Chapter 51

Did. I. Tell. You. I. Was. Going. To. Die. I said to myself wheezing after each word. Yea I still think that st. I thought I had some ray of hope when I heard the howls of wolves but them motha fuckas must be going in the wrong direction st! I just need to not die. Until somebody reaches me because I can't let my cousins babies be taken. They are my responsibilities now, and they need me now so dying at this moment isn't an option, just yet. I thought to myself barely dodging this bh's blows that were slowed down by the babies aura she was trying to fight against it but it was slowing her a*s down in order for me to dodge and get a punch in here and there. Oh get this, I have concluded that my fist are made of cotton. They have to be, because the bh wasn't even flinching, after none of my punches to her face or gut. I'm starting to think she not even real she must be some type of cyborg or something, yea that's it, it gotta be. As I swung and punched her in her jaw, this bh just moved her jaw like she was yawning and took another swing at me. I hope yall still not confused about how this gone end, because I don't want to have to repeat it.

Ji'lahni's POV:

"Wake up please wake up!" I faintly heard.... Momma Teri? I asked myself, Opening my eyes slowly. I frowned looking up at a crying Lateri. I immediately thought about Makahi. "What's wrong? Is it Makahi?" I asked in a panic getting up from the floor and immediately swaying on my feet. Why the hell was I on the floor? "No baby they took the pups they drugged us all and took the pups we need to find them now! " Mama Teri said, in a panic as she cried. It took a second for the words to register in my head. "Noooo!" I screamed as I ran up the stairs to my room where the babies were supposed to be sleeping, Mina and Lynn following on my heels. I slammed open the door and ran to the crib, but it was empty, and that's when all the air was knocked out of me, I screamed and fell to my knees. "Lahni get your s together so we can get them back." Mina said crying. "Momma Teri said, Shawna went after them we have to go help her she would never let anyone hurt them now get your st together load your weapons, and let's go." Lynn said with death and destruction in her eyes shaking me out of my panic. And just like that a dead calm washed over me. "Okay let's load up." I said getting up from the floor now in combat mode. I went to my closet grabbed my crossbow my waist and thigh utility belt grabbed my guns, bow and arrow dipped in wolfsbane, loaded all my knives grabbed my harness because I'm riding a wolf tonight. I thought as I ran out of my room at the same time that Lynn and Mina came out fully loaded with their harness. I swear we be reading each other's minds.

We ran downstairs to see three wolves waiting for us like they knew that we would need a ride. Momma Lateri and Antoni were at the door waiting. "We have to go get the pups at the school to safety. These wolves will take you in the direction of the pups.” Antonio said. We nodded then hopped on and secured our harnesses that had more knives, arrows, guns, and bullets. Oh they about to know what it means when we say, “You about to fk around and find out.” We raced towards the fight our main focus was killing everything insight that meant to harm my babies. I know Makahi was okay he was the alpha after all. Lynn was the first to see rogues coming towards us and just like that without hesitation she pulls out banana and split, I know you’re asking why would she name her guns that weird a*s name, but if you saw what those bullets did to those rogues she shot you would understand why she calls them that. Which reminds me, it’s a lot of f rogues out here, but oh well they done f up tonight. I said to myself as I loaded my first arrow and fired. I didn’t even check to see if it was a kill shot because I’m the s. I thought as another rogue jump at me and my wolf trying to knock me off, but at the last second my wolf dropped to the ground which the rogue ended up jumping over my head instead. I use my knife to cut open his belly on his way over and he was dead before he hit the ground. “Damn nice move.” I said. Patting my wolf’s head. He nodded and started running again.

My wolf is a badass I’m gone have to find out his name. He was running using paws and teeth killing rogues with ease as I protected his body and back. I see two wolves fighting off rogues ahead of us and my wolf jumped into the fight while I’m shooting my gun and he’s ripping heads off. The two wolves looked up at us and shifted immediately it was Hunter and Blaze and they were naked completely but I didn’t have time to focus on that. “Where’s Shawna and my babies?” I asked. Hoping they knew the way she went. “Shadow went that way after them, but I don’t know how far they are.” Blaze said. “Okay Lynn, Mina they went this way.” I yelled as my wolf went off at a dead run picking up speed. If I didn’t need his speed I would be scared as st but fear isn’t here tonight not now. We came up on Shadow fighting off eight rogues that were circling him, he was hurt but he was still looking deadly, especially with the half-dozen dead rogues that were at his feet. Looking out the corner of my eye I see more rogues coming our way. I pull my purple custom semi-automatic Cobra RX crossbow with a five bolt magazine I could kill five before I had to reload so I couldn’t miss. Who am I kidding I don’t miss.

First shot hit a rogue right between the eye. “Hey that was mine.” Mina yelled. “You were too slow cuz you can get the next one.” I yelled. As my wolf went in the direction of Shadow’s wolf who was ripping the head off another rogue as I approached. “Shadow where’s Shawna and the babies.” I yelled as we saw more rogues coming out of the tree line.

Now look I need yall to listen to this st real good right now.

So in less then 10 seconds

I repeat in less then 10 sconds.

Lynn hopped off her wolf did a somersault and landed like the people in those super hero movies. Then the next thing we see is this bh run half way up a tree came down pulled out some kind of samurai sword cutting... No, slicing a rogue’s head clean off, while firing shots that killed 3 rogues without even looking in their direction. When I tell you we were all shocked. I think even the rogues that we were fighting stopped and watched that st. Yall remember when we said that Lynn fought like some kind of Ninja Assassin? Well, we definitely believe that s now. She was flying, Kicking swinging that sword with one hand and shooting rogues with the other. She kicked a rogue so hard that it damn near cracked his spine or something because we all heard a crunch when he hit the tree. We are talking a 300 plus pound rogue, yea Lynn got some f explaining to do.

“Damn are you seeing this? Mina asked, as she alternated between her gun and her throwing knives. Hell yeah I see that s Lynn got to tell me something if we don’t die out here tonight.” I said reloading my crossbow, and fired at the rogue that was on Shadows back as I got closer to him. “Shadow which direction did Shawna and my baby’s go?” I yelled again. Shadow finally recognized me and I saw relief wash over his wolf’s face before he nodded his head in the direction of my babies and my cousin. I killed four more rogues that surrounded us. “Shadow I have to go find Shawna.” I said he nodded and went back to fighting. “Mina, Lynn this way.” I yelled. “You and Mina go, me and Shadow will be right behind you.” Lynn said as she, Shadow and the wolf she rode had their backs together waiting for the next wave of rogues, who were fast approaching I nodded. Then me and Mina went to get our family I just hope I wasn’t too late.

Chapter 52

SHAWNA’S POV: So, You Don’t Want to Take a Break?

“Hey. So. You. Don’t. Want. To. Take. A. Break.” I said Breathing hard as I dodged another shot and took another swing with my knife. I feel like I’m close to death not from this bh but the fact that my a*s is literally Hyperventilating. The babies are getting tired and more than likely hungry. But with Ji’lahni gone I don’t know what to do. My family is gone, and those babies need me. I thought with renewed energy which I know comes from the anger knowing that this bh is the reason for me no longer having any family besides those babies. “You killed the only family I had left, and you will not be taking my cousin’s babies away from me you will have to kill me today.” I said between each swing of my knife. “I know damn well you didn’t think you could get rid of us that easy, we should feel insulted.” I heard from behind me just as an arrow whizzed past my face and nicked that bh in the shoulder. She stumbled back in shocked as I took that opportunity to run the short distance to them as they continue fired arrows and throwing stars at the crazy bh.

I hugged Ji’lahni first and then Mina. After we hugged Mina ran up on the bh with her knives out, she was better at close knife fighting then I was. “OMG! You’re alive.” I screamed crying hugging Ji’lahni again as she shoots her crossbow at the bh to give Mina an opportunity to strike, she got a few slices in on that bh, and she was getting mad and bleeding. "Yea we're alive and pissed." Ji'lahni said. "The babies are by the tree, but this bh is like some type of fg ninja cyborg. I can't really fight her full on because." I paused. "I took a pregnancy right before this st popped off and it was positive, I was coming to tell yall when all of this happened. I said quickly. "You're What!" Ji'lahni yelled, as she fired another shot, but she barely missed Mina's head, because my words shocked her. "Hey that's my damn head." Mina yelled as she took a swing. "My Bad!" Ji'lahni yelled and hugged me again. "Hey, I'm all for this fg family reunion and hugging st but we can do that after we kill this bh. She is fg fast as hell where the fk is Lynn." Mina yelled, dodging as best she could. "You go get my babies while we distract this wacko." Ji'lahni said in a whisper, my eyes then looked in the direction of the babies and nodded.

I saw rogues coming out of the trees just as I got to the babies. "st, st, st!" I said as I used the babies blanket to wrap and tied them securely so I could carry them like a purse. All of a sudden I heard a loud grunt and then a thud I turned around and saw the crazy bh has land a kick and punch to both Ji'lahni and Mina, they hit the ground super hard. "Damn it I told yall that bh is a ninja." I said to myself as I ran up on her a*s right when she was about to attack Ji'lahni again. I knocked her a*s in the back of the head with the handle of my knife. Which made the bh tumble to the fg ground like a sack of potatoes it didn't knock her a*s put but it did have her seeing birds flying around her head. I hit her one more time so I could check on Ji'lahni they were sitting up groaning. "That bh hits hard as hell." Mina said, getting up. "Well well, well, have to thank you for wrapping the pups up all nice and neat for me it will be a lot easier to get them out of here."

We all froze at the sound of the vilest bat st crazy wolf. "Zane!" we said at the same time. I grabbed that crazy bh by the hair and punched her again hoping like hell that she was important to Zane. My cousins went to surround him trying to get close enough to attack. "You take one more step with our babies, and I will cut this bitches throat. Give my cousin her babies now!" I yelled at him. He glanced at his partner in crime and just shrugged his shoulders. "Do what you must I have what I came here for, well not everything." He said and glanced at Ji'lahni. "You don't think I can get you to come with us huh? We can leave this place and finally be together we can rule the whole entire shifter world. You can be my Luna queen and have my heir. I must admit I have not been able to think of nothing else but you. I've missed you my mate." He said lovingly like a damn schoolgirl. "You are a real loony toon out here in these woods." Ji'lahni said. Trying to get closer to him. He doesn't seem to notice or care. The bh in my hand was starting to struggle. I pressed the knife harder on her throat. "Go right ahead and keep moving cut your own throat I don't think that would count as me killing you so I'm good with the whole thou shalt not kill thing I feel like I would get a pass either way." I said, yanking her head back. Just then we all heard loud growls and howls and what could only be paws thumping the ground fast coming towards us and we all knew who it was. The Alpha and his warriors were coming in fast. We all visibly relaxed, but the look on Zane's face was priceless. He realized that he had spent too much time trying to woo Ji'lahni. Now he was looking around at the small amount of rogues he had left and you could tell he was getting desperate. He took off running and we all screamed, as Ji'lahni and Mina took off behind him. Lynn came barreling by me on top of a wolf looking like a warrior princess. But I couldn't follow, because I couldn't leave this crazy bh alive so she could try and kidnap or kill us later. So I had to take care of this bh once and for all I can't risk her coming back trying to take the babies again. Taking a deep breath I slammed her head into the nearest tree I never thought I would be able to kill without remorse but when someone threatens your family and our babies ain't no guilt in me. I lift my arm to swing, but I heard a loud growl of "NOO!" right before I could swing my knife someone grabbed my arm. "What the hell..." I trailed off as I turned and looked at the person who stopped me from killing this bh.

