

I'm The Devil

Chapter 6: Leaving Hell

10 Million Years later

Amiel, Coriel and Bariel were sitting together as they observed Lucifer who has his eyes closed on the throne of Hell.

"What do you think he is doing now" Amiel asked the two with her as she knew Lucifer had been trying to find a way out of hell but every thing they did was futile, sometimes he would start acting weird and when asked, he always says the same thing, 'I'm trying to find a way out of here' "do you think he is still trying to figure out a way for us to leave Hell?"

Coriel who also has her eyes closed sighed and opened her eyes which was locked on Amiel at the unnecessary disturbance of her sister "he might be or he is also trying to get a beauty sleep right about now" Coriel said before she closed her eyes again.

Amiel saw the way Coriel looked at her and was displeased "that's all you know how to do, sleep, sleep, sleep. You have nothing better to do other than that, you weren't like this before, in fact, none of us were like this, sigh, falling from His grace really changed us, right?" Amiel who has found out changes in her siblings and herself for a long time now, decided to say it out and not keep it within herself.

Bariel, who had been silent the whole time finally spoke "this is due to us falling from His grace and becoming Demons, opposite of Angels, as the first Demons, Father or by means we don't know of gave us what Lucifer calls Sin, we were made the embodiment of sins, Lucifer being Pride, Satanael being Wrath, Coriel here being Sloth, so that explains her laziness, Asmodeus being Lust, Moronuel being Greed, Me being Gluttony and you, my dear little sister, Envy. Lucifer said something about sins we represent, he said it stemmed from our very nature, he gave an example about the rebellion, it was due to his Pride, his desire to never bow down to anyone, his Pride to be above Father, that's why he was the embodiment of Pride, so the sin we possess issue to our nature. Do you get it now or should I continue?" Bariel said while taking a bite of an apple he made "sigh, when can I get a real food, I've been starved for ten million years without anything to eat, I hope Lucifer finds a way out of here"

"Even if he did find a way out, we are bound to Hell now, we do not know if we can be able to survive outside of Hell" Bariel and Amiel turned to she Satanael and Asmodeus walking towards them.

Asmodeus looked at Amiel and Coriel with lust in his eyes but refrained himself from acting rashly. He remembered when he try to make advances on them, he was dealt with severely by Coriel, then Lucifer also roughen him up a little.

[Damn it, is father trying to make us suffer to death here, I have been satisfying myself for the past years now, I can't continue like this and I can't make moves on Amiel and Coriel as they are stronger than me currently, damn the nature of my sin] Asmodeus complained bitterly, before their fall, Coriel and Amiel could not defeat him the way they were doing now, all of these was due to their sins and its nature.

As the embodiment of Lust, he can get stronger only by engaging in sexual acts, absorbing the Lust from any one with such desires and he can't get any of that from here as his siblings are all immune to his Lust powers.

Due to this fact, Asmodeus has become the weakest of them siblings, followed by Bariel, Moronuel and and Amiel. But he knew all this will come to an end when he gets his handa on all those new beings.

Bariel looked at Asmodeus who was lost in his world "hey, wake up from your daydreaming, your dreams will not come true if you continue to daydream without putting any effort to achieve it"

Asmodeus frowned at Bariel as he just indirectly called him a slacker "and you are putting any effort to achieve it?"

"At least, I don't daydream like you" Bariel took a bite of his apple and smiled at Asmodeus before he stood up and left.

Asmodeus was furious at the way he was just talked to right now, but he knew he couldn't do anything now and even if he could do something, Lucifer will punish him as he had made it clear that there is no infighting amongst them.

HAHAHAHA HAHAHAHA HAHAHAHAHAHA

All six Arch Demons looked at the throne which Lucifer sat on and saw that he was laughing so hard and from the looks of his facial expression, it was something good.

