26 What Are You Planning, Brother?

Realm Of Hindu

"How is he?"

Two people, a man and a woman were standing at a door leading to a room where another man came out from.

"His condition is improving, but he is still unconscious for the moment and it will take a longer time for him to regain himself so until then, we have to find out what or who attacked him. Any ideas?"

The man who came out of the room said. He has a light blue skin, black eyes and long wavy black hairs, he is Vishnu, one of the Primordial gods, he is the Primal god of Preservation.

The other two people, the man and the woman both have a normal fair skin, they are Brahma, the Primal god of Creation and Shakti, the Primal goddess of Creative energy and also the wife of Lord Shiva, the man who is currently bedridden.

They found him in a cave in an uninhabitable area in their Realm when he was close to death. They immediately took him out of there and brought him back to their Temple where they reside to be treated which managed to stabilize his condition but not enough to take away all the damage he felt.

"I may have known something" said Shakti who was shedding tears for her lover.

"What is it that you know, woman?" Brahma, who acts as the oldest among the Hindu Primordial gods even if he is not the God King.

Shakti cleared her tears as she took a sit "it was hundred years ago, Lord Shiva felt a foreign presence in the Realm, so he sent out his minions to track down the stranger and if it is a threat, they should take care of it. It was supposed to be just that simple but something went wrong and he had to check it out himself and that's how he disappeared and was missing all these years until he sent the message today"

The goddess narrated what happened and how their God King ended up in this condition.

Sighing, Vishnu ran his hands through his head as he was lost at what to do "this must be the doing of the one who murdered Pangu, the timing can not be a coincidence. He didn't show up until we started looking for him and maybe he knew about Shiva's ability to make those demon creatures so he came for him first" Vishnu said what he thought of the situation to the rest.

After a careful thought on what Vishnu said, both the two gods had to disagree with it as if that was the case, then Shiva would have been dead by now from the way Shangdi described him to be, he would not let go of Shiva unless he made sure he was dead, which made them believed it was someone else, but who could that be.

"We don't know who did this or where they could be, but what we do know is that, there are now two of this strangers out there and we must be on alert all the time, we don't know why or what they are trying to achieve and when they will strike. Shakti, you will be by the side of Shiva all the time until he wakes up, don't let anyone, not even the servants get close to him, we don't know if they have already infiltrated into the Temple. Vishnu and I will handle the rest"

Brahma gave out instructions to Shakti who nodded and entered Shiva's room while Vishnu and Brahma were left outside.

There was a brief silence as they contemplated their next course of action.

As if knowing what Vishnu was thinking, Brahma asked "are you also having second thoughts on reporting this matter to the council?"

Vishnu nodded his heads "I don't trust those guys anymore, with all these things going on, I don't think I can trust anyone anymore. For all I know, one of the gods might be the one pulling the strings and trying to cause chaos but for what reason I don't know" Vishnu said while looking around him.

Placing his hands on Vishnu's shoulder, Brahma said "we just need to watch our backs and as for the council, we will not bring up this matter to them and just let it be for now until we know who to trust and who not to, you understand"

Vishnu nodded his head in understanding.

With that out of the way, the two gods left the Temple in search of whoever made Shiva like that, that's if they are even still in the Realm.

Realm of Shinto

Debris of rock floated in the open space, craters filled the earth, mountains were flattened as two people with destructive aura clashed together as they exchanged blows after blows, not minding the damage they were doing to the landscape.

"I'm impressed, you managed to stand your ground against me even though I'm not using my full strength. You've now earned the required strength to bear the title of the Herald of Wrath, Susanoo"

One of the men with red blazing hair said to the other man. They are Satanael and Susanoo, they were currently training as Satanael still deemed him weak and had to make sure he was strong, strong enough to be his underling which have proven to be quite fruitful.

Susanoo didn't say anything and just continued his attack on Satanael who simply smiled and deflected his attacks.

They continued exchanging blows after blows and none of them seems to want to stop as they were too immense in the fight even to the point of it clouding their senses.

In a confined area around where Satanael was training Susanoo, a man with black hair and a slim and athletic build was sitting on a floating rock as he observed the exchange with a smile on his face.

He has been here for a long time and he was amused when he saw Satanael teaching someone and wasting his time grooming them in his own image.

