

I'm The Devil

Chapter 61: Titanomachy 8: Crius's Defeat

It has been months since Zeus and Crius were at each others throat and none of them could overpower the other.

With the powers of the stars and the cosmic constellation under his control, Crius has become an absolute being that could even pose a threat to a Primal god and might even defeat some of the Primordials but Zeus was not just any god but some one trained under the watchful eyes of the Devil, a Being that can reap the life of anyone with just his gaze, so facing Crius, he was not the least scared instead he found a worthy opponent in him.

Prometheus, Epimetheus and the Hekatonkheires and the Cyclopes faced the 12 Zodiacs of Crius, who are also proving to be very difficult to put down as they keep getting back up after a few hours of defeating them, which has become an headache to their opponents.

The reason why the Zodiacs are unkillable is because they are not true beings but are physical manifestation of the 12 Cosmic Constellations of the Cosmos and as long as Crius lives, they can not be destroyed.

Meanwhile all of these did not escape the eyes of Lucifer and Amiel who decided to join him as she could not be present on the battlefield because he refused her.

"What a waste of such power" said Lucifer while watching the 12 Zodiacs being manhandled "the power of the Constellations are supposed to be possessed by people, but I don't blame him, gods are too prideful to possess that power and would not be able to unleash its full potential, so it is better to just leave it to its own will" said Lucifer.

He knew the best way for the power of a Zodiac to be of good use is when it is being wielded by someone and not just anyone but a special species, Humans, they are the only people who can bring out the true power of the Zodiacs not gods who will be too prideful as they will deem it as a borrowed power.

"This battle has been going on for far too long, it is time for it to end, let me go and end it" said Amiel while giving Lucifer a puppy but he did not budge, making Amiel pout in annoyance "tsk, you are an even bigger meanie than Coriel. Speaking of Coriel, when are they coming back? I miss them already"

"Just say what you want to say, that you should have gone along with them if you knew I was never going to let you partake in the war" said Lucifer clearly reading his little sister.

Amiel turned her face away from Lucifer as she pouted and feigned annoyance.

Lucifer smiled while seeing her antics "try as you may, I am not going to let you go to the battlefield, this is not our fight, we are just spectators and lending little help in any way that we can" said Lucifer as he turned his focus back to the battlefield.

And just like that, another year passed and still no victor, Chronos seeing this as an opportunity, sent Atlas and Menoetius to assist Crius in the battlefield thus putting the Olympians at a disadvantage until Amaterasu decided to lend a helping hand after persuading Lucifer to allow her to do so.

With the presence of Amaterasu, the Olympians were able to turn the tide of the war.

"You are not of this Realm, so why are you interfering with the matters of our Realm?"
Asked Crius as he stood against Amaterasu and Zeus.

Amaterasu didn't answer him and just sent a very hot ball of yellow flames at him, the Sun fire, her special flame that can incinerate anything in its path.

Crius immediately got out of the way while still covering himself with his aura to act as a shield should in case Amaterasu wanted to play dirty.

After he successfully evaded her attacks, Crius became serious and did not ask anymore question which he decided to ask after he put her in her place.

With that, another round became but with Amaterasu helping Zeus, they overpowered Crius quickly.

After a few days of exchanging blows, Crius was finally defeated and Zeus tied him up in the chains and the flash of light appeared again and after everything returned normal,

Crius was nowhere to be found and his 12 Zodiacs also vanished as if they were not there in the first place.

With the absence of Crius and his Zodiacs, the Olympians easily defeated the troops of the Titans and captured Atlas and Menoetius taking them back to Mt. Olympus.

Mt. Olympus

After a few weeks of rest, Metis gathered the Olympians together for a meeting "it is time we take the fight to them, I highly doubt that after the recent defeat, they are going to send more of their troops alongside the Titans to battle which we don't want, so after a few months of rest, we are attacking the Titans's camp and ending this war once and for all" said Metis as she looked at the eyes of each and everyone present.

"Finally, I thought you were never going to say it, so how long do you intend for us to rest cause honestly speaking, I doubt we even need any" said Epimetheus enthusiastically as he is too excited to head into battle.

Metis looked at the battle maniac and sighed "we are talking about two to four months here and that we will also give us a lot of time to prepare, you don't want to underestimate your enemy especially the Titans" said Metis while waiting for anybody else who has something to say.

Silence reigned supreme as nobody said anything, so Metis said a few other things before calling it a day.

Back at The Titans camp

Chronos sat on his throne as he looked at a piece of paper in his hands which put a smile on his face.

He put the letter away before turning to face the direction of where Mt. Olympus is "your end is near, I can't wait to have you lots at my feet"

Chapter 62: Titanomachy 10: Reinforcements Arrives

"you think I haven't thought of that? I did and I have something in store, they can go ahead and kill him"

Lucifer looked at Gaia and wondered what she was up to "you do whatever you want to do but make sure you have thought it through, you don't want all that confidence to go down the drain" said Lucifer before focusing back on the battlefield.