It was who Shadow stood their frozen in place his eyes on the crazy bh with a shocked and daze expression on his face. That's when I heard her whisper, "Mate." My eyes snapped to her then back to Shadow because this must be a fg mistake. "Shadow what the..." I said in shocked disbelief, which finally got Shadow's attention. But in his eyes all I saw was guilt and sorrow. "Shadow?" I whispered again, but before I could say or ask him anything, I felt a pinch right below my boob which hurt like a bh. I winced and I looked down to see that crazy ding bat had a knife buried in my ribs just below my boobs. That's when the real pain registered and the weakness from the blood leaving my body in a rush, caused my knife to drop from my hand then my legs to give out next. When my legs gave that forced Shadow to have to hold me up in order to keep me from hitting the ground. He frowned looking at me in confusing before looking down at the knife his mate still had buried in my rib cage, his eyes grew wide right before everything started to go dark. All I thought about right then was my baby, oh god my baby! I kept saying over and over in my head hoping it was coming of my mouth but I wasn't sure because everything felt far away like I was being pulled into darkness. But right before everything went black, I could hear a loud growling NO, NO, NO, NO! as the darkness finally pulled me in completely.

Shadow's Pov:

Once we killed the last of the rogues, we raced in the direction of the pups and the girls. Rane was feeling anxious coming up to the girls. I saw Mina and Ji'lahni were circling Zane. Right before he turned and run after hearing the Alpha's warrior cry signaling his was heading this way his pup and his mate. Lynn who was on Blaze's wolf Thorn raced past me to help the girls. "Alpha Zane is here, and he has the pups the girls are trying to trap him." I mind linked. I heard another loud growl followed by our warrior howls you could hear their paws beating the ground heading this way. Suddenly, that familiar scent came back stronger, and it was unmistakable I could no longer ignore it. I knew who that scent belonged to, but it had to be a mistake. I shifted to my human form immediately searching for the scent that I never thought I would smell again. My eyes landed on Shawna who had just slammed a small figure into a tree, and I knew instantly who it was "mate!" Rane howled in my head. I saw Shawna lift her arm that was holding a knife, and I reacted with only one thought, which was to protect my mate. I reached her just as she was about to swing. I caught her arm, "NO!" I Yelled my eyes on the woman who is my mate, she was crying and afraid begging for her life.

"Shadow?" I vaguely heard Shawna say, but my whole focus is on my mate who is crying and afraid. "Shadow!" I finally heard Shawna yell. I looked at her and I immediately felt guilt wash over me like a tycoon. "What the hel.." She trailed off when my mate uttered the word. "Mate." Shawna paused and looked at her and then at me. "Shadow?..." She said again with a frown and looked down, then back at me before her knife dropped from her hand, and her body became heavy in my hand. I held her up easily. I frowned wondering what was wrong. I looked down and saw my mate with a knife in her hand sticking out of Shawna's rib cage. That's when her body went completely limp. "NO NO NO! Baby please NO!" I roared angrily, as she looked at me trying to say something but only coughed out blood, her eyes closing. "No No NO baby open your eyes please baby don't do this to me please please Shawna." I said as my eyes filled with tears. She opened her eyes again and whispered, "My baby." Before her eyes closed and her head fell back. "What the hell happen Shadow?" Hunter said, coming up next to me. "I have to get Shawna to the clinic, take her and follow me to the clinic." I said, nodding in the direction of my mate as I quickly picked Shawna up, careful not to move the knife that's sticking out of her ribs.

I could still hear a heartbeat, but it was slowing down which made me panic. I broke out into a run as the words she said before she went unconscious raced through my mind. "Doc are you at the clinic?" I mind linked. "Yes commander, what happened?" He responds. "Shawna was stabbed in the ribs have everything prepped and ready." I said running as fast as I can. Rane wanted to shift because he could run faster. We were both confused that our mate was alive, and she just stabbed Shawna. "Shadow what the hell happened?" The alpha mind linked me. "I don't know the details yet, but alpha, Scarlett is alive, she's the one Shawna was chasing. When I got there Shawna was about to kill her I stopped her but I didn't see Scarlett had pulled a knife and stabbed Shawna in the ribs." I said with the fear of losing Shawna at the forefront of my mind. I Burst through the clinic doors, the Doc was fully covered from head to toe.

It finally remembered that their blood burns us. I looked down I could see smoke coming from where Shawna's blood was falling on me, but I barely felt the pain through the panic and my focus was completely on Shawna's heartbeat which was slowing down as I placed her on the gurney, I kneeled next to her, and grabbed her hand which were now cold to the touch. "Commander, we need to get her to surgery she's losing too much blood." The doc said as the nurses were trying to exit the room, I let go of her hand but stayed kneeling in the same spot. I was numb looking at all the bloody rags that lay around the room. I don't know how long I stayed in that spot. "Shadow?" Hunter said, as he entered the room he gasped when he saw all the bloody rags on the floor. "I brought the she wolf in, she's in the room next door a nurse is checking her out." He said quietly. "My mate." I said, suddenly remembering that mate wasn't dead and I needed answers. Where has she been all this time? And why the hell is she working with Zane.

I got up abruptly and followed the scent of my mate. I paused at the door as the nurse checked her out. The nurse turned and looked at me strangely probably because I was covered in Shawna's blood. "What can I do for you commander?" The nurse asked. "Leave us." I said not taking my eyes off my mate. The nurse nodded and left the room. I stood watching her. She looked the same as she did when I first met her. She had light brown curly hair, dark brown eyes, she was more toned than she was back then. She looked afraid as she stared at me. "Scarlett where have you been?" I asked, keeping my distance so I wouldn't scare her. "I. I don't know." She said crying softly. " Why the hell were you helping Zane?” I asked, confused as to why she didn’t come back to the pack if she survived the war. I remember that day like it was yesterday.

FLASHBACK!

“We need all the women and children escorted to the safe houses NOW!” The Alpha yelled. We were under attack. “Shadow I’ll help get the children to the safe house we’re closer to the school.” Scarlett said as she came forward and kissed me, I nodded and shifted. We tried to keep the fighting outside of the borders, but there were just too many wolves, and our allies hadn’t made it yet. Once they reach the borders they immediately started attacking the women, children, and elderly wolves. “Shadow we’re surrounded. I have to get the pups to the safe house. I will have to fight to distract them while the pups run to the safe house.” Scarlett said via mind linked. ” NO NO I’m coming don’t you move Scar just hold on.” I said as I finished off the wolf who thought he had chance. “Alpha, I have to get to my mate she’s trying to get some pups to the safe house. But they’re surrounded.” “Alright go get your mate and those pups to the safe house.” The alpha said via mind link. I raced to the school as fast as I could, but I was slowed down by wolves who attacked me. By the time I reached the school all I saw was my mate being held by the throat and the wolf’s hand in her belly.

I felt the moment she died. Rane went berserk killing everything in sight I couldn’t control him because the pain of the bond breaking is like having your heart ripped out. After there was no wplves left to kill Rane ran into the forest. I can’t remember how long we were out there, we killed every rogue we came across. I thought we would have gotten killed or died from pain after a while , but it never happened, eventually Rane gave me back control and retreated to the back of my mind. He wasn’t feral nor a rogue, but we became a shell l of our former selves emotionless and dead inside. That is until we met...End of Flashback.

Still staring at my mate, she seemed broken and battered I wanted to hold her in my arms, but I couldn’t. “I feel that you are my mate, what is your name and who is Scarlett? She asked, confused. That’s when it clicked that my mate doesn’t remember us. It made sense that had to be how Zane was able to take advantage of her and use her to help him. I feel the mates bond, but it was something off and I can’t quite put my finger on what it is maybe it was because she has no memory of me, or us. “My name is Shadow we were I mean we are mates. Do you not remember anything from your past.” I asked, finally moving close to her, sitting next to her. Shaking her head. “All I remember is waking up in a pack clinic. My master took me in and took care of me.” she said softly. “What did they tell you? Did they tell you anything about your past, your name, the name of your pack?” I asked and noticed that she is relaxing a bit and moving closer to me. Shaking her head again, “No they told me they didn’t know where I was from, they found me in a rogues camp. I was beaten and stabbed. They took me to a pack clinic and took care of me. “I didn’t know my name, so I chose one. My name is Shaid. They said I was mumbling that while I was in a coma. I could never guess why I was mumbling that, but now I guess it make sense I was calling for you.” She said as she straddled my lap. Rane was happy about having our mate back. Inhaling her scent was like finally being able to breathe again but something was off. I guessed because I didn’t immediately respond to her, she frowned. "Do you not want me? Are you going to reject me?" she asked, trying to get off my lap. "No No! I just... It's just that..." My words were cut short by the banging of the door opening hitting the wall, with 3 angry humans with a look in their eyes ready to kill. "I KNOW YOU fg LYING!" They said at the same damn time.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 53

Shadow's POV: Just some sort of dream

I knew the minute the girls saw Scarlett that all hell would break loose especially in the current position we were in wasn't helping the situation at all. "Wait, I got it, I was knocked out and this is just some sort of fd up dream, right? And I bet as soon as I pull this gun to kill these motha fuckas, who's trying to make out and have s*x in here, while my cousin who is literally fighting for her life in the operating room down the hall. I know this not real, I'm gonna wake up any minute now. But I'm still going to pull this trigger, because real or not, it will be a happy ending to this nightmare for me either way." Mina said, pulling Lynn's gun from her waist, which put everyone on high alert, moving to stand up to react if needed. "Now wait a minute, just put the damn guns down and let's find out what happened. She may have vital information we may need." Makahi said, standing with me protecting my mate who just so happens to be same person who stabbed Shawna their family. "Would you look at that yall, I still can't seem to find a fk to give about nothing he just said." Ji'lahni said patting her pockets sarcastically. "You real life think we give a fk about any of that shit. You know why this is easy for us, because we're not stupid. She kidnapped our babies and then stabbed Shawna who risked her life to save our babies. I don't even know why any of this has to be explained. If you wanted answers, you should have stopped Montego before he ripped the head off the wolf who had the babies. Hell he was more innocent than this bitch." Lynn said angrily.

"So why are you still standing there? You have a real bad habit of protecting bitches who want to hurt me and my family and I'm about sick of that shit." Ji'lahni said, stepping up to the alpha's face. "Ji'lahni I'm going to let that slide because we are all running on emotion. You know that I would never let anyone hurt you if I can help it. I chose you, so remember that. We just have to keep a level head and focus on the main objective." "Yea we know the main objective, it's to kill the zombie bh who kidnap our babies and stabbed Shawna simple as that it's not hard to figure out." Mina said shrugging checking the clip of Lynn's gun for bullets. "Listen I get it, but we need to find out who else is behind this and working with Zane. Once we figure this out we will make sure everyone who is guilty will be judged fairly. The alpha said, trying to comfort Ji'lahni. "No! Makahi, look. I may have gone too far with what I said just now, but this is not up for debate. You have until the doc comes back with an update about Shawna, so yall can go ahead and ask as many questions as yall want to and that's only because whatever the hell is going involves my babies and they are being targeted for some reason. But I'm telling you and I need yall to hear me. After yall ask all the questions yall need to ask, and once we find out about Shawna and the baby. Then yall will have to make a decision, because our minds are already made up.” Ji’lahni said as the girls nodded in agreement. Shaid whimpered at the threat. I placed Shaid behind me on the bed and stepped around the men.

Looking at the girls. “This is all my fault, I’m the reason my Shawna is fighting for her life, not Scar, I mean Shaid. She was just so afraid and thought she was going to die, so she reacted.” I said. Which seems to only make things worse. Because they started laughing. “Cousins am I hearing things? Because I know this dude is not trying to defend this bh right now. Did he just say the same chick that was fighting like a ninja cyborg, which is what Shawna called her. Is he trying to say and get us to believe that this zombie ninja cyborg bh was afraid for her life? He can’t even make that make sense. When? Please tell me when this so called fear kicked in? Because I can’t see it. So let us recap this st real quick. You’re saying, the same bh who came to a place filled with wolves to kidnap 2 babies was afraid. The same wolf who flipped through the air and kick me and Lahni at the same damn time was afraid. I know he not that stupid to believe and want us to believe she was afraid of us regular a*s humans compare to her, who fought like a trained assassin. You know what nevermind let me ask him that, so we could all be clear.” Mina said stepping close to me and Shaid whimpered again. “Look I know how it sounds but please just let me explain. She doesn’t remember anything from our past. She woke up in a pack clinic and somehow Zane must have found out about her and brainwashed her, which is why she did all these horrible things. If you knew my mate you would know she would have never done anything like this before.” I said pleading desperately.

