

Destined Wife: The Apple of My Eye

Chapter 401 Childhood Sweetheart 8

One minute ago, Zhao Ying suddenly found that Chen Xiaopang was caught by a makeup clown in his arms. Chen Xiaopang wanted to turn his head to beat the clown, but was covered his mouth tightly. Zhao Ying was frightened. She ran away and called Wang Cailian.

But when she ran over, she found that the people were crowded together, and she couldn't see Wang Cailian at all.

"Why is there one more child?" The man who had caught Chen Xiaopang grabbed her.

Zhao Ying was frightened to cry and was caught before she could make a sound, being taken out of the restaurant with her mouth covered. She was horrified to see that Chen Xiaopang was motionless, and then a strange smell came into her nose. She felt her head become heavier and heavier...

"Why do you bring three kids?" The two men returned to the car, and the companion who drove was startled to see so.

The one who had caught Chen Xiaopang said, "Don't bring this girl. Just bring this little boy."

"Why should we bring this little fat boy?" The other man said, "Our goal is the Little Master of Tang Family. We shall find a place to discard the two children."

"Don't!" The companion squeezed Chen Xiaopang's face, "One child died a few days ago where my Second Aunt lives, but the buyer has already paid. I can let her take this little fat child out to make the deal."

He glanced at Zhao Ying, "This little girl looks so beautiful. If it weren't for that those buyers recently all want to buy boys, she could be sold for a good price."

The car quickly left the amusement park. After driving one hour, the car was on the arterial road. After driving for another while, Zhao Ying was discarded beside a grove. Zhao Ying rolled from the hillside into the grove.

“Cailian? What’s the matter?” Chen Qing rushed to the police station after answering the phone call, having no time to have the meeting. Why had the children only gone to the amusement park and been missing?

Wang Cailian’s makeup was smudged. Her hair was also dishevelled. She started to cry when she saw him come in.

“Chen Qing! I... It’s my fault. I... I lost the children. Ah ah...”

Seeing his wife almost cry to be breathless, Chen Qing didn’t dare to complain anything. He helped her sit down and listened to the police about the general situation.

“Do you mean, the children in our family were involved in the trouble?” Chen Qing was stunned after hearing it.

The police said that the other party kidnapped with a purpose and the target was the Little Master of the second branch of Tang Family. But they didn’t know why Chen Xiaopang and Zhao Ying had also been taken away. They estimated that the two children might have seen something.

“What about now?” Chen Qing had no time to complain about Tang Family but asked, “Did the kidnapper call? What is needed?”

The police hadn’t spoken yet, and the inner office door opened. A man and a woman came out, surrounded by group of people. They both were good-looking. The woman was elegant, but her face was obviously pale and she couldn’t hide the panic in her eyes.

“Mr. Tang, Mrs. Tang!” Chen Qing knew who they were and rushed over, “What do the kidnappers want? Have they contacted you?”

Bai Susu’s eyes became cold, and then she thought of something, “You are the parent of those two children?”

“Yes! My son and my friend’s daughter were taken away.”

Chen Xiaopang was awakened by the bumps. His first reaction was that his hands and feet hurt. He tried to rub his eyes, but only to find that his hands were tied, as were his feet. He seemed to be on a small truck. The smell was very cloudy and stuffy.

“Zhao Ying!” His eyes brightened, and then darkened.

The child beside him was not Zhao Ying but a little boy. The little boy seemed to be awoken too, who moved and turned around.

“Are you Tang Cao in Class One?”

Tang Cao reacted at this moment and looked at him, “Do you know me?”

“I’m in Class Six.” Chen Xiaopang said and then he started to be afraid, “Have we been caught by the bad guys?”

Tang Cao glanced out of the car window. Rows of trees flashed by in front of his eyes.

“We must be out of town.” He tried to sit up.

Chen Xiaopang followed suit to sit properly, and asked in a sobbing tone, “How... How do you know it?”

“My sister had taught me to observe more when encountering things.” Tang Cao was a little proud, but thought that now was not the time to show off in an ostentatious manner, “You were involved in the trouble by me, for they had tried to kidnap me.”

The crowd separated his bodyguard from him and then he was caught. At the same time, a little boy was pushed to them by the crowd, who saw his head being covered by the clown and screamed, and then...

“Are we going to be sold into the mountains to be child brides...?” Chen Xiaopang cried softly, “I miss Mom and Dad.”

Tang Cao rolled his eyes, “We are boys, and even if we are going to be sold, we are going to be child...” He didn’t know what they should be called, and thought of a word, “Child husband.”

“Woo woo woo... I don’t want it!” Chen Xiaopang cried louder, “I want to go home...”

He suddenly remembered something and didn’t have time to cry but to look at the small cargo box where only Tang Cao and him two kids were, “Where is my sister? Why isn’t my sister in?”

“Your sister was caught, too?” Tang Cao was startled, “Are you sure?”

“I saw her be taken away with me.” Chen Xiaopang shivered in shock, “She... Has she been sold?”

Tang Cao didn't know why this kid so stuck to the idea of being sold. Since he was also one of the students of Caesar, his family financial situation must have been good. How could he be so...stupid?

“They won't sell us, but they will use us to demand the ransom.”

Chen Xiaopang was stunned, “Then... We shall still be sold, shan't we?”

“...No, they will ask our families for the ransom. When your parents pay the ransom, they will let you go back.” As one of the top-level rich second generations, Tang Cao knew the routine of these kidnapers.

They all asked for money, and they rarely killed the hostages. And... Looking at the vehicle they were in, these people must be very poor. The more the situation was so, the higher their chance of being rescued was.

“Hum! Dare to kidnap me. I shall let my uncle to kill them later!”

Chen Xiaopang looked at the new friend who was called the school hunk was speaking the brave words, and he didn't know why he was not so scared. He carefully moved towards Tang Cao's side, “What shall we do now? And my sister, where did she go...”

“Mr. Chen, please rest assured. We will definitely find the children back. No matter what the kidnapers ask for, we will agree.” Bai Susu invited Chen Qing and Wang Cailian to go to a nearby hotel run by Tang Family and arranged a suite on the top floor.

Wang Cailian had been crying all the time, and Chen Qing knew that she was blaming herself. Holding her hand to comfort a few words, he turned to thank Bai Susu again.

“Thank you. I know you have more advantage than us on this matter. So, please!”

Bai Susu was a little surprised. She originally had thought that the couple would kick up a row, and even took the opportunity to raise a claim to her. But they were just very anxious. The wife had been crying all the time. Apparently the couple's hearts were set on the children.

"Madam." Her assistant handed her a pile of data.

Bai Susu calmly read it through, on which there was the information of Chen Family.

"Is there any news of the children?" Wang Cailian hurriedly asked.

Bai Susu asked the assistant to take the information away, "No."

Seeing she didn't say much, Wang Cailian wanted to ask more questions but was stopped by Chen Qing, who shook his head at her.

"My underlings are looking for them besides the police. The kidnapers haven't called yet. I guess that they haven't arrived in their place to rest." Bai Susu calmly analyzed, "All we can do now is just waiting."

Tang Cao and Chen Xiaopang felt that the car stopped slowly, and then the car door was opened.

The sunlight and fresh air poured in, but the two kids didn't dare to move, lying with their backs to the door.

"They haven't woken up yet." There was a young man's voice.

Tang Cao shook his head to hint himself awake.

So Tang Cao was taken out.

Chen Xiaopang was terrified, but he turned and shouted, "We are all awake!"

Then he heard Tang Cao say to the two people, "A straightforward person does not resort to insinuations. You ask for money, and we ask for lives. If you don't hurt us, my family will pay the ransom."

The younger man was amused, "You deserve to be a child of a rich family. You are good at persuading."

"I'm just telling you the truth. You are only for money and don't need to kill two kids. Besides, only if I go back alive, my family will not continue investigating. They will think that if they cannot find the kidnapper, it is OK for the children have been back. However, if we both die, it will be different. I am the only one boy in my family.”

Chen Xiaopang added, “I’m the only one boy in my family. No! What have you done to my sister? Where is my sister?”

“We discarded her on the road.” The middle-aged man said, “You should take care of yourself first.”

They certainly would not tell Chen Xiaopang that he was the one to be sold.

“Blindfold their eyes first.”

Then Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao were carried on their backs. It was unknown how far the kidnappers had walked. During the process, they carried the kids in turn.

Finally they arrived at a place where those kidnappers put the kids down breathlessly. They didn’t forget to take off the handkerchiefs on their eyes.

“Let’s go. Go out for a meeting.”

Then they went out for a meeting.

Chen Xiaopang thought Tang Cao to be very awesome, so he was very dependent on Tang Cao. Hearing that there seemed to sound nothing happening, he whispered, “What should we do now?”

“Wait!” Tang Cao moved his feet, “They must go to discuss how much they want.”

Chen Xiaopang suddenly felt somewhat guilty, “Are they going to ask for a lot of money?”

“Well... I must be worth tens of millions of yuan anyway!” Little Master Tang set his own worth very high.

“Several tens of millions of yuan?” Chen Xiaopang was stunned. Although he didn’t know how much ten million was, it was definitely a lot.

The maximum number his dad occasionally had mentioned at ordinary times was millions. But several tens of millions of yuan... His family certainly didn’t have that much money. What could they do?

At this time, the door opened again.

The three men came in and took a few photos of the two kids.

Then the middle-aged man said to the person on the other side of the phone, “20 million. We shall immediately release them when we get the money.”

“Rest assured. We only ask for money, and we will not abuse them.”

“What? Three children?”

“Twenty million is the price of a child.”

“Sixty million? Well, you rest assured. We won’t abuse them.”

“Want to see the children? Okay, wait a minute.”

The middle-aged man hung up the phone and said excitedly, “Hurry up and get back the girl before! Tang Family is willing to give a ransom for the three children!”

“Damn!”

60 million in total! These people were really rich! They would make a fortune! They would make a fortune!

Chapter 402 Childhood Sweetheart 9

On the other side, Bai Susu put down the phone, and the opposite policeman made a gesture happily.

“We have tracked them down!”

It happened so coincidentally. The young kidnapper and his accomplice drove all the way back to catch Zhao Ying and parked the car on the side of the road. They didn’t know how advanced modern technology was. The police had confirmed this suspicious car long ago. Even if they could block the license plate, they couldn’t block the entire car!

So when the police passed by, they saw a car suspected to be the kidnapper's parking on the side of the road, so they went to interrogate and examine naturally. The driver's face turned pale as soon as the police showed identities. The police found that and thought that there must be something wrong!

They overpowered the person and questioned him. During the process, the police dog suddenly barked. They saw another person running on the nearby field ridge, who was holding a child!

"Big Bear, go!" The policeman gave the instruction and the black police dog named Big Bear ran away quickly, and soon got the man down by biting his clothes.

The police who followed on the heels of the dog immediately arrested the man and Zhao Ying was lifted up by a police officer.

"Wow!" She cried, "Police uncles, hurry up to save Xiaopang. Xiaopang was taken away by them. Wow..."

Zhao Ying cried out of breath. When she woke up, she found that she had been alone in the grove, which made her scared. But Chen Xiaopang wasn't with her, which made her more scared.

After crying for a long time, she stumbled to run to the road. When seeing a car coming, she imitated to call for help as what had been shown on TV programs. But the person who came out of the car was the clown who had taken her away. Although the person had taken off his wig, the makeup on his face was still there.

Zhao Ying recognized him at once, and ran away with a cry, but she couldn't run faster than the adult and was caught soon.

After the police confirmed her identity, they sent a car to take Zhao Ying back first, and the remainders hustled the kidnappers to rescue the other two children.

"They don't seem to be there." On the side of Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao, the three kidnappers went out after making the phone call. It seemed that they were not in the yard.

It was unknown when Tang Cao took a Swiss Army Knife out of his pocket, "Hurry up to come here!" He asked Chen Xiaopang to reach out and started cutting the rope.

"You even carry a knife with you?" Chen Xiaopang asked stupidly.

"This is a utility knife." Tang Cao showed him, "Sometimes you can use it to eat canned food in the classroom."

Chen Xiaopang said with a face of admiration, "You can even eat canned food in the classroom! Our teacher won't let us do so."

"...Of course the teacher won't let you do so. You just don't let her know it." Tang Cao had cut the rope on Chen Xiaopang's hands open and started cutting the rope on his feet.

"Okay, it's your turn to help me."

Chen Xiaopang used this kind of Army Knife for the first time, which made him a little nervous. He cut the rope a few times without cutting it open.

"...Don't be afraid. You won't cut my hands." Tang Cao thought to himself that this boy was so stupid! But he didn't say so for being afraid that Chen Xiaopang would be too dispirited to cut the ropes open...

Chen Xiaopang breathed heavily and finally cut all the ropes open.

"We are really cool!" He was a little excited.

