Chapter 111

Shaid's POV:

The master locked me in my chambers, and I don't understand why I am being punished. My hunger is getting to me, and thoughts of Shadow is invading my thoughts at every turn. Why hasn't the potion wore off yet? Why am I getting fleshes of his handsome face in the morning sunlight or his expressions when we would make love, but it can't be me he is making love to. So why does it feel so real? Why does it feel as though it is me in these memories? I can't think clearly because the hunger is getting stronger by the hour. I feel like I'm losing control of my sanity. I need to get out of here and talk to master so she can remove this potion from my body at least then, my hunger would only be for blood, and not for the man who isn't my mate, but has invaded my mind day and night. My body is calling to him wanting to go to him to mate, mark, and feed from him. My body warmed and tingled at the pleasure I knew he could give. Just then another hunger pain hit my body this this much harder than before, I screamed out at the intense pain I was feeling. But still the only thing I could think of through the pain was. "Mate."

Shadow's POV:

I stood outside Shawna's bedroom door nervously. Rane was clawing at my brain wanting me to bust through the door and take her in our arms and never let go. But I know she wouldn't allow me to touch her. She was pissed at me about wanting to rescue Scarlett, but if she would just let me explain I know she would understand. "You don't really believe that." Rane said, to me in my mind. "Yes I do why wouldn't she understand?" I asked. "Because you don't understand it yourself. The alpha asked you if you still have feelings for our mate and you and I both know we do. To tell Shawna anything other than the truth will only make things worse and cause us to lose her and our pups." Rane said and I had to sigh because he was right. I wish I could explain my feelings for Scarlett, but I can't. It isn't like it was before, but there is feelings still there and I don't know what to do about them. I just want to focus on helping her and getting her help.

"Are you going to stand outside my door all day or are you going to come in and say what you have to say so I can take a night before we leave." I heard Shawna say on the other end of her bedroom door. How the hell does she know I was at her door? It doesn't matter all that matters is she was open to talking to me and allowing me to explain things the best way I could. When I stepped in the room I stopped dead in my tracks at the sight before me. Shawna must have showered and changed out of yoga pants and tee shirt from earlier. Now she wore a red form fitting night gown that displayed her breast which were now spilling out the top of the gown because they were swollen because of my pups. Her belly was on full display it was round and firmer than before. She was so fg beautiful especially with her carrying my pups. "So, you came to my room just to eye fk me?” She asked, I immediately turned away and pretend I was just shutting the door and not embarrass that she caught me staring at her.

Once I got myself together and adjusted my pants because my hard member made the pants super tight and uncomfortable. When I turned back towards Shawna she was laying on the bed and looking so uncomfortable, unable to get into a comfortable position. She slept on her stomach most nights and on the other nights she would use me as a pillow. I walked over to the other side of the bed and begin to climb in with her. “Um sir, what the hell are you doing? You can sit right in that chair in the corner. You don’t need to be laying with me in order to say what you have to say.” “Shawna stop being so stubborn I know you’re uncomfortable because you can’t sleep on your stomach because of the pups. I remember you saying that sleeping on me was comfortable. So just allow me to help you get some rest you want to be at your best to save your pups. Right?” I asked and smirked because I had an explanation that made a little bit of sense. Shawna frowned at me like she was mad that I came up with an excuse that made her think I had a point. Taking a frustrated breath but turned so I could get in bed, and she made her way over to me and snuggled into me and sighed when her body relaxed in comfort.

Rane purred at the feel of her in our arms it felt right. I could feel the firmness of her belly where our pups grew. “Shadow just touch my stomach if you want to, these are our babies I won’t take anything from this experience away from you because we are no longer together.” She said as she shifted and placed my hand on her stomach. I jumped when I felt something under my hands. “Calm down apparently I’m not the only one who can’t get comfortable.” Shawna said giggling, I looked at her in awe, she was more beautiful than before carrying our pups. Her giggles stopped when she looked up at me. I leaned my forehead against hers, and I closed my eyes to cherish this moment just in case I won’t be able to be this close to her again. “I’m sorry.” I whispered, pulling her close to me. Taking a deep breath.

“Shadow there is nothing to apologize for, you need to do what makes you happy I can’t fault you for that.” She said pulling away from me. Rane whined missing her touch immediately. “Shawna it’s not like that, I only want to rescue her from the witch because she is just a victim in all of this. If you would have known her before all this then you would understand where I’m coming from.” I said pleadingly hoping she would understand. She sat up on the bed her back facing me, so I couldn’t see or read her expression. “Shadow, everyone has a past, and we can’t get around that, but along with that come change as well. You’re trying to save her, but you have convinced yourself that you’re doing it because she has been a victim and used by evil, which could very well be the truth. But what you also fail to see is that you want the old Scarlett back as well and that Scarlett was the love of your life. I am not nor will I ever be, and I get that I’m just trying to get over that hurt so when our babies are born I can do so with a healing heart and not a broken one.” She said getting up, I got up and went to face her. She had tears falling from her eyes which crushed me.

“Shawna baby that isn’t what I’m trying to do.” “Shadow you can lie to me but don’t lie to yourself. Can you say you don’t love her? Can you truly say once you rescue her that the mate bond won’t kick in and pull you two back together?” I paused, because the alpha had asked me the same thing and I couldn't answer him then. "Exactly you can't answer that simple question, so that in and of itself says it all. You can forgive, and forget, and still love the person who tried to kill me, and your babies, she kidnapped me and wanted to deliver me to her master to do gods knows what. But yet you want me to believe you when you try to tell me who she use to be, and you real life want me to ignore what I have seen with my own eyes. That makes absolutely no sense that I will risk my babies life on a past you want to relive, rather than the present and everything I have witnessed with my own eyes. I can't put my life or the lives of our babies in the hands of anyone that I can't one hundred and ten percent trust that he would risk his life to protect us from anyone no matter who it is. So, please go rescue your mate, but just leave me out of it I want no part of that. I will protect me and my babies, you just protect you and your mate, with no worries or guilt we're good. Please see yourself out I want to get some sleep before we leave later on." She said walking around me, entering the rest room and locking the door behind her.

Rane whined in my head at her words. How could she believe that I wouldn't protect her and our pups with my life. My heart felt like someone had stuck there hands in my chest and squeezed my heart until I was unable to draw a single breath. I rushed out of Shawna's Room and out the door, and shifted into Rane, and ran into the woods trying to escape the words that Shawna said to us. She didn't trust us anymore.

Chapter 112

Lateri's house:

Lateri and Mylan

"God damnit Mylan, why the hell don't you knock like normal people. You scared the st out of me." Lateri yelled. "What fun would that be? I have to get a good laugh where I can I'm old there isn't much I enjoy these days so scaring the hell out of you puts a smile on my face." Mylan said and Lateri rolled her eyes and started to make some lunch for the both of them. Mylan sat down at the table and chair in the kitchen. "So, is everything planned?" Lateri asked, while she sliced veggies. "Yes, I have prepared them the best that I could. But you know well as I do that even with the best laid plan something always goes wrong. But I want to know what the moon goddess tell you about what's coming? Will she be calling her battle warriors?" Mylan asked staring at Lateri waiting for her to answer. "You know she doesn't tell us everything, she just said that this was bigger than we think which is why she didn't allow me to shift to save my grand pups." Lateri said as she started to chop at the veggies in anger. She felt like a failure, she had failed her son by not being able to protect his pups from an evil witch who was so in love with her mate that she would do anything to have him. Now her mate and her grand pups are at the mercy of that bh.

“Now. Now Lateri don’t allow anger to cloud your judgement. We have to find out what the witch is up to. None of the gods or goddesses knows who has broken the sacred rules. The dragon god thinks it’s the Moon goddesses twin brother who is behind all of this. He thinks he has something big planned that will bring about the extinction of all shifters if he is not stopped. That would mean your Moon goddess will have to help destroy her twin brother if it turns out to be him who is controlling the witch. What I didn’t tell the others is if the Dark one is behind this then those pups are in more danger than any of us knows. The dragon said they are more powerful than any shifter on the planet they all combined their essence into those girls and if someone somehow takes their powers they will also take on the essence of every single god and goddess and will be unstoppable.” Mylan said and that made Lateri stop and turn her head towards her old friend who also had a worried expression on her face which has never happened since she has been knowing her. She actually looked afraid. “Mylan are you sure that is what your god told you? Why would they do that to innocent helpless babies, my grand pups? How could they do this to us?” Lateri asked, as she came to sit next to her friend and cried. “friend we will never know why the Gods and Goddess do half the things they do. But you best believe that no matter what we will do everything in our powers to make sure those babies are safe. Your goddess will call upon her battle warriors when we are needed, we just have to have faith. But until she does we will do what we do best which is kill bitches.” Mylan said, grabbing and squeezing Lateri’s hand. Although they always argue, they were very close. Lateri loved the human women because they reminded her of her and her battle warriors. They were together for years, ending the wars all over the world. During that time, they became close like sisters.

