Chapter 71 - Don't You Regret It

"Are you here to collect your vehicle?"

Manager Zhou studied Su Ming for a moment and couldn't resist approaching.

"Yes."

Su Ming nodded casually.

"I manage this dealership, responsible for the sales records of all the cars here, yet I don't recall seeing your name," Manager Zhou stated with a hint of mockery.

"Are you certain?" Su Ming responded with a smile.

"Of course," Manager Zhou replied coldly.

Su Ming maintained his smile and asked, "I'll give you one final opportunity. Are you absolutely sure?"

Manager Zhou's irritation began to show.

"Why all this needless talk?"

Su Ming's smile remained faint.

"I provided you with a chance to reconsider. If you don't value it, don't blame me."

"Why are you being so talkative?"

Manager Zhou's patience wore thin.

"If you wish to explore, feel free. We have numerous Volkswagen vehicles over there for you to peruse."

"This isn't an appropriate place for you."

"Moreover, you're wearing slippers."

"Your sloppy attire drove away a client I had been serving for half a month. I've lost a fifty-thousand-yuan commission because of this!"

Manager Zhou vented his frustration.

Su Ming finally grasped the situation.

"Ah, now I see."

It finally dawned on Su Ming.

"No wonder those two security guards were so hostile towards me."

"So that's the reason."

Su Ming found it rather amusing.

"You couldn't retain the client's interest, and yet you're blaming me?"

"Is there a rule against wearing slippers?"

“So that's how it is.”

Su Ming smiled.

“Why don't you leave then?”

Manager Zhou angrily pointed to the door.

“Alright, no regrets.”

Su Ming smiled faintly and turned to depart.

Manager Zhou sneered at Su Ming's words.

“Regrets?”

“How could I possibly regret it?”

“Who do you think you are? How could you make me regret it?”

“I am, after all, the dealership's manager.”

“And you're just a sloppily dressed individual.”

“Can you make me regret it?!”

“Manager, he's left now. Please calm down.”

“Yes, let's not stoop to his level.”

The two security guards quickly chimed in.

“In the future, refrain from playing with your phones by the door. Keep your eyes wide open and remain vigilant. Don't allow anyone unauthorized to enter. Understood?”

“Yes!”

The two security guards eagerly placated the manager.

With the manager's anger subsiding, there wasn't much they could do.

Manager Zhou sneered as he watched Su Ming's departing figure. His anger had somewhat abated.

He turned and headed straight to the second-floor office.

Su Ming remained unperturbed.

After all, Su Ming used to be a car salesman.

The car purchase agreement typically stipulated that the car dealership would incur substantial penalty fees if they failed to deliver the vehicle within the contractually agreed-upon timeframe.

This penalty was by no means insignificant.

He couldn't help but wonder what Manager Zhao's reaction would be when he learned the truth. Would he come to regret his decision?

Meanwhile, in a luxurious clubhouse, a corpulent middle-aged man lounged on a sofa, flanked by two attractive companions. Seated across from him was a sycophantic young man.

“Manager Zhao...”

The young man grinned.

Zhao Yunlai chuckled. “No worries, you can report to work tomorrow.”

“Thank you, Manager Zhao!”

The young man beamed with gratitude, promptly pouring a glass of red wine for Zhao Yunlai.

Just then, the room's door suddenly swung open, crashing against the wall and startling everyone present.

“Secretary Chen? What's going on?”

Zhao Yunlai furrowed his brow and directed his attention to Secretary Chen.

Secretary Chen had served as his subordinate for many years, consistently adhering to protocols.

It must be something significant for him to appear so flustered.

“Manager Zhao, we've received an unusually high volume of orders all of a sudden!”

Secretary Chen panted as he spoke.

“Why is that surprising?” Manager Zhao heaved a sigh of relief and nonchalantly remarked, “It's not unusual for our car dealership to receive orders.”

“No, Manager!”

Secretary Chen persisted, his voice trembling.

“Manager, someone has placed orders for over four hundred vehicles and a Koenigsegg from our dealership simultaneously.”

“What!”

Zhao Yunlai was utterly stunned. He pushed the two companions away and rushed to his feet.

“What did you say? Say it again!”

Secretary Chen pointed at the door and replied, “Manager, those are all orders.”

A massive cardboard box stood at the entrance. Opening it, Zhao Yunlai discovered a plethora of vehicle orders.

He hastily examined them and found they were all signed contracts and car invoices.

There were several hundred orders inside.

Zhao Yunlai questioned, “Why was I unaware of so many contracts being signed in our dealership at once?”

“Manager, this customer didn't visit our dealership to sign these contracts.”

Zhao Yunlai frowned and asked, “He didn't come to our dealership?”

“Manager Zhao, these are contracts from the headquarters. I've already confirmed with the headquarters that the cars were purchased by a mysterious buyer.”

“However, this buyer resides here, so he acquired our vehicles directly from the headquarters.”

“During a vehicle purchase, the buyer is required to provide their identity information. Here's the buyer's identity.”

As Secretary Chen explained, he handed a document to Zhao Yunlai.

Zhao Yunlai promptly opened the document, revealing that the buyer was a remarkably young man.

In the buyer's photograph, the young man wore a smile.

The buyer's name on the invoice was Su Ming.

Examining the date, Zhao Yunlai noted that today was the scheduled day for vehicle collection.

Zhao Yunlai was profoundly astonished.

Who was this young man? How could he possess such formidable financial resources?

If Su Ming had purchased over four hundred vehicles, each worth hundreds of thousands of yuan, simultaneously, he would have been considered a significant client. However, the situation was far more astonishing.

Every vehicle in this purchase agreement was a luxury model.

Today, Su Ming had bought nearly every high-end vehicle available at their dealership.

“Manager Zhao?”

Observing Manager Zhao's shocked expression as he held the invoice, Secretary Chen whispered, “Our dealership will close in under two hours.”

“Immediately call Zhou Hai and instruct him to keep the dealership open late tonight. No one is to close it without my explicit order.”

Chapter 72 - So What!

“Yes!”

Secretary Chen hurriedly replied and then called Zhou Hai.

Zhou Hai was sulking in his office.

Although he had chased Su Ming away, he had indeed lost a business deal.

The most important thing was that the two customers had some reputation in the business circle.

If they told others about what happened today, it might affect his business in the future.

The more Zhou Hai thought about it, the angrier he became. He slammed the table heavily.

Just as he was getting angry, his phone rang.

He picked up his phone and saw that it was a call from Secretary Chen.

Zhou Hai stood up in surprise. He coughed and picked up the phone.

Under normal circumstances, the reason why Secretary Chen called him was because the general manager wanted to talk to him about something.

Don't be fooled by the fact that he was the vice president. There seemed to be only a Level One between him and the general manager.

In fact, his status was much lower than Zhao Yunlai's.

Because Zhao Yunlai was sent by the headquarters.

Zhao Yunlai had a deep background and powerful strength.