Tang Cao rolled his eyes to remind him, "We are kidnapped now, and there are kidnappers outside!"

"Yes, yes, yes..." Chen Xiaopang heard him mention kidnapping and wanted to cry again.

Tang Cao had run to the edge of the window to observe and found that they were in a yard, the kind of country yard. He didn't see any kidnapper, but there was a big yellow dog tied near the door, which looked particularly fierce.

"Nobody is here!" Chen Xiaopang also lay prone over, and said happily when he found no one, "Let's run away quickly."

When saying so, he rushed out of the room to the gate of the courtyard. Tang Cao wanted to say that there was no kidnappers but a dog, but Chen Xiaopang had already run out. He had to catch up, but didn't dare to shout. Fortunately, the fat boy was not stupid, who stopped after seeing the dog.

"It must be left to watch us by the bad guys." Chen Xiaopang said.

Tang Cao glanced at him as if he talked nonsense, "You see, it's drooling all the time and definitely wants to bite us. You... What are you doing?"

Chen Xiaopang slowly moved towards the dog step by step, Tang Cao tried to grab him... But he failed.

"Dog, let me take you away!" Chen Xiaopang squatted in front of the big yellow dog, "How about going to my house for delicious food?"

Tang Cao was considering whether to run without him, who was obviously a weak teammate.

"Do you think it can understand what you say?"

As soon as he finished saying so, he saw the big yellow dog stand up and start biting the rope on its legs.

"Give me the knife!" Chen Xiaopang said excitedly, "It has agreed!"

Tang Cao thought blankly, "Who am I? Where am I?"

Yu came out of the latrine, pulling up his trousers, "Damn! It must be the pie bought by Dazhu in the morning that is not clean. I have had loose bowels for several times today..." He mumbled and walked towards the yard without worrying.

The big yellow dog was a wild dog they caught, which had been hungry for three days. Even a mouse passing by, it would be caught and ate, let alone the two little children were still tied!

His mind was full of the money of 60 million yuan, imagining how to spend it in the future. When he lifted his foot into the courtyard door, he was stunned.

Where was the dog?

The sky in the countryside was really blue and the sunlight was very warm. The valley and the forests still kept the most original look, lush and green. If it hadn't been for the kidnapping, it was definitely a good place for an outing.

Having run out, they found out that the house was actually under a high cliff. No wonder the surrounding area was so deserted and they didn't see other people's houses.

At this moment, Tang Cao saw the man enter the yard, and soon come out again.

He quickly pulled Chen Xiaopang to hide in the grass next to them.

Chen Xiaopang squatted and pressed the yellow dog's ass. He said nervously, "Don't bark. Do you know?"

Tang Cao stared at the dog and saw the dog lie prone obediently, hiding its tail under its belly.

"..." What else could he say!?

There was one feeling. Ah! Finally there was a reliable companion.

At this time, they could already hear the man's voice, "Hey? Have you two found that little girl? Why are you so slow?"

"You've found her! That's good."

"Come back soon. The two boys are gone."

"How could I know the reason? I went to sh*t and found them disappear, and the dog you caught was also gone."

"You said that dogs would look after the house. But now you see, the children are gone."

"I'm looking for those two boys now. There are barren mountains all around. They can't run far."

Tang Cao and Chen Xiaopang covered their mouths and heard that the voice was getting farther and farther. The man walked towards the other side.

As soon as he left, the two children hurriedly ran. The place was very close to the yard, and that person would find them soon after looking around.

Two children and a dog ran fast. The dog followed them to run in the beginning, but later they followed the dog to run.

“It... Where is it taking us?” Tang Cao asked breathlessly.

Chen Xiaopang was even more breathless than he is. He had never run so fast in his life earlier, “No... I don’t know...”

“No... We have to climb that mountain, don’t we?” Tang Cao had a look. If they kept running this way, they would have to climb over the mountain.

“Climb... Climb over the mountain...” Chen Xiaopang sat down and stopped running, “I can’t. I can’t climb it over.”

Tang Cao nodded and also sat down, “I can’t, either.”

The dog probably noticed that they didn’t keep up, and ran back again. It first rubbed against the trousers legs of the two children, and then bit their trousers legs to drag.

“We can’t climb over the mountain, because it’s too high.” Tang Cao pointed and said, “Run by yourself! Run to the place where there are people, and then come back to save us.”

He had already firmly believed that the dog was a good companion, and was very serious to explain to it.

“Woo woo woo...” The dog whined several times and ran away. It ran to a place where was not far away to start digging, and barked at them.

Chen Xiaopang was extremely scared, and he ran to hug the dog’s head, ignoring his own tiredness, “Don’t bark. Don’t bark, in case attract the bad guys over!” Then he looked down, “Ah! Tang Cao, come here. There is a hole here.”

Zhao Ying met Chen Qing and Wang Cailian who rushed over on the way.

Wang Cailian rushed out of the car and ran to hug her tightly, “Ying, are you all right? Are you all right?”

She touched Zhao Ying all over her body to make sure that Zhao Ying was all right. And then she hugged her tightly and burst into a rage of tears, "That is OK if you have no trouble! If you have any trouble, how can I explain to your mother? Ah ah ah..."

"Auntie, I'm fine." Zhao Ying also cried, "But... But Brother Xiaopang is missing."

Chen Qing also wiped his tears, "I'll send you back to our house first, and then I'll go to look for Xiaopang with them. You'd better make something delicious for Ying. She must be frightened."

"But Brother Xiaopang..." Zhao Ying sobbed and said, "He... He was taken away by the bad guys."

"Don't the police uncles find you? The bad guys have also been caught. The police are going to save Xiaopang now." Chen Qing patted his wife, "Come on. Let's go back first."

The two children followed the big yellow dog into the hole. Fortunately their sizes were small. If an adult was here, he couldn't get into it.

"What a long hole!" After crawling for a long time, they hadn't crawled out yet. It was dark inside, so Chen Xiaopang began to be scared.

Tang Cao was also scared. He was afraid that there might be snakes or beasts in the hole. Fortunately, there was nothing dangerous, and finally they saw the light in front. After crawling out of the cave, they found that they seemed to be on the other side of the mountain, and there was a dense forest in front.

The two children stopped.

"We don't know how big the forest is. What if we enter and can't get out?" Chen Xiaopang said, "Isn't it often dangerous in the forest on TV programs?"

Tang Cao knew it of course, "But what if we don't go in and the person comes to look for us in a while..."

The two looked at each other, and finally Tang Cao squatted down and held the big yellow dog's head, "Big Yellow, you have to remember the way! We all rely on you."

“Woof!” Big Yellow barked.

Chen Xiaopang leaned in and said, “Look at its eyes, I feel Big Yellow is very reliable.”

“...” Tang Cao stood up, “Let’s go.”

No one, including Big Yellow, had any objection to the name Big Yellow. As if the dog was born to be called Big Yellow...

They began to run deep into the forest hand in hand, with Big Yellow leading the way in front. Soon they found a cave.

“Let’s hide inside it!” Chen Xiaopang was physically tired and couldn’t run anymore, so he suggested.

Tang Cao looked at it and thought it would work, mainly because he was also tired and couldn’t run anymore.

“We shall hide inside it and wait for the police uncles to look for us!”

According to Tang Cao’s idea, the people who would come to find them must be very noisy with great fanfare, and they could hear it even if they hid here.

Chapter 403 Childhood Sweetheart 10

The two children found that the cave was quite clean, and they picked up a pile of leaves to spread on the floor and sit down.

Big Yellow whimpered, and used its head to rub against Chen Xiaopang’s hand.

Tang Cao looked at it, “It seems to be very uncomfortable.”

“Is the rope around its neck making it uncomfortable?” Chen Xiaopang touched the rope around Big Yellow’s neck, which was tied a knot tightly.

Tang Cao took out his all-purpose Army Knife, “I’ll cut it open for Big Yellow!”

“Woof woof woof!” As soon as the rope was untied, Big Yellow skipped a few times, looking very happy.

Dogs were different from people. They could not cheat. They would show their emotions very intuitively. Probably because of appreciating the help of Tang Cao and Chen Xiaopang to save its life, Big Yellow ran to the entrance of the cave and glanced at the two little boys again. It barked before running away.

“...Is it gone?” Chen Xiaopang was stunned.

Wasn't it a little mate to escape with them? Why did it leave as soon as it was freed?

“It's not like that.” Tang Cao wanted to say that Big Yellow was more reliable than you, but he was afraid that Chen Xiaopang would cry and changed the saying, “Maybe it goes out for a walk! Dogs like to run. I don't know how long it has been chained by those bad guys. It must specially want to run.”

“Hmm!” Chen Xiaopang thought Tang Cao to be smart, and everything Tang Cao said was right.

Yu looked for the children around. Not to mention the two children, he even didn't find the rural dog. He scolded and returned to the front of the yard, thinking that he would go to look for them together with his companions, because the children meant 40 million and they must be found!

“I don't believe that they can run out of this mountain.” Yu spat and extinguished the cigarette, seeing a car driving along the mountain road in a distance.

Before the car parked well, Yu came close, ready to scold. But he suddenly saw that there were three more strangers in the car. He reacted quickly and ran away immediately, but unfortunately he couldn't run faster than the police dog.

“Ah ah ah...” Yu seemed to be very afraid of the dog and started screaming after being bitten by the police dog.

The police overpowered him soon, and then the three kidnapers squatted to the corner with handcuffs.

“Captain, there are no children in it.” Several police officers had rushed in to look for the children earlier, but found nobody inside.

Two commercial cars parked over. Chen Qing ran out of the first car and asked, “Where are the children?”

“They are not inside.” The captain frowned frantically, “Interrogate them. Pry out children’s whereabouts from the mouths of the three!”

Bai Susu and Tang Yao got out of the other car and knew that there was something wrong when they saw no children.

“They said that the children ran away by themselves.” The captain was uncertain what expression he should have. According to Yu’s words, the dog had rescued the two children out? How could this be possible...?

“My son has a multifunctional Swiss tool knife.” Bai Susu said, “They should have cut the rope by themselves and run while nobody guarded.”

Tang Yao added aside, “They should have taken the dog away handily.”

“Is there any other road to get down the mountain?” The policeman kicked the kidnappers. Yu said with a sad face, “There is no other road except the one you come up.”

The police were divided into two teams. One team took the three kidnappers back to the police station, and the other went to the local fellow-villagers to prepare for looking for the two children in the mountain.

“I’ll go, too!” Chen Qing followed the captain closely. The captain glanced at him and estimated that Chen Qing wouldn’t be stopped, so he asked another police officer to keep an eye on Chen Qing, in case the adult got lost, besides not finding the children.

As for Bai Susu, Tang Yao refused to let her go, and he followed the police with a few bodyguards.

At this time, Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao, who were hiding in the cave, felt that they had waited for a long time. Not to mention that they didn’t see anyone to arrive, even Big Yellow didn’t come back.

“Big Yellow is not a good dog!” Chen Xiaopang took a tree branch and waved at the entrance of the cave. He waved and wept, “It... It’s too bad. We’ve agreed to escape together and I will take it home to eat delicious food.”

It didn’t agree with you on that. You had been saying it yourself, hadn’t you?

Tang Cao sighed. He was trying to comfort his teammate but heard some rustling sound from outside.

“Oh my god!” Chen Xiaopang ran back in shock, and the two children stared nervously at the cave entrance. A dog’s head popped up a few seconds later.

Tang Cao and Chen Xiaopang were speechless.

Chen Xiaopang took a look and shouted, “Sweet potatoes!”

“What’s this?” Tang Cao frowned as he looked at a couple of mud lumps hanging on a string of rhizome on the ground, “Sweet potatoes? Are you sure?”

Chen Xiaopang touched them a few times and confirmed, “These are the sweet potatoes, which are the same as those grown in my grandparents’ fields.”

“So Big Yellow went to find us something to eat.” Tang Cao patted the dog’s head, “Good job. When I go back, I will reward you with big sausages!”

Big Yellow happily turned two laps, and got down to stay still between the two.

“It must be very tired.” Chen Xiaopang touched Big Yellow, and then watched the few muddy sweet potatoes to worry, “The sweet potatoes can be eaten raw, but they are so dirty. How can we eat?”

Tang Cao thought about it, “Let’s go out and find out if there is water.”

“We are up in the mountain. How can we find water?” Chen Xiaopang thought it to be impossible.

Big Yellow that lay prone there suddenly stood up and barked, and then ran out again.

“Hurry up!” Tang Cao picked up the sweet potatoes on the ground, “We should follow it.”

It turned out that there was a ramshackle house not far from the cave. It should no longer be called a house, because there was only one side of the four walls left, which was actually only a half wall.

There were also a few broken stool legs and a jar which had been broken into pieces.