“Let’s eat and then go get your man from that bh damn evil witch.” Mylan said, and Lateri laughed out loud for the first time since she woke up from death. “How you still don’t know how to use curse words, after all these damn years?” “What? Was that wrong I thought I had it right that time.” Mylan smiled and shrugged. She never bothered to learn because she believed it was a waste of time.

Makahi’s POV:

I was finally able to leave the pack house. Everything was planned for when we leave later this evening. As the alpha I can’t show any weakness I always have to remain strong and lead my pack no matter what the situation was, including my daughters and my father being kidnapped and going through goddess knows what. I let myself into the girls’ house and headed up the stairs to Ji’lahni’s bedroom. I paused at the door. I could hear Ji’lahni weeping, I know she wants to be strong for her cousins and everyone, so she doesn’t allow herself to feel the pain that we both share at the thought of our girls being in the hands of an evil witch. The guilt I feel for not being able to protect them was like a knife to the heart. I refuse to lose my pups or my father to that evil witch no matter what I have to do I will get them back. No matter the cost I will get them back for Ji’lahni. Just then I felt pain in my neck. It almost brought me to my knees. I have been having these pains in my neck for hours now. Maka told me that it wasn’t our pain so that means it is pain from the mates bond.

I took a deep breath, closing my eyes trying to control the pain before I go in the room. I don't want Ji'lahni to worry about me on top of everything. I remember what she said when I that we would also be rescuing Shadow's mate, but I needed to tell her that I would also be trying to rescue Summer in order to break the bond and nothing more. I know I have no feelings for her other then what the bond created when I marked her. I still don't know how that was even possible, but I thank the moon goddess for giving me a chance to get it right this time. Because Ji'lahni was my life I couldn't survive without her. I know that now, even though it took me a while I finally understand that the moon goddess chose Ji'lahni for me and I will do everything I can to make sure she becomes my Luna and my mate. I entered the room and Ji'lahni immediately wiped her eyes trying to hide that she was just crying. I crawled in bed beside her and pulled her into my arms. I felt the usual uncomfortable feeling that always happens when I touch her because of the mate bond with Summer. I always try to touch her without Maka for as long as I could, but it didn't last long and always ends in disappointment.

"Why do you always do that, just let Maka join us. We both know you can't touch me without him. You always trying only serves as a reminder that you belong to Summer and not me." She said sadly, hearing her say that, nearly ripped me apart. "No, I will never belong to anyone but you. I love you Ji'lahni you have to believe me." I said, as I allowed Maka to join us, and the uncomfortable feeling disappeared immediately, and I pulled her closer in my arms and buried my head in her neck and inhaled her sweet watermelon and cotton candy scent. "So, is everything set and ready to go?" She asked. "Yes, everything is set and ready to leave this evening." I answered.

"Makahi, I'm so scared I won't survive if they aren't ok. They have to be ok." She said as she begin to cry again. I pulled her even tighter into my arm and released some of my aura it was instinct for Maka to want to comfort her and relieve some of her pain. She took a sighed deeply. "Listen to me baby the girls are fine. I don't know how I know it; but I do. My father is protecting them, he will not let anything happen to them. He will keep them safe until we get there. I would feel if something happens to them. We have been connected since you carried them in your womb. I know they're safe with my father." I said praying that what I felt earlier was indeed my father trying to reach me. That would mean he found a way to get away from the witch. "So, are you going to tell me why you have been in pain for most of the day? Is it summer?" She said turning in my arms to face me, looking at me intently. I sighed I won't lie to her anymore.

"I didn't want to worry you. With everything else we got going on. I think Summer is being tortured in some way." "So, she is still alive, I swear that broad has more than nine lives. The bh is like a scary movie that has fifty-six parts, because when people think they finally kill the monster, he somehow sticks his hand up out the ground or all of a sudden open his eyes at the end letting you know they're still not dead." She said, angrily. I looked at her confused, I swear her, and her cousins are always making weird references.

"So, I guess you want to tell me that along with Shadows mate we also have to rescue your mate as well?" She asked already knowing the answer. So, I simply nodded my head yes "This some Bullst!" she said angrily and I have to agree. This is some Bull st!

Chapter 113

Lynn's POV:

"st, st, st this is bad this is really fg bad?" I said as I paced the floor to my room. I immediately came back here once I left the conference room after my talk with Dradon. I have been avoiding Montego like the plague. I had told Mina to get the girls and meet me in my room. I needed to talk to someone, and they are the only ones who could help me figure this st out. "What the hell is so urgent that I had to get up from my nap. I swear yall won't let me sleep for st.

Don't get mad at me if one of yall gets shot in the a*s because I fell asleep being the look out." Shawna said as she came into my room and immediately laid down on my bed. She was so dramatic as a pregnant lady. She was already showing because she had three babies in there, so it took her a while to get comfortable. "I swear Lynn this better be good I'm already in a fd-up a*s mood. Because Makahi just told me that he would also be trying to find that bh a*s Summer on this mission too." Ji'lahni said, angrily.

"Damn that bh still alive? How many episodes does this bh have? She's just like Shadow's mate, these bitches don't know how to die or stay gone like regular hoes. Shawna said sitting up as Ji'lahni and Mina came in. closing the door. "So, Lynn what's up?" Ji'lahni asked sitting next to Shawna, I took the seat next to Mina on the couch. I took a deep breath. "When Dradon came to save Shawna, he made it clear that I would have to pay back the debt for saving Shawna. I agreed because I couldn't let you die. I would have done anything to save you and our babies." I said, as Shawna began to cry at what I had done to save her. Mina put her arms around me as a silent thank you and we got your back no matter what.

"Well today after my meeting with my grandmother. We stayed behind to talk I already knew whatever he wanted would be big, but I didn't know how big it would be." I said looking down trying to hold back my emotions that were threatening to take over. "Well, what is it he wants? Whatever it is we will help you you're not doing this alone." Shawna said confidently because she didn't know what he has asked of me. "I'm afraid what he wants is a one-person job." I said and they frowned slightly confused. I decided to just come out and say it. "Well, the golden dragons are almost extinct, every time they manage to imprint on a female she nor the baby ever survives the pregnancy or birth. So, they haven't been able to procreate. Dradon wants me to allow the dragon I was connected to. The one I gave to my brother, to imprint on me. I'm sure that he thinks because we are connected by blood that my chances of survival is greater than any other female." I said as a tear fell from my eyes as I said it our loud for the first time since Dradon told me what my price for saving a life. Basically, a life for a life.

“WHAT? Hell no, Lynn you can’t do that st what about Montego? You know damn well Montego will kill anyone who tries to take you from him.” Shawna said getting up off the bed. “Facts! You not doing that st, he knows you and Montego are mates. Everybody has seen you two together to know you and Montego are together especially with how he is always watching or touching you. You have to tell him that he has to figure out another way you can repay the debt.”

Ji’lahni said, getting up pacing the floor. Shaking my head, “No, that’s not how this works, there is no negotiation when you make a deal with a dragon you have no choice you either do it willingly or they will either force you to comply or just kill you.” I said shrugging. “I swear this is some bull st! I real life need to find out which one of us were serial killers in our past life to be dealt a f*d-up a*s hand in this life. Because there is no way we have to deal with all of this bull st in this life without our past selves being psychos.” Ji’lahni said, angrily as tears filled her eyes but I know she wouldn’t allow one of them to fall until she was alone. She thought we didn’t know about her little secret.

“We need to figure this out, because you are not mating or imprinting or whatever they want to call it with nobody but who you want..” Shawna said, absentmindedly rubbing her belly. “I really don’t know what we could do to get out of this. I just wanted to vent and get it off my chest. I am not going to say anything to Montego until after we get the girls back. One st storm at a time. So, we know their plans what is our plan?” I asked, changing the subject there was no need to dwell on something we can’t change. “Yall know they hate for us to do st outside of their plans. Yea, because they are used to she wolves who don’t and can’t take care of themselves let alone defend themselves. I don’t understand it, how can you solely depend on a man to protect you. Sometimes your man needs some help the least you could do is throw a punch to give your dude the upper hand or something.” Mina said, in disbelief. “Well, we need to come up with a way to not die on this mission. These dudes are trying to save dead bitches and psycho bitches and we’re going to make sure that we have our asses covered.” I said to them as I tried to think of a way to keep us all safe. “Well, I know you will need to get Rimmy fitted with a harness because I won’t be teaming up with Blaze anymore. His girlfriend has an issue with me. That might get her assed whipped if I continue teaming up with him.” Mina said which made us all stop and look at her.