As for him, he had been promoted from a small employee to the position of vice president. This was already the greatest achievement in his career.

The starting point of other people's careers had already surpassed the end of his career.

This was the reality of the world.

"Secretary Chen, what's the matter?"

Zhou Hai asked politely after picking up the phone.

"Manager Zhou, the general manager said not to close the shop today. When will it close?"

"Alright."

Zhou Hai hurriedly agreed, "But can I ask why?"

"Because an important guest bought more than 400 luxury cars in our shop today."

"What?"

Zhou Hai was also stunned: "That's impossible. If the customer buys a car, I will personally register it."

"Manager Zhou, the esteemed guest bought the car directly from headquarters, so you don't know. The purchase contract and documents have already been sent over from headquarters. Get ready."

"Alright!"

Zhou Hai hurriedly nodded and hung up the phone.

This was a very distinguished guest!

He hurriedly walked in front of the mirror and tidied up his suit and tie.

This guest was too rich!

He actually bought more than 400 luxury cars in their shop.

Even if he drove one car a day, it would take him more than a year to drive all these cars.

Today, he had to serve this VIP well!

Thinking of this, Zhou Hai took a deep breath and nodded his head heavily. He looked at himself in the mirror, who was still quite handsome, then pushed open the door and walked out in big strides, full of energy.

The two security guards at the door had already put away their phones. When they saw Zhou Hai walk out, they looked at each other.

What was going on?

Zhou Hai was furious a moment ago, but now he was so happy?

“All employees, please gather in the hall. We have a meeting!”

Zhou Hai walked to the front desk and shouted through the loudspeaker.

Many employees could not help but be stunned when they heard this.

It was time to go to work.

Didn't meetings usually take place before or after work in the morning?

Meeting now would affect their business.

There were also several sales representatives who were introducing the cars to the customers.

When they heard the notice, they were embarrassed. They could only apologize to the customers and then rush over.

“There will be a distinguished guest coming to our shop later.”

Zhou Hai tidied up his suit and said excitedly, “This distinguished guest bought more than 400 luxury cars in our shop.”

When everyone heard this, they could not help but suck in a breath of cold air.

This esteemed guest bought more than 400 luxury cars at the same time?

Why did he buy so many cars?

He was too rich!

Forget it, the thoughts of the rich were unpredictable.

“I won't say anything else.”

“Hurry up and put away your phones. Let me know as soon as you notice an important guest.”

Zhou Hai looked at the two security guards.

“Yes!”

The two security guards hurriedly replied.

This was a big deal!

If they were not careful, they might be fired.

“You must be careful later.”

Zhou Hai looked at the other salesmen and said, “The three of you are the best salesmen, and you know more about the performance of the car. When the distinguished guest arrives, you will serve him throughout the process.”

“Yes!”

Zhou Hai heaved a sigh of relief after making all the necessary arrangements.

At this time, Su Ming had already walked to the door and took a taxi.

He went straight to the party.

When he arrived at the hotel, he found Wang Kai standing at the door.

“Old Su.”

When Wang Kai saw Su Ming, he walked up to him and patted his shoulder. “I've been waiting for you for a long time. Let's go.”

“Why didn't you wait for me upstairs?”

Su Ming was stunned for a moment.

“I can't stand the atmosphere upstairs.”

Wang Kai shook his head. “Someone is bragging in the room. I can't stand it.”

Su Ming laughed. He naturally knew who Wang Kai was talking about.

Sure enough, as soon as they arrived at the door, they heard someone laughing loudly inside.

"I only have time to meet everyone this month. Next month, I will be going abroad. My family is preparing to open a Trade Company overseas. By that time, I will be busy..."

It was Class Rep Sun's voice.

Su Ming and Wang Kai looked at each other, smiled faintly, and pushed the door open.

It was a private room with a total of five big tables inside.

The table in the middle was the most full. There was not a single empty seat.

Sun Ming was sitting at the head of the table, his face full of excitement.

Around him were his classmates who were busy flattering him.

There were a few empty seats on the two tables near the center. Obviously, because they couldn't squeeze into the middle table, they had to sit on both sides.

There were less people sitting at the tables on both sides, only five people.

There was a very beautiful girl beside Sun Ming.

Ye Ling?

She came too?

Wang Kai and Su Ming looked at each other in disbelief.

She was the most beautiful girl in their class, and her grades were good, and her family background was not bad.

They heard that she had gone abroad when she was in college. She had been studying abroad.

They did not expect her to come back.

At this moment, Su Ming suddenly understood why Sun Ming wanted to hold this gathering.

It turned out that he wanted to pursue Ye Ling.

They heard that Ye Ling had many suitors now, but she was still single.

Therefore, as soon as Ye Ling returned to the country, Sun Ming took action.

When Sun Ming saw Su Ming, his eyes lit up. "Isn't this our class' top scorer in the college entrance exam? You're late. There's no place for you on either side. You can sit at the back."

He looked full of smiles and was very enthusiastic.

However, his words were full of disdain and ridicule.

[You are not qualified to sit beside me. Go to the corner.]

Even if you were the top scorer in the college entrance examination and your grades were better than mine, so what?

Now that you are working on a construction site, your situation is very pitiful.

Chapter 73 - They Threw Me out

Su Ming smiled faintly and ignored him.

Then, Su Ming and Wang Kai walked to the innermost table and sat down.

There were only four or five people at this table, and they were all quiet and introverted people in the class.

Right now, they were obviously living ordinary lives.

Wang Kai and Su Ming sat down on the chairs.

Before they could say anything, Ye Ling suddenly stood up and sat beside Su Ming.

Everyone in the room was stunned.

After seeing Ye Ling, everyone understood why Sun Ming had organized this reunion.

Sun Ming wanted to find a reason to get in touch with Ye Ling and then pursue her.

However, he saw Ye Ling take the initiative to sit beside Su Ming.

Ye Ling smiled at Su Ming and said, "Su Ming, long time no see."

Su Ming smiled faintly and said, "Long time no see."

At that time, many boys liked Ye Ling, including Su Ming.

However, at that time, Su Ming's family was too ordinary, so he didn't dare to confess to her.

If Ye Ling had greeted Su Ming in the past, he would have felt a little embarrassed.

Because the gap between them was too great, Su Ming felt a little inferior.

But it was different now.

Money was a person's greatest confidence.

The reason why he felt inferior was because he had no money.

"Actually, I've always wanted to thank you."

Ye Ling gently combed her hair and said, "Do you remember the question I asked you before the college entrance exam?"

Su Ming nodded and said, "I remember."

On the night before the college entrance exam, Su Ming explained a math question to Ye Ling. On the second day of the exam, a question very similar to this one appeared on the exam paper.

"Thank you for explaining that question to me."

Ye Ling smiled and said, "That was a 24-point question. If I didn't do that question correctly, I wouldn't be able to get into Huaqing University."

Su Ming smiled and said, "It's nothing. It's only right for students to help each other."

While the two of them were chatting, Sun Ming clenched his fists angrily.

