Four

When I wake on my 1st day of my new job, nervous is an understatement. I am beyond nervous. I know that is a nice guy, but he is a boss boss! That is the first question.

Rolling out of bed, I still feel like I am in a foreign place. I don't think of this apartment as my apartment yet. I guess I just need to give it time to grow on me. I spent all day yesterday getting a feel of the place after Sarah had my groceries delivered at 7am to ensure that I'd have breakfast. Tricky bastard.

Shuting to the bathroom, I let my hair out of the braid and turn on the shower. I wasn't used to having hot water every time I showered so this is just fantastic. The bathroom steams up quickly as I step inside. I try not to let my nerves get the best of me. I put all my focus into shaving my legs and washing my hair, still pretty damn happy that it's not red anymore.

As I rinse my hair, I turn some cheesy pop song that's been stuck in my head since watching MTV with last night. As I'm turning off the water, the smell of bacon cuts through the small of my lavender body wash. Quickly wrapping a towel around myself, I open the door to the bathroom and am hit with the smell of bacon. Oh, my God, bacon. I am shocked to find Him in my kitchen, sleeves rolled up and pocket hanging off the corner of a tie stool at the breakfast bar. Fuck.

He's here.

His eyes shoot to mine for a split second before turning back to the stove to the bacon. I wonder if he made eggs...oh snap out of it you greedy woman.

"Ethan, why are you here?"

"Making breakfast. Sleep well?"

"Uh. I'm not blind. I can see you're cooking and yes I slept me, but why are you cooking in my kitchen?" I hold the towel around me for dear life, half angry, half wondering if there will be pancakes.

Ethan doesn't answer, he just pushes past one of the cabinet and begins pulling food on them. After a few moments, he sits both plates on the breakfast bar and I inhale sharply. Pancakes. My ultimate downfall.

"Come, sit down and eat" He orders and I stand there for a moment. Ethan looks up and raises an eyebrow. "Tessa, come eat, now. You have work on a time."

"But...I should...I'm naked" A shiver runs over me as cold air brushes over my wet legs.

"Not completely!" Ethan shakes his head and pats the seat next to him. "I won't let you again. Come eat, please before your food gets cold and to answer your previous question, I was out of eggs."

"So you just thought you'd come down here and cook? Isn't that abusing your power a bit?" I ask, sitting down and pulling my plate over to me. Syrup, cheese! I shift my weight to one hip, trying to stand my ground, but good lord, pancakes!

"Tessa, I'm not abusing my power. I made you breakfast"

"What if I didn't want breakfast?"

Ethan frowns at me, slung a fork full of it's warm pancakes into his lousy trap. "Then, your pancakes are getting cold. If you don't want them that is."

Eyeing the full, steaming plate of morning deliciousness, I roll my eyes and walk to the breakfast bar. Carefully sitting down to ensure precise towel placement, I pick up the fork and dig in. Ethan is right, they are getting cold and the pancakes, I nearly have a food orgasm. Out of the corner of my eye, Ethan is smiling.

"At least I know one way to keep you quiet" he mumbles as he bites down on a strip of bacon.

"You're a weird boss." I say, licking syrup from the corner of my mouth.

"I'm an involved boss."

"Mhm. I've encountered a few involved bosses in my day. The last time I checked, they are either divorced or serving jail time for c harassment." I snort, but my humor doesn't travel to Ethan.

"You've been sexually harassed before?"

I shake my head."No, but I've worked with girls who have. It makes the job hard for crying girls to have to sit on with sleazy assholes who think just because they hire a young woman that her ass should fall into the palm of his hand."

Ethan stares at me for a moment before looking down at his food. "Well, you won't have to worry about that with me. I've never had relations with my employees."

"That's commendable. Someone like you should have assistants falling into his lap"

"And you're my assistant" A smirk grows in his face and I open my mouth to say something, but only an f comes out. Ethan chuckles.

"Don't worry, Tess. I understand what you were saying. Please have some more with your coffee."

"Good, because I won't." Would I?

After breakfast, Ethan leaves to go back to his place of living, but tells me to meet him downstairs so I can ride to work with him. I quickly get dressed in a dark green dress with a slip black belt around the waist.

Slipping my feet into a pair of tan bottom black heels, my eyes have never felt this rich before. After blow drying my hair, I run the air iron over it before pulling half back and braiding it, loosely to keep it out of my face. When I look at myself in the mirror, I gasp softly.

"Damn, Thea, you look like an adult."

Grabbing my bag, I slip my phone, earbuds, and journal into it, giving it'd quick once-over before I head out the door. I'm a little early, but I'd rather be early than waiting for a back car. When I walk out, a smile slowly over his face along with my expression.

"Wow, Thea. You look great"

"Thank you. It feels different" I scrunch my nose, looking down at myself.

"Different good? Ethan asks.

