Chapter 41

Summer pov:

"I CAN'T f*****g BELIEVE MAKAHİ IS DOING THIS TO ME!" I yelled throwing a chair across my living room floor. After Dinner Makahi went directly into his office with his Bata and first commander I left the pack house and went over to my old house. I was livid I could feel myself trembling in anger. "Hey Summer you need to calm down it's not good for the baby." Brit said trying to get me to calm down. I rubbed my small baby bump. It wasn't big but you can definitely tell I'm pregnant. Which Kahi didn't even acknowledge. Taking a deep breath. "I just can't believe that he threatened to throw me in the cells and order the men to not protect me. What the hell am I going to do now. He is literally trying to bring them back here. I thought once he got back with them gone we could finally be together be a family and run this pack together. But no he has to try and bring those bitches back here with their halfbreeds." I said my anger returning my claws extending cutting into my flesh as my hands balls into fist. " Summer you have to get a grip getting angry isn't helping anything you just have to come up with a way to either prevent Kahi from going or find another way to make Kahi and the human be at odds with each other."

"How brit? How do I do that with me not able to even provoke them?" I said angrily. "Well how about killing them with niceness make them be the aggressor. Make Kahi think you're trying to make it work. They hate you enough to not even want to talk to you... One of the doesn't even know how to control themselves. It would make them look really bad if while you were trying to be nice to them they slap you or worse." Brit said with a devilish shrug. I smiled at her idea. "See this is why you're my best friend and gamma. You can come up with a plan at the drop of a hat. It's going to be hard as hell playing nice. But anything is better then allowing them to come back and ruin my position as luna." "You're my luna you know I got your back and once you have your alpha I know I will have my beta so we both will win. But you look really bad luna are you still have pain in your belly I hope nothing is wrong with your pup?" Brit said with a worried expression. I look at her like she's crazy." Brit what the hell are y... " " It would be Ashame if the alpha had to stay and be by your side until the doc run test to make sure the Alpha's heir is OK." Brit said as realization hit. "Oooooohhhhhh you're right I don't know what could be wrong the pain has been coming and going for days it's been so stressful not having Kahi around I hope nothing wrong with our pup." I said with an evil grin and we both headed back to the pack house. Those far bitches don't know who they're f*****g with.

Makahi POV:

"Damn it!" I yelled slamming the phone down. "What the hell is going on Kahi.?" Montego asked as him and Shadow came into my office. "I just got a call from one of our scouts we have watching my uncles pack they said they got wind of rogues that maybe heading their way and they went to check it out and said that they were at least 50 rogues about a days run away and they seem to be heading in the direction of my uncles pack. "s**t!" They both said in unison. "Shadow get 3 of the our vans and 2 of our bandwagons and gather 25 of our warriors and have them ready to head out that should be enough to add to my uncles warriors to help fight the rogues. But we need to get the girls out of the pack before the rogues hit if they find out that the girls are there I know for sure Zane will show up and that will be a big f*****g problem. With the upgrades in security and our bunkers along with the new warriors that have joined our pack it will be better for them to come here. I wanted to go and try and convince them to come back but now it seems as though the choice isn't their to make anymore. I will call my uncle first so he can prepare his people and get the girls packed and ready to headed out as soon as we get there." "Are you going to call the girls to or are you going to allow your uncle to tell them?" Montego asked. "No. I will call them and tell them myself. My uncle will just confirm what I tell them and help explain why it's for the best that they come back." I said picking up my phone to call my uncle. The phone rang 3 times before my uncle picked up. "Hey brother n law. My grandnieeces aren't here so you can stop thinking I'm trying to make them love me more then you because they already love their uncle Felix more." My uncle said answering the phone with a mocking laugh. "Hey uncle it's me." "Oh hey nephew I thought it was your big head daddy. I didn't know you were back I'm glad that you're safe. I take it you're calling me to let me know you're coming my way soon?" He asked. "Yes but I also have important new I need to tell you about the rogue attacks we have been fighting lately." I said. Alpha leader to Alpha leader. "I'm listening son what's going on?" He said immediately going into alpha mode.

I told him about what we found out about these rogue attacks and that it seems to be a big plan that Alpha Zane has created and us thinking it has to do with getting to jilahn and my pups. Once I was finished I could here his low growl. "Over my dead body will he touch my family especially those precious pups. You have my word." He all but bellowed causing the phone to vibrate on my end. "I never doubted you wouldn't protect them with your life. We have upgraded our bunkers and increased our warriors here so I am going to bring 25 of our warrior to help protect your pack and I want to get my family out of there and here before the rogues reach your pack. I don't want Zane to know that they are there that would be really bad. You and your beta can come up with a game plan and me and my men will follow your lead after the girls are out safely." I said waiting on his response. "That sounds like a good idea I will get on the preparation right now and will have things ready to execute once you arrive. Should I tell the girls or are you going to?" my uncle asked. "I want to break the news to them first. But you can talk to them afterwards. I'm going to call them in the next half hour I have to make plans here before I tell them." "OK I will just talk to them at dinner time then." My uncle said. We talked and planned for a few more minutes before I hung up the phone. "Well I'm going to go and prepare for our departure. We should be ready to roll out in a couple of hours." Shadow said. As he got up and headed to the door. He has been quiet the whole time which wasn't unusual but what was unusual was his wolf seemed to be at the forefront more often lately. I know he wanted to claimed Shawna as his choosen mate and he was reluctant to go with us this past month and I didn't force him because he asked for leave before all this happened but he decided that if Zane was behind this attack then that meant that Shawna was also in danger as well so he decided to go with us to help these other packs and try to figure out what the hell Zane had planned so we can stop him and protect the girls. "Yea. I'm going to make sure the girls house is secure and all the upgrades we added are working properly and also get the omegas to stock the house with everything they need in case we have to lock it down as well and gather the warriors who will be on guard with them at all times and make sure they have a shift planned out so we can make sure they the girls will be untouchable at all times.” Montego said also getting up preparing to leave. “OK great. I will talk to my mom and dad. I think they will also want to stay in the house with the girls as added protection rather than going to our bunkers in case of emergency. I will also have to talk to Summer I really want to make sure she and brit don’t cause anymore trouble I really don’t need the added drama.” I sighed not even wanting to tell Summer the plans. I already know this is about to be a fight.

“Yea. Good luck with that. I don’t want to be you my brother.” Montego said as he shut the door behind him. I took a deep breath before I head to my room. There was no need to prolong the inevitable. I took a swig of my top self Hennessey I brought back with me and headed into the she wolf’s den. Entering our bedroom it was completely dark but I can see the slim figure laying on the bed. I knew she was awake because when she’s asleep she snores lightly. I decided to sit on the edge of the bed to keep my distance even though the mate bond is screaming for me to lay beside her and embrace her sweet scent. I really did miss her and I won’t lie and say I don’t want her at all but it is just something that isn’t there some kind of disconnect. I automatically reached out and caress her lightly I couldn’t help myself I needed that touch which calmed me in some way.

I took a deep breath. “Summer baby, we need to talk. She groaned and turned on the bedside lamp. I frowned because she looked pale and in pain. I immediately got closer to her and pulled her into my arms.” Baby what’s going on what’s wrong? Should I get doc is it the pup?” ” No No. I have just been a little sick that’s all. I have been having a little cramping on and off lately. But they said it may be stress and I need to lay down. The doc isn’t here, he left to one of the speciality labs a couple of days ago he should be back in a few days, Since your Humans are no longer here he allowed Britney to handle things while he’s away.” She said wincing a little. “You said you needed to talk what is it?” “Yea. I wanted to let you know what is going on with jilah...” “Kahi I told you I’m not feeling well do we really have to talk about your mistakes now. I really don’t want to be stressed out about them You have already embarrassed me enough today at the dinner do you really need to beat me down some more.” Summer said shifting away from me. “Yes we do there have been some changes that has just come up so I want to make sure you’re aware of them.” I said adamantly. “Fine. I feel like I have to pee....OUCH!” Summer gasped. I immediately moved to help her as she tried to get up. “Hey hey baby what’s wrong?” “I don’t know Kahi.” she said her voice trembling. She pulled back the covers and all I see is blood.

“OMG! KAH I’M BLEEDING OMG! MY PUP KAH I.” “s**t WE HAVE TO GET YOU TO THE CLINIC.!” “NO NO NO I DON’T WANT TO MOVE! GET BRITNEY HERE NOW PLEASE HURRY TELL HER To COME HERE PLEASE I DON’T WANT TO LOSE OUR PUP PLEASE KAH I!” “OK BABY BRITNEY IS ON HER WAY JUST CALM DOWN EVERYTHING IS GOING TO BE OK. JUST DON’T MOVE OUR PUP IS OK.!” I said to Summer and prayed the moon

goddess. I know I haven't had a real connection with the pup she's carrying but my heart ached at the thought of losing my pup. I felt like s**t because I haven't tried to put in any time with Summer or even asked how she was doing earlier. I feel like s**t I have been so focus on getting jilahn and my pups back that I have neglected my pup that's growing inside Summers belly... Just then Brittany busted in the door with some equipment and ushered me out while she checks on Summer and our pup. I was pacing the hallway outside of our bedroom when Montego and Shadow walked up to our room. "How is our Luna and your pup?" Montego asked sincerely. "I don't know I have been out here since I mindlinked you 45 minutes ago. I'm so f****d up man. I didn't even bother to ask how she was doing or even asked about our pup since we got back. I feel like s**t. It isn't Summer or my pups fault that we are in this situation to begin with. I have spent so much time trying to avoid her and trying to remove the mates mark that I neglected my pup. Now she may lose him." "Hey man don't think like that if he's anything like his dad he's a fighter and so is Luna. They will both be fine." Montego said patting me on the back. "Alpha everything is set and ready to go. Me and Montego can handle everything and return the girls and your pups safely. It seems as though you're needed here." Shadow said. I was about to open my mouth to refuse but just then Brittany came out and called me in the room where Summer was, sighing in defeat. I need to make Summer and my pup a priority as well. Nodding my head. "Go but keep me informed of everything you're doing and let me know when you have the girls safely on their way back here." I said and they nodded and headed out to leave for the trip to my uncles pack. Taking a deep breath I really need to handle this situation because it feels like I'm being pulled in 2 different directions. But for right now I will just have to figure it out later. I said to myself walking back into my bedroom with Summer.

Chapter 42

Jl'LAHNI'S POV:

"HELL NO UNCLE FELIX! WE'RE NOT GOING BACK THERE! WE CAN FIGHT OUR OWN BATTLES RIGHT HERE. THERE IS NO NEED TO GO BACK TO KRYSTAL MOON!" I said angrily. Alpha Felix had called us in to let us know that Shadow and Montego were coming to escorts us back to Krystal because of an upcoming rogue attacked that was orchestrated by that sick bastard Alpha Zane. He is still after me my cousins and now my babies. "Now calm down girls. I understand you don't want to go back but you have to think of those girls. They need the best protection and although you hate it that protection is at Krystal Moon. You have to put your pride aside and do what's best for your babies and that is at Alpha Makahi's pack if I didn't think it was a great idea I wouldn't be telling you this. We aren't as big as that pack and they have increased their men and upgraded their security. Now my beta will also be escorting you and staying with you while you're there and once it is safe and you want to return he will escort you back. Now please they will be here in an hour or so and we need you girls to be on the road back as soon as they arrive. Now I have to go over plans to protect my people from these rogues so please head over to your home and pack your things.” Alpha Felix said. Closing the conversation out.

