

I'm The Devil

Chapter 26 What Are You Planning, Brother?

Realm Of Hindu

"How is he?"

Two people, a man and a woman were standing at a door leading to a room where another man came out from.

"His condition is improving, but he is still unconscious for the moment and it will take a longer time for him to regain himself so until then, we have to find out what or who attacked him. Any ideas?"

The man who came out of the room said. He has a light blue skin, black eyes and long wavy black hairs, he is Vishnu, one of the Primordial gods, he is the Primal god of Preservation.

The other two people, the man and the woman both have a normal fair skin, they are Brahma, the Primal god of Creation and Shakti, the Primal goddess of Creative energy and also the wife of Lord Shiva, the man who is currently bedridden.

They found him in a cave in an uninhabitable area in their Realm when he was close to death. They immediately took him out of there and brought him back to their Temple where they reside to be treated which managed to stabilize his condition but not enough to take away all the damage he felt.

"I may have known something" said Shakti who was shedding tears for her lover.

"What is it that you know, woman?" Brahma, who acts as the oldest among the Hindu Primordial gods even if he is not the God King.

Shakti cleared her tears as she took a sit "it was hundred years ago, Lord Shiva felt a foreign presence in the Realm, so he sent out his minions to track down the stranger and if it is a threat, they should take care of it. It was supposed to be just that simple but something went wrong and he had to check it out himself and that's how he disappeared and was missing all these years until he sent the message today"

The goddess narrated what happened and how their God King ended up in this condition.

Sighing, Vishnu ran his hands through his head as he was lost at what to do "this must be the doing of the one who murdered Pangu, the timing can not be a coincidence. He didn't show up until we started looking for him and maybe he knew about Shiva's ability to make those demon creatures so he came for him first" Vishnu said what he thought of the situation to the rest.

After a careful thought on what Vishnu said, both the two gods had to disagree with it as if that was the case, then Shiva would have been dead by now from the way Shangdi described him to be, he would not let go of Shiva unless he made sure he was dead, which made them believed it was someone else, but who could that be.

"We don't know who did this or where they could be, but what we do know is that, there are now two of this strangers out there and we must be on alert all the time, we don't know why or what they are trying to achieve and when they will strike. Shakti, you will be by the side of Shiva all the time until he wakes up, don't let anyone, not even the servants get close to him, we don't know if they have already infiltrated into the Temple. Vishnu and I will handle the rest"

Brahma gave out instructions to Shakti who nodded and entered Shiva's room while Vishnu and Brahma were left outside.

There was a brief silence as they contemplated their next course of action.

As if knowing what Vishnu was thinking, Brahma asked "are you also having second thoughts on reporting this matter to the council?"

Vishnu nodded his heads "I don't trust those guys anymore, with all these things going on, I don't think I can trust anyone anymore. For all I know, one of the gods might be the one pulling the strings and trying to cause chaos but for what reason I don't know" Vishnu said while looking around him.

Placing his hands on Vishnu's shoulder, Brahma said "we just need to watch our backs and as for the council, we will not bring up this matter to them and just let it be for now until we know who to trust and who not to, you understand"

Vishnu nodded his head in understanding.

With that out of the way, the two gods left the Temple in search of whoever made Shiva like that, that's if they are even still in the Realm.

Realm of Shinto

Debris of rock floated in the open space, craters filled the earth, mountains were flattened as two people with destructive aura clashed together as they exchanged blows after blows, not minding the damage they were doing to the landscape.

"I'm impressed, you managed to stand your ground against me even though I'm not using my full strength. You've now earned the required strength to bear the title of the Herald of Wrath, Susanoo"

One of the men with red blazing hair said to the other man. They are Satanael and Susanoo, they were currently training as Satanael still deemed him weak and had to make sure he was strong, strong enough to be his underling which has proven to be quite fruitful.

Susanoo didn't say anything and just continued his attack on Satanael who simply smiled and deflected his attacks.

They continued exchanging blows after blows and none of them seems to want to stop as they were too immense in the fight even to the point of it clouding their senses.

In a confined area around where Satanael was training Susanoo, a man with black hair and a slim and athletic build was sitting on a floating rock as he observed the exchange with a smile on his face.

He has been here for a long time and he was amused when he saw Satanael teaching someone and wasting his time grooming them in his own image.

The Satanael that he knows does not even bat an eye to the two most Revered ones back in Celestial City and now he is acting as a mentor.

"Bullshit, he must be up to something, and I am going to figure out just what he is planning, hehehehe. This is going to be fun"

The man said as he stood up and dusted himself before unfurling his wings from his back and flew closer to the battling duo.

BAM ~ BAM ~ BAM ~ BAM

"Geez, they should think about the damage they are doing to the environment. Poor land receiving the aftermath of two battle maniacs just flexing their muscles"

The man said as he got closer to the battle ground which has turned into something else.

The man observed them for a while before deciding to amuse himself as even his brother has lost himself in the supposedly training or should he say friendly match between a tutor and a student.

"Satanael, my wonderful and lovely brother, I see you are quite busy which is a surprise given what made you busy"

The collision between Satanael and Susanoo seized when they heard the new man's voice.

Satanael turned to look at the man and saw that it was just Moronuel, the greedy bastard.

"I see you have gotten yourself some fine jewelries, where did you steal those from, brother?"

It is not a secret anymore to any of the angels that Moronuel always has eyes for something that wasn't is and he fancies and after their fall, he became unrestrained and does whatever he wants to do.

"How could you think of me like that brother? Is this what I get for coming to pay my favorite brother a visit?"

Moronuel acted as if he was hurt from what Satanael said.

"Oh come on, we all know that nobody is your favorite sibling and you only watch out for yourself and you just came to see me when you sensed my presence I this Realm, nothing else. Now since, you have seen me, you can now leave and let me continue my spar with the boy here" Satanael was not going to buy Moronuel's act and immediately tried to chase him as he knew that the guy was up to no good.

Moronuel acted as if he didn't hear what Satanael said and found one of the floating rocks and sat on them.

Susanoo frowned when he saw that Moronuel had no intention of leaving "hey, didn't you listened to what he just said? He said leave not sit down and watch"

Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha ~ Haha

Moronuel burst out laughing when he heard the child talking to him with that tone.

Satanael sighed as he have to teach Susanoo some other things and not just only to fight as clearly this guy do not know when to shut up and when to speak. If he does nothing about it, the kid might get himself killed very soon.

"Brother, you should teach him some other things rather than only to fight because if he met the others with that attitude, his head would be rolling on the ground by now" Moronuel said while he continued to laugh, after a while, he stopped and looked at Satanael now with a serious expression on his face "now for the reason I showed myself to you, what are you planning, Brother?"