Lucifer didn't mind the eyes on him, he was so engrossed in his laughter to even care about anything anymore "Finally, after so many years of being confined here, I can finally ggoet out of here" Lucifer was happy due to the fact that the restrict placed on Hell has been lifted "now, time to see what kind of beings emerged from ten million years ago, is it the Aesir, the Olympians, the Egyptians the Japanese, the Chinese or the Indians. sigh, they are too much myths about different gods, but I don't care, as long as I can get out here first, that can wait" Lucifer stood up from his throne and appeared before his siblings who had gathered together. Lucifer looked each and everyone of them "I know you all are happy that we are finally getting out of here, but I have to warn you, Hell is now our home, and we are bound to it whether we like it or not, also I don't know what Father's plan is, also, Father is cooking up something, I don't know what it is yet, but we have to get ready. That's all for now, good bye, never to see you anytime soon, ten million years is long enough" After Lucifer said that, he disappeared from their view.

Hahahaha, Hahahaha, Hahahaha

Asmodeus burst into laughter at the possibility of finally leaving Hell "this is a dream come true, it's time to see the new beings Father created, so bye guys and according to Lucifer, never to see you anytime soon" Asmodeus also left Hell as it was time for him to grow his strength and catch up to his other siblings.

Coriel yawned and went back to her sleep surprising Amiel and Bariel "are you not coming with us" Amiel asked as she did not Understand Coriel right now.

Coriel just opened her eyes slightly and said "I like it here and since you lots are going away, it's going to be peaceful and nobody is going to disturb my sleep, so do me a favor and leave immediately" Coriel went back to her sleep as the others sighed and said goodbye to each other before they also left.

BOOM~BOOM~BOOM

Sounds of explosion reverberated throughout the surroundings as giant like beings were fighting against another being of greater strength and power.

"You foolish children, do you think I can be taken down by the likes of you? I am Ouranos, the Primordial god of the Sky, you all are nothing compared to me" the other giant being that was being ganged upon was Ouranos, the husband of Gaia, the Primordial goddess of Earth.

The reason for this clash all began a few years back when Gaia gave birth to children of Ouranos whom he deemed as an abomination due to their strange appearance and had to look them up in Tartarus, the underworld they created for prisoners and favoured his twelve children before them. But Gaia did not like that, she loved all her children equally, she was mad at Ouranos for his actions, so she went to her children, Coeus, Crius, Hyperion, Oceanus, Mnemosyne, Themis, Theia, Tethys, Phoebe, Iapetus, Rhea and Chronos, the twelve children Ouranos favoured and ask for their aid in defeating their father which only Chronos agreed to with the aid of four of his brothers, Hyperion, Crius, Coeus, and Iapetus who joined him to attack their father.

Gaia knowing that they cannot win without external aid, created a scythe for Chronos to use in the battle.

Present Time

While the Titans and their father were in a heated battle, the space around them distorted and only Gaia who was observing the battle noticed as she got prepared for any sneak attack.

Suddenly, a handsome man appeared not too far away from her and he looked around him in confusion before he heard the sound of the Titans clashing with their father.

"Bloody Hell"

Chapter 7: Lucifer and Gaia

"Bloody Hell"

Lucifer who just left Hell just a moment ago, found himself in the middle of a clash between two gigantic sides. He didn't even get the chance to register where he was when he felt a sharp thing pointed at him, he turned around with his hands held up to see a woman with a naturally green curly hair with green eyes that screams life.

"Who are you? Where are you from? You are not one of the Primordial gods and you are not a friend of Ouranos, so who are you? Answer me before I push this spear right through you" Gaia said as she pinned her spear at the chest of Lucifer who looked at her with amusement.

Lucifer looked at the woman who was threatening him and had an inkling to who she might be, but the myth about her didn't do her Justice at all, damn, she is a fierce one.

He smiled and said "you ask so many questions that I don't know which one to answer, but one thing that I do know is that I don't like to be threatened and also, I believe in gender equality" said Lucifer as he held the spear pinned at him and crushed it before giving her a backhand slap, which sent her flying and slamming into a ruined wall.