We all looked defeated and on edge. We got up and left out to go pack our things. ” I can’t believe that sick bastard is still after us, you would have thought one of us gave him some p***y the way he stalking us, and now he’s after our babies too. I will be damn if he gets his hands anywhere near Tru or Teri.” Mina said as we walked back to our house. We have been here for a little over a month now and we fit right in we had no drama and we were even contemplating. Staying here until we find out what the babies would be able to do or if they were regular just like us even though we highly doubt it because everyone’s always saying that their aura is stronger then they have ever seen on babies that are so tiny. “I really want to kill him. I feel so bad that we’re the reason that rogues are about to attack these people they have been so welcoming and they love our girls. I really hope that no one gets hurt because of us. If we didn’t have the girls I would stay and fight but we have to protect the girls especially if you dream was a real warning which it seems like it is then we have to protect them.” Lynn said as we entered the house. We excused the omega that kept an eye on them well we met with uncle Felix. We went into the room just to look at them sleeping and just to make sure they were safe. “I think I have to tell Makahi about my dream and what their moon goddess told me. Well not about us but about the babies. He needs to know despite the situation we’re in he’s their father and can also help protect them maybe better then us. So they need everyone protecting them.” I said turning to grab 3 suitcases from my closet and started packing the girls clothes and toys into a suitcase. “Yea I agree. Although I have no plan to rekindle anything with Montego I know he loves those babies. I just pray to God that I can restrain myself because girl when I tell you I miss that man that s**t is physically painful I don’t know how long I can take this pain I know we can’t be together. But maybe us being near each other will ease the ache you know?” Lynn said shamefully.

I knew exactly how she feels. I may not feel it as bad as she does but that connection with kahi is still there and hasn’t lessen at all if anything it’s worse. I thought that dating Dom would change that, but it hasn’t I have been honest with him and he is still there and still wants me and said he will wait until the connection with Kahi is gone. So we have been taking it super slow only heated make out sessions and maybe a hand job here and there but nothing else. I mean come on kahi got a whole wife mate and a baby on the way. I’m not about to be pining over a man that isn’t mind to begin with nor because of some kind of other half mate bond that I didn’t even know was real until I came here. So it is what it is. I’m glad he will be coming with me so maybe that would put Summer’s looney tune head a*s at ease if she thinks we’re a couple. “So we’re going to ignore the fact that we’re about to run from one sicko dude to a pack where his looney a*s niece lives and is the Luna that we can’t protect or defend ourselves for fear of the men we love killing us to protect her crazy a*s?” Shawna said as we all brought our suitcases down stairs. “Yea we not ignoring that s**t but she is the lesser of two evils and if it comes to it. I’ll make sure her a*s is dead before they take us out.” Lynn said dragging her weapons bag down the stairs and putting them on the table so we can all strap up. She had modified all our weapons with sliver encased and our blood mixed into everything... Even our vests and gloves had traces of our blood and dried out she also had onsies for the girls had traces of our blood in case of emergencies such as this.

Having those on would buy us some time to get to them if a wolf manages to reach them they wouldn't be able to touch them which would give us at least a few seconds to stop them, yep that s**t was nasty but we have to do what we got to do. There was a knock on our door we assumed it was Dom letting us know that Shadow and Montego had arrived. Shawna looked giddy with excitement while Lynn look like she just got life in prison. Mina open the door to see Dom come in and headed straight to me pulling me into his arms and kissing me lightly. Right after that we heard a scream and a growl looking up to see Shawna tackle Shadow and him caughting her and lifting her into his arms as she wrapped her legs around his waist and kissed him. I looked over at Lynn as she starts to breathe like she was hyperventilating and Montego fighting his wolf with all he's got trying not to run over and grabbed her. He looked like he was in so much pain trying to respect her. I saw the exact moment Lynn caved she took a deep breath and opened her arms and that was all Montego needed before he let out a gruttel sound like he was being torchored and ran into her arms lift her up and burying his face in her neck breathing her in before grabbing her face and kissing her so passionately I feel like I felt it. A sudden clearing of a throat. "Uh I get it we missed each other. But don't we have to get out of here before the fight party starts." Mina said. That broke up the love fest. Montego and Shadow put both women down and that's when they looked up and zeroed in on Dom's hand around my waist.

They looked at me questioningly and I looked back at them like what? They looked at each other and shuck their head. I can say I didn't know what that was about but I won't. I'm sure they were thinking about their Alpha's reaction which I honestly don't care about at this point because again he has a wife mate. Just then the girls decided to make their presence known, immediately Shadow and Montego went over and pick up the girls and they clearly recognized their scent even after all this time because they immediately started cooing, talking and kicking their little legs excitedly as the guys hugged and kissed their cheeks they were such softies and so gentle with the girls. Tru even managed to grab Montego's finger and wouldn't let go which meant he had to carry her around or else she would scream her head off. Very few words wore spoken as we packed and loaded in the car to head to Krystal Moon Pack once again. This is about to be a s**t show I just know it. Please don't let me have to kill a b***h. I sighed as I settled into Dom's arms catching Montego's scowling at us. I just closed my eyes because they are just going to have to get over that dumb possessive bull s**t where they get to do and be with other bitches but act like the baby momma can't. They can kick rocks with no shoes on. Already knowing it's about to be some foolery going down. "Let's go back to this bullshit again. We need to stop trying to save bitches from us because every time we try and be grown ups here bitches come with the shits." Mina said as we pass the gate leaving the calmness of Uncle Felix's pack.

Chapter 43

Makahi's POV :

“DAMN IT! Why the hell isn’t Montego nor Shadow responding. I haven’t heard from them since they called to tell me they’ve made it to my uncle’s pack. “HONNNEEYYYY! Where are you?” Summer asked via mindlink. Sighing I had left our room when she fell asleep so I could call my team. I had plan to sleep on the couch in my office because the last thing I needed was to sleep with Summer in our bed. I have been trying to avoid any confusion once Jilahní gets back. I had already messed up earlier because of the mates bond, after Britney left with strict instructions that Summer remained on bedrest for a few days but also ABSOLUTELY no stress even suggested doing things to relieve stress and relax her, with a wink in our direction, and that was all Summer needed to hear, I tried to resist her by saying she had just had a scare but she was relentless and we ended up bringing each other release with our hands and mouths. I immediately felt like s**t as soon as my release ended. Summer ended up falling asleep and me sneaking out to call Montego. “Hey I’m in the office. What do you need?” I asked via mindlink. “I missed you, I’m hungry so I thought we could eat something and then finish what we started earlier.” she responded. “I’ll have one of the Omegas bring you something and I will join you once I’m done here.” I said and she reluctantly agreed. Just then Montego mind linked me to let me know they were entering the gates of our pack. My heart immediately started to race at the thought of seeing my pups again and seeing Ji’lahni. “OK I’ll meet you at the house where they will be staying.” I said getting up from my desk excitedly. “Wait alpha I don’t know if it’s a good idea for you to come just yet maybe wait until they get settled.” Montego said nervously. Frowning suspiciously “What the hell are you talking about Montego why do I need to wait?” I asked. There was a long pause to the point I felt like I was going to have to repeat myself. But he answered as I was about to repeat the question. “Well alpha, your uncle’s Beta Dom came along with us to help protect the girls.” I frowned wondering why uncle sent his beta when they needed all the men they could get. But even so I’m still not seeing why that is a problem with me coming to see them. “Why is he here and what does that have to do with me seeing my pups and Ji’lahni?” I asked. And again their was a long pause. “Well Alpha it seems as though he and Ji’lahni are dating.” Montego said in a nervous whisper and I lost it. “I’LL KILL HIM!” Maka immediately came to the fore front as I broke my office door off its hinges. Maka’s sole purpose was to kill the wolf who dares to touch my other half and my pups. I could vaguely hear Montego trying to stop me. But he should have known it was above me now only the goddess herself would be able to stop me from killing that damn Beta male who thought he could touch my mate. He allowed a man to lay claim to what’s mine and brought him to my pack. And Montego better hope I stop at just that beta’s death and not his too.

Montego’s POV:

“s**t! Shadow put the bags down and... and Shawna you and Mina get the babies in the house NOW! Ji’lahni I know you don’t owe him no loyalty, but if you don’t want blood shed please step away from the beta and get behind Shadow and beta Dom you will respect the Alpha of this pack I don’t know if you know that Ji’lahni is his other half mate but there are things going on that you’re unaware of because it’s classified so just don’t provoke our Alpha if you can’t respect that then I can’t help what he may do to you.” I said hoping to get them apart before I tell Kahi. I was debating on whether to answer him or not, he was pushing for answers and I knew I would have to tell him it was better to tell him then rather than him walking up on the 2 love birds the Beta was all over her. She seemed a little uncomfortable but accepted his attention. I saw Ji'lahni step out of his embraced and walked next to Shadow but not behind him. I looked over to the Beta who looked hurt by Ji'lahni's actions, he weighed his options but he knew he had to abide by the rules of this pack and its Alpha. He finally squared his shoulders and crossed his arms defiantly, but nodded in my directions. I then mindlink Kahi letting him know about Ji'lahni and the beta. They heard the exact moment I told Kahi about them. Because All we heard was a loud growl that shook the entire ground. We saw Makahi come into view and his sole focus was on the Beta. "s**t! I said through gritted teeth. Dom whatever you do don't react." I said inching towards the beta to make sure Kahi doesn't kill him instantly. But before I could block the beta from kahi Ji'lahni stepped in front of me and the Beta. Kahi stops dead in his tracks, inches away from her and his eyes immediately softens and a strangled torched howl came from Kahi right before he picks Ji'lahni up into his arms and ran into the woods. The Beta was about to go after them, but Shadow held him back. "He won't hurt her she controls his wolf, let them be for now. She may get him to not kill all of us." Shadow said guiding the Beta back to the vans to unload the rest of their luggage. I sure hope she can calm Maka enough to not kill the beta and me because the look in his eyes sent shivers down my spine.

Back to Mahaki and Maka POV:

"Kahi what the hell man? Put me down. I swear I am going to stab you if you don't put me down." Ji'lahni yelled as I ran into the woods to get her far away from that beta, she even smelled like him which only pissed me off more and made me run further into the woods. I didn't stop until I came to a little shack me and Montego built as teens in order to sneak off and drink and hang out no one knew it was out here and we haven't been here in years. We had it hidden behind trees and bushes, someone passing by would just see trees and dense bushes. I kicked the make shift door in and entered the dark shack and placed her on the floor and went in search for the old lamp and lighter hoping it still worked, luckily it did. Once I lit the shack up Ji'lahni looked around still breathing hard and still angry.

I'm trying to control Maka who wanted to take her and mark her just to claim her and get the damn beta's scent off her. "What the hell is wrong with you Kahi?" she came to me punching at my chest. I grabbed her wrist and yanked her to me and kissed her to shut her up but also because I needed to. At first she was stiff in my arms but a growl from Maka had her gasping and I took the opportunity to deepen the kiss which she whimpered and wrapped her arms around my neck and I lifted her up as she wrapped her legs around my waist. We didn't stop until we had to come up for air, leaning my forehead on hers trying to stop myself from capturing her lips again. "Hey." She whispered and I couldn't help the small laugh that escape my lips. "Hey." I said as I carried her to the couch and sit down with her straddling me not wanting to sit her on the dirty couch she must have thought the same thing because she didn't try to move. "Khai we can't keep doing this you're mated to Summer you made a choice that I'm trying to accept and move on with my life."