The Satanael that he knows does not even bat an eye to the two most Revered ones back in Celestial City and now he is acting as a mentor.

"Bullshit, he must be up to something, and I am going to figure out just what he is planning, hehehehe. This is going to be fun"

The man said as he stood up and dusted himself before unfurling his wings from his back and flew closer to the battling duo.

BAM ~ BAM ~ BAM ~ BAM

"Geez, they should think about the damage they are doing to the environment. Poor land receiving the aftermath of two battle maniacs just flexing their muscles"

The man said as he got closer to the battle ground which has turned into something else.

The man observed them for a while before deciding to amuse himself as even his brother has lost himself in the supposedly training or should he say friendly match between a tutor and a student.

"Satanael, my wonderful and lovely brother, I see you are quite busy which is a surprise given what made you busy"

The collision between Satanael and Susanoo seized when they heard the new man's voice.

Satanael turned to look at the man and saw that it was just Moronuel, the greedy bastard.

"I see you have gotten yourself some fine jewelries, where did you steal those from, brother?"

It is not a secret anymore to any of the angels that Moronuel always has eyes for something that wasn't is and he fancies and after their fall, he became unrestrained and does whatever he wants to do.

"How could you think of me like that brother? Is this what I get for coming to pay my favorite brother a visit?"

Moronuel acted as if he was hurt from what Satanael said.

"Oh come on, we all know that nobody is your favorite sibling and you only watch out for yourself and you just came to see me when you sensed my presence I this Realm, nothing else. Now since, you have seen me, you can now leave and let me continue my spar with the boy here"

Satanael was not going to buy Moronuel's act and immediately tried to chase him as he knew that the guy was up to no good.

Moronuel acted as if he didn't hear what Satanael said and found one of the floating rocks and sat on them.

Susanoo frowned when he saw that Moronuel had no intention of leaving "hey, didn't you listened to what he just said? He said leave not sit down and watch"

Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha

Moronuel burst out laughing when he heard the child talking to him with that tone.

Satanael sighed as he have to teach Susanoo some other things and not just only to fight as clearly this guy do not know when to shut up and when to speak. If he does nothing about it, the kid might get himself killed very soon.

"Brother, you should teach him some other things rather than only to fight because if he met the others with that attitude, his head would be rolling on the ground by now" Moronuel said while he continued to laugh, after a while, he stopped and looked at

Satanael now with a serious expression on his face "now for the reason I showed myself to you, what are you planning, Brother?"

27 Persuading Satanael

"what are you planning, Brother?"

Hearing that question, Satanael faced also morphed into a more serious expression.

He looked at Moronuel and didn't say anything but just simply turned around and walked away from there after signalling Susanoo to follow him.

Seeing as he did not get a reply from Satanael, Moronuel confirmed what he suspected "you know whatever you are planning, you can never succeed, if you think you are the only one planning to amass followers and have them join you fight against Lucifer, then I will have to discourage you. You are not the only one having eyes in the throne of Hell, even I am but when I think of who I am going to face for it, I don't let my greed control, because this is Lucifer, not the Samael we used to know, he pardoned you because you were family and that was just a battle to see who rules hell but I don't think he would do the same if you rebel, he will show you a fate worst than death, believe me, you don't want such a fate, be contended with the title you hold as one of the lords of hell, the sin of Wrath and this is coming from me, the greedy one, to show how dangerous trying to fight against Lucifer is"

Satanael stopped in his tracks and took a deep breath before he turned around to face Moronuel "and what makes you think that I would rebel? What if I am just gathering an army that would stand with us incase father decides to finish us off? I am just trying to look out for the rest of us" said Satanael with sincerity in his tone.

If someone saw the way Satanael spoke those words, they would have believed him but not Moronuel.

He could smell the greed oozing out of every pores of his body "you can fool anyone else, brother, but you can't fool me, I can see, smell and perceive the greed you have for Lucifer and the wrath to slice him into two. That's why I want you to give it up, you can not defeat Lucifer, not before and definitely never. Lucifer when he was called Samael was not your equal and now that he is the King of Hell, he will decimate you" Moronuel said trying to discourage Satanael from his unless endeavor.