“This can be used to get water!” Chen Xiaopang offered a rare suggestion. He picked up the largest piece, which was as large as a washbasin.

Tang Cao held the sweet potatoes and said, “Well, now we only have to find water and we can eat.”

Led by Big Yellow, they climbed over another small hillside. There was a small puddle on the back of the hillside, and the water flowed down from the stone wall of the hill. The flow was not big. But over the years, a puddle whose size was of half a human being had also been formed.

“Wash the sweet potatoes! Wash the sweet potatoes!” Chen Xiaopang threw the sweet potatoes into it happily. Tang Cao washed more carefully than Chen Xiaopang did and washed them clean.

Having seen those sweet potatoes washed by Chen Xiaopang be like not being washed, Tang Cao took and washed them again.

“Okay, you hold the sweet potatoes, and I’ll carry the water.” Tang Cao used the broken jar piece to take water.

Chen Xiaopang glanced at it and said, “It’s so dirty that we can’t drink it, can we?”

“...What if the police won’t find us when it is dark and we are thirsty?” Tang Cao still carried the water back.

Of course, he didn’t want to drink it. He thought that even if they were slow, the police could find them before it was dark.

There were five big sweet potatoes. The two children chewed one per person and gave Big Yellow one.

The sweet potatoes tasted crisp and very sweet.

Chen Xiaopang had eaten it before, so he didn't feel it delicious.

Tang Cao tasted it carefully, and felt that it was a bit like a pear when he chewed, but it didn't taste as good as a pear, for it was less watery, and less sweet...

However, when he saw Chen Xiaopang chew it with relish, he felt it to get delicious.

"Oh!" Chen Xiaopang hiccupped, "My grandma said that this was not easy to digest, but it could make people feel full."

Tang Cao rubbed his belly. Indeed, he was not hungry at all.

Two children and the dog sat idly in the cave. It was unknown when they all fell asleep. The temperature in October was not high, let alone in a cave like this. Soon the two children started shaking, but they were too tired and continued to sleep while shaking.

"Woo woo woo..." Big Yellow licked their faces a few times, and then lay prone on the two.

Dog's hairy fur was a natural warming material. Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao instinctively leaned towards the heat source. At last the two children hugged Big Yellow tightly. Big Yellow shook its tail and also closed its eyes.

The adults searched along the mountain road, and the police dog ran in front. The local fellow-villager had been paid a thousand yuan by Chen Qing, so he was particularly exerting to his utmost to guide the way.

"It stands to reason that children running along the road will definitely reach the side of the cliff, because the other side will also go up!" The fellow-villager said, "But... They ran really fast."

Chen Qing had no time to care about the dirt on his body. He wiped his sweat and asked, "Are you sure this is the right path?"

"Oh, I've said that the other way is to climb over the mountain. Not to mention the two children, we will be unbearable to climb over it."

The police also felt that there was something wrong. The police dog hadn't responded after walking so long. These two kids couldn't have run so quickly...

"We need to hurry up!" The fellow-villager suddenly said, "It's going to rain."

"Xiaopang! Xiaopang, wake up soon!" Chen Xiaopang was drooling and dreaming of eating a lobster but was woken up.

He drowsily called, "Mom, where is my lobster?"

"...Your lobster is in the sea." Tang Cao pinched his face, "Don't even think about eating. It's raining outside!"

Chen Xiaopang looked at the heavy rain outside. The whole mountain forest became to be in a green mist, which looked like a fairyland, very beautiful.

"If it keeps raining so heavily, I don't know when the police will find us." Tang Cao said somewhat listlessly.

Chen Xiaopang turned his head and looked at him. The pretty kid who had appeared to be a graceful young child in the school at ordinary times was very dirty all over, with sweet potato skin on his hair. He found that Tang Cao's eyes were red, apparently about to cry.

"Don't be afraid!" Chen Xiaopang wasn't afraid instead at this moment, "You think! If the police can't find us, the bad guys can't find us, either!"

Tang Cao glanced at him, "If the police start looking for us, the bad guys must have been caught."

"That will be better!" Chen Xiaopang was completely at ease, "We just regard it as camping and we shall wait for the adults to pick us up."

Tang Cao thought about it and also thought so.

So the two children were inexplicably excited and felt that they could do whatever they wanted without any adult supervision. Of course, they had nothing to do...

"Let's get to know each other!" Tang Cao said, "When we go back, we will be good brothers."

After all, they had experienced life and death together, and the two children had recognized that they had already become brothers to each other.

“Let me say it first!” Tang Cao cleared his throat and said solemnly, “You must know my family, so I won’t say much. I will mainly introduce my sister to you. My sister is the first beauty of Yanjing, who is very beautiful! Super beautiful!”

Chen Xiaopang said, “I think that my sister is also pretty, but she is only five years old. When she grows up, she will compete with your sister then!”

“She must be inferior to my elder sister! None of the stars are as good-looking as my elder sister.”

“Really? Then how old is your elder sister?”

“My elder sister is 12!”

Chen Xiaopang thought that Tang Cao might have had some misunderstanding of the concept of beautiful women. What kind of beautiful woman could a 12-year-old girl count? Zhao Ying must be more beautiful.

“My elder sister is good-looking!”

“My younger sister is good-looking!”

“My sister and I both are good-looking!”

Chen Xiaopang thought, “I was defeated. How unhappy I was!”

Chapter 404 Childhood Sweetheart 11

The rain was getting heavier and the sky was getting darker. It was very difficult for the search party to work. The police dog was almost trapped in the muddy mountain road. It took a lot of effort to walk every step.

“Mr. Tang, Mr. Chen, go back first. I’ll go on with my brothers.” The team leader shouted, “Don’t worry! We won’t go down the mountain until we find the children.”

Chen Qing helped Tang Yao, “Tang Yao, you go down first. I will go on.”

Not only the children but also the two adults established revolutionary friendship along the way. Tang Yao was several years older than Chen Qing so he became Chen Qing's elder brother.

"I'm fine!" Tang Yao wiped his face, "Go. Don't waste time."

The fellow townsman didn't complain. He collected money and looked for children. He still worked hard to identify the direction. But he came up with an idea.

"I think the children may not be on this road."

"Isn't there only one way?"

The fellow townsman said, "We can't go any further. There is only one way. But we haven't found the children after such a long walk. It must be a problem!"

"Yes!" The team leader thought for a moment and said, "We can't go on like this. Go back. Go to the other side."

Chen Qing was a little hesitant, "But the other side is a cliff. The children can't go up there!"

"Maybe there's a way we don't know." The team leader said, "We'll get to the road if we go down like this. If the children are in front of us, we'll have seen them but we haven't received any news."

In the end, they decided to go to the cliff side. It's faster to return. After returning to the yard, they had a rest and mainly fed the police dog. Then they went on to the other side. Bai Susu was waiting in the car.

"Don't worry! Tang Cao is sure to be all right." Tang Yao comforted her but Bai Susu smiled, "Well, I know. He must be waiting for you to find him!"

In the cave, Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao held Big Yellow in the middle. Their lips were blue and they were trembling all over.

"Tang Cao, do you think we'll freeze to death before we can wait for anyone?" Chen Xiaopang said with a shudder.

Tang Cao also shivered and he said, "Don't... Don't talk nonsense. We... We won't die."

“But it’s dark. No one has come yet.” Chen Xiaopang cried, “Does my father think there are too many ransoms for me? So he doesn’t want to save me.”

Tang Cao was stunned for a moment and then he said, “Don’t worry! Even if your father has no money, my family has. My mother will certainly redeem you.”

“When will they come to pick us up?” Chen Xiaopang’s voice became much smaller. He was a bit dizzy.

Big Yellow suddenly barked, which made him wake up.

“We can’t sleep. We’ll get sick if we fall asleep!” Tang Cao stood up and said, “Let’s run!”

Big Yellow also followed Tang Cao. Chen Xiaopang didn’t want to move. But without Big Yellow, he couldn’t stand the cold. So he had to run with them. After running for a while, they felt that it was not so cold, so they began to walk around the cave.

But they are children. It’s getting darker and they were also getting sleepier and sleepier. They held Big Yellow and fell asleep again. Chen Xiaopang felt so cold that he couldn’t help crying.

Chen Xiaopang suddenly heard Zhao Ying’s voice, “Xiaopang! Look, what is this?”

“It is a quilt!” Chen Xiaopang saw Zhao Ying standing in front with a quilt in her arms. He jumped up happily.

He hurried over but Zhao Ying kept going back. Every time he almost touched the quilt, Zhao Ying went away again.

“Don’t move!” Chen Xiaopang was in a hurry and shouted, “Why are you so bad? I’m going to die of cold.”

Zhao Ying, however, didn’t seem to hear him. She asked him again.

“Xiaopang! Look, what is this?”

Chen Xiaopang was angry, “Zhao Ying, if you don’t give me, I won’t play with you.”

“Then you come and get it!” Zhao Ying waved to him.

Chen Xiaopang rushed over. Zhao Ying didn’t run this time. He finally touched the quilt.

It was soft and thick! Chen Xiaopang got into it and then he suddenly thought of Tang Cao.

“Tang Cao! Where are you, Tang Cao?” He got out of the quilt and said, “Come on. I have a quilt!”

“Chen Xiaopang? Chen Xiaopang, wake up!” When Tang Cao woke up, he found that Chen Xiaopang was burning all over. He had a fever.

Chen Xiaopang opened his eyes in a daze. Seeing Tang Cao, he grinned, “Tang... Tang Cao, I have a quilt here.”

“You are dreaming!” Tang Cao was anxious, “What should I do? You have a fever.”

Chen Xiaopang looked around. They were still in the cave. Big Yellow was lying by.

“I... I have a fever?” He moved his head and found that he was dizzy and had no strength at all. He was particularly uncomfortable.

“Wait a minute!” Tang Cao, holding the water tank piece he brought back yesterday, ran to the entrance of the cave to pick up the rain. After a while, he ran over, “Drink water.”

Chen Xiaopang looked at it and the rain looked clean. He held the water tank piece, took several sips and handed it to Tang Cao, “You drink too.”

“It’s almost dawn.” Tang Cao looked out after drinking. The rain was much smaller than last night. It seemed that it would stop soon.

Big Yellow suddenly stood up and shouted. Then it ran out of the cave.

“Does it help us find sweet potatoes again?” Chen Xiaopang said weakly. Looking at the two sweet potatoes left in the corner yesterday, he said, “Don’t you tell him there were still some here?”

Tang Cao wanted to say that Big Yellow was not blind. It could see.

“It may have gone to the bathroom.”

After listening, Chen Xiaopang was silent for a few seconds. Tang Cao thought he was uncomfortable. He looked at Chen Xiaopang nervously.

“I want to go to the bathroom, too.” Chen Xiaopang stood up shakily.

Tang Cao gave him a hand, “Then you stand at the entrance of the cave and pee outside. Don’t go out.”

“Don’t you pee?” Chen Xiaopang thought that Tang Cao hadn’t peed for a long time.

Tang Cao felt it and said, “Then I’ll pee too!”

So they stood at the entrance of the cave and peed outside. They even competed who peed far together. They had been holding it all night and still had a lot of urine. When they peed, they suddenly heard the barking of Big Yellow.

“What happened to Big Yellow?” Chen Xiaopang stood on tiptoe to look. The rain was much smaller at this time and his sight was very clear.

But there were so many trees that he couldn’t see anything.

They heard the barking again.

Big Yellow kept barking.

No! They picked up their trousers. How could there seem to be two dogs?

“Big Yellow must have been bullied by other dogs!” Chen Xiaopang didn’t care about his dizziness. He wanted to rush out.

Tang Cao grabbed him, “What are you doing out there? You can’t beat a dog.”

He pulled Chen Xiaopang back to the cave, “Let’s hide. If other dogs find us, Big Yellow will protect us and be distracted.”

Chen Xiaopang just wanted to say okay but he heard something.

“Xiaopang! Tang Cao!”

They stood up at once. Chen Xiaopang even jumped twice, "It's my father! It's my father's voice!"

The search team made a big circle and spent most of the night turning over to the other side of the cliff. The police dog was exhausted. When everyone was resting in place, they suddenly heard the dog barking.

"Why does this dog still have the strength to bark?" Chen Qing asked. After a night of searching, he looked pale.

But the team leader stood up suddenly, "It's not our dog!"

"Listen, where's the dog barking?" Tang Yao said in a hurry.

A policeman touched the police dog's head. The police dog stood up and shouted in one direction, then lay down again. Everyone hurried in that direction, ran for a while and saw a big yellow dog.

"Is this the dog that the children take away?" Chen Qing shouted excitedly.

The dog stopped when it saw them. It barked at them and shook its head.

"It must be!" The team leader said cheerfully, "It's telling us to go with it."

So they followed the yellow dog over a hill and found the cave.

"Xiaopang! Tang Cao!" Chen Qing shouted.

