

The Beloved 341

Chapter 341: Another Head-on Confrontation!

Chu Liyuan brought her straight to the 33rd floor without even informing the HR department.

After exiting the elevator, he told her, "You're very familiar with the CEO's Office. Make yourself at home."

"Yes, Sir!" She gave Chu Liyuan a military salute and winked.

When she arrived at the CEO's Office, the first person she saw was Wei Qianyi who was also surprised to see her.

However, Wei Qianyi immediately recovered from her surprise and walked towards Jian Dan with a smile before saying in a very professional tone, "Miss Jian Dan, you're here to look for Mr. Chu so early?"

"No."

"If you're not here to look for Mr. Chu, then you're..."

"I'm here to report for work."

"Report for work?" A dubious expression appeared on Wei Qianyi's face again.

"Yes."

"Did Liyuan ask you to come?"

“Of course! Not everyone can make Uncle pull strings.” She said unabashedly without any attempts to hide it at all.

Jian Dan’s words were like a sharp arrow that pierced Wei Qianyi’s heart.

Seeing Wei Qianyi’s hurt expression, Jian Dan deliberately raised her chin and walked past her...

She had won her first battle at the office. She couldn’t help but applaud herself in her heart.

But how could there only be one battle in a war?!

Wei Qianyi immediately threw her a curve ball.

“Jian Dan, since Liyuan pulled strings to let you work here, you have to show some results and don’t embarrass him.”

“We’ll see about that.”

“In that case, I’ll leave this to you.” She handed Jian Dan a project proposal.

Looking at Wei Qianyi’s malicious expression, she knew that this project was definitely not easy to deal with. There might even be something fishy about it. But who am I? I never admit defeat. She had always taken the bull by the horns because she felt a stronger sense of accomplishment if she won.

When the going gets tough, the tough get going! That’s me!

“No problem!” This isn’t just a project, but also a challenge!

“I’ll leave it to you then.” The moment she turned around, a wicked smile appeared on her face.

However, Jian Dan looked at Wei Qianyi's back with determination in her eyes.

Flying in the face of danger...

She flipped open the file...

This looked like the filming of a very simple advertisement. But since Wei Qianyi had assigned it to her, it would definitely not be so simple. But she was not afraid and would deal with whatever came her way.

She put the proposal into her backpack and rushed to the filming location...

The filming location was in a very remote place and it took her nearly an hour to get there by cab.

When she entered the studio, filming had already begun...

"Hello, I'm Jian Dan from Qin Corporation's CEO's Office. I'll be in charge of following up on the filming of this advertisement." She walked up to the director and introduced herself.

"What did you say your name was?" The director looked at Jian Dan with a lustful gleam in his eyes, making her feel very uncomfortable.

"Jian Dan." However, she put up it in order for the filming to proceed smoothly.

"Young lady, you look so young!" He became even more aggressive and reached out his hand to her.

Jian Dan's eyes darkened. She grabbed the index finger of his extended hand and snapped it back mercilessly.

The studio instantly exploded with screams that sounded like pigs being slaughtered. "Ouch! Let go of me!"

“Let’s see if you dare to get handsy again!” She exerted a little force when she let go of his finger and he fell to the ground.

“You, you, you...” Sitting on the ground, he pointed at Jian Dan and stammered.

“What about me? Let me tell you, if you dare to get handsy with me again, I don’t mind crippling your hand.”

Someone helped the angry director up from the ground. Although his eyes brimmed with hatred, he did not dare to do anything.

However, Jian Dan had humiliated him deeply. How could he just let it go?

Filming had barely progressed to a third of the shoot. “Um, you said that you’re the one from Qin Corporation who’s in charge of the filming, right?” The director pointed at Jian Dan and said.

“Yes.”

“What?”

“The female model who was originally scheduled for the shoot had an emergency and can’t make it. Now that we don’t have a female model, we can’t continue filming.”

“I’ll contact a new model now.”

She whipped out her cell phone from her pocket and called someone from New E Media...

“The model will be here in about two hours.”

“Two hours? Do you mean for me to wait here for another two hours? My time is very precious.”

“But this place is really very far from the city. It will take an hour and a half to rush over at the fastest speed.”

“This has nothing to do with me. I only want results.”

“You...”

“If you can’t solve it, then I’ll end today’s filming. However, I’m going to America for a month after tomorrow. This advertisement might...”

This director is obviously doing it on purpose. He knew that the advertiser had specifically asked him to film this advertisement and that was why he was so arrogant..