However, he was also confused.

He was about to take over his family's company.

His conditions were much better than Su Ming's, but why did Ye Ling favor Su Ming more?

Feeling Sun Ming's anger, Su Ming said to Ye Ling, "Beauty, are you using me as an excuse to avoid Sun Ming?"

"Yes."

Ye Ling admitted it directly.

Su Ming said, "Then why did you choose me? Wang Kai is not bad either. You can choose him."

Wang Kai hurriedly shook his head and said, "This has nothing to do with me."

Ye Ling smiled and said to Su Ming, "He's too ugly."

Wang Kai was very sad.

Su Ming smiled and said, "Sun Ming is very good. He's not bad looking, and his family is quite rich."

"But I don't like him."

Ye Ling blinked and looked at Su Ming curiously.

She thought that Su Ming would be nervous because of her initiative.

However, Su Ming was very calm.

However, Su Ming was not pretending to be calm.

“Is that so?”

Su Ming smiled and said, “Miss Ye, who do you like?”

“Guess.”

Ye Ling smiled playfully.

Before Su Ming could say anything, he noticed Sun Ming's gaze.

Su Ming could even feel that Sun Ming wanted to rush over and beat him up.

Sun Ming had specially organized this reunion for Ye Ling.

This was a five-star hotel, and it cost Sun Ming a lot of money to book this private room and order some dishes.

He thought he could use this opportunity to get closer to Ye Ling.

He didn't expect the result to be like this.

It would have been fine if it was someone else, but this person was Su Ming.

Sun Ming was very angry.

Ye Ling was beside him just now, but she was expressionless.

But now, she was acting completely different in front of Su Ming.

.....

Sun Ming was furious.

He took a deep breath and slowly exhaled, forcefully suppressing the anger in his heart.

He warned himself: I can't give up like this. How can courtship be so easy? Su Ming, I will make you retreat!

At this moment.

Zhou Hai was waiting at the door of the 4S store.

The sky was getting darker and darker, and there were fewer and fewer people. There was no one left in the hall.

However, no one came.

At this moment, a car drove over from afar. Zhou Hai was overjoyed. Could it be that the person he was waiting for had arrived?

However, when he saw it clearly, he realized that it was the general manager, Zhao Yunlai.

"Zhou Hai, is he here?"

Zhao Yunlai hurriedly asked after getting out of the car.

"He's not here."

Zhou Hai was also curious.

"That shouldn't be the case."

Zhao Yunlai frowned and looked at the time. It was already six o'clock in the evening.

The contract said that Su Ming would pick up the car at four-thirty in the afternoon.

However, Su Ming was a distinguished guest, so Zhao Yunlai could forgive him for being late.

But the key was that this kind of guest was usually punctual. Even if he wasn't punctual, he should at least call.

Zhao Yunlai paced around at the door. After thinking for a while, he took out his phone and mustered up the courage to call Su Ming.

Su Ming was chatting with Ye Ling when his phone suddenly rang. He took it out and saw that it was an unfamiliar number.

"I'm sorry, I have to answer a call."

Su Ming smiled apologetically and picked up the phone.

"Hello, Mr. Su."

As soon as the call connected, Zhao Yunlai immediately felt nervous. He hurriedly forced himself to calm down.

Calling a big shot was really too nerve-wracking!

"I am Zhao Yunlai, the manager of the 4S store. Thank you very much for your support. You are scheduled to come and pick up the car today. When are you coming? Of course, we are not rushing you. You can come anytime you want. Please tell us in advance so that we can make arrangements in advance."

Zhao Yunlai said politely.

"I've already been there."

Su Ming smiled faintly.

"What?"

Zhao Yunlai did not react for a moment.

"I've been there, but I was chased out by your people, so I don't want the car anymore."

After saying that, Su Ming hung up the phone.

Zhao Yunlai held his phone and was instantly stunned.

Chapter 74 - The Penalty Was too High

"He's actually been here!"

Zhao Yunlai was taken aback.

"Manager Zhao, what's happening?"

Zhou Hai inquired from the sidelines.

“Mr. Su claims he visited our shop.”

Zhao Yunlai blinked in disbelief.

“That's absolutely impossible!”

Zhou Hai vigorously shook his head. “I've been stationed at the entrance since I got the call, and I didn't see Mr. Su enter.”

“Mr. Su also alleges that he was thrown out after arriving. Is that accurate? Did you eject anyone today?”

Zhao Yunlai furrowed his brow, questioning Zhou Hai with wide-eyed curiosity.

“No!”

Zhou Hai wore a look of innocence as he replied, “How could that be? Anyone who comes to our shop is a potential customer. Why would I ever chase them away?”

He spoke instinctively.

Though Zhou Hai remained oblivious, the two security guards had not.

Today, they did indeed expel someone.

However, the individual was dressed casually, appearing quite young, and had entered wearing slippers.

Could that really have been Mr. Su?

The two guards exchanged nervous glances and swallowed hard.

One of the security personnel gently patted Zhou Hai on the shoulder.

“Manager Zhou, today...”

“What are you trying to say?”

Zhou Hai grew slightly impatient.

How could they be so clueless? The situation was already dire!

Suddenly, Zhou Hai had a realization!

Today, he had genuinely thrown someone out!

But how could this be?

Seeing Zhou Hai's expression, Zhao Yunlai became furious.

“Tell me the truth. Whom did you expel today? Was it him?”

As Zhao Yunlai spoke, he retrieved a document from beside him and turned to the final page, displaying Su Ming's identification.

Zhou Hai blinked his dry eyes and couldn't help but swallow hard. He took the document with trembling hands.

When Zhou Hai saw the photograph, he was instantly stupefied!

It was indeed him!

The young man in slippers was, in fact, the enigmatic purchaser of over 400 luxury vehicles?

A chill coursed down Zhou Hai's spine. He was in deep trouble this time!

How could this be? How could this person be Mr. Zhou?

He distinctly remembered Su Ming mentioning that he intended to purchase a car when he arrived.

However, Zhou Hai had dismissed him entirely and shown him the door.

Zhou Hai had been quite irate because Su Ming's actions had delayed one of his business transactions.

When he received the phone call, he had felt fortunate, as he had just landed an even more substantial deal.

He believed in his own intelligence.

However, today he committed a grave mistake.

As soon as Zhao Yunlai caught sight of Zhou Hai's expression, he instantly grasped the situation.

Without uttering a word, Zhao Yunlai delivered a resounding slap to Zhou Hai's face.

“You truly deserve this!”

Zhao Yunlai berated him, “Do you comprehend the terms of the contract? If we refuse to deliver the car to the customer, we'll be liable for a tenfold penalty. The total cost of over four hundred luxury cars already exceeds five hundred million, and a tenfold penalty amounts to five billion. That's a sum you can't afford!”

“What...”

Zhou Hai was left dumbfounded, his legs giving way as he sat on the ground.

He realized he had offended a mysterious and influential figure this time.