In the cave, the two children excitedly prepared to go out. They saw a group of people appear in the cave.

"Dad! Dad!" Chen Xiaopang jumped.

Tang Yao also saw Tang Cao and almost cried.

A group of people looked at the two children covered in mud. They both carried a sweet potato.

Chen Qing and Tang Yao were going to cry, Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao were also very happy, but they haven't reached the point of crying with joy. After all, in addition to their poor food, they had a very happy life in this process.

Adults were going to carry them.

Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao still thought of Big Yellow.

“Big Yellow, come home with me!” Chen Xiaopang held Big Yellow’s head, “I promise you. You can eat whatever you want!”

As a result, the bodyguards of the Tang Family held the two children. Someone held Big Yellow. Chen Qing held two sweet potatoes

“They were brought back by Big Yellow’s hard work. I’ll take them back to my mother and Zhao Ying for a taste.” Chen Xiaopang said.

A group of people went back. They came down the mountain.

“Mrs. Tang, Young Master has been found!” Seeing them, the bodyguard at the foot of the mountain rushed back to report.

Bai Susu sat in the car all night. She nearly stood unsteadily when she got off. When she saw that Tang Cao was safe on the bodyguard’s back, she was relieved. She held out her hands in tears.

“Mom!” Tang Cao rushed into her arms.

Tang Cao also smiled, “Mom, I’m all right! I’ll introduce my brother to you, Xiaopang! Xiaopang, you come quickly.”

Chen Qing found that Chen Xiaopang had a fever, so he dared not to delay. He made an appointment with the Tang Family for the next visit and then he drove to the hospital in a hurry. He called home on the way. Wang Cailian put down the phone and cried.

“They found Xiaopang!” She picked up Zhao Ying with tears and smiled.

Zhao Ying kept crying since she came back. Her face was covered with tears.

“Well, your uncle said that Xiaopang had a fever. I’ll make some food. You go upstairs to change your clothes and we’ll go to the hospital!”

After arriving at the hospital, Wang Cailian knew that Xiaopang was not suffering from fever. He had pneumonia.

“The doctor said he had pneumonia because of coldness.” Seeing his son sit on the hospital bed and eat greedily, he was relieved.

Chen Qing has only a son. If something happens to Xiaopang, his father will probably beat him to death.

Chapter 405 Childhood Sweetheart 12

“Go back quickly!” Wang Cailian saw that Chen Qing was dirty all over.

Chen Xiaopang just washed his head in the bathroom. He dared not to take a bath for fear of catching a cold again. Chen Qing was the dirtiest. He just put his shoes at the door of the ward and dared not to wear them in.

“Oh, Big Yellow...”

“Take it back and keep it.” Wang Cailian took a look at him, “I don’t like dogs but I can’t drive my son’s benefactor out.”

Before Chen Xiaopang could swallow the soup, he shouted, “Big... Big Yellow! I managed to snatch it from Tang Cao. He wants to keep it too!”

“When you get well, you can see your dog.”

Chen Qing yawned and left. At noon, Chen Xiaopang’s fever was gone. He said that he wanted to go home.

“I’ll take you back if you don’t have a fever at night.” Wang Cailian lied to him. The doctor said that Xiaopang’s inflammation index was very high and he could not get rid of the fever for a day or two.

In the afternoon, Chen Qing came again. He was clean but he was flustered.

“Darling, I’m screwed! Dad and Mom are coming.”

Wang Cailian was watching two children play checkers. She thought she heard it wrong, “What are you saying? Who’s coming?”

“Our parents!”

Wang Cailian's parents died when she was very young. She was brought up by her uncle and aunt. So her father-in-law and mother-in-law, that is, Chen Xiaopang's grandparents were coming.

"Are my grandparents coming?" Chen Xiaopang asked happily.

Chen Qing sighed, "They are probably already on the plane."

"Do they know what happened to Xiaopang?" Wang Cailian frowned.

They had always been frugal. They thought that the plane was unsafe. But they even came by plane this time. They must know something happened to Xiaopang.

"The housemaid said something!"

In the morning, when the housemaid was cleaning the house, Xiaopang's grandpa called. The housemaid said something about Xiaopang, so Xiaopang's grandpa was anxious. When Chen Qing received the call, they were already at the airport.

"Zhao Ying, my grandparents are coming!" Chen Xiaopang didn't know that his father was already in a mess. He said to Zhao Ying happily, "They must have brought me sticky bean buns and sausages. They are delicious!"

Zhao Ying nodded at once, "Then you should get better soon, or Aunt won't let you eat."

In the evening, Chen Xiaopang began to have a fever again. The doctor prescribed the medicine. Chen Xiaopang fell asleep in a daze after eating. Chen Qing went to the airport to meet his parents with Zhao Ying.

"When you go to bed at night, remember to see Ying." Wang Cailian said when they left.

She wanted to accompany Xiaopang in the hospital, but she couldn't let Zhao Ying stay. She wanted Zhao Ying to go to school tomorrow, but Zhao Ying didn't want to. She wanted to come to the hospital to accompany Xiaopang.

When Chen Qing and Zhao Ying picked Xiaopang's grandparents up, Grandpa said.

"Where's my grandson?"

Then he continued to say.

“Why didn’t you get kidnapped?”

Chen Qing is speechless.

“Is this Ying?” Grandma smiled and pulled Zhao Ying, “The last time I saw you, you were so small. Then your family moved to the city. We have not seen for a long time.”

Zhao Ying greeted politely, “Hello, Grandpa and Grandma!”

Zhao Ying continued to say, “Don’t worry, Grandma. Xiaopang is all right. But he has a fever and can’t go home yet!”

“Hum!” Of course, they knew. Chen Qing had made it clear on the phone.

Chen Qing laughed, “Let’s go home first. I’ll take you to the hospital tomorrow morning.”

“I’m going now!” Grandpa said.

“Dad, it’s not time to visit. The hospital is closed.” Chen Qing advised him, “Besides, what are you going to do now? Xiaopang is sleeping. Are you going to wake him up?”

Grandma took Zhao Ying and walked away, saying, “I’m not messing around with you. I’m going back to make something delicious for Xiaopang...”

“Dad?”

Grandpa glared at Chen Qing and said, “Do you want to stay here?”

If it weren’t for Zhao Ying, Grandpa would have scolded Chen Qing to death along the way. After returning home, Zhao Ying took a bath in the room. Grandpa picked up his slippers and beat Chen Qing. Chen Qing ran around the house but he dared not to shout.

“What did I say?” Grandpa was tired. So he sat on the sofa and scolded, “Yanjing is so big. There are all kinds of people. They even kidnapped my grandson!”

Chen Qing said weakly, “Dad, what they wanted to kidnap is the child of the Tang Family. We haven’t been into the eyes of those kidnappers!”

“What do you mean? Do you want them to pay attention to you?” Grandpa smashed his slippers on Chen Qing’s head, “Apart from money, what do you have?”

“Dad, don’t say that!” Chen Qing sent the slippers to the old man, “It’s really an accident this time. Those kidnappers were not professional...”

The old man interrupted him, “What? Are there any part-time kidnappers now?”

“I mean, they used to be farmers in the country. They steal because they are lazy. They see that people who kidnap children from rich families can make a lot of money in the movies, so they also kidnap others.”

Those were what the police told Chen Qing. They interrogated the three kidnappers. They all had criminal records, but the most serious was stealing electric cars. This time they wanted to make a lot of money. They thought it’s the safest to kidnap children from rich families.

They saw Tang Cao on TV. It was the activity of Caesar. Seeing someone on the Internet commenting on Tang Cao’s identity background, they recorded it. They found an opportunity to kidnap Tang Cao, but Chen Xiaopang ran into it unluckily and was taken away together...

“Because of this, they were inexperienced and soon discovered.” Chen Qing said, “If it weren’t for your grandson’s own ability to run away, we would have brought him back earlier.”

Grandpa was angry again, “My grandson is smart and knows how to help himself! If you are kidnapped, you must be stupid and cry there.”

Chen Qing hummed twice. The old man looked at him, “Don’t pretend to be okay. I’m going to take Xiaopang back this time. You say the countryside is not good. OK! Then you can buy a house in our city. Your family can live in the city by then.”

“Dad... Stop talking that!” Chen Qing frowned, “Is this such a simple thing? Why don’t you ask Xiaopang?”

The old man ignored him and saw a yellow dog running down the stairs.

“Is this the dog that saved my grandson?”

Chen Qing saw that the clean dog who had eaten a big can and slept as soon as it came home ran to the old man in full swing.

Big Yellow sat down and tilted its head.

Then it barked.

“How obedient it is!” The old man’s eyes brightened. He touched the dog’s head and praised, “You are a good dog!”

Big Yellow whined twice coquettishly.

Then he barked at Chen Qing.

Big Yellow kept barking.

Chen Qing is speechless.

“What did you do to it?” The old man asked.

Was it because he took it to the pet hospital for physical examination and injection? Chen Qing thought it’s wrong. It’s very friendly to him in the afternoon...

Big Yellow continued to bark. Seeing that Chen Qing didn’t move, it stood up and ran to the cupboard door near the kitchen.

Chen Qing understood that it was hungry.

There were cans and dog food in the cupboard. Chen Qing bought the most expensive ones.

“It’s smart!” Seeing Big Yellow begin to eat cans, Grandpa praised, “It is smarter than that the big yellow dog in our village.”

After eating, Big Yellow ran to the door and continued to bark at Chen Qing.

“It’s going to pee.” The old man stood up and said, “I’ll go!”

Chen Qing was busy bringing the tow rope to Big Yellow. He persuaded, "Dad, it's so late. Let me go. You don't know the way. You can't find your way home."

"Here are just a few big houses. How can I not find it?" The old man shouted, "Give it to me! I'll go."

"Shall I go with you?" Chen Qing handed the rope to his father.

The old man glared at him, "I don't want to go with you."

"Dad..." Chen Qing didn't know whether to cry or to laugh, "It's the first time for Big Yellow to go out. I have to follow. You can go by yourself tomorrow, okay?"

Grandma waited for Zhao Ying to fall asleep and then went downstairs. She saw Chen Qing and his father go out with a dog. She went to the kitchen to soak the pickles and prepare the flour. She planned to make dumplings for Xiaopang tomorrow morning.

About half an hour later, she heard the barking of dogs and the scolding of the old man outside.

"Dad, are you okay?" Chen Qing's face turned pale with fear and chased the old man in.

Grandpa with a red face shouted to Grandma who came out of the kitchen, "Give Big Yellow a big bone we brought!"

Big Yellow barked and went around Grandpa two times to show thanks.

Grandma saw Chen Qing sweating and asked him to take a bath and change clothes, "Didn't you go to walk the dog? Why is it like a war?"

"It's really a war!" Chen Qing ran upstairs, "Wait for me, and I'll talk to you later."

When he had cleaned himself up and went downstairs, his father had finished.

Specifically, when they walked their dog, they met a Husky without a dog rope. Grandpa had never seen such a dog! At a glance, he thought it was a wolf. He was scared.

Chen Qing told him the dog's name was Husky and it could pull a sled. Grandpa wanted to have a close look. But Husky suddenly barked at him crazily. The stupid master of Husky was still laughing and saying that his dog was good and wouldn't bite others.

As a result, the stupid dog opened his mouth and bit its master first. Then the master screamed and ran away. The dog turned its head and tried to bite his father. Chen Qing hurried up to catch it. Before he could act, Big Yellow had rushed up.

The two dogs bit each other. Husky limped away.

"Big Yellow is better than you!" The old man touched the dog's head and said, "It is our benefactor!"

Chen Qing's mouth twitched and he said, "Dad, who can consider a dog a benefactor?"

"Why not?" The old man shouted, "It saved my grandson. It just saved you and me. It's really our benefactor!"

Big Yellow was regarded as the benefactor of the Chen Family, so it didn't sleep in the kennel prepared by Chen Qing downstairs at night. It swaggered into the bedroom with the old man and slept at the end of their bed.

In the morning, Grandpa and Grandma got up before dawn. Grandpa went to walk the dog and Grandma went to chop dumpling stuffing. When Chen Qing yawned and went downstairs, he saw Zhao Ying stand on a stool and learn to make dumplings with his mother.

Chapter 406 Childhood Sweetheart 13

"Good morning, Uncle!" Zhao Ying raised her hand to say hello and put the flour on her face unconsciously.

Chen Qing took the towel and wiped her face, "Why did you get up so early?"

"I'm going to the hospital to send dumplings to Xiaopang later." Zhao Ying wiped her face obediently and tried to make dumplings again.

Grandma praised her, "You are better than your uncle."

"Has my father walked the dog again?" Chen Qing filled a bowl of millet congee.

Millet was brought by them yesterday. It's golden, soft and tender with a layer of rice oil floating on it.

