

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Epilogue

Ji'lahni's POV:

Just to let yall know, getting stabbed in the chest hurts. That s**t hurts like a mothafucka, you couldn't tell me I wasn't about to die. Makahi said he had to mark me and make me drink his blood so I would heal. Which is some nasty s**t which I'm glad I was out of it at the time. Although I still had the stab wound in my chest, it wasn't bleeding and it was slowly healing, I mean really slow, judging by the fact that it still hurt like a b***h when I take deep breaths.

Makahi got us both to the entrance with Mylan right behind us. She immediately handed Teri to me, and I cried as I finally got to hold her in my arms. Makahi wrapped his arms around both of us. I looked around about to cuss Mina's a*s out for not bringing Tru over fast enough. But when I looked around, I didn't see anyone. Lynn ran up to us with Montego right behind her. She immediately hugged me and Teri so tightly she grunted and passed gas. I was still looking around for Mina, so I could hug Tru. Lynn must have also realized we were missing Tru and Mina. "Where is Tru and Mina? I asked, getting up to walk around, searching through the crowd. There were so many werewolves around and us being shorter than everyone made it hard to search.

"WHERE IS RIMMY, MINA, AND TRU?" Lynn yelled, looking around and starting to panic. "We're right here. We heard from the front of the big crowd at the entrance. I started to cry at the thought of her being stuck in that realm. I rushed over Rimmy as fast as I could, grabbing Tru, hugging and kissing her face. "Rimmy, where is Mina? Is she behind you?" Lynn asked once she realized that Mina wasn't surrounding the babies, like we were. "She. she, I was blind-sided by a vampire, it knocked me and Mina to the ground with the baby in her arms and my arm was broken, I couldn't heal until it is set back into place. After I killed the vampire, I went over to help Mina up, but Mina had a blade stuck in her ribs. I think it hit her heart. I tried to get her up, but I just couldn't, and I told her I couldn't leave her, but she made me. She said I needed to get the baby to the entrance." Rimmy said as tears fell down his eyes. I must have heard wrong; I must have lost some of my hearing from a stab wound in the chest. "Rimmy please tell me you didn't listen to her. Please tell me you didn't leave her in there?" Both Lyn and I asked at the same time. He nodded his head sadly. I screamed for the third time today. I handed Teri to Mylan and raced to the entrance, but Makahi stopped me. I was struggling to break free of his hold, yelling, telling them to let go so I could find her.

. "NO, NO, NO, LET ME GO. I CAN'T LOSE SHAWNA AND MINA. THEY ARE ALL I HAVE LEFT! PLEASE LET ME GO GET THEM! PLEASE LET ME GO!" I yelled while sobbing uncontrollably. "MINA! We heard someone yell from the entrance. We all looked at the entrance to see Blaze howl, then shifted and jump through the entrance while his fellow warriors tried to stop him, but it was too late, he was already through the portal. "We need to get to the rift opening before it closes.” Mylan said, coming to stand in front of us. “I not going anywhere with my family.” I said shaking my head.

Shadow’s POV:

“SHAWNA!” I heard Hawk yell. But it sounded far away. What the hell is going on, is Shaid still trying to kill her? If the Doc’s medicine didn’t work, I needed to move, I needed to get up. I thought to myself, as I slowly opened my eyes. I looked up to see Shaid. Or is it, Scarlett? “It’s me Scarlett, baby can you hear me? Are you OK?” Scarlett asked me. I frowned at her strangely before turning in Hawks’ direction. I saw Hawk pacing back and forth. The ground began to shake, which caused Hawk to stumble and lose his balance. “Everyone gets to the entrance.” I heard the alpha say via mind link. “s**t we gotta go help me get Shadow up. Then I’ll shift and get him to the entrance.” Hawk said in a rush, lifting me up off the ground. As the darkness took over again, “Hawk.” I said, in a gravel tone.