Someone capable of purchasing such a large number of luxury cars couldn't be an ordinary individual.

Even disregarding his refusal to let Su Ming take the car, his behavior towards Su Ming earlier alone could cost him his life.

While Zhao Yunlai burned with anger and wished he could tear Zhou Hai apart, he understood that the most pressing matter was appeasing Su Ming's fury.

Otherwise, the substantial compensation would lead to his company's complete shutdown, burdening him with immense debt.

All the effort he had put into building the company over the years would go to waste.

Although he had some support, the person backing him wouldn't risk antagonizing a figure like Su Ming to protect him.

If headquarters found out about this, his fate wouldn't be any better than Zhou Hai's.

“Get out!”

Zhao Yunlai delivered a forceful kick to Zhou Hai. "You wretched scoundrel, return and await your punishment! Everyone else, no one leaves work today. Stay here and keep watch!"

After these words, Zhao Yunlai hurriedly retreated to his office.

The remaining salespeople and security personnel stood in shock.

Su Ming, who had appeared as a common laborer, turned out to be a mysterious tycoon!

He had purchased over 400 luxury cars in one go!

Zhao Yunlai paced back and forth in his office. Finally, he tremulously retrieved his phone and dialed Su Ming's number.

At that moment, Su Ming was engaged in conversation with Ye Ling.

His phone rang once more, displaying the same number as before.

"You seem quite busy," Ye Ling remarked, playfully.

"Not at all," Su Ming replied.

Su Ming smiled faintly as he answered the call. "I made it clear that I no longer wish to have those cars. When will you address the compensation?"

"Mr. Su, please don't be upset. This is all a misunderstanding!"

Zhao Yunlai couldn't help but nod and bow, sweat beads forming on his forehead as he held the phone. "It's all Zhou Hai's fault. Please don't stoop to his level. I've already reprimanded him. Mr. Su, please don't let such a minor issue trouble you."

"How about this? You can keep those cars. I'll offer a 20% discount and provide a comprehensive package of insurance and maintenance services. In fact, we'll strive to fulfill any of your requests."

Zhao Yunlai's voice quivered.

He was filled with dread because this was the result of his employees' mistakes.

If Su Ming truly canceled the deal and demanded compensation for the penalty, Zhao Yunlai would have no option but to face the dire consequences.

After all, the penalty amounted to over five billion yuan!

He didn't possess that much money at the moment unless he sold the dealership.

Yet, if he sold the dealership, headquarters would undoubtedly exact retribution upon him.

Chapter 75 - You Bring Me the Coneycock

Su Ming responded to this with a subtle smile.

Zhao Yunlai had an adept way with words.

To Su Ming, whether he acquired those 400 cars or not was inconsequential.

He had abundant financial resources at his disposal.

The proceeds from selling the antique jade hadn't yet hit his account.

Likewise, the earnings from selling his handbags hadn't been credited to him.

Once the funds materialized, he could comfortably purchase over 400 cars with cash without a hitch.

What truly mattered to Su Ming was their demeanor.

If they treated him respectfully, negotiations could proceed smoothly.

If they displayed arrogance, he would make them aware of the consequences.

“Very well.”

Su Ming pondered for a moment and offered a smile. “I won't require a discount. Just assist me with the license plates and insurance.”

“No problem at all, absolutely none!”

Zhao Yunlai was thrilled upon hearing this, letting out a sigh of relief. His entire body seemed to lose its tension, and his shirt was drenched in sweat. He almost slumped to the floor as he eagerly agreed.

Although it was summertime, the sky had already darkened, and the temperature was mild.

Additionally, the room's air conditioner was still running, yet Zhao Yunlai continued to breathe heavily.

He felt excessively warm.

“When would you like to collect the car? Rest assured, our dealership is at your service around the clock. Just let us know when you plan to arrive, and we'll be ready at the showroom.”

Zhao Yunlai hastily reassured him.

“That won't be necessary.”

Su Ming offered a faint smile. “Deliver the Koenigsegg to me. I'll pick up the other cars later, but I'll notify you in advance. During this period, I'll need you to look after them for me.”

“Certainly!”

Su Ming hung up after conveying his instructions.

Zhao Yunlai breathed a sigh of relief, sinking onto the sofa and panting heavily.

He considered himself fortunate to have narrowly escaped a calamity.

He realized he had been exceedingly anxious when dealing with someone of such prominence.

Despite the big shot's composed demeanor, his stature was truly illustrious.

Zhao Yunlai remained seated for a full five minutes before gathering enough strength to get up and head downstairs.

Zhou Hai had been dismissed, marking the end of his career.

“You may leave now.”

Zhao Yunlai wiped his perspiration away and added, “Also, inform the sales department that we'll be closed tomorrow. But everyone is expected to come in for work.”

His employees were puzzled, struggling to grasp Manager Zhao's intentions.

"I can't predict when Mr. Su will come to collect the cars, but we can't allow other customers to disrupt Mr. Su's shopping experience. Besides, we've already sold over 400 vehicles, meeting our performance targets."

Zhao Yunlai elucidated.

Manager Zhao's rationale was incredibly sound!

Zhao Yunlai was truly deserving of his managerial role; he saw through things more clearly than the others did!

His abilities were indeed remarkable.

In their showroom, even the most affordable car cost upwards of a hundred thousand yuan.

From the second floor to the fourth floor, all the high-end vehicles had been purchased by Su Ming.

There was no need to continue regular operations.

After all, they had no more vehicles to offer to other customers.

"I'll give you a call before Mr. Su arrives, and I expect you to welcome him with the utmost enthusiasm. If anyone dares to create trouble again, they'll regret it!"

"Yes!"

The whole group vocally consented, brimming with enthusiasm.

The two security guards exchanged nervous glances, thoroughly frightened.

Fortunately, Zhao Yunlai didn't press the issue further, sparing the two guards from job loss.

In truth, Su Ming didn't want to hold the security guards accountable, so he didn't delve into the specifics. After all, they had been following Zhou Hai's instructions.

Zhao Yunlai personally arranged for a temporary license plate, then swiftly drove the Koenigsegg to Su Ming's hotel.

Subsequently, he dialed Su Ming's number.

Su Ming answered the phone and descended to the ground floor.

Before long, Su Ming emerged from upstairs.

"Mr. Su!"

Zhao Yunlai hastened toward Su Ming. "Here's your car purchase contract, and this is the car key."

"Thank you."

Su Ming offered a faint smile and patted Zhao Yunlai's shoulder.

Zhao Yunlai was on the verge of tears, finding Su Ming exceptionally approachable.

He thought to himself, We made such a colossal blunder, yet he forgave me so readily. I'm consumed by guilt.

"Mr. Su, I won't disturb you any longer."

Zhao Yunlai was astute enough to realize that Su Ming had come downstairs after his meal.

Su Ming offered a slight smile and accepted the car keys.

This was undoubtedly a luxury car worth hundreds of millions!

The sensation was extraordinary.