"He got up after five." Grandma brought a plate of salted vegetables, "If I hadn't stopped him, he would have called you to the hospital."

Chen Qing coughed twice, "We can't be admitted to the ward until seven o'clock!"

Zhao Ying took a look at Chen Qing and wanted to say something. But she was frightened by Chen Qing's eyes. She had to lower her head and didn't say anything.

"Ying..." When his mother came into the kitchen, Chen Qing lowered his voice and said, "Don't let Grandma and Grandpa know that they can go to the hospital at any time, or they will go tomorrow before dawn."

Zhao Ying blinked and also lowered her voice, "Why can't they go so early?"

"Because I can't get up." Chen Qing winked at her.

Zhao Ying was surprised to cover her mouth and she nodded, "I won't say. Uncle can sleep late."

They reached a secret. When Chen Qing finished breakfast, his father came back with Big Yellow.

"Have you finished your breakfast?"

Chen Qing knew what he was going to say. He stood up and put on his coat, "Let's go, Dad. I'll take you to the hospital."

When they got to the hospital, Chen Xiaopang didn't wake up. Wang Cailian took the lunch box in her mother-in-law's hand and said, "Mom, you got up early again, right?"

"I'm used to it." Grandma looked at her daughter-in-law, "How can you look thinner than in the video the other day? Did Chen Qing bully you?"

Chen Qing was aggrieved, “How dare I...”

“Mom, I was worried about Xiaopang.” Wang Cailian helped her to sit down, “When I knew that he was kidnapped, I really wanted to die.”

Grandma said, “Yes! I was scared to death when your father told me.”

They talked and began to wipe tears. Grandpa had been staring at Chen Xiaopang. He also put Xiaopang’s arms and legs out of the quilt to see if there was a wound.

“Xiaopang doesn’t look thin.” Grandpa sat down with satisfaction, “It’s our ancestors’ virtue that Xiaopang could come back safely this time. If this happens again, it will be too late for you to cry.”

Chen Qing secretly winked at Wang Cailian. Wang Cailian understood and said.

“Dad, in fact, Yanjing’s public security is the best.” Wang Cailian said with a smile, “The most important thing is to protect the central leadership, right? Do you see the police all over Chang’an Avenue?”

“We were also involved in this incident. To be honest, the kidnappers don’t care about our family’s money.” Wang Cailian said, “They will kidnap the richer. They won’t kidnap us.”

“But if we go back home, it will be different.” Wang Cailian changed her tone, “If we go back, we should be the richest in the area. If someone wants to kidnap a child, Xiaopang will be the primary target.”

After listening to Wang Cailian, Grandpa was stunned. He even thought it made sense. Then the topic was over. Wang Cailian went to ask her mother-in-law what happened in the hometown this year. How about the cows? How many eggs did hens lay?

“Xiaopang wakes up!” Zhao Ying suddenly shouted.

They went to the bedside at once. Chen Xiaopang looked at them in a daze. After waking up, he crawled out of the quilt and shouted.

“Grandpa! Grandma! When did you come?”

The old man hugged his fat grandson, "Do you want to scare me? Don't run around in the future."

"I'm fine!" Chen Xiaopang said happily, "I've had a good time with Tang Cao."

The old man knew that Tang Cao was the child who got Xiaopang into trouble. He didn't like Tang Cao very much. But he knew he couldn't vent his anger on Tang Cao. He opened the pocket he had brought and took it out as he said.

"Look, these are all for you. Sausages, fried cake..." He took them out and then put them back, "Your mother said you can't eat it now. You can only see. I'll take them home for you. When you get out of the hospital, they are all yours."

Chen Xiaopang's eyes widened, "Grandpa, how can you do this?"

"What's the matter with me?" The old man said cheerfully, "I'm for you."

Then he lowered his voice, "Do you dare to eat? Are you not afraid of your mother beating you?"

"I'm afraid." Chen Xiaopang said sadly.

Wang Cailian gave some fried dried fruit to Zhao Ying. Zhao Ying looked at Chen Xiaopang and put them back, "I'll eat them with Xiaopang together after Xiaopang leaves the hospital!"

"What a lovely child!" Grandma touched Zhao Ying's head and asked her to play with Chen Xiaopang. Then she asked Wang Cailian in a low voice, "How is her mother now?"

"I don't know. We haven't been in touch lately." Wang Cailian sighed, "When she left, she said that her work was not stable and the place was not suitable for a child. I called her a few days ago but no one answered."

Just then, her phone rang. Wang Cailian's eyes brightened when she saw the number.

"Hello, Cong Fei?"

As soon as Zhao Ying heard Cong Fei, she ran over. She stared at Wang Cailian. Next second, her eyes were full of tears.

“Oh, you talk to Ying first! She is going to cry.” Wang Cailian hurried to hand the phone to Zhao Ying. Zhao Ying took it and shouted, “Mom!”

Then she ran to the inside room with the phone in her hands.

“What a coincidence!” Grandma laughed happily.

Wang Cailian saw Chen Xiaopang peering into the inside room.

“What are you looking at?”

Chen Xiaopang immediately took back his sight, “I didn’t see anything!”

Wang Cailian smiled and secretly told Xiaopang’s grandma that Chen Xiaopang must be afraid that Zhao Ying would be picked up by her mother.

Zhao Ying and her mother talked on the phone for half an hour. Then she ran out happily, “Auntie! My mother is coming to pick me up!”

Chen Xiaopang’s toy fell to the ground.

“Where are you going?” He didn’t care about the toys and asked in a hurry.

Zhao Ying thought, “Mi Country?”

“Hello, Cong Fei...” Wang Cailian took the phone.

A few minutes later, she hung up.

“Ying, your mother said that she would come to pick you up in winter vacation, not now!”

Zhao Ying’s eyes were bright and she smiled. She was obviously very happy and she said, “Yes, I know. I’m still very happy. I can celebrate the New Year with my mother. She promised me when she left.”

Cong Fei hadn’t called for so long. Zhao Ying thought her mother had forgotten her. Even sometimes when she saw the children who were abandoned on TV, she was afraid. She was afraid that she would be abandoned by her mother...

“Your mother said that the place where she works for the time being can provide a nice place to live and she can pick you up for the New Year. You’ll come back and go to school after the New Year, because then your mother will change her job.”

Seeing Zhao Ying nodding happily, Wang Cailian felt sad. She asked Cong Fei come back. She could help Cong Fei. But Cong Fei was so stubborn. She must rely on herself.

“What does your mother do?” As soon as Chen Xiaopang heard that Zhao Ying would just leave during the winter vacation and then come back, he was not so uncomfortable.

Zhao Ying said, “My mother is a lawyer! Do you know?”

“What is a lawyer? Is she like a teacher in our school?”

“Of course not. The lawyer is to help the police.” Zhao Ying actually didn’t know what the lawyer is, but her mother told her so. So she told Chen Xiaopang.

Chen Xiaopang was very respectful. For him, as long as something was related to the police, it would be very powerful!

Grandpa and Grandma stayed until the afternoon. Wang Cailian told them not to come tomorrow morning.

“The Tang Family said they would come to see Xiaopang.” She told Chen Qing. Chen Qing was not surprised.

Grandpa was not happy. He thought the boy of the Tang Family had bad luck. Xiaopang got into trouble because of them. Why would they come?

Then Chen Qing said to his father, “Dad, people in the Tang Family are officials. The eldest uncle of the child is likely to be the next...”

He thumbed up.

“Really?” The old man understood at once.

“Yes.”

Grandpa not only didn’t come in the morning, but he didn’t come in the afternoon...

“Xiaopang!” Bai Susu and Tang Yao came in with Tang Cao. Wang Cailian saw several bodyguards behind the door.

Chen Qing pretended to close the door and looked around. Four bodyguards stood at the door like guards...

“Tang Cao!” Knowing that Tang Cao would come, Chen Xiaopang had been waiting for him. Seeing Bai Susu and Tang Yao behind him, he pretended to be polite quickly and called, “Hello, Uncle and Aunt.”

“What a lovely child!” Tang Yao smiled, “He was covered in mud before. I didn’t look at him carefully. Now I think Xiaopang is blessed.”

Wang Cailian and Chen Qing laughed.

They didn’t know what to say.

The members of the Tang Family were like the stars on TV. They were beautiful and handsome. But looked at themselves...

“Sit down, sit down!” Chen Qing reached out to ask them to sit down. Tang Cao sat alone on the bed and talked to Xiaopang.

Bai Susu smiled at Wang Cailian and said, “I know your family’s condition is not bad, so I won’t rush to pay for the medical expenses of the child.”

“Don’t say that.” Wang Cailian also smiled, “This little money is nothing.”

“Well, I understand.” The reason why Bai Susu didn’t pay for medicine was that the Chen Family didn’t need the money. She was afraid that they would think she would just pay for her medical expenses. After all, their son suffered a lot.

But she would pay back.

“I will say it directly.” Bai Susu nodded to Chen Qing, “You can go to the Tang Consortium if you have time. Let’s see if there is anything we can cooperate with.”

Chen Qing was stunned. When he just wanted to say no, Wang Cailian touched his arm. He immediately responded and nodded with a smile, “Oh, yes! When my son leaves the hospital, I’ll go there and then I’ll trouble Mrs. Tang.”

Seeing that he was not in a hurry to go and he would wait for the child to leave the hospital, Bai Susu thought highly of the family. Wang Cailian was a smart woman. She was sharper than Chen Qing in some things...

"Where's your sister?" Tang Cao asked Chen Xiaopang, "I'll see how cute she is."

"She's at home!" Chen Xiaopang asked, "Where is your sister?"

"My sister is abroad..."

Chapter 407 Childhood Sweetheart 14

"I'll show you a photo of my sister!" Tang Cao turned on his phone, "Look, is she beautiful?"

Chen Xiaopang looked at the girl in the phone. She was really beautiful. She was more beautiful than all the girls he had seen. Then he thought he didn't have a phone. Even if he had a mobile phone, there was no picture of Zhao Ying in his mobile phone...

"My sister is lovely. She is the loveliest!" He said, "She's not as good-looking as your sister."

Tang Cao thought about it. He thought that the five-year-old girl should be cute, so he ended the contest. He asked Chen Xiaopang to add his QQ number.

Chen Xiaopang didn't know what to say.

"Don't you have a phone?" Seeing that Chen Xiaopang didn't speak, Tang Cao guessed, "It's okay. Many children in the second grade don't have phones."

"Why do you have a phone?" Chen Xiaopang thought.

Chen Xiaopang pursed. He said to Wang Cailian after the Tang Family left.

"Mom, Tang Cao has a phone but I don't. He wants to add QQ number with me. Can you buy me a phone?"

Wang Cailian was also thinking about this problem these two days. When Chen Xiaopang was in the first grade, he came back and asked to buy a phone, saying that many children in the class had it. She didn't buy it because she didn't think it was necessary.

Such a small child didn't need a phone at all, except for playing games.

"But now... If Xiaopang encounters any dangerous things later, does he still have a chance to make a phone call with a phone?" Wang Cailian thought.

"OK. I'll ask your father to buy a phone for you and Ying tomorrow."

"Mom, please. I promise... What?" Chen Xiaopang said, "Do you agree?"

Wang Cailian touched her son's chubby face, "Yes. Now you are going to wash your hands and have dinner."

Chen Xiaopang stayed in the hospital for a week before returning home. Zhao Ying went to school three days ago. The students in the class didn't know about kidnapping. Only Shao Sijia, who had called Zhao Ying before, knew. So she asked nervously when she saw Zhao Ying.

"Are you okay? Why don't you come back to school after a few days off?"

Shao Sijia, because of her good performance in learning from Zhao Ying, the teacher specially adjusted her seat in front of Zhao Ying. She turned around, lowered her head and asked.

"You forgot I wasn't kidnapped." Zhao Ying also lowered her head and said in a low voice, "It's Xiaopang. He's pathetic. He's still on a drip at the hospital."

Shao Sijia thought that although Zhao Ying had been thrown down half the way, she was also taken away by the bad guys! Her grandmother said that the bad guys had left Zhao Ying in the woods. There was no one there. She must be very afraid.

"Don't save others by yourself in the future." Shao Sijia didn't care about Chen Xiaopang at all. She just said, "My grandma said it's the most important thing to protect ourselves."

Zhao Ying suddenly smiled shyly. She took out a beautiful pink phone and said, "I have a mobile phone now. I will call the police when I meet bad people!"

"The phone is so nice!" Shao Sijia touched it and said, "My grandma said that she would also buy me a phone for my birthday this year. Oh! My birthday is coming! You must come to my house to play."

"Really? But..." Zhao Ying thought, "I'm going to go abroad to spend my holiday with my mother. When is your birthday?"

Shao Sijia scratched her head and said, "It is on a Saturday."

