup. I don’t even think that is humanly possible. And by wh.....” I stopped as I remembered that first night I got out of the hospital in the bathroom with Makahi I’m not dumb I know about pre c*m and it being more potent then the actual s***m that happens when men o****m. Is that why I have been sick. Is my baby ok I know that my blood hurts wolve and if my baby is part wolf is it OK? I question as I start to hyperventilate my breathing became erratic my head is throbbing I need some air I need to get out of here I thought getting up only for the floor to decide they wanted a hug from me. I hear Zane calling my name but the darkness also needed a hug from me too I thought as I passed out.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 14

Makahi POV: 3 months later

“THEY DIDN’T JUST VANISH OFF THE FACE OF THE EARTH! SOMEONE HAS TO KNOW SOMETHING!” I yelled in frustration pacing the office in the pack house. I have practically moved in here since Ji’lahni was kidnapped. We have check every property or house that Zane or his family has ever owned or visited. We have even raided his territory and some of his allies. All we know is he somehow always manages to sneak in and out of the country without our scout knowing it. I was struggling to keep it together I know my temper is out of control but my wolf is in physical pain without my mate and my pups. I don’t know if they’re OK or if they’re... I refuse to finish that thought they are alive I know it I just need one chance to find any valuable entail on alpha Zane’s whereabouts.

“Alpha we need to talk.” Montago came into the office. I have pretty much allowed him to run the pack. I needed to focus on finding Ji’lahni. Barely looking up from the map that I had spread across my desk circling areas we haven’t check and putting x’s on places we have. “What is Montago? I’m busy. I told you to handle any pack business and things you don’t know ask my father.” “I know. But this isn’t about pack business this is about you.” He said coming to sit in one of the chairs across from my desk. I looked up at him confused. Leaning back in my chair I wait for him to speak. “Look I understand how much finding Ji’lahni means to you.” “Do you really understand because as I see it you have your mate and although you haven't marked her yet you still have a bond and she is here safe and sound and currently not carrying your pups that may or may not have been killed or her killing them because of her blood, but you don't know because a sick Psycho son of a b***h doesn't want to mate and mark her. How can you possibly understand. Please enlighten me on your understanding of how I feel." I finished breathing hard trying to reign in my wolf who wanted to rip Montago's throat out.

"Sorry Alpha I meant no disrespect. I just wanted you to know everyone is worried about you. The pack members are becoming concerned, you're right I can't imagine the pain you and your wolf is feeling. But as your best friend since we were pups I damn sure know some of the pain your feelings because as your beta our bond is close enough that I can feel some of your pain and it kills me." Montago says with sadness in his eyes. I know as my Beta our bond is different from the rest of the pack. As an Alpha I can feel when one of my pack members die. But Montago and I could feel much more, I could feel if Montago is in severe pain and he can feel mine as well. "I know everyone wants me to move on but I just can't until I know what happened to them. I can't give up on them until I know. I have made so many mistakes denying our bond leaving her vulnerable to be taken not believing in her innocence, even my mother had more faith in her then I did she never lost faith but I did and she was torched, beaten, and goddess knows what else when they were in that camp because of me. Then I failed her again when she felt she had no other choice but to sacrifice herself to save her family and us. I won't give up or fail her until I find her." I said with what felt like a lump of coal in my throat. The guilt I felt was unbearable for my wolf he would bury himself deep into the recesses of my consciousness.

"You can't carry that guilt by yourself." Lynn said from the door I whipped my head up to find Lynn, Mina, Shawna, Shadow, Hunter, my mother, and father who file into the room my mother rushing over to embrace me like she use to when I was a young pup and she would kiss the top of my head and ensuring me everything would be ok. But she can't say that now because we truly don't know. But I still allow the embrace because she was my mother and she could still calm me not as strong as my mate could but I'm willing to take anything right now. "She is family and us three is all we have left of that family so we will never give up on her because she wouldn't give up on us. I know that where ever she is, she is fighting and planning and we are going to keep looking until she gives us a sign and she will, we just have to be ready. Shawna said with more confidence then I had at the moment.

Ji'lahni POV: Another 3 weeks later

"UUURRRRGGGHHH!" I yelled as I try again to break the lock on my door. My baby was kicking up a storm landing on my bladder yet again. I gave up my efforts so I can use the restroom. My prison cell was a beautiful big room with a big king size bed in the center of the room and a vanity in the corner big beautiful windows which would be perfect if they didn't have bars on them courtesy of the alpha after I tried to climb 2 stories down when I first got here. There was a walk in closet filled with fashion designer clothes I refuse to wear I stuck with leggings and big shirts partly because my stomach was huge. I know that being pregnant by a werewolf would be different but no one knew how much different because apparently I was the first. According to the nurse I was 20 weeks she didn't have any equipment in order to see him she only had a handle held machine that allowed me to listen to him. I cried when I first heard him, I say him because Zane told me that alphas only had boys so I just took his word for it not that it matters the only good thing is Zane refused to mark me while I was carrying another wolf's child. Washing my hand after I pee for the 50th time glancing at the jacuzzi in the center of the bathroom wanting to just relax but I couldn't I had to try to get out of here before I became too far along to move. I already looked like I was 30 weeks and not 20 weeks he was a big baby I know for sure I wonder if his dad was a big baby as well. I hurry up and erase those thoughts thinking about Kahi only made me emotional and wondering if he was even looking for me or if he mated and marked that b***h Summer. It doesn't matter now all that mattered is getting off this island I'll deal with the rest after I get back to my family that's all that mattered.

I was only allowed out this room during the day when he is on the island. Honestly I have no idea how I would get off this island but I just needed to get out of this house to figure some s**t out. I'm not the handy type that could make a boat out of trees and s**t but their were deliveries that come every other day and if I could get some weapons and a good head start without anyone noticing then I would have a chance but as it stands I haven't been able to, but I'm not giving up somebody is bound to slip up and when they do I will be "UUURRRRGGGHHH!!!! What the hell son that hurt. UUURRRRGGGHHH!!!! s**t s**t s**t what's happening I know it's not time the nurse say wolves carried their babies for 26 weeks...."UIUURRRRGGGHHH!!! NO no no no baby boy please UURRRRGGGHHH!!!" The last pain brought me to my knees I crawled to the call button. "Yes miss Nelson." "Help me!!! Something is wrong please help my baby." I cried as I slid down the wall next to the door. The nurse and 2 men came in lifting me up to take me to the makeshift clinic the nurse had down in the basement. Rushing over to me with a tray that had the doppler and a tube of lubricant on it. After putting the cold a*s lube on my stomach using the doppler she found the heartbeat immediately but it was beating way too fast.

"What's happening?"

"I I I don't know I'm only a nurse not a doctor." The nurse said nervously talking to herself. Just then Zane bursted into the room looking scared which was strange.

"What the hell is going on."

He said coming next to me trying to hold my hand which I snatched away but another pain hit and I grabbed his hand and squeezes so hard his winced. "Fix her!" Zane growled loudly that made the nurse jump so far she knocked over the tray that had the doppler and lube on it. "I'm so sorry alpha I don't know what to do I'm only a nurse the only wolf who knows anything about her is the doc from the Crystal pack." She said trembling. I stared at her in shock this was my only chance to finally get off this..

"UUURRRRGGGHHH!!!! Please please help my baby I will do whatever you want just please save my baby." I cried totally lying but still afraid for my baby. Zane whipped his head towards me as I wither in pain. "Will you be my will?" he asked coming to my side again holding my hand. I fought the need to snatch my hand away as another wave of pain hit. Posted by Jobnib.com; visit us for more free novels.

“YES! I’ll do whatever just save my baby.” I cried. “Fine. Give her something to knock her out safely and strap that doppler on her and monitor the pup until I return.” He yelled as he slammed the door behind him the nurse was at my side administering whatever was suppose to knock me out. “Please don’t I promise to not be any trouble. Please!” “I’m so sorry I have no choice.” The nurse said as she administered the drug. All of a sudden my whole body relaxed and the pain was gone as well. all I kept saying until I passed out was keep my baby safe...