"Stop beating around the bush and tell me why you are so adamant in persuading me from rebelling" Satanael didn't hide it anymore that he was truly going for the throne of Hell but what he do not get is how Moronuel is trying so hard to stop him.

Moronuel sighed after Satanael confirmed his rebellion "this is common knowledge to everyone in Hell. Lucifer is now a God, he is like Father but on a lower scale but even with that, he is now an unstoppable force. You may not know all these because you were unconscious but the moment Lucifer sat on the Throne of Hell after your defeat, we all bowed out of respect to the King of Hell and that's when we all experience the new changes in our body and what was the cause of it, we are now what is called Sin Holders, we are the Embodiment of Sin. We each have one sin, like you, you're the Sin of Wrath, I am the Sin of Greed, Asmodeus the Sin of Lust, Amiel the Sin of Envy, Coriel the Sin of Sloth, Bariel the Sin of Gluttony and Lucifer the Sin of Pride"

"I know all that, so what is there to be afraid of, he is also just a knock off copy of Father, I can take him, I just need time"

Satanael said as he was getting impatient with Moronuel as he believed him to be just wasting his time.

Moronuel shake his head as Satanael has become brain dead to even pick up what he is talking about, he just have to be the one to tell him "you don't know anything do you? All those years in hell and you haven't noticed anything different about him. Guess I just have to tell you myself, after your defeat by the hands of Lucifer and became unconscious, when we all awakened our Sins, Lucifer didn't just awakened the Sin of Pride, he got all of our sins, that was his perk of being the King of Hell, the Devil. Now you must know why you have to stop your pointless rebellion, he is no longer our match, you just have to live with that, brother"

Satanael couldn't believe what he just heard, he had been in hell for over 10 million years and none of them point that out for him?

It was like he was running into Lucifer's trap all along. It was as if Lucifer knew he was going to rebel the moment he got a chance and just let him be and when he strikes, he would be the laughing stock of them all and also the scapegoat to cement Lucifer's position as the King of Hell.

The moment he left Hell, he has started amassing underlings to aid him in his rebellion but now, it was all for naught, it wouldn't be a surprise that Lucifer also has his own forces he has been gathering. How laughable.

Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha

Satanael laughed out loud at his own naivety, he couldn't read the situation and just wanted to rush to his own downfall.

Moronuel sighed when he saw that Satanael has gone mad from knowing that he has no hope of ever standing against Lucifer.

He turned to look at the student of his brother "brat, when he is finally back to his senses, you tell him that if he still wants to carry on his stupid plan, then he should not blame anyone but himself when no one sides with him and to curry favor with Lucifer, I might tell him of your master's little plan. Tell him not to take that personal, I'm just doing what I have to do to survive and that's siding with the winning side, that's all"

Moronuel stood up and dusted himself and took one last look at Susanoo "you one good lad, so here is a parting gift from me"

Moronuel said as he brought out two swords from god knows where and gave it to Susanoo who looked at them with glistening eyes and said "these are the Kusanagi-no-Tsurugi and Totsuka-no-Tsurugi sword, where did you get them from?"

Moronuel smiled as he saw the reaction of the brat "well, I got that from robbing the treasury of your father, I figured since I am not a fan of swords, I should gift you one for the trouble that I am about to put you in. Fare warning, when you pass my message to my brother, make sure to keep a large distance, you will thank me later" Moronuel said before running away to go to his next heist.

Susanoo didn't even focused on the departing figure of Moronuel as he just gazed at his new swords, the most famous sword of both his father and mother.

Everyone of his siblings yearn to wield one of these swords one day and here he was holding both of them. He was happy and wished he could see the face of Izanagi, his father, when his favourite child ascend the throne only to find out that his sword which he supposed to gift to his daughter is gone, it will be truly hilarious.

Susanoo decided to put the swords away for now and waited for Satanael to get back to his senses.

And like that almost an hour passed before He calmed down from his crazy laughter.

He did not sense the presence of his brother anymore, so he turned to his student "what did he say to you before he left?" Satanael asked as he knew that Moronuel would not just leave like that.

Taking the advice of Moronuel, Susanoo started creating space between him and his master.

He didn't stop until he has created a very big distance from Satanael before he cleared his throat and said "he said to tell you that..."

Susanoo started passing the message of Moronuel to Satanael, who was getting furious as he kept listening to the message.

