

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 138

The Realm's POV:

"Now, I won't lie, this is going to hurt a lot." Mylan said to Lynn, who nodded and braced herself with the help of Ji'lahni and Mina, who was still holding her. Mylan placed her hands on Lynn's forehead and started speaking in some ancient language no one recognized. Once she said the last words, the sky opened up and we heard a loud screeching sound, then beaming white light broke through the clouds. The bright light took on the shape of a dragon flying around the sky above us. "Somebody please tell me I'm not seeing a dragon ghost? Nope, it's not no damn dragon ghost flying around in the damn sky." Mina said, shaking her head and snapping her eyes closed. If she opened them again and that ghost dragon was still there, somebody would be handing her black card back to her on her fg way outta this place.

"Hell, yea that's a fg dragon, Lynn, your grandma needs to work on her fg disclaimers, because, maybe seeing a flying dragon ghost should definitely be a disclaimer or on the list of side effects." Ji'lahni said, looking up at the dragon as it got closer and closer. "Uh, grandmother, why the hell is that ghost dragon looking at me like I'm a fg snack?" Lynn asked. "Language young lady." Mylan said, in her motherly tone like this st is normal. "Grandmother there is a ghost dragon flying in the air about to eat me. I think I should be allowed at least one curse word or forty-seven," Lynn said as the dragon made a bee line straight towards her. They all screamed as the dragon slammed into all of them, knocking them to the ground. The impact was so strong it made the ground shake, the light from the dragon was blinding everyone because of how close it was.

Once the light went away, everyone was blinking, trying to focus and see what happened to the girls. Lynn's grandmother just stood in the same spot with a huge smile on her face. "Why the hell didn't you tell us that our asses were going to get hit by the ghost dragon. That st hurt. I thought I was dying." Ji'lahni was saying as Makahi, Montego, and Rimmy ran to help the girls up off the ground. The men were growling in anger at the thought of their women being hurt. "Yea what the hell was that and why is my wrist burning?" Mina asked, as she lifted her arm to look at it. Her wrist was glowing like it was on fire, and when it went out it left a golden tattoo of a dragon with its tail that wrapped around their arm up to their elbow. It shined beautifully against their dark chocolate skin. Lynn was shining brightly in a gold bodysuit that fit like a second skin-like armor which disappeared after a second and only left the dragon arm tattoo.

"Can somebody tell me what the hell just happened, and why the hell I'm walking outta here with a tattoo that I didn't ask for?" Mina asked, still looking at her arm. "I will explain later we have to get the girls out now. The dark one is free. Those dragons on your arms are weapons you need to use in order to break the force field. Now hurry!" Mylan said, going towards the force field as her cane turned into a samurai sword. The girls walked up to the force field, Ji'lahni and Mina looking at their arms, trying to find a button or something to activate the weapon Mylan said they had. "How the hell are we supposed to use them? Is there a secret code or something? I think I got a defective one, because mine ain't working." Mina said, shaking her arms and swinging them all around.

"Cuz why you swinging your arms like a crazy person? You only got the dragon on one of them. Just picture the dragon in your hand instead of on your arm, like this." Lynn said, as the dragon came to life and slid down her arm and a big Thor hammer appeared in her hands. "Oh st!" Ji'lahni and Mina said at the same time. As their dragons came to life. Mina's dragon slid around her waist with a blade and a throwing star. Ji'lahni's dragon slid into her hand and transformed into a bow and an arrow. "Hey, I'm not one to complain, and all, but I only have one throwing star and a blade. Once I throw them, I'm out of the game." Mina said, pulling her blade out preparing to throw it. "Yea, I mean I'm good, but I think I'm going to need more than one arrow." Ji'lahni chimed in taking aim and firing at the force field as another arrow appeared in her hand.

"Ooooooh, st nii! I know you fg lying, an automatic bow and arrow." Ji'lahni said, firing another arrow and again another appeared in her hand. It penetrated the force field. "Baby it's working, keep shooting." Makahi said, running to the force field punching where Ji'lahni's arrow entered. The force field was starting to crack. So, Mina started throwing stars and blades as the Rimmy and Blaze started punching where her weapons went through the force field. Montego was doing the same with Lynn and Makahi's parents were with Mylan. The rest of the werewolves had formed a circle around their alpha and the force field, fighting off the warriors and vampires. "Lynnndoria, we need to get to the top!" Mylan yelled to her granddaughter, Lynn nodded and moved away from the force field and her grandmother joined her. "Want do that move I taught you when you were twelve?" Mylan asked, as Lynn smiled and nodded.

Now here we go with the shits again. Listen, I'm going to explain this flying acrobatic st the best way I can. Now, Lynn ran straight to her grandmother, who dropped her cane, clasped her hands together, lifted Lynn's a*s up in the air, turned twice and tossed Lynn's a*s like she was weight throwing in the Olympic games. Flipping in midair, Lynn clapped her hands and the Thor hammer turned into two blades she used to stab the force field and climbed that st like it was nothing. Mylan ran, used her cane as a track and field stick and leaped into the air, the cane turned into two samurai swords that went into the force field, then she started climbing just as quickly as Lynn. When they made it to the top, they began stabbing and beating the top of the force field. It started to crack, and pieces started breaking off. The witch finally stopped her spell and looked to see that the force field was breaking down. For the first time since the attack started, she felt true fear. Because she was surrounded by angry werewolves and most of all pissed off parents.

Urrale's POV:

"Gregor! Where the hell are you? My force field is breaking down, and I don't have enough energy to fight off everyone. I just need a little more time. If I can find a way out of here with the twins, then I can wait until the next full moon to perform the ritual. Maybe even get my m.." I said, stopping when my eyes landed on the one person I never wanted to see again. "Lateri's! This can't be happening. You're supposed to be dead. Antoni, we were supposed to be together. How could you betray me after everything I have done for us to be together? How can you not see how much I love you? We could be the most powerful couple in the entire supernatural world. But you had to ruin everything because of her." I said, heartbroken yet again.

He will always choose her over me. Because of that stupid other-half-mate's bond. "This doesn't matter, none of this will matter. My father is now free and once he kills the Moon goddess, then there will no longer be any other half-mates that can ruin anymore lives. You think you have won but the war is just beginning. I will have my revenge Lateri. But for now, I think I will settle for killing your precious granddaughters. It's a small price to pay for all the pain and hurt you have caused me. You have robbed me of a life filled with happiness and love. Posted by Jobnib.com; visit us for more free novels.

So, I will make sure you will know a small piece of the pain I have endured because of you." I smiled as I watched my mate and his we of a mate's eyes widen in fear. They should fear me. I will kill their precious pups, then I will kill their son and those filthy humans. "Father, where are you? I felt the chains that held you break. Why haven't you come to kill them all?" I said, reaching out to father. My fear turned into anger once I saw that Lateri was still alive, and my mate had chosen her again.

"You claimed that you had everything under control. You said the alpha was no problem for you. Not only are those babies still alive, but so are their parents. You have failed me for a second time. If you want something done right, you will have to do it yourself. But I'm feeling generous tonight. I have been freed from my chains after centuries and I have a new body and warriors who are under my control. So, Urrale, I am closing the rift. You have ten minutes to get out of here. Because once the rift closes, whatever is left here will remain here for eternity. Because only a God can open the rift, that's if they can find it." My father said, laughing in my ear. I screamed at the sound of it. I needed to get out of here before the rift closes. I will surely die if I am stuck here. I thought just as the whole entire realm began to shake like we were in a snow globe, being shaken.