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 15

Makahi POV:

“We have covered the majority of the western region that where most of his allies were located.” Montago said now looking at the map I was looking at earlier. “I still don’t buy that they don’t know anything. I feel like a little convincing wouldn’t hurt.” Lynn said cleaning her nails with her knife. I glanced at her seeing the seriousness on her face along with Mina and Shawna nodding their heads in agreement. I had to admit that those females could handle themselves pretty well and they didn’t mind getting a little dirty convincing folks to talk as Lynn put it. I couldn’t help but admire them. Suddenly the door slammed open and the doc came barreling in breathing heavily. “I I I” “Spit it out doc we’re in the middle of.” “I found her.” The doc managed to get out between breathes.

“WHAT!!” We all yelled, jumping up and rushing to the doc. “What did you just say?” I said grabbing the doc by the shoulder. “I just received an email from the alpha.” The doc said holding up his phone. I grabbed his phone sitting in the chair nearest to me because I didn’t think my legs would hold me up if it was bad news. I clicked on the email and the video attached. The first thing I saw was my mate pacing around a room apparently giving everyone hell banging on the door and trying anything to pick the lock. She was so beautiful and she was still pregnant her stomach round with my pups which seems to be sending her running to the bathroom. Smiling through tears the video cuts off suddenly. Maka growled and everyone gasped, when the video went black.

Alpha Zane the evil bastard popped on the screen smiling. “As you can see my mate is still alive and well and so is your pup.” I paused and growled at the mention of Ji’lahni being his mate. “But something is happening and my staff with their limited resources and knowledge of a human wolf pregnancy we’re at a loss. So I need your doc here since he is the only one who has any information of what’s happening. There is no time to waste. I had to sedate her in order to keep her and the babies alive for now. Alpha Makahi I know you’re watching this, so I will be sending a team to retrieve your pack doctor in 12 hours. But if you want your pup to have any chance at surviving you will make sure everything goes smoothly and no secret attacks or plans trying to find me or my mate. If I or my men noses even twitches like it could be a trap or setup. I will not be responsible for what happens to your pup after that, so I will think long and hard before you try to do anything foolish. I'll send the coordinates 3 hours before someone will arrive to retrieve the doctor and make sure he packs everything he needs, our clinic is still new so we have nearly no equipment to provide adequate care. You have 3 hours." Alpha Zane said as the video cut out.

I rewind the video back just to see her face again to see and make sure she was truly ok. Knowing she and my pups were alive gave me and my wolf renewed determination. "We need a plan." "Are you sure the alpha seem very adamant that we don't try anything." My mother chimed in. "Doc get out of here and pack everything you will need to save my mate and my pups. You will not know anything, that way you won't have to lie which is important. You just have to trust me." I said looking at the nervous doc. "Yes Alpha I trust you I will do everything I can to help save our Luna and the pups." He said getting up leaving the room. "Well son what's the plan." My father asked as I paced formulating a plan. "We need to be able to follow or track the doc but we know that they will be checking for any tracking device on the doc I'm sure they expect it. So what we need to do is hide them in hard places but places they will find and destroy then they won't notice the one that will be in plain site. Hunter go grab some tracking devices that we can place on the doc's equipment and even some on his clothing. But what he won't know about is the ones we will put on the plane itself." I said going to my desk and sitting down writing out a plan of action.

"Alpha we have the tracking devices on the doc's equipment they will be hard to find but they will be found if not then it's even better for us." Hunter said coming into the office. "Great. Lynn has the device that will be on the plane itself. Shadow is going to pick a fight with one of the guards and put a tracking device on him. Also I have a pea size camera that I need you to put on the other guards that will try and protect their guard I want to have more then one tracking device just in case." I said as Hunter smiled everyone was itching to bloody anyone helping to keep their Luna hostage. "No problem I'm gonna enjoy this." He said getting up leaving the room

Just as the doc forwarded another video email from Alpha Zane. "Doc in 3 hours I need you to be at the coordinates I will forward to you as soon as this video ends. Oh and I'm sure your alpha is watching as well. Please don't plan anything stupid I would hate to have your pup shipped back to you in a box. 3 hours don't be late." The video ended and the coordinates popped up. "It's show time." I mindlinked everyone. As I got up heading for the clinic. Time to bring my mate and pups home. "Just hang on a little longer baby I'm coming."

Ji'lahni POV: 16hrs later

Why is it my eyes always seems to be glued shut. And who the hell is kicking me in the bladder. MY BABY! My eyes flew open and I felt my baby kick I breathe a sigh of relief and then the need to pee. I look around getting up slowly as the fog clears. The pain was gone thank god sliding off the bed. "Woah woah miss Nelson you have to be careful." The doc came in running in. I blinked in shocked and almost forgot I had to pee and a little pee came out. What the hell is up with this being pregnant means you lose the ability to hold your pee. "Doc what? Where? When? Hold on stay right there I have to pee." I said as ran to the bathroom. "Oh God I swear this kid is bringing my bladder when he comes because I'm pretty sure he has detached it and using it as a squishy." I said as I exited the bathroom. Looking up to see the doc still here and I wasn't dreaming. I wobbled to him and hugged him crying I know I don't really know him but he was the only person connected to my family and Kahi and he renewed my hope of getting out of here.

He was pretty shocked too. "Uh hello miss Nelson let's get you back in bed you're not out of the woods yet so you have to take it easy. "Yea Ok so when are we breaking the hell out of here?" I whispered. Letting him lead me back to the bed which was now a nice full size bed with a whole bunch of new equipment that didn't look like this was a short visit. Stopping and turning to the doc I ask again. "So when are we breaking out of here?" Looking nervous and looking everywhere but at me. He whispered. "I don't know I don't know anything the alpha thought it best that I didn't know. I just need to keep you and the pups alive for now so can you please lay back down I want to have a look at them now that you're awake." He said. And I frowned but let him escort me back to the bed. "What kind of bullshit a*s plan is that. How will we know when to be ready to get the hell out of here doc. And why are you saying pups with an s and saying them as in plural. Zane said werewolves only birth 1 baby and all boys. I said while he put lube on my stomach smiling " Well miss Nelson you're not a wolf so I think that cancels out what we wolves know to be true about pregnancies." Pointing to the screen as he moves the ultrasound camera and clear as day two faces. "Oh my God there's 2 babies?"

"Yes there is 2 pups and one of them is actually a girl." "What!? A girl." I said covering my mouth as the tears flowed the shock happiness and fear was now doubled I had 5 people I had to survive for. And that was a bit overwhelming especially when the doc has no plan. "Does your alpha and his mate know? Even if they do I hope they don't have plans to take my babies because I will kill EVERYONE before I allow them to take my babies. I know they are half wolves and I know nothing about wolves but I will learn and make sure they know both human and wolf culture but I will not be giving up my babies. I will destroy your entire community." I said little to calmly for the doc because he gasped and turned gray I guess picturing it. I didnt care he needed to take me seriously because i was and i know i had 3 people that would help me with a smile on their faces. He recovered quickly. "Of course the alpha knows he had been searching everywhere for you he is unhinged with worry." He says which I relaxed knowing he was looking for me even though i know it's because of the babies but I don't care as long as he looking I know my family is helping to so I have to believe they have a plan I will do what I always do, be ready so I won't have to get ready.

"Aahh Lahni you're awake you are looking so much better since the doc arrived." "Don't call me that, my name is Ji'lahni we're not friends." "Awe don't be so mean I got the doc here just for you and saved your mut." Zane said walking into the clinic. "Uh Alpha Zane we really need to keep miss Nelson's blood pressure and stress under control. When I got here her blood pressure was not great which may have contributed to her pain." The doc said shielding me from Zane's approach. Which was weird because I don't really know him like that but I am carrying his Alpha's babies so that maybe it. "Doc are you implying that I'm the cause for her current state?" He stepped in the doc's face. Looking at him like he crazy.

"Ah yes you're the only person to blame. You had me and my family in a prison where you're men took our blood and beat us everyday and now you're keeping me hostage and plan to force me to mate you. So it's pretty damn obvious you're the blame." I said getting angier as I think about everything I have been through. The machine starts beeping and the doc hurries over to stop the machine. "Miss Nelson take a beep breath you have to try and calm down. This is a high risk pregnancy and we're flying blind already, so let's keep your stress levels under control. Alpha Zane do you mind leaving while I try and calm her down you're presence isn't helping at the moment." The doc said while administrating some pinkish liquid into my IV. "Fine! But we will be having dinner later tonight just the two of us so you better get your emotions under control." He said storming out.