Su Ming couldn't resist driving around the hotel and parking the car right in front.

"Sir, I apologize."

At this moment, a security guard approached, resembling a hotel staff member. "Sir, this isn't a designated parking area. If you leave your car here, it might cause traffic congestion."

The security guard maintained his politeness.

Being a hotel security guard, he was well-versed in cars; it was part of their training.

Thus, the security guard exhibited such courtesy upon seeing Su Ming driving a luxury vehicle.

"I couldn't find a parking spot."

After Su Ming exited the car, he slipped a few bills into the security guard's hand. "Please keep an eye on the car. I'm in Room 888. If you need anything, don't hesitate to come up and find me."

"Of course, sir!"

Upon receiving the money, the security guard agreed with a smile.

For ordinary guests, parking was restricted to designated areas.

For Su Ming and his sports car, however, he had the liberty to park where he pleased.

Su Ming took the elevator to the upper floors, pushed open the door, and entered the private room.

Upon his arrival, a young man seated beside Sun Ming glanced at his wristwatch and couldn't help but exclaim, "Class monitor, that watch of yours must be expensive, right? I think I've only seen it on TV."

He had been Sun Ming's loyal follower since high school.

"It's not that valuable," Sun Ming replied with a faint smile, removing his watch. "I bought it for fun."

The other young man delicately cradled the watch in his hand. "Isn't this the Patek Philippe limited edition? I heard it costs seventy or eighty thousand, isn't that right?"

"No big deal. If you like it, I can get one for you."

Sun Ming smiled faintly.

"We can't afford it."

Chapter 76 - His Watch

"Monitor earns so much a year, he can easily buy a watch."

A few classmates began to flatter him: "I usually have to hesitate for a long time to buy a bicycle."

Sun Ming looked at Su Ming, who had just pushed open the door and entered, and sneered.

He thought to himself, Although you are handsome, you have no money. Money is the most important thing in this society!

He thought Su Ming would be angry, but Su Ming only smiled and didn't care at all.

Then, Su Ming walked straight to Ye Ling's side and sat down, chatting with her.

Sun Ming was furious.

“Actually, I also want to buy a watch.”

Ye Ling glanced at Sun Ming and said to Su Ming, “Because sometimes I can't carry a phone at work, I can only rely on my watch.”

Sun Ming heard what Ye Ling said.

It turned out that she had been paying attention to the situation here!

Sun Ming laughed and stood up.

“Ye Ling, there are a lot of fake watches on the market now.”

“But don't worry, I know a few people who sell watches. What kind of watch do you want to buy? I can give it to you.”

Sun Ming saw an opportunity to show off and quickly walked over.

“Thank you. You don't have to do this.”

Ye Ling flatly rejected him.

However, Sun Ming was very persistent: “Ye Ling, we are all classmates, so it's normal for us to help each other. Where do you live? Give me your address, and I'll give you a watch next time.”

If Ye Ling gave the address to Sun Ming, he would definitely go there every day.

“There's really no need.”

Ye Ling shook her head.

Sun Ming frowned slightly, a little unhappy, but he still had a smile on his face. “Why don't I call them right now and ask them to send me a watch?”

“You don't have to do that.”

Su Ming said from the side.

“What does it have to do with you?”

Sun Ming frowned.

“It really has nothing to do with me, but we are all classmates. It's not good for you to sell Ye Ling fake goods.”

Su Ming smiled faintly.

Sun Ming's face instantly darkened when he heard this. “What do you mean?”

“So you don't know.”

Su Ming pretended to be surprised and said, “Then it seems that you have been deceived. This watch of yours is fake.”

As soon as Su Ming finished speaking, Sun Ming burst out laughing.

“Have you ever seen a watch?”

“You don't have the right to comment on the class monitor's watch!”

The two students couldn't help but mock Su Ming.

“Alright.”

Su Ming shrugged his shoulders. “Since you don't believe me, I can prove it to you. Can I take a look at your watch?”

“No problem.”

Sun Ming sneered and threw the watch into Su Ming's hand.

“If you break the watch, you won't be able to afford it.”

This incident attracted the attention of many students.

In today's society, everyone was very realistic.

Sun Ming's family had a factory and money. Many people wanted to curry favor with him. How could they help Su Ming?

However, Su Ming didn't care.

"First of all, let's look at the hands of the watch."

"The needle of a Patek Philippe watch is patented. The needle is usually small and delicate."

"We look at the English numerals on the back of the watch. The English is the name of the watch, the numbers are its serial number. The numbers on the Baida Phiri watch are very clear, but the numbers on this watch are a little blurry."

"Most importantly, under the third gap of the Baida Feli watch, there is a string of English letters as a hidden anti-forgeries logo, but you see, there is nothing on this watch at all."

"And the face of Baidafeli's watch is made of sapphire, so there won't be any scratches. Look at this watch, there are a few shallow scratches."

"All in all, this watch is fake. Class monitor, were you cheated? This watch is a high-quality imitation, worth at most five thousand yuan. You've spent so much money. You've really suffered a big loss. You can't let go of these guys who make fakes."

"Class monitor, don't buy this kind of fake watch anymore. If you really give this fake watch to Ye Ling, then the misunderstanding will be huge. It will damage your reputation."

After Su Ming finished speaking, he smiled faintly and put the watch in Sun Ming's hand.

The room was very quiet!

Several students couldn't help but take out their phones and search for this watch on the official website.

Sure enough, the counterfeiting method of this watch was exactly the same as what Su Ming had said.

They looked at Sun Ming's watch in silence. Those who had never seen the real thing could not tell, but those who had seen the real thing could tell that it was a fake when they looked at it again.

Sun Ming's expression was ugly.

He pretended to be calm and held the watch in his hand. He took a deep breath and said slowly, "I didn't know you knew something about watches. Thank you for reminding me. Otherwise, I would have been fooled. I will find those bastards when I get back! "

After Sun Ming finished speaking, he returned to his seat without looking back.

Now everyone knew that the watch Sun Ming was wearing was fake.

Sun Ming's heart was filled with anger when he saw the gazes of the surrounding students.

Chapter 77 - I Know the Owner of This Car

Sun Ming thought he could take advantage of the reunion to show off.

But now, it was all over.

He felt very uncomfortable!

He felt miserable.

The students who were flattering Sun Ming just now looked at each other and smiled bitterly.

This time, they had done the wrong thing.

They were very regretful, but there was nothing they could do now.

Su Ming and Ye Ling sat there chatting to themselves while the other students were busy with their own matters.

The group of people sitting at the main table were very embarrassed.

They looked at each other and no one said anything.

Su Ming smiled faintly.

He turned off the scanning system.

It turned out that Su Ming had accidentally turned on the scanning system just now.

The scan showed that Sun Ming's watch was a fake, and the System was especially considerate to tell Su Ming how he could prove it was a fake.

Therefore, Su Ming humiliated Sun Ming.

At this moment, Lee Kang suddenly pushed open the door and walked in excitedly. "Guess what? I just saw a luxury car downstairs!"