"Lahni, I know this is f****d up and all my fault but I. WILL. KILL. HIM if I see him touch you or smell him on you. I will lose control like I did tonight. I don't know why I'm still connected to you, this has never happened before. I'm trying to figure it out I promise I just need some time, can you please wait until we figure things out. Maka is clawing at my consciousness trying to break free so he can mark you he feels our connection way stronger then I do because he was against me marking Summer from the start. He wants you just as much as I do maybe more so because you're human with no wolf he is also connected to you and it somehow makes the bond between us stronger then I've ever heard of." I said pleadingly, hoping she understands where I'm coming from.

She sat staring at me in disbelief then a single tear dropped from her eyes. "Please allow Maka to join us?" She asked quietly. "I can't he wants to mark you and claim you." I gasped shaking my head no. "Maka won't hurt me I trust him with my life." she said confidently. Hearing her words I could feel Maka howl in happiness and in sheer joy at her faith in him. So I allowed Maka to join me looking into Ji'lahni's eyes I could tell when she realized Maka had joined me. She cupped my jaw with her hand. "Hello Maka, I'm glade you can join us. I wanted you here so we could talk. I understand that we still feel connected but Kahi has mated Summer." Maka snorted in anger causing Ji'lahni to giggle. "I don't know what Kahi's plan is on trying to break our bond." She said with a flicker of pain flashing cross her eyes. "Never! You're mine." Maka growled out in sadness with the thought of breaking our bond which I had no plans to ever do. "Whatever he decide to do I will try my best to limit my interactions with Dom until then." she promised. Growling, Maka said. "Don't let him touch you I will kill him." Sighing. "I will make sure he understands that we need space. But I will not stop being friends. Deal?" Ji'lahni asked... Knowing that this is the best I can hope for I sighed as Maka nodded unhappily then receded back to my subconscious. "I'll go along with your request but he stays at the pack house not your house." I said pulling her closer to me and I buried my head in her neck inhaling her scent not realizing how much I missed her.

She moaned and wrapped her arms around my neck pulling me closer... I growled and cupped her a*s smelling her arousal trailing kissing her down her neck. "Kahi we can't do this." She moaned as I nipped her marking spot and her scent grew stronger causing a low hungry growl as I instantly grabbed her a*s and pulled her up until her p***y was aligned with my hard c**k and she immediately started grinding her hips again my d**k. "Oh f**k!" I growled as her hips moved up and down my shaft she was digging into my shoulder for leverage and to get as close as she could. The yoga pants she wore were soaked and she was quickly soaking my sweats I'm so glad I chose to wear black today. She was whimpering everytime I hit her clit I was trembling trying to keep her steady I could feel myself about to c*m quick like a f*****g teenager from just humping Jilahni. "Oh God! Kahi please don't stop." she moaned starting to pick up her pace. "s**t baby you gotta slow down I don't want to finish too fast." I moaned barely able to get the words out I was moaning and breathing hard and fast barely able form the words.

"Khai... Khai.. Where are you What's going on I'm feeling really uncomfortable Kahi where are you." Summer said abruptly. "s**t!" I stopped immediately freezing automatically ruining the moment Ji'lahni stopped abruptly lifting her head up to look at my face and knew why I stopped. She quickly let out a low curse and unwrapped herself from me climbing off my lap walking out outside without saying a word. "I had pack business I'll be back shortly." I mindlinked Summer. Maka was pissed that we didn't get to satisfy our mate. He growled and blocked me after cursing me to hell and hoping a wolf would attack and cut my head off so the moon goddess could give him a smarter human and I actually agreed with him this time I wanted Ji'lahni so bad my heart and soul ached for her.

Taking a deep breath I got up and walked out the shack to a defeated Ji'lahni who was kicking at an overgrown weed with her arms crossed. "Ji'lahni, I." "We should start the walk back. I know the girls are hungry." She interrupted snapping her head up looking in every direction but mine. I wanted to pull her in my arms and never let go but I know I can't right now. "It's back that way it will be faster if I carried you." "No!" She stepped back as I took a step in her direction. "Look. It would be better for both our sakes if we give each other some space. That's the only way to keep the peace and keeps your wife mate or whatever from threatening me and my babies." she said turning in the direction of where I nodded.

"Ji'lahni." I rushed in the direction she was walking and I wrapped my arms around her and whispered. "I'm sorry." as I buried my head into her neck inhaling her intoxicating scent and tried to commit it to memory. "I am too Khai I am too." she replied sagging into me laying her head back into my chest. We stood like that for a few more minutes cherishing the solitude of just being us together feeling our feelings for each other flow between us like a tether that binds us together. Knowing we couldn't stay like this forever. "I need to carry you baby. Because I just need to and it's entirely too far to walk." I said into her ear softly, her breath hitched at my closeness. But nodded in agreement. I gently picked her up holding her close to me as she wrapped her arms around my neck. We were back within minutes. I placed her on the ground once we were in the backyard of the house. Montego, Shadow, and the Beta were on the patio.

The beta was pacing back and forth while Montego and Shadow lounged on the patio chairs. Once they scented us the beta rushed towards Ji'lahni but I quickly pulled her to me and growled. He stopped abruptly looking at me then looked at Ji'lahni. "Baby are you OK. Did he." I growled taking a step towards him. I will rip his throat out for even implying that I would hurt my mate. "Woah, Woah. Dom I'm fine Khai would never hurt me. I apologize for earlier and I will explain everything after we're settled in." Ji'lahni said stepping between us taking care to not touch him which Maka howled in pleasure. "Mate listens to me. No thanks to you dummy." he said retreating back into my mind. "Montego will show you to your room at the pack house where you will be staying while you're here." I said glancing at Montego seeing him hop up heading in our direction. The beta looked at me in surprise. "What are you talking about my things are already in Ji'lahni's room." I moved past Lahni so fast she didn't have time to react as I lift the beta up by the throat as Maka came forward. "Unless you want me to ship pieces of your body back to my uncle you will never touch my mate or my pups again. If I see you touching her I. WILL. KILL. You." Maka said using my Alpha aura that was so strong it had Montego and Shadow falling to their knees baring their neck.

The Beta tried to fight my aura but he was a beta after all once he nodded I dropped him abruptly and he too dropped to his knees baring his neck angrily. Satisfied, Maka receded and I realize just then Ji'lahni punching the arm that held the beta. "What? It wasn't me." I smiled shrugging as Shadow helped the beta up off the ground. I'm so sorry Dom he's being an a*s. Just let Montego show you to your room and I'll come to the pack house tomorrow for breakfast and we can talk about this." Lahni said coming close to him but careful not to touch him. He wanted to say something but just nodded as Montego escorted him to the pack house and Shadow went in to grab his bags, which were right by the door. He removed them knowing that the beta wasn't staying in there but didn't know if he would be shipping them back to my uncle's pack along with his body or not.

Once we stepped into the house we were greeted by screaming babies with Mina and Lynn pacing and bouncing them, Shawna escaped with Shadow. Once they saw us they practically threw them at us and leaving us alone. Tru quieted as soon as she sniffed me. She gave a happy grunt and grabbed my face excitedly giving me sloppy kisses squealing. I laughed as she kept grabbing at my face. I saw Teri still crying and I reached for her and Ji'lahni gave her to me as well and she cried until she scented me and did the same thing. I allowed Maka to joined me and he gave a lie growl which made the girls stop abruptly I thought Maka scared them but they just squealed even louder and continued giving me sloppy kisses. "They must have missed you more then I thought they would. I'm so sorry, I should have thought about the fact that you were practically a single parent while I was in that coma so of course they were attached to you. I'm so sorry Kahi if I had known." She said crying. "Stop it baby. You did what you thought was best. I admit that I didn't protect you and my girls like I should have and for that I'm sorry." I said handing her a baby and pulled them all into my arms. I let a tear fall taking in the fact that I have finally got my family back and I will do whatever I needed to do to make sure she never feels like she has to run away from me to protect our pups or her family again.

Chapter 44

Ji'lahni's POV:

"I can't believe I almost had s*x with Kahi not even 10 minutes being back here!" I said as I fell back on the couch once Lynn and Mina came back after Kahi left. He put the girls to bed once he was able to sneak out of the room without them screaming every time his scent left. It took 8 times before they finally fell into a deep sleep I think they were anxious that he would disappear once they fell asleep I feel so guilty for what my babies may have been through being away from their dad. He had to crawl, roll, tiptoe, and then slide out of the room while not breathing. It was so funny to watch him do what we've all had to do every night since we left. "I'm surprised it didn't happen. I told you bringing Dom here wasn't a good idea." Mina said with an I told you so look. "Hell I didn't ask him to come. I tried to tell him that it wasn't a good idea, but he was sure that because Kahi was mated to Summer that he wouldn't care." I said leaning back on the couch covering my face with my hands. "Well I guess we will see how long this last before it all goes to hell. Besides that foolery. Are we just going to sit around waiting for someone to attack us or try and take our babies?" Lynn said changing the subject.

"No we have been taking care of ourselves for most of our life, but we will need to come up with a plan because we're no match for werewolves so we will have to fight smarter not harder. First thing we need to do is research everything we can about werewolves." I said thinking of a plan on how we will stop Zane and whoever else who is after me and my babies. "We can ask momma Teri to take us to their library and I will call my grandmother and have her send me all the books she has on shifters." Lynn said. "That's a good idea. Mina and I will do the research Lynn make us more weapons and secure the house. I'll tell Shawna to get Shadow to give her a layout of the entire reservation. We will have to make it wolf proof especially the babies room. We will need to start training as soon as possible." I said laying out a plan. "Are we going to tell the guys of this plan?" Mina asked brow raised. "Absolutely not! Nobody got time for their I am man I must protect helpless women foolery." I answered. Just as there was a banging on the door effectively waking the girls. But I'm not mad because I already know who was on the other side of the door. Lynn got up to answer the door as I went to get the girls so they can be loved up on by their grandma and grandpa.

"Why can't yall be like mommy and aunties and sleep late, why 7am yall just went to sleep at 3am. All I want is a good 6 hours of sleep." I said picking up the girls to feed to be so tiny they eat like teenagers. There wasna soft knock and Shawna stuck her head in the door. "What are you doing here I thought you stayed with Shadow last night?" I asked as Shawna came to the bed playing with the girls hair and they purred at the gesture. They loved getting scalp massages their eyes were drooping closed as they fed and purred to them this was a perfect morning. "Yea I did, I needed to come back to shower and change clothes, Shadow is coming back to take me to the pack house for breakfast." Shanwa answered. At the mention of the pack house I remember I told Dom I would come by and talk to him about the situation. I might as well get it over with and the girls can see their dad as well. "Do you mind if me and the girls tag along." I asked and Shawna looked up at me shocked. "Uh. Yea of course. But why do you want to go to the pack house." Shawna asked confused. "I need to talk to Dom so we don't have a repeat from last night. I also want the girls to see their dad. I didn't know how being away from him would affect them, so I want them to see him to ensure that last night wasn't a dream or think they're not going to see him." I said glancing at them. They were milk drunk now. Shawna grabbed Tru to burp her which didn't even take a minute. She hopped up putting her into the bassinet and then took Teri and put her in the bassinet. "Go get ready and I'll pick the girls clothes out and get them ready and see if Lynn and Mina want to go." Shawna said going to the girls closet. I got out of bed and headed to the bathroom feeling real nervous all of a sudden boy I hope this don't turn into a bar fight.