BOOM.

A very destructive aura burst out of Satanael that it even affected Susanoo who created a considerable amount of distance between them.

Satanael was furious for what his brother said, he must teach that bastard a lesson for him to know his place.

Elsewhere

A man with wings was flying through the open air when he felt a certain disturbance in the air.

He stopped and looked the direction he just came from and sighed "I hope that would discourage him rebelling entirely when he knows none of us are going to aid him in anyway and just take Lucifer as his King. If not, I fear what Lucifer is going to do to him"

Moronuel said before he continued his flight to his next target to steal from.

28 Messing With The Gods Of Pangu

Realm of Pangu

Devil's Peak

The Devil's Peak has become very lively as servants could be seen walking around and attending to their daily chores.

At the base of the Mountain, Shangdi, his wife, Bixia and his mother, Nuwa stood pissed there as they wanted to see Lucifer but were told to wait by the servant positioned there until they got a confirmation from the Lord of the Devil's Peak.

"Apparently, even our own are loyal to him now" Bixia complained when she saw the way they treated them like complete strangers.

"Control your temper, Bixia, we don't want to antagonize him any further. Remember, we are here to foster good relationship with him and see if we can secure our safety in the upcoming war with his kind" said Shangdi as he did not want another fight between Lucifer and him, not during this hard times.

As they were talking, they saw a servant walk up to them "the Lord says you can come meet him but you must not fly up to the Peak but walk through the stairs" the servant said as she pointed at the long stairs that led to the Palace.

After the servant said that, she immediately left them as she has other things that require her attention.

After the servant left, the face of the three gods turned ugly as they process what the servant said.

They were expected to use the stairs when everyone knows that the Devil's Peak is the tallest mountain in the entire realm of Pangu and now they were told not to fly up there but to use the stairway.

Bixia couldn't take it anymore and wanted to turn around and leave but she was stopped by Nuwa.

Nuwa held Bixia and glared at her "are you out of your mind? Do you want us to not achieve what we are here for? So what if he says we should follow the stairs? We just have to, it's not like we are even busy or anything, so we must go through the stairs if that's what it would take to see him, even though it might take us hundred days, heck even years, I don't care. We are talking about our lives and that of the Realm, so control your stupid tantrum you call anger and don't screw this up for us" Nuwa said before taking the first step as she made her way towards the stairs.

Shangdi held his wife's hands to comfort her as they also made their way towards the stairs leading to the Palace.

In the Palace

Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha

Laughter filled the master bedroom which drew the attention of Aphrodite.

When she came in, she saw Lucifer laughing his ass off and looked around to see what may have caused this but all she could see was nothing that would make him laugh like that.

Sighing, Aphrodite approached him and put her arms around him and hugged him from behind "what's making you this happy, my love?" asked Aphrodite while rubbing her busty breast on Lucifer's back.

Lucifer slowed down his laughter and turned around to face his wife and kissed her deeply before he freed her "well, I was bored these past few weeks and decided to mess around with these gods and guess what" Lucifer said excitedly.

Aphrodite didn't answer and just waited for Lucifer to say it.

After not getting any response from Aphrodite, he continued "I told them to use the stairs when coming to meet me and I thought their ego would not let them do it but I guess they were really desperate to meet up with me to actually doing what I said"

This made Aphrodite to also burst out laughing, she couldn't believe how the high and almighty gods listening to a stranger in their own Realm, it is really funny.

After calming down, Aphrodite wondered what they wanted "so what do you think they want to go that far just to meet you" she asked Lucifer who also has no idea why they were coming.

Lucifer raised an eyebrow as he began to think what might make this gods want to meet up with him, but he couldn't come up with anything "well, I can't figure out why they are here, so I will just have to wait until they arrive. In the meantime, why don't we get down to business, my love?"

Aphrodite and Lucifer smiled as they looked at each other in the eyes, lust filled those eyes of theirs.

Not being able to control themselves anymore, they got naked before they drowned themselves into their lust.

Two days Later

On the stairs leading to Devil's Palace

Three figures could be seen sitting on the stairs while they catch their breath.

Shangdi, the only man in the group created water out of thin air and gave it to the two women before making one for himself.