“Let me get this straight your girl excuse me your mate who was dead but didn’t die lost her memory and Zane somehow brainwashed her and used her to kidnap our girls then when my cousin tried to stop her from killing not only us but fought that nut job for I don’t know how long, thinking at first that the only family she had left and her man were dead, and only wanted to make sure our babies didn’t end up the way we did while being held captive by Zane, only to have the man she thought loved her more than anything and anyone in this life allow his dead zombie back from the dead mate drive a knife into her ribs and now that same man is defending and protecting the female who was literally trying to kill and would have if our babies weren’t using their aura to slow her down and only became this whimpering hot mess when she saw you. Shadow you got played and now Shawna may die because of you and that bitch.” Lynn said as tears fell from her eyes. She still held her gun tightly staring at me and then at Montego who was looking at her pleadingly. “Lynn baby we just want to find out everything she knows and then we will figure it all out afterwards. We just need to focus on Shawna right now.” Montego said.

“I’m so sick and tired of all this st I need you to understand that as soon as you question her, she will pay for what she did and if the worse happens to Shawna or our other baby because of that bh you can die right along with that bh if you want to. Ji’lahni said through clenched teeth. Hearing her words rocked me to my core. Was that what she meant when she said...Rane howled in agony. Was she pregnant with our pup. I felt dazed and lightheaded I must have lost my balance because the alpha grabbed my arm to steady me. “Sh....she... Is Shawna having my pup? I asked with a lump in my throat. I saw a flash of pity on Ji’lahni’s face once she realized that I didn’t know about the pup. “Yes, she said she had just found out right before.... Well, you know the rest. Your zombie mate over there tried to take our babies. So, she really didn't have the time to enjoy the moment because when you found your dead zombie mate over there yall must have wanted to get her out of the way so yall can run off into the sunset and live happily ever after. So yes she was pregnant, but your zombie mate may have dealt with your little problem. I'm sure what we walked in on just now was a thank you." Ji'lahni said before she turned away, not wanting to look at or deal with me anymore she just left the room. Her words left me gutted. Because if they think that. I can only imagine what Shawna must think of me. I need them and her to believe I would never hurt her. I would die before I hurt her or my pup.

"That's not what happened I would never hurt Shaw." I said shaking with sudden anger. "Well, I guess your mate knew that and did it for you huh? Shadow killer." Mina said as she followed the girls out of the door. "Hey, Shadow, look they didn't mean it they're just scared and their emotions are running high. Once they find out Shawna will be ok, they will be more levelheaded." The Alpha said patting me on the back. "No, they won't because I wouldn't if I were in their shoes. They were right I was distracted and all I could think about was stopped Shaw from hurting Scarlett that she somehow ended up being the one who got hurt an..and sh...she's pregnant. I was gonna have a pup. Oh, goddess what have I done. I killed my Shaw and my pup." I growled out. "Stop it! You don't know that you have to think positive. We have to figure out what your mate knows." The alpha said, grabbing my shoulders. He was right I just needed to wait and see what the Doc says. He is the best he will do everything he can to save Shawna and my pup. I don't know what I would do if they don't make it.

"Shadow?" The alpha said getting my attention. "You said Scarlett doesn't remember anything from her past life before the war?" The alpha asked turning to look at my mate who was balled up in the corner somehow, she had gotten off the bed during all the commotion I'm sure she's frightened and hungry. But I can't do anything about that now. "No, she doesn't even remember me she said she knows I'm her mate, but she doesn't remember me before today. She said her name is Shaid because when they found her, she was mumbling it while she was in and out of consciousness. She figured she must have been trying to say my name." I said staring at her she looked up at me when I said her name. "Shadow, see if you can get her in the shower and change out of those bloody dirty clothes and have someone bring her a sandwich and something to drink. After that we will start the questioning process hopefully by that time, we will have some information about Shawna. I'm going to check on the girls and my pups. Once we question your mate, I hope we find out who poisoned us and find out who all is behind this." The alpha said, and I nodded before everyone filed out of the room leaving me and my mate alone.

When I turned back toward her, she was already out of the corner and sitting on the bed I went to sit next to her she came closer to me and curled her small body against mine and Rane purred at the feel of our mate. We are still in shock, so much has happened. My mate is alive. But Shawna is fighting for her life and the life of our pup all because of me. Thinking of Shawna Rane let out a low sorrowful howl as guilt washed over the both of us. Looking at Scarlett. "How about you take shower and get cleaned up, someone is bringing you clothes and something to eat. The alpha has some questions that he wants you to answer." I said to her, she visibly started to shake, and tears began to fall. "No please please don't let them hurt me. Please, please let's just leave here and start over." She said frantically I could see the desperation and fear in her eyes. "Hey no one is going to hurt you. We just need to find out who all is behind this and everything that you can remember from the time you woke up in the pack clinic up until now." I said trying to reassure her, but she didn't look convinced at all. "I heard them say the girl I stabbed is pregnant is that why you don't want to leave with me is she your chosen mate are you going to reject me?" She asked crying now. I really didn't know how to answer that question although I feel the mate bond, something was off, I couldn't put my figure on it.

But my feelings for Shawna is still there just as strong as it was before my mate came back in the picture. "Yes, she pregnant and it is the reason I'm not leaving with you she is someone I care deeply about but I'm not going to make any rash decisions either way. We just have to figure out who's behind this. Before we can do anything" I said hoping that she didn't ask any more questions. Because I don't think she would like the answers I would give her. There was no way I would walk away from Shawna or my pup. That was one thing I was sure of.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 54

-Ji'lahni's POV: 2 hours later

"It's been hours and the doc still hasn't come out with any updates. That has to mean it's really bad, right?" Mina asked, looking at me. When bad stuff like this happens, it brings back memories of when we lost our families. Shawna and Mina were all I had left. After that night, we had to grow up overnight. It was always us against the world. And right now, she was in there fighting for her life because she was protecting my babies. I couldn't stop the tears from falling. Mina and Lynn came over with the babies and we all just hugged each other and cried. "Shawna knows better than to die on us, we would have to kick her a*s and she still owes me a fur coat she burned shooting fireworks at me when we were kids." I said and we all laughed because I'm always bringing up that story. "My babies! I just heard what happened to Shawna did we hear anything yet. I was tending to the women and pups. I should have been there for you guys. I'm so sorry I have failed you girls. This is all my fault." Momma Teri came running to us and hugged each of us crying.

It was comforting in a way because she was a mother figure to all of us. "We don't know anything, the doc hasn't come out yet." I said as fresh tears came. "Antoni said they have the person that did this, have they been dealt with?" she said with anger in her eyes. "No, the bh is in the room with Shadow apparently that is he's mate." I sneered. "What? That can't be, Shadow's mate died years ago." Momma Teri said, frowning. "Well, apparently wolves can also come back from the dead. I guess that's another thing yall need to add to the history books", Lynn said with sarcasm. "I guess wolves have nine lives because he's pretty sure about her being his mate." I said as Tru started crying. It must be because she hears or smells her grandma. Teri must have been thinking the same thing too, because she reached for Tru, holding her close as tears fell, finally remembering the danger that her two grand pups were in earlier.

Lateri's thoughts POV:

I can't believe all this is happening and I feel helpless to stop it. I'm not allowed to shift into my wolf because I wasn't an ordinary wolf. The moon goddess chose me as a guardian for all wolves. I had advanced powers much stronger than most Alpha's. Years ago when the war came, it was a me. Wolves were dying all over the world. We were at war with other shifters and an ancient evil was the cause of the war. He wanted to rid the world of Shifters by tricking them into fighting each other. Many know the story of the moon goddess but very few know about her twin brother Silin. He and Celine were very close as children and did everything together until they became adults and Celine fell in love. She no longer looked to him as the only male in her life. He felt that she had completely abandoned him, and with that thought he became bitter and angry, then set out to destroy them both.

He started planning a way to separate the two love birds. He set in motion the death of his sister's mate. He kidnapped a girl from a town near by and made sure to leave a trail that led to Celine's mate. Later that night her mate's tribe was attacked and he was killed, once Celine saw the condition of her mate, it caused Celine so much pain and heartache, that she was unable to bare the loss, so she made the decision to create her very first wolf shifter, but it came with a price. She had to give him up in order for him to live. But she soon realized that her mate couldn't bare losing her and was slowly dying and going feral. So, she created what wolves called their other half mate. She took a piece of her soul and placed it into a dying woman and made her a shifter as well, and that was the beginning of wolf shifters.

Once the other gods and goddesses found out, they too started to create different types of shifters. They all had laws that they had to follow, but her brother wasn't one that followed the laws of the shifters. After Celine found out what he did to her mate, she attacked him and almost killed him, but he managed to get away and stayed hidden for years, planning a way to destroy all shifters which would weaken his sister enough to ultimately kill her, because they all carried a piece of her soul in them. So he started killing shifters and making it look like the work of different shifters, creating mistrust and misplaced anger until it exploded into a war of unimaginable proportions. Many shifters were dying, they were killing each other.

The war lasted for years before Celine decided to step in create a team of super shifters all from different shifter bloodlines. There was very few of us. She came to us and bestowed upon us gifts that transformed us into the very first warrior shifters. We were able to put an end to the war and save all shifters. We were pure white made of pure light. We were giant flying beasts with wings that could slice through anything. Our single horn could paralyze our enemy. No one could look upon us directly if they tried, their eyes would burn. Many have said that they saw one of us and we looked like Warrior unicorns with golden metal mask and golden body armor and golden wings that were able to shoot metal feathers at our enemies and a golden horn that left our enemies paralyzed.

I usually laugh at the stories heard about us. They were like all myths with some truths and the rest is someone's wild imagination. We struck fear in all the shifters and caused them to withdraw and put an end to the war. The head of each council created new laws and guidelines in an effort to not have a return of what they called, the great winged God of light who could destroy them all. Once the war was over, the goddess told us we were never to shift into our beast again until she called upon us to bring peace. Only our mates could know the truth of who we truly were. With everything happening now, I have no idea what to do. Why hasn't the moon goddess called upon me yet? Something very evil is happening and my precious grandbabies are in danger. I fear that they have some if not all of my powers. I thought after I had Kahi and he didn't show any signs of being like me that I couldn't pass on my powers, but my grand pups are stronger than any pups I have ever seen. And I am helpless to protect them. I held Tru tightly, whispering how sorry I was that I couldn't protect her and promising that I would secretly try to find out if I could find a way to talk to the moon goddess. I must find a way to protect them, even if it means going against the moon Goddess' orders. I would gladly give my life to save theirs.

Back to Ji'lahni's POV:

"Momma Teri, you and Papa Toni can take the girls to your house while we wait for the doctor. They need to get washed, fed and put down for the night. If you don't have any of my milk left, I have some stored in the freezer at the house. Take as many as you need." I said, looking at my babies. "Of course, we can do that. I have some of your milk left. We will take care of the pups for you. But please let me know the minute the doc comes out with an update." She said with tears of worry in her eyes as she reached for Teri, Antoni rushed over to take one of the girls and he did the same thing she did, holding the girls close, overcome with emotions about what could have been. I thought he would squeeze them too tight, but the girls just cooed, giggled and passed gas, which had everyone laughing.

Makahi met them as they were heading to the exit. He reached for the girls, holding and kissing them lovingly while talking to his parents for a few minutes before letting them exit out of the doors. Walking over to me and wrapping his arms around me, I didn't fight him because I just needed his strength, and I didn't have the strength to fight him. Montego approached Lynn slowly and he moved as close as he could without touching her. He sighed when she didn't try and move away from him. He gasped loudly when Lynn gently intertwined their fingers, pulling him close to her, allowing him to embrace her. She glanced at him but looked away quickly. Blaze wrapped his arm around Mina to comfort her and she accepted his comfort. We were strong because we needed to be when we had no one else but ourselves. Now we had men who we could be somewhat vulnerable with. Well, at least in times and moments like this.

