

The Ashes 1576

Chapter 1576

Andrew's voice was low, but firm.

"Stanley, you're right. We don't have some personal blood feud between us, but that doesn't mean I'll let you take the Elixir of Immortality.

Everything in this place belongs to Holtrien, and you don't get to touch any of it."

"Truth be told, I admire you. I spent 100 years planning every step of this journey, and only now have I found this place. But you? You found it with nothing but a few scraps of old maps and a handful of assistants.

It's incredible-almost unbelievable!

"If I'd known someone like you existed earlier, I would've done everything in my power to recruit you, to become allies. But hey-better late than never. So how about this, Andrew? Let me have the Elixir of Immortality, and you can have everything else in the crypt-I won't touch a thing.