The women took the water from the man and drank it before they regained themselves "why don't we just use any of our divine powers, this is a waste of time, we have been walking for almost two days now and we have not even covered a quarter of the stairs" Bixia complained, as when she brought the idea to her mother in law for them to just hasten their steps using their divine powers, she was told never to make any suggestions again.

But she couldn't take it anymore, this is a stranger who came to their Realm and instead of him to answer to their beck and call, they were the ones being treated like strangers in their own home, first was the servants they gave to him and now they must go through all these silly process just to meet up with him because he is unimaginably strong, so strong that even a Primal goddess is thinking twice of offending him.

She was furious, she was madden at how weak she was, she wished she was strong enough to face this tyrant that calls himself the Devil and chase him out of her Realm, strong enough to deal with the new enemies that threatened her Realm and lastly, be strong and powerful enough to get rid of the lingering threat in the cosmos.

But things can never go her way instead, their problem keep on compiling and there seems to be no end to it.

Nuwa did not refute her daughter in law as she was right, but there is not they can do right now and just have to rest and continue their journey.

Nuwa stood up after regaining her strength "come on, get up, we still have a long way to go, we should not laze around anymore" Said Nuwa as she didn't even wait for her son and his wife to get up on their feet and walked away.

Shangdi looked at his wife and sighed "don't worry, once we get halfway past these stairs, we are going to speed up our movement, no matter what my mother says. She is just afraid that if we disobey him, we might lose our chance to have him listen to us as we did not do as he said" said Shangdi as he held her hands and the both of them continued on their way.

All of these could be seen by Lucifer who was looking at them from the very top of the Peak, he smiled as he saw that they did not give up but instead had even more resolve to see him.

But he did not want to end their suffering just yet, when they are halfway past the stairs, he is going to create an invisible portal that will instantly teleport them into his throne room. With that out of the way, he went back to his room and meet up with Aphrodite.

In the room, he saw Aphrodite laying on the bed and looking at him seductively beckoning him to pounce on her and eat her up.

"Let's make this even more erotic"

With a snap of his finger, Lucifer changed the scenery of the room, creating a modern bedroom with dim lit and an erotic music in the background, 'Hotter than Hell' by Dua Lipa from the 21st century.

"Now that's more like it" said Lucifer as he had a very craze smile while staring at Aphrodite who has become completely naked and beckoning him to come ravish her.

Two months at the stairway of the Devil's Peak

The three Pangu god and goddess were still at it and they don't appear to be stopping anytime soon, but the good things was that they were almost halfway through the stairs and they were going to end their suffering there, they don't care what Lucifer says or what one of them says, they have already done enough to show that they were ready to listen and he should too.

Nuwa looked at her son and his wife "look, I don't know what you are planning but don't ruin this for us. You should know better than any one how this is going benefit everyone of us if it goes successful, so don't screw it up for me" Nuwa gave her final warning before proceeding.

Shangdi also shared a look with Bixia before they also followed Nuwa.

When they were halfway pass the stairs, they felt a spatial turbulence and was almost blinded by a sudden flash of light which made them to close their eyes and brace for impact but nothing happened.

They opened their eyes to see that they were in a completely different place before they heard a voice which made them turn around.

"So to what do I owe this visit?"

29 Clearing The Misunderstandings And Coming Out

"So to what do I owe this visit?"

They saw Lucifer sitting on a throne with Aphrodite sitting on his lap.

They could see the smile on his face and knew that he must have enjoyed their suffering these past few months.

Bixia's nostrils flared as she stared at Aphrodite who sat on the lap of Lucifer looking at her with a mocking gaze.

calm your wife down

Nuwa whispered this words to her son's when she saw the way Bixia is glaring at Aphrodite as if she wants to shred her into pieces which would be impossible as she would be the one being shredded into pieces.

Shangdi cleared his throat and his bearing changed tot that of a Ruler and a god after he arranged himself, he raised his head to look at Lucifer "I am here today on behalf of my entire Realm and that of the other Realms in the Cosmos to please put an end to the upcoming war between our two forces and since we are accommodating you and have not rat you out to the Council, we ask that you think that as a goodwill to broker peace with your force behind you" said Shangdi without taking his eyes off Lucifer.

Hearing what the Emperor said, Lucifer raised a brow and wondered out was going on in his head.

