

Chapter 21

GAVIN

I saw Alia's eyes roll at Carrie's presence. She dropped her head and munched her brownies while Carrie leaned on the counter beside me, her body angled to face mine.

"Hey! Anything you need?" I asked straight to the point, not even looking at her. My body was still facing Alia at the other side of the counter.

"Well, you promised me a date. So I'm here to claim it." She said confidently, her finger running on my arm.

"You shouldn't be wasting your time on me." I shook my head and drank the milk in my glass before clicking it with Alia's glass to get her attention. "Drink up," I told Alia. 1

She then grabbed her glass and sipped the milk slowly, her eyes shifting between me and Carrie under her long lashes. I could feel she was holding her breath.

"Come on, Beta. Just one night, maybe at the bar?" She was using her high-pitched voice again. 2

"No, thanks. I don't like going there." I answered calmly, my eyes still with Alia.

"Fine. Just a dinner then?"

This girl doesn't get it. And as much as I wanted to tell her to fuck off, I wasn't that rude plus I respect his brother. 3

"Look Carrie," I inched to the other side before I faced her, creating a distance between us. "Shouldn't you be waiting for your mate rather than wasting your time with me or any other guy?"

"Well, how about you? Did you wait for your mate? Because I heard otherwise from your warriors." She said coyly.

What the fuck!

"What did you hear?" My mate's soft voice came between us, and I could say she was doing a good job at controlling her emotions because her eyes were spewing fire on me. 1

Double fuck! I blew this up again.

Carrie's eyes weren't leaving my face at all so I had no fucking clue if she was playing dumb or she has really no idea that Alia was already pissed off. 2

"I heard..." She trails her finger on my chest and I clutched it, placing it on the countertop.

"Go home," I told her in a cold tone.

She chuckled before she continued, turning her body to lean on the counter and face Alia. "I heard... that the Beta, together with his Alpha and Gamma, we'll they said you guys were adventurous... with women!" She winked at Alia before facing me again. "And I heard, you're a beast when it comes to bed!"

"Carrie, your mouth!" Alia shrieked, her face turning red before she snapped her head at me with her nose flaring.

Fuck! Fuck! Fuck!

"That was before!" I exclaimed, my eyes widen while I looked at Alia.

I never felt so little in my whole life as I do right now.

Fuck this male libido! Why did I ever give in? This would be my downfall and I was hoping the floor would eat me up now.

Carrie giggled and I wanted to snap her neck. "So, what do you say for another adventure? I'm fun to be with, right Alia?"

Alia grabbed the milk box and walked towards the fridge. "Yup. I guess you can have your adventures together. I'm sure the Beta would be thrilled to show you his skills. Go home, Carrie he'll pick you up at 7 tomorrow for your date."

Carrie shrieked and did a happy dance while I mouthed 'what the fuck' at Alia. Her face was void of emotions while she walked back to us and started putting the remaining brownies in a food container.

"Well, the Alpha's sister said 7 tomorrow night, I'll see you then loverboy. " She placed a finger on my lips, stopping me from saying anything before walking out.

"Thanks, Alia! You're an angel, as always!" She waved back at her friend before disappearing.

I glared at Alia but no one said a word until I heard the front door closed.

"What the fuck was that?" I snapped at her, in a hushed tone. I wanted to yell at her but her brother was just at his office on the same floor.

She shrugged her shoulder and closed the lid of the container, not bothering to look at me. "I was just doing you a favor." She answered coldly.

"Go fucking tell her I said no."

"No."

"Alia!"

"No!!!" She yelled, teeth-gritting as she stare back at me.

I was so fucking pissed off at her that my mind was starting to blackout. I went around the counter and grabbed her waist, not minding if I was hurting her, and placed her on my shoulder. She was caught off guard and was not able to react until we were already outside, at the back of the packhouse.

"Let me go!!! Caspian, help me!!!" Great! She was calling her brother. She was screaming and ramming her fists on my back but I couldn't care less as I doubled my steps towards the forest line.

Once we were inside the forest and meters away from the packhouse, I dropped her on the ground and took my shirt off. My eyes dilated into full black and I could feel anger coursing through my veins. She scrambled on her ass and moved backward.

"Gavin!" Her eyes widen in fear, her hand clutching the leaves and grass on the ground. "What are you doing?"

