

The Beloved 36

Chapter 36: Tom Bear Isn't a Bear

"What's wrong? Why do you look so listless?"

What was wrong with this lass today? She was usually full of energy and had endless energy. What was wrong with her today? She was like a frosted eggplant.

Was she bullied at work? Or had she been scolded by her superior?

"Someone in the office bullied you?"

He wanted to know who was courting death by bullying his lass.

"No!"

Jian Dan was fine. She just felt a little uncomfortable.

"Uncle, it's so good to have you."

She did not know if she had saved the world in her previous life to meet Chu Liyuan in this life. Jian Dan really felt that she was the happiest person in the world.

If she had not met Chu Liyuan that day, Jian Dan did not even dare to imagine what she would be like now.

Why was this lass so emotional today?

"Uncle, shall we go to Tom Bear?"

No, she must not stay in this mood forever. She had to vent it out.

"What bear?"

This lass' mood changed too quickly. But what was that bear she was talking about? What was that?

"Uncle, you've never been to Tom Bear?"

No way. Chu Liyuan had never been to Tom Bear? His life was too boring. He had never been to such a fun place?

Tom Bear? It should be the name of a plush toy, right? She really had not grown up.

"You still like to play with teddy bears at this age?"

Jian Dan was stunned immediately. It seemed that it was not just that Chu Liyuan had not been there; he did not even know what Tom Bear was?

Was this the so-called generation gap??

Shhh... She must not let Chu Liyuan know.

"Uncle, Tom Bear isn't the name of a bear. It's the name of a theme park!"

No... it was... a theme park? This was very awkward!

"I think you have been busy with work. It's understandable that you don't know!"

How could she come up with such a lame reason?

"But it doesn't matter. Today, I'll bring you to experience Tom Bear's charm."

...

So, Tom Bear really wasn't a bear! Chu Liyuan looked at the happy world before his eyes.

"Let's go! Let's exchange the tokens first!"

Since it was a happy world, the atmosphere inside was naturally incomparably happy!

After exchanging the tokens, Jian Dan led Chu Liyuan to the boxing ring...

Since she wanted to vent, she would definitely not let the boxing ring off.

Without further ado, she inserted the token and put on the boxing glove... Ready... Jian Dan readied herself... Punch... Ding!

Wow! My hand hurts. It's not even 300 points. Sigh! It seemed that she was really not good at sports.

"Uncle, this is really difficult! Do you want to try it?"

It seemed easy. But in fact, it was not easy to score a high score.

Was it very difficult? It looked alright. Chu Liyuan took the glove—put it on—and casually threw a punch...

Oh my god! He actually scored 450 points. Is this for real? Why does it feel like he didn't use much strength?

Jian Dan swallowed hard and gave him a thumbs up. He was really good!

If Chu Liyuan used a little more strength, he might even break the record!

Doesn't he have any weaknesses? I don't believe it. How can there be such a perfect person in this world?

She had to find something that Chu Liyuan could not do.

Hehe, just the thought of it made her excited.