Lucifer looked at the other two Pangu goddesses and saw that they were all serious, which made him frown even more "what war are you talking about? Which forces are against each other? How can I be not aware of a war brewing between our two factions? Is that you have become retarded after the beating I gave the both of you that maybe screwed up with your head? Because for all I know, I don't even have large Faction or Army to wage war against you lowlife gods, not like it would even matter" said Lucifer as he didn't know where they got their information from and clearly they were given a wrong information.

Confusion flashed pass the eyes of the three gods when they heard what Lucifer said. Due to the recent attacks going on all around the Realms in the Cosmos and the recent discovery of things missing from the treasury of all the powerhouses of the Realms, the council has declared that there are otherworld beings trying to wage war with them and they have been successful as they are hidden from their radars.

These otherworldly beings might just be spies and scouts trying to gather information about them and they are going to take soon, so all the God Kings must prepare their forces for the inevitable battle.

Nuwa narrated everything to Lucifer who burst out laughing at the misunderstanding of the gods.

"You got all that conspiracy of war just from that, are you kidding me? You all are really funny" Said Lucifer as he couldn't stop himself from laughing anytime he thinks about what they said.

Nuwa frowned when she heard Lucifer, she wondered if this was one of the strategies to make them lower their guard and make them believe that there was no war, "so you are saying all these is a misunderstanding and there will be no war between your people and ours?" She asked once again to check if he was lying to her.

"That's what he clearly meant"

Nuwa looked at Aphrodite with her eyebrow raised when she answered a question not met for her.

Aphrodite also didn't also mind the stared instead gave Nuwa a mocking smile.

"If you said that you are not preparing a war with us. Then how do yo explain the recent attacks on the God Kings of different Realms and the missing items from the treasuries of most of the God Kings" ignoring the look given to her by Aphrodite, Nuwa focused on the most pressing matter that brought them here.

"What can I say? My siblings have a very nasty behaviours which they can hardly control. And as for the attacks, give me an example and don't talk about your dead husband, I have told you, he was destined to die that day and my brother happened to pass by and helped with the process" said Lucifer trying to clear the misunderstanding.

Bixia and Shangdi were shocked by the revelation that just heard from Lucifer.

With a shaking voice and a teary eyes, Shangdi walked to his mother, held her shoulders and looked her in the eyes "what does he mind by my father was supposed to die that day? What does he mean by that, Mother" he said wanting to know the truth of his father's death.

"Oh, grow up, you too old to be crying over a dead man. I bet he doesn't even love you and only watch out for himself and here you are crying over that, I pity you. For all we know, you might have even been the one to kill your father and my brother just saved you from that fate as clearly, you gods like to usurp the throne of your fathers and rule for yourself and I myself am not an exception of that but in my case, I will always fail but you stand a chance to defeat your father. So stop pretending like you actually care about your father and let's come back to what we were talking about because unlike you, I am a very busy person"

For a brief moment there, Lucifer could see a pattern in very myth and legends from his past life being almost similar to each other including his.

A son rebelling against their father to sit on their throne, something he himself actually did but he failed to usurp his father and instead got thrown to Hell whereas the gods succeeded in doing that.

But he didn't dwell too much on the matter and just shove it to the back of his head and focused on the issue on ground.

"Shh, we will talk about this later, but for now, why don't we focus on what really brought us here" Nuwa told her son which calmed him down but he was still glaring at Lucifer who didn't even put him in his eyes. After she was done with a son, Nuwa turned to Lucifer and continued "there has been a recent attack on Lord Shiva. Brahma and Vishnu said that they found him on the verge of dying but managed to preserve his life but he is still in comatose state and they don't know when he might regain his consciousness. Also they found something peculiar, it was as if a part of his divinity is gone which left him like that and we don't know someone who can actually do something like that, which brought us to you. You might know something about that"

After hearing what Nuwa said, Lucifer sighed as he knew of one person who is capable of doing something like stealing something like a divinity and that guy can be troublesome to deal with sometimes as his greed knows no bound.

Lucifer didn't answer as he waits for Nuwa to continue before saying anything.

Seeing as Lucifer was not saying anything, Nuwa got the message and beckoned her son to say the rest.