An hour later...

"Well this is awkward." Mina whispered as we stood in the door way of the dinning room. I had went by Dom's room but he wasn't there so I assumed he was in the dinning room. I wasn't about to go to Makahi's because I didn't want to see Summer in there room, I don't ever want to see their personal space. So I decided to just head to the dinning room, I was so happy to see my cousins were waiting in the common room because I really didn't want to walk in there pushing a big a*s scroller. We took the girls out of the scroller and grabbed their diaper bag and headed for the dinning room Shadow stepped in first and us behind him people were talking as we walked in they must have seen Shadow and didn't think much of it until we stepped around him, and that's when the entire room went completely still. All eyes were on us especially the babies who were just talking up a storm in me and Mina's arms. For some reason my eyes immediately searched for Makahi, I don't know why I didn't look for Dom first which was who I needed to see and talk to. But as soon as I found Makahi at the head of the table he immediately stopped and our eyes locked on each other, he immediately got up and made a beeline towards me never taken his eyes off me. I felt like he was a wolf and I was the prey. Funny because he is actually a wolf. Teri must have sensed her daddy because she started wiggling like crazy in my arms. Just as Makahi stood in from of me with what looked like desire in his eyes which can't be right could it. "Good morning my sweet pups, did you sleep well last night." Makahi said taking Teri from me as she kicked her arms and legs excitedly. He smiled and brought he to his face and nuzzled her neck a purred softly which I now know is a sign that Maka is also on the surface. He lifted his gaze to Look down at me giving me his bedroom eyes. "Goodmorning Ji'lahni." He said licking his lips looking me up and down like he was thinking about what he could... Damn it Girl get it together play it cools."Uh ggood morning." I said nervously. I could hear Mina and Lynn laughing behind me. Cutting my eyes at them, they immediately tried to hold in their laugh but failed. Makahi broke eye contact when Tru let out a little growl deciding daddy was taking to long to get her. Makahi chuckled then reached for Tru who was squirming trying to get to her daddy, the little trader immediately hushed and tried to grab her daddy face to bring him to her mouth to eat or kiss him either way he allowed her to give him a bunch of wet kisses as she made uh sounds. He was laughing and holding them close, Maka was also enjoying the wet kisses they were nothing but a big softy when it came to the girls. It made me smile watching them interact. Someone clearing their throat broke through the little moment. "Kahi what are they doing here? Why are you holding..... Her kids everyone is watching we don't want to confuse our people regarding those... Kids. People will talk. It's embarrassing and disrespectful to your mate." Summer said angrily and her flunky was right behind her looking at Lynn and Mina bitterly. "Here we go with the foolery. Let me see if I got all my knives cause I might have to throw something again today I be trying to avoid it but folks be trying me." Lynn said as she pat herself knowing we can see all her knives because she has her utility belt and her thigh straps on full display. "See Kahi all they want to do is act like wild animals. Why are they allowed on our pack lands I thought they were gone for good. We were finally getting back to normal and now they're here to ruin everything again. You know Brittany is my Gamma, her and Montego were getting close before those humans got here, now looks like they got him fooled just like they got Shadow." Summer sneered with a growl grabbing Kahi's arms turning him towards her. She pulled a little to hard catching him off guard causing him to have to balance Tru so her head wouldn't fall back. I grabbed her hand and pushed her away from Makahi. She stumbled back as always she has to be extra and falls back into her flunky who catch her. Grabbing her small baby bump like I punched her.

"OH MY GOD YOU'RE TRYING TO KILL OUR BABY! KAH! YOU CAN'T ALLOW HER TO GET AWAY WITH ATTACKING YOUR MATE!" she cried dramatically. I see Makahi's warriors get up and hear the clicks of weapon behind me already knowing that my family was always ready for whatever. But Maka's loud growl had them immediately sitting back down baring their necks as he actually stood in front of me like he was going to protect me from his own. Damn he must be trying to actually win me over. I must admit that it felt really good knowing he would protect his children from harm which was all I wanted. Looking back and wacko who was still crying. "You're a real life wack job just like your uncle. I removed your hand from his arm because you almost made him drop my baby." I rolled my eyes taking Tru away from Kahi handing her to Shawna and then took Teri from him. "Kahi please handle your wife before she says or do something that will get her a*s whipped in from of everyone. I said shaking my head because nothing has changed. Just then. "Hey baby is everything ok. Dom asked coming up behind me wrapping his arm around my waist which caused kahi to look back at me and once he saw Dom's hand on my waist I knew s**t was about to hit the fan.

Chapter 45

MAKAHI POV: 1 hour earlier

"Kahi where did you sleep last night? What's going on you have been avoiding me since last night you promised to comeback last night but you never showed up." Summer said as I came in and headed for my closet for a change of clothes I needed a shower before Summer gets close to me. Because I know Ji'lahni's scent is still on me which is why I slept in my office last night. I don't know what the hell happened but seeing that male next to ji'lahni's drove Maka crazy and he took over and carried her back to our old hang out spot. Just being near her smelling her arousal had my control slipping. Then the feel of her hot core pressed against my c**k had me so hard it was painful and Maka didn't try and help myself control. "Why would I do that she's my mate." He growled. "No she isn't our mate we marked summer and Sanja remember." I growled in my head. "No you marked them I was against betraying my other half." He snapped back. "That doesn't matter anymore we are mated to Summer until I can find out if I can some how break the bond safely." I said pleading with him to understand. He just hoofed and retreated to the back of my subconscious and did a mental door slam affectively locking me out...

I sighed. Turning the water off in the shower I hurriedly dress and unlocked the door to come face to face with an upset Summer. The Bond immediately hit me once we are close together I reached for her and pulled her close. Even when she's upset she still allows me to pull her close. She wraps her arms around my neck bringing me down for a kiss and I feel the tingles we always feel when we touch but I also notice that they aren't nearly as strong as when I touch Ji'lahni. Grabbing her hand as she tried to make her way to my pants to stroke my c**k it was definitely standing at the ready. "Sorry sweetie I have a lot of work I need to do breakfast starts soon and I want to get a jump on it right away maybe we can do something together later just me and you." I said stepping away from her ignoring the sadness in her eyes. "Kahi you always say that and then it ends up never happening. I want to finally complete our mating and mark you so we can finally get back to how it was supposed to be. Before those... Humans came. I'm glad their finally gone and we don't have to deal with them anymore. Them leaving was for the best." Summer said happily. Damn that's right I haven't told anyone that the girls were back. I will just tell her after breakfast a hungry angry she wolf is not one you want to deal with. "Hey after breakfast we will come back up here because I have something to talk to you about and it's very important. But for now get ready and meet me in the office and we can go to breakfast together. I said embracing her from behind gently kissing her neck. Which didn't feel right what the hell is happening to me. "Ok fine I'll come by your office once I'm dressed and ready." she said turning and kissing my lips before heading into our closet.

I turned and made my way to my office as Montego was coming out of his room. He looked like he hadn't slept a wink. "I take it by the way you look that Lynn didn't forgive you and stayed at the house with the girls?" I asked. "Yea she said she needed some time to get settle and we will have to take it slow. But Deigo is clawing and howling trying to take over and mark her he's being an a*s." Montego said angrily. "Yea I get it. Maka is not happy at all we both want the same thing but he is refusing to budge when it comes to Sanja and I think Summer is starting to detect that somethings wrong." I said sighing walking into my office with Montego closing the door behind us. "So did anyone find out anything regarding your situation and breaking the bond." He asked. Shaking my head. "No they all said the same thing that once you mark someone all other bonds snap. My mother said she has a which friend that may know something but I'm starting to think there is no solution because humans and wolves have never been bonded." I laid my head back against my chair my chest tighten at the thought that I may never be with Ji'lahni that I will always feel like apart of me is missing.

"I know you don't want to hear this but..." "Don't I know what you're going to say but I will not give up that easily I have to fight for us like she was willing to do for me and our pups." I said resolutely. I had to find a way. "Maybe once me and Lynn finally mate it will give us some answers maybe even shadow and Shawna. Although Shadow hasn't mentioned anything but I can tell he cares for Shawna but he may not want to mate her because of what happened to his first mate." Montego said thoughtfully. "Maybe you're right, but until then I have to keep searching for answers. I still have the translation of the books we sent out to be translated we can go through them after breakfast." I said pointing to the stack of books fill with binders translating old textbooks out of our secret tomb where the history of the first ever werewolves and their accounts of what happened during those time.

"You don't think you should tell Ji'lahni everything, I mean this affects her and your pups. Maybe you to can work together and find the answers, and who knows maybe you too can get closer." Montego said with a shrug. I never thought of it that way. I always tried to protect her from all this as to not scare her because she has been through a lot already I didn't want to scare her any more then I already have. Because I also feared what would happen if I allow Summer to complete the marking and mating some wolves go through so much pain if they were rejected and their mate mated and mark another before the rejection is complete some even kill themselves because the pain is so unbearable. But Montego is right she has a right to know so maybe once I tell her she will want to find a way for us to be together too.

A door opening broke into my thoughts Summer came through the door looking beautiful always face full of makeup and clothes that always seems too tight and over dress. I don't know why she wears all that make up I have always told her she's beautiful without it. She spotted Montego and I saw her eyes glaze over already knowing she's informing Brittany that Montego will be with us. Montego just rolled his eyes not saying anything. "Well hello to you to Montego I'm glad you're here because Brittany is also joining us for breakfast too. We can all go together to show a united front people will think we're the best power couples ever. "Uh I'm sorry I will not be showing anyone anything with Brittany she isn't my other half and I won't pretend otherwise." Montego said defiantly.

Summer lost her smile and it quickly turned into anger. "What did you just say to your luna. I don't remember asking you to do anything. I said that you will escorts my Gamma to breakfast and that's what you will do." She said coming to stand in front of Montego. I see his jaw tick in an effort to hold his tongue. I know he was trying to respect her as luna but he also had a duty to his other half as well. " Summer enough you can't force Montego or any pack memeber to go against their mate chosen by the moon goddess herself." I said getting up closing the file I never got to read.

"But Kahi we already know that humans and wolves can't be mates and besides the humans aren't even here anymore. If he was to give Brittany a chance he would realize they would make the perfect power couple and we could all turn our pack unto the most powerful and respected pack in the world. Besides he has already been on a date with her and they hit it off." "What? That was 1 time 5 years ago and that was only because you and Brittany crashed our porker game night." Montego said jumping up to defend his self. "Whatever it doesn't matter. She's waiting for us down stairs already." Summer said walking out of the door leaving me and Montego shocked. "There is no way in hell that I'm ever going to mate brittany I would give up my title and my left nut before I do that." Montego said with all seriousness. We both laughed at the craziness of our lives. "Yea I understand that. Come on let's go and get this breakfast over with. So we can go visit our girls later.

Sitting in the dinning hall waiting for the food to be served when I felt Maka begin pacing in my head. Brushing him off I continue to talk to Montego about the plans for today when all of a sudden the whole entire room went quiet. Thats when I smelt her the most delicious watermelon and cotton candy smell that gave Maka a sugar high.. Our eyes immediately locked onto each other like a magnet, she was so f*****g beautiful her silky milk chocolate skin looks edible. How can someone look edible? It doesn't even matter, she looks tired and she has her locs tied up in a messy bun at the top of her head which was sexy as f**k. Forgetting whatever the hell I was talking to Montego about I got up and made a beeline to Ji'lahni and my pups I vaguely heard Summer and Brittany gasping a "what the hell are they doing back here." but I ignored them.