“Oh, so we got another fg b*h to deal with. What happened and why didn’t you say anything?” Shawna asked. “It’s no big deal I put her a*s in her place. When I left the conference room earlier Hunter asked me how Shawna was doing. Blaze and his girlfriend was over there at the same table, so when I walked over I told him Shawna was good and that I was just in there to get some fruit or a sandwich. Then, Blaze’s girlfriend decided she wanted a consultation, she was apparently looking for someone to rearrange her face, and I basically told her my prices are too high, so she better go find someone else to do it. She said that she had to massage Blaze’s back after we teamed up during the earlier attack.” Mina said, shrugging. “What! I know you lying. Why the fk you didn’t say anything? You know what never mind I will see her.” I said angry as hell. “Well didn’t Blaze put her in her fg place?” Shawna asked. Mina shook her head no and just like that, he got added to the fg list. “Oh well fk him too.” Ji’lahni said, crossing her arms under her breast. “Anyway, I told him he no longer has to worry about me, and I will get you to get Rimmy fitted for a vest harness. So, I need you to do that before we leave.” Mina said to me . I could see he had hurt her feelings when he didn’t say anything to defend her, but she also will be over it fast. That was just how she was.

“I can’t make one in time the only thing I could do is alter the one Blaze already has. I can’t go to the pack house because I know Montego is there.” “Don’t worry about it I will go and get it I want to talk to the omega Rose about what we will be bringing on this mission because the last time them dudes were not prepared for outside dining, and I don’t have time for the foolishness of cooking and eating food with no seasoning.” Mina said getting up and heading to the door. “Hey, do you want me to walk with you?” Shawna said getting up slowly. “Hell no, you need a nap I’m not trying to get my a*s shot because you done nodded off to sleep hell we already got to worry about you peeing and getting caught with your pants down.” Mina said and we all laughed. “Shut up, that st wasn’t funny I was scared as hell, who wants to die and wake up in heaven and have them angels laughing at me because I got killed peeing. I’m sure that would have been a first.” Shawna said and we laughed even harder. This is what I love about them. Even though we had all kinds of issues we always find a reason to laugh.

Chapter 114

Mina’s POV:

Sighing deeply. I damn sure did not feel like dealing with Blaze or his damn girlfriend because I know damn well if I kill this b*h their laws aren’t like ours they don’t mind killing people around here and I don’t need to end up in nobody jail of death. But I refuse to team up with Blaze anymore, I don’t need that drama in my life right now. So, I’m just going to knock on his door and get the harness vest and get the hell out, simple. Yea right, you know damn well nothing is fg simple around here. I rolled my eyes and headed into the pack house. The common room was almost empty. I was hoping that I ran into Rimmy and asked him if we could team up. I’m sure he wouldn’t mind. He was really cool like that. I made it to Blazes door I couldn’t hear anything because all the rooms were soundproof so I couldn’t tell if he was with his girlfriend or alone. Well, it’s me again lord, I’m gone need another favor can you please let me not have to lay hands on nobody’s girlfriend. I really don’t feel like it’s the right time to be fg.. I mean not fg.. Damn it I mean lord just please let me get this vest and go. I knocked on the door quickly before I changed my mind. I was going to count to ten before I hightail it out of there. Ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, I started backing away feeling a little relieved that he wasn’t there. I turned on my heel getting ready to find Rose. “Mina, what are you doing here?” I heard Blaze’s voice and stopped in my tracks. I turned around and he was completely naked, I mean not even a pair of socks. So, let me tell yall this man was so damn fine, his dreads weren’t as long as Makahi’s, but his was just the right length to fit his face. He looked dangerous but with a playful smile. I only glanced down for a brief second, and that was all I needed, in order to know his package would cost a hefty price to ship it into my hot box. Oh lord this is not good. Stop it. Stop it. Stop it. You know they told you these dude sense of smell was off the charts, now get your st together Mina. But I didn't need to worry because what I heard next took all those desires and nasty thoughts right out of my head. "Baby what's taking you so long I was right on the edge of cumming." His girlfriend Jen or whatever her name is said, before she looked up, saw it was me, and smirked as she rubbed down his chest. Thank god Blaze stopped her before she could reach that package I told yall about. Only then did I notice that he was actually sweating and was that? Ewe. Ewe. I quickly turned around with my back now facing them. "My bad, I didn't know you were busy, I just need the harness vest from you so I could give it to Lynn to get Rimmy fitted. If you could get it and leave it by the door. I'll find Rimmy and let him pick it up and take it to Lynn." I said, in one breath trying to talk fast and get the fk away from them. "Oh, that's good, no need I'll get it, so you don't have to bother us while we are in the middle of having s*x." Jen or whatever her name is said. I didn't respond I just stood there still looking at the wall across the hall from their door. I recoiled when I felt a hand on my arm. "Sir please keep your hands to yourself I don't need none of what yall got going on in there on my skin or my clothes." I said stepping closer to the wall. "Mina, please don't do this. I never said any of those things about you. We could still be together I mean team up on the mission." He said sounding almost desperate which I know can't be true. I mean why would he be. "It's no problem, your girlfriend has a problem with me, and I really don't want to have to deal with her and her insecurities. This is also making things easier for you." I said, still not looking back. He was silent for so long I thought he had left and went back in the room, so I relaxed a little and that was a fg big a*s mistake. Yall let me tell you, I almost drop to the floor like a sack of potatoes when I felt Blazes hot breath on the back of my fg neck when I tell you, that one breath sent a collect call straight to my cookie, and the bh answered on the first fg ring accepting all the charges and damn near left a tip. I heard Blaze groaned and knew he knew exactly when my cookies said...hello it's me. "Here, I found it. It was under our clothes we took off earlier they were thrown everywhere because we wanted each other so bad." Jen or whatever her name is said, coming back to the door. Blaze managed to move rather quickly away from me, and I released a breath I didn't know I was holding. I turned around still not making eye contact with either of them I felt when Jen or whatever gave me the vest. When she placed that harness in my hand it might as well have been a relay baton in an Olympic relay race. That hand off and run I did was gold medal worthy. I was outta of there and outta breath by the time I cut the corner. "Hey beautiful, why are you out of breath? Did seeing me take your breath away?" I heard none other than Dradon, just the dragon I came to see. I wanted so bad to snatch his heart out and step on it, for that lame a*s line but I needed to be nice to him because I needed him in a good mood if he would go along with my plan. So, I smiled my sweetest smile. "Wow am I that obvious I thought I was hiding your affect on me better than that. I may have to work on it better so next time I won't be so obvious. I wanted to see you before we left though maybe spend some time together and talk." I said with a smile, and his face broke into the biggest smile as he grabbed my hand. "Well, why don't we go some place quiet so we can talk without being disturbed." He said pulling me back down the hallway I just ran from. I was glad that Blaze was no longer in the hallway, and we didn't have to pass Blazes room to get to Dradon's room thank god for small favors.

Blaze's POV:

“WHAT THE fk IS WRONG WITH YOU? WHY DID YOU JUST LIE TO MINA?” I yelled at Jessica; I really don’t know why she is all of a sudden acting like her friend Summer. When we first started dating she was the complete opposite of Summer. I had often asked how are they even friends because they were so different. Now I’m seeing she’s turning out to be just like her. “Blaze why are you so mad what’s the big deal? I just don’t like how she looks at you and you see what happened to Summer when she let that human near her man. I am not going to take any chances.

You said if we haven’t found our other half mates by the time we are twenty-five we would mate. Well, you’re already twenty-five and haven’t found your other half mate and I will be twenty-five in eight months, and I don’t think I will find my other half mate either. I have been visiting the neighboring packs like you said and I haven’t found him.” She said coming up to me kissing where her mark would be.

But instead, of the usual feelings I use to get when she kisses me there, all I felt now is guilt, like I was somehow cheating on my mate. Jessica had no idea I had actually met my other half mate. Mina was the last person on the planet that I thought would be my other half mate, and the last person I thought would be knocking on my door.

I actually thought it was Hunter or another wolf. We don’t mind being nude in front of each other because we shift in front of each other all the time. So, I didn’t bother covering myself, I was already frustrated because of how long it took my dk to get hard to even have s*x with Jessica and I didn’t want to waste time answering the door, but because of the mission later it could have been important. The look on Mina’s face when she saw me was pure shock and then the thick scent of her arousal hit my nose and I almost lost control of Onyx. Jessica coming up behind me was like a bucket of ice water. I was still shocked silent seeing her and smelling her arousal that when she said she wanted the harness so Rimmy could use it instead of me. I know I sounded like a desperate wolf, when I told her we could still team up and that I didn’t say any of those things earlier, but I didn’t give a damn I just needed her to believe me. I was in a panic knowing she would be riding on another wolf. When Jessica left the door I took the opportunity to be near Mina just for a second, but that was a bad fg idea. Because when I reached out to touch her she recoiled away from me and step further away from me. She still had her back to me, so instead of touching her I just stepped close enough to inhale her scent.