Chapter 342: Familiar Feeling

Looking at his arrogant expression, Jian Dan was so angry that she wanted to send him flying with a kick.

“But the model really can’t get here any sooner!”

“You don’t have a solution? But I do.”

Looking at the director’s expression, she knew that he was up to no good.

“I think we can make do with you standing in for the model albeit barely.” He gave Jian Dan the once-over with a lustful gleam in his eyes.

How could Jian Dan tolerate it? However, just as she was about to fly into a rage, the words that Wei Qianyi had said to her before she left the 33rd floor suddenly flashed across her mind: If I can't even complete such a small project, I would definitely be too embarrassed to come back if I were you!

Wei Qianyi was certain that she would not be able to get this advertisement done, but she was going to prove her wrong.

"There are many other girls here other than me. It doesn't have to be me."

"You're right, but only your image meets the requirements of this advertisement. I'm the director of this advertisement. I know best."

It seemed that the director had made up his mind to make her shoot in place of the model.

She had seen the script for this advertisement—all it needed was film the back of the model.

If it's just her back view... "Okay!"

"Then let's not waste any more time. Hurry up and get your makeup done!"

She followed the makeup artist to the dressing room...

After the makeup was done, her eyes almost popped out when she saw the costume the makeup artist handed to her...

"What's this?"

The clothes the makeup artist was holding had the entire back exposed, and there was only a thin strap across her back! There was only a scrap of cloth in front, like... an undergarment!

“The advertisement is mainly about shooting the back of a female model. This dress can perfectly showcase the beautiful back.”

Showcase?? This is being naked, okay?

“Stop wasting time. Hurry up! Everyone is waiting!”

This world is so beautiful. I can't be so irritable!

She kept taking deep breaths to calm herself down. She went to the changing room and got changed...

If Uncle were to find out about this skimpy dress, there would definitely be people who would have to bear the consequences!

After putting on her jacket, she went to the filming location...

“What are you doing? I want to shoot a naked back, not a windbreaker freak!” He looked at Jian Dan—who was wrapped up tightly—and said in annoyance.

Taking a deep breath, she took off her jacket and walked over to the male model...

Seeing Jian Dan dressed so skimpily, the director's eyes brimmed with lust. His perverted eyes kept wandering over Jian Dan's body...

“Alright, get ready to start filming!”

A staff handed a glass of fruit juice to Jian Dan. “Later, you put one hand on the male model's shoulder while the other hold the fruit juice. Try your best to show your side profile while drinking the fruit juice.”

“Didn't you say that you would only shoot the back?”

“It’s my call on how to shoot it!” The director said coldly.

Forget it, it’s just a few photographs...

“Then let’s begin!”

“Everyone, get ready. Action!”

She assumed the position that the crew member had told her earlier... “Action!”

When she heard that, she slowly brought the glass of fruit juice to her lips. She raised her chin slightly and the juice slid into Jian Dan’s tempting red lips, into her mouth and down her throat...

This series of actions made the lecherous director behind the camera unable to hold back anymore. He kept swallowing his saliva...

Since the director did not say “cut!”, she did not dare to move.

However... after drinking the juice, she felt that something was amiss... This feeling is a little familiar...

Chapter 343: Heavenly Help!

She felt a surge of heat that wanted to break out of her body. She was very familiar with this feeling. After all, this was not the first time she had experienced such a thing.

She had begun getting weak and did not have any strength in her legs. The glass in her hand fell to the ground because of her lack of strength. Her eyes had already begun to blur, and her throat had become very dry.

Her blurry eyes looked at the director behind the screen. Seeing his lecherous expression, she knew that it must be him—he must have spiked the glass of juice she had just drunk.

Her eyelids were already starting to droop, and her body temperature was rising continuously. She used her willpower to hold on, but she couldn't hold on for long at all. Her hands were tightly clenched, and her tightly clenched hands had already begun to tremble because of the suppression.

No! I can definitely think of a way! I can definitely do it! In a daze, She glanced at the huge lamp at the side and used her last ounce of strength to push it. The lamp fell and the lampshade shattered in an instant.

They probably did not expect Jian Dan to do this, so they did not take any precautions.

She was already unsteady on her feet. The moment she squatted down, she sat on the ground and took the opportunity to grab a broken glass shard of the lampshade. Without any hesitation, she stabbed her thigh...

The intense pain allowed her to regain some of her consciousness. Bright red blood trickled down her slender leg and onto the ground.

At the sight of this, the people who were waiting to watch the show—or rather, waiting for the drug to take effect—all wanted to rush over.