Lucifer looked at his surroundings and found out that the people were so engrossed in their battle to even notice him.

Lucifer walked to Gaia who was already getting up and glaring at him.

Gaia looked at the man before her with fury and burning hatred while devising ways to get back at him.

Gaia stood up and dusted herself before looking at the man "cough, who are you? I have never seen you before, I'm Gaia, the Primordial goddess of the Earth" Gaia introduced herself to him and acted polite to know who he truly is and if she might be able to get something from it to use against him.

Lucifer smiled at the introduction of Gaia and he also decided to do the same "I'm Lucifer Morningstar, the Devil, Lord of Hell" Lucifer created a chair out of tin air and sat down.

Gaia was confused as to who this mysterious and handsome man is and what the hell is even a Devil.

Lucifer seeing the confusion in her eyes realized that she did not know of anything pertaining the Devil "oh, you wouldn't know that, I haven't been around for over ten million years but you can call me Lucifer, that's better, right?" Lucifer said to her before he started watching the father and children rumble that was currently going on.

Gaia stood besides him and stared at him intensely trying to recall if she had seen him somewhere "you said that you haven't appeared for the past ten million years, so you are like us but what I don't get is why you didn't show up when we all had a gathering" Gaia asked him as if he was a Primordial like them, then he should have appeared the day they were all born.

Lucifer raised a brow at her when she mentioned that they all had a gathering "you said you had a gathering, are there more of you? Apart from you, Ouranos, Nyx, Erebus and Tartarus?" Lucifer wondered what the gathering is all about as he thought that only Greco - Roman myth gods were created.

"I don't know how you knew about us when you are not a Primordial god like us but let me tell you something that you are mistaken about, there is no Tartarus amongst us or any of the other Primordial gods. Tartarus is a place or should I say a prison Ouranos created to imprison our children because of their deformity. As for your question about if there is any other Primordial gods other than us, yes there is, they are too numerous for me to mention. So unto my question, what are you and if you were created ten million years ago, why haven't we heard anything about you?" Gaia explained and asked a question of her own.

Lucifer didn't get the question that Gaia asked as he was too engrossed in his own thoughts. He was excited about the information he just got and the possibilities that comes with it, the diverse gods, the myths about them, he wanted to meet with them, interact with them, beat up a few them and recruit the devils of the myths, people like Nezha, Sun Wukong, Loki and many others. This is the adventure he has been desperately seeking for.

While Lucifer was dreaming about his adventures with the gods, Gaia was just staring at him with a deadpan expression as she has been calling him for like five minutes now, seeing as she could not get through to him with words she decided to slap his unconscious state awake "you ask for it" Gaia infused energy into her hands as she raised it and strike Lucifer and to say she is happy about doing something like this would be a lie, in fact, she is thrilled, but what she expected and what she got was vastly different, her attack did not have the exact effect she wanted, instead she felt a strange force holding her hand in place.

Gaia was surprised as to how easily he stopped her with him even paying attention to her, [who the hell is he, how can he be so powerful, he is not even putting me in his eyes since the moment he arrived, it was as if we were ants to him. Ever since my birth, there is no one, not even Ouranos can easily stop my attack. I bet the only way to make him use his full strength is when all the power heads come together and face him if not, he is going to wipe the floor clean with them. Sigh, if he was here earlier, I would have persuaded him to deal with Ouranos for me] Gaia thought before she felt someone flicking her forehead.

"urgh, what did you do that for?" Gaia cried out in pain as she held her forehead.

Lucifer simply smiled at her "well, I was giving you a taste of your own medicine, actually a lesser version, so what were you asking me?" Lucifer said before he turned his attention back to the Battle in front of him and he could see that it was close to his climax as Ouranos was in a disadvantageous state.

Gaia just sighed and said "what are you and if you were created ten million years ago, why haven't we heard anything about you?"