Never taken my eyes off her, stepping in front of Ji'lahni I hear Teri who must have scented that I was near because she started wiggling like crazy in her momma's arms. But for a moment I stood in from of Ji'lahni taken her body in with my eyes and I wanted to make sure I was in control before Maka tried to take over and do something we will both regret. "Speak for yourself." He snorted. After I gathered my control. "Good morning my sweet pup did you sleep well last night." I asked taking Teri from her momma as she kicked her arms and legs excitedly. I smiled and brought her to my face and nuzzled her neck I purred softly as I allowed Maka to join me. He took the opportunity to lift our gaze to Look down at Ji'lahni.

"Goodmorning Ji'lahni." Maka said licking our lips as he flashed pictures of last night when her p***y was dry humping our shaft. s**t! I had to take control because I could smell her desire and I can't embarrass myself in front of my pack. "Uh ggood morning." She said nervously. I heard Mina and Lynn laughing behind her. She gave them an evil look and they immediately tried to hold in their laugh but failed. I broke eye contact when Tru let out a little growl deciding I was taking too long to get her. My pup was a little spitfire already like her grandma. Whom will be over the moon when she finds out their back to stay.

Tru was squirming trying to get to me, I let Mina place her in my free hand and she immediately reached for my face bringing me to her mouth for some kisses and I laugh as she started making little growling noises as she tried to eat my face aggressively. I couldn't help but laugh while I hold them close to me inhaling their scent which was oddly mixed with mine and Ji'lahni's, Maka was also enjoying the wet kisses. I didn't even notice that Summer had approached us until she cleared her throat. "Kahi what are they doing here? Why are you holding..... Her kids everyone is watching we don't want to confuse our people regarding those... Kids. People will talk. It's embarrassing and disrespectful to your mate." Summer said angrily and her Brittany was right behind her looking at Lynn and Mina bitterly. "Here we go with the foolery. Let me see if I got all my knives cause I might have to throw something again today I be trying to avoid it but folks be trying me." I heard Lynn say as she patted herself looking for her knives, which we could all see that she was geared up as usual with her utility belt and her thigh straps on each thigh. "See Kahi all they want to do is act like wild animals. Why are they even allowed on our pack lands, I thought they were gone for good. We were finally getting back to normal and now they're here to ruin everything again. You know Brittany is my Gamma, her and Montego were getting close before those humans got here, now it looks like they got him fooled just like they got Shadow." Summer sneered with a growl.

Out of no where she grabbed at my arm that had Tru in it trying to get my attention, but she pulled a little to hard causing Tru's head to lean back I had to quickly balance her so she wouldn't fall back. Ji'lahni grabbed her hand and pushed her away from me. She stumbled back into Brittany who caught her. Grabbing her small baby bump. "OH MY GOD YOU'RE TRYING TO KILL OUR BABY! KAH! YOU CAN'T ALLOW HER TO GET AWAY WITH ATTACKING YOUR MATE!" Summer cried. I see my warriors get up and hear the clicks of weapons behind her. I swear those girls always quick on the draw. Seeing my warriors get up to attack, Maka's immediately took over and let out a loud growl which had them immediately sitting back down baring their necks as we stood in front of Ji'lahni's and my pups no one would ever touch them and live to tell about it. Summer was still crying. "You're a real life wack job just like your uncle. I removed your hand from his arm because you almost made him drop my baby.” Ji’lahni’s said rolling her eyes taking Tru away from me and handing her to Shawna and then took Teri into her arms. “Kahi please handle your wife before she says or do something that will get her a*s whipped in from of everyone. Ji’lahni said shaking her head.

“Hey baby is everything ok.” That f*****g beta asked coming up behind Ji’lahni wrapping his arm around her waist which caused Maka come forward in a instinct to see to Dom’s hand on her waist and just like that Maka took over and ripped the Beta away from my mates slamming him on the nearest table by the neck. “I told you to touch what’s mine.” I growled. My eyes are completely silver now Maka is in full Alpha mode my aura is coming out with every word I spoke. Everyone is on their knees baring their necks. The beta was clawing at my hands struggling to breathe and Maka was ready to kill him. “Give me control back now Maka!” I demanded trying to take back control. “I told him to never touch what’s mine.” Maka said growling. We soon felt a familiar tingle that distracted Maka enough for me to take back control. I immediately hear my pups crying and Ji’lahni pleading with me to let go of the beta. Looking back at the people in here all I see is fear. I quickly let go of the beta and Ji’lahni immediately went to him a growled escaped my lips which made her jump In fear. Seeing her reaction, I quickly turned and Left the dining hall shifting in the blink of an eye, running at full speed leaving Montego who was trying to catch up with me behind. I may have just lost my other half and the pain of that possibility was too much. I needed to run.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 46

Ji’lahni’s POV:

“Damn he almost f*****d you all the way up. You need some milk?” Mina said coming up behind me. I cut my eyes at her. “To soon? Yea it’s too soon.” Mina said backing away. Looking back at Dom. “Are you ok? Do you need someone to call doc.” I asked helping Dom sit up. He was rubbing his neck. He shook his head. “All I need is for you to to tell me what the hell is going on Lahni why is the alpha acting like that with you I thought you told me he was mated so someone else. It can’t be if he is still acting like you’re his mate.” Dom said still rubbing his neck. Looking back at Summer who is still in shock playing the victim role. She is staring daggers at me which tells me she heard what Dom has said. Turning back to look at Dom. ” Look let’s go to your room and I’ll explain everything then ok?” I pleaded and he nodded. I turn to my cousins. “Hey can you drop the girls off to momma Teri I know she will be excited to finally have them back here tell them I will be by later today to pick them up.” I said kissing the girls cheeks as they still looked a little afraid or angry I’m not to sure they were sucking on their binkies like they were hungry. I’m sure momma Teri will be able to feed them if needed.

Turning back to Dom I followed him out the door and to his room. I sit on the chair that was at the makeshift table. Taking a deep breathe I looked up to see Dom looking at me intently. "Lahni, tell me what's going on between you and the Alpha." He sat on his bed staring at me intently. "Honestly I don't know everything I'm not a werewolf I don't know all the rules and history of your kind but I will tell you everything that has happened since we've been here and you would be able to figure out more than me." I said and he nodded for me to go ahead. So I proceeded to tell him everything that has happened except the details behind the pups birth which I'm sure he knows how babies are born and left of the meeting with the moon goddess and definitely not what happened last night. Once I finished he looked shocked and confused.

"I don't know what to say. We have never had a human as our other half I thought it was just infatuation that went to far. The babies were an anomaly that would change our way of life and allowed of to choose a human not that we could possibly be our other half. But it still doesn't explain how he has marked another but still feel the mates bond with you." He said pacing the floor. "Well that is what is happening. I honestly didn't know he would have that reaction to you being here if I did I wouldn't have brought you here. I honestly don't know how I feel and that isn't fair to you. So I think you should go back to uncle Felix until I figure it out I really don't want to have to go through this every time he sees you. I have to deal with him because he is the father of my babies. So until then I think we should take a break. I said as a lump formed in my throat. I hated doing this when I know that I would still have to deal with Summer the wacko and I'm expected to act like I have sense but Kahi can't do the same.

Dom looked sad but he nodded and came over to me and held me in his arms for a long while before he let me go. Walking me to the door he grabbed me and turned me around. He held my face in his hand. "Look Lahni I want you to know if you need me you only have to call and I will be here and if you need a place to go no matter the time my door will always be open to you he said as he kissed my lips and slipped what I'm assuming is his house keys in my hand before I walked out of the door and ran smack into my cousins who were waiting like a hawk. "OK spill it and don't leave nothing out." Shawna said pulling me out of the pack house doors. I don't care how serious the situation is, we will never miss a chance to get the play by play. Hey I can't say s**t I'm the same way.

"Damn, Lahni you're better than me because I wouldn't make my man leave when he got a whole wife who is always trying to get you killed or put in jail and he does absolutely nothing." Mina said as he headed to the clearing in our back yard. Lynn seems to think in order to relieve stress we should beat our body to a pulp. So we're we sparring doing hand to hand. Some of the women from the pack came to join. Most of them don't have any training not that they couldn't they just left it for the men to do. "So how would yall defend yourselves if the the bad guys were able to get to you how would you protect your little babies?" Lynn asked. The women looked completely terrified and have never thought about it that way. "Just because it has never happened doesn't mean it won't. Since we have been here we have had to fight for our lives." Mina said. The ladies gradually left and some came back in workout clothes or comfortable pants and shirts. They were naturally strong and fast so we taught them basic moves they were actually pretty good.

We also told them that although they learn these moves. The hardest thing is not allowing fear to freeze them or forget their training we tell them the best way to not freeze is to think of why you need to fight for most it was their pups or other loved ones. “But you always run first and if possible hide your babies if you know you can’t escape and you need to teach them what to do in case of emergency. We could also teach the children survival skills if by chance they are alone and have to reach a safe place alone. We could do drills with pre teens and teenagers who will have to keep the wee babies safe.” I said deep in thought thinking about Raz and what happened the day the rogues attacked us.

The women nodded in agreement and we set up a time for the women to bring their kids over we will have the women run drills with their babies and make sure they have a solid emergency plan. We practiced for another hour before the ladies left us as we started on our target practice. Oh how I missed my crossbows I had 2 purple crossbows 1 old school and 1 custom made snipper crossbow oh course I love my old school one because I always feel like that girl on the cartoon Brave. Yes I love cartoon and Disney my cousins always call me childish because my TV stays on Disney shows and movies. We practice crossbow target and knives throwing. By the time we finished my arms and legs we cussing my a*s out.

I was going to pick up the girls but that s**t not happening until I take a bath and a nap. I’m glad momma Teri said we could take as long as we won’t. But I know better then to leave them there a long time because by the time we get them back they would be rotten and spoiled and wont let us put them down, and we not going through that anymore. So with a solid plan we all crowled up the steps with Lynn laughing behind us looking like she didn’t even broke a sweat. Did I mention I don’t like that b***h.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 47

MAKAHI POV:

“Damn it Kahi, why the f*** were you running so fast?” Montego asked me as he stepped into the shack we used as teenagers. “How did you know I was here I hid my scent?” I asked curiously. “Because before I was your beta, I was your best friend so I automatically knew where you would come at times like this. So tell me what happened back there?” He asked, sitting down beside me. ” I wish I f***** knew all I know is when the beta put his arm around Ji’lahni, Maka lost it and took control that has never happened before, but he wanted to kill that beta hell he still does. Lately he has been really grouchy and angry. It kind of feels like he is going feral because he can’t mate and mark Ji’lahni. Then we saw the beta, another wolf trying to claim her. It was just too much for Mecca to handle.” I said, sighing, running my hands down my face.

“Look man, I get it. Lynn still refuses to allow me to touch her. But she is at least talking to me. But just like you told me, you have to remember she’s human and doesn’t understand our ways. That’s why you need to talk to her and tell her everything, because if you don’t you will lose her.” I laughed sarcastically. “I think I already have, you didn’t see her face and how scared she was that nearly broke Maka. He never wanted her to fear Him. That was the only reason he allowed me to take full control back.” I said with my chest tightening. “Don’t underestimate her, she has been through Alot and is still sane. I think she can handle a feral, angry alpha wolf. If not, she would just shoot you with her bow and arrow laced with wolf bane.” Montego said, slapping me on the back. We both chuckled at the thought because it was entirely possible she would shoot me. “Now on to the matter of your mate. You know she witnessed the whole entire scene and how you practically claimed Ji’lahni in front of the whole entire pack.” Montego said. “s**t! I completely forgot this s**t was so messed up. I wish I knew what the moon goddess was thinking. Hopefully, these books will give me some answers. Until then, I will avoid Summer and just deal with her later. I have to talk to Ji’lahni first so she doesn’t get up and runaway again.” I said, getting up, shifting in an instant, racing out of the shack with Diago right behind me.