Shangdi still pissed off by what Lucifer said glared at Lucifer which only earned him a smile infuriating him even more but he controlled himself "ahem, recently, it has come to the notice of some God Kings and influential gods like the god of wealth from the diverse Realms that most of their treasures and precious items were missing presumably stolen from their treasuries without them being aware and there was no trace of the culprit anywhere, making whoever stole them a mystery"

After getting the full information, Lucifer nodded as he finally knew who was behind the recent shenanigans in the Realms creating unnecessary misunderstandings.

"I have heard you and I understand where you are coming from but you should put away any stupid thought of war out of your heads as we don't have anything to gain from going to war with you, this Cosmos is desolate and the only thing it brings to us is just entertainment. All I have to say is that, my siblings are sometimes mischievous and sometimes prone to anger easily, they are wildcards such as myself. Don't get the wrong idea that we are at war and you can also pass this information to your Council, tell them it is from me, they should not attack any of my siblings instead be more approachable so that they don't decimate their entire Realm and as of Shiva, you can go to the Greco Realm and ask of Adamantheia, she will assist him with his recovery, that should show them that we mean no harm"

Lucifer said before standing up and walked away only followed by Aphrodite leaving the three Pangu gods there.

"I guess he is no longer hiding, he wants to show himself. That's also good, with that the misunderstandings will be cleared and maybe we might have a powerful force to back us up in case there are more beings outside the Cosmos like them"

Nuwa said while walking away from the palace.

Bixia and Shangdi were the only ones left standing in the hall.

"I know what you are thinking, but you have to let it go now, your mother is right and I hate to agree with him but he is also right, you are old enough to get over your father's death and move on" said Bixia as she tried to calm Shangdi who has his fists clenched tightly together.

What nobody knew was that Shangdi picked up something Lucifer said earlier when he was talking about his father which everyone might have missed but he didn't and he is going to use it to his advantage.

30 Envoys of The God kings

Heavenly Jade Palace

Step ~ Step ~ Step

The sound of footsteps could be heard along the hallway leading to the throne room of the Emperor, Shangdi.

The council of God Kings wants to meet up with the Emperor of the Pangu Realm after they heard that he was harboring one of the aliens terrorising their homes and they would like an audience with him.

Some of them wanted to know and see how this alien looks like while some just wants to chase them out of their home and don't want anything to do with them.

So they banded together and decided to pay the Realm of Pangu a visit.

Meanwhile in the throne room of the Emperor, Shangdi was busy coming up with plans on how to get rid of Lucifer with the information he has gotten but after months of researching and looking for ways to go about it, he always ends up with nothing which leaves him utterly frustrated.

The only thing he can come up with is that he had to leave the Cosmos if he wants to get the answers he was looking for but how he has to do that he has no idea about and the only one who could have helped him was the one he is trying so hard to get rid of, so that's a no go area.

"Emperor, there are guests wanting an audience with you"

Shangdi came out of his thought and looked at the guard who came to deliver the message and gave him a sign to let them in.

Immediately after he said that, the guard left and informed the Council Members that they could go in.

Without wasting any time, the Council Members went inside to see Shangdi sitting on his throne with a frown on his face suggesting that he was not expecting them.

"Seeing you like that, I take it that you are not very happy to see us here, am I right God king of Pangu or should I say Emperor?"

A man among the Council Members said to Shangdi as he stepped forward with a smile on his face.

Seeing who it was, Shangdi sighed even more. This was the last person he wanted to see right now as he had great pride in his intelligence and deemed everyone as fools which is why he did not seek his help with his little project even if he might be the only one to be able to help him.

He is Tezcatlipoca, the son of Omoteotl and Ometecuhtli, the two Primal gods of the Aztec Realm.

He is known among the many Realms as a very intelligent and very intuitive god among his three other siblings making him a figurehead and counsellor in the Council Of God

Kings despite not being one and that has gotten into his head and made him very prideful and arrogant.

"Why are you here, I thought we don't have any more meetings till like forever?" Shangdi didn't pay heed to Tezcatlipoca and just went straight to business.

He did not have time to dilly dally as he was preoccupied with his own concerns.

He looked around the Council Members and found out that one the gods and goddesses here are the successors of the various Realms in the Cosmos expect from some Realms that The Primordial gods refuse to step down and let the new generation of gods step in.