Lucifer turned to her "well, let me make something clear, I am 12.5 billion years older than you, so you are inferior to me in many ways and why haven't appeared during the ten million years, let's just say, I was under house arrest" Gaia's world of view shattered when she heard him, she thought they, the Primordial gods were the oldest beings in the vast Cosmos but here she was proved wrong, the man before her was by far older than her and from the looks of it, he is not alone.

Gaia looked at Lucifer who was now focused on the fight intently as if he saw waiting for something as she could see the excitement in his eyes [just what does the Cosmos hide and how is this man related to our birth] Gaia said in her heart before she too focused on the battle.

Many of you are wondering if this is a Fanfic or an original Novel. Well, the answer is, this is an Original Novel and not a Fanfic.

This is what they call a Mythoverse, a book based on Myths, but I will not only focus on myth alone but I will add other fantasy element to it later in the road.

Thanks for reading. And comment, drop power stones and reviews if you ate enjoying it. Thank you.

Chapter 8: Birth of Aphrodite

"Argh, Arrrggghhh"

Ouranos screamed as he fell to the ground after he was finally defeated by his sons.

He looked at them with fury and hatred especially his last son, Chronos, who lead his siblings to rebel against him and his power and authority because of his throne, because he wants to become the king of the gods.

Up until now, he still didn't know that all of this was orchestrated by Gaia who was angry with him for locking up her children.

Ouranos who was suffering from a gut - wrenching pain from his manhood cut off by Chronos looked at him "since you have put your eyes on my seat of power, your thirst of power will also be your downfall, I curse you, I curse you to be in the same fate that I had, to be defeated by your own child and have your seat of power snatched from you.."

Ouranos cursed Chronos to suffer the same fate as him, since he wanted his throne, then the throne he will have, but only to be taken away from his own spawn, just like he did his.

Chronos didn't want to continue listening to his father, so he raised his scythe to deal a finishing blow to him when a man suddenly appeared in front of him.

They were all alert as they had not see the man before and the weird aura emanating from him makes him even dangerous.

"Leave him to me, I will take care of him, you want to kill him, right?" Lucifer came at the knick of time to stop Chronos from killing his father.

Ouranos who saw someone stopping Chronos thought he was getting saved and even the Titans thought the same thing, so they got intoand offensive stance as they could not let their efforts of overthrowing their father go to waste now that they are only a step away from achieving that.

Before they could attack Lucifer, they heard their mother's voice in their head (what did hell do you think you are doing? Are you trying to get yourselves all killed? Do you know how powerful he is? Stop what you are about to do right now) Gaia yelled at her children because if they as much as even tried to attack Lucifer, then they are finished as she did not know whether Lucifer would pardon her children or kill them all for their disrespect, and there is no way in hell, she could avenge them.

The Titans stopped and wondered who could the man in front of them be to be able to make their mother that scared, even to the point of yelling at them, even their father had never made her that scared.

Lucifer knowing what just transpired smiled and looked at Ouranos who was still on the ground bleeding from his injuries "I could have saved you but, I don't feel like it and you are not someone who has any significance in the myths, and I will get to try some of my new abilities on you, the ones I never got the chance to use back in Hell, but first, you will have to bleed alot" Lucifer said as he was still buying time for Aphrodite to be born because he remembered something about her being born from the blood of Ouranos that spilled from his genitals, she will be a wonderful partner in bed for the time being.

Ouranos face change when he heard that, he thought Lucifer was here to save him but instead, found out he was here to deal the finishing blow. He was terrified and wanted to use the remaining strength he had to get up and find a way to escape but found out that he could not move, he then wanted to plead for his life but he could not speak, he was helpless, hopeless and all he could do was stare at the smiling face of the man who wants to take his life.

Gaia wonder what was making Lucifer hesitant in killing Ouranos, that's when she saw something or someone being born from the blood spilled from Ouranos.

The blood of Ouranos suddenly came to life as it took a shape of living being and later on changed to the form of a woman. Flesh started appearing on the blood in a flash and a beautiful woman was born from it.

All the men were instantly captivated by the beauty of this woman, even Gaia felt inferior to her, this is what true beauty is called.