She smelled like hot cocoa and melted marshmallows. I felt my fangs aching to come out and Onyx was clawing at my subconscious wanting me to touch her, but I couldn’t, because I would not be able to stop myself from taking her and marking her in this fg hallway. ““Here, I found it. It was under our clothes we took off earlier they were thrown everywhere because we wanted each other so bad.”

Jessica said as she came back to the door. I jumped away from Mina before Jessica looked up. Mina didn’t even bother looking in my direction she took the harness and hightailed it out of there leaving me taking a piece of my soul with her. WHAT THE fk IS HAPPENING TO ME!

Chapter 115

Makahi's POV:

Looking at the clock it is almost time for us to leave out on the rescue mission. I can feel the entire packs anxiousness, anger, and vengeance. This is the first time that I am going on a mission with my Luna. I know she can take care of herself, but she is human and all me and Maka will be worried about is protecting her and making sure she is ok. I wouldn't survive if anything happens to her.

"Hey what are you thinking about?" Ji'lahni said entering her bedroom she had left to go to Lynn's room a while ago. "Nothing just trying to think about if I missed anything in our plan. I don't want anything to go wrong on this mission." I said, pulling her into my arms. Kissing her gently for a second until it got too uncomfortable. She noticed and stepped back. "You're a terrible Lier Makahi, so spill it, what's really going on in your head?" She asked, taking a deep breath. "I'm worried about you. I know you can take care of yourself, but we are dealing with supernatural beings. This is a whole different playing field. I just don't want anything to happen to you." I admitted, pulling her back into my embrace this time allowing Maka to join my subconscious. She sighed and leaned into me.

She somehow always knows when Maka is with us. "I get it and trust me I am scared as hell too, but I'm also a mother who's babies are probably even more scared then I am. But I'll be damn if I won't fight to the death to save them just like you." She said, pulling my head down to her level and kissed me gently but, now that Maka has joined me the feeling is anything but uncomfortable. I groaned at the feel of her soft lips on mine. She breaks off the kiss breathing heavily. "We really need to sleep before this mission. I'm going to change into my night gown and get some rest." She said as she headed to her walk-in closet. I sighed frustratedly once we get the girls and my father we are going to see the doc about birth control. I thought as I stripped out of my tee shirt and left on my basketball shorts. I climbed in bed resting my eyes waiting for Ji'lahni to come to bed.

"Hey, I need your help getting this off." She said, I opened my eyes so I could see what she needed help with. I almost fell out of the bed. She had changed into this Purple see threw negligee, her breast were on full display with underwire holding them up perfectly. The bottom was laced flared down barely cover the sheer thongs that her py seem to peek out the sides just enough to show you the prize that awaited for you. I was in a trance as she slowly walked over to me and climbed on top of the bed. "Makahi do you like my night gown?" She asked seductively.

I could only nod in approval. For the first time in my life Maka was completely speechless. She slowly straddled my legs and sat up giving me a full close-up view of what she was wearing. Before she grabbed my basketball shorts and pulled them down freeing my dk. She got back on all fours and crawled her way up to me stopping when her mouth was inches away from my dk. I didn't move a muscle just in case this was a dream because I damn sure didn't want to wake up. "Makahi." She called breathlessly. I could only manage a "huh" in response. "Put your dk in my mouth." She asked looking innocently at me.

My eyes widen in shock and disbelief, but she didn't have to ask me twice. I grabbed my dk and placed it on her closed lips, and she smile seductively at me and moved her mouth over my head like she was trying to work her mouth open, and I took the hint and started rubbing myself against her mouth pushing trying to work it open like I would do when I enter her wet py. She finally allowed my dk into her hot wet mouth, I nearly loss control. She moved my hand from my dk and grabbed it and started moving her tongue up and down my shaft and gently blowing the head cooling it off before putting her hot mouth on it instantly sending chills down my whole body at the hot and cold sensation. She would go fast and then slow repeating all those different sensation never letting a movement last too long. Her tongue was licking my head while her hand was stroking my shaft. My dk would pop out of her mouth, then she would ask me to put it back in. I don't know why, but her asking me that, and me pushing my dk back into her closed lips, that feeling once I get it back into her hot mouth, had me and Maka making noises I never knew I could. I have had my dk suck more then I can count, but I have never had it sucked like this before.

"Oh fk baby, if you keep sucking me like this I'm going to c*m in your mouth. You gotta slow down." All she did was moaned and then started sucking me even faster and she started sucking harder like she was trying to force my c*m from my balls. I was moaning louder now. I'm so glad these walls were soundproof because I wouldn't be able to face my pack, if they heard how just from Ji'lahni sucking me, I was moaning this loud. "Oh, fk baby, oh fk!" I heard myself say, not really recognizing my own voice. She stop abruptly and straddle my hip and place her already dripping py over me and slowly slid down on my dk. "Baby what are you doing? I don't have any protection. I thought you said we couldn't do it until we get some form of protection." Don't ask me how I even got any of that sentence out because I have no idea. I just didn't want her to regret this later.

"Well, I went and ask the doc if he had any kind of protection or birth control. He gave me an injection he uses for your she wolves he modified it a little for me, and he said if it didn't work he will deliver the baby with no gloves on." She said as she took me all in. I had already zoned out when she said the doc had giving her something to prevent her from getting pregnant. She began riding me slowly then just like when she had my dk in her mouth she rode me slowly, then she would speed up. It was like electric shocks each time she would change the pace. When I couldn't take it anymore I wrapped my arms around her waist and flipped her over with my dk still deep inside her hot core. She squealed at the sudden movement. Because Me and Maka were joined subconsciously he too was delirious with the pleasure our mate was giving us.

She was so tight I could barely pull out it was like her py was pulling me back inside. She wrapped her legs around my waist tightly wrapping her arms around my neck burying her head in my neck she was making me grind into her and she was tightening her py around my ck like she was trying to draw my seed from my soul. "Baby, please you gotta let me go I'll c*m like this and I don't want it to be over." She loosen a little so I could give her short strokes and that only made me lose even more of my control. She was kissing and moaning into my neck as I gave her fast short strokes. "fk baby you feel so fg good you're gripping my dk so tight baby I can barely pull out." I said as I kissed her shoulder I didn't dare go to where my mark would be on her shoulder.

"Oh God, Makahi don't fg stop baby I'm gonna c*m oh please don't stop." I buried myself even deeper into her. "Oh, fk I'm cumming baby I'm cumming." She yelled and that is when she did the unthinkable as soon as I felt her py tighten around me so tight I felt like I was stuck, she yelled out and then bit down on my neck so fg hard I yelled out and came so hard I know I saw stars and maybe a couple of ancestors to bring my soul back because she definitely took it. I rolled off her and brought her back on top of me. I kissed her sweaty forehead as we both tried to catch our breath. "Damn Kahi." She said breathing hard, and I laughed out loud. "What?" She asked looking up at me as I laughed. "Baby you have never called me Kahi before." I said still smiling holding her tightly. "st that was all I could manage to get out. Because bae be, that om almost took me slap out. I thought I was gonna pass out. I know I'm gonna need two to three business days before we can do that again. Ain't no way ain't no fg way I can survive that kind of om back-to-back." She said, shaking her head laughing getting out of the bed heading to the bathroom naked.

She was perfect. I have never been with a big girl before, because all she wolves were for the most part fit. Some have more curves then others, but none has ever been shaped like my mate. But I can now say I have definitely been missing out, because the way she just made me feel was out of this fg world and made me more determined to find Summer and Break this fg bond. It's time to end this.

Chapter 116

Mina's POV:

"So, you can't tell anyone what we have discussed, not even your rider. I will tell my family once we return. Deal?" I asked Dradon once I stepped out of his apartment at the pack house. "Yes, I will not say a thing if you keep your end of the bargain." He said and I nodded, he gave me a flirty smile and I smiled back rolling my eyes. "Hey maybe we should kiss and seal the deal you know to make it more official." He said stepping close to me. "I could also punch you in the face, so you know it's real and I'm serious." I said, and he immediately held his hands up in mock surrender. Once Dradon closed the door I glanced toward Blaze's room wondering if he was still with his girlfriend. I shook my head trying to shake off any thoughts of him. There was no need I don't know what has gotten into him lately, but I don't like how it is making me feel. I headed down the hallway deep in thought towards the exit. Just as I was about to round the corner to the common area I was snatched into a dark room with somebody's nasty a*s hands over my mouth, so I couldn't scream. Once the door was slammed closed and locked they removed their hands from my mouth, I grabbed for my knife and swung it at the person's face, they caught my arm and held it above my head. Then I tried to use my leg to kick them in the groin, but they used their leg to block me.