I decided to go by my parents’ house to get a change of clothes not wanting to run into Summer yet. As I walked in I could hear nothing but baby talking and my parents making silly noises which I can only assume my pups thought it was funny. I smiled at my pups on the floor with my parents both on their knees playing a new version of peekaboo where they would hide their eyes and allow their wolves to come forward, and then they would uncover their eyes, letting out soft growls and the girls would squeal every time. They had the entire room full of toys. I don’t ever remember you guys playing with me this way and I was never allowed to have toys in your living room mother.” I said, crossing my arms on my chest. Picking up one of the girls from the floor.

“First of all, mind your business. This is my house and my grandpups can have whatever they want in here.” my mother said. Walking to sit on the couch with Tru in her arms. Honestly, Tru’s name should have been Teri because she was a spitfire just like her granny. She was growling lightly like she understood that we were talking about her. “Exactly honey, You should have seen him the other day. He came into the pack house and wouldn’t move out of the way so I could see my chocolate sundaes.” He said with Teri drooling on, he shoulder, which he didn’t seem to mind. “What, you almost knocked me over trying to get to them.” I, said jokingly. “Well son you must have been moving to slow. I have noticed that about you lately.” My mother said. “Exactly what I said honey. My dad said, wrapping his arms around my mom. They looked completely happy and at peace.” I wish I could have that same feeling.

Teri must have sniffed me out because she started squirming trying to see where I was, her head bobbling because her neck wasn’t strong enough yet. I walked over so she could see me and she squirmed even more. I smiled, picking her up, relieved that she wasn’t afraid of me. My heart was relieved. I hated thinking that they could ever be afraid of me. “It was you that made them cry to begin with, it was me.” Maka said sadly. “I don’t think they were scared of you either. We were worried for nothing. They’re our pups and they know we would never hurt them. I reassured Maka and allowed him to come forward. Teri paused for a second and I could feel Maka’s sadness at the thought she might actually cry. But she passed gas then tried to reach for my eyes trying to kiss them I can only assume that was her way of kissing Maka and he growled lowly and she stopped and let out a little growl trying to imitate him. We all burst out laughing at that they were truly remarkable. They are already so much smarter than the average pups. Most don't growl at all until their first shift, but my pups were growling and using their aura. Tru cried, squirming until mom put her in my free hand and I sat on the couch opposite them.

"So, son, what brings you by?" My dad asked. I know he knows about earlier, his old beta was in the dining hall this morning, as well as my mother's old Gamma. "Dad, I'm sure you have already heard about what happened in the dining hall earlier. I said, sitting, and the girls faced forward on my lap, allowing them to try and eat my fingers. They have really strong gums. When they get teeth they are going to break skin. "Yea we both heard what happened but we want to hear it from you. "Dad, I don't know how much longer I can take this thing with Ji'lahni has got me all twisted into knots. I just can't understand how we were still so connected with Summer wearing my mark. Then when I saw uncle Felix's beta touch her, Maka lost it and took complete control which had never happened. I think he is going feral, being so close to Ji'lahni's and not being able to mate and mark her is making him crazy and I don't know how to fix it without hurting or, even worse killing Summer and the pup she's carrying." I said as the girls started to nod off in my arms my mom immediately cleaned out their crib that sat in the corner which I just noticed shaking my head smiling.

"What?" My mom asked, shrugging her shoulders. "Really, mom, a crib in the living room." I said with surprise. "I swear you really can't stay out of our business. Yes, we have a crib in the living room and their room that used to be yours, but I will be redecorating it into the girls room I have already ordered purple and pink everything." She said excitedly. "Hey you're giving them my room so where will you put my stuff." "Well honey that is a you problem you have 30 days to move your things before we have a alpha yard sale which all money's will go to buying the babies a playground in the backyard that your father wants to build for the girls." She said excitedly and my dad was sitting there nodding his head proudly. I give out my pups will be so spoiled that they will not even want to stay with me and Ji'lahni. The picture that popped into my head made my heart beat faster breaking me out of my thoughts.

"Son you may have no choice but to make a choice and risk it. I understand you not wanting to hurt Summer but you have to think of the good of the pack. We can't have our alpha going feral it will open us up to attack and put the lives of us all in danger." My father said in all seriousness. Sighing because he just spoke the words I didn't want to say. "I know dad. I'm going to tell Ji'lahni everything and see where we stand and then I'm going to the office and read over the binders with the translated text. Once I have went through then I will make my decision. By the way mom have your witch friend ever got back to you?" I asked my mother. "You know what son she hasn't which is strange we haven't spoke in years but I haven't heard anything happening to her. We spoke a few times after the vampire war years ago. But lost touch but I can't seem to find her anywhere." She said truly puzzled. It was the war that took many werewolf lives one being Shawdow's mate that was a hard time he barely made it through it. Most wolves would have simply died with their mate or go rogue but Shadow disappeared for 2 years and came back the silent cold killer he is now well until Shawna that is.

There was a lite knock on the door. "I'll get it." I said as my mother busied herself cleaning the living room while the pups napped. Walking to the door my heart stopped at the sight of Ji'lahni she was so f*****g beautiful her milk chocolate skin and her bright blue eyes. She had on a black short summer dress that exposed her milk chocolate breast and flared out mid thigh. I frowned a little wondering did she walk here with that on. Her knocking again snapped me out of my thoughts I quickly opened the door and she spotted me and gasped out of shock. "Sorry I didn't mean to startled you I said nervously like a school boy. "No, no I just wasn't excepting you to answer the door that's all. I came to pick you the twins." She said breathlessly. "Oh I'm sorry come in they are taking a nap now." I said, opening the door for her to come in.

"Oh I was trying to get her before they crashed. Maybe I should just come back later or if you're going to be here maybe you can just drop them off." She said backing away getting ready to turn and leave. "No wait!" I said in a rush grabbing her hand to stop her. The electric tingles made of both jump back. We looked at each other in a trances. "I really wanted to talk to you there is some things I need to tell you and I wanted to clear the air between us. So can you please stay so we can talk at least until the pups wake up from their naps." I asked pleadingly. Holding my breath waiting on her answer. She nodded and I let out a big sigh of relief. "Actually, there some thing I need to tell you as well." She said. As she followed me into the living room. I stopped abruptly at her words wondering if what she has to tell me is that she is in love with the beta and want to be with him. Stop it don't jump to conclusions. Taking a deep breath I went into the living and the girls were sleeping peacefully and my parents must have heard me ask to talk to her because they had cleared out leaving us alone. "Letting her sit first. I was surprised she didn't sit in the single chair so as to not be close to me. She sat on the loveseat. I moved to sit next to her and out legs touched and this time the sparks were expected.

"Look Ji'lahni I want to apologize about earlier I wish I could tell you that it was a mistake but I refuse to lie to you. It's apart of our DNA to claim our other half and to stop anyone who threatens that. It broke us to see the fear in your eyes I never want you to be afraid of us, because we would never do anything to her you because Maka and I feel the bond with you we both feel you're our other half's mate. But then there is Summer our chosen mate which in our history when we choose a mate our bond breaks and we are no longer connected to our other half mate which usually the other wolf wouldn't even know it if they have not bonded with their other half. But that didn't happen with us. I don't know why but ever since the day I marked summer I have been trying to find answers to why I still feel a connection to you." I said finally taking a breathe. "Makahi I know you would never hurt me the fear you saw wasn't because I felt that you would hurt me I guess in the heat of the moment there was a moment of fear because of the situation itself but not because I thought you would hurt me or the girls.

I already told you that I know you don't care about me and that Summer is who you want to be with who you're in love with I get it. I don't want to come between you and your wife. I know this is all new territory for you as well, so from now on I will try and keep my distance from you you can see the girls whenever you want I can dropped them off here whenever you want to see them but please don't have them around your wife you may love her and trust her but I don't. Also Dom has gone back to uncle Felix's pack for now until you can break my I mean our bond or whatever.” She said turning her face away from me and quickly getting up to check on the pups. I got up and wrapped my arms around her from behind before spinning her to face me with tears falling from her eyes I wiped them away. “I need to apologize again for the obvious misunderstanding. When I said I have been trying to find answers to why we’re still connected isn’t so I could break our bond I want to find answers to break my bond with Summer. I want nothing more then to be with you. It is driving Maka feral not being able to mark and claim you. But I also don’t want to hurt Summer or her pup which is why i have been combing the history books so I can reject her safely. But make no mistake you’re mine and I’m yours I just need a little more time to figure things out. Can you please give me that baby?”

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 48

Ji’lahni’s POV:

Wait what? Did he just say he wanted me? That all this time he has been trying to break his bond with Summer and not me. “Wait, so if you’ve been trying to break your bond with Summer why wait til now to tell me? Is it because you thought I was falling for Dom?” I asked, crossing my arm under my breast. “No, me and Montego decided this morning that I would tell you the truth. I didn’t want to tell you what I was trying to do, just in case I couldn’t find anything to break the bond, but Maka has been showing signs of aggression and I feel I’m running out of time, because I have to protect my pack and if I can’t find any answer I will be forced to.. “Complete the mating with Summer which could potentially cause me to go crazy or die.” I completed for him. “No! I will never hurt you. I will die before that happens.”

“So you’re saying I will be responsible for your pack being destroyed, because they’ve lost their Alpha? HELL NO! You can’t put that on me and that’s not a decision you should make on your own either. I would never be able to live with myself if I was the cause of this pack being possibly attacked with women and children being killed as well as,, putting our girls in danger. You’re far more important in this situation than I am. So it’s only logical that you should reject me or complete the mating with Summer.” I said, barely able to hold my tears. “NO! Don’t ever say that again. I can’t lose you, don’t you get it? I will die without you.” He said, pulling me into his arms, inhaling my scents. I closed my eyes at the familiar tingles and the exact moment my cookies decided to betray me yet again, and by the sound of Makahi’s growl, he was aware of my cookies’ betrayal. Stepping out of his embrace to put some space between us because I needed to finally tell him everything the moon goddess told me. He chose me without me interfering or telling him about my dream or coma, inducing vision or whatever it was. Taking a deep breath.

“You’re not the only one who needs to clear the air.” I said, taking a deep breath. He nodded and pulled me back to the couch, but instead of me sitting next to him, he pulled me onto his lap and buried his head in my neck, inhaling my scent and causing me to moan at the action. “Makahi, I won’t be able to tell you anything if you keep doing that.” I said exposing my neck to him as he lightly nip at my neck which I know for sure my cookie was weeping and he knew it to. He growled and moved away. So I can begin.