"Are you ok?? How do you feel?" The doc asked. "I feel ok actually. What was that stuff you just gave me?" I said pointing at my IV bag. "Ah yes when I found out that you were pregnant with half werewolf pups I was afraid that because your blood contained wolfbane that you would harm the pups. So I started working on a medicine that would counteract the affect of wolfbane and your human DNA to make your body a acceptable host for the pups." The doc answered.

"Wait what? why would that harm my babies if they're my babies shouldn't they react the same why I do?" "Well miss there was no way of knowing for sure at the time because you had already been taken before I could do a complete analysis on you and the babies. But it seems the babies are very strong which is also surprising. Usually when a she wolf is pregnant with an alpha pup she inherit some of his aura as a way of protecting his mother. I thought that was because you were pregnant and they were half human and two of them that they would be weaker then the average alpha pup. But they are very strong I can see your aura is stronger then I could ever imagine far stronger then any she wolf's aura, in fact do you mind spitting Salvia into this cup I want to test a theory." The doc said handing me a small cup. I'm looking at him like he done lost his mind or on some freaky type s**t. Why the hell does he want my spit. He seems a little too damn excited to me. But he seems nerdy as hell and could just be excited about testing whatever theory he came up with. So I spit as much into the cup as I can which ironically was easy if my pictured Zane trying to touch me in any way made me want to throw up.

Taking the spit cup away he had one of those big qtip and dipped it inside the cup and then grabbed my arm where the scratch is. It was actually looking alot better since coming here the nurse she cleaned it really good and even stitched it back up. The doc removed some of the stitches and then used the qtip and applied the spit to my arm which was f*****g gross even if it was my own spit. But as soon as he applied it my arm started to close and heal immediately. "Holy s**t. What in the entire hell!?" I whispered. "Exactly as I thought you too have inherited your pups ability to heal." The doc said while I looked in shock. "Well damn I wish I knew that a long time ago. It doesn't even hurt. Now that's one less thing I have to worry about when my cousins come to get me. I need to start training again doc so I will be ready." I said feeling hopeful. "Don't get to excited you're still high risk and there is a lot of things unknown about your pregnancy. I want to watch you closely and document everything you feel and go through so I will run test and ask you a lot of questions. It will be annoying but having as much information as possible will help out future humans that may become pregnant by another wolf. This is ground breaking you will be in history books for our kind.” The doc says.

“I understand your point and I would agree but at this moment survival and getting out of here alive is at the top of my list no offense but I could give a God damn about being in history books or being the first in anything werewolf. As you can see some of yall crazy and I’m not really thrilled to be apart of anything dealing with werewolves.” I said thinking of the last few weeks. “Yes I understand but please reconsider it if just to help someone after you who may need guidance.” “You’re right I apologize I’m just frustrated and emotional. I’ll help the best I can but again my first priority is finding a way out of here and being prepared when my family comes for me.” I said turning to look at doc.

“Deal.” The doc says just as the door opens and Zane come in carrying expensive box. “I see youre feeling better. I brought you a surprise for our 1st dinner date tonight to celebrate our upcoming mating ceremony.” He said smiling at me. “Sir please stop acting like you’re not forcing me into this. I’m not putting on whatever it is you have in that damn box. You can gone head and take it with you when you leave.” I sneered. “Well that’s unfortunate. I guess I will have to take the doc here and make him really uncomfortable such a shame I bought him here in order to keep you healthy and to save your pup in exchange for you willing becoming my mate and that includes you acting the loving mate, but oh well.” He says shrugging his shoulders as men burst into the room dragging the doc out.

“WAIT! I’ll wear what’s in the damn box now leave the doc alone.” I said not wanting the doc to suffer for my stubbornness. “See you made the right decision be ready in an hour.” Zane said before walking out. “Miss Nelson you didn’t have to do that I’m tougher than I look.” The doc said coming over to check my blood pressure again. “Im sure you are but you will need to keep your strength up for when we breakout of here. Because if my family doesn’t come soon we will have to do it ourselves. I will not have my babies in here.” “No worries Miss Nelson I trust my alpha he will find us.” “Well that makes one of us.”

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 16

Makahi POV:

“What the hell happened to the tracking and video feed!” I yelled over the helicopter engine. We had waited 5 hours before we started tracking them to make sure we remain undetected. But while following them, the tracking just disappeared off the screen. Now we we’re flying blind. “I don’t know what happened alpha it’s like alpha Zane has some type of tracking interference or scrambler.” “What do we do now alpha?” Hunter said in the seat next to me. We have brought all of our strongest fighters and my uncle has loaned his strongest and also had guards sent to protect my pack as well. We had weapons that we took from Zanes compound when we raided it rescuing the girls. We meant to destroy it but Mina and Shawna said they wanted to use them. Lynn also had knives and arrows made with blood infused metal. She also had tranquilizers strong enough to take down a blue whale which was the largest animal in the world. Montago told her she would probably kill whatever she shot with them she simply shrugged. Even as the alpha I’m a little afraid of the tiny human.

“I say we land and cover as much land as possible.” Mina said through the coms. “Let’s do it. But we separate into 3 teams we drop team 1 here and then team 2 a few hundreds miles ahead the helicopter will sit at the 2nd drop zone until the 1st team reaches the helicopter and then we’ll drop team 3 off and wait for team 2 and we will alternate drops every few hundred miles ahead. Mina, Shawna, and Lynn I know you want to help but we can cover more ground in our wolf form. I need yall to be our eyes and ears and track where we have been and how much ground we have covered.” After I cover the entire plan everyone nodded in agreement we had a fuel plane in route to us so fuel wasn’t going to be a problem. “Montago lead team 1, Shadow lead team 2 and I’ll lead team 3. In wolf form we can cover hundreds of miles before we start to feel exhausted so we will cover 300 miles and use the helicopter to rest. After we landed we hopped out and immediately shifted and search as much ground as we could everyone spreaded out and covered as much area as we could. It’s been 12 hours and each team had covered 900 miles. Team 2 were now covering another 300 miles. Opening mindlink. “Everyone once we cover these last miles we will call it a night and start again in the morning.” I said as I continued racing through the forest. “Copy that” they all mindlinked. Getting ready to close my mindlink I hear a faint cry. Stopping dead in my tracks.

“Did you hear that?” I mindlinked frantically looking around. “Hear what alpha?” One of the guards asked. “Crying did you hear it.” “I didn’t.” everyone chimed in. “One of you must have heard it.” I said. Picking up my pace searching. “Alpha no one has heard anything. We are all exhausted we will rest and start again.” Montago said coming up behind me. Maybe it was my exhaustion causing me to hear things. It was crazy to think that I heard cries we couldn’t mind link with pups in the womb and not until they shift for the first time. After covering the area we set up camp and a few of the men hunted for food. Once they prepped it they prepared to put it over the fire to cook. “Uh we not even going to attempt to season the meat.” Mina said with her nose turned in disgust. “It’s not like we have any options do you see where we are.” Hunter said laughing. “So when yall take trips like these yall don’t pack things you need to survive.” “We don’t need seasoning to survive.” “The hell we don’t who walking around eating unseasoned food.” “I don’t see you with seasonings.” Hunter said with a smirk like he won then that quickly ended when not only Mina but Shawna and Lynn pulled out a baggie with seasoning bread even sandwich meat. “We’re country we didn’t have a lot of money growing up so our family always packed food and snacks when taking long rides. And I didn’t even have to think twice I knew Shawna and Lynn had pack food.” Mina said smiling.

If jilahní was here we would have a whole dinner fried chicken veggies baked rolls and desert. She would have had one bag that would have been nothing but tupperware. She was always taking care of us making sure we were good after our family died she immediately took on the role as parent and never complained always smiling and encouraging us. She was always saying... "I don't know how the hell I do it I just be winging it and praying." She always puts us first always make sure we were good." Mina said as the tears flowed freely from Shawna and Lynn moved to comfort her as they cried. "She is.. " I said finally understanding why she always risk her safety. And everyone looked my way wondering what I meant. "She is always taking care of you all?" Mina gave a small smile nodded in understanding. The men put the season meat on the fire. I decided to patrol the area alone I needed to clear my thoughts. Opening my mindlink to inform Montago. Again crying. What hell is that am I losing my mind.