"Yes, different good."

"Great. Well, let's get our day started. I hope your phone is fully charged? He writes me a small smile before opening the back door for me.

I slide inside and he gets in behind me. Seconds later, the driver pulls off. Ethan pulls out his own phone and scrolls through it.

"Phone out and open your calendar" He orders and I dig in my bag, riding it quickly. I unlock it and let the calendar "Okay"

"12:30, business meeting with George Butler. Don't worry about lunch. It will be provided. 2:00, meeting with HR. 2:45, some we will be delivered. Be at your desk to get them for me. At 3ish, 3:30, contract signing with a company. Please have some time for coffee ready in the conference room. 4:30, I meet you at my apartment. I'm having a suit delivered and I don't want anyone's eyes on it except yours. When you return, meet me in the conference room for a security debriefing." Ethan sighs and closes his phone and I like my by putting in the day's agenda.

When I'm done, I relax a bit. I think I can do this. It doesn't seem hard at all.

When we arrive at the building, I follow Ethan in as my heel clack against the ow the everyone else. I'm one of these idiots Barbies now...eep.

In the ele, Ethan shows me my little ow cube attached to his ook. It's pretty out of vision to everyone else unless they come around the corner from a particular direction. Ethan gives me a brief summary on how to transfer calls to him and my computer log in information, before going into his ice, leaving me. I sit down and place my bag under the desk and suddenly the phone rings, making me jump.

"Hello"

"Always answer saying, 'This is Mr. Sawyer's ice, how can I help you?' Repeat it please" Ethan orders with the same stern voice from when we were in the car. I inhale and before I can get the words out, I giggle.

"Thea? Ethan's low voiceless me.

"Sorry" I mumble and clear my throat. "Mr. Sawyer's ice, how may I help you?"

"Great. Now, get my coffee. And I hope you have a productive ve day. Thea?" I can almost hear the humor in his voice. I know damn well what he is doing.

"Yes, sir" I hang up the phone and make my way out to out where to even get coffee. Thankfully, I run into Anna. Finally a familiar face. She looks me a welcoming smile and wink before bouncing on her way.

By 11:45, I've answered 100 phone calls and gotten over a cup of coffee. Why am I getting so nervous right? Let's take a deep breath. The ol' ho-line. Ice much sugar and the second time, not enough cream. I literally ended up having to measure it out. Pissy bastard.

When my ice salty quiets down, I lean back in my chair and twirl my pen around between my fingers, trying to think of what I should do next. I'm not used to sitting down. I look back at the seconds before I sit down to fetch Ethan's coffee and I'm not used to be away from reality. A smirk draws at the corner of my mouth as I imagine a guy hiking a woman up on top of his desk and taking her while people walk by without knowing what's going on. He rouse he screamers with his head over her mouth as he thrusts over and over and

"Thea!"

I yelp and sit up. "What?"

I peer over through the glass window, looking into Ethan's ice and he is glaring at me and he is pissed. The door to his ice is cracked and I hear him tell me to come here even though I treat his fish just me. I stand and walk into his ice, feeling both guilty and turned on at the same time.

"Ves" I mumble as I stand in front of his desk.

"I called you three times. Were you ignoring me?"

"No! I swear I wasn't. I didn't hear you."

"Are you deaf?"

The last thing I should have did was the ist. I snorted. I couldn't catch it if I tried. Ethan's face tells me that I'm treading dangerous grounds.

"You clearly have a lot to learn, Thea." He sighs. "I'm being nice to you, but I will not tolerate disrespect."

My face burns with embarrassment. "I'm so sorry, Ethan. I was day dreaming"

I shrug and he raises an eyebrow.

"Day dreaming? About?"

My eyes widen at his question. There was no way in hell I was going to tell him that I was day dreaming about two people fing in my desk.

"I'm sorry, I was distracted by...about...it was just thinking about...crap! I whisper to myself.

"Well, up Thea. You're a writer who can't seem to

"You know what, if you can't even be about it then clearly I don't need to know. I need you to focus, Thea. If you can't then-"

"You're going to ne! I interrupt, risking his sentence. "I look down at my pretty shoes and wonder if I'll be able to pawn them when I'm jobless again.

"No, I'm not going to ne you. I just need you to work a little harder. Okay?"

I nod."Yes, I promise. I'll do whatever you need me to."

"Good. Now, it's almost noon. We have a meeting in alfmin." Ethan gives me a reassuring smile before standing up. I'm up in less than a second and he pauses, snapping his rage.

"Look in my desk and grab an orange le please, I forgot to grab it"

I nod and quickly walk behind his desk as he turns his back to me, going through his phone. I look through the drawers and when I get to the last one, I roll the fr. I pick it up, but pause. Under the ay is a simple black mask like the kind of masquerades. I run my ngers over it. Why does Ethan have a mask in his drawer? Is he into theater or something? Under the mask, I see a small white card, but can't make out the small cursive writing.