"We are here to see the one you call the Devil. We would like an audience with him so we implore you to set up a meeting with him" stepping out of the crowd, Bast, the feline looking goddess of protection, pleasure, and the bringer of good health. One of the many goddess of the Kemet Realm.

Shangdi didn't answer her and just raised his hands and pointed at the direction of the Devil's Peak before he said "you can find who you are looking for there, now if there is nothing else you want from me, then you can use the door" he said as he wanted them out of here quickly so that he can get back to what he was doing especially that Tezcatlipoca guy.

One of the Council Members who did not like the way they were brushed off by Shangdi bust out in anger "is that how you address the envoys of the God Kings, the Primordial Gods? You have no regards for any of them anymore because you now hold the same title as them right? I wonder what would happen when that tittle is stripped from you, what's going to happen then, young Emperor?"

"That's not the way you talk to him Sekhmet, like you said, he is also a God king or Emperor like the way he puts it and you disrespecting him inside his own Realm would not be god for all of us. Please forgive my sister for her outbursts, she is prone to anger and finds it very hard to control herself"

Bast, seeing who it was that caused the commotion immediately intercede and apologized on her behalf before a fight break out between them.

Sekhmet also has similar features to her sister, Bast, a feline look.

She is the goddess of the hot desert sun, plague, chaos, war, and healing. She is very hot blooded and easily prone to anger. She always hated her father for depriving him of her title as his eyes and instead gave it to the goody Bast but she also respect him because of his power as the God king of the Kemet Realm and she want let someone even if they are the ruler of their own Realm indirectly insult him.

Shangdi looked at this impulsive goddess before he looked at the Envoys specifically Bast "you can leave but next time, don't bring her along or I might have to end her life. Off you go" he said and this time he didn't even give any of them a chance to do anything and just snapped his fingers teleporting them outside the Heavenly Jade Palace using his powers as the Emperor of the Pangu Realm.

"Good riddance"

Outside the Heavenly Jade Palace

"How dare him treat us like that and even have the audacity to threaten me? I must deal with him"

Sekhmet was fuming in anger as she was just looked down upon by a boy who just became a ruler of his Realm just because his father died and he even threatened her on top of it all.

Tezcatlipoca sighed as he moved forward to calm her down "calm down, I know you don't like being disrespected and looked down upon but you have to know that he can kill you anytime he wants and you will be helpless against him and clearly, I can see that there is something bothering him that's why he was so rude earlier. On a normal day, he is quite tolerable"

Sekhmet glared at Tezcatlipoca because she knew he was up to something and she will not give him the chance to achieve it.

She walked away furiously leaving a very embarrassed Tezcatlipoca.

Without wasting anymore time, the Council Members all made their way towards the Devil Peak.

Somewhere in the Realm of Pangu

In a bustling and busy place in the Realm of Pangu, Lucifer and Aphrodite were taking a stroll there and taking in the beauty and artistic cultures they have to offer.

"Wow, look at how handsome that man is, he is the dream of every woman and I can't wait to pow on him"

"Are you crazy, can't you see the woman besides him. We are not even that beautiful compared to her and you think he would take notice of you? Quit dreaming, he is every woman's dream but it is a dream that we can't reach"

"That does not mean I don't have a chance. I bet a man like him would not be satisfied with only one woman and that's where I will come in"

"I like your optimistic nature but you have to stop your daydreaming before you hurt yourself, just saying"

"Wow, who is that woman with the man? She is so beautiful"

"I don't know myself but I think it has something to do with that new mountain called the Devil's Peak"

"She is so beautiful, the man besides her does not deserve someone like her"

"So what are you going to do about it, huh, are you thinking of going against the Devil as they call him and get yourself killed?"

"What is he? He is just another god, nothing fancy, I can kill him with my eyes closed"

"If even the Emperor can't do it, what makes you think you can"

"The Emperor is a wuss, he should be replaced very soon if not this Realm would be destroyed and we would not know how that happened"

Numerous men and women made various comments about Lucifer and Aphrodite when they saw them.

Lucifer smiled as he heard what all the people said especially the men as one of them might even go missing tonight.

"I know you are thinking of getting rid of some pest but first, let's enjoy what this Fánhuá place has to offer"