“I’ll say this, Everything I’m about to say is going to sound completely bad s*** crazy, but one thing my grandma taught us is to never take signs for granted. So, with that said, when I was in a coma I had a weird dream or something like a dream. Maybe a vision anyway. A woman who called herself Celine or the moon goddess, the mother of your species. She told me that she chose me as the mother of the first half-breed Alphas, who would be the strongest twins in the shifter world, stronger than all shifter species. She told me that she was the reason that me and my family survived ingesting the wolf bean, because there are people who are now coming after the girls as well as other species who will be coming for them when their abilities are exposed. She said they’re in grave danger. Me and my family, along with this pack, must protect them. She also said that” I’m your other half me, and because your mark on summer was forced is why we still have a bond. But the only rule was you would have to choose me on your own. I couldn’t tell you that part until you made your own choice.” I finished and turned to Makahi, who was looking at me wide-eyed. “See, I knew you would think I was crazy, but I promise you it was so real and I would rather be safe than sorry, especially with everything that has happened to me since I got pregnant with the girls.” I said in a rush as I got up and started pacing the floor as I told him about my dream. Makahi got up and came to stand in front of me. I bumped into his chest, not noticing he had even got up. “Ji’lahni, I believe you, we have seers who have visions or dreams. This is the first time a human has seen the moon goddess, but we have learned a lot since your family has gotten here. But we need to inform my warriors and the guards and get, around the clock, guards to protect the pups at all times.” He said, starting to pace the floor deep in thought, which I can only assume that he was mindlinking his Warriors and guards. Just then, the girls began to cry and his parents came running into the room.

The look of fear and anger on their faces told me that Makahi had told them everything that was happening. They hurriedly pick up the girls and held them tightly while kissing them to calm themselves more then the girls. His dad was truly angry because his eyes were the color of his wolf. “Son, we must call your uncle Felix and let him know what is happening. He will want to help and send his strongest warriors.” His dad said and his mother nodded. Makahi took a deep breath and nodded, his eyes flashed silver, no doubt thinking of the possibility of seeing his uncle’s beta again, knowing that he had a relationship with me, but he would do it for his girls and that made me love him even more. Wait what? Love? Wait do I love Makahi? I asked myself and slowly came to the conclusion that I have loved him from the first time that I laid eyes on him. Damn IT! I can’t believe love just came up and snuck a b****. I swear cupid is trifling. I thought to myself.

The Traitor’s POV: later that evening

“Can you talk?” The master asked. “Yes, I’m in a secure location,” I said. “Do you have any updated information on the twin pups?” the master asked. “Only rumors they haven’t been back long enough but there is talk of a lockdown no one in or out so it will be impossible to go ahead with our plan. "I spoke looking around. "S***! We will have to move the plan up to tonight," the master said. "Will the asset be ready to go through with the plan last time I heard they had memories that could make or break the whole entire plan. I can't be found out before I can escape, I will be killed." I spoke nervously. "You let me worry about that you will have someone who will aid you in case things get sticky for you, so don't worry." The master spoke. "How will I know when to make my move?" I asked. "Keep the phone on and I will send you the plan remember it and then destroy and burn the phone and the Sim card." The master said and hung up.

I put the phone back in the secret compartment on the inside of my pants. I'm starting to regret ever going along with this plan. But the master had caught me at my lowest and offered me the one thing I could never have, a pup. When I was young, I was hit by a car and even though I was a wolf, the damage was too severe. When I tried to shift, my wolf couldn't heal the really bad lacerations. Several organs were damaged beyond repair, so in order to save my life they had to perform several surgeries, one being a hysterectomy at the time. I didn't understand what that meant because I was a young teenage pup. But as I got older it was then that I found out how my inability to not have a pup made me less desirable. Because as my other half mate asked, what wolf would want a mate that can't provide him with pups, right before he rejected me. I had fooled myself into thinking that my other half wouldn't care that I couldn't give him pups. We could have adopted pups. There are times when pups lose their parents and need a home. But he rejected that idea, saying that the pup wouldn't be his blood, so he rejected me.

That night, me and my wolf were broken, I was dying, but the master found me and promised me life and the one thing that I couldn't say no to. With the promise that I could have everything I wanted and all I would have to do is report everything I can find out about the pack which was simple enough until one night, after I reported that the alpha and his top 5 warriors were on a mission. The master took the opportunity to attack the pack that had caused many deaths women and children one death was the asset. But the master revived them, saying they were near death but not dead. Their heart had stopped but the master called a friend and he brought her back from death. So, while technically they did die, they were reborn and the strangest part was they were no longer mated to their mate. Their mark was completely gone like a reset. I was racked with guilt at the thought that my reports were used to kill, but it was too late to quit now.

At first it was hard to watch the asset be experimented. trying to erase their memory now the asset had been rebooted into a killing machine they had cold dead eyes but sometimes the old person with flash for just a second but immediately go back to the cold dead eyes they were trained to be they have been physically mentally and emotionally training they have been taught The Art of Seduction they have been on other missions and have never failed so all I need to do is get my car and load it up so I will be ready to leave as soon as my part of the plan is done I hope that my part in this plan doesn't get me killed once this is over I will be a mother I said to myself touching my flat stomach smiling daydreaming about the day my stomach will be around with a growing pup. That will make all this worth it.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 49

The master POV:

"Damn it!" I am just swiping all the contents off my table. "What is it? What's wrong master?" My assistant asked. "We have to move up our plans to take those half breeds tonight we need to reach out to our contact and inform him that the plans have changed. Go and also tell him we need him to make contact with his inside person as soon as possible. Then send one of the girls to bring me the asset we have to inject them with another dose of the memory serum." I said to my assistant pacing back and forth. "But master we just gave them a dose 3 days ago couldn't another dose have lethal side effects?" My assistant asked. "That I asked you for your opinion?" I asked as my anger flared. Causing my power to flow from my fingertips. My assistant took a frightening step back. "Right away master." My assistant said leaving the room hurriedly.

I've been waiting patiently for years in order to take my revenge on that b**** she took the love of my life away from me now she will pay the ultimate price once I have those half breeds power I will be the strongest being in the world and I will take back what's mine. "Uh master your contact is on the way and the asset is waiting in your laboratory prepped and ready for their injection." My assistant informed me. "How are you today? We have a special mission today this will be the biggest and the most important mission to date this is the mission we've been training you for all these years. Failure isn't an option." I held up a blurry pictures of the twin alpha pups and the most important wolf who will ensure that the asset will accomplish the mission of getting the twins. "Once this is complete will finally have you back my love and my revenge." I smiled with excitement. I sent a text of the new plan to be executed at 12am.

MAKAHI POV:

"Shadow will move into the house to protect you guys. I will have guards station outside the house as well." I said as we walked with girls back to their house. "Is all that necessary. Shouldn't Shadow be enough? You do know we can protect them too?" She asked. "I know but we don't know what kind of plans they have or how many will attack so I want you guys to but protected." I explained and she nodded. So what about Summer when will you tell her. Ji'lahni asked, as we walked with the girls. I honestly don't know with everything you told me. I don't want to add to the problems we're now facing." I said deep in thought.

Well it will have to be soon because I don't want to have to deal with her and her drama another minute because as long as she is your Luna she will try to get me and my family put away or killed." She said matter of factly. I had to laugh. "Your bossing me around already." "No that was a strong suggestion." She said with a smile. I stopped and pulled her and Tru into my arms and kiss my pups head and Ji'lahni's lips. This felt right how it's suppose to be. "You're right I won't wait too long to reject Summer because I can't wait to start my life with you." She smiled up at me pull me I'm for another kiss but the pups quickly put an end to that with their grunts and cries. "Oh so when daddy wants to kiss yall queit but when it's me yall got a problem. OK I see how this is gonna be. I hope your daddy can produce this milk yall go crazy for." She said putting Tru in my arms as she raced up the steps and slams the door.

"Hey what did I do? I didn't say anything." I said to the now closed door. "See what you have done yall done put me in the wolf house. Now we got to go give her the sad face can yall do that let me see you do the sad face." I laugh when I see them laughing as I show them my sad face. "That is not your sad face that's your laughing face. OK yall gone be getting milk out the can tonight." I said and they immediately frown as if they know what I just said. "Oh I mention powered milk is what gets the sad face." I said laughing as I walked into the house to find their milk lady. Not realizing there was a trader in wolf's clothing watching from afar.

"Have we covered everything every possible scenario we can't make any mistakes." I hadn't told Jelani how serious this really was if the moon Goddess felt it was necessary and important to step in and warn Ji'lahni then there was something catastrophic that going happen and it was going happen soon I could feel it. "Have our Scouts mentioned any movements on Zane pack or his island." I asked. "No movement Alpha he still hiding." a warrior answered. "Just because he's hiding doesn't mean he isn't planning and moving." I said. "Do you think he's working with someone? That the person is helping him hide?" Montego asked. "The more I think about it the more I think he has to be working with someone, but who no pack or council members would risk their packs to work with Zane and none of them knew anything about the girls except the council members but the other packs had no idea of their blood or the pups?" I said pacing. "So who could hate us enough to make an alliance with Zane." Montego asked. "That's the big f***** question."

Traitor's POV: 8pm

My phone vibrated in the secret compartment of my pants I pulled it out and read the new plan. I quickly remembered it before destroying the phone and the SIM card as instructed. I had everything packed and ready to leave as soon as my part of the plan was done. I just had to make sure I wasn't found out before I could escape. "Are they ready yet?" Razor asked, for the hundredth time. I was very fond of the little pup his aunt barely spent any time with him. He spent most of his time with me I wish I could take him with me, but I figured it will be a hinder in my plans, so I had to leave him here. "Yes they are ready go grab your shoes and I will pack the cookies that we made for Ji'lahni and the Alpha." I said as Razor ran into the living room to put his shoes on. The cookies were laced with a poison that will knock out and paralyzed the human's for a couple of hours, but would only affect the wolves for a couple of minutes which was why I also added wolfsbane the girls were immune to wolfsbane but the wolves weren't so they would both be out long enough for the assets to come and extract the twin pups. Hopefully I can leave without anyone noticing me. I just have to make sure they all ate them cookies which is why I made enough to feed a small army the more they consume the better it will be and one thing about wolves they loved anything food. "I'm ready let's go." Razor said. "Okay we have to make a pit stop first." I said walking out the door as held Razor's hand, officially starting the master's plan.

Summer's POV: 9:30pm

"Are you really going to do this?" Brittany asked. "I have no choice if I don't he will kill me and my baby." I said crying lightly. "You could always just tell...." "Stop!" I said cutting her off. "Don't you dare say it this is Kahi's pup the next Alpha and I'm the Luna of this pack there is nothing else that is more important and if I have to do this one little thing to ensure that my pup has the life it deserves I will do it because that's what a mother does. Besides what kind of mother would I be to not protect my pup's future as the next Alpha after the twins are gone no other pup or wolf can challenge my pup's right to be the next Alpha." I said with renewed confidence. Someone knocking on the door stopped our conversation. "Come in." I said. "Hey Auntie we brought you some cookies I made them myself." Razor said proudly. "Oh did you, did you. Well I know they are going to be the best cookies I have ever tasted." I said smiling down at him. "I'll be sure to make sure everyone here will taste your cookies okay?" I said with a smile. "Okay Auntie we have to go so I can see my God sister's and give Wi'lahni some of my cookies." Razor said and shot out the door. "Please make sure that Alpha and his warriors eat the cookies by 10:00 p.m. in order for the asset to remove the pups safely and give me time to leave the pack without notice." The trader said before leaving closing the door behind her.