Ji'lahni POV:

"Miss Nelson I don't..." "Lahni." "Oh sorry Miss Nel I mean Lahni I don't think it is a good idea for you to go to this dinner. You're looking unwell your blood pressure is raising again." The doc said. He has been fussing over me the entire afternoon telling me not to go to this dinner with Zane. He has been checking the babies every hour I think they are tired of him looking at them the last time they look like they were crying and they were moving like crazy hurting me in the process. "If i look unwell thats because you have made my babies angry with all the poking and probing." I said as I winced as one of them decided they weren't comfortable in my rib cage my pelvic was more suitable. "I apologize I promise I will be a little more gentle and we could set a limit on when we disturb the pups." He said as we check on them yet again they were busy but as soon as the doc put the wand on my stomach they immediately stop and it looked like they were looking in the direction of the wand. All of a sudden the doc was push away from me and his chair crashed to the floor. I gasped and the doc looked shocked and confused.

"What the hell was that doc did the chair break or something." I said sitting up on my elbows looking at the doc. "This can't be happening, could it? This is impossible, It must have be a fluke." The doc said as he got up and started pacing around the room. "Would you stop pacing and tell me what the hell you're talking about doc." I said struggling to sit up. He stops and rushed over to help me up. After he lift me up like I weight nothing I keep forgetting that under the dorky clothes is an actual werewolf shifter.

Sitting down in front of me. "Miss... I mean Lahni when our female wolves become pregnant it is pretty much like regular human pregnancy but ashorter time frame. When an alpha wolf is in the womb sometimes the mate receive a small portion of her alpha pup's aura where she can command maybe our teenagers for a few minutes nothing significant. But just now I felt something far stronger then I have ever seen. It felt almost as strong as an young adult alpha. I can't begin to tell you how big this is. I can only think that because you're human the pups are peotecting you from the womb when you or they are in distress their aura comes out of you. Of course I'm just speculating I will have to test that theory." "Well it wont be today that wack job will be here any minute I said getting up from the bed. "Lahni this is a bad idea I really think you should stay here where it is safe." "I told you doc I wont be the reason you're hurt you have to make sure rhe babies remain safe and you can't do that if you're beaten half to death. Now let me get dressed and you can help me with my shoes maybe I can get some information or see if I can find an escape route we can take when we get out of here." I said heading to the bathroom to change into the dress. Once I was dressed I stepped back into the room, the doc gasped. "You look lovely miss.. Lahni." "Thanks but I don't feel lovely." I said smoothing the form fitting dress down. It was a beige colored one shoulder dress that showed my pregnancy with no filter being pregnant my waistline was still there thank god so standing directly in front of me my baby bump isn't visible unless I turned to the side. "I really wish you would reconsider, being alone with that wolf is dangerous and I won't be able to protect you if he tries anything and the alpha will kill me if anything were to happen." "Doc I can take care of myself and my babies just fine I'm pregnant not sick." I said just as the door opened as one of Zane's guard came to escort me to my so called first date.

Seems like Zane pulled out all the stops for this date. If he wasn't a wacko it would be flattering. Candles lit the room with a soft glow the table had a blue and gold rose centerpiece with candles on both sides, the plates were blue and gold, everything was set with those colors in mind. "You look exquisite." Zane said close in my ear from behind me. I jumped turned swinging which he easily moved out of the way, but he stumbled back a step he frowned for a split second but quickly smiled I guess dismissing what just happened. I knew it was my babies but for some reason I didn't want Zane to know about what they could do. "Hey tinker butts you guys gotta chill out. I don't want this wackadoodle here knowing about y'all. OK?" I said to myself. Hoping that's how that mind thing works. My eyes grew wide because I know damn well I didn't feel them kicking and actually hear a little whine in my head like they heard me and wasn't happy about me telling them not to use their aura. Breaking me out of my thoughts "Calm down it's only me. You don't need to be frightened you're safe here no one would dare lay a hand on you without my permission." He said with all seriousness.

"One thing you need to know about me, is don't sneak up on black folks that will get you punched without thought." I said as he pulled a chair out from the table motioning for me to sit. I complied I just needed to get through dinner then claim to be super tired or unwell. "I have never went on a date with a human before so I had my staff research things that humans like to eat and do on dinner dates. I had them prepare some southern dishes I hope you'll like." He said looking a little nervous which for the first time made him look a little normal. Just then his staff brought in a rolling table full of food. There was baked chicken, rice, what looked like cabbage, macaroni, buttery corn bread muffins, yams, and a chocolate cake. Sitting our plates in front of us I bowed my head and prayed over the food because you never know around here.

I start to eat the food and I must admit it wasn't terrible. "Do you like it?" He asked. "Yes it's very good." I answered, not wanting to have small talk but I guess Zane has other ideas. "So tell me how did you and Luna Lateri meet?" He asked. "She saw an add for our studio where we were giving private dance lessons and booked an appointment. A few months later she asked us to plan her son's mating ceremony and the rest is history." I said trying to keep the conversation short. But this could be the perfect opportunity to find out his plans. "So since I answered you I should be able to ask you questions." "Of course I'm an open book you'll be my mate I don't want us to have any secrets between us." He said leaning back in his chair.

Getting up rubbing my stomach trying to calm my babies because sitting for a long period of time was uncomfortable, they were moving like crazy. "How long have you had this place and where exactly are we?" I asked, "Ah actually we're on a remote island in Alaska called Adak. I came across it a few years ago it was used by the Navy during the cold war. It was practically abandoned aside from a few people who stayed but they were easily..persuaded. And as you said the rest is history. I was going to use it as a base for training my warriors once I started my plan to become the alpha supreme. But when I found out about you and your family's blood I decided to use it as a lab of sorts to produce our weapons and train my men on how to use it. But those mutts The Crystals raided and destroyed most of the blood we had stored. But now that I have you I plan to start collecting and resuming my plans although it will be slow going. Unless I can get your cousins back maybe once we mate they will come willingly." He said lifting a brow. I laughed. "Oh you crazy crazy.. Especially if you even think I would allow my family to stay here." I said harshly.

Trying to calm my nerves. Zane Stalked over to me backing me into the wall grabbing my neck. "You would do well to watch how you speak to me mate I'm a gentleman but I'm also a wolf and he doesn't like to be challenged." He said as his eyes turned to an almost red color that kind of remind me of a demon. My heart raced and fear crept down my spine my hand automatically went to my stomach as he started pressing into it. I just wanted him away from me and I pushed and to his surprise and mine he damn near flew a good 6 ft away. "What the hell was that." He growled looking at me and then down as I cradled my belly. Just then his guards rushed in. "Take her back down to the clinic and make sure the good doc is there as well." Zane said as the guards grabbed me and escorted me out of the room. I guess I get no chocolate cake I pouted. "I thought I told you two no more aura stuff." I said to myself. I could have sworn I heard a grunt and whine. Oh see I already know they're gonna be trying me.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 17

Makahi POV:

"s**t! There it is again did you not hear that?" I asked Montego. This is the third time that I've heard crying. "Something is happening, I don't know what it is, but I keep hearing it. Maka hears it but can't figure out what it is either." I said shaking my head as we packed up ready to continue the search. "I don't hear anything are you sure you're ready to resume the search? we can put Shadow in your place while you rest." Montego said. "No I'm ok I just keep hearing something this feeling of fear then anger but it's not mine." I said shaking my head because it was hard to explain." "Uuhhh, don't you guys talk to each other in your heads? Maybe it's the babies. I mean you are their dad so maybe that means that we're close." Shawna said looking at me hopefully. Shaking my head. "Its called mindlink and No that's impossible pups can't mindlink until after their first shift." I said. "Well you're not supposed to have twins and alphas only are supposed to birth males and you have broken all those records so why can't this be another record breaker. Your kind has never had half human twin Alpha's. So I'm just saying." Shawna said shrugging, raising her brow. "Damn alpha could it be your pups are calling for their papa." Montego said in shock. My heart began to race and Maka started growling and pacing wanting to shift because of the possibility. "s**t lets go if that is them they're afraid and angry and I have been wasting time." I said as I head to the chopper. Once seated I closed my eyes to focused on my pups we may still be far away but if that was them I need them to know I'm coming... "Hey little ones papa's coming. Keep momma safe until I get to you I love you." I sent out into the space of my pack and bloodline, instantly I felt calm. Then out of nowhere I hears coos and giggles.