After, I regained consciousness again. He looked up at me in shocked relief. “Thank the Goddess you’re awake. We need to get moving. We got through the entrance, but we have to get to the rift.” Hawk said, helping me to my feet. Surprisingly, I felt little pain as I got to my feet. I immediately started looking around frantically for Shawna but, I didn’t see her anywhere. “Baby we need to go, something is happening here, so we have to get out.” Scarlett said, pulling my arm. I felt the familiar jolt, but it wasn’t the same. It didn’t feel right. I pulled my arm away from her. Frowning, I turned to Hawk. “Hawk? Where is Shawna? Is she already at the rift with Doc? Are the pups OK?” I asked, turning to head to the rift.

I needed to make sure she was OK. “Shadow wait!” Hawk yelled, catching up with me. With a grim expression on his face. “Shadow, while you were unconscious, Shawna was grabbed by the black dragon. We have no idea where he took her. We don’t know if the black dragon has taken her out of the realm or not. The dragons and the riders that were with us went after them. Once we get out of here, we can ask the old woman.” Hawk said. But the only thing I heard was that the black dragon took my boys and my mate. I lost all control as Rane took over and started to run. With only one thought, killing all dragons.

The black dragon

Lynx’s and Lennox’s point of view.

Deep in a cave far away from the realm that filthy witch had me caged in. No one will ever find us, and that’s the way we wanted it. We were damaged. We couldn’t go back to our family. They would kill us on the spot because of what the witch did. There is no way we can go back to being a Golden dragon; our heart was blackened, we felt nothing but pain and a lust for blood. I thought to myself as I paced the cave, I had found this cave long ago that no one knew about. Once I managed to lose my brother and sister, I made my way to my cave, then shifted into a human form after I placed the human on a bed I had in the corner of the cave. I started a fire as she sat holding her belly with fear in her eyes. She began to scream, holding her arm. "It burns, it's burning. My arm is burning." She cried.

I ran over to her, grabbing her arm to check it to see if I had burned her. But what I saw was more shocking than anything I could ever imagine. A symbol of a golden dragon appeared on her wrist and wrapped it around her arm before leaving a golden glow against her dark skin. "Uh what in the entire hell was that? What have you done to me? I don't give a f**k who you are. I will kill you or die trying before I let you hurt me or my babies." She yelled as she swung her fist and landed a hard blow to my jaw. I had to smile at her courage.

I looked down at her growing belly, which I could sense had some form of dragon blood. They weren't dragon babies but, I couldn't put my finger on it. Which is why I took her away. She needed to be protected from the witch and the werewolves. I was determined to keep her safe until I figured out what was going on. She could be the answer I need to get my family back if she is able to carry dragon shifters, then she could save me and the rest of the Golden dragons. I just need time. Once she has those babies, I will imprint on her and if she carries to term, then I will take her to my family with proof that she can save us all. Then they will have to let me back into our family. That was all that mattered now. "What have you done, Lynx? Where are you? You have to come back, you have to bring the human back." I heard my rider say. But it can't be him. I have not heard from him since the witch took him. I searched and reached out to him for months with no response. I could no longer feel our blood connections. I thought I felt him today during the werewolf attack but I didn't find him. So, I must be going crazy. Cannon is dead, it is just my mind is starting to go because of the spell. That's it, the spell must be spreading to my brain as well. which is all the more reason to make sure that I protect the human until I can imprint on her and see if she can birth the first dragon shifters since the war that killed almost all the dragon shifters.

Cannon's POV:

"Damnit, he blocked me again. He thinks I'm dead and hearing me in his head, has him thinking that the spell is now affecting his brain." I said, looking over at my siblings and their dragons. "Well, we need to go back and tell the others. We can't track Lynx because he is the black dragon now. We will have to find another way and fast. Shawna is pregnant and only has a few weeks to give birth. The werewolves will want to start a war if we can't find Lynx," Dragon said, looking grim. Because he knows it will nearly be impossible to find Lynx unless he wants to be found, he was the leader of our Thunder. He was the strongest and best out of all the dragons that remained. "We need to head back, to tell grandmother, she will know what to do." Maxisin said, as his dragons bowed his head so Cannon could get on. This was not going to end well if we couldn't find Lynx, because if the darkness takes over completely, they will not be able to help him, which would mean Dradon will have to kill his brother and his best friend.