"Maybe we should leave as well so we won't be caught." Britney said nervously. "No we will eat a small amount of the cookies just enough to knock us out but not as long as the others I just have to make sure they all eat enough cookies." I said. As We Gather ourselves outside of Kahi's office I knew that almost his Warriors are present except the guards that are on Patrol, which would make this easier than expected. Opening the door. "Hello everyone sorry for the interruptions I took the liberty of having a small snack and drinks made for you guys, because I know you have been in here all day and I know my Alpha will forget to take a break and eat something so as your Luna I demand everyone take several of these homemade cookies and I'm not leaving until you have finished every last cookie on that plate is that clear?" I said as Brittany handed out several cookies and water to everyone and I had Kahi's cookies and special water I made myself to give to him which will ensure he doesn't fight off the effects of the cookies, he was an alpha after all. "Please summer we don't have time for this we are in the middle of an urgent meeting." Kahi said annoyed.

"So as your Luna I'm making sure you are at your best which is making sure you are eating to keep your strength up you are the Alpha it is your duty to make sure your warriors are performing at their best and make sure that they are in tip top shape is it not?" I asked smartly. "Fine but once we have finished the cookies I need complete privacy is that clear." He said angrily taking the cookies from me and taking the first one cookie and eating it in one bite. "Will I see you later tonight we haven't had any time together and you've prom..." He stopped me before I could finish my sentence. "Look summer I'm sorry we will be working late tonight don't wait up we will talk tomorrow I have something urgent we need to discuss so I'll make sure that I make time for you tomorrow okay?" Kahi said the look in his eyes told me I wasn't going to like whatever it is he wanted to talk about so I'm not it and immediately left before I allowed the tears to fall. "What do you think it is he wants to talk about?" Britney asked. "I don't know but I hope this plan my uncle has works or I will lose everything." I said crying hurrying back to our suite.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 50

Makahi's POV: 12AM

Pinching the bridge of my nose trying to focus on the packs' ground layout. "We have to make sure all possible entrances are covered as well as make sur...." I stop mid sentence trying to shake my head to clear the cobwebs I haven't gotten any sleep since the girls have been back and we have been working all afternoon, once I dropped Ji'lahni and the pups back at their house. "Alpha I I do don't.. fe.. feel so so good." One of the Warriors said, right before they all dropped like Domino's. "Wh what th the hell?" Montego stuttered before he too dropped. "S***!" I stutter then it hit me we were being attacked. "Jelani!" I yelled then jumped up trying to rush out the door. They have come for our family. I thought as I tried to minelink Shadow, hunter, or Blaze and was met with complete silence. I barely got to the door when I suddenly dropped to my knees I began crawling trying to get to my mate and my pups. All I could hear before everything went black was the cries of my pups.

Ji'lahni's POV:

"Hey Fiona hey Raz. What are you guys doing here." Sorry we came by so late but this little guy heard you guys were back so he just had to come see his godsisters and also we wanted to share our cookies that Raz made just for you guys. Although the guys on the front porch attacked the whole plate before we even knocked on the door." Fiona said, while walking past Lynn into the house. "I know they didn't try to eat all the damn cookies from everybody. That's why I hope y'all choke." I said. Coming down the stairs as Mina was taking the plate from Fiona, Shadow reached over her shoulder to grab six cookies off the plate. "Hey man! We want some too. You know, I liked you better when we thought your a*s was a killer." I said. Following Mina with the plate. "Shawna is in the shower so I want to make sure she gets some cookies before they're all gone." Shadow said with a smile. "Yeah, yeah make sure she gets her share or I won't make that cheesecake you love so much." Fiona said, smacking his shoulder as he passed her, going back up the stairs where Shawna was. "Hey come on Raz the girls are sleeping, but if you can promise to be very quiet I'll let you see them and give them a little kiss deal?" I asked. "No no, if the girls are sleeping we could just come back some other time I didn't realize it was that late." Fiona said a bit nervously. “No it’s fine they will be up soon for a feeding anyway they’re like clockwork.” I said as I pick Raz up carrying him up the stairs to my bedroom. “Hey I’m a big boy I could walk you know.” Raz said with a pout. “I know but I missed you so much and just wanted to hug you while we walk to my room to see the girls. But I’ll put you down if you want me to.” I said with the pout. “No! I miss you too so you can carry me just this once, deal?” He asked, as I hugged him tightly to me. “Deal.” I smiled as he wrapped his little arms around my neck.

Shawna’s POV: sometime after midnight

I know Shadows upset that I locked him out of the bathroom. But I need to soak this body without getting poked this time. That man and the things he can do to my body should be illegal, but I would still let him break the law. I thought, smiling to myself. No one knew the type of man Shadow truly was, and the things he’s been through especially when he lost his mate. He often says he sometimes still feels the connection like it’s not completely broken but he knows she’s dead he watched her die. He thought he would die or go rogue like most wolves who lost their mates, but after two years he was still sane and so was his wolf, so once he returned and the doctor cleared him for battle, he went back to his old duties a changed man and wolf, until he met me. He tried to deny his attraction to me. He didn’t want to feel anything for me at first, because it felt like he was betraying his mate. But he admitted that my womanly powers along with being kidnapped broke down his defenses. I smile at that thought, he told me when me and my cousins were taken that was when he realized that he and Rane his wolf cared deeply for me, and after that night they rescued us Shadow never stopped showing me how much he cared for me IN EVERY WAY! Which is another reason I locked his a*s out. I’ve been feeling a little off lately, and I wasn’t going to ignore the signs. Which is why I had to sneak a pregnancy test, and it confirmed what I already knew I was f***** pregnant. I don’t know how I’m feeling about it right now, so I need to talk to my cousins ASAP. We always talk important things out just to clear our heads and to think clearly using reality logic and common sense. That was how we survived. I know Shadow cares for me, and I must admit I feel the same.

“Honestly I actually think I love him.” I said out loud to myself for the first time. Once all this drama was over and done I’m going to tell him everything, I said smiling. I hopped out the tub and Toweled myself off putting on some leggings and a tank top. “Hey babe.” I said walking into our bedroom stopping when I saw Shadow sleeping with cookie crumbs all over his chest. Walking over to him taking one of the crumbs to taste as I sweep the rest on the floor. I immediately gagged shaking my head, this damn baby already messing up because I love cookies. I heard something downstairs which wasn’t strange what was strange however was I also realized it was super quiet, like eerily quiet, which never happens I mean never in our house it’s always soft music or a TV playing just like some people will run a fan all day 24/7 that’s us. Grabbing my utility belt snapping around my waist just in case. It has my knives and throwing stars fully loaded always ready. Stepping out of the room silently not really worried about anything but I’m always the just in case type of person. Ever since our family died that night I always blamed myself for ignoring when I thought I smell something like electric smoke or like the smell from a toaster when you haven’t used it for a really long time, I dismissed it as nothing and later that night me, Jelani and Mina had escaped out of our bedroom window as the house went up in flames killing our entire family.

Shaking away those sad memories I walked to Ji'lahni's room opening the door just to get a peek of my babies. I love them as if they were mine and that won't change because I'm having my own, I figured I would just sneak in and kiss their little cheeks, but they weren't in their crib which was strange because Ji'lahni don't miss not one nap. Which was also strange where the hell is everybody that's when I start to panic. I raced downstairs just as I saw a small figure look back at me in shocked and raced out of the door with the girls crying in her arms. That's when I realized everyone was laid out on the floor, and all I could do was scream in rage and anger as I raced after the person who may have just killed the only family I had left from my childhood and then took the only family that I will have left, but I will die before I let her take them. "Stop you f***** b*****!" I said as I threw a throwing star near her head careful not to actually hit her I threw it at a tree next to her, just to throw her off balance the b***** was fast but I can tell she was not used to holding one baby let alone two, who are now crying and angry and I'm sure using there aura to slow her down. I bet they didn't count on the baby's being able to use their power at will. "Thank you babies Auntie's coming just keep it up." I yelled hoping they hear me.

The b***** all of a sudden looked back at me shocked that I was still running s**t I was shocked to I'm quite sure if you could see me you would think I was about to die. The b***h stopped running turning around putting the girls down near a tree. She dropped her knives to the ground. "Oh so that's what we doing. You think I'm about to fight you with no weapons bitch.. You're a wolf do I look stupid to you, you putting your weapon down just made it almost fair if you hadn't had me run damn 10 blocks I might would have had a shot, so I'm keeping my s*** even if you don't." I said trying to buy me some oxygen time but home girl wasn't the typical I'm going to tell you my plan type of villan. "Well as always Lynn, I'm gone be pissed if I f***** die. I said right before this b***** jumped in the air flipped coming right at my face with her leg. Welp! Ji'lahni always says if you getting your a*s whipped you just make sure that you leave your signature somewhere so that person will always remember you when they look in the mirror and see the scar you left on them...So yeah I'm about to get my a*s whipped in case yall still confused.

Maka and Makahi's POV: Hearing cries.

"Pups are in trouble, get up MAKAHI. Pups are in trouble WAKE UP!" Maka roar in my mind. I jumped up with a start dazed and Confused head pounding looking around all my men were out of it. "Makahi the pups are in trouble." Maka yelled pacing pushing to be released. That's when I finally heard their cries God damn it! We're under attack I hopped up and shifted it in the blink of an eye. "Maka I need everybody up now use your Alpha command NOW!" I yelled, and without question I felt our power at full strength when he howled. "GET UP AND SHIFT! WE'RE UNDER ATTACK PROTECT YOUR FUTURE ALPHA'S NOW!" He yelled his command as he went into a dead run knowing his pups are already out of the house. He was angry almost feral and I allowed him full control no one will take my pups and live. I thought as we spotted what looks like at least 50 rogues heading our way. Time to f*****g kill anyone who dares to come into my pack,

Shadow's POV:

I jumped up at the Alpha's command and I immediately shifted and hit the floor running down stairs seeing Blaze and Hunter shifted as well. When we shifted it got rid of whatever poison that was in our systems immediately. I saw all the girls except Shawna but I smelled her down here, but she wasn't in the house and neither was the pups s*** we have failed our Alpha but we will get them back and kill whoever dared to touch what's ours. Her scent lead outside but I also smelled a faint scent. "Focus! No time for flashback we have to find our mate and make sue sh'e safe and get the pups back back." Rane yelled. Mate? Yea she's our choosen mate you dumb human." Rane said just as the first wave of rogues descended on us. " rogues have crossed the borders and are on our pack lands get all the women and children in a safe house now! I heard through the Mind link. I was hit from the sides but the wolf had nothing on Rane, because he barely took a step and the rogue bounces and fell on his side which Rane didn't hesitate to put a claw to exposed his belly and gutted him before turning to dodge another attack. They were slowing me down and I'm just now realizing that they are just there to distract and slow us down.

"Alpha the rogues are just a distraction to slow us down they have the pups and Shawna the other girls are at the house send your mom and dad to them." I said. "No need me and your mother are already heading there now. We got this, so focus on getting my grandpups back." The old Alpha said. "We need more men on the West Side me Blaze and Hunter are outnumbered and I can't go after Shawna and the pups." "Shadow go we can handle it until help come." Hunter said. I simply nodded and started running killing any wolf that tried to stop me. I must be going in the right direction because I became the target. Blazing and Hunter are now on defense stopping wolves that were trying to reach me. Damn it! there it is again that scent it seems to be getting stronger. "Watch out!" Blaze yelled. I barely dodged the paw that swiped at my neck. S*** I was distracted and confused I need to focus and make it to Shawna and the pups before it's too late. "Hold on baby I'm coming." I said as I took off at a dead run once again after I rip the head off the last rogue that was in my way.