Makahi's POV:

Once we left Shadow's room, me and Montego went into the next room. "What the fk is going on around here? Who the hell comes back from the dead after years of being dead?" Montego asked, as if I knew the answer. "I don't know but it's her, she looks the same as she did years ago. I also remember when Shadow lost her. I thought for sure he would go rogue. When he came back, he wasn't a rogue, but he was a different person, like he had no more feelings and didn't care if he lived or died, until he met Shawna. I was starting to see a small glimpse of who he used to be. But now I guess it answers why he didn't go rogue when he thought he lost her." I said deep in thought. "But where has she been all these years? Something is just not adding up. There has to be more than one player. This is not just Zane alone. With the reappearance of Shadow's mate, this is way bigger than we first thought. We might have to call in our friends from other shifter communities to help us out." Montego said as we tried to go over what we, will need to do.

"First, we need to find out everything Shadow's mate knows, maybe she could shed some light on whoever is helping Zane." I said. "Well good luck with that because our women are out for blood, and I don't think they are going to take no for an answer. Unless Shawna pulls through, which the longer the doc doesn't say anything, the worse it may be. We need to prepare for the fall out. I can't lose Lynn again and Shadow says he still feels the mates' bond with her, so he isn't going to let them kill her without a fight." Montego said in thought. "I know, Ji'lahni will never forgive me if I stop her from hurting Shadow's mate. Shadow also knows that she will have to pay for her crimes if she cooperates and tells us what we need to know, I will do what's right and fair. I'm just hoping that Shawna pulls through. Maybe then we could talk them into letting her live. We just need to get this over with now." I said. "That sounds good and all, but will it go that way?" Montego said as we walked out of the room. I saw my parents heading our way with the pups. "Hey mom, dad, are the women and pups safe and unharmed?" I asked as I reached for my girls to embrace them. I'm still angry and shocked by the fact that I also lost them.

The thought made me want to kill something. But I needed to focus and make sure I'm ready when another attack hits. They won't be able to lay a finger on them again. "Everyone is safe, but scared. Right now we have to get these little ones a bath and fed. I don't think we're going to sleep at all or let them out of our sight. I told Lahni to have you let me know when the doc gives you an update on Shawna." My mother said as my dad hugged her as she cried. "Son, is it true that Shadow's mate is somehow alive and responsible for all this?" My dad asked. "Yes, I don't know how but she is Scarlett, and she is working for whomever Zane is partnered with. We are about to question her in a few minutes." I said as I handed the girls back to them. "Well, keep me posted and I will also reach out to your uncle. I know he will want to come and bring his entire team of warriors to help protect the girls." My dad said and I nodded, allowing them to exit.

Walking over to Ji'lahni wrapping her in my arms, Montego was still trying to take it slow with Lynn, so he just stood as close as he could. He was shocked when she grabbed his hand and allowed him to embrace her. Even Blaze wrapped his arms around Mina in an effort to comfort her. "So, we're about to question Shadow's mate. We will be in the conference room right down the hall if you need us." I said as I let go of Ji'lahni to head to the conference room. "Oh, ok then let's go, not sure why you're telling us where to go when we can just follow you there, silly." Ji'lahni said checking her utility belt. "No! absolutely not we are just going to ask her some questions and we need level heads and self-control." I said shaking my head. "Oh, my bad, I feel like you misunderstood what I had said, and that's on me. What I meant to say is, we are going with you to question the criminal, unless yall want us to become criminals for putting arrows through your nuts. I mean we could take it there, but why even go that route, in the first place, y'all should know better by now, but I'll say this if yall think about telling or stopping us from going in there with yall, we can show you better, then we can tell you what will happen." Ji'lahni said shrugging and shaking her head, chuckling at us, she walked in the direction of the conference room. "I swear sometimes I think yall be wanting us to cuss yall out." Lynn said following Ji'lahni. "How about come on we don't have all night, I want to be done before the Doc lets us in to see Shawna." Mina said, walking off leaving us standing looking confused. Shaking my head as I watched the girls walk away. "Way to put your foot down, Alpha," Montego said jokingly, coming to stand next to me. "We are going to have our hands full with our Luna and Beta female." Montego said laughing. "Shut up Montego." I said walking to the conference room. I mind linked Shadow telling him to meet us in the conference room with his mate. Please Goddess let us get through this without anyone pulling a gun or knife. Maybe we should have patted them down before we let them into the conference room.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 55

Shadow's POV:

Scarlett walked out of the bathroom with just a towel. My breath caught in the back of my throat. I took in her body the one I used to kiss, touch, hold, and make love to. The body that haunted my dreams every night after her death. The body I longed for and craved for years. I never thought I would ever be able to find anyone that I would desire as much as I had desired my mate's body, that is until.... shaking my head to clear my thoughts. Because just the thought of Shawna's soft body had my dk rock hard in an instant. My pants became uncomfortable with just the thought of my dk entering into her tight folds. When we first made love, I thought I would hurt her even though she was curvier, she was still human, and I am still part wolf. So I tried to make sure I didn't hurt her, but she must have noticed and immediately flipped us over, which I wasn't used to, because as wolves we fight for dominance and control, her being on top gave her control. I didn't think I would enjoy it, but she was human and I wanted to make sure I didn't hurt her, so I held Rane back and he just retreated into my mind thinking he wouldn't enjoy it and let me have control.

But I was completely wrong because she was anything but gentle. The way she made my dk feel like it was the best thing she ever had in her mouth, even though she wasn't able to put me all in her mouth, it damn sure wasn't a problem for her. She was using her hands, mouth, and tongue skillfully. I thought I would finish like some young teenage pup with how she was sucking my ck. She then got up and lowered her wet slick py onto me and, I nearly lost my mind. I tried to stay completely still, so I wouldn't hurt her, but when she took me completely into her py I nearly passed out because of how fg tight her py was, wrapped around my ck. I didn't think she would be able to move but she began to ride my dk with abandonment and did things with her hip that had Rane trying to take over and mark her as ours. I was lost in the feel of her. I was afraid she would bring me to o*m before she reached hers. I had to use every ounce of restraint in order for me not to c*m before her. It was pure agony, the great kind. She would stop and tease me by pulling all the way out, leaving my ck cold and lonely, just to slam her hot core back onto my dk, engulfing me in heat once again. It frustrated me in a good way. But she would kiss and lick away all of my frustration and would begin to ride me again.

She did it several times before she finally came apart with me deep inside her and I finally allowed myself to release my seed. I thought I would die because of how powerful my release was. I had never experienced anything like it before in my life. I asked her what it was she did to make me c*m like that. She said it was a secret and she couldn't share that secret with anyone. Apparently, Ji'lahni made sure they were educated on all things s*x related in order to make sure they practiced safe, pleasurable s*x. That position quickly became my favorite thing to do. After that night, Rane had no doubt about our Shawna. We became completely addicted to her smile, her laugh, her gentleness, loving personality and the loyalty she had to her family. She quickly consumed my every waking thought.

I jumped at the feel of Scarlett straddling me. "It seems as though you like what you see." She said, rubbing herself against my erection. I immediately got up and placed her on the bed and turned away, trying to control my arousal. "I'm sorry this is not the right time for that." I said. "No need to apologize, we are mates so it's natural to want each other. I know I want you; we don't have to hold back." She said, coming up and wrapping her arms around me from behind. I closed my eyes, remembering she used to love to hug and be close to me when we were first mated. I turned to look down at her and saw the lust in her eyes. I groaned at the feelings of the mate bond fueling my desire for her. But I couldn't do that until we figured out what was happening. stepping away from her. I could see the hurt that flashed across her face.

"We need to take things slowly and find out what happened to you and see if we can get you checked out and see if the doc can help you to find out if you can get your memory back. Plus, we need to find the people that did this to you." I said, looking at her face as the color drained from it. "Why do we need to do that? I don't want to talk about any of that. Why can't we just start over? If we leave right now and go somewhere where no one will ever find us, then we could be happy together and have a new family of our own." she said desperately. "We can't just leave." "Why not?" "Because people are trying to kill the alpha's mate and their pups." "They can take care of themselves he is the alpha he can protect them. If we leave tonight, no one would even know we're gone. We just need to find a car and we could buy food and clothes along the way." She said, pacing the floor. I don't remember Scarlett ever wanting to abandon her people, leave them to fight or, worse, die. What did they do to my mate for her to only care about herself? Shaking my head, she's just scared and not thinking clearly.

"Scar... Shaid I can't leave the alpha or this pack. These are our people. This is your pack, we can't just abandon them, especially now; you may be able to help them figure out who is behind all this and what they are planning." I said pleadingly, shaking her head, "You don't understand the alpha will kill me for trying to kidnap his pups those human women want me dead for killing that bh who would have killed me if it wasn't for you stopping her and giving me the opportunity to kill her first, you saved my life." she said fearfully. "It wasn't my intention to stop her so you could kill her. I just didn't want her to kill you either. It was all a big mistake. I wish I could take it all back." I said as a lump formed in my throat. "You regret saving my life? You wanted her to kill me?" She said, taking a step away from me in fear. "NO NO that's not what I meant. I wish I could have just moved her away from you so you both would be OK." I said, running my hands through my hair. A mind link came, interrupting our conversation. "Shadow, we're in the conference room. Please bring your mate for questioning." The alpha mind linked me. Turning back to my mate. "The alpha is ready for us." "NO! I won't do it. They will kill me for what I have done. Don't you get that; Let's just leave and start over." She said, now crying hysterically. "No one is going to hurt you. None of this is your fault. They took advantage of you. You didn't know what you were doing. Just tell them what you know, and I promise you no one will hurt you." I said, looking into her eyes before pulling her into my arms. She was trembling in fear. I just hope the alpha will take pity on her and not judge her harshly.

Shaid's POV:

Mission take the pups and hand them over to Zane, then infiltrates the pack under the guise of the commander's mate. The master told me that the injection she gave me would cause the commander to feel the mates bond and I would also be affected by it as well, but I know that the feelings are because of the injections and nothing more. I worked on the commander as planned and it also gave me the opportunity to kill the human woman who thought she had the upper hand, but I needed for it to look like that in order for the commander to think I was some weak pathetic she wolf. So far, the plan is working. The only problem is, the pups are still here. That useless alpha and his rouges failed my master. She will not be pleased. I just need the commander to get me into this pack so that I can gain their trust.

Once I accomplish that, then I can complete my mission and maybe even take the pups to my master. She would be extremely happy she may even give me a live one to drink from instead of animals. They don't taste bad, they just don't taste like humans. I am ordered not to drink from any of the people on this pack. If I did, I would suffer unimaginable pain. I had learned my lesson from the last time I attempted to disobey a direct order from the master. I needed to get them to trust me, and the rest would fall into place.

The conference room:

"Oh my god! What is taking them so long? I bet they're planning to escape. We should go and storm in there and drag their asses back here to question them like the criminals they are." Lynn said, pacing the conference room. "Will you calm down? Shadow would never try to flee. He will bring his mate here so we can get some answers, but that will not happen if you keep throwing your knife in the air like that. So please put it away while we question her." The alpha said, rolling his eyes. "Are we trying to question a criminal or are we having tea with friends, because when you question a criminal sometimes a little persuasion is necessary to get the information needed, I mean is she a criminal or nah."

Lynn said, throwing the knife in a wall across the room. "God damn it Lynn sit down. Stop putting holes in people's walls," Ji'lahni said, rolling her eyes, while she leaned into the alpha's arms as he buried his head in her hair and kissed her gently. Lynn huffed and went to Montego as he looked like a lost pup. But Lynn surprised everyone when she didn't sit next to him, she sat on his lap. He was just as shocked as we were, but the shock wore off quickly because he immediately wrapped her in his arms.