Snapping my eyes open and everyone stared at me waiting to see if Shawna was right. I almost broke down with relief that they were still alive, healthy, and pretty damn strong Maka puffed out his chest like a proud papa wolf. "It was them it was my pups. I told them I'm coming." Everyone howled and cheered excitedly. With renewed determination we focused on finding my mate and my pups. I left the link open in case they reached out again and I also was searching for the doc. But we must still be pretty far out. Lynn got up and placed her phone around my neck. "Since I can't help track I set my phone to go off if you get within 800 miles of her. Don't worry about shifting the neck collar stretches." Montego grabbed her and pulled her in his lap and kissed her deeply everyone started whistling and clapping. Lynn pushed him in the chest like she was angry but didn't try to get off his lap. He wrapped her in his arms and buried his nose and breath her scent in and he purred in contentment. Forcing my eyes away from the intimate moment my heart ached for my mate. Once I get her back she is never leaving my sight again.

A few hours later we land in Alaska we have traveled almost two thousand miles in search and came up with nothing. I had heard the pups 1 other time it sounding like underwater baby talk. "Is everyone set for the first drop off?" The pilot asked in the coms. Montego answered with a yes. I tried to focus on the link to see if I can reach the doc or my pups to ensure we're going in the right directions. But I felt nothing so I just have to hope that we are and pray that I can get to them in time because I have this feeling of dread that we're running out of time.

Ji'lahni POV :

Well that didn't go well I thought as the doc paced back and forth talking to himself. I told him everything that happened at my dinner with Zane. the color drained from his face as he continued pacing and talking to himself ever since. "Hey would you calm down you're making me dizzy with all the pacing.? I said taking a deep breathe. The doc stopped abruptly . " Tell me again are you absolutely certain that Alpha Zane knows the babies can use their aura knows that I wouldn't be able to push him that far. Then the weirdest thing happened, when I told them to try not to use their aura I could I have sworn I heard them whine and groaned." I said as the doc looked at me with shock. "This is extraordinary pups can't mindlink until after they shift for the first time and no wolf has ever mindlinked with a human before. It seems that wolf and human DNA are breaking everything we know to be true in our werewolf community.”

“You know I was just thinking the same thing Doc.” Alpha Zane said as he was standing by the door. We both jumped up at the sound of his voice neither of us noticed him enter the room. Casually walking in followed by his guards circling us. I instantly feel for my knives I had in my pocket that I stole when the servant brought the cake out with the food. “Doc I’m very disappointed with you. I brought you here unharmed and you show your gratitude by withholding valuable information about my mate and our pup or should I say pups.” Zane said smiling evilly. Right before one of his guards jumped at the doc but the doc surprisingly dodged and fought really well but he was outnumbered and a guard sneak a punch from behind. I decided to help because I knew that Zane told them I was off limits. I ran to the guard holding doc and slide my stolen knife out of my pocket hoping Zane doesn’t see it because I didn’t want to get it taken away. So I decided to do it prison style stabbed him several times in the side until he let doc go and as soon as he did doc was able to fight the remaining guards while standing between them and me.

Zane walks casually over to us. “ENOUGH!” He says that makes his guards stop instantly and drop to their knees except me and doc who seems like he’s struggling like something is holding him in place. Looking bored at doc and me. “Doc why are you fighting my aura command, it will only cause you more pain. So why not just drop to your knees and bare your throat in submission.” He said but doc didn’t drop to his knees. “Very well have it your way, Since my mate seems to have inherited our pups aura I will also make her submit as well.” He said stepping closer to me. The look in doc’s eyes shows panic. “NO! Ill submit. Just leave my Luna out of this.” Doc said desperately. I don’t know what all this submit and baring necks foolery they are talking about, but I want no parts of it. Because I don’t submit, bow or bare anything to anybody so I know for sure I’m not who he’s talking about. I thought.

“It’s too late, now both of you SUBMIT!” He growled I look over and see the doc fall to his knees with a cry in pain baring his neck to Zane. Then I feel this like something was crawling on my skin like weights being put on my shoulder. My babies began to squirm and I instantly put my hands on my belly to protect and calm them. I then feel the weight lift off my shoulders as Zane stares at me with a shocked expression. He moved in from of me with his eyes instantly changing to his wolf’s burnt orange color. “I said SUBMIT!” He growled loudly and what ever he was doing forced me to stumble back but I righted myself before I fell. But the weight on my shoulder’s were back but much heavy this time causing me to gasped at the heaviness and my babies are now moving like crazy and I hear them crying before I felt this force push out of me and hit the alpha square in his chest forcing him backwards. He let out a roar as he got back up half shifted. I was still confused by what the hell was happening but my babies were now moving so much I felt they were clawing trying to get out. Zane stalked to me with his fangs sticking out of his mouth and his claws extended as he jumped directly in front of me and he his eyes glowed red now . “You will bow to me and bare your neck.” He said with so much force that I felt instant pain in my belly which made me grabbed my stomach as the pain overtakes my body and I fell to the floor Doc screamed something to me but I couldn’t hear pass the pain. All I could hear was my babies crying out loudly this time. Right before my WATER BROKE!

MAKAHI POV:

Running through the forest my anxiety grew and the feeling of dread only grew. I couldn't reach my pups any longer I'm hoping it's because they're safe. Seeing the chopper up ahead I open my link to the team to tell them to pick up the pace so we can head to the drop off point. I see Montego on guard snapping his head in our direction once he scents us coming we were still pretty far away. He grabs a bag filled with clothes for us to change into once we shift and runs to meet us. As soon as I shift back to my human form I'm forced to my knees as a piercing sound explodes in my head and I drop to my knees holding my head and I glance up and see my entire pack and others grab their heads and fall. All I can hear are the cries of what has to be my pups. And an instant it went silent again. Lynn, Shawna, and Mina makes it to us. "Are you ok? What happened?" Lynn asked worriedly. Montego who looked like a ghost. "I don't know. I have never experienced anything like it before." Looking at me. "Was that the pups?" I nodded Tears running down my face because I felt the emptiness and that could only mean one thing. My men rallied around me and knelt at what it all could mean. The girls looking around confused at what we're doing. "Can somebody clue the human folks in on what the hell is happening?" Lynn said stepping into our circle standing in front of me and Montego. "We all heard the babies cry out and then it stopped suddenly and the feeling just snapped." He says hugging Lynn who shrugs out of his arms. "What the hell does that mean man, just spit it out?" Shawna demanded. Shadow pulling her into his arms. "It means their gone." He said barely above a whisper.

Hearing it out loud broke me. The girls looking around us with shocked disbelief. "HELL NO! This is some bullshit... They're not dead. they're not dead." They repeated as they dodged anyone that tried to comfort them. Lynn walked up to me and grabbed her phone from my neck and the girls headed back to the chopper. When we finally got to the chopper we see the girls running off into the forest with their gear on. "WHAT THE f**k!" Montego ran towards them. With me following. "Lynn stop! What are you guys doing. Let's got back to the chopper we are going to continue to search and recover." Montego and shadow both tried to stop the girls. They stopped dead in their tracks and turned to smack them across the face. "How dare you put that into the universe." Shawna said storming off we all stood in shock because out of all the girls Shawna was the least crazy. Quickly snapping out of our daze. We race behind the girls trying to convince them to follow us back to the chopper they ignored us completely damn they were stubborn as hell.

Just then they all stop at once looking at Lynn we almost ran into the back of them. Following their line of sight. I see they phone Lynn is holding going off in her hand. They all started hugging and crying and smiling in excitement. They turned to face us showing us their phone. My heart broke apart again knowing they were that close and I couldn't get there in time to save them. "Don't you know what this means?" Lynn says to me. "It means that I failed my mate and my pups that I couldn't reach them in time." I said my wolf clawing inside my head in pain. "What! No dumb a*s that means we have found them they are close.” They smiled hugging each other. Now running following the directions on the phone. I looked to Montego and pleaded with him to tell them because I don’t think I could. He nodded.