"This Saturday?" Zhao Ying asked.

"I don't know either..." Shao Sijia patted the table, "I'll go back to ask my grandma today and then tell you!"

Chen Xiaopang was proud when he came to school. He told his classmates the story of his kidnapping like a heroic story. A group of boys surrounded him. From time to time, they exclaimed.

"Zhao Ying!" Feng Meixin ran to Zhao Ying's seat and stared at her angrily, "Didn't you say that Chen Xiaopang asked for leave because he was ill?"

Zhao Ying was reciting English words but she was interrupted. She frowned, "He was really ill. He came home from the hospital yesterday."

"But he was clearly caught by the bad guys!" Feng Meixin shouted angrily, "Why didn't you tell me?"

Zhao Ying looked at her strangely, "Why should I tell you? Auntie asked me not to talk about it at school."

Feng Meixin didn't believe it!

If so, why was Chen Xiaopang talking so lively over there?

Two days ago, her mother asked her what disease Chen Xiaopang had. Her mother asked her to ask and then go to the hospital. Feng Meixin's mother thought it was a very good opportunity. The relationship between the two families could be closer.

But it turned out that Chen Xiaopang was not ill at all. He was caught by the bad guys. It's more terrible than illness! Zhao Ying didn't tell her!

"You did it on purpose!" Feng Meixin was angrier, "Don't you want me to play with Chen Xiaopang? Are you afraid that he will ignore you if he plays with me?"

Zhao Ying's face bulged out like a bun. She was also angry. She said forcefully, "I don't know what you are talking about. Don't talk to me. I'll recite the words!"

"Hum!" Feng Meixin picked up the English book on the desk and threw it to the ground.

Shao Sijia listened to them and screamed, "Feng Meixin, you are bullying Zhao Ying!"

"What's the matter?" Chen Xiaopang finally noticed the situation here. He jumped down from a desk of the last row and ran to Zhao Ying. He saw Zhao Ying biting her lips and crying.

"Feng Meixin!" Chen Xiaopang felt very angry. He wouldn't be so angry even if his father didn't give him pocket money.

He pushed away Feng Meixin and picked up the book. Feng Meixin sat down in the ground and cried.

"Chen... Chen Xiaopang, I... I'm going to tell... I'm going to tell the teacher that you... You bully me..."

Shao Sijia jumped up and said, "Go! You bully Zhao Ying first. You are shameless!"

It was probably the most powerful swearword Shao Sijia could think of. She pointed to Feng Meixin with a red face and said, "You are shameless. You bully Zhao Ying. She is younger than you. You are so shameless!"

The girls beside who saw the whole process also criticized Feng Meixin. Yao, who played shuttlecock with Zhao Ying before, hugged Zhao Ying and looked at Feng Meixin discontentedly.

“Shao Sijia is right. Zhao Ying is only five years old. We are all her elder sisters. You don’t love her but you can’t bully her.”

“You are the class monitor!”

“Yes. I don’t want her to be our monitor. Let the teacher make a change!”

All the students beside were talking about her. Seeing that the two girls who always played with her kept their heads down and didn’t say a word, Feng Meixin immediately felt aggrieved and angry. She cried, turned around and ran out of the classroom.

“Don’t cry, Zhao Ying. I’ll go and have a look. I can’t let her talk nonsense with the teacher.” Chen Xiaopang also ran out of the classroom. Kang Liyang took a look and also ran with a few boys.

As a result, they ran to the door of the teacher’s office and saw that the teacher was correcting the homework inside. They didn’t see Feng Meixin.

“Where is Feng Meixin?” Chen Xiaopang asked.

Kang Liyang gasped, “How can you run so fast?”

“Do you see Feng Meixin?” Chen Xiaopang thought that he couldn’t let Feng Meixin tell the teacher about it first, so he asked again.

Kang Liyang looked and said, “No. Isn’t the teacher sitting there alone?”

“Chen Jinjin, Kang Liyang, what are you doing at the door?” The teacher found them and stood up.

Kang Liyang grabbed Chen Xiaopang and said, “Run!”

“What are you doing?” Chen Xiaopang pushed him away, “Teacher! I’ll tell you a thing.”

After hearing what Chen Xiaopang said, the teacher followed them to the classroom. The teacher asked the whole class and confirmed the course of the matter.

“I will criticize Feng Meixin, but Chen Jinjin, you really shouldn’t push your classmate.”

Zhao Ying hurried to raise her hand. She raised it so high that the teacher could see her.

“What’s the matter with you, Zhao Ying?”

“Teacher, Chen Jinjin is not to blame for this. He is for...” Zhao Ying couldn’t find the right word. She wanted to say that Xiaopang was revenge for her, but she thought that it was not appropriate.

Fortunately, the teacher knew what she meant, “I see. I just said that Chen Jinjin used the wrong method. But his spirit of caring for his classmates is worth learning. We can reward him a red flower!”

The class applauded and the teacher calmed them down.

“Now you read your own books. I will find Feng Meixin. No matter what mistakes she made, she is our classmate. Would you like to help her improve and correct her shortcomings together?”

The students said yes.

The teacher was not aware of the seriousness of the problem. After a long search, she didn’t find Feng Meixin. She was a little flustered. She reported to the dean of students office at once. As soon as the dean heard it, he called the security room to let them check and see if they could see Feng Meixin.

Then a few minutes later, the security room said a child had sneaked out of the back door of the school ten minutes ago.

“What? Is the child out of school?” Such a big thing was reported to the headmaster at once. The headmaster went to the security room with the dean of students office and some teachers in a rage.

The captain of the security room was scared. He pointed to the monitor with a pale face.

“Look... Look here.”

“Where?” The headmaster watched for a long time and only saw a man on an electro-tricycle going out of the school gate.

The dean of students office stared for a few seconds and said, “Here!” He pointed to the basket on the tricycle and said, “She’s in the basket.”

They looked at it carefully again and then found that there was a child squatting in the basket.

“It’s Feng Meixin!” The teacher shouted excitedly.

The headmaster’s face was pale and he said, “Come on! Contact the delivery person and ask if the child is still there!”

The dean of students office immediately asked the Logistics Department to call. Soon they got in touch with the delivery man. He served Caesar vegetables every day. When the school asked him for a child, he was startled. After knowing the situation, he was worried too. He ran to the door to check the tricycle, but he didn’t see the child.

“She must have got out of the tricycle when she left school.” The dean of students office asked the headmaster in a panic, “Headmaster... Shall we inform the parents of the student?”

The headmaster glanced at him and said, “Inform the parents immediately and call the police by the way. The security room will organize people to go out and look for the student.”

The child ran out of school and her whereabouts were unknown. They couldn’t hide such a big thing. They should inform their parents as soon as possible. In case the child had already gone home, or contacted the family

The headmaster’s fluke broke to pieces when he heard the scream of the woman over the phone.

Chapter 408 Childhood Sweetheart 15

Chen Xiaopang and others returned to the classroom with a panic expression.

“What’s wrong?” Shao Sijia hurriedly asked, “Feng Meixin lied to the teacher that Zhao Ying had bullied her, didn’t she?”

Kang Liyang swallowed saliva and said, “She... She...”

Zhao Ying nervously looked at Chen Xiaopang, who pushed Kang Liyang away, “She sneaked out of school and was missing!”

Zhao Ying and Shao Sijia were astonished.

“What do you mean?” Zhao Ying was so scared that her face was twisted, “She... How did she run out of school?”

The gate of the school was locked every day. Had she gone out by climbing over the wall?

Chen Xiaopang didn't know. They secretly heard the dean of students office say so, but the details were unclear. All they knew was that Feng Meixin had run out of school. And at present her family had been notified and the police had been called.

“What if she meets bad persons?” Zhao Ying held her face and said, “It's too terrible.”

Soon, other classmates knew that Feng Meixin had run away. And this was the case for children. They had forgotten what had happened just now, and they were all worried whether Feng Meixin would be taken away by the bad guys.

“It was my fault...” Zhao Ying was sad, “I shouldn't have quarreled with her.”

Chen Xiaopang tugged her hair, “What did it have to do with you? She ran away by herself.”

“Yeah!” Shao Sijia also said, “It's not you who wanted to quarrel with her. It was her own fault.”

The two female classmates who were good friends with Feng Meixin suddenly said.

“If it weren't for you, she wouldn't have run out!”

“Yes, Chen Xiaopang, you pushed Feng Meixin over. It was your fault!”

Zhao Ying glanced at them and silently groveled on the table. While Chen Xiaopang stared at them fiercely, and the two girls were afraid to speak.

Perhaps their words reminded him, so Chen Xiaopang immediately ran to the back of the classroom and secretly took out his mobile phone to send a text message to Wang Cailian. Wang Cailian quickly called him and Chen Xiaopang ran out of the classroom to answer the phone.

“Mom, if Feng Meixin disappears, will her family come to bother us to take the responsibility?”

Wang Cailian was startled when she saw the text message. Otherwise she wouldn't call at this moment.

“You have no class now?”

“No, the teachers are not here. They all go to look for Feng Meixin.”

Wang Cailian thought about it, “You told me the truth just now, didn't you? Did she throw Zhao Ying's book first, and then you pushed her over?”

“Well, I didn't push her hard.” Chen Xiaopang also felt wronged, “I just pushed her lightly and she fell down.”

“I see.” Wang Cailian said, “You go back to the classroom. I shall go to your school now.”

She thought that Feng Meixin's parents must have arrived at the school. It was inevitable that they would get agitated because the child disappeared. If they transferred the anger on Chen Xiaopang and Zhao Ying, it would be troublesome. Therefore, she quickly changed her clothes, explained the matter to Xiaopang's grandparents and went out. She also called Chen Qing on the way.

“So...” Chen Qing hesitated over the other side of the phone for a few seconds, “Then I'll go, too. See you at the school.”

When Wang Cailian arrived, Feng Meixin's mother was losing her temper in the principal's room.

“Our child was sent into the school, and you tell me now that the child has run out? Let an eight-year-old child run out of school. You are too irresponsible!”

The principal looked pale. The dean of students office and other teachers were apologizing to her aside.

Luo Ping fiercely pointed at them and scolded, “My daughter has no news till now. If something really happens to her, it won't be easy to be over. Also, didn't you say that she ran out because she was wronged by her classmate after a bitter quarrel? Where is the classmate? I want to meet his parents!”

“Sorry, I’m late.” Wang Cailian pushed the door open.

The teacher was surprised when seeing her, “Jinjin’s mother? I haven’t notified you!”

“I just sent messages to my son and asked, and he told me. Thus, I hurry to come over.” Wang Cailian said with a worried tone, “Oh, Mrs. Feng, don’t worry. Meixin is a blessed girl. It’s going to be fine.”

Luo Ping was stunned when she saw Wang Cailian, and it took her a long time to react. It turned out that Chen Xiaopang was the classmate who had bullied her daughter. She didn’t know that she should be happy or angry...

“Mrs. Chen, sorry to bother you to come.” She smiled and said, “It is not a big deal for the children to have a little conflict. Our Meixin was not sensible. She ran out by herself.”

The principal and teachers next to her were shocked. She hadn’t said so just now!!

“Anyway, my child was wrong because he pushed his classmate.” Wang Cailian paused, “We should find the child first now! Other things can wait until the child is found.”

At this time, the police called to say that a taxi had carried a child just now. The child had gotten out of the car, and then the driver felt that something was wrong and called the police. It happened to be Feng Meixin who had disappeared at school.

“The police said that Feng Meixin had gotten off at the west gate of Xiaguang Department Store on Xiaguang South Road.” The principal hurriedly asked Luo Ping after hanging up, “What’s that place?”

Luo Ping exclaimed, “Her dad’s company is there!”

“Then you call Mr. Feng quickly and see if the child has gone to look for him.” Wang Cailian was also relieved. If that girl really disappeared, their family must have had responsibility then...

Luo Ping quickly called her husband and knew that Feng Meixin had gone to her father a few minutes ago.

“This girl. I shall teach her a lesson when I get home!”

After hanging up, Luo Ping felt embarrassed to apologize to the principal and other teachers first, “I didn’t have a good attitude just now. Please don’t mind. I was too anxious then!”

“It’s okay!” The principal also breathed a sigh of relief, feeling that he had gone to heaven from hell, “You were just worried about the child! Besides, we were also responsible originally. Later we will have a meeting to carry out a school safety investigation just for this matter, to put an end to similar situations in the future.”

A terrifying matter of student missing ended like this. Fortunately it was threatening but not dangerous. The teacher sent Wang Cailian and Luo Ping out of the principal’s office and then hurried back to the classroom. Wang Cailian saw Chen Qing running towards this way in a distance.

“Has the child been found?” Chen Qing asked as soon as he came over.

Luo Ping responded, “Oh! Is this Mr. Chen? Sorry to bother you to come here, too. My daughter has already been found. The child ran to her father’s company by herself. Sorry about the mess...”