The door swung open, and Shadow came in with his mate following close behind him looking terrified. "About damn time," Mina said under her breath. The girls quickly sat up alert and ready for anything. The she wolf whimpered in fear. The girls rolled their eyes at the fakeness of her acting. "I guess we are still doing, the I'm a scared little she wolf who is afraid of human women." Ji'lahni said, looking at the she wolf in anger. "Shadow, please you and your mate have a seat, so we can get started. I'm not sure if you know everyone here. But I'm alpha Makahi Crystal and to my left is my beta, Montego, and next to him is my 3rd in command, Blaze. Then we have Ji'lahni to my right, Lynn next to Montego and Mina next to Blaze. So, let's get started." The alpha said to everyone. "First things 1st please, tell us your name?" The alpha asked. The Shewolf looked down at her trembling hands and said nothing, they almost thought that she wouldn't respond. Shadow took her hand and gave her an encouraging nod. The girls immediately caught the gesture and turned their noses up at him. "My name is Sh... Shaid." She spoke so softly that she was barely audible.

"OK now that we got that st out the way. Who the hell sent you to kidnap our babies, and what are their plans and what were you supposed to do once you got the babies?" Lynn said, annoyed. "Lynn goddamn it, this is why they didn't want us to come." Ji'lahni said in a loud whisper. "What they are trying to treat this crazy loony toon bh with kid gloves. Our babies are in danger and this bh had something to do with it and she is the same one that has Shawna fighting for her life." Lynn said, not caring if the, she wolf heard her. "Lynn baby, calm down." Montego said, wrapping his arm around Lynn, she reluctantly sat back in her chair. "Well now that the questions are out there. Can you tell me who sent you here?" The alpha asked gently. Shaid visibly shook from fear. "I can't tell you the master will kill me." laughing out loud. "bh dying by the hands of the people that sent you are the less of your worries at this point." This time it was Ji'lahni who spoke.

"See Shadow I told you they wanted to kill me you promised that you wouldn't let them hurt me." She said looking at Shadow. "Damn Shadow I didn't take you for a liar. Why did you even tell her that dumb shit." Mina said, looking at Shadow in shock. "Please everyone calm down. Shaid no one is going to harm you, you have my word." The alpha said, but the looks on the girls' faces said otherwise. "I don't know who wants to harm your pups. I was hired to kidnap them and take them to the drop off point. The master doesn't tell me who the job is for. I am just giving missions." Shaid said tearfully. "So, you want us to believe that you get these mystery missions where they don't tell you anything? You want us to believe that you go on these deadly missions for fun just because some master tells you to? Does that even make sense? So now this is some double 07 type mission impossible type of bullshit." Mina said, rolling her eyes, not believing a word.

“Shaid who is your master? Can you show us where they are?” The Beta asked. “My master has not done anything wrong.” Shaid said boldly. “Oh, now you’re bold when we talk about your punk a*s master.” Lynn said, putting her knife on the table. “Everyone settles down. We don’t want to hurt your Master, we just want to bring him or her in and ask her some questions. It is very important that we find out who was behind this attack and who wants to harm my pups.” The alpha said. “I will not betray my master. She saved me when I was left for dead somewhere. I owe her my life. I have told you all I know,” Shaid said defiantly. “Well, she is useless. I don’t know why yall thought she was going to tell on her boss anyway.” Lynn said, pulling out her gun just as Ji’lahni and Mina pulled out their knives. Shadow immediately half shifted, putting a now crying Shaid behind him. “EXCUSE ME ALPHA BUT I HAVE URGENT NEWS!” The doc said, rushing into the conference room.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 56

The Doc’s POV: Shawna’s medical Update

“This does not look good, not good at all.” I said. We had been trying to stop the bleeding from the knife wound for hours, but nothing was working. I have used intravenous vitamin K, fresh frozen plasma, blood, and platelets, but it did not stop no matter what we tried. “Nurse, keep your hand on the bleed while I clamp it to stop the bleeding, then I’m going to stitch and then glue it close and let the clamp remain maybe that will buy us some time let’s hope this will work. I have never seen a stab wound that burns through the stitch and glue every time we close the wound to stop the bleeding. I have to find out what kind of knife this is. That’s the only way we are going to be able to save her and the baby. I will triple stitch and glue repeatedly and see how long that will hold up, until we can find a solution. One of you nurses can clean the knife and bagged it. Be careful not to touch it because I don’t know what it will do. You others stay with the patient and mind link me when the bleeding starts back up until I can come back are we clear this is very important.” I said, as everyone nodded. I grabbed the knife and headed to find the Alpha and the women. The nurse behind the clinic desk told me they were in the conference room. I hurried to the conference room, not bothering to knock.

“Alpha, sorry to interrupt, but this is urgent.” I said as everyone’s eyes snapped in my direction. The girls were the first to react. They ran to me looking worried. “Doc, how is my cousin? Is she ok? Can we go, see her? “They asked one question after the other. “Please ladies have a seat, and I will explain everything I don’t have a lot of time.” “OK, come on let’s have a seat and see what the doc has to say.” The alpha said. They allowed the men to lead them back to their seats. They were crying silently, “Ms. Shawna was stabbed in the ribs. It barely missed her heart. The person who stabbed her purposely pointed the knife upward, trying to pierce her heart, which was their true intended target. Once we removed the knife, it started to bleed rapidly. I have tried everything to stop the bleeding, but we couldn’t stop the bleeding.” I said, bowing my head in sadness this is the first case where I couldn't figure out how to save my patients. I was able to find out how to help Ji'lahni and the twins.

"So, is she dead? Is my cousin and her baby dead?" Ji'lahni asked in a broken voice. We all heard a big crash looking up we see Shadow growling half shifted. His mate jumped away from him in fear looking confused by his reaction to the question. I quickly answered the question. "No, she isn't dead yet but she isn't out of the woods she is still in very grave danger. But I must say she's a fighter and so is her baby it was very touch and go, but the issue is that whatever kind of knife was used isn't a regular knife. It seems to be some kind of magical knife that once it enters the body, or whatever it cuts, won't heal and the person will bleed to death because nothing can heal the wound, not even a wolf can heal from a stab wound done with this knife." I said as I threw the knife on the conference room table. Everyone's eyes went to the knife. The alpha picked it up to examine it. It was a gold knife with ancient writing and symbols etched into the medal. The handle was red marble with gold symbols and old ancient writings on it.

Lahni took the knife and looked at it and passed it to the rest of the people in the room. "Shaid what kind of knife is this who gave it to you?" Shadow growled making her flinch in fear. She whimpered but didn't answer right then, but there was one woman in the room who was oddly silent because her eyes zeroed in on the knife that was being passed around. "It doesn't matter she will not heal from it there is nothing that can be done. It will do what it was made to do, which is kill whomever I use it on." She finally said with a shrug of her shoulder. Which didn't sit well with the ladies, immediately tried to attack she wolf. I can't say I blame them, because this was bad really bad. "Everyone please settle down and let the doc talk and finish telling us about Shawna." The Alpha commended everyone stopped I nodded in thanks. "As I was saying as of right now the only thing keeping her alive is me repeatedly stitching and gluing the wound closed and pumping her body full of a different kinds of drugs that is design to clot blood in humans and slow or sop the bleeding, but that is only temporary, we will need to find out what kind of knife that is, I and find a way to reverse the affect it having on Shawna. If we can't find a solution soon, I'm afraid Ms.Shawna and her baby will die." I said sadly, the girls started to cry as the men comforted them.

Well everyone but Ms. Lynn who still staring at the knife silently as tears just fell from her eyes contiunously. "Nooo!" Shadow painfully howled looked at me gravely. The Commander came to me with desperate eyes. "Doc there has to be something you can do. You can't let them die you have to save them." He said with sorrow in his voice. "I'm sorry commander but the only way we may be able to save her is if we find out where the knife came from and what kind of knife it is." I said sadly seeing the anguish on his face. I knew the commander cared for the human and more then likely it was his pup she was carrying. Getting a mind link from one of the nurse's saying that our patch work was starting to bleed through. "I need to go back in with the patient, I just wanted to give you guys an update and see if you can find out any information about the knife that would help save her and the baby's life. If we can't find a way to save her in the next couple of days then I'm afraid we will have no other choice but to just make sure she is comfortable and surrounded by loved ones. I will see if we can get her cleaned up enough for you guys to be able to see her for a short time but otherwise, she will have to be in a clean environment to avoid any infections.” I said as I left the room in a rush because the nurse just informed me that her bleeding was flowing steadily now and her heart rate was declining fast. I hope the goddess they find a way to save Ms. Shawna because I’m afraid of what Ms.Ji’lahni and her cousins would do if she doesn’t make it. I will do everything I can to give them the time they need to find a cure.

Back to the Conference room:

“Shaïd, you have to tell us where you got that knife and who gave it to you because we need to find a way to save Shawna.” Shadow pleaded desperately. “There is no use in telling you anything there is nothing that could save her.” Shaïd said looking away from Shadow. “See she is useless if Shawna dies so does, she.” Ji’lahni said pulling the knife from the bag. Shaïd gasped backing away as Ji’lahni got up to go towards her. “Stay away from me. Shadow don’t let them do this to me I’m your mate. We were just trying to stop a murderer from killing me. It was self-defense!” The she wolf says in fear. “Self-defense? Bitches are you crazy you literally came into our house and took my babies and my cousin tried to stop you as she was supposed to do, and you stabbed her with this thing that you knew would kill her. But you want us think you’re the victim? I should kill you for insulting my fg intelligence.” Ji’lahni said as the alpha tries to hold her from getting to Shaïd who was hiding behind Shadow. Who looked completely lost and not knowing what to do. He was in shock that he may lose not only Shawna but also his pup at the hands of his mate.

“Everyone just stop. We will not be able to find out anything if all we are doing is trying to kill each other.” He said taking the knife from Ji’lahni and handed it to Montego. “We aren’t trying to kill each other we’re just trying to kill that bh other there.” Mina said through clenched teeth tears falling from her eyes as Blazed tried to comfort her. “Shaïd, I don’t want to use my aura on you, but I will if I have to. So please tell us where you got that knife from and what kind of knife is it?” The alpha asked in a deadly tone. Which made the she wolf visibly shrink back. “I told you I didn’t want to do this, all they want to do is kill me. We should have left when I told you too.” Shaïd said to Shadow. Who looked at her this time with clear disbelief. “What we are asking isn’t something that you can’t tell us. All we are asking is for the names of who put you up to this and where did the knife came from so we can help Shawna. The Scarlett I knew would never allow someone else to suffer and die like this my mate would help anyone who needed it no mate what. My mate gave her life to save the pups of this pack from being killed. I don’t know who you are, but it isn’t my mate.” Shadow said. Backing away from her.

She looked wide eyed at him in disbelief, shaking her head. “How could you say that to me I’m your mate. I have told you everything I know.” Shaïd said defeated. “NO, you haven’t you haven’t told us anything worth knowing we still don’t know who is after my daughters or who your master is. Now you won’t even tell me who gave you this knife.” Ji’lahni said still crying in anger. All of sudden there was a loud crash and before we could blink Lynn jumped across the table with the red marble and gold knife in her hand, the symbols and ancient wording started to glow, she knocked the chair that held the She wolf back and straddled the She wolf. “You have one chance to answer before I take your head off. This knife has many uses that you must not be aware of, which means you either stole it or the person who owns it gave it to you so where is he? Where is my brother?” Lynn asked her eyes glowing bright gold. “What in the entire hell.” Mina and Ji’lahni said at the same time.