"LET ME GO. WHAT THE FK ARE YOU DOING." I yelled, struggling trying to break free he had both my hands above my head and something that I hoped was a gun pressed against my crotch but the way my crotch involuntarily clenched let me know it wasn't a fg gun, and just for the record my crotch don't speak for the rest of me. She be out here telling lies. "Did you let him touch you?" I heard a deep raspy animalistic voice ask me. He was so close that I could feel his hot breath on my ear, and it travel straight down to my fg lying a*s crotch. "Blaze? What the hell is wrong with you man? I swear I'm going to stab you. If you don't let me go." I said breathlessly, still struggling to, I don't know, either free myself or get closer to him. Even I'm confused at this point.

"Did you let him touch what's mine?" Blaze asked again, this time pressing his, what I now know is his dk against me and I fg moaned. I swear once I get out of this I'm going to have a long fg talk with my crotch because this st is ridiculous. "Did I let who touch me? Blaze?" I asked, wondering how the hell he knew I was with Dradon. Damn it he probably smelled him on me. Maybe if I answer him, he'll let me go. "You know who the fk I'm talking about M. Did you let that fg Dragon touch you?" He asked pressing himself even harder against me causing another groan. "No, He didn't touch me, ok? Now let me go Blaze." I said trying to keep still now hoping that my answering him would calm him down. "I don't know what is happening to me M I don't know why I'm having these feelings. I can't stand another man touching you. It's driving me crazy. All I think about is you. You're not my other half mate because you're not my type. But something about you is drawing me to you." He said, sounding confused as hell. But the part that I focused on was him telling me yet again that I wasn't his type.

Now, I let it go the first time, because hey, everyone have preferences. But when you have to repeat yourself, it now becomes you trying to convince yourself and not the person you're talking to. So, me being who I am, decide to test his theory of me not being his type. Yes, this is a fg horrible idea but, not once did I ever come off as the one who is cautious. I gently moved my hips rubbing against his hardness. And he hissed and groaned. I decided to go for fg broke. "Blaze, kiss me." I said leaning my head forward in the dark room. I heard a "fk!" right before he groaned and kissed me. OH. MY. fg. GOD! Yea I fd up. Yall really gotta start warning me before I do dumb st.

Blaze's POV:

I need to find Mina, I needed to talk to her and explain things to her. Explain what? I have no fg idea. But the look in her eyes before she ran off is on repeat in my head. I could still smell her scent and I followed it to the common area and then another scent hit me. That fg Dragon. Is she with him? Is that why her scent disappears at the common area? I immediately felt Onyx trying to take over and go kick that Basterds' door in and drag her a*s out of there, but I couldn't let him do that. So, I quickly went into an empty room down the hall and tried to get Onyx under control. "Will you chill the fk out!" I yelled in my mind. "No, mate is with that dragon we have to go and get her before he tries to make her his." Onyx said banging at my subconscious. "She wouldn't do that, and you know it she hasn't giving any other wolf a chance so what makes you think that the dragon would even have a chance?" I said to Onyx.

"No other wolf had a chance because you already warned them to stay away from her or you would kill them. The dragon has been eyeing her and flirty with her and she took him to her house today, do you not remember that. He wants our mate, and you are out here fg Jessica knowing you don't want her you want our mate just as much as I do. You're just stupid and worried about how it will look to others." Onyx said as he banged yet again on my subconscious. I have no idea how long me and Onyx were going back and forth fighting for control. I had left the door open when I came in, and hearing voices stopped me and Onyx in our tracks and we listened intently on what was being said. "So, you can't tell anyone what we have discussed, not even your rider. I will tell my family once we return. Deal?" I heard Mina said to the damn Dragon. What kind of fg secret deal they have. I growled lowly. "Yes, I will not say a thing if you keep your end of the bargain." Bargain? What the fk is going on between them? "Hey maybe we should kiss and seal the deal you know to make it more official." The Dragon said, and Onyx slammed so hard into my subconscious I thought I was going to pass out.

My eyes started to change I felt my fangs and my claws extend. I couldn't lose control, not only will everyone know my secret, but the alpha would take me off this mission if he thinks I can't control Onyx. "I could also punch you in the face, so you know it's real and I'm serious." I heard Mina say, which made Onyx let up some. He was still pissed and wanting to take control, but he wasn't banging on the mental door in my head. I took a deep breath, and my teeth went back to normal, and my claws retracted but my eyes remain black because Onyx refuse to go completely in the back of my head. I could smell her scent as she walked towards the room I was in. I don't know what happened but when she reached the room I was in Onyx took control, grabbed her, brought her into the room, and shut the door. Having her in my arms felt so fg good. Onyx was still in semi control when he spoke and asked the question that we both wanted answers to. "Did you let him touch you?" I asked her, knowing that I sounded more like an animal then a man because Onyx was present. But she wasn't afraid . As usual she was giving me a hard time until I pressed my hard dk on her core which caused her to moan. Onyx wanted to take her right then, but I refuse to go that far no matter how much I wanted to. I don't know what is happening to me I don't know why I'm having this feelings.

"I can't stand another man touching you. It's driving me crazy. All I think about is you. You're not my other half mate, because you're not my type. But something about you is drawing me to you." I said defeatedly, it was the truth but not the entire truth. But my other half mate decided to take control of the situation and started moving her hot fg core against my erection and I groaned my knees buckling from the pleasure of just having her this close. "Blaze." I heard her say in the lustful haze that I was in. I couldn't answer her right then, but I didn't need to. "kiss me." That simple command from her was all it took. "fk!" I said, before I crushed my lips on hers and st it was even better than before. I released her hands and they wrapped around my neck pulling me closer and grabbed her a*s and lifted her up and she wrapped her legs around me. We only broke apart to catch our breath and I trailed kisses down her neck, she tasted so fg good. I sucked her neck where my mark would be. Automatically my fangs elongated preparing to mark her.

“BLAZE! Where the hell are you? What the hell is wrong with you? You stormed out of the room and disappeared.” Jessica said via Mind link that snapped me back to reality. I turned and placed Mina on her feet she was still breathing hard from our make out session I could smell her arousal. I had to get out of there. I turned and open the door and stepped out closing the door behind me, and almost bumped into Jessica. “Blaze what the hell is going on why were you in there? I have been looking for you to apologize for earlier I shouldn’t be so insecure I know you don’t want that human even though she wants you I know she isn’t your type.” She said then frowned.

“Blaze why do you smell like that human girl is that why you were in that room were you in there fg her?” Jessica yelled, getting emotional. I needed to think of something quick it had to be believable. “Are you crazy? Do you think I would touch her? You know I would never touch someone like her, and you know it. Now stop acting silly. I came into the room because I needed to clear my head before this mission.” I said, hoping like hell that Jessica believes me, and I pray that Mina didn’t hear me.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 117

Crystal Moon Lake Reserve’s POV:

The girl’s house:

Mina walked back to her house Pissed. She heard everything Blaze said to his girlfriend. If she saw him right now, she was definitely stab him in the fg face. What he said kept replaying in her head. She walked into the house, Shawna, Ji’lahni, and Lynn were in the living room packing their gear making sure all their weapons were accounted for and working. “Oh hey, I brought your stuff down, it’s on the couch by Lynn.” Ji’lahni said glancing at Mina who looked like she was deep in thought. “Mina, what the hell you got going on? What’s wrong with you?” Ji’lahni said, stopping what she was doing, turning to look at Mina. Who sighed and sat on the couch. She told them everything that happened between her and Blaze but left Dradon completely out of it. By the time she finished telling them everything, they all had pulled out a weapon and was heading to the door with Mina rushing to blocked them from leaving. “Mina get the hell out of the way. First we gonna fk that bh Jen or whatever the fk her name is up. Then we gonna see if we can skin a fg wolf and get Ji’lahni her fur jacket I burned.” Ji’lahni said angrily. Those babies have made her mean as hell. “Look I’m good, me and Blaze don’t have anything going on and I don’t know why the fk he has been acting weird. I have no idea what his girlfriend's deal is besides she was a part of Summer's little click. So, she don't want me teaming up with Blaze, which I'm not so she should be good. I don't have time for either of them at this point. I don't care about the words of a man I'm not fg or involve with neither words from his girlfriend. So just leave it alone." Mina said backing her cousins from the door.