"Thea, did you ed it?

Quickly closing the drawer, I straighten "Uh, yeah. I got it"

In the conference room, Ethan and I sit at a long table with multiple chairs and a projector screen. I sit my things down and pull out my journal just in case I have to take a note. The door opens and a man walks in. He looks around my age, maybe a little older, but not before sitting down. As the guy talk to talking, all quietly it gets boring really fast and I hardly understand what they are talking about. Suddenly, without looking at me, Ethan slides a sticky note over.

It's your posture and you don't have to listen to us if you don't want. You are free to...day dream.

I nearly laugh, but I bite down on my lip. Sitting up straighter, I look at Ethan and he nods. Opening my journal, I let my pen go to work on the page with a scene I've been thinking about since my earlier day dream.

...She slowly undid the tie, not taking her eyes off of his. He was shocked that his shy neighbor was standing in front of him, skirt up around her waist and shirt hanging off of her, mostly unbuttoned. She was so tempting, so arousing right now as she took charge of him. His eyes darkened down to her half undone shirt, her luscious cleavage on display and he flew from the task his restricting them. His hands reached up to rest on his hips as her delicate eyes watched the buttons of his shirt. "Where is the rest?" Her voice was f enlightened hardly, trying to ignore the growth in his pants pushing and giving against the fabric of his pants. "I'm sorry, I was in a hurry this morning and I forgot to put it on before sitting down at my desk." I need you inside of me, inside of me right now, I couldn't continue due to his lips suddenly on hers. He kissed her hard and passionately. His hands slid up her sides and over her swelled mounds. Gripping the shirt, he yanked it apart sending buttons clinking to the cor. She gasped and felt her hot juices cool her thighs. He broke the kiss and looked down at her exposed body. "You're so beautiful." There on your desk, like mine" He swung groaned. Falling to her knees, he reached up and undid his pants, gasping when she came face to face with his cock, swollen and long. Looking up at him, he ran his ngers through her hair, gripping hard. "I'm going to f your mouth and I want you to gag, baby. Then I'm going to slam into your hot waiting pus."

The sound of someone clearing their throat causes me to pause in my writing. Looking up, I see Ethan staring at me with a look that I can't read. I'm not sure if he's mad or not at me. I don't need to ask to know that he peeked at what I was writing. His expression said it all. My throat tightens and I stare my journal closed. Panic consumes me and I want to crawl under a rock and die. My breath shallows and Ethan leans over to me and says,

"Unless you want them gawking at you, I suggest you calm down. You're turning red."

I don't reply, I just nod and try to take a few deep breaths. Did he read the whole thing? Yeah, I wrote it down. The whole damn page was dirty. When I look over at Ethan again, his knuckles are nearly white as he grips his pen too hard. Oh god, he's furious with me. He has to be. I just sat in a meeting and wrote a bunch of s*x in it. Ethan might not even be important potential client. I'm so sad.

I set quietly as the confirmed the meeting and Ethan didn't look over at me anymore. My nerves heighten and I'm almost afraid of what he is going to say when we get back to his ice. However, I can't ponder on it completely because I am extremely turned on. Under the table, I'm pressing my thighs together as my panties dampen a bit. Come on and my life writing.

When the meeting is over, I follow Ethan out of the room. He shakes hands and says bye to the men before heading to his ice, not speaking a word to me. Back in the ice, I go to sit in my desk as Ethan goes into his ice.

"Nope, don't sit. Come here, now!" He wasn't looking. How did he know I sat down?

Getting back up, I walk into his ice as he sits behind his desk and pulls at his tie a bit.

"Thea, what the hell?"

"You shouldn't have been spying in my journal"

Ethan frowns. "I was going to ask if you wanted a sub sandwich for lunch and it caught my attention. What was I supposed to do?"

"Look away?" I shrug.

"Easier said than done, Thea. I swear I don't know what to do with you" His tone causes my whole body to tense. I don't know what to say. I technically didn't do anything wrong. I wasn't trying to be sneaky. I wrote it down in my journal as I had it behind my back. Ethan stands up and paces around his desk. His expression is hard and mean.

"Ethan, I know it wasn't professional and..."

"Shh. Don't speak. There is no excuse for what you do" He steps in front of me and I look up at him. Behind my back, my hands are now trembling, my breath shallow.

I don't even take it as enough as to make my cheat rise. Ethan stares down at me and despite the situation, I can't help but feel a pull in my lower belly. His domineering stance makes my py clench with need. Leaning over into my ear, Ethan's warm breath tickles my neck.

"Do you know how hard I was in there? How badly I wanted to take you on that conference table and fk you in front of both of those men? To let them watch me pound into you, relentlessly?"