“Is that all right?” Chen Qing only cared about this, “That’s good. It is fine that the child isn’t missing.”

Luo Ping thought this to be an opportunity and quickly said, “It’s noon, or I’ll invite you to dinner! I am so sorry to bother you to go so far.”

“Thank you for your invitation, but you needn’t.” Wang Cailian smiled and said, “It was also because my son was naughty. I’ll teach him a lesson later.”

Luo Ping quickly waved her hand when she heard so, “Don’t. I’ve asked the teacher that it was Meixin who threw Zhao Ying’s book first. Your son definitely would protect his sister. It was not his fault.”

“But he still shouldn’t push others, especially pushing a little girl.” Wang Cailian patted Luo Ping’s hand, “You don’t have to worry about it.”

“As for the lunch...”

Chen Qing said immediately, "Thank you for your kindness, but my parents who stay at home have cooked for us. If suddenly we don't go back, they should be unhappy."

"Well..." Luo Ping looked regretful, "That's OK. Please let me have an opportunity to treat you next time, otherwise I will feel bad about it!"

After separating from Luo Ping, the couple returned to their car. Wang Cailian said angrily.

"I've fed up with the child of this family. She always bullies our Ying. Fortunately, your son knows to protect his sister, otherwise Ying will feel wronged by the unkindness. Then how can we explain to her mother Cong Fei?"

Chen Qing started the car and sneered, "Don't you see that? Mrs. Chen obviously wants to acquire relationships with us. After you said it last time, I went to investigate their family. They have an advertising company and the business is not too bad."

However, Feng Family had always wanted to find a big company to rely on so that they could get large orders without hard work. And they could also enter the upper class and have the opportunity to expand the operation. It was a pity that they hadn't had their way. So far, the only people they can acquire relationships is their family...

"I thought that she was so enthusiastic about me because she wanted to know those wealthy ladies. I didn't expect them to be so ambitious." Wang Cailian snorted, "If it's someone else, I will not disagree. But I do look down upon them for their characters."

Chen Qing nodded, "Then you can ignore them. Isn't it said that the students will be divided into classes when they are in the fourth grade? At that time, we should tell the teacher that our children won't be in the same class with Feng Meixin."

Wang Cailian secretly sent a message to Chen Xiaopang, telling him that Feng Meixin wasn't missing and had been found. Chen Xiaopang immediately told Zhao Ying and saw Zhao Ying obviously relieve.

After eating dinner at home in the evening, Big Yellow came around and wanted to be taken out to play by them two, carrying the tow rope in its mouth. Grandpa took the initiative to go but was rejected by Big Yellow.

“Huh! I’ve wasted feeding you so much meat.” Grandpa sit on the sofa angrily, and decided to ignore Big Yellow, the conscienceless dog today.

Big Yellow just wanted to hang out with two children at this moment, and forgot about pleasing Grandpa. It happened that Wang Cailian felt that she had eaten too much at dinner and decided to go with them together.

“Wait for me!” As soon as the two children came out, they took Big Yellow to run. Wang Cailian couldn’t keep up with them.

She originally had thought that it would be inconvenient to walk the dog for the two children, thinking of pulling Big Yellow’s tow rope herself. But she was exhausted halfway and lagged behind...

Wang Cailian suddenly felt that she might not gain weight in the future...

At this time, there were many people walking dogs in the community. Basically there were top breed dogs, white and round Samoyed or Husky, Teddy, and a few big German Shepherd Dogs and Border Collies. Rural dogs like Big Yellow stood out.

But the two children didn’t mind, and Wang Cailian paid little attention to it.

After two laps, Big Yellow ceased, so the children stood aside to rest and waited for Wang Cailian to keep up with them.

Just then, a strong Husky came, and suddenly pounced on the two little children.

Wang Cailian was startled for the Husky looked too strong. If it hit the children, both children would fall. She immediately shouted, “Xiaopang! Zhao Ying!”

But it was too late.

Then they saw Big Yellow that had originally been tired of running and lain prone aside suddenly stood up, barked a few times and rushed up to bite the Husky.

It was only half the size of the Husky. However, it was unknown how Big Yellow did it. Soon the Husky fled with barking.

A large tuft of fur was left on Big Yellow's mouth.

Zhao Ying quickly took the fur down to prevent Big Yellow from eating it. Wang Cailian was relieved. But at this time, the master of the Husky came over.

He was also dragging his own silly dog, probably preparing to come to ask for an explanation. But that Husky was not willing to come over at all, just keeping barking "Ao ao ao..."

Wang Cailian saw that they didn't come and went over by herself. The dog master was really way out of line to walk the big dog without pulling the tow rope.

But she went over and immediately saw that Husky had had a bald patch on its head, which was very funny.

When Wang Cailian was negotiating with the other dog owner, Chen Xiaopang squatted down to praise Big Yellow, "Big Yellow, you should fight like that in the future. You can't bite other dogs, but you can bite off their fur..."

"You've performed very well today. When we go back, I shall add a can of dog food for you!"

"Woof woof woof!" Big Yellow barked happily.

Chapter 409 Childhood Sweetheart 16

After half a month of winter vacation, Chen Xiaopang was in a better mood. However, he still felt that Zhao Ying hadn't been friendly enough. Why had she suddenly left without saying goodbye to him? He was even uninterested in taking Big Yellow out to bully that stupid Husky.

The Husky was the one that had scared him and his dad previously. He could meet it almost every time he walked Big Yellow. The stupid Husky rushed up every time as if it had the memory loss, and then it would be roared away by Big Yellow.

Chen Xiaopang thought Zhao Ying to be a child with no conscience. Because on the second day of their winter vacation, he went back to Tang Cao's house to play. But when he came back, he found her disappear...

"Her mother came back early and took her away." Wang Cailian laughed at her son when she saw him utterly discomfited, "I told you a few days ago that your aunt Cong Fei would come back at any time and Ying would leave at any time. You still went out to play for a whole day..."

Then Zhao Ying seemed to disappear. She didn't call or send messages. Chen Xiaopang had been languishing during the Spring Festival, not having a good time.

"Hey, Xiaopang! We are leaving. Be a good boy." Grandpa Chen touched his head and said, "If your dad hits you again, call me and I will hit him."

After the Spring Festival, his grandparents were going back to Northeast. They were worried about the cows and the land at home.

"Parents, do you really want to go back?" Wang Cailian secretly put the money into her mother-in-law's handbag, "Would you like to go on a trip? Go to stay at the seaside for a month."

Grandpa waved his hand, "I don't want to go. To go there, we have to take an airplane. It flies in the sky with no rope tied. What if it falls off?"

"Planes won't fall." Chen Qing felt it difficult to explain, "You see, our manned rockets have flown into space, and they haven't fallen."

Grandpa Chen glanced at him, "Wasn't there a plane missing in the last few years? Who knows where it falls? And you can't use our rocket to compare! Can it be the same?"

"They are the same, which all fly into the sky." Chen Qing said.

"Bah!" Grandpa Chen sneered, "Our astronauts have been trained for ten years! For ten years they do nothing but get trained every day."

"Dad, you..."

Grandma Chen couldn't stand it anymore, "You two are endless, aren't you? I have had a headache because of your arguing."

They were quiet immediately. The father and son both shut up.

“I know that you are not used to the city life, but you will find it convenient if you live longer.” Wang Cailian peeled an orange for her mother-in-law, “Both country and city have their own advantages.”

Seeing Grandpa Chen keep silent, and her mother-in-law nod aside, Wang Cailian went on to say, “Furthermore, Xiaopang and I miss you very much. Chen Qing keeps busy every day, and I don’t have friends here.”

“Mom, you don’t know. Every day they leave and I’m left lonely to stay in such a big house, which makes me very scared.”

Chen Xiaopang took a step back in silence with his dad. His mother actually had a wonderful life every day, either going shopping or playing mahjong, or having her hair trimmed and nails painted...

“Didn’t you say last time on the phone that you had known a lot of people, so you played cards and went shopping every day?” Her mother-in-law frowned and said, “You also said that you were very busy every day.”

Wang Cailian was speechless.

“Ha ha ha! Oh, I was just afraid that you would worry that I was not used to the life here, so I comforted you.” She held her mother-in-law’s arm and began to be mischievous and coquetry, “I just went out to play cards when I first arrived here, and then stopped playing it. Those women always bullied me because I came from the countryside. They often colluded to win my money. Is it right, Chen Qing?”

Chen Qing quickly said, “Yes, yes, I don’t let Cailian play with them.”

Chen Xiaopang took another step back silently.

This was true. His mother had known a few women in the beauty salon and often gone to play cards with them together. Later she found that they had colluded to win her money, and Wang Cailian stopped going.

But... She hit the women one by one, making them so disheveled that looked particularly pitiful...

“Mom, later I will get a piece of land for you in the small garden behind. You can grow vegetables there next time you come.” Wang Cailian talked about the plan, “We shall eat all the vegetables we grow during the Spring Festival. When thinking of that, we shall feel happy. Right, Xiaopang?”

Chen Xiaopang who was mentioned nodded quickly, “Yes, yes, yes!”

“Okay.” Grandma Chen thought about it and agreed, “We will come again in the second half of the year.”

Grandpa Chen moved the hookah and wanted to say something. But Grandma Chen glanced at him, which made him silent.

“It’s okay. Your dad just loves dearly the two cows at home. We shall let your uncle take care of them then.” Grandma Chen patted Wang Cailian’s hand, “Is time up? Should we go to the station?”

The whole family went to see them off. When they arrived at the station, Grandpa Chen began to complain about wasting money for having bought first-class tickets, and also said that they were not busy so they needn’t take the high-speed train but should just take a slow train to go back.

No one responded. He didn’t shut up until it was time of the ticket checking.

“Goodbye, Grandparents!” Chen Xiaopang waved.

Chen Qing handed the suitcase to his dad, “Dad, don’t be reluctant to spend money on delicious food when you go back. Buy whatever you want to eat. We are rich now. Do you know?”

“Mom, remember to eat the health care products that I give you every day!” Wang Cailian urged her mother-in-law again and again.

The two old persons said yes and thought them to be boring. Then they turned around and entered.

Near the beginning of the term, Tang Cao returned from abroad and then called Chen Xiaopang.

“Come to my house to play? I’ll let the driver pick you up.”

Chen Xiaopang looked at Wang Cailian, holding the phone. Wang Cailian thought for a moment, and then nodded slightly.

“OK!” Chen Xiaopang was happy.

Just now he had been worried that his mother might disagree. After they were rescued, Chen Xiaopang kept saying how his new friend Tang Cao and Tong Yue were. Wang Cailian once said very seriously that he should not always mention the two children.

Chen Xiaopang asked why he couldn't mention them. Wang Cailian said that they were not in the same class, and they wouldn't play together when term began. He might forget them after a while.

Chen Xiaopang thought his mother was lying. Besides... They were the brothers who had experienced life and death together. How could they forget each other so soon?

The next day, the driver of Tang Family drove the car to come. As soon as the car door opened, a small boy jumped out.

“Tang Cao!” Chen Xiaopang shouted, “Why are you here?”

The little boy raised his head to reveal a beautiful face. Although they had already met each other, Wang Cailian still muttered in her heart. How could Tang Family members be so good-looking?

“I come to pick you up!” Tang Cao said with a smile, and greeted Wang Cailian politely, “Hello, Aunt. This is what my mother asked me to give you!”

Wang Cailian was surprised for a second, but she soon took it and said with a smile, “You are so kind. Please say thanks to your mother for me.”

“It's okay, okay!” Tang Cao waved his hand, “This is the fruit tea made by my mother herself. It tastes very good!”

Wang Cailian was glad that she also had prepared a gift herself. Chen Qing had said the day before whether her gift was inappropriate. He went to work in the morning and reminded her whether she wanted to change a gift.

But at present...

Wang Cailian handed a box of sticky bean buns to Chen Xiaopang, “Remember to greet people when you visit Tang Cao's house. You should be polite. Do you know that?”

“I know! I know!” Chen Xiaopang took the box and ran into the car, laughing and joking.

When the car started driving, the two little guys poked out of the window and waved at Wang Cailian.

Wang Cailian smiled and waved, and then found that there were still two cars parking not far away. When Tang Cao’s car drove past, the two cars protected his car, one in front and the other behind.

“Well... They deserve to be the rich family. When they go out, they will take many bodyguards.” Wang Cailian shook her head and turned back to enter the house.

At first, she had been very afraid of contacting Tang Family members, for being afraid that they would be suspicious. Later, she figured out that they didn’t want to take any advantages. It was only the friendship between the children, which had nothing to do with the adults.

On the other hand, Wang Cailian also considered about the future of Xiaopang. If he could be good friends with Tang Cao, she would worry less about him in the future. What kind of problems couldn’t Tang Family solve?