Lucifer just looked at and simply waved his hands and a dress appeared on her covering her naked visage.

After that, Lucifer turned to Ouranos and opened his palms directed at him and said a single word that sent shivers down the spines of everyone present.

[DEVOUR]

Devour, an ability from the Sin of Gluttony, the ability to absorb anything and use it to increase ones on strength and in some cases the absorbed powers.

A black like substance appeared on Ouranos and devoured him at an extremely fast speed, not even giving him the chance to scream. After the body of Ouranos was devoured, the black like substance flew to Lucifer's palm and then into his being.

Lucifer smiled when he felt his strength increase exponentially [so this is the power of a Primordial god. How did they even manage to take down such a being, she must have poisoned him, that's why, he was weakened by Gaia] Lucifer didn't pondered on that anymore as he has he had already reaped a wonderful harvest just from devouring Ouranos.

Gaia came out of her hiding spot and stood besides Lucifer "now what? Are you going to rule over us now that we have none?" Gaia asked him and was hoping he will say yes.

Lucifer looked at her Gaia, he had this urge to plunge her right here, right now, but he had control over himself "no, I have no desire to rule over you, after all, I have my own kingdom to rule, even if it is still empty for the time being, I can't another one to my burden, and besides, your sin Chronos over there will not be very pleased with me and that I don't care, so I will stay here for a few years before I leave" Lucifer said as he looked at Chronos with greed, he can't wait to devour him also, he could have just devoured him right now, but he needed Hades, he is one of his potential recruit.

Lucifer then moved to Aphrodite and was mesmerized by her beauty, he ran his fingers through her face and stopped at her lips "what is your name, young goddess? Just think of the first thing that pop up in your head"

"Aphrodite"

Lucifer smiled and kissed her her passionately, her lips parted and their tongues met, fighting for who would get the upper hand, Lucifer grabbed her butt which sent shivers down her legs as she became wet down there.

Lucifer released her from the kiss and smiled while saying "you are mine now"

Everyone knew this was Lucifer's way of telling them not to even have any idea on her or else, that they don't want to find out.

Gaia on the other hand looked at the scene and felt some foreign feeling swirling inside her [what is this feeling? Am I perhaps jealous? No that can't be, I just met him, today, maybe it's something else, how can I be jealous because he didn't do that to me, he can't make me feel that way. Yes it must be something else]

Lucifer just smiled at Gaia before snapping his hands teleporting both him and Aphrodite away.

Chapter 9: What are you the God of?

Gaia and her children stared at the spot Lucifer was standing before he disappeared with the new goddess whom name is Aphrodite.

Iapetus came closed to his mother with a concerned expression "mother we did it, we have finally defeated father, but another trouble is upon us?" Iapetus said when he thought if how domineering Lucifer was just now.

Gaia raised a brow at her son and asked "what trouble are you talking about?"

"The man that was here before, he is the trouble, Mother, who his he? The one to answer was Chronos who did not like the attitude of Lucifer and how he took his prize from him.

Gaia sighed as she knew what was going through the head of her sons "listen to me, whatever happens, don't get on his bad side, he is someone even Ouranos would think twice of offending and you are not a match for Ouranos at full capacity, so I beg you, I don't want to lose any of you, so please don't do anything that would endanger your lives, tell that to the rest of your siblings also" Gaia said as she ran her hands through the hairs of Chronos.

"Well, that doesn't matter anymore, I mean, he is gone, we don't have to worry about him anymore" Hyperion, clad in a blinding light of the sun said when he could not feel the presence of Lucifer anymore in their domain.

Gaia who knew where Lucifer was currently on shook her head "I wouldn't say that, look, all you have to do is be careful not to get on his bad side and everything will be good, especially you Chronos, now that you are going to be the new Godking as Erebus didn't want any part of it from the beginning, so you would want to prove your superiority in front of him, don't do it, just be Chronos around him and not Godking Chronos" Gaia warned them before trying to leave for her domain when Chronos stopped her.