Jian Dan used her remaining willpower to wave the broken glass shard around. "Don't come over!"

"Hmph! Tough cookie, huh? You're still resisting in such a situation?"

"You'd better let me go immediately. Otherwise, you will definitely regret it!"

"Regret? Haha! I've never done anything I regret. I only do happy things. How about this? You'll accompany me to do happy things today?"

With a lascivious smile, he slowly approached her.

Even though she had regained some consciousness after stabbing her thigh earlier, this could not last long, especially since she was bleeding non-stop. Blood loss would cause her to lose her consciousness.

Hence, he easily knocked the glass shard in her hand to the ground, and a group of people pounced on her...

It seemed that she would not be able to walk out of here unscathed today. Just as she was in despair, a figure appeared in front of her and kicked a row of people down.

Her first reaction was, "Uncle!"

This man seemed to be emitting an incomparably dazzling radiance; it was as if he was standing in front of her like a god. She tried her best to see his face, but she failed to see his face before she passed out because she was worn out.

In her daze, she seemed to have heard some intense fighting sounds, the sound of something breaking, and some painful wails.

When things quietened down, she felt her body slowly soar into the air. She seemed to be carried by someone. She could feel that this person was very careful when carrying her.

However, the heat in her body did not subside. She could not control herself and wanted to tear off the clothes on her and the other party.

He looked at the person in his arms whose facial features were scrunched up in discomfort with her brows tightly furrowed and her small hands kept tearing at his body.

How much self-control did he have to be able to hold back against the woman he loved so much who was tearing at his body?

However, he told himself that he had to endure it. He did not want to see her hurt at all, let alone suffer.. Because he loved her, he could not!

Chapter 344: Thank You for Saving Me!

In order to relieve the heat in Jian Dan's body, he could only put her in cold water.

She suddenly felt that she was surrounded by coldness. So cold, so cold! Am I dying? If I died, how sad would Uncle be?

No, no! I can't leave Uncle alone like this!

She suddenly opened her eyes...

After opening her eyes, she realized that she was lying on a bed. The decorations around her seemed a little familiar. The blurry figure gradually became clearer. "Master... Master Spirit?"

"How do you feel? Do you feel unwell?" Malicious Spirit sat beside Jian Dan and reached out to touch her forehead.

She wanted to sit up, but she did not have any strength. When he saw her like this, he reached out to help her up. "Be careful!"

"Master Spirit, you saved me! Thank God for you today. Otherwise, I don't know what would have happened to me." Her eyes were already moist.

"Do you know that it's very dangerous for a girl like you to go to such a remote area alone?"

"I went there for work."

“Work? That is considered work?”

When Jian Dan passed out, she did not see what those people were going to do. They were a bunch of scumbags!

“I didn’t expect it to turn out like this either. I just wanted to do my job well.”

Seeing Jian Dan’s aggrieved expression, he could not bear to continue chiding her. “Looks like I have to teach you another thing. Before you learn pharmaceuticals, you’re not allowed to eat anything given by strangers again.” “Master Spirit, I’m already in this state, but you still want me to train. Look at how pitiful I am!”

“If you don’t want a repeat of what happened today in future, work hard and train harder.”

As expected of the cold Master Spirit, rm already like this, but he’s still so strict.

“But still, you’d have to wait until I’m better.”

“Okay.”

“Master Spirit, did you kick those people’s a*s?”

“Yes.” If he had his way, they should all die. However, he resisted the urge to break their necks in order not to cause trouble for Jian Dan.

“Coach, did I sleep for a long time?”

“Three hours.”

She had to rush back to the office. Otherwise, Chu Liyuan would definitely be worried.

“Master Spirit, I’m much obliged to you for what happened today. I’ll definitely treat you to a meal another day and thank you properly, but I have to leave now. If Uncle doesn’t see me after work, he’ll be worried.”

She’s already in such a state, yet she’s still thinking about whether Chu Liyuan would be worried? If he’s worried, he should protect her well and not let her fall into such danger.

At the thought of this, he clenched his fists tightly.

“Master Spirit!”

Malicious Spirit knew that he could not stop her, so he could only say, “I’ll send you there.”

“Thank you, Master Spirit! You’re really the best coach in the world.”

Friendzoned? But I don’t want that!

However, this was not important to him. As long as he could stay by Jian Dan’s side and protect her from any harm, he would be very contented.

As long as he saw Jian Dan’s smile, his heart would feel very warm.

It was as if it was the only mission he knew in this life the moment he saw Jian Dan—to protect her!

