Delicious Fried Sauce Noodles

In the afternoon, she received a message from Chu Liyuan. He said that there was an emergency and that he had to work overtime, so he could not pick her up today.

Jian Dan returned home after work. She took a shower and had a simple meal before returning to her room. Jian Dan was alone and did not know what she could do, so she read for a while... Unknowingly, the sky gradually darkened, and Chu Liyuan still did not return. Jian Dan sent him a WeChat message. "Uncle, are you still busy?"

When Chu Liyuan saw this, he quickly replied, "Yes. I'll be very late today. Go to bed early."

"Okay!"

Jian Dan looked at the time and saw that it was almost 8 p.m.. She wondered if Chu Liyuan had eaten.

Since she could not sleep anyway, she might as well make some food and send it to Chu Liyuan... Jian Dan came to the kitchen, but Jian Dan did not know how to make anything. After spacing out for a while, she suddenly remembered that Granny had once taught her to make fried sauce noodles.

Jian Dan recalled the steps that Granny had taught her to make fried sauce noodles... First, she cut the pork into diced meat and prepared the onions, ginger, garlic, and dried chili. Then, she heated the oil to fry the onions, ginger, garlic, and dried chili. After that, she added the diced meat and cooked it into a sauce.

Jian Dan placed the stir-fried sauce in the thermos container, and went to cook the noodles. Jian Dan especially did not cook the noodles very soft. She placed them in the thermos and got ready to send them to Chu Liyuan. The noodles had to be delivered as soon as possible, or they would become lumpy.

When she came out of the kitchen, she bumped into Uncle Zhang...
“Young Madam, what are you doing?” Uncle Zhang asked.

What was Young Madam doing alone in the kitchen at this time of night?

“Uncle Zhang, can you get a car to send me to Chu Liyuan’s company? I made some food for him. I want to send it to him,” Jian Dan asked.

She wondered what Chu Liyuan’s expression would be when he suddenly saw her.

Would the noodles she made be to his liking?

Uncle Zhang looked at the lunch box in Jian Dan’s arms and nodded.
“Alright, Young Madam. Please hold on. I’ll go get the car now.” Uncle Zhang went to the garage to get the car.

Jian Dan stood at the door and waited for Uncle Zhang. Soon, Uncle Zhang drove the car out. “Uncle Zhang, try to be as fast as possible while ensuring your safety,” Jian Dan said after getting into the car.

There were not many cars on the road, so it only took them less than half an hour to reach Chu Liyuan’s company.

Jian Dan took the lunch box and went into the building. Perhaps because it was already late, the staff at the reception had already knocked off. Only the security guards were on duty.

However, the smart Jian Dan easily bypassed the security guards and successfully got into the office.

Uncle Zhang told Jian Dan that Chu Liyuan’s office was on the top floor. Jian Dan took the elevator to the 33rd floor... After exiting the elevator, there was no one around. Jian Dan did not know which office Chu Liyuan was in and could only search everywhere. Unfortunately, she did not find Chu Liyuan's office but was discovered instead. She was treated as a corporate spy and the security guards were called to the scene.

Initially, she had thought that it would go smoothly. She did not expect to encounter a hurdle so quickly.

It seemed that she did not have the talent to be a thief.

There were not many people left in the office to begin with, so Chu Liyuan was alerted to this incident as well... When Chu Liyuan came, Jian Dan was held in a chair in the conference room by a few security guards and the person who caught her.

"I've already said that I'm not a corporate spy. I'm here to look for Chu Liyuan." Jian Dan had already explained to them many times that she was here to look for Chu Liyuan, but they refused to believe her.

"When did Mr. Chu ever has a woman? Little girl, why don't you do your homework before lying? You did not do your homework well," said the person who caught her.

Chu Liyuan never had a woman? Was that true? In that case, was she Chu Liyuan's first woman?

Why did her mood suddenly become so good? It turned out that being captured was not so bad after all.

"Exactly. Mr. Chu is famous for not letting women get close. Who in the corporate world doesn't know that? How dare you tell such a lie?" A security guard chimed in.

Did not let women get close? Chu Liyuan was so innocent?

Jian Dan was immersed in her own world...

The security guards looked at the "corporate spy" who started to giggle.

What's going on? Was she stupid? Or was she trying to make us let our guard down so that she could take the opportunity to escape?

“Where is the corporate spy you caught?” A familiar male voice sounded.

Jian Dan slowly came back to her senses...

When this man appeared, Jian Dan recognized him as Chu Liyuan’s special assistant—Li Jing.

The man who appeared behind Li Jing was Chu Liyuan. Who else could it be?

How could Chu Liyuan be so handsome? It seemed like she must have saved the world in her previous life. Otherwise, how could she meet him in this life?

She was really lucky and blessed...