Epilogue

Ji'lahni's POV:

“I will not leave my cousin in this hellhole, and I need to find out if Shawna got out or if she’s still in there too.” I yelled at Makahi, who was asking me to leave out of the rift. “Baby, we have got to get to the rift is about to close if we don’t get out of there now, we will be stuck in her with the babies we have to get the girls to safety. I know you’re hurting but you heard what Rimmy said, Mina is more than likely.” I cut him right off before he finished that stupid a*s sentence. “I swear, Makahi, if you say what I think you’re going to say I will cut your f*****g throat she is not dead, I would know it, I would feel it if they were... Mina and Shawna are out there somewhere, and we have to find her. I will not rest until I find them.

You can take the girls to safety, and I will stay and look for a way to get back there.” I said, determined to find Mina and Shawna. “No, you will not stay here. You know how hard it was to find this place to begin with and now you want me to leave you here alone?” Makahi asked, coming to stand in front of me, each of us holding one of the girls. “Sir, I don’t remember asking for your permission to do anything. I was informing you.” I said, getting angry. I was not leaving my cousins out there alone after they risked their lives to save my kids and Shawna had three boys out there too. I should be willing to do for them what they were willing to do for me. “She will not be alone because I’m coming with her.” Lynn said, looking offended that he even thought she would be leaving Mina and Shawna alone.

“Like hello you will. Were you not here to see the vampires, warriors, and demon animals we had to fight? The alpha is right. It is too dangerous and pointless to get stuck in here when we have no idea even if we can get back in there.” Montego said, pointing to the now closed entrance. Everyone had already gone through the rift back to our realm. But only Me, Lynn, Montego, and Makahi were standing at the rift that was closing as we speak. “I may have a solution. But it will be a temporary one,” Lynn’s grandmother said. We all turned to her to hear her out. “We must leave this place. We can’t remain here or we will be stuck for eternity. The rift was made by a god, so only a god can find and reopen the rift once it relocates. I will use my cane to hold the rift open, giving us time to search and get a god to reopen the rift for use to find your family. But the only problem is, we will only have a few months before the rift is lost forever.” Mylan said, looking at Me and Lynn waiting for an answer.

“Lahni, that sounds like our best bet. We need to get the girls safe, then we can leave to hunt for the rift again. Mina and Shawna would not want us to be stuck here with them with no way out.” Lynn said, with tears falling from her eyes. I knew she was right but, I didn’t know if I could do it. Mina and Shawna were all I had left in this world. I didn’t know if I could do any of this crazy s**t without them. But it looked like I would have no choice. I turned back to where the entrance once was and made a promise. “I will find yall. I promise!” I said, entering through the rift not even afraid anymore, I was numb. Once we made it through to the other side. Makahi came and put his arms around me. It’s going to be OK baby. I will do everything in my power to find your family, I promise.” Makahi said, kissing the top of my head. Tru took the opportunity to grab one of my braids and tried to put it in her mouth. We both laughed, hugging our girls, finally having them back with us where we belong.

“Well, isn’t this a lovely family reunion? I hate to break this up, but, I’m still your mate, Kahi, and before you even think about rejecting me. I should let you know that while you were playing house with your fat w***e, I was being drained of my blood daily. One, the dark one, found out I was your mate. He did a spell that tied my life force to yours, so whatever happens to me will happen to you.” Summer said as she took out a knife and sliced through her hand. Makahi hissed in pain as he looked at his hand that also held a cut in his palm. “YOU GOTTA BE f*****g KIDDING ME!” Me and Lynn said at the same damn time, as their arms glowed, and golden weapons appeared in their hands. This s**t fest isn’t over yet.