“Get changed.” He placed a clean set of clothes on the bed and turned to leave. While she was getting changed, she saw that the wound on her leg had already been tended to...

However, because her leg was injured, she was limping.

After getting changed, she came out of the room. "Master Spirit, thank you for bandaging my wound."

"I don't want you to bleed to death here," Malicious Spirit said insincerely as he shifted his gaze elsewhere.

It hurt him to the core when he saw the wound just now!

"Master Spirit, you obviously care about me very much. Why do you have to put on an indifferent expression? It's so strange! Uncle Long-legged isn't popular anymore!"

"You talk too much. Hurry up!"

He's still the same. However, she knew that although he looked cold on the surface, he was actually a very cute person on the inside; he was just shy and unwilling to admit it.

"Don't tell anyone I saved you."

"Why?"

"No reason. I don't want to see anyone else."

Its really strange. "Then what should I say?"

"Huh?? But those people have seen you!"

“No.”

“Huh? How is that possible?”

“I wore a mask.”

He didn't even forget to wear a mask before saving her. Impressive!

“In that case, I'll have to...”

She turned around and changed back into her original clothes. She also removed the gauze on her leg and even made her body very dirty and her hair very messy...

“What are you...”

“Because you don't want to see anyone, so I have to do this. Alright, cut the crap. Send me back to that place now.”

Malicious Spirit immediately understood Jian Dan's intentions, so he sent her back to the place where he saved her earlier...

After returning there, Jian Dan pretended that she had escaped. For this, she deliberately wore only one shoe and hailed a cab back to Qin Corporation...

On the way back to Qin Corporation, Malicious Spirit followed behind. He only left when he saw Jian Dan enter the Qin Corporation building safely..

Chapter 345: Injury-prone

After seeing Master Spirit leave...

Looking at the wound on her leg, she knew that if it was in front of him earlier, he would definitely not agree to her doing this, but... since he did not want others to know of his existence, she could only do her best to protect him.

Hence, she grabbed a handful of soil from the roadside and rubbed it against her wound.

The pain was no different from rubbing salt on a wound.

Then, she endured the pain and limped into the parking lot. She took the private elevator to the 33rd floor...

Chu Liyuan had wanted to have lunch with Jian Dan but was told that Jian Dan had gone to the filming location of the advertisement.

However, the filming should have ended by 1 p.m. It was already 4. p.m. but Jian Dan still had not returned and did not answer his calls either. Chu Liyuan was so anxious that he was about to go out and look for her when he heard the ding of elevator...

He smiled at Jian Dan's return. However, in the next second, when he saw the clothes Jian Dan was wearing and the wound on her leg, he instantly frowned. He quickly ran to Jian Dan and caught her as she collapsed due to exhaustion. "Jian Jian!" Didn't she go to the filming location of the advertisement? How did she become like this?

In short, whoever reduced Jian Jian to such a state is dead meat!

"Uncle, it's great to be able to see you again!"

He picked Jian Dan up in a bridal carry and strode to his office. "Li Jing, call Sizhe and tell him to show up before me within five minutes!"

“Got it!”

Li Jing immediately whipped out his cell phone from his pocket and called Sizhe. “Doctor Shang, Mr. Chu wants you to come to the 33rd floor immediately. You only have five minutes!”

If I don’t handle this matter well, Mr. Chu won’t be the only one not to let me off. Even Mengjiao won’t let me off!

Chu Liyuan was the only person who could make Sizhe come over with just one call. Even Shang Simiao did not wield such powers.

Although he was baffled, he rushed to Qin Corporation like a bat out of hell. “What happened? Who’s injured again?!” He pushed open the door to Chu Liyuan’s office.

He had barely taken two steps when he saw Jian Dan lying on the sofa in the rest area with blood all over her leg.

“Oh my God! What happened?”

Because of his doctor’s professionalism, he squatted down and began to treat Jian Dan’s wound...

“Jian Dan, why do you keep getting injured?” He said as he treated her wound.

In fact, Chu Liyuan himself really wanted to know why Jian Dan was always getting injured too.

“I met with an accident.”

Because he was fraught with worry earlier, he did not have the time to ask Jian Dan what happened. Now that Sizhe happened to ask...

“What happened? Didn’t you go to the filming location of the advertisement? How did...”

“It happened there.”

“What?”

“The director is a super pervert. The moment I got there, he ogled at me. Then, he made me stand in for the female model on the grounds that there were no female models. He even spiked my glass of fruit juice. This wound was caused by me when I stabbed myself to make me conscious.”