"Mother, what about the things father said before he died, he .. he ... cursed me, he cursed me to have my own children have me disposed and take my throne just like I did his. Mother, we have to do something about it, I can't let that happen, I don't want to end up the same way" Chronos was afraid, afraid of having to fall by the hands of his own children.

Gaia looked at him with her motherly gaze "do not worry about that, just don't do anything, think of what your father said as a dead man's last word" Gaia said as she faded from their sight.

Elsewhere

Lucifer laid bare chested on a bed with Aphrodite feeding him fruits from a basket.

"So you are the Devil, first son of God, the personification of Evil, the lord of Hell, the one who defied his Father" Aphrodite said to Lucifer as she put a grape in her mouth.

Lucifer decided to tell Aphrodite his life history to pass time while he waits for Gaia to show up.

Aphrodite then paused as she wondered something "so if you knew that your father is more powerful than you, why did you chose to rebel? Why didn't you just be like your other siblings and live under his rules? You said it yourself, the one with the greater power makes the rule" Aphrodite said as she didn't understand why Lucifer would do that when he himself knew how crazily powerful his Father is.

Lucifer simply smiled bitterly when he remembered everything before his downfall or should he say, his predecessor's downfall "well, what can I say, I am a prideful being, I can't have someone rule over me, that's how I was made, I was made to be the Devil from the get go"

Aphrodite looked at him and kissed him which Lucifer responded in kind.

"You sure took your time, Gaia, you have some wonderful edibles here but you still have to grow more, we can't only be eating grapes and apples all the time" Lucifer said immediately when he felt Gaia's presence in the room.

Gaia appeared and saw Lucifer and Aphrodite on her bed while eating from precious trees which made her frown in displeasure "get off my bed, and take your new friend out of my domain" Gaia said as she stared down at Aphrodite who also stared back at her.

Lucifer just looked at the two women and sighed "come on Gaia, is that how you welcome your visitors, I expected better from you" Lucifer said as Aphrodite was still feeding him grapes.

Gaia looked at the shamelessness of Lucifer as he did not even budge an inch when she told him to get up "sigh, at least, if you want to stay in my Domain, she would have to leave" Gaia pointed at Aphrodite "I'm not particularly fond of her"

Lucifer smiled at what Gaia said "are you perhaps jealous of little Aphrodite here, Gaia? Well if so, you have nothing to worry about, she isn't a threat" Lucifer while butting an apple Aphrodite fed him.

Aphrodite knowing that Gaia didn't like her much looked at her "I want to ask, lady Gaia, why do you not like me, I mean I was just born a few hours ago and from then till now, I have never done anything to warrant your hatred towards me, is there anything that slip my mind?" Aphrodite asked Gaia using a very polite tone to not give her any more reason to hate her.

Gaia sighed and looked at the beautiful new goddess "what are you a goddess of? Like what do you precede over, what do you feel drawn to? Like me, I am the personification of the Earth, so you must be something, so what are you the goddess of, Aphrodite?"

Aphrodite thought for a while and followed Lucifer's idea of saying the first thing that comes to her mind "I am Aphrodite, goddess of sexual love and beauty" Aphrodite said as her aura became even more defined, her voice can even make gods fall for them, her smile is fatal to even Gaia who was looking at her now but, Gaia quickly came back to her senses.

"Actually, you should also add the second wife of Lucifer, second Queen of Hell, that has a nice ring to it, don't you think Gaia?" Gaia was getting frustrated with how Lucifer is taking all these like a joke, since he showed up, he has never taken anything seriously, it's just as if everything was a joke to him.

Gaia then wondered what type of god is he, is he god of mischief, is that why he never takes things seriously, or is it something else, so she decided to ask him "Lucifer, what are you the god of" Gaia asked Lucifer as she looked at him eye to eye without blinking.

Lucifer wanted to laugh at her sudden question but that wouldn't be fun, would it, so he decided to play with her a little "I am the God of Evil"
