

The Beloved and Pampered Girl

C 14

You're Interning Here?

In preparation for her job at Yuanyi, Mengmeng had specially dragged Jian Dan to buy a few sets of clothes... Jian Dan brushed her teeth and took out the clothes Mengmeng had chosen for her. In the end, she decided to wear the white lace-edged shirt that was hollowed-out at the back and a black pencil skirt... Jian Dan looked at herself in the mirror and nodded in satisfaction.

When she got downstairs, she realized that Uncle was already eating breakfast. Jian Dan asked Chu Liyuan, "Uncle, what do you think of my clothes today? Do I look like a white-collar worker?" Jian Dan walked up to Chu Liyuan and did a runway turn...

Jian Dan was confident in her figure.

The corporate attire that Jian Jian was wearing perfectly displayed the curves of her body, adding a feminine charm to the young and cute Jian Jian. Coupled with the hollow on her back, the perfect curves of her back could be seen clearly.

If Jian Jian were to go to work dressed like this, how many pairs of roving eyes would she attract? No! Absolutely not!

"It's so ugly. Change out of it!" Chu Liyuan said against his will.

"Is it very ugly? Mengmeng said it's very nice. I think it's quite nice too," Jian Dan retorted.

Was it that ugly? Uncle actually turned his gaze away after taking a look?

Was she really that unattractive?

She was actually despised by Uncle like this.

“What kind of taste do you have?” Although Chu Liyuan said that, he thought that their taste was quite sharp.

Jian Dan—looking as she was now—made Chu Liyuan’s heart race.

“Oh! Alright!”

When Jian Dan went upstairs, she did a runway turn in front of the mirror again...

“Is it very ugly?”

It was clearly very nice. What kind of taste did Uncle have?

No! She had to try harder! She did not believe...

After that, Jian Dan changed into a few sets of clothes consecutively, but they were all rejected by Chu Liyuan. This was because each set was sexier than the last.

In the end, under Chu Liyuan’s strong request, Jian Dan changed back into the T-shirt and jeans she used to wear.

Satisfied, he let Jian Dan sit down and eat.

What was going on?

In the end, there was not one set that he was not satisfied with.

At the dining table... Chu Liyuan suddenly asked, “I never asked you... Why did you cut your hair?”

This sudden question caused Jian Dan—who had just taken a sip of porridge—to choke...

“Cough, cough, cough. There’s no special reason. I just want to give it a try. Hehe...” Jian Dan explained awkwardly.

Chu Liyuan patted Jian Dan's back and scolded, "Why are you so careless? Have some water." As he spoke, he handed Jian Dan a cup of warm water and did not continue the topic.

After breakfast, Chu Liyuan prepared to go to the office. "Get in the car, I'll send you to work!"

"Oh! Alright!" Jian Dan did not refuse. After all, this place was very far from the bus stop...

In the car, Jian Dan looked sideways at Chu Liyuan who was driving and said hesitantly, "Uncle? I think I should tell you something!"

"What?" Chu Liyuan asked without turning his head around.

Jian Dan thought about it for a long time. Since she was already married to him, they should be honest with each other. There were many television dramas and novels where misunderstandings arose because of secrets, so Jian Dan decided to tell Chu Liyuan.

"I kept my long hair for my ex-boyfriend because he liked it! I cut my hair now because I want to let go of the past..." Jian Dan said as she looked at Chu Liyuan's expression.

However, there was no change in Chu Liyuan's expression... It was as if he had known all along?

"Uncle?"

"Since you can tell me personally, it proves that you've really let it go!" Chu Liyuan turned to look at Jian Dan and patted her head dotingly with his right hand.

Chu Liyuan's actions made her cheeks turn red again...

Soon, they arrived at Yuanyi's door...

"Are you interning here?" Chu Liyuan looked at Yuanyi and asked.

“That’s right! Yuanyi is a technology company that has risen in recent years. They released a few games recently that are not bad! I think there should be a lot of prospects for development in the future.” Jian Dan briefly gave Chu Liyuan a brief introduction of Yuanyi.

“I know!”

He knew? So Uncle also knew about Yuanyi! She did not expect Uncle to play games!

Of course, Jian Dan only thought about this and did not say it out loud.

“I’m off to work then!” Jian Dan got out of the car and had just taken a few steps when she turned around and smiled sweetly at Chu Liyuan. “Uncle, be careful on the road! Bye!”