“But in the end, I still passed out. I don’t know what happened after that. When I woke up again, I saw those people lying on the ground, unmoving. I took the opportunity to run out.”

Upon hearing Jian Dan’s words, Chu Liyuan’s face turned thunderous. The coldness in his eyes shot out.
“Li Jing! Go there immediately and bring them here!”

“Got it!”

Li Jing did not dare to delay.. He summoned a few security guards and rushed to the filming location of the advertisement with them, and brought the lot over...

Chapter 346: Don’t You Never Do Anything You Regret?

Chu Liyuan told Li Jing to bring the people he brought back to a room in the basement.

After Sizhe treated Jian Dan’s wound, he brought her to the basement...

When Chu Liyuan thought about how Jian Dan's wound required six stitches, he was furious. When he thought about how that man dared to drug Jian Dan... That b*stard is really tired of living...

The legs of everyone who had been brought back had already been crippled. Looking at the people lying on the ground, Chu Liyuan's brows did not let up at all.

When the director saw Chu Liyuan, he did not know who he was. After all, Chu Liyuan had never accepted any interviews. The public only knew what they read about him.

Although he did not know Chu Liyuan, he knew Li Jing—the special assistant of Qin Corporation's renowned Chu Liyuan!

"Mr. Li, you have to seek justice for us!" He would probably have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

"I seek justice for you? Don't you know what you've done?" Li Jing said coldly.

In fact, Li Jing had heard of his notoriety—countless girls had suffered in his hands. Today, he had dared to beard the lion; he had already signed his own death warrant.

"I... What did I do?" He felt a little guilty, but still said stubbornly.

"What did you do?" Jian Dan could no longer hold it in and asked bluntly.

"You... How did you..." Only then did the director see Jian Dan. He pointed at Jian Dan and was speechless for a moment.

Bam! A crisp slap. "Your eyes don't deserve to be on Jian Jian!"

"Who are you..."

"Mr. Chu, what would you like to do?"

When he heard the words 'Mr. Chu', the director forgot to be afraid.

"For a person like him, death is too easy for him, so..."

"I want his reputation to be ruined and him to be kicked out of the house by his wife. Remember, he must leave with nothing. Notify all the hospitals that they are not allowed to accept or treat him. Also, I don't want to see him find any job!"

It was a smackdown! Torture of one's mind surmounts all physical sufferings. It was worse than taking his life!

Chu Liyuan wanted him to live a life worse than an animal. I will not let anyone who wants to violate Jian Jian off!

"Um... Didn't you tell me that you never do anything you regret? So you shouldn't regret it now, right? Don't worry, there will be many 'happy' things for you to do in future."

Jian Dan had never been a kind person. She would not be soft-hearted towards such a morally depraved bad egg.

After dealing with the director, Chu Liyuan carried Jian Dan and turned to leave. Before he left, he handed the rest of the lot to Li Jing to take care of.

Even after getting into the car, Chu Liyuan couldn't bear to let Jian Dan leave his arms, so he sat her in his lap as he drove all the way back to Li Garden...

After returning to Li Garden, he returned to the bedroom without stopping and gently put Jian Dan on the bed. "It hurts a lot, right?"

It hurt him to the core to see Jian Dan's leg that was bandaged with gauze. He could not bear to see her like this.

“Uncle, I’m really in pain, so don’t frown. Otherwise, I’ll be in even more pain!” Seeing how worried Chu Liyuan was for her, Jian Dan felt really upset.

She did want to get hurt either. But it seemed that no matter how much hard she tried, she would still get injured.

She wondered if someone had put a hex on her. Otherwise, why am I so unlucky?

“If you don’t want me to frown, protect yourself well.”

“I’ll be very careful...”

“You always say that, but you always fail to do it!”

“Ugh! I didn’t want to either! Sometimes, it’s really not something I can control.”

“Oh, you...”

“Come on... Uncle, can you help me take a bath? I’m so dirty.”

“Alright.”

He carried Jian Dan to the bathroom. First, he put Jian Dan on the vanity table and gently took off her clothes. Then, he let Jian Dan sit on him and carefully avoided avoided her wound as he bathed her.

“Uncle, you’re the best!” She hugged Chu Liyuan’s neck.

“But I’m not okay! Do you know how upset I am every time I see you get hurt?”

Chu Liyuan lowered his head so that she could not see his expression clearly.. However, from the frequency of his breathing, she could tell that he must be extremely upset right now...

Chapter 347: I'm Really Afraid of Losing You!