He called to the girls as we walked to catch up. “Lynn baby I know you want to find Ji’lahni but you need to be ready for what you’re about to walk into. We told you that they’re gone honey.” He said walking up to Lynn to hug her. She stepped back looking at us she must have realized something because she walked up to me and touched my face. I hear Montego growl and she narrowed her eyes at him and gestured him to come closer. He walked up to her and wrapped his arms around her. She turned back to me. “Makahi those chips that we have in our bodies is kinda of like a life alert if our hearts stopped that sound would fade as our bodies grow cold and beeping is strong there is no sign that its fading she said holding it up for me to hear and then she taps the screen and another sound beep strongly. “See they sound that same and what your hearing now is Mina and she is a lot things but dying or dead isn’t one of them.” she smiles at the look of shock on my face. “You mean they’re alive?” I asked in disbelief. Walking up to me Smiling. “Yes now get your a*s in gear so we can seach and RESCUE my cousin so we can get home so I can take a nice long bath.” Shawna said cutting her eyes at Shadow. Opening my mindlink I tell everyone back at the chopper to grab the gear and catch up as I shifted. Montego Shadow and Hunter put the girls on their backs and we take off in the directions of my mate. I opened my mindlink further to see if I could reach my pups again but I got nothing not even the doc. So I focused on what Lynn told me about their chips and I pray that she’s right and they’re alive.

Chapter 18

Ji’lahni Pov:

“OH MY GOD! It hurts so bad.” I cried. ” It’s OK, it’s OK, it’s just a contraction.” “A WHAT!? But it’s to early they can’t come now, not while we’re still hear!” I screamed. As Zane came by my side looking a bit green in the face he tried grabbing my hand. “you have to calm down my mate.” he said holding my hand. I snatched my hand away. Turning my fear into anger. “This is all your fault if something happens to my babies I will not stop until I kill you.” Just then the doors bursted open just as the alarm blared. “Intruders! About a mile out coming in fast!” The guard yells. Zane snapped his gazes at me before storming out. The doc stared into space like he was daydreaming. Another contraction ripped through my body. “OH MY GOD I CAN’T DO THIS s**t!” I screamed . The doc snapped his gazed back to me. “No no no no no s**t it’s Alpha Makahi this can’t be happening.” The doc paced back and forth beside my bed. When another contraction hit I grabbed him and brought him to my face. “DOC GET YOUR s**t TOGETHER BECAUSE THIS s**t HURTS SO FIGURE IT OUT!” I cried.

All of a sudden all we hear is howling and fighting. 4 guards came crashing into the room the doc stands in front of me Zane come back into the room half shifted. "Take her to the emergency exit get the chopper ready it seems that Alpha Makahi and your human cousins wants to save you. But It will be a graved mistake he will regret. Take them both." The doc growled and bared his elongated teeth. Zane came and grabbed the Doc by the neck. "I don't have time for this you either come with me or risk the life of your luna and her pups when I rip her throat out." he said dropping the doc to the floor in a heap. Then one of the guards grabs me to lift me up just as another contraction rips through my body. What kind of fresh hell is this. I know damn well no woman volunteers for this s**t. "Just wait for the contraction to pass I'll have to give her something for the pain." The doc said getting up from the floor a gathering vials into his doctors bag and comes to my side injecting me with something that relaxes me for the first time since the contractions started. "what the hell doc you had that this whole time and you let me whither and wallow like a pig and you could've giving me whatever that is. Remind me to beat your a*s later." I threaten the Doc.

"ENOUGH!!! Let's go!" the guard yelled over the sirens. He lifts me up and I squirm and fight not really wanting him to drop me but I can't make it easy. "Get her and the doctor to the chopper now and be ready to fly outta here in 15 I have an alpha and 3 humans to kill." Zane said with an evil sneered. I gasped, then I got angry . "I swear if you touch them I will never mate you and I WILL KILL YOU!" I yelled. Zane turn before he walks out the door. "You won't be the first woman to try and kill me. I'm looking forward to it." He smirked walking out the door as he shift and disappears. "No no no no!" I fought the guard holding me even more. "Doc you have to go help them warn my cousins we can't let them die!" I yelled and fought the guard. "Calm down, Lahni you're in labor you have to think about your pups. I promise you the alpha will protect them but I have to protect you and the future Alphas." The doc said gathering more things and stuffing them into the bag as he races behind the guard out the door. But before the guard made it completely out the door, he stops abruptly his eyes widen and his arms went slack and I begin to fall to the ground, but the doc was quick as hell and caught me before I hit the floor. I keep forgetting he was a werewolf.

"What the hell doc do you mind telling me the got damn plan before you start doing random s**t and I can walk you know, whatever you gave me is working for now. Grab my sneakers and my knife." I said as the doc place my feet on the floor gently and grabbed my shoes kneeling in front of me and placing them on my feet handing me the knife. Heading to the door. "So what the hell is the plan Doc?" "The alpha said they are entering from the East of the grounds so he wants us there in 10 minutes but I told him your labor has started and we may take awhile." "Why I feel fine." But of course as soon as I said it a contraction hit full force and I damn near hit the ground. The doc caught and lifts me in his arm. As his watch beeped. "Yea because the injection only last for a 10 minutes tops and you have to wait 5 minutes until your next injection." The doc said as he headed in the directions of freedom. "I swear you sure dont know how teamwork works because you are supposed to give your team the whole f*****g plans Doc!" I yelled as another contraction hits. "s**t!" the doc says and lays me on the floor. "What what's wrong are the babies ok?!" I said in fear as another contraction hits. "Your contractions are a less then 3 minutes apart. You're not contracting like humans you're contracting like shewolve.” He said checking my cookies. “Your only 2 centimeters. So you still have a long while to go but we have to hurry Lahni. I’m going to set my timer so we can stop when you have another contraction .” He said giving me another injection just as his watch beeped again he pressed a button on his watch. Helping me up. “We have 3 minutes let’s make them count he grabs my hand as we walked as fast as my legs could go. s**t babies if you can give momma a little more time before you make your entrance we’re almost to daddy.” I thought hoping they will listen for once. “UUUGGGHHH!” I screamed. Once the injection wore off. Damn these babies don’t listen worth s**t. I thought as I went down again. “s**t! Lahni we have to wait 5 minutes before I can inject you again.” He said as he checks me again.” I swear Doc that didn’t feel like 10 minutes.” I said trying to breathe. “That’s because it wasn’t, its only been 6 minutes. I’m not understanding what’s going on the injections should still be working and you’re still only 2 centimeters.” The doc said starting to look panic. ” I think it’s the babies they are feeling everything I’m feeling and all the noise has them in distress I can’t do anything about the noise but I can try and get my emotions in check. I think they are more intone with my emotional state then human babies. It’s like I can hear them in my head sometimes they aren’t speaking I just hear what sound like baby talk giggles or crying. I think they’re trying to protect me.” I said trying to take deep breathes and relax. I try to think happy thoughts instead of what’s happening around me. I need to do this for my babies it’s not their jobs to protect me it’s my job to protect them. “Hey mommy’s babies I know your afraid but everything is ok mommy’s fine I really need you both to calm down so we can find dada ok he is looking for us. Can you do that for mommy.” I thought to myself. While taking deep breathes hoping they can hear me like I hear them. Suddenly the pain stopped. I open my eyes in shock. “They heard me I think we’re good doc. So help me get my a*s up so we can find my family.” I said as the doc helped me up. We started walking carefully as I took deep calming breathes to make sure the babies don’t react to my emotions.