"What car?"

Another student asked.

"Koenigsegg."

“What?”

Everyone was shocked.

Koenigsegg.

This was a limited edition sports car. There were only six of them in the world. The cost of this car was over a hundred million.

They had heard that the top-quality Koenigsegg was worth hundreds of millions!

Moreover, even if you had money, you might not be able to buy a Koenigsegg.

“Where is this car parked?”

Sun Ming stood up and asked.

“It's downstairs.”

Lee Kang said, “There are several cars behind this Koenigsegg, and the owners can only wait there obediently.”

“This Koenigsegg is so arrogant?”

Lee Kang's topic broke through the awkwardness just now, and the students were all surprised.

“Oh right, I couldn't help but record a video downstairs. I have already sent it to the group chat. Take a look.”

Lee Kang said.

The students took out their phones one after another, including Sun Ming, who was a little impatient.

The Koenigsegg was a limited edition car in the world, and there were only six of them.

As soon as this car was sold, many tycoons fought over its purchase rights.

Those who could really buy the Koenigsegg were all powerful and rich people!

They did not expect that someone would actually buy this car in Eastsea City!

Just how noble was his identity?!

The Koenigsegg was parked downstairs. What did this mean?

This meant that the owner of this car was eating in this restaurant.

This was a huge opportunity!

Sun Ming's family had quite a reputation in this city.

As long as he was thick-skinned enough to find the owner of the car and put in a few good words for him, he might be able to become friends with him.

This was an excellent opportunity.

“It's true! And this Koenigsegg is very new. It seems to have just had a license plate!”

A student couldn't help but exclaim.

He had only seen Koenigseggs on television, computers, and magazines. He never thought that he would have the chance to see it with his own eyes today.

"This is not an ordinary Koenigsegg."

Sun Ming said, "This car is the best. Look at the color, the glass, and the bumper at the back of the car. They have all been modified."

"Before the modification, the car could go up to four hundred and fifty kilometers per hour. It's a little faster than the high-speed rail. And its weight and horsepower are 1: 1. It is the Top Grade in the car."

"The entire body of this car is made of carbon fiber. This is the first car in the world that can reach 1000 kilowatts of power."

"It is both handsome and wild. It can be said that it is a perfect combination of beauty and wild beasts."

Sun Ming couldn't help but sigh.

"Amazing! As expected of the class monitor, you know so much about this car."

Su Ming smiled from the side and praised.

Ye Ling sat at the side and tilted her head, blinking her eyes.

Something was not right.

According to today's events, the class monitor and Su Ming were not on good terms.

Su Ming hadn't watched the video Lee Kang had sent to the group. Moreover, Su Ming had praised the class monitor.

Sun Ming smiled proudly.

"Because the owner of this car happens to be my friend."

Sun Ming smiled shyly, his face flushed red.

All the students were shocked when they heard this.

"Class monitor, you actually know such a big shot!"

"With our class monitor's status and identity, it's normal to know such a person."

"Class monitor, who is this person? What does he look like? Can you introduce him to us?"

The surrounding students were very excited.

"Not a problem. However, since he came here to eat, he obviously doesn't want to be disturbed. After some time, when he's free, I'll introduce you guys to him. How about it?"

"Alright!"

The students frantically flattered Sun Ming.

Ye Ling did not say anything. She kept looking at Su Ming, feeling that something was not right.

Suddenly, Ye Ling's gaze slightly lowered.

She found something in Su Ming's pocket.

Could it be a car key?

Ye Ling blinked.

Suddenly, she had a special premonition.

What happened today would probably be very fun.

“Class monitor, we are classmates after all. You have to help us more in the future.”

“That's right, class monitor. This kind of big figure must have a big company or a big background. Whether we can find a good job depends on him.”

“Class monitor, I hope you can help us more in the future.”

Sun Ming was very proud to be flattered.

Although he still did not know this big shot, he believed that with his status and identity, he would be able to find out who this big shot was after asking around.

Even if they couldn't be friends, that person would still leave a certain impression on Sun Ming.

Moreover, Sun Ming was sure that the person who bought this car was a man. All men had special interests.

Of course, he bought this car to show off.

Since he wanted to show off, then this kind of person must like to play, and so did Sun Ming.

At that time, Sun Ming could invite him to a big bar to play together.

Then they could become friends.

“I thought that it would be good enough if I drove a BMW worth six or seven hundred thousand yuan. But compared to him, this car of mine is not even as valuable as the tires of his car.”

Sun Ming sighed and shook his head.

“Yes.”

The surrounding students also sighed.

A luxury car worth one or two million was already out of their reach.

They had never seen a luxury car worth more than a hundred million!

Chapter 78 - The Truth

The individuals in the room expressed their amazement.

Suddenly, a knock resounded at the door, prompting a cautious security guard to approach.

Surveying the scene, the security guard made his way towards Su Ming.

“Would it be convenient for you to move your car?” inquired the security guard.

He asked.

"Of course," Su Ming replied.

Su Ming rose from his seat, nodded in agreement, and followed the security guard outside.

The room immediately fell into a hushed silence.

Everyone exchanged glances.

The security guard had specifically requested Su Ming to relocate his vehicle.

It might not have seemed like a big deal initially.

However, the hotel possessed a unique parking lot, and the sole car seemingly obstructing the passage was the Koenigsegg.

Could it be that this extravagant car belonged to Su Ming?

Su Ming's face flushed instantly as he clenched his fists.

This was humiliating!

He had lost a considerable amount of face today.

Just moments ago, he had been analyzing the car and lamenting that it was beyond his financial reach.

Little did he know that the owner of the car was Su Ming.

Su Ming's recent compliment suddenly echoed in his mind.

Su Ming had praised him for his knowledge, and he had initially thought it was flattery. Now it appeared that Su Ming had been mocking him.

Su Ming had hoped to flaunt his achievements at this reunion.

But he had not anticipated that Su Ming would surpass him.

Why could Su Ming afford a limited edition Koenigsegg?

It was a sports car worth hundreds of millions.

This indicated that Su Ming's spending power and social standing exceeded his own.

It now made sense why Su Ming had maintained a low profile throughout the gathering.

Su Ming had been looking down on him. In the past, Su Ming had been influential in Su Ming's eyes, but now he was insignificant.

Lee Kang blinked, stood up, and walked to the corridor. He opened the window and glanced downward, witnessing Su Ming driving away.

"Is that really Su Ming's car?" Lee Kang exclaimed.

Lee Kang's statement confirmed the situation.

The room's occupants fell into an even deeper silence.

In this moment, everyone comprehended why Ye Ling held Su Ming in such high regard.

It was likely that no woman could resist a man who could afford a sports car worth hundreds of millions.

Although Ye Ling was surprised inwardly, she did not reveal it.

She remained unaware of Su Ming's wealth or his experiences over the past few years.

She had chosen to sit beside Su Ming at this reunion for two reasons: his substantial help during their high school studies and her aversion to the sycophants in the room.