"Well, I'll say this as long as she don't come for you anymore, I'll leave it alone. But if she do, she don't hold no position in this pack so I can position my foot in her mouth if she don't know how to use it properly. As for Blaze he better not say hello to me." Shawna sneered. Yea those babies got her in the position of being the scary one out the group. "let's just finish getting our weapons ready and then we gonna do what we always do to get my minds clear and focus by doing what we do best karaoke. We all laughed, with excitement quickly forgetting about Mina and her man problems.

Back at the pack house:

The warrior weapons room POV:

"Hey, I need everyone to make sure they have their knives and weapons with the wolfbane bullets. We don't know what kind of enemies the witch has recruited. So, we need to be prepare to fight in human form if the need arises. Remember, don't try to be a macho wolf if you have an opponent bigger then you, take him out with a gun or knife. We need as many quick kills as possible; we aren't trying to prove anything. This mission is about being smarter than our opponent. Yo Rim, Montego said, Lynn needs you at her house to fit you for the harness, it seems you will be teamed up with Mina for this mission." Hunter said to Rimmy.

"Wait what? You mean I finally get to team up with one of the women? This mission just gotten times better." Rimmy said, and a low growl came from Blaze who was looking at Rimmy like he was two seconds away from ripping his throat out. His eyes flashed black showing that Onyx had come forward, but he quickly closed his eyes, and they turned back to their natural brown once he opened his eyes again. He turned back to the weapons and began aggressively throwing weapons in his backpack. "Hey, Blaze are you ok man? What happened between you and Mina that the alpha teamed her up with Rim?" Hunter stood next to Blaze packing his backpack. "Nothing, I just wanted to make sure I would be able to focus on taking out as many wolves as possible without worrying about Mina." Blaze answered, hoping that Hunter would believe his excuse. Hunter eyed him skeptically, not believing him for a second. Blaze was his best friend, and he knew him well. He knew Blaze had feelings for Mina he had notice that every time Mina entered into a room Blaze couldn't take his eyes off of her.

At first he thought she was his other half mate, but seeing that he was still clinging to Jessica, quickly squashed that idea because it is nearly impossible to ignore that pull. He had to admit that Mina wasn't Blaze's type which also made him second guess if Blaze had the hots for Mina, but it was confirmed the day he called her over asking about her cousin and how Blaze stared at her so hard that he missed the nasty mean things his girl said to Mina. Once he found out what Jessica said, he was livid. He quickly left the dining hall to catch up with her. But Hunter knew that Blaze had this obsession with image. Which he blames his parents who were rich social lights who were on the high counsel.

They wanted Blaze to be on the counsel warrior team, but after him and Blaze finished training camp he decided to follow Hunter back to Crystal Moon to sign up for The alpha's warrior training. The hardest training in the country it was only held every four years. His parents were so upset that they demanded the alpha to not accept his request to join the pack. Lucky for Blaze our alpha didn't scare easy and told his parents that he will decide based on Blaze's ability not because they demanded him to reject him. They had stopped talking to him for two years. During that time Blaze and Hunter made sure we moved up the rank as fast as we could, which was how we became second and third command within those two years once his parents heard how good he was, and people were praising them on how they raised a great warrior who survived Alpha Makahi's impossible training to become third in command only because we were tied, and he gave the second in command to Hunter, because Blaze knew how good he was. After that, they started inviting him back home and demanding he go to their high society parties so they could brag about how their son survive the toughest training in the country and became the third in command out of hundreds of wolves who attended the training. Blaze all of a sudden started worrying about his image, making Hunter believe that those two years of his parents not speaking to him affected Blaze more than Hunter thought.

The Alpha's office:

"Uncle Felix, thanks again for coming to help out." Makahi said. Hugging his uncle once he stepped into his office. "Oh, hush up my boy, there is no question of where I would be if I weren't here. I would be turning this world upside down looking for my grandnieces. I will take care of your pack while you're gone. Do not worry about anything else but finding those pups and my best friend." Uncle Felix said. I'm glad he left his Beta at his pack house to take his place while he's here. "So, is everything in place? Has the witches arrived?" I asked Montego and Shadow. The witches are going to portal us as close as they can to the realm, but we will have to journey by foot or paws the rest of the way to the rift. They say it is about two hundred miles away but in wolf form it will take us a couple of hours to cover those miles. "Everything is ready on our end we will set up camp twenty miles away from the rift. That will be the safe zone that we will bring the pups and the others we will be rescuing. The doc will also set up his equipment as well to help with any injury we can't heal on our own. The women are at the house preparing as well." Montego responded and I nodded.

"We will escort Ji'lahni and Lynn, but who will be escorting Shawna and Mina?" I asked more to Shadow because of earlier I had no idea what the status of that situation was. Mina wasn't with anyone, so I wanted to make sure they were squared away.

"Shawna will be escorted by me. I will make sure her, and my pups are comfortable and protected. As for Mina I'm not sure, I have heard she will be with Rimmy or Blaze. I plan to go by there in a few so I will find out. We are going to meet in the common room once the witches get here. I have giving Alpha Felix's warriors the tour of the pack and safehouses. His top warriors have the temporary codes to all the safe houses, Alpha Felix has the master codes. The schedule has been given to his warriors and I emailed a copy to the Alpha as well.” Shadow said and I nodded. “Have one of the guards go get Mylan and my mother and help them with their stuff and make sure they are set to leave once the witches are here.” I said, as I sat back in my chair and tried to clear my mind and prepare the biggest battle of my life. Now all we need to do is get the women and wait for the witches.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 118

The witches have arrived!

Makahi’s POV:

The common room:

“Welcome to Crystal Moon, I am Alpha Makahi Crystal, I want to thank you for helping me rescue my pups.” I said, walking up to shake each of the three witches hands. “No thanks needed alpha; we’re happy to help, it saddens us at what our sister has done. We know how important your daughters are to us all, we can’t allow their powers to get into the wrong hands. I just hope you will be able to stop her. She is very powerful now, more powerful than us combined and we are her blood sisters. We are afraid that she has somehow gotten herself mixed up with a Goddess or God who has given her more power than any one witch can have, without losing their mind in the process we fear she is beyond saving at this point.” One of the four sisters that came to help us find the rift said sadly. They all held great power their aura was pouring out of them in waves, but it didn’t affect any of my pack members. They had different colored hair. The one on the right had red hair the middle had pure white and the last had a midnight blue and they all have olive colored skin giving them a sort of haunting look. They seem to be in their early thirties, but I know from my mother that they are older than their little sister who has my pups.

“I am well aware that your sister may be dealing with a God, but no one knows who. But I have no choice but to find and save my pups. I have no other choice.” I said, confidently with no doubt in my mind. The women simply nodded like I passed some sort of test. “We have brought along some potions and herbs that will aid you in this fight. We wish we could enter the realm and help you, but our sister has a protection spell that will not allow witches to enter. We will also have potions for you and your men which will either block any wards or spells she may have cast in her realm to protect her castle. If this doesn’t completely block it, it will weaken whatever spell she used. I’m sure she will have a spell that will block your wolves, but this potion will block that particular spell I am sure. We have tried to think of every possible spell she would cast but we can’t be completely sure, that we’ve thought of everything, since she is working with an entity that is way more powerful than us.” The red head said, sadly. “I understand, me and my mate are happy that you were able and willing to help us in anyway.” I said, truly thankful that they were helping us.

“Yes, you don’t know how thankful we are that you are willing to help us especially with it being your sister.” Ji’lahni said, as the girls came into the room looking like every bit of warrior women. My mate was so fg beautiful, she walks into any room with confidence and her head held high. Although she is human her presence is more powerful than any she wolf Luna. Once she reached where the witches were, my mate hugged each of the witches and her family follow suit. The look of confusion on the witches faces would be comical if the situation were different. After the hug fest Ji’lahni came to my side and kissed me but broke the kiss before it could become uncomfortable for me which only made me even more determine to break this fg bond with Summer. I didn’t want Ji’lahni to have to worry about hurting me every time she touched me. I craved her touch even though I know what happens when we touch. I love my wolf don’t get me wrong, but I would really like to feel her touch without Maka being present. “Hey my mate first.” Maka said via mind link.

“So, we will create portals, that will take you as far as our powers will allow. Then we will have to hike the rest of the way. It is very cold where the rift is, so it will not be an easy journey we will help as much as we can but the closer we get to the rift the weaker our powers become.” The dark-haired witch said. As she handed us the potion to block the witches spells and wards. “Hey what is that?” Mina asked. “It’s a potion that will block any spells and wards our sister may use. “So, um, where is ours?” Mina asked. “Oh, our sister doesn’t consider you a threat so it is doubtful that any spell or magic she uses will affect you. We think she did it intentionally to catch innocent humans, who may wonder close to the rift. Very few people do because of the climate, but there is some who venture through there because there is a small village not far from it and they have to pass through there to get to the nearest civilization to get supplies.” The red hair answered. The girls nodded, in understanding. “Makahi where is your mother and Lynn’s grandmother?” Ji’lahni asked. “We are right here, Mylan answered coming to stand in front of the witches. “Hello, Pima, Sho’v, and Phe I would say nice to see you again, but I would be lying.” Mylan said. “Yes there is no need to pretend that we are friends.” The white-haired witch she called Sho’v said. Mylan laughed. Well, it doesn’t seem like there is any love lost there.