Where the hell did that come from?! "Ethan, I-"

My voice trembles as my n*s harden and poses against my tee. achingly. Jesus, take the wheel.

"Quiet, Thea. I'm not done. Three days I've known you and I thought I could see right through you. I was so wrong. Your s*x appeal is reserved right up here in that itty little mind of yours." He lifts his hand and runs his thumb over my temple. Ethan begins pacing around me, circling me like shark waiting to attack its prey.

"I can only imagine what you were day dreaming earlier, how soaked your panties were as you wrote in your journal. Oh, how slick my ck would easily slide into you" Ethan pulls back and his deep brown eyes bore into mine.

Our bodies are so close that if we inhaled at the same time, our chests would touch. That wouldn't be so bad though, right...wrong! Thea, could you be more foolish and horny? Calm yourself woman!

Stepping back, I shake my head and look up at Ethan. "I...I need to make copies."

The only excuse I can muster up to get out. Ethan gives me a short nod, dismissing me. Walking out of his ice, I get the hell out that one. When I'm out of his view, I lean against the wall and exhale hard.

"Fk, fk, fuck." I hiss through my teeth before grabbing some papers I already made copies for. It wouldn't hurt to have a few more extra copies.

According to said by women right now, The man don't even touch me, yet I feel like I just had the most unbelievable orgasm. I lean up against the wall and wonder what the hell just happened. One minute he is my boss and the next he is my sexy fk me crazy. make me scream, boss. Damn it. Thea.

For the rest of the day, Ethan and I barely speak unless it has to do with meetings, coffee, or lunch. I'm not sure if I'm relieved or disappointed. I'm not sure if I'm mad or sad. They feel all at once in these red bottoms. As I climb into Ethan's car, I tell the driver to take me back to the apartment as I take the heels off my aching feet. Leaning my head back, I close my eyes and replay the way he looked and spoke to me. It was amazing and exhilarating. I've never had a man use such a tone with me. It makes my insides quiver in anticipation for more. As wrong as this may be, Ethan knows how to turn me on without a single contact. Jeez.

When I get to the apartment, I wait in the lobby until a man with a garment bag strides in. "Mr. Washington?"

"Yes." I nod and he hands me a slip board.

"Sign please."

I quickly write my signature before grabbing the bag and heading up to Ethan's apartment. At his door, I fumble in my bag for the key he gave me before I left the ice. After unlocking the door, I go straight to his bedroom and hang his clothes in his closet, not touching anything else.

As I'm about to walk out, something under the bed catches my eye. I step to the bed and kneel down picking up a black mask just like the one from his ice drawer. I look around for anything else, but there is nothing. His room is spotless. Sexy bad-fuck.

Putting the mask back where it was, I leave his bedroom, extremely curious about what Ethan's extracurricular activities are. I couldn't ask, but he may think that I was snooping or something.

Grabbing an apple out of his fruit bowl, I hurry back to work.

When 7:00 rolls arrives, I'm tired as hell. It didn't seem like I did a lot, but between meetings, copies, and coffee, it's quite a long job. Ethan and I are alone and in the ice home, we sit quietly as Ethan goes through his phone. 10 minutes into the ride, he rally speaks

"How was your 1st day?"

Swallowing hard, I bite my lip.

"Interesting. Enlightening. Tiring! My eyes scan over him.

He looks just the same as when we left home this morning. Nothing out of place. Hair still combed back neatly where as little out of place strays of hair are framed by face. I try to imagine the many reasons one would need a black mask. I come up with nothing logical.

Ethan smirks and looks at me. "I was just thinking the same thing for me as well."

And that's the extent of our conversation. He is so confusing. One minute he is being brooding and sexy and the next he is a mule. He either wants to fk me or not. ...I mean not that I would...I just mean...crap. I'm hot for the man.

When we arrive at the apartment, I get off the elevator on my our, not daring to look back at Ethan. In the apartment, I drop my bag in the ver and kick my shoes off. I go straight to the fridge and grab a bottle of wine that came with my groceries yesterday morning. I found down a glass and it it up as I begin looking some spaghetti for dinner.

As I stir pasta and fry ground beef, all I can think about is today at work. I don't want it to turn out like this. On my 1st day of a new job, I end up having the hots for my boss and I fk right, he has the hots for me. I doubt we'll act on it though. It wouldn't be professional.

At his door, I knitting, and two glasses of white wine. I'm beat. I shue to the bedroom and strip out of my clothes before wrapping my face and brushing my teeth. Pulling on a long shirt, I fall into bed at 11:00. Staring up at the ceiling, I fantasize about what Ethan said about fing me on the conference room table. The thought of it makes me moan softly. I begin to slip my ngers between my thighs, but I stop. Turning on my side, I open the bed-table and retrieve the ir toy I purchased.

"Time to break you in."