"Uncle, I'm sorry for always making you worry!" It hurt Jian Dan to see Chu Liyuan like this.

"Do you know how afraid I am of losing you?"

"The more I care about you, the more afraid I am!"

"Because I really can't imagine the day when I lose you."

"Do you understand?"

"Uncle, you won't lose me. Never! I'll always be by your side." She tightened her arms around Chu Liyuan's neck and rested her head on his shoulder.

If he could, he really wanted to tie Jian Dan to himself. This way, he could bring her wherever he went. This way, he would not have to worry about whether something happened to her again when she was out of his sight.

However, Jian Dan was also an individual who needed her own space.

Looks like I really have to be hard-hearted this time.

"Jian Jian, I've decided to send you to the military camp to train for a period of time when your injuries are healed."

“Go to the military camp? Why do I have to go to the military camp?”

“You must have the ability to protect yourself!”

“I can...” She almost said Master Spirit out loud. Fortunately, she stopped in her tracks. “I have you to protect me!”

“I can’t be by your side all the time. It’s the same for everyone. Only when you have the ability to protect yourself can I truly be at ease.”

“But...”

“No buts. My mind is made up.”

For the sakes of Jian Dan and myself, I must definitely not be soft-hearted this time. I must be hard-hearted.

“Alright, fine.” She pouted and agreed.

Actually, it wasn’t that she did not want to go to the military camp. After Master Spirit’s training, her physical fitness was no longer a problem. It was just that if she went to the military camp, she would not be able to see Chu Liyuan for a long time. She would definitely miss him very much!

For the next few days, Chu Liyuan did not allow her to go out on her own. She was not even allowed to go downstairs. Mrs. Jin sent food to her room during mealtimes. He said that this was the only way for her wound to recover quickly.

After lying in bed for three days, she finally couldn’t take it anymore. Hence, before Chu Liyuan went downstairs, she jumped onto his back. “Uncle, if I continue lying in bed, I’ll really grow moldy. I want to go downstairs to eat, okay?”

“Be good. Your wound hasn’t healed yet.”

“I don’t care. If you don’t agree, I won’t get down!”

She hugged Chu Liyuan’s neck in a vise-like grip and refused to let go...

With Jian Jian’s active personality, making her stay in the room is indeed a tall order. Moreover, she has already done as I said and stayed in bed for three days. That’s not easy for her.

“Okay. But no sudden or big movements, understand?”

“Okay! I’ll definitely be careful.”

Hearing that Chu Liyuan had agreed, a sweet smile blossomed on Jian Dan’s face.

Chu Liyuan helped her downstairs. “This is the first time I feel that the air downstairs is so good! It turns out that being able to go downstairs to eat is such a blissful thing!”

She really can’t stay idle. It’s just going downstairs, yet it can make her so happy.

“When I go downstairs to eat, I feel that the food has become especially delicious!” She sat at the dining table and ate the super delicious breakfast prepared by Mrs. Jin.

For the past few days, breakfast in bed had been tasteless.

She finally understood—although the little bird locked up in the cage had food and drinks, it might not be happy. As long as it could soar in the sky, it would definitely not like to be trapped in a small cage..

Chapter 348: Military Camp

After about half a month, her leg had basically recovered, so Chu Liyuan was sending her to the military camp as per their agreement...

As Chu Liyuan used to be a special forces soldier and was once the God of Soldiers, he had not retired from the army yet. Hence, he was able to call in a favor and send her to a relatively secret base for training.

Before going away to the military camp, she naturally had to inform her friends. She should have informed them in advance, but the reason why it had dragged on until now was because she was still holding out hope for Chu Liyuan to change his mind. For all she knew, Chu Liyuan might change his mind because he had wanted to send her to the military camp on a whim or maybe he couldn't bear to part with her.

Alas, things did not go as she had hoped. Since she could not get out of it, she could only brace herself...

He knew that Jian Dan could not come for training because of her leg injury. He had not seen Jian Dan for nearly half a month. In this half a month, he kept thinking about Jian Dan every day. He thought that Jian Dan's small injury should be almost healed and he should be able to see her in a few days.

However, he did not expect... to suddenly receive Jian Dan's WeChat message saying that she was going to the military camp for training.

Needless to say, this stupid idea must have been Chu Liyuan's. Looks like he's also afraid and that's why he wants to send Jian Dan to the military camp for training.

A military vehicle came to pick Jian Dan up. After she got into the military vehicle... she stuck her head out of the window. "Uncle, I'm leaving. I'll miss you!"