Ji’lahni’s POV:

“Damn is the tension in here getting thick or is it just me?” Shawna said as we see the witches give Lynn’s grandma a nasty look. That doesn’t even seem to faze her. She laughed. “Oh, come on Sho I know you’re not still mad about Vince. I mean that was decades ago and I didn’t cheat on you.” Lynn’s grandma said, dismissing the lady’s anger with a wave of her hand. “How dare you utter my husband name. After what you did.” The white-haired witch said. “OOOOHHH st Lynn, let me find out your granny was stealing men back in the day.” Mina whispered loudly and got jabbed in the side by Lynn. “I promise the next person who hits me gonna get slapped.” Mina said, rubbing her side. “Oh, you married that, cheating filthy pig?” Lynn’s grandma asked in disbelief.

“Damn it Grandmother!” Lynn said as the red head witch tried to attack her grandma, but her sisters held her back while also blocking her from using her magic. But Lynn’s grandma didn’t flinch or move a muscle. “Do you always have to provoke her?” The dark-haired sister asked. “I did no such thing. I didn’t sleep with that cheating sack. I just exposed him, and your sister turned on me and blamed me for his cheating accusing me of setting him up. Which doesn’t change the fact that I did force him to cheat I merely created the opportunity, and he took it without a second thought. I was trying to save her heartache. If I would have known that she wanted a lifetime of heartache and insecurities, I wouldn’t have bothered. She was my friend, and I wanted to help. I was young and had to learn sometimes folks like to kill the messenger, and you can’t save those who love the fantasy they have created about a person, and choose to ignore the reality that the person shows them.” Lynn’s grandmother said, turning her back to the witches while the white-haired witch was still trying to break free.

“Daaammnnnnn Lynn’s grandma is a savage.” Shawna said, shaking her head. “Can we please focus and prepare to leave. We don’t have time for old issues. Mylan just stay over there by your granddaughter, Pima you and Phe take Sho’v over by the warriors. The witches nodded and took their sister on the other side of the room and Lynn’s grandmother shrugged like she didn’t know what the big deal was. “Now we need to make sure everyone knows what to do. Ji’lahni, Lynn, Shawna, and Mina once we go through the portal Montego, Shadow, Rimmy, and I will shift and carry you to the rift.” Makahi said, I follow Mina’s gaze and it landed on Blaze who’s were eyes black as night and looked ready to kill. “Lynn where is your siblings and their dragons?” Makahi asked, turning to Lynn’s grandma. “They’re waiting outside for us.” she answered. “Alpha, me, and my sisters do have something for the humans that will help to keep them warm during the hike to the rift. The dark-haired witch said, as she handed each of us a suit that didn’t look like it would keep a cat warm let alone us. She must have seen our look of skepticism because she smiled.

“Those are magical, it will help regulate your body temperature as her hike to the rift.” She said, as we put on the full bodysuit, surprised that they actually fit perfectly. “So, just so I know I’m not in this nightmare alone. We’re about to go into another realm, fight a witch, save our babies, Makahi’s daddy and some vampire and a psycho bh? Did I miss anything?” Mina said as we nodded yes. “Oh well, fk it, let’s do it.” I said, as we all turned and headed for the door like some damn superheroes. Yea I know what I said, and like I said before we’re not fg superheroes. We’re just Family!

Chapter 119

Ji’lahni’s POV:

We left out of the pack house. Once everyone was outside and ready to go, the witches began to open up three portals. Their eyes glowed and their hair was flying like the wind was blowing, but there was no wind at all. “Well, that’s some freaky shit.” I said to my cousins. “Yea, we are definitely about to lose our black card when we walk through this damn glowing hole.” Shawna said, holding her baby bump looking a little scared. Shadow stepped closer to her, sensing her fear. Makahi’s arms tightened around me as well. Looking around, I can see that everyone’s expression has turned to laser focus, trying to sense any danger that may be lurking beyond the portal waiting for us to pass through.

“You all may pass through now!” The dark-haired witch said. We began to walk towards the portal, but the guys stopped us. “Our warriors go first. We will be the last to pass through. They will ensure there is no danger on the other side.” Makahi said, nodding to his men, who started to pass through with no fear or hesitation. “You don’t have to tell me twice.” Mina said as Rimmy stuck close to her. I looked over to see Blaze burning a hole through Rimmy’s head.

Ironically, I also see Dradon staring with interested eyes on Mina and Rimmy. What the hell is that about? Leaning over, “I know why Blaze is burning a hole in Rimmy’s head but why is Dradon staring at yall too?” Mina turned slightly, trying to play it off. But she looked a little caught off guard. Turning back to me looking clueless, she shrugged.

“I don’t know.” She said and left it at that. I frowned and looked over and Shawna, who was watching us the whole time. She raised her brow at me too. We both know that Mina is keeping something from us because she always tries to act clueless about the obvious things happening around her. We will definitely be asking her what the hell is going on as soon as we get a chance.

“Hey baby, it’s our turn now. Makahi said as the men put us behind them as we walked toward the last portal. I know if I was nervous as hell, my cousins are too, because let’s face it, this is some weird crazy bullshit that we already know, is something that we’re not supposed to be doing in this scary movie called our fg life. The only reason we are even doing this is because of our babies, and nothing is like a mother’s love and any baby either one of us has is considered our baby, because we would fight to the death and kill for them. But that doesn’t mean we’re not scared as hell. Makahi reached behind him and pulled me close and had me wrap my hands around him from the back as we walked, which calmed me a little bit. I looked around Makahi and spotted Shawna in front of him, and Shadow carrying her like a baby. She had her legs wrapped around his waist with her eyes closed, with her head buried in his shoulder. Homegirl was too scared to be mad at her baby daddy. I smiled at the thought. But I thought it was a great idea to close my eyes too, so I didn’t have to see anything, and Makahi had me so close to him I didn’t even have to look where I was going. I could feel when we got to the portal.

Going through the Portal felt sort of like getting into an elevator, but also like how you feel when a rollercoaster starts to move, and it suddenly drops out of nowhere. Yea, that is how it felt walking through a portal. It only lasted a second or two before we were on the other side. “Oh, hell no it’s cold as fk how the hell do people survive in this st?” Lynn said, putting gloves, hat, and a scarf on. “You ain’t fg lying. When the hell does this magic suit kick in? Does it even work? I think mine’s broken cuz?” Mina said in a rush, and we are all laughing. Something about us is when we are put into situations like this, we get to questioning our sanity and losing it all at the same time, which is why we are laughing so hard, and everyone is looking at us crazy and that only makes it worse. Like we're about to fg die out here in this wintery hell fire. "Cuz, all our suits don't work." I said through fits of laughter "I'm telling yall now, that when I have to pee I'm just going to go I refuse to pull my pants down in this st. Nobody trying to freeze to death in the peeing position." Shawna said and we laughed some more. "Oh, shadow's whole back is about to be smelling like pee." I said out loud and we laughed until we cried. "Come on, yall we have to get serious focus." I said trying to sound serious but failed.

We all turned around to see everyone was just staring at us. We all looked surprised that everybody was looking at us while we were laughing. "Why is everyone standing around looking at us? Let's go." I said, trying to act serious. Makahi chuckled, shaking his head. "Let's head out. The witches will be taking the lead from here to the rift. Let's split into four teams and spread out on all four sides of us at least two miles out, watch out for anything out of order. Don't dismiss anything you see. We are to protect your Luna and her family. Half of you shift and the other half stay in human form and have your guns at the ready. Mind link only." Makahi said, kissing me fearlessly before he shifted into Maka. "Oh, you're wrong for getting me all hot and bothered." I said rubbing and kissing Maka's fur-covered head, because I don't care if he is half human, we are not kissing no animal in the mouth. I hopped on Maka and snapped the harness in place tightly. Lynn had reinforced the harness to make sure that it was almost impossible to break the buckle without a knife. I saw my cousins snapped their harnesses in place except Shawna. "Lynn when did you do all this?" Shawna asked in awe. "Well, Shadow actually asked me to make you a chair like a saddle with a chest harness that didn't cross over your growing belly. He wanted to make sure you were comfortable. And it won't be a hindrance if you have to fight and it has compartments to hold your weapons just in case you have to use them. But hopefully you won't need to use your weapons." Lynn answered, and Shawna gave a small smile and rubbed Rane's head as she settled in her chair and fasten herself in the chair. Once we were on our wolves. We started out on this long a*s journey.