When Chen Xiaopang and Tang Cao became famous playboys in the capital later, Wang Cailian shed tears...

When Chen Xiaopang returned in the evening, Chen Qing asked nervously what he had done in the house of Tang Family.

“I did nothing special!” Chen Xiaopang slumped in the sofa with a hiccup, “Tong Yue also went there. Tang Cao has a game room, so we played games in it.” After he said it, he looked at his father.

“Dad, please also get me a game room! You don’t know that Tang Cao has got every kind of game machine, which is very amazing!”

Chen Qing thought, “Is this the point?”

“Son, I asked you about his family. Did they say that the sticky bean buns were delicious?”

Wang Cailian glanced at her husband and knew that he was afraid that Tang Family members might have thrown it away without eating.

“It’s delicious!” Chen Xiaopang said happily, “Uncle Tang ate several ones. Later, Mrs. Tang said that it was not easy to digest and let him eat the rest tomorrow.”

Chen Qing felt it incredible, “Really?”

“Yeah!” Chen Xiaopang thought his dad to be somewhat strange, “Dad, what do you want to ask on earth?”

“I don’t want to ask anything.” Chen Qing patted him and said, “Hurry up to take a shower and then go to bed.”

When the son went upstairs, Chen Qing and Wang Cailian started to mumble.

“I didn’t expect them to really eat it.” Chen Qing still had an inconceivable look.

Wang Cailian despised him, “Why couldn’t they eat it? Were they afraid that I had poisoned?”

“Oh, you know! I hear that the son of the first branch of Tang Family is likely to be the next...” Chen Qing made a gesture, pointing at the sky.

“You just said that it was the son of the first branch of Tang Family. But Tang Cao is the child of the second branch of Tang Family.” Wang Cailian curled her lips, “I hear that the son of the second branch is famous for that...” But she didn’t believe it so much.

She thought of Mrs. Tang, who was such a charming and intelligent woman. She didn’t believe that such a woman would marry a husband who had been as unreliable as the onlookers said.

“In short, this is a matter between children, and we won’t involve.” Wang Cailian said, “Don’t think that you can bully others by flaunting your powerful connections with Tang Family. We won’t do that kind of thing.”

Chen Qing quickly said, “I see, I see! I just mention it.”

Holidays always passed quickly for children. Chen Xiaopang was found to have not finished his winter vacation homework in the last few days. Having beaten him, Chen Qing told him not to go out until having finished all the homework.

That day he finally cried and finished his homework. When he went downstairs, he saw a little girl sitting in the sitting room

“Hi! Xiaopang, I’m back.” Zhao Ying waved at him with a sweet smile.

Chapter 410 Childhood Sweetheart 17

Memories come to an abrupt end, and Chen Xiaopang looks bewildered.

“She, she, she, she...”

“It turns out that Zhao Ying is your younger sister when you were a child!” Tang Cao slurps his lips, and then squints at Chen Xiaopang, “She is of the same surname and given name with your younger sister. You don’t even remember her?”

Chen Xiaopang seems to have suffered a huge blow at the moment. His whole body seems to have shrunk a circle. He pulls his hair hard.

He murmurs, “What did she experience on earth and how did she become like this? When she was a child, she was gentle and adorable...”

“How can we know?” Tang Cao rolls his eyes towards him.

At that time, Chang Pei’e had to go abroad for surgery. Tang Cao went abroad to study for several years after his third grade and didn’t come back until junior high school. Tong Yue also went abroad. Because of his family ties, his mother took him abroad to stay for several years. When they came back, Zhao Ying went abroad.

Therefore, they two didn’t meet Zhao Ying, even long ago forgot Chen Xiaopang’s sister, whom was often talked about by Chen Xiaopang when he was a child...

“It is understandable that we do not remember her. But what about you?” Tang Cao pats Chen Xiaopang on the shoulder, “If I were Zhao Ying, I would ignore you.”

“No, she was obviously not like this when she was a child!” Compared with the shock that the person he falls in love with at first sight turns to be his childhood playmate, Chen Xiaopang is even more perplexed about why Zhao Ying becomes like this.

Her character which turns to be like a domineering lady is acceptable, but...

But her attitude towards the relationship between men and women is unacceptable to Chen Xiaopang.

“She must have learned it from you.” Tong Yue reminds him, “You just said that you kept in touch until she broke off contact unilaterally after senior high school. However hard do you tried, you couldn’t find her at all. Maybe it was not because you couldn’t find her, but she wanted to ignore you.”

Xiaopang is silent. From the information he’s investigated, he finds that Zhao Ying suddenly began to make boyfriends when she was in her second year of senior high school, and then it was out of control. Did something really happen at that time that stimulated her?

“When she was in the second year of senior high school...” Tang Cao frowns, “Was it the year your father had an accident?”

Chen Xiaopang is stunned, and then his expression is somewhat ferocious.

In that year, something really happened to his family. Because Tang Family did give some opportunities, Chen Qing’s business grew bigger and bigger. A middle-aged rich man must have become the target of those ambitious girls.

Fortunately, Chen Qing was not a muddle-headed person, and his parents were still alive at that time. Chen Qing had never done anything wrong to Wang Cailian and his family. But it was mentioned before, even if a man could preserve his moral integrity himself, but some ambitious girls always wanted to make a profit in troubled situation.

At a cocktail party, he was drugged by a young model and had an affair in the hotel. After waking up, Chen Qing thought that he had made a drunken mistake and was so scared. He knew Wang Cailian too well. Although she was a woman from the countryside, she was definitely tough and resolute.

If she found that Chen Qing to have slept with another woman, she would divorce him even if she didn’t beat him to death. So Chen Qing planned to keep the matter a secret. He did not keep in touch with the young model, but gave a sum of money to get rid of her.

Unexpectedly, two months later, the young model came to him and said that she was pregnant. He didn't believe it and took her to the hospital for an examination. But Wang Cailian happened to accompany her friend to the hospital to see a doctor and he was caught red-handed.

"Your father was very unlucky. How did he know that he was framed?" Tang Cao recalls the incident. Wang Cailian calmly asked for a divorce. Chen Qing's parents came from their hometown and told the lawyer that even a coin shouldn't be given to Chen Qing, leaving all the money to Wang Cailian and Xiaopang.

Chen Qing knelt on the ground to beg Wang Cailian for forgiveness but was beaten black and blue by his father.

"I really wanted to kill my dad when I knew it." Chen Xiaopang still remembers his mother crying in despair in the middle of the night. He got dead drunk that night and slept with a girl who always liked him at the school.

Later, the young model knew that Chen Qing would have no money if he got divorced, so she got angry. But she was a fool. If she was smart, she would find an excuse to disappear.

But she actually sneered Chen Qing and told him that they slept because she drugged him, and the child was not his, but her ex-boyfriend's. After hearing this, Chen Qing went crazy and retaliated against the female model.

Needless to say what terrible end the model got, Chen Family members also knew the truth. But Wang Cailian couldn't overcome the setback in her heart. Naturally, they did not divorce. But over the next few years, Chen Qing had been coaxing his wife carefully. It was only when Chen Xiaopang graduated from college that their relationship was restored.

"You say, your father was unlucky to experience that, but you are asking for it yourself." Tang Cao shakes his head.

Chen Xiaopang has been out of control since drunken mistake and has not changed even when he knows that his father has not been disloyal to his mother. He completely sets himself free and becomes a male who yields to sensuality, only acting with his own instinct and impulse.

“I remember it!” He suddenly says, “When Zhao Ying called me that time, I was making love with gusto at the moment...”

He didn't think much at that time. After the phone was connected, the voice of the woman beneath him naturally spread over. At that time, Zhao Ying seemed to be frightened and snapped off the phone.

“Later, when I called back, she asked me if I had sex with a woman. And I said that you such a young girl should not ask about such a thing. Then...”

Then he lost contact with Zhao Ying, and gradually indulged in dissipation and mixed up with women, forgetting this little sister of his childhood long ago.

“So... She was like that because I slept with another woman??” Chen Xiaopang feels incredible, “But this... What does this have to do with her?”

Tong Yue rubs his eyebrows, “You have to ask yourself... Or ask her.”

“Does she like you?” Tang Cao's expression is very frightened, “It's terrible. You were the little girl's first love.”

Tong Yue nods, “If this is true, then he stifled his opportunity of first love himself.”

Chen Xiaopang is speechless.

When they separate, Tang Cao says, “I suggest you go to Zhao Ying and ask her clearly. If that is true, I think that you should change your goal! It will be impossible for you two to be together in your life.”

“For... Why?” Chen Xiaopang feels it unfair, “Who hasn't had a past?”

Tong Yue coldly looks at him, “But your behavior has done a lot of harm to her, making her like you. From a psychological point of view, you go to bed with a woman because you pursue sex and desire, but...”

“But what? You say it quickly!”

Tong Yue glances at Xiaopang with a particularly sympathetic look, “But Zhao Ying was stimulated by you to generate thoughts of self-revenge. She must be very distressed. She even hated herself because she didn't want to casually go to bed with those men in her subconscious mind.”

“Yes, yes!” Tang Cao says with an expression that he understands it very well, “So she should have hated you very much because you ruined her life.”

Chen Xiaopang is shocked. Although he really wants to say that people should hoe their own potatoes, shouldn't they? How can someone ruin his own future because of temporary transferring his anger on others? But he can't say it...

Because he thinks carefully about it, it really seems to be the case. Originally, he didn't know why Zhao Ying didn't accept him, which made him very frustrated. Now that he probably knows why she doesn't accept him, Chen Xiaopang feels that life has become hopeless and goes home listlessly.

“How long have you been back, Ying? Why don't you come to see me?”

As soon as he enters the house, he hears his mother's voice. Chen Xiaopang is startled and looks up to see two people sitting in the living room. One is Wang Cailian, and the other is the woman who has been making him upset.

“Son!” Wang Cailian sees him standing blankly at the door and hurriedly waves at him, “Quickly come in and see who this is!”

Chen Xiaopang walks over, the same foot with the hand. Before he can think of anything to say, he hears the cold voice of Zhao Ying.

“We have already met each other earlier, godmother.” Zhao Ying glances at Chen Xiaopang, “I am now the legal adviser of their company.”

Wang Cailian's face changes color as soon as she hears this. She looks at Chen Xiaopang and asks, “When did you know that Ying came back? Why didn't you tell me?”

When Cong Fei finally settled down and had an economic foundation, she wanted to pick Zhao Ying to go abroad. Zhao Ying had lived in Chen Family for several years at that time, and Wang Cailian was very reluctant to part with her.

But however reluctant she was, Zhao Ying was still others' daughter. So she recognized Zhao Ying as a nominal foster daughter. Later, they often contacted by phone. And then, maybe there was too much schoolwork for Zhao Ying, so they slowly contacted less.

“I, I, I...” Chen Xiaopang stammers.

Wang Cailian is still complaining, “If I hadn’t met you in the hotel today, wouldn’t you come to see me? I am very sad. I have been missing you for so many years, but you come back without telling me.”

“And you! I don’t have a son like you, who didn’t tell me that Ying had come back.” The more Wang Cailian says, the angrier she becomes. She looks at Xiaopang like looking at class enemies.

Zhao Ying suddenly smiles and says, “Godmother, he can’t be blamed...”

Chen Xiaopang is anxious. Is she trying to speak for him?! Sure enough... She still keeps him in her mind, which makes him happy. He is secretly pleased, but hears Zhao Ying add a sentence.

“He has forgotten who I am and doesn’t even know me.”

Wang Cailian is angry.

Chen Xiaopang is speechless.

“Chen Jinjin!” Wang Cailian calls out Chen Xiaopang’s full name in anger, “You don’t even remember Ying?”

Chen Xiaopang shivers, and sees his mother stand up and angrily circle in the living room.

“When Ying was leaving, who was crying and not letting her go? Who chased her to the airport to insist going with her?” Wang Cailian growls, “How long have you not remembered this? If you don’t recognize her because she grows up, you should always remember her name, shouldn’t you? You... You...”

“You, and your dad, are both conscienceless ungrateful persons!”

Chen Qing, who is entering, steps back in silence. He stands at the door for a few seconds, and decisively returns to the car.

“Boss?” The driver is stunned. Didn’t Chen Qing say that he should be home early today?

“Ahem... I remember a document that has not been signed. Let’s go back to the company.”

Chen Qing thinks, "I don't know who that girl is inside. Is she another blind date for Chen Xiaopang?"

In the living room, the more Wang Cailian says, the angrier she is. Finally she cries.

"Ying, you should ignore this ungrateful person. I don't have such a son. He is so ungrateful that we should ignore him in the future. You are the only daughter of mine. Sobbing..."

Chen Xiaopang is about to kneel. He looks at Zhao Ying with a pleading look.