How can I not miss you? Now, whenever he thought about not seeing Jian Dan for a long time, his heart felt like it was being cut by a knife. However, when he thought of the wound on Jian Dan's leg, he could only bear with it. "The military camp is not like any other place. Don't try to be clever or pull any stunts there, understand?"

"What do you mean by clever? My brain is filled with great wisdom!"

“Be more humble in the military camp. Otherwise, you’ll suffer.”

“After listening to you, why do I feel that this military camp is a little scary?”

When she saw Chu Liyuan’s meaningful smile, she felt that her stint at the military camp was doomed.

The military vehicle started slowly. As she watched the distance between her and Chu Liyuan grow increasingly further, she felt increasingly uncertain. This should be considered the first true parting after she married Chu Liyuan.

“Liyuan, have you really thought about it? We both know full well what kind of place that is. Are you sure sending Jian there is the right choice?” Zi Yan couldn’t help but ask as she stared after the departing vehicle.

To be honest, even he did not know if his decision was right or wrong. On the one hand, he wanted Jian Dan to grow up quickly, and that place was the best choice. On the other hand, he was worried that Jian Dan would not be able to take the hellish training there.

They had all graduated from there back then, so they had an intimate understanding of the training there. It really was not something that everyone could persevere through. Even if she was kicked out from there, it would still make her better-trained than soldiers from ordinary military camps. This was the reason why he wanted to send Jian Dan there.

“I hope I made the right choice.” Chu Liyuan’s eyes never left the military vehicle ferrying Jian Dan.

It was a very long journey. On the way, the two people sitting beside her did not say a word no matter what she said to them. If she had not seen their eyes blink, she would have suspected that they were mannequins.

After driving for more than three hours, Jian Dan felt a little nauseous even though she usually did not suffer from car sickness.

After exiting the vehicle, the building in front of her felt very overwhelming and oppressive. The black door and the surrounding walls were very high. There was even an electric fence wrapped around it. At first glance, it looked like a huge prison.

“Are you sure this is the place?” She asked doubtfully because this did not look like a military camp at all.

“Yes. Come on in.”

Helpless, she could only drag her luggage and follow the two soldiers who escorted her here...

Chapter 349: Class Allocation Test

She barely had time to settle in when she found out that she was just in time for the class allocation test where cadets would be allocated classes according to their performance in the test.

As a result, Jian Dan did not even have time to put her luggage away before she gathered to start the so-called class allocation test.

Under normal circumstances, new cadets would have a week to prepare and adapt after their arrival. However, because she had arrived late and happened to be in time for the class allocation test, she could only wing it.

However, she did not even understand what kind of test this was and did not know what to do. This was the first time she was nervous because of an test.

After gathering...

The instructors on the stage explained the rules of the test again.

The requirement for this test was very simple—to be the last one standing by the end of the stipulated time. Before the test, every cadet could choose a few items that they thought would be useful. However, each could only choose five items.

Uncle has too much confidence in me! Can I really pass such a test? Jian Dan looked around. The other cadets all looked very impressive. There was really no one as skinny as her. She felt like a little chick among a group of eagles.

Each cadet entered the room once to choose the items they wanted to bring.

When Jian Dan entered the room...

She walked into the room and slowly approached the table where the items were placed. There were many things on the table. She scanned the things on the table and considered what items to choose.

The three-day test would be conducted in the mountains, so the first item she chose was a firestarter. After all, this could start a fire and cook food.

The second item was a rope. If she encountered danger, she would be able to use it to save herself.

After that, she chose a first aid kit, a combat knife, and a computer.

In fact, among the cadets from all walks of life, almost no one would choose a computer. After all, in the depths of the mountains, computers were no different from trash.

Hence, when they saw Jian Dan coming out with a computer, the other cadets looked at her as if she was a joke.

She had never experienced such a situation before, and really did not know what to choose. She chose these items based on her gut feel.

The reason why she chose the computer was because she felt that this was what she was best at and did not think too much about it.

Of course, no one—not even Jian Dan herself—would have thought that this computer would become the key to her victory-in addition to these self-selected items, every cadet was also given some necessities—a pistol, some paint bullets, and a wristwatch. This wristwatch was actually a tracking device. This way, they could pinpoint the location of every cadet. If anything happened to the cadets, they could rush over immediately.

After putting the items in her backpack, she followed the other cadets into the vehicle where they were all blindfolded.

Jian Dan felt that the car had been driving for a long time. It would stop every 10 minutes or so and Jian Dan felt that there were increasingly fewer people around her...