Lynn’s POV:

“When I tell you I am itching to pull my gun out and put a bullet between your eyes, I mean that st. You have ten fg seconds to tell me where my brother is and why do you have his knife?” I said as I pulled my gun out and pointed in between her eyes and the knife at her throat so she knows it, real. “Help me please she is going to kill me!” the bh screamed. “They can’t help you sweetie. You see, one of the neat little tricks you didn’t know about is that this knife can surround us with a protective shield, while in this case, a barrier, so they won’t be able to get you in time enough for your mate to save you. See you have now entered into a situation you know nothing about obviously. You have not only put my family in danger, you have put everyone here in danger. So again, where did you get this knife and where is my brother?” I asked the crazy bh as I cd my gun. “I don’t know where your brother is I found it on my last mission. It was covered in blood. I only know about wounds not healing because of the first time I used it.” She said trembling. “Where?” I asked. “I found that blade in London in a little village.” She answered quickly when I pressed the blade a little more. “Last question and this determines your fate. Who is your master?” “NO No please if I tell you I will die.” “Well, if you don’t tell me, you die anyway. Anyways, it really doesn’t look like you have a choice. You can die now here with this blade or you can take your chances trying not to die by the hand of your master later.” I said with a shrug. I could still hear everyone beating on the force field I had. It won’t hold up much longer. I just had to get her to answer this last question. “Alright, I will tell you. Her name is Urrale. She’s the most powerful witch in the world. She wants the twins because they threaten her very existence. She will not stop until she has them and you nor anyone can stop her, so the best option is to give her what she wants and your entire pack gets to live.” She said, smiling evilly at me. Just as the forcefield disappeared. WHAT THE HELL LYNN WHAT WAS THAT st!” Ji’lahni said, coming to stand in front of me. I sighed because I had to tell them the whole truth about who I am. I just hope they can forgive me for not telling them, but I did it for their own protection and safety. But if this blade is in the hands of a she wolf, then someone was definitely looking for it and the person who is, is more dangerous than even Zane. I will tell you everything and I know how we can save Shawna. “What! How? What do we have to do?” Mina asked. “Not you, me. I have to do this alone. I will not put you guys in danger. I will do this alone. “Like hell you will, where you go I go.” Montego said, jumping up front his seat. “No! Monte, I do this alone. You have to stay here and protect my family. I need you to do that for me. But first I need to tell you what may be coming if I don’t stop it.” “Lynn, you’re scaring the hell out of us. What is it?” Ji’lahni asked. I sighed. My name is Lynndoria Lou Chan of the Chan family, the protectors of the ancient Golden Dragons. That blade is given to all the protectors once they become of age. Only people with outside bloodlines can use the blade at its full capacity, as you saw. The blade that was used to stab Shawna is dipped in dragons' blood and enchanted with old ancient magic. It is deadly to all shifters and super naturals. It prevents the person from healing and they will bleed out with just a cut, no matter how big or small. The only thing that can reverse the magic of the blade is dragons' breath."

"Wait a minute So Dragan shifter exit. Just how many kinds of shifters there are in this damn world. What kind of fk st is all this?" Mina said. "Actually, we were taught that dragons were extinct after the gear war between the gods centuries ago." The alpha said. And I nodded. "Yes, that's what the history books tell us, but that isn't entirely true. There are very few Golden Dragons left in the entire world and my family protects them from those who try to search and hunt them. Because a dragon's blood is very powerful and can be used for great evil. So, my family train us from birth to take over once we turn 18, we are blessed with abilities that give us powers to yield weapons enchanted with the magic of the gods and that blade is one of them actually the one with the least amount of magic in it." "So, you mean to tell me all this time you were some kinds of ancient warrior and you had us fighting these wolves when you could have just taken their asses out with a paper cut." Mina asked. "No, I don't have any of the weapons from my family's home when I left, I gave up all those things. I didn't want my life taken for me, I wanted to make a life for myself. I didn't want my life written for me, I wanted to live my life on my terms. My whole family turned their backs on me except my grandmother. She has been secretly teaching me and still training me. She says that I would be something far more than just a dragon protector. I will be responsible for protecting the most powerful beings this world has ever seen. I'm starting to realize she must have been talking about our babies. I think that it was destiny that brought us together. Please don't be mad at me. I couldn't tell you who I really was because I would have put a target on your back. But now I have no choice. I can't let Shawna and her baby die." I said tearfully, as I covered my face and cried. I felt two arms around me. I looked up to see Ji'lahni and Mina hugging me. "First of all, you know damn well we wouldn't have cared about none of that st. We are family. We have been through hell these past months. You risked your life to save us from that crazy a*s, Zane, and even now. You have never let us down and you have trained us to protect ourselves. We would be dead if it wasn't for who you are, so we love you." Ji'lahni said tearfully. "Yea we love you lil dragon slayer." Mina said and we laughed out loud. "I don't slay dragons I protect them dummy." I said shoving Mina away from me. "So how do we get this dragons breath that Shawna needs?" Shadow said with hopeful eyes. "Well, it won't be easy we have to get a Dagon to come here." "OK can you just called them up and have them fly here. Dragons do fly, right?" "Mina asked. "Yea, but it isn't that easy if you missed the part about me leaving and my family turning their backs on me." "Well, what do we do, we can't just do nothing we have to try." Ji'lahni said looking at me. I knew what she was asking. But it isn't going to be easy facing the people who beat me every day for 13 years simply because I was better than they were and nearly everything except speed, and even then I used that against them, especially my oldest brother. Who is the only one I can call, since my youngest brother apparently has gotten himself into some st that I may have to save him from. "In order for me to save Shawna I would have to call my brother. He and his dragon will have to come here in order to save Shawna. But it will come at a cost." I said sadly. "What's the cost?" Monte asked. I looked at him with sad eyes, knowing that he would be against it. I simply answered. "Me, I'm the only one that can do this." I said, it felt like a bolder was sat on my shoulders.

Chapter 58

Ji'lahni's POV: Still at the clinic

"So, Lynn did you contact your brother? Is he coming to save Shawna?" I asked Lynn as sat in a chair placed by Shawna's. She had tubes and wires everywhere. The docs said she needed them to keep her alive until we can get Lynn's brother here. We cried for the first 30 minutes when we first saw her like this but that then turned into anger, and we wanted to find that zombie bh and kill her like we wanted to. But we couldn't find her in the clinic. I think they knew we would try to find and kill her like we planned. I hope they don't think that will stop us from killing her for what she did to Shawna. "Yes, I contacted him, but he was not in the country I told my grandmother to call him. She said he would make sure he called me by tomorrow." Lynn said as she smoothed Shawna Blankets out. "Well, the docs said he can keep her alive for a few days. I still can't believe Shadow's mate is the person they sent to kidnap the girls. They had to know she was Shadow's mate. All this must be apart of their plan to get Shadow out of the way or thinks that because of the mates' bond that he would be conflicted." I said deep in thought. "Well, they were right because he think she is some sort of victim and not the crazy ninja bh we fought. I swear they seems to always throw in curve balls that come out of left field. I mean damn they brought a bh back from the dead." Mina said as she laid at the foot of the bed. "Yea this must be more than just about the girls, this has to be about something else they have another enemy that they aren't thinking about. The girls must be the reason that they decided to put their plans in motion." I said deep in thought. "Hello ladies how are you guys doing?" Hunter said as he entered the room.

"We're fine, what are you doing here?" Mina asked. "I just came to check on you guys and see if you need anything. You may want to shower and get some rest I can sit with Shawna while you guys freshen up." He said as we looked at him suspiciously. "Yea right just say your alpha sent you here to make sure we were still here and not looking for that zombie bitch." Lynn said rolling her eyes. "I have no idea what you're talking about. The alpha didn't send me here I just thought that I could give you guys a break. I knew you guys been here for hours without food or sleep it is almost time for breakfast and I know you guys wanted to check on the pups as well." Hunter said walking over to look at Shawna as she laid there unmoving as the machine moved her chest up and down. "You are good, although I don't believe none of that st you said, but I will admit that I miss the girls and want to shower as well." I said thinking it over. "Alright, we will be back in a few hours you better not move from her side if you have to use the toilet get the doc. Do you understand me? Please Don t let me have to cut you if something happens to Shawna because you weren't here." I said as we all got up kissing Shawna's cheek before walking to the door. "I promise I wont move from this spot. He said as we walked out. "I just now realized that we haven't washed our asses since all this happened and I have dirt and blood on all my clothes. Ewe." Lynn said with the stink face. "Yea I don't even want to look down at my clothes. I can tell you now that all these clothes are going straight in the trash." I said as we walked out of the clinic laughing for the first time since the attack.

Shadow's POV:

I sat in the small sitting area in the house that the alpha put Scarlett in. I had to beg the alpha not to throw her in the cellars, but he told me she was to stay in the house farthest away from the other wolves in the pack and was not allowed to leave the house and there has to be guards surrounding the house at all times. So here we are Scarlett was upset about not being able to leave and because I wouldn't leave like she wanted to she has been complaining this whole time. I am currently waiting for Hunter to give me the all clear to see Shawna. I knew the girls wouldn't allow me near her since they believed I let or helped Scarlett hurt her and our pup, which I would never do. I just needed to see her for myself and tell her how sorry I am for everything and that I needed her to get better. "So, are they just going to keep me here and not let me out at all?" Scarlett asked. "Yes, you're not allowed to leave out of this house until everything is cleared. When we find out who is behind this, and the doc runs some test to see if we can get your memories back or find out why your wolf doesn't remember anything before the war." I said, patiently. "This isn't fair I am your mate that should count for something, and I thought once I answered their questions, they would let me go." She said huffing angrily. "Scar I mean Shaid you tried to kidnap the alpha's twins and you stabbed my... Shawna who is now fighting for her life. I had to beg them not to throw you underground in the cellars. Once you have been cleared and we find out what is really going on and how they used you to do it then the alpha will decide what to do. I can't promise you won't have to pay for what you have done but if everything checks out, I'm sure it will be fair and just here. You just have to be patient." I said getting up pacing the floor. "If we have left like I wanted I wouldn't have to wait to be judged and punished. I just want this to be over so we can start our lives together. But we can't do that with me being stuck in here waiting for those humans to kill me." Shaid said crying silently. I took a deep breath, none of this is her fault Zane and her so-called master took advantage of her. I went to her and embraced her. She immediately wrapped her arms around me. "I know this is hard and frustrating, but we have to be patient until we find answers and when the doc verifies what they did to you then the alpha will make sure that you are treated fairly."

"Why do I have to be poked and probed in order for us to live our lives together freely. I really don't want to see this doctor I have been abused enough without having to go through all this again just to prove that I was forced to do those terrible things. When I finally find my mate after all this time, I can't even enjoy it because of this whole horrible situation." She said burying her face in my neck. I pulled her close to me enjoying the feel of the mate bond that had missed over the last few years. I thought I would never get to feel this way again until I joined my mate in death. But the moon goddess had other plans and granted me this second chance to be with my mate again. But I can't fully enjoy it, even though I have missed this feeling. I had found something just as special a connection with Shawna that was natural and pure not predestined or brought on by a bond that was chosen by the moon goddess. We don't have a say in who the moon goddess chooses for us. But with Shawna it was her that I fell... could it be that I loved her? Did I fall in love with Shawna. I couldn't get her out of mind even now. I was brought out of my thoughts by Scarlett who was now kissing her way down my chest. "We shouldn't be doing this right now; you should be resting, and I need to leave for a few hours to talk to the alpha and make arrangements for some to take over my duties while I'm here with you." I said and she dropped to her knees unbuckling my pants. I tried to back away, but she wasn't taking no for an answer. "Oh, those things can wait for a little while, we are a newly mated couple no one will question is you are late, they know how it is for a mated couple, so they won't mind." She said her mouth latching onto my ck before I could respond. Damn it her mouth felt good on my ck. The mate bond tingles only intensified the feeling she was giving me. Out of reflex I Grabbed her hair pushing my ck deeper into her mouth. "fk that feels good baby don't stop." I moaned loudly.