Chapter 19

Makahi. POV:

“Damnit! We’ve been made!” I was able to reach Doc and I told him to head East. We just need to keep the East side clear and head in that direction to meet Doc and Jilahni. Team 2 I need you to keep the path from here to the chopper clear and as safe as possible, because once we reach them we will have guards on our tails. So I need 3 of y’all in the trees with the riffles once you see us comming your way take out as many guards as you can once we make it pass the gates you get your a*s to your team and help them clear the path to the chopper the rest of yall follow me and watch your back .” glancing at the women still on the backs of Montago, Shadow, and Hunter with calm focus which is kinda of scary and bad a*s considering they are surrounded by wolves and heading in the direction of wolves who will want to rip their throats out. “I don’t suppose I could get you women to head back to the copper until we return?” I asked hopping they would listen for once.

“I feel like you’re joking because you should know better by now. You have no excuse asking dumb a*s questions so please stop wasting time and let’s go.” Mina said. As she and the others snapped their belts that Lynn made to wrap around their wolves to ensure they don’t get thrown off. Lynn is very resourceful she literally thought of everything to give us an advantage. She told the guys before we left the chopper that to ensure that they don’t hinder them during the fight that all they needed to do is attack and give them a clear shot and they will make sure they aren’t attacked from the back. They had guns and magazines strapped to themselves and their wolves the guys seems to not notice the difference and they looked secure. “Ok let’s go they are coming this way.” I yelled and shifted as the first wave of guards came at us as we headed in the direction of the doc and Jilahni.

The guards went in for an attack thinking that had the upper hand because of the women my wolves had on their backs so they charged at them first which was their first mistakes because it allowed me to rip the throats out of 4 wolves before they even noticed me. I saw out the corner of my eye that the women and their wolves were in sync and worked as a team like they have been doing it for years. Every bullet they fired were kill shots. Lynn had throwing stars that she rotated between that and her gun they all had cross bows on their backs with the bows strapped to their wolf. Although Shadow didn’t need help he was ripping necks out on the first attack which he was able to do since he didnt have to worry about getting attacked from behind because Shawna was handing out head shots from all around her she was so confident that she didn’t even bother to check to make sure her target was down.

We made it to the east side of the house where an emergency door was located it was locked. “S*** it’s locked and more guards are headed this way. I said aloud I had shifted once I reached the door hoping that it was unlocked but it is never that easy. “Move!” Lynn said as she pulled her hand gun out and shot the door knob off and it popped open. ” abracadabra! see magic, it opened right up.” she said with a smile as the other girls laughed...”You go and we’ll cover the entrance so no one goes in after you. Just get my cousin and our babies out of there.” Shawna said. I nodded my head as I rushed in to find my mate and my pups.

Reaching out opening my mind link. “Hey doc where the hell are you. I’m in the house now.” I mindlinked the doc “Alpha we have a problem the Luna is having contractions and we are moving slower then expected. We have to stop every time she has a contraction.” the doc mindlinked I almost tripped over my feet at what he just said. My pups are coming! Snapping out of my thoughts. “Just keep heading in this direction and we should meet up and tell Jilahni don’t she dare have my pups without me in this godforsaken place.” I said picking up speed this house was huge and it seems as though the further I ran it was leading below ground like a tunnel.

Just as I round the corner I see 6 guards heading right at me. I shift into Maka as soon as they reached me the tunnel wasn’t really big and that worked in my favor so I didn’t have to worry about them surrounded me. These wolves were young and inexperienced I made it pass them with barely a scratch. I allow Maka to keep control so we can move faster in this form and we can discard wolves as we go. I heard a peircing scream that I knew was Jilahni, Maka picked up speed as more wolves charged in our direction. Maka was almost feral with his need to protect our mate and pups. He was ripping the wolves throats out one by one barely giving them time to strike 1 blow. He had one single thought, Jilahni.

Ji'lahni POV:

"How much further do we have. Seems like we have been walking forever. Who the hell thought it was a good idea to put a damn 10 mile tunnel in here." I said trying to stay calm and breathe so the babies won't freak out and start trying to come out too early. But I can hear growls and howls that sounded dangerously close. Trying to speed up wasn't an option at the moment because the pressure and weight of my stomach wasn't lite. " We have to hurry the alpha is in the building headed our way. He said to not have his pups without him." The doc said trying to keep the urgency out of his voice. "Yea well tell him we can trade places and he can carry the two babies." I said holding my belly trying to relieve some of this pressure and I had to pee something serious. I already peed a little early lucky enough I had started wearing pads for leakage.

We were passing another tunnel something lift the doc off his feet and threw him backwards towards me barely missing me I almost lost my footing getting out of the way. "Where you going to leave without saying Good-Bye." Zane said blocking our path to freedom. "Now can I panic?" I whispered to the doc as he got up and put himself in front of me. I felt my babies start to move again and I know they are reacting to my fear. So I tried breathing deeply to calm my nerves. "Doc are you willing to die for a human?" "She's not just a human she is carrying my future Alpha. I will not allow you to hurt them." The Doc said as he prepared to defend me with his life. Zane shrugs his shoulders. "Suit yourself." he said as he charged at Doc. The Doc pushed me out of the way just as Zane attacked he managed to dodge or block most of Zane's attack which was smart because Doc knew he was no match for Zane so he was trying to give Kahi enough time to reach us.

Tired of the Doc game he charged at the doc and as soon as the doc went to dodge the attack Zane switched at the last second and swiped across the Docs chest. At that moment they both shift into their wolves with Zane being a lot bigger then the doc. I could no longer remain calm my fear for doc spiked with the feeling of doubt that I won't be able to escape this hell hole. My breathing picked up and the babies began to move. I heard the Doc yelp as Zane's teeth barely misses the docs throat and bit into his shoulder. I had to cover my scream because I didn't want to distract doc in anyway. Where the hell are you Kahi the doc is injured now and I know he can't keep him busy much longer. Just then Zane caught the doc by the leg and threw him against the wall all I heard was a thud because they we now facing forward Zane half shift back to human he bent down to grab doc by the throat and lifted him up in the air. "I'll be sure to tell your alpha that you put a fight not a good one but you get death for effort." Zane said like the typical villan. So I guess all villan are just like on TV. I on the other hand is about to do something really stupid and I'm sure I am going to regret this. But I can't let doc die for me. I slip the knife I had tucked in my waist out and slowly approach Zane as he held doc like he was an oscar award trophy. When I got close enough I reached up as high as I could and stabbed him 3 times near his heart I knew the knife wasn't long enough to reach hos heart so I made sure to at least slow him down and cause as much damage as I can with 3 strikes. Zane dropped the Doc and roar from the knife wounds turned and backhanded me across the face. See I told y'all I would regret it.

Zane grabbed me by the neck and slammed me against the wall. The pain in my back and getting choked wasn't apart of the plan. "How dare you betray me after everything that I have done for you. Even with my life slipping away I still looked at him like he was crazy. All of a sudden I felt a contraction hit me so hard that I managed to scream even with Zane's hands around my throat. His eyes widen in shock right before some invisible force threw him away from me so hard he cracked the wall. everything happened so fast but in slow motion. I felt myself falling to the ground but some how I didn't hit the floor I felt strong arms pull me close. I was still dazed and I thought I was still dreaming because it wasn't the doc holding me but it was Makahi.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 20

Makahi POV:

What the hell was that! Maka was full speed down the tunnel barreling through wolves that seems never ending. Just as I ripped the throat out of the last set of wolves. when I rounded the corner I finally saw the doc being held by the throat just as I saw Ji'lahni come up behind Zane who roared dropping the doc before he backhanded Ji'lahni just as she was falling Zane grabbed her by the throat lifting her feet off the ground Maka was pushing himself to the limiting trying to reach her in time horrified that we wouldnt make it. Then all of a sudden Ji'lahni screamed and I see some sort of aura shoot from Ji'lahni's body which should be impossible but it was so powerful that Zane flew away from her and cracked the wall behind him. I shifted just as I reached her before she hit the ground, she landed in my arms and just like the first time I touched her it was like an electric jolt. "Hey baby are you OK?" I asked frantically touching and kissing her face while checking for other wounds with my hands. When I touched her belly where our pups grew I felt their aura that was so powerful that I was speechless because it could quite possibly be the strongest I have ever seen from a alpha baby and they were moving like crazy and I could hear them like they knew it was me.