Ye Ling responded to her classmates' gazes with a faint smile.

Regardless of their assumptions, Ye Ling had no intention of offering explanations. After all, their opinions held no sway over her.

The room remained silent until Su Ming's return.

Only Wang Kai sat there, wearing a contented expression.

He observed the astonished expressions of the others.

If they were aware that Su Ming also possessed a ten-billion-dollar piece of land in the city center, they would be even more astounded.

Most importantly, Su Ming had not only used this land to construct a house but also engaged in farming within the city center!

"So, this car is yours," Wang Kai declared.

Upon Su Ming's return to his seat, Ye Ling greeted him with a smile.

“Yes,” Su Ming nodded in acknowledgment.

“This car is truly magnificent,” remarked Ye Ling.

Su Ming replied, “It's decent, just a mode of transportation.”

Ye Ling continued, “I didn't expect you to become so prosperous after a few years.”

Su Ming remained composed, saying, “It's nothing significant.”

Hearing this, the surrounding students couldn't help but feel a pang in their hearts.

To Su Ming, this car was simply a mode of transport.

“I never imagined you'd become so wealthy in just a few years,” Ye Ling said with a smile.

Su Ming responded, “It's nothing.”

“It's not a big deal,” Su Ming added.

Wang Kai chimed in with a faint smile, “Old Su isn't limited to just this car; he has more than that. Well, since Old Su prefers to keep it low-key, I'll share that this car represents just 1% of his total assets.”

Wang Kai's revelation prompted numerous gasps throughout the room.

One percent?

What did that imply?

It meant that Su Ming had a minimum of ten billion yuan in assets!

Astonishment rippled through the crowd.

Su Ming, who had originated from a village and lacked any influential connections, had experienced what in the six years since they'd last seen him?

Even if he won a five-million-yuan lottery every day, it wouldn't accumulate to that much, right?

Many students gazed at Su Ming with newfound fascination.

Conversely, Sun Ming, who had been the center of attention earlier, was now overlooked.

Su Ming's ability to distinguish the watch's authenticity made sense now; after all, he was affluent and well-versed in timepieces.

Nevertheless, Su Ming paid little attention to the intrigued gazes. He engaged in lively conversation with Ye Ling and Wang Kai.

While they chatted animatedly, the students at the other tables felt somewhat awkward.

Earlier, when Sun Ming had maligned Su Ming, they had contemplated defending him but ultimately refrained.

Little did they know that Su Ming was a wealthy individual who could have used their support.

Unfortunately, there was no remedy for regret.

Su Ming ceased his ostentation.

He recalled his previous claim, "I know the owner of this car; we're friends."

Sun Ming felt mortified, wishing he could disappear.

Nevertheless, it could be argued that he did indeed know the car's owner, and they were somewhat acquainted.

From the moment the dishes arrived until the end of the meal, Sun Ming remained silent, seated with his head lowered.

He had no choice; he had organized this gathering and couldn't simply leave. All he could do was endure the awkwardness.

Initially, Sun Ming had planned post-dinner entertainment like singing, but the mood had been ruined.

As the meal concluded, Sun Ming swiftly settled the bill and departed without looking back, leaving in his car.

Other students followed at a distance, tracking Su Ming.

Wang Kai, in high spirits, patted Su Ming's shoulder and expressed his gratitude. "Thanks to you, I can hold my head high."

Thanks to the connection between Wang Kai and Su Ming, many students started showing kindness to Wang Kai.

Even though Wang Kai ignored them, he relished being the center of attention.

"Alright, I won't keep you any longer. My driver will be here soon. Goodbye," Wang Kai said, displaying his cleverness as he laughed and drove away.

Chapter 79 - I'll Take You Back

Upon hearing Wang Kai's words, Ye Ling blushed.

Nevertheless, they were all adults and accustomed to such situations.

"You didn't drive?" Su Ming inquired.

"No," Ye Ling replied.

"I took a taxi here today," she continued.

Su Ming offered, "Then I'll give you a ride back?"

"Sure," Ye Ling accepted.

Ye Ling nodded in agreement.

She no longer felt the need to act reserved at this moment.

There was no pretense necessary.

Su Ming, like anyone, appreciated beauty.

Back in high school, Ye Ling was already naturally stunning without makeup. After graduating from university two years ago, her beauty had only intensified.

Standing at 1.72 meters tall, she possessed long, fair legs and an immaculate, curvaceous figure coupled with a sweet and seductive demeanor. Such a woman would command attention anywhere she went.

He only intended to drop Ye Ling off at her home without any ulterior motives.

Therefore, even if he brought it up first, it wouldn't make Ye Ling feel uncomfortable.

Su Ming nodded and walked to the passenger side of the car, opening the door for Ye Ling. She greeted him with a sweet smile before settling into the seat.

A group of female students behind them watched this scene with envy.

However, they had no recourse.

In comparison to Ye Ling, they paled in both beauty and allure.

Moreover, they were excessively snobbish.

As they witnessed Su Ming and Ye Ling drive away, the students exchanged glances and sighed in frustration.

The student gathering concluded uneventfully.

They felt both embarrassed and powerless.

Yet, it was entirely their own doing.

While seated in the car, Ye Ling shared her address with Su Ming.

Ye Ling had rented a residence in an upscale neighborhood.

"I heard you're getting married soon?" Ye Ling, sitting in the car, blinked her eyes, a hint of nervousness and anticipation in her expression.

"We broke up," Su Ming replied with a faint smile.

"Huh?" Ye Ling was taken aback. "Why?"

Su Ming explained with a smile, "She's pregnant with someone else's child."

"I see," Ye Ling nodded, comprehension dawning.

Even Ye Ling herself failed to notice the happiness that had spread across her face.

Her breathing even quickened slightly.

"I heard you went abroad during your second year?" Su Ming inquired.

"Yes," Ye Ling confirmed with a helpless shrug. "My father insisted. He believed the academic environment abroad was better, and I have to admit he was right."

Su Ming nodded in understanding.

The educational systems of domestic and foreign universities differed significantly.

Overseas universities boasted a richer academic environment, resulting in graduates with slightly superior capabilities.

Nevertheless, Su Ming held the belief that, with the nation's development, this gap would eventually narrow.

“You won't be leaving after your return?” Su Ming inquired.

“No, I plan to stay here in the country. The food abroad is too plain; it doesn't compare to the richness of our local cuisine,” Su Ming replied.

Ye Ling blinked, her curiosity piqued. “What have you been up to these past few years? How did you suddenly become so accomplished?”

Su Ming chuckled mischievously. “That's a secret.”

Ye Ling playfully rolled her eyes. If Su Ming didn't want to share, that was fine.

The two of them engaged in cheerful conversation as they made their way to their destination.

After exchanging new contact information, Ye Ling took her leave.

After all, it was their first meeting, and it didn't feel appropriate to invite Su Ming in for tea just yet.

They would have to get better acquainted before that.