We had been walking for a long a*s time, But I will admit, that those magic bodysuits did their job, because although we were still cold but not as cold as we were when we first past through the portal. We had to stop a few times, because Shawna had to pee, and Shadow insist on taking her far away in order for no males to see her. She rolled her eyes every time she told him she had to pee. All the males would track closer to our group, and he would stand in front of her blocking her while she did her business. It was pitch black out hear and we heard the howling of the wind it was just that cold. The wolves, however, didn't seem fazed at all. Maka stopped and laid on his belly which was a signal for me to get off so he could shift. I had his clothes waiting for him by a tree once he shifted. "We will stop here, build a fire and some of you go look for food we could eat. We will only be an hour; we don't have much time before midnight I want to be at the rift well before midnight." Makahi said as the men round up wood to make a fire.

Once the Dragons lit the fire after the wolves gathered the wood. Shadow had already had Shawna's saddle on the ground for her to sit in and he took up the space next to her. Makahi and Montego had me and Lynn on their laps. "Now what kind of gentlemen would I be to allow you to sit on these filthy sacks." Dradon said, Before Mina could sit on the pile of sacks that some of the men made for her. “A live one, if you don’t keep your filthy hands to yourself.”

Lynn said, abruptly taking out her blade. Pointing it at Dradon who chuckled and walked away, but not before looking at Mina, who wouldn’t look anyone in the eyes. I looked over at Blazed. He was breathing so hard I thought he was having an asthma attack. “Mina, you better tell us what the hell you got going on with these dudes.”

I leaned over and whispered. She looked everywhere but at us. “Hey! Everyone we caught a deer. Mina get over here so you can season this thing before we throw it over the fire.” Hunter said and Mina jumped up like she was running from a mountain lion. “Oh, she thinks just because she ran over there, we not gonna find out what the hell she got going on?” Shawna asked, me and Lynn. We snorted at the foolery of that thought. “Somebody done lost their mine in this winter hell. If that’s what she thought,” I said, crossing my arms under my breast, looking at Mina act busy.

Chapter 120

The wintery hell fire’s POV:

“Can we talk for a minute?” Dradon asked Mina as they all sat by the fire eating the deer that was caught by the warriors earlier. He tried to whisper but come on, you’re surrounded by werewolves and dragons there is no privacy here, so why whisper. “Uh, sure?” Mina said, not making eye contact with her cousins, because she already knows the looks they’re giving her. She is beginning to think that she would have to tell them before they get the twins back. If these dudes weren’t so obvious then she may have been able to pull it off, but all the fg men are acting like she was dating them. She was confused by this; whole I want you, but don’t want you because you’re not my type bullshit, with Blaze. With Dradon it was business and business only. There were no feelings, but he was staring at her like they were secretly seeing each other or something. Dradon, knows that Lynn is going to pluck his a*s like a chicken, when she gets the chance. So why the hell is he drawing attention to them.

Dradon walked behind Mina thinking of what he wanted to say. He is hoping Mina would just go ahead and tell Lynn, so she will get use to the idea. And make sure she tells her it wasn’t his idea, but that she came up with this plan on her own and he just agreed happily of course. No, she wasn’t his mate, but they know those didn’t exist for the golden dragons because they were the last of their kind and normal humans weren’t an option. But there was something about these human women.

They were able to mate with a werewolf and produce pups that gave dragons hope and Mina will be the first to mate with a dragon. Although he was afraid she may be like the rest and didn’t survive. He admitted to himself that he liked the little feisty human, he can even say he cares about her a little. Once they got far enough away Mina whirled around on him angrily. "What the hell are you doing Dradon? We had a deal. We agree no one can know what we agreed to until after we get the twins. But you have been staring at me like a lovesick schoolboy." She asked him. "I don't know, since we came to the agreement that we would be mates, my dragon doesn't like, these mutts around you." Dradon answered with a shrug. "Sir I don't know what you and your dragon got going on. But you know there is no love between us. I am paying off a debt you insist that Lynn pay with her body and possibly her life knowing she is mates with Montego. I'm saving my family from being taken away from her mate that is it. They would do the same for me and I owe them for everything they have done for me since our family died. That is what this is, so get your dragon's a*s in check." Mina tried to say as nice as possible but yea she failed bad, oh well as long as she was clear. Dradon didn't seem to mind he actually smirked. "You know it's sexy when your all riled up. Although this is an agreement we might as well try and at the very least like each other. Try and make this work if not for our sakes we could try for the sake of our future children do you really want them to grow up in a home with no love? Is that how your family was before they died?" Dradon shot back and Mina gasped and took a step back at his words and the question about her family. That actually hit her hard. Her family was the most loving family that she had ever seen. They did almost everything as a family vacations, parties, cookouts, we were all close. Our cousins were more like our siblings then cousins. We loved our aunts as if they were our mother. Hell, some of my cousins actually went to live with an aunt or uncle it wasn't unusual for one of them to call an aunt ma. They were the best any child could have. "You're right, we can work on forming a friendship, but that will start once we get the twins back, and not before that. So, get yourself under control and stop fg staring at me every time a male says something to me." I said rolling my eyes. "Well, I hope you tell that mutt who is drilling a hole in my head the same thing." Dradon said crossing his arms nodding his head in the direction of the man he is talking about. Mina frowned and turned to see none other than Blaze staring at them with anger in his eyes. Looking confused. "I don't know what his problem is, but it is not because he wants or is interested in me, he just may not trust you. He may think of me as a sister and looking out for me." Mina said, shrugging that is the only thing it could be right? Because he has already made it clear that she wasn't his type and told his girlfriend the same thing. Sure, it was complete bull st. Because who kisses their sister like that. But after what he said I am not even going to try and figure that st out. What he got going on has absolutely nothing to do with me. "So, if you stop staring at me like you want to eat me for dinner then he won't stare at you like he wants to kill you." Mina said with a wave of her hand and started to head back to the group, they only had a few more minutes before they were to start back on their journey. And she wanted to get as much of that heat from that fire as she can. Dradon chuckled at her response. "If you believe that, then you don't know men at all my little kitten." Dradon said. "Oh no the hell we not. You will not be calling me no damn pet names especially that dumb shit." She stopped and turned on him with fire in her eyes. Dradon thought that if she were a dragon shifter he would be sporting a burn mark on his chest right now. "Honestly, Dradon I don't even know why you're acting like that or care about who is looking at me. Aren't you with Kat? You don't think I see the "bh I want to slap you looks" she's been giving me? Did you tell her the plan?" Mina asked. "Yes, we have no secrets she knows our ways." He said casually shrugging like that question was no big deal. "What part of this is between me and you and don't tell anyone didn't you understand. If you think she's not angry then you're just a dumb a*s. I promise you better keep your girl in check. Because she's got one time to step outta line and I will kick her a*s right back in it. She said turning to head back to camp. Dradon laughed out loud catching up to her easily, He decided to test her theory. He grabbed her from the back and wrapped his arms around her. Yea she was going to stab him, but he wanted to know if what he was thinking true or not. Hearing a growl from the wolf who they called Blaze. prove that her, he thinks of her as a "sister," theory was complete bull st. "What the hell man, if you don't keep your hands to yourself I will cut them bitches off for you." Mina said freeing herself from his grasp. Dradon let go and head back to his siblings and riders who were all in a group away from the werewolves. Kat stormed over to him with the look of hell on her face. Dradon frowned at the anger in her eyes. "What the hell was that Dradon? How could you humiliate me like that? How could you flaunt your mistress in my face like I mean nothing to you? You told me you were just going to mate with her to ensure the golden dragons don't go extinct, not make googly eyes at her, and take walks like yall are a couple. How is any of that keeping it a secret?" Kat whispered loudly. "What are you going on about Kat? Why are you acting like this? I have explained everything to you." Dradon said, looking confused. "You explained that this was to pay a debt not to start a relationship to create a family. Do you love her Dra? Do you not love me anymore?" Kat said looking hurt with tears threatening to fall. "Kat you will always be a part of my life, and I do love you we are family nothing will change that." Dradon said cupping her cheeks. She smiled up at him with watery eyes. She has been in love with him since the moment she became his rider when their blood connection formed. She knew that she couldn't mate with him and have his children, but they thought no one could, no other woman was a threat to their relationship because of this. But now with the human women with blood that allows them to mate and have babies it gave the dragons hope, and that hope is threatening her relationship that she has worked so hard to create. She would allow the human to carry his baby, but she will not be raising the baby, her plans were for her and Dradon to raise the baby. She will make sure that the human understands what her role will be once this is over. She thought, looking in the direction of the human who could destroy everything.