"Shift!" I growled at her.

She shook her head.

"Shift!" I knew I could not command her to do something but I was so fucking angry that I was willing to let Kurt take control of me.

She stayed in her position, holding her ground and staring back at me.

with a fierce gaze.

Fucking stubborn! I growled one more time and shifted into my wolf.

As soon as Kurt came out, we took a step forward and paralleled our face to hers, our noses touching.

Alia's eyes widen but not of fear but in awe. And then a real smile tugged into her lips. 2

I nuzzled her nose, but I was still pissed off at her.

I opened my mouth to let out the growl vibrating in my chest but before any sound could come out, she shifted and Sky came forward. 1

The growl got caught in my throat.

Sky was utterly and undeniably the most beautiful wolf I've ever seen.

She was a blonde, caramel creamed-colored wolf with really thick furs that complimented my dark brown color. Fucking beautiful!

Instead of a growl, I whimpered and nuzzled her neck, I was enjoying the softness of her furs and my anger totally vanished in thin air. 1

She whimpered back and started nipping my ear and before I could do the same she started running away, her paws padding on the ground was the only sound I could hear at the moment. 1

I followed her at a steady pace, letting her lead me where ever she wanted to go while enjoying her full view in front of me.

The only downside of this was I couldn't mindlink her since we don't belong to the same pack. I wanted to tell her how beautiful she was.

Sky led us deeper into the forest, and I knew this area has fewer patrols since it goes beyond another border that their pack owned, we were almost at the center of the Blue Meadow's territory and she wasn't stopping.

I hiked up my speed and in a few seconds, I was running beside her, she bumped her body on mine before turning right abruptly, making me skid to a halt before I was able to turn right. I found Sky sitting under a big oak tree, tongue out and panting.

I immediately shifted into my human form and walked naked towards her, her wolf's eyes were focused on my middle part and I could hear her panting.

A smug grin tugged on my mouth as I crouched down, one knee on the ground, and cupped her face, rubbing it gently.

"You're fucking lovely, Sky. Really beautiful..." I couldn't help myself so I leaned my head to kiss her wolf's lips. She whimpered and started licking my face which tickled me, eliciting a hearty laugh from my throat. 2

And before I knew it, she was licking down to my neck up to my navel, and going lower. When I realized what she was doing, my body stiffened and I could feel my c**k coming to life. 3

"Alia!" I snapped at her, Sky froze with her head in my stomach and shifted to her human form right away. I was caught off guard by her shifting that I scrambled backward taking her body with me to the ground, with her landing naked on top of me, my hard d**k pointing on her pelvis.

I shook my head and smirked at her as her face started to turn red but she surprised me again when she crushed her lips into mine. 3

ALIA

"Are you sure?" His voice came out hoarsely. He was standing with his back by the tree trunk, swallowing as he waited for my response.

I nodded and smiled at him before I kneeled in front of him, not minding the stones and the dry leaves that will surely give my knees bruises later.

I swallowed at the sight of his huge d**k in front of me but I reminded myself that it fits in my p**y so it would surely fit in my mouth.

I licked my lips slowly, wetting them and I heard him groan above me. His body started to stiffen when my hand circled his erection. My little fingers couldn't wrap around it but I reveled in how amazing it felt in my hand. It was really hard and that excites me more.

I leaned forward and thrust my tongue out to lick his slit.

His hand automatically flew at the back of my head, his fingers coiled into my hair and gripped them tightly, jerking my head a little backward.

"Fuck Alia!" I could hear he was trying to restrain himself.

I smirked and continued licking while his grip tightened in my hair. After a few more licks, I pushed my mouth at the tip of his c**k and gently sucked it. I have no idea what I was doing, all I heard from friends before was that you need to suck it as you do with lollipops. But the way I was sucking him was far from the way I sucked my lollipops. 1

His c**k was so addicting that I keep inching it forward inside my mouth until he was halfway in, and sucking it like my life depends on it. I could hear my own mouth as I sucked him hard.

My mate's toes were curling, padding against the ground, and his grip on my hair was giving me pain but it was mixed with pleasure. Sparks and tingles were rushing all over my body and I could feel my own wetness dripping from my p***y to my thighs.

"Alia," His raspy voice sent goosebumps and tingles on my skin. "Can I fuck your mouth?"