"Hey, Shadow the girls are gone you better get your a*s down here I don't know how long they will be gone and I'm not about to get on their bad side if they found out that I let you in here to see Shawna," Hunter said through mind link. "st!" I yelled jumping away for Scarlett like someone caught us cheating. Guilt washed over me at the thought of Shawna laying in a hospital bed. "Uh, yea I'll be right there." I responded via mind link. "What's wrong was I not doing it well? I can do better I promise." She said trying to put me back in her mouth. "No I need to leave this meeting is very important and it can't wait. I'm sorry I gotta go I'll be back in a few hours I will bring us dinner so we can have dinner together." I said buckling my pants while backing away. "Are you going to just leave me here alone? What if those humans find me and try and kill me. You can't leave me here just take me with you, I'm sure the alpha won't mind as long as you are with me." She said, pleadingly. "No, you have to stay in this house you want be alone there are guards outside the house to keep you safe." "You to keep me locked in here like a prisoner." She said angrily. "Look I will talk to alpha about letting you outside in the backyard." I said hugging her. She smiled and kissed my lips. She tried to deepen the kiss but I couldn't lose focus I had to go see Shawna. I broke the kiss and hurried out of the door before she could stop me again. My heart picked up its pace as I made my way to the clinic to see the female who my mind and heart seem to ache for.

Shaid's POV:

"st!" I growled out after Shadow left. What the hell is taking the master so long to answer the emergency protocol. If she was close she would be able to mind link me and tell me what she wants me to do. So that left me trying to get Shadow to let me out here for a little while so I can look around and spot their weak spots so could use them once my master gets here. Thinking of that Shadow guy, he is a hard nut to crack. He isn't responding like mated males usually act. I figured it has to do with the human woman I stabbed. I have been trying to seduce him since we got here but nothing worked. I thought I finally broke his guard down when he let me suck his ck but who ever mind linked him broke the moment like a cold bucket of water. He hurried out of here like his a*s was on fire. I needed to find a way out of here. I walked around the house for anything I could use as weapon but found nothing. I walked around checking the windows to see if I could sneak out of later. But it looked like they had guards surrounding the entire house. "Damn it! I have to get out of here before I go crazy and end up feeding off one of those guards. I wasn't supposed to be here this long, I am starting to get hungry. "Master, please hurry up. I don't want to disobey your command, but the hunger is starting to become unbearable." I said to myself as I fell back on the bed. Starting to worry that I may ruin the master's plans.

The Alpha's Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 59

Shadow's POV:

I made it to the clinic in record time, but as soon as I was outside Shawna's door I hesitated, all of a sudden scared of what I might see. I closed my eyes and took a deep breath trying to prepare myself. "What are you waiting for get your a*s in here we don't have a lot of time Hunter said as he stepped out of the room. "You have 1 hour tops I have one of the guards watching the house to see if they leave before that. If they do you have to hightail it out here or climb out the window I don't care as long as they don't catch you here. I'll be out here waiting." He said going to sit in the waiting area. I pushed open the door to Shawna's room and my breath hitched once I saw all the machines hooked all over her body with a tube in her mouth. I moved slowly beside her bed touching her face gently. I wanted to be close to her, so I gently maneuvered and laid next to her. I kissed her cheeks then her forehead as tears welled in my eyes. "Baby I'm so sorry, I never meant to hurt you. I wish I could take it all back, I know what your cousins think, but baby I swear I would die before I let anyone hurt you. I'm so sorry this is all my fault. I just need you to wake up and show me your big, beautiful smile that I love so much I promise I will let you put your frozen feet on me every night if you would just be ok." I said in her ear, and I allowed the tears to flow from my eyes. My hand gently caressed her stomach that, held my pup.

The doc said the baby was still alive in spite of the trauma but if Shawna doesn't make it neither will the pup. "I'm sorry you didn't get to tell me we're having a pup, but I promise if you both pull through this, I will make sure you get the best treatment and drugs money can buy, because I know how you said you can't handle pain at all." I chuckled at the memory of her telling me how it was watching Ji'lahni have the twins and if Ji'lahni couldn't handle the pain then she was sure she wasn't gone make it. "You also promised me you would cook me down home southern meal once all this was over and I am holding you to that, so you have no choice but to get well so you can get to cooking. Baby please don't leave me I don't think I can survive losing you and my pup." I said barely able to get the words out I slid down the bed and rested my head gently on her stomach where our pup grows. I gasped when I heard what sounded like a fast pace beating, it was very faint but with my wolf hearing I could hear my pup. "Hey little guy, I'm your papa. I know you have been through a lot, and you haven't even gotten here yet. I know you may be scared but everything is going to be fine, because you have a momma that will scorch this earth before she allows anything to happen to you. So, you don't worry about a thing and just keep growing strong for your papa. You have to help me get your momma to wake up you have to look out for her while I'm not here can you do that for your papa?" I said as I kissed her stomach.

I left my head back up to her face and leaned my forehead against hers. "I love you Shawna Nelson, so I need you to wake up and get better so you can kick my a*s. I promise I will let you. If you do just this one thing, please baby I can't do this without you." I said the tears fell. All of a sudden, every machine in the room went off and the nurse and the doc came rushing in as I hopped off the bed. "What's wrong? what's happening?" I asked in a panic. "Her stitching is coming undone again this time faster than before. st! You may have to get the girls if I can't stop the bleeding." The doc said "NO!" I yelled. "She can't die doc I need her and our pup, you can't let them die please." I said desperately. "Hey Shadow, we gotta go man the girls might be here any minute and we can't let them see you here." Hunter said pulling me out the room. Rane immediately came forward and growled at him. He refused to leave Shawna and his pup until he knew they were ok. He let go of my arm and held both his hands up.

"Shadow, we have to get out of here I promise I will tell you when she is stable. But if the girls come here and catch you here, they will think you were trying to do something to her and kill you then me. I promise I will help you see her again." Hunter said to me. He was right I needed to get out of here before the girls get back it will not end well if they catch me in here with her while she is like this. I took a deep breath so I can take in her scent but all I got was the smell of her blood. I quickly turned and left the clinic and shifted as soon as I was out the door. I needed to be alone, I was in no shape to go back to the house where Shaid is. I know it wasn't her fault that Shawna and my pup were suffering, because of people who wants to destroy my pack and my...family.

Ji'lahni's POV: standing at the door of the zombie bh house

"Can you believe that dummy thought we were stupid?" Mina said, chuckling. "I know right, he real life thought we didn't know he was only there to get us out of the room so Shadow could sneak in to see Shawna." I said, laughing. When we left the Clinic, we didn't leave right away, we made a beeline around the building and waited. And sure, enough Shadow came running a few minutes later like his a*s was on fire. We decided that we really didn't think Shadow had anything to do with Shawna being stabbed it was all the Zombie bh. He was here mate and what we have learned about it, they really can't see pass the internal bond that their moon goddess instilled in them. Although for most humans we believe the whole giving us free will to choose our own path and who we love. Along with the fact that divorce rates are super high among us. Maybe we needed to be told who is best for us. I sure wish somebody could have stopped me from making some dumb mistakes with some of the dudes I have dated. Because sometimes I think of some of my ex's and be like what the hell was, I thinking. But anyway, we did take shower and change clothes, but we didn't take a nap and we would visit the girls after we pay this zombie bh a little visit.

We realized that killing her just yet would be irrational because we needed to know who the hell was after my babies, and this bh knows something and plus Lynn wanted to find out about her baby brother it was his blade that this zombie bh had. So here we are trying to figure out how to get pass the guards standing in the door. We just need to get the guards from the front door once we get there, we just need time to get in the front door I know it's locked." Lynn said, thinking. "Boom I got it. I will act like I'm out for a run and fall and hurt myself. When they come to help me you guys break in. I'll keep them busy and yall handle your business, and how about don't kill the bh Lynn I'm not trying to go to wolf jail I don't think that will be fun at all." Mina said, rolling her eyes. "I'm not going to kill her if she doesn't make me. I have my brother's blade and she seems to be super afraid of it so it may not be hard getting her to talk." Lynn said pulling the blade from thigh belt.

"Lynn how the hell did you get that damn blade. I swear, this is why they think that we always trying to kill everybody we don't like." I said. Laughing. "Oh no you will not put that on me. The last time we got into a fight it was you who started it. Remember when that girl kept talking st because she thought that you were flirting with her dude. That girl just told you to stay away from her dude and you punched that girl in her face." Lynn said laughing. "First of all, she told me to stay away from her dude and then bumped into me as she walked by thinking I was some insecure female. So, when she felt that we needed to reach out and touch each other, I just touched her with my fist." I said with a shrug of my shoulders. Mina and Lynn laughed. "Anyway, let's go we will get as close as we can to the house and as soon as they run to help you me and Lynn will get in the house Mina if you can get them to help you back to our house that would be even better. Please don't be trying to get Blaze in bed either." I said to Mina who was smiling.

"Hey, don't question my dedication to this mission sometimes you have to take one for the team." "That doesn't mean take dk dummy." Lynn said and we all burst out laughing. "I can't wait to tell Shawna that I had to take dk to save her." Mina said, as we continued to laugh. We were like that as soon as we started laughing hard it will take us a second to get it together. Once our laughing fit was under control Mina went and started jogging, and just like we thought when Mina fell the guards damn near trip over themselves trying to help. Me and Lynn quickly went to the front door which actually wasn't locked. When we went in, the zombie wasn't in the kitchen or the living room. We checked the master bedroom because that's just common sense. Of course, we were a right we heard the shower running. So, we decided to look around not expecting to find anything. "Hey, I don't see any of Shadows clothes in here. I thought he was going to be living here with his girlfriend." Lynn asked. "Yea that's what I heard maybe he just hasn't had a chance to move his stuff in yet." I answered. Lynn just shrugged. Just then the Zombie bh came out of the room wrapped in a towel.

Lynn jumped at her tackling her before she could scream. "Don't you fg scream, we wanted to get some answers without the men because you seem to want to play the victim when they are around my friends told me about you. I would like you to try that st with me and see how that works out for you." Lynn said, pulling the zombie up by the hair throwing her on the bed. At first the zombie looked around seeing who else was here. Once she realize it was just us her whole demeanor changed, and her back straighten and smirked crossing her arms over her breast. "Well, this is surprising, the guards shouldn't have allowed the both of you to walked right into danger like this. Very irresponsible of them." Zombie bh said. Lynn laughed, pulling out her brother's blade. "Please bh try it, I promised them I wouldn't kill you but if you feeling froggy please, jump bitch." Lynn said, and the zombie bh smirk dropped for a second before she went back to being cocky. "Now that we don't have the alpha or your mate to protect you and you don't have to pretend. We can get some answers from you." I said stepping to her. "You think I'm going to tell you anything, if you thought that you came here for nothing." The zombie bh sneered.

"Oh, my bad I apologize I may have said it wrong, and you thought you had a choice. See you don't have to answer, but for every question you don't answer Lynn will take that blade there and place the tiniest cut on your body and well you know what happens then. But the thing you don't know is Lynn knows how to heal those cuts. So, what we are going to do is just give you a little cut and well if you decide you don't want to answer we will just leave you to try and heal yourself, the choice is yours. Where do you think the cut should go Lynn? I'm thinking the wrist." "Yea, that will be a good spot and if she dies, they will think she did it to herself." Lynn said, tapping the blade on her chin like she was in deep thought. "WHAT! You can't do that. You will kill me I swear I will scream." Zombie said, backing up on the bed trying to get away from Lynn and the blade. "You could scream, but I will still cut you before the guards even get up here and that will ensure I will never heal the wound." Lynn said, as she jumped all of a sudden and landed on the bed and quickly grabbed the zombie bh hand and held the blade to her wrist.

"Wait please don't do this what is it you want to know. I swear I have told you everything I know." Zombie said in a rush. "Well, that's too bad if you don't know anything but what you told us in the conference. Then what use are you? Lynn go ahead, but make it look like she did it to herself I'll go get a knife from down stair so they will just think that she did it herself." I said, turning to walk down the stairs. "WAIT!" I know something I didn't tell the alpha." "What is it?" I asked. "I know who the trader is in your pack." "Who is it?" Lynn asked. "It's the schoolteacher Pheona." "Your lying, why would she betray the pack she is a pre schoolteacher for god sakes." I said disbelieving. "I swear, she has been working for my master for years giving intel on your pack." "Why would she do it what is the reason she is betraying the pack?" "I don't know but it has to be something important or valuable. But she is the one who got me into the pack that night, she is the one who gave everyone cookies. My master gave her the tasteless potion to put in the cookies." Zombie girl said starting to sweat. "OMG! Raz he was with her last night. I haven't seen him since then. OMG OMG! We have to leave and go look for him Lynn." I said, starting to panic tears filled my eyes at what we might find.