The vehicle stopped again. Jian Dan felt herself being pulled up and sent out of the car.

Hearing the sound of the vehicle gradually driving away, she took off her blindfold and looked around. Only then did she realize that she was in a forest. There were towering trees around her, and there were no signs of civilization.

Looking at this unfamiliar environment, she really felt a little uncertain. Her wilderness survival experience was almost non-existent!

Uncle sent me here without any worries. Isn't he overestimating me?

However, it was fortunate that she had learned some skills from Master Spirit previously. Otherwise, she really did not know what to do just then..

Chapter 350: True Wilderness Survival

In this situation, she could only brace herself. No matter what the outcome was, there was no reason for her to give up halfway since she was already here. Moreover, it was not in her character to give up halfway.

Therefore, since she was already here, she had to give it her best shot.

After schooling her emotions, she embarked on her first wilderness survival adventure...

She walked aimlessly alone. Although she had just given herself a great pep talk, it was her first time in the wilderness after all and she was totally clueless as to what she should do.

Unexpectedly, as she walked, some sounds came from somewhere and she followed the sounds quietly... As she approached the source of the sounds, she saw two cadets gathered together. She was originally quite happy. After all, it was better to work in teams rather than being a lone wolf in such an environment. However, just as she was about to go over, one of them shot the other person when he was not paying attention. That person was immediately eliminated...

The person who launched the sneak attack did not feel guilty at all. Instead, he gave a look of triumph. "Don't blame me. In such an environment, it's survival of the fittest. The fewer opponents, the better. Moreover..." He walked in front of that person and casually took his backpack. "Your equipment is now mine..." Isn't this just a simple test? Jian Dan had never expected such a situation. How cruel!

In fact, she had noticed earlier that the person who had been eliminated was actually going to launch a sneak attack on the other party. It was just that he was not as fast as the other party.

From the looks of it, she could only fight alone. If she had not seen that, she might have been eliminated the moment she showed herself.

Because of what she had just seen, she became extremely cautious. Although she was not discovered, she had witnessed many people being eliminated...

If this continued, she might be eliminated by someone if she was not careful.

However, with her current ability, it was impossible for her to escape in such an environment. It seemed that if she wanted to pass this test and emerge as the last one standing, she had to think of other ways.

Since she could not fight head-on, she could only use her wits. However, how should she do it? Her eyes darted around as she thought of a solution. From the corner of her eye, she saw the watch on her wrist...

A confident smile appeared on her face...

She returned to a hidden col that she had just passed by. She was relieved to find that no one was following her after checking around and took out the computer from her backpack...

It was easy for Jian Dan to hack into a computer with her ability, but it was really difficult to hack into this one this time. It took her two hours to hack in...

Seeing that everyone's position on the screen was clear at a glance, the corners of her mouth curled into a smile... Now that she already knew the position of the others, it would be much easier for her to eliminate the others without anyone knowing. She was all set except for one last crucial thing...

Now, she had to make sure that the instructors could not determine her location. So...

She pulled a small stunt and transferred her signal to another person.

Alright, its time to reap the harvest...

The current situation was similar to the game, PUBG: Battlegrounds, that she often played. Now that she had a cheat code, it was really difficult not to win. After all, playing games was her forte. Now that Tve figured out the rules of the game, the last one standing is gonna be me!

She had been learning marksmanship from Malicious Spirit for a long time. Even he felt that her marksmanship was very good.

Now there were 26 people who had not been eliminated other than herself. However, she only had 15 bullets and needed nine more. Hence, other than killing people, she also needed to boost her equipment.

A blitzkrieg strategy! She did not want to spend the night in the wild.

She loaded the gun and synchronized the image on the computer to her wristwatch. She put the computer back in her backpack, tied her shoelaces properly, and was ready to go...

She had found the target closest to her according to the position on her wristwatch. She fired a shot from afar and the other party was inexplicably eliminated before he could see her.

However, she could only apologize...

After eliminating him, she walked over to him and confiscated his ammunition. She took a look and saw that there were 11 bullets left. Even God was on her side. She had instantly acquired all the equipment she needed with surplus...

The others were also eliminated before they knew what hit them.

Now, there was only one person left on the map...

In order not to let the instructors have any inkling about the current situation, she had deliberately added a concealment code and the elimination would only show up on the instructors' end 30 minutes after it had happened.

By now, she had already quietly appeared behind the last cadet and aimed her gun at him... One shot... and the last one was taken care of.

A victorious smile spread on her face...

Now... there was only...