After seeing Ye Ling home, Su Ming remembered the withered vines still left in his field and promptly drove back.

Upon arriving home, he was surprised to find that the wall had already been constructed. Through the side door, he could catch a glimpse of the villa's rough outline.

It had been constructed astonishingly quickly!

While building a villa elsewhere would typically take three or four months, with Su Ming's involvement, the timeline was several times shorter.

"Mr. Su," the project manager greeted him.

The manager approached Su Ming and said, "Mr. Su, as you can see, we've laid the foundation for the villa, and the basement floors are nearly finished. We'll speed things up, but rest assured, we won't cut corners."

Su Ming blinked and replied, "Actually, I'm not in a hurry."

The manager was touched by Su Ming's consideration.

Su Ming was bewildered, thinking he might have said something inappropriate.

The manager, on the other hand, interpreted Su Ming's words differently.

"Mr. Su, no wonder you've achieved such success. Your generosity and concern for us, even in your busy schedule, truly show your character. We appreciate your kindness, but please know that your work is of paramount importance to us. We accept your concern but will never compromise on our commitment!"

The manager responded with unwavering determination.

Su Ming blinked again.

In reality, he meant he wasn't in a hurry, but the manager perceived a different message.

This situation felt oddly familiar.

Su Ming couldn't help but find similarities with President Chen.

Despite this realization, he decided not to say anything more to avoid any misunderstandings.

“Mr. Su, is that your car?” the manager suddenly noticed the vehicle parked by the roadside and exclaimed.

“Yes,” Su Ming replied casually.

“A Koenigsegg!” the manager exclaimed in awe.

He quickly reminded himself that it was only natural for someone like Mr. Su to drive such a car, and he shouldn't lose his composure.

Su Ming was puzzled by the manager's reaction.

“What's wrong?” he asked.

“It's a Koenigsegg, a limited edition sports car known worldwide! Seeing one in person is a rare sight!” the manager explained.

After thinking it through, he realized that this was expected. Mr. Su, of course, would drive such a prestigious car and not be surprised by it.

“Mr. Su, I apologize for my reaction; I got carried away,” the manager admitted.

“No worries,” Su Ming replied, still a bit perplexed by the manager's behavior.

“What?” Su Ming was utterly bewildered when he saw the manager bow down and tremble.

He couldn't grasp the reason behind it.

Su Ming was even more puzzled when he felt the manager's reverence.

So, he gently patted the manager on the shoulder and reassured him, "It's all right. You all continue with your work. I have things to attend to as well."

The manager, touched by Su Ming's kindness and the strength of his touch, teared up.

Mr. Su was truly exceptional!

Mr. Su, rest assured, we will give it our all and not disappoint you!

Energized by this interaction, the manager, who had initially been fatigued, strode purposefully toward the construction site.

Chapter 80 - Send Me Something

Su Ming closed the door and went into the ground.

He saw that the vines were still in a withered state.

He pulled out the vines one by one and arranged them to the side. The shelf that was automatically generated by the System disappeared, and the vines were also recycled.

"Recycled. Congratulations, Host, you have received 60 experience points!"

Su Ming drove the farm car and plowed the entire ground from beginning to end.

Then, Su Ming fell into a state of happiness.

What should he plant next?

Since the appearance of the System, Su Ming had planted a lot of things.

He had planted a lot of vegetables and fruits, and it could be considered a bountiful harvest.

Now he had become a billionaire.

“I'm almost done planting my seeds.”

Su Ming walked to a temporary shed next to the thatched hut. He found that the seeds had almost been used up, and the fertilizer had been used up.

Su Ming couldn't help but want to ridicule him. In fact, he had bought a lot of fertilizer, but it was only because he had almost used up all of it in the few days that President Chen had been here.

Su Ming touched his chin and thought for a while.

He felt that he should rest well tonight and ask the boss to send more seeds and fertilizer tomorrow.

Thinking of this, he gently clapped his hands, washed up, went back to his room to play some games, and then lay down to sleep.

Early the next morning, Su Ming opened his eyes.

The sun shone through the treetops and onto the ground.

Su Ming looked at the two acres of land that he had cleaned up. He nodded in satisfaction and called his previous boss.

“Mr. Su, what can I do for you?”

The shop owner was very excited when he received Su Ming's call and hurriedly asked.

Su Ming thought for a moment. “Do you have a lot of seeds?”

“Of course!”

The shopkeeper hurriedly replied, “Don't worry, I have as many seeds as you want. I have whatever seeds you want.”

“Alright.”

Su Ming nodded. “Give me more of each of the seeds you have, and then transport a truck full of fertilizer for me.”

“Alright, leave it to me!”

The boss agreed happily.

This was a big deal!

The shop owner hurriedly rubbed his hands and stood up. He checked the existing seeds and then looked at the storage in the warehouse.

“Old Sun, give me some of your seeds.”

The shop owner took out his phone and called the supplier.

“Don't joke with me. Don't you sell seeds of vegetables, fruits, and food? I only sell flowers here.”

“Don't talk nonsense, hurry up!”

The boss was a little impatient. After he hung up the phone, he called several colleagues one after another to ask them to bring more seeds over.

Then, he went to the side and woke up the workers who were sleeping. He asked them to hire a big truck and fill it with fertilizer.

Two hours later, the boss looked at the two big trucks that were full and nodded with satisfaction.

“Let's go!”

The two trucks drove toward the city center one after another.

“Boss, where are we going?”

The driver of the truck blinked his eyes.

He knew the boss. He sold seeds and fertilizers.

It was not the first time he had transported goods for this boss. The key was that he used to transport them to the countryside, but now they were driving towards the city center.

“The supplier is farming in the city center.”

The boss smiled.

“Don't joke with me. I've given you a few years of work. If you don't want to tell me, then forget it. You don't have to lie to me.”

The driver shook his head.

The owner didn't know whether to laugh or cry when he heard that.

He also expressed his doubts, but reality taught him a lesson.

“Park the car by the side of the road later and prepare to unload the goods.”

The boss pointed to the side of the road.

The surrounding walls had been built, and there was a group of people working next to them.

Was the boss drunk today?

The driver didn't ask any more questions. He parked the car by the roadside according to the boss's instructions.

Su Ming walked out of the door. He gave the boss and a few drivers a pack of cigarettes each.

“Thank you for your hard work.”

Su Ming nodded with a smile and pointed to the aisle. “You can unload the goods here.”

“Okay!”

The boss hurriedly agreed and waved his hand.

The truck driver went in and took a look.

Was this true?

Was there really someone farming in the city center?

He was very shocked.

A few of the porters had been here last time.

When they saw the stunned expressions of the others, they felt that it was funny.

A few large trucks drove in. The workers worked very fast, and soon they moved the seeds and fertilizers down.

Su Ming also gave them the transportation fee.

After all, it was summer, and the weather was very hot. These workers were covered in sweat. Su Ming bought them some iced watermelons.

These workers were very touched.