They were moving her belly making it look deformed and Ji'lahni groaned and frowned at their movement . I open my mind. "Hey Papa's here now calm down you're hurting your momma." I said with authority and they immediately stopped moving. When I looked back up, Ji'lahni was staring at me. "Well I see how this is going to go. They listen to you but I have to beg them to listen to me." She said rolling her eyes. "Hey they love their Papa." I said smiling for the first time since she went missing. I know we should be heading out but I needed to feel her. she smiled at me and I broke down as tears of joy overtook me and she reached up and kissed me and just like that everything else faded away to nothing it was just me and her. "Uh Alpha we need to get moving Zane is starting to come to. I looked over at the piece of s**t that touch my mate. I was handing Ji'lahni to doc about to ripped that son of a b***h throat but Ji'lahni groaned in pain again and I knew I needed to get her out of here. Turning to the doc I hand him the belt from around my neck that Lynn gave me then I shifted. The doc secured Ji'lahni on Maka and we were racing out of there less then 2 minutes later. We heard Zane roared so loud the floor trembled . Maka hated running from a fight but he knew getting Ji'lahni out of here was more important. "I found them we're heading out with Zane hot on our tails get the girls out of here let hunter take them back to the chopper so Zane won't get any ideas." I mindlinked the team who waited at the exit.

My ears picked up Zane's paws gaining on us. The doc was right on my heels his wounds were already mostly healed. "Doc I need you to take Ji'lahni get to the exit Zane is gaining on us and I'm the only one who is strong enough to kill him." I mindlinked Doc then stopped while he unstrapped Ji'lahni and shift so she could climb on his wolf I strapped her down and went to shift before I could she grabbed me and kissed me again. "Be safe." I nodded and allowed Maka to once again take control. He was fareal with the need of revenge and to protect our mate and our pups but he was also very calm and void of emotion which was a little unnerving. I allowed him complete control because a Alpha must trust his wolf they were one and chosen by the moon goddness herself. Realizing that I loved that woman and would happily die to keep her safe I thought. "Me too." Maka responded as we once again raced to the exit.

ZANE POV:

I roared! "Bring me our guest to the east corridor NOW!" I Sneered mindlinking to my guards. As I shifted to my wolf Oragon I raced in the direction of my future mate. I don't know what the hell just happened I never meant to hurt her but when she stabbed me Oragon reacted before I could hold him back. Oragon could be a little farel but usually I could control his outburst but with Ji'lahni she weakens me and drives me crazy with her fiery spirit. When my niece first contacted me to get rid of the humans. I dismissed the idea until she told me about what happened to the rogue who attacked one of the humans, which intrigued me so I agreed to help my niece. I could care less about my niece and her drama but the humans were a mystery. I wanted to see if I could use them to speed up my plans. But when I laid eyes on Ji'lahni I immediately became taken with her. When my men surrounded her we could smell her fear but she still held her ground and even almost took my niece's eye out. Right then my plan changed, well slightly at least. I knew that I wanted her to be my mate. But Alpha Makahi stood in my way at every turn... It's time to end this once and for all. Rounding the corner at full spread I finally have them in my sights. The alpha glances back and spots me. Just then I see him slow down while the doc and my mate continue running to the exit. I ordered some of my men to cut them off but I get no response.

Damn it! My rage boils over and I wanted to rip the Alpha's throat. I slow down to a walk and shift just as I got close to Alpha Makahi. "Well I must admit you really don't know how to admit and accept defeat. You disrespect me by coming into my home trying to kidnap my mate. I could rip your throat out just for that." I sneered as the alpha growled pacing back and forth ready to attack. "Oh calm down I don't plan to kill you yet I have bigger plans for you son. You see you seem to be the only thing standing between me and my mate and killing you wouldn't solve my problem it would only cause my mate pain and she would hate me for killing the father of her pups. You had the perfect luna in my niece and you the threw her away for a human." Just then the Alpha shift to his human form." You know you're a sick twisted bastard. You do all of this because I dumped your niece a niece you never had interest in never a phone call or visit." He sneered with a shake of his head. " You're right don't have no interest in my niece I could care less about what happens to her. But I'm sure you do care." Right on time a guard dragged my niece by the hair kicking and screaming. Makahi looked at Summer in shock but quickly hid his surprise.

"You think I care what happens to your niece? She betrayed my pack and caused this entire situation so I'm not sure you thought this through you can rip her throat out for all I care." Makahi said shrugging nonchalantly. Summer gasped and broke down crying loudly. Turning to her "Enough!" I commanded and Summer quited immediately. Turning back to Makahi who wanted to appear bored with the conversation but I know he could hear my guards coming which would mean he was outnumbered. So I know he was about to shift so he could race for the exit where his men are sure to be waiting I know I could take him down alone but with his beta and his first commander I'm no fool thinking I could take them all at once even with the two guards holding Summer. Focusing back on the Alpha I smiled. "You may not care about my niece but seeing what lengths you were willing to take for the pups Jalahni is carrying I'm sure you would be devastated if we were to lose your pup whose currently growing inside my niece's belly a " I smiled triumphantly as I see the shock on the Alpha's face and hear Summer cry out at the thought of me killing her pup.

Looking at the alpha shock turn back to the uncaring expression he had before."I take it you didn't know she was pregnant with your pup huh?" I asked rhetorically. "It doesn't matter to me because you were obviously lied to because there is no way she is having my pup." He said backing away getting ready to shift. "I wouldn't be so sure about that." I said as I motion for my men to drag Summer forward using my alpha command. "Tell him!" Summer again started to cry looking at the Alpha pleadingly "I'm so sorry Kahi I didn't mean for any of this to happen you have to believe me." she cried "Out with it." I commended.

Summer jumped back slightly as I lengthen my claws. Looking back at Makahi who was still backing away. "I'm sorry I never meant for any of this to happen but you started pulling away from me and I got desperate I thought that once the humans were gone everything would go back to the way they were. When they first left and you thought they plotted to kill our entire pack, you started making promises to continue with our mating ceremony, but kept blowing me off and canceling plans with me just to sit in your office and drink until you passed out. So one night when you canceled on me yet again I got angry and stormed to your office but you were passed out drunk and when I pulled the blanket over you you grabbed my wrist and pulled me to you kissing me like you were craving my lips. I thought you were finally coming back to me until I heard you call her name. I got so angry that I tried to push you off at first because I was so mad at that human b***h that I decided if we slept together you would come around and finally see that we were meant to be. But the next day I got up and went to the pack kitchen to get you breakfast. But before I could take it up to you, you came down stairs and acted like I didn't exist like we just hadn't spent the night together I felt so humiliated that I just ran out of there and didn't say anything. But then the other human showed up and she held me hostage you acted like I meant nothing to you, you allowed her to threaten my life and get away with it. You will never know how much that hurt me. So when you left to rescue her this time I left and went to my uncles pack I knew you wouldn't go there and my uncle was obviously not there so I decided to go there.

I didn't know my uncle was still in contact with the pack he left behind so I thought it was safe to see the pack doctor when I got sick one morning a couple of weeks later. But he must have informed my uncle that I was on his pack lands and I was pregnant with your pup because the next thing I know I wake up here." Summer finished sobbing uncontrollably. I look back at the Alpha and saw his entire face changed once he recalled the event that led to this moment he looked at Summer's belly my men lift her shirt so he can see the small baby bump that Summer already had because she has always been physically fit and wolf pups grow faster than human babies. I smiled happily when he growled and clinched his fist ready to attack the men who jerk Summer back roughly. Good just the reaction I was looking for I knew his weakness. He will do anything to protect his pup. Which is why I don't plan to kill him I plan to make it impossible for him to be with Jalahni in any way that way she will come running back to me. All I had to do is be patient. Clearing my throat to get his attention.

"Now that we have all that cleared up. The only way to save your pup's life is to mark my dear niece here which should be no problem since she was supposed to be your mate and Luna anyway." I finished and shrug dismissively. "You're out of your mind let her go now before I rip your throat out. If any one of you touch her or my pup you will die slow." Makahi snarled. "Now now alpha I'm trying to avoid killing you and my pregnant niece but if you refuse you honestly leave me no choice." I said easily as my claws lengthen and Summer begins to scream and fight my guards who were dragging her to me. I really didn't want to kill my niece but I would if it meant hurting Makahi for causing me so many problems and interfering with my plans, oh well.