"We will, after she tells me what does Zane wants with the twins?" Lynn said pressing the blade further into her wrist but still didn't draw blood. "Please don't I don't know this Zane person he and the Master are friends I don't know why he wants the twins. He's crazy he is obsessed with someone in this pack he will do anything to have her." The Zombie said chuckling. "Lynn, we have to get out of here. Before they come back, and we need to go look for Raz!" I said, turning to leave. "Fine, you're lucky this time you wont be so lucky next time." Lynn said, Punching her in the mouth. "That's for Shawna, I can't kill you yet, but that doesn't mean I can't fk you up until I'm able to. Every time I see your face, I'm going punch you in your fg mouth." Lynn said, punching her again and hopping off the bed. We left the house. Mina was now standing on one leg leaning on one of the guards. We ran out the door cut around the back of another house and started walking up the street. “Hey Mina, we been looking for you, we thought you had done got lost.” I said walking up to her. “No, I hurt my ankle when I was jogging, and these guards were trying to take me to see the doc, but I keep telling them I’m fine.” Mina said wincing. “Damn, don’t worry about it we will help her yall look like yall are busy.” Lynn said, grabbing Mina’s arm to help her walk. We all hurried away from the guards before they could even say anything. Once we were out of sight Lynn let go of Mina’s arm as we headed to the school to see if Raz was there and if that teacher was still here. We would question her a*s before we tell Kahi because they always wanted to play the good cop, but we not even going to waste time doing that st we starting off with the bad cops.

The Alpha’s Plus Size Urban Human Mate

Chapter 60

The Master POV:

“How the hell did you fail. The plan was foolproof you were supposed to bring me the twins and when I was done with them you could use them to get their mother and her family to do your bidding. Not only did you not get the twins, but you left my asset in the hands of those wolves.” I said as I threw a chair against the wall. Zane was causally leaning against the wall. “Well witch you didn’t tell me how powerful those pups were. They are more powerful then any regular alpha pup should be. So why don’t you tell me what you’re really after. Your asset should be fine her mate is with her I’m sure he will never let anyone hurt her you just have to go and get her back.” Zane said nonchalantly. If I didn’t need him, he would have been dead years ago. “You fool she is no longer his mate his mate died that day during the war when I found her, she was dying, and I had one of my vampire allies feed her his blood and she died and was reborn as they say. I preformed a spell that gives them the illusion of being mates, but it will not last long she has maybe a little over 1 week to get the hell out of there.” I said. Pacing the room.

“Well, I need more rogues I can’t use any of my wolves I have lost too many that I can’t afford to use anymore because it will leave my pack vulnerable to attacks.” “Do you think it is easy to find rogues and get them to do my bidden. It takes a lot of power to control them. Ever since those twins’ birth my power has been weakened the more, I use the weaker I become. That’s why I needed you to bring them to me so I can transfer their power to restore my powers.” Now I will have to face the one person I wanted to be at full power when I saw them again.” So, witch what’s your plan to get those twins and my mate back. I’m sure they will be ready for any attack so you will have to have a foolproof plan.” Zane said and I rolled my eyes like I didn’t know that already. I turned to my assistant who was standing in the corner. “Get ahold of our contact tell her job is not done if she wants her baby then she will do what I ask her to do. I said as a plan came together in my head. “Alpha, I will get you your rogues but this time you will follow my command I can’t allow you nor anyone to screw this us this is our last chance.” I said just as the sound of an alarm went off on my desk. “st, that’s my asset that could only mean one thing, that everything is much worse than we thought.” I said. “Go I will contact you when everything is ready. And Alpha if you fail again, I will kill you myself.” I said as I opened a portable for him to leave. Once he was gone, I sat in my chair deep in thought about what could have happened that caused my asset to activate her emergency protocol. I need to prepare my potions and spells that I will need. I don’t want to use my powers unless absolutely necessary. I want to save it for the bh that took everything from me.

Makahi POV: Back at the pack house

“So as of now Lynn has contacted her brother, we need to put our best warriors on the twins. As of now she is with my parents so put 4 warriors to surround the house and make sure they do 12 hours on and 12 off.” I said to Bruin head warrior. He nodded then left. “So, what did the doc say about how we all were poisoned.” I asked Hunter. He said it was ingested he said wolfbane along with some other form which put the humans out. So, whoever did it knew the humans were immune to wolfbane.” Hunter answered. “We were all in different places during dinner, so we didn’t eat the same things. What could we possibly have all ingested at the same time?” Blaze Asked. “It was those damn cookies.” I said disbelievingly. “Summer.” I said through clenched teeth. “Go get both her and Britney here now.” I told Blaze. “You don’t think Summer could be the one who poisoned us.” Montego asked in disbelief. I don’t want to believe it, but it is her uncle and she definitely hated and felt threatened by Ji’lahni and the twins. I hope she has a damn good excuse for the cookies she gave us.

I could hear yelling coming from down the hall. “Don’t you know I’m your Luna you have no right to handle me like this wait until the alpha hear about you handling me in such a way.” She said as Blaze opened the door to my office and escorted her to the seat across from me. “What is the meaning us this Kahi? You didn’t even come to see if your mate and our baby was ok after the attack. I’m your Luna and you act like you don’t even care. People are still talking about what happen at breakfast with those humans. Now we are getting attacked because of them. What else has to happen for you to understand that them being here is putting the entire pack at risk. You need to make them leave before more of my pack dies.” Summer said angrily. “Funny you should say that. It seems as though this last attack was done with poison in fact it was poison that was put into food to incapacitate wolves and the humans. Can you guess what we all ingested?” I asked Summer. Her face immediately drained of its color. “Why would I know anything about that. Remember I was also poisoned I as well was really afraid for our pup not that you even bother to see if our pup was ok.” She said in a rush. “Summer cut the crap. You know as well as I do that if something happens to you, I would know instantly through the mate’s bond. But what I do know is that the cookies you gave us was laced with wolfbane. So, tell me before I throw you and your gamma in the cellars to be judged. This is your one and only chance to come clean and tell the truth. What is your uncle planning and who is he working with? I asked using my alpha command because I don’t have time for the lies any longer. She went too far this time my pups could have been taken or worse. Shaking my head, I didn’t want to think about that now I just need answers.

Summer was fighting the command as an alpha female would but her partner in crime was losing the battle. “Brittney what do you know?” I asked her to use my alpha command. "No! Kahi you can't do this. Why are you doing this to us? We have done nothing wrong." Summer yelled, getting up from her sit as Blaze grabbed her arm to hold her in place. Brittney fell to the ground and bared her throat Whimpering. "Alpha I only did as my Luna wanted. Fiona gave us the cookies and told us to make sure you and all the guards in the meeting room ate at least. But the Luna added some of the other drug to your water because she didn't think the cookies would be strong enough to keep you out for long. I swear I just did what I was told alpha please don't kill me. Alpha Zane is the one behind all of this. He wants the humans and your pups. The Luna just wanted to get rid of the humans so her pup wouldn't questioned when it comes to being the next Alpha." Brittney said crying. Summer was yelling at her to shut up. "She is lying, I don't know why she is saying all those things, but it isn't true. I would never do anything to hurt you or our pack, why would I? I'm already Luna of the pack. It would make no sense to go through all that." Summer said pleadingly, trying to look innocent. "Oh, please Summer you have been trying your best to get rid of them the very first day they got here. I can't believe I allowed our history and guilt blind me to who you really are. I have been trying to find a way to please you and not hurt you. I even sided with you when you were wrong because of the mate's bond and the pup you're carrying. I believed you when no one else did." I said angrily, slamming my hand on my desk, making both her and Brittney jump in fear. But no more as of now I am stripping you of the Luna title and I will be rejecting you." I said sitting back at my desk.

"NO, YOU CAN'T DO THIS KHIAI. I WILL DIE IF YOU REJECT ME. WHAT ABOUT OUR PUP YOU CAN'T KILL OUR BABY!" Summer yelled historically. Raising my eyebrow at her. "Which reminds me. For the life of me I can't remember that night. Which makes me wonder." I said thoughtfully. Summer got silent instantly. I looked at Brittney. "Since you have been so cooperative with answering my questions. If you answer this question, I will reconsider sentencing you to death for treason." "The pup isn't yours its warrior Bruin He's the father of the Luna's pup." Brittney said before I could even ask the question. "YOU bh I WILL KILL YOU! YOUR STUPID bh! I HATE YOU!" Summer Yelled trying to attack Brittney who was backing away from her as she cried and apologized. "ENOUGH!" I commanded and they both quieted. "Blaze take them both to the cellar. Make sure Summer is comfortable the pup is innocent in all this have warrior Bruin report to my office as soon as possible he will have decision to make regarding his pup. Also, find Fiona put her in the cellars, she needs to be brought in for questioning. I am going back to the clinic to inform the girls of what we have found out. I need everyone back in the conference room in 1 hour." I said and Blaze nodded and escorted a screaming Summer and a sad Brittney out of the office.

"Well, I can't believe Summer would do this. I mean I knew she was crazy but to work with her psycho uncle is a bit much." Montego said, coming to sit in the chair across from me. "Yea I know I can't believe it either. I have been such a fool because I never thought Summer would do something like this. I almost lost my other half mate and my pups because of her scheming. Deep down I felt that the pup she was carrying wasn't mine, but I just didn't want to think of her doing something so evil just for the title of being Luna. I almost lost everything." I said angrily. "Well at least now you can claim Ji'lahni as your Luna." Montego said shrugging. "Yea I have to reject Summer which I can't do with putting her pup at risk. I'm not the kind of alpha that doesn't care about the life of a pup he shouldn't have to pay for his mothers' crimes. Once the pup of born I will reject her." I said hoping that Ji'lahni will agree with my decision on that. "You're making the right decision." Montego said nodding.

She's not the same person as she used to be but being brainwashed can change a person completely. I just hope Shadow can handle what ever may happen once we find out everything, she is not telling us. "Son you need to get to the house the girls are here and they have urgent news that you need to know." My father mind linked me." Hey we have to go to my parents the girls are there with some information we need to hear. I'll also tell here everything we found out from Brittany." I said, leaving the pack house.

Summer's POV:

"LET ME GO! LET ME GO YOU FOOL! I SWEAR I WILL KILL YOU WHEN THIS IS OVER! YOU WANT GET AWAY WITH THIS!" I screamed as Blaze pushed me in a cell and closed the door with a smirk on his face. "Seems like you were in the wrong sit after all. I guess I'm not the only one that should know their place." He said laughing. As he left me in the cellars. "I can't believe Kahi would do this to me after everything we have been threw how could he choose those filthy human bitches I swear I should have never allowed them to come here in the first." I said pacing the length of the cell. "You need to calm down Summer you are stressing is not helping the pup." "You shut the hell up Brit I should rip your throat out." "I'm so sorry Summer you know I nor anyone can fight an alpha's command even you. I tried to fight it, but I couldn't." Brittney said crying but I had no sympathy for her because she is the reason we are down here.

"Oh, shut up he didn't command you to tell him about the pup. You told that of your own free will." I sneered at her. "Summer her offered to spare my life I don't want die because of this. You can't be mad at me for wanting to live. Once he found out that we not only poisoned him but helped your uncle try and take his pups you really think he was going to let us live. Once he rejects you, you will either go rogue or die. So, what choice did I have." Brittney pleaded with me. "If you would have kept your mouth shut once my uncle attacks again, I would have just made sure that he does something that would make Kahi never question or doubt me or you again." "You still don't get it do you? Your uncle don't care about you, He used you for his own agenda. He was willing to kill you in that cave if Kahi hadn't marked you. Even you said that yourself." Brit said, looking at me with pity. "JUST SHUT UP SHUT UP SHUT UP YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT YOURE TALKING ABOUT." I yelled through the cell bars. I don't care what she says I will get out of here and I do they will all pay.