And just like that, a week passed and the reinforcements from the Kemet Realm arrived and joined the Titans immediately.

The Kemet Realm reinforcements were led by Ptah, the creation god of the Kemet Realm and soon to be the husband of Bast and Sekhmet but Lucifer already killed off Sekhmet, so he is left alone with Bast unless he also dies in the battle..

Lucifer smiled when he saw Ptah and stood up as he transformed into a Daemon "I am going into the battlefield, I have someone to take care off" said Lucifer as he left earning him a frown and grumbling from Amiel but she stayed put as she saw that he did not GI as himself which means he was up to something.

Being overwhelmed by the numbers against them, Amiel decided to increase the numbers of the Daemons and also their strength, something she was holding back from doing but they were at the climax of the war, so it's now or never.

With the sudden influx of the Daemons in the battlefield to which Lucifer used as an advantage, he hack and slashed his way through the Greco and the Kemet armies leaving trails of headless bodies behind him.

He made his way to Ptah who was creating several weaponries of different varieties as made waste of the Nymphs and Damon's.

Lucifer roared as he rushed at Ptah who just raised his hands and sent a blast of force at him hoping to finish him off for good but only to see that this Daemon was not just a mindless creature like the other ones and he seems more intelligent after he dodged his attack.

"Oh, aren't you an interesting one, maybe I could work with you" said Ptah as he flashed Lucifer ugly looking grin making Lucifer want to puke.

Lucifer smiled widely showing off his demonic teeth irritating Ptah with the disgusting view "and maybe while I'm at it, take care of the teeth thing" said Ptah as he stretch his hands at Lucifer.

Lucifer felt a gravitational pull dragging him towards Ptah but he resisted and pinned his sword to the ground holding him there.

Ptah was surprised by the strength of this Daemon and smiled as he found the special specimen for his next creation "you have just earn your self a medal" he said as he increased his gravitational pull.

With the increase of the gravitational pull, Lucifer let go of his sword and flew at an uncanny speed towards Ptah who had a big grin as if he was about to get his hands on a prize only to receive a punch on his face.

Lucifer laughed crazily liked the Daemons and danced around Ptah mocking and laughing at him.

Furious, Ptah stood and glared at Lucifer "you have done it, I don't need your whole body so I can make sure I rip you apart before taking you back to Kemet" he said as his eyes shone a radiate golden light..

"I wold like to see you try" said Lucifer as he and Ptah clashed.

Ptah was surprised that the Daemon could speak but now was not the time for him to be surprised as he traded blows with the Daemon which was beyond his expectations.

After a few hours of non-stop punching and kicking, Lucifer decided to end the fun as this lesser god was not worth his time so he did to him what he did to him by pulling him with gravitational force and grabbed him by the neck "I wonder who is going to marry her now that you are dead, or is he going to marry his own daughter" said Lucifer as he broke his neck.

Ptah died with his eyes wide open after he realized who the hell he was fighting with all these time, it was none other than the Devil, the killer of his lover and a contender to the other.

Lucifer smiled and turned around to leave only to frown as he sensed something, he turned around to look at Ptah "you sneaky bastard" said Lucifer as he burnt the body to crisp before returning back to the hidden space.

With the death of Ptah, the Kemet army was in disarray and became disorganized, they turned around to flee but was stopped by Chronos who appeared in front of them.

"Are you trying to desert? Is that how you were trained?"

Just because your commander died do not mean that you should run back to your Realm, instead you should make sure his death do not go in vain, you should make sure to get revenge for him not trying to be cowards and run away, you are better than this, so show them that you are the soldiers of the Kemet Realm" said Chronos as he boast the Morale of the Kemet Army as they turned around to fight back, to fight back for their commander.

HAHAHAHAHA

Chronos frowned when he heard someone laughing uncontrollable in the Battlefield, he turned around to see who it was only to frown even more "what are you doing here Bor?" Said Chronos as he glared at Bor Burison, the son of Buri of the Aesir Domain.

Bor smiled as he looked at his long time friend turn enemy "I didn't know you for someone who could say such words, I guess the saying 'desperate times calls for desperate measures' were truth, you are so desperate to win this war that you even became a motivational speaker" said Bor as he brought out the Blade of Sekhmet which attracted the Kemet Army's attention to him after perceiving the Aura of their goddess coming from him.

"So how should we do this?"

Chapter 63: Titanomachy 11: Clash Between Father and Children

"So how should we do this?" Said Bor as he brandished his blade together and smirked at Chronos.

"Leave him be, he is ours for the taking"

Bor turned around to see the three sons of Chronos standing behind him.

"This is not my battle so I will let you have him, just tell me what you want me to do" said Bor as he backed down from facing Chronos.

"Help our sisters take care of the remaining Titans" said Hades as he pointed at the direction of his sisters.

Bor nodded and turned around to leave only to paused "while you are at it, the Kemet Army seem to look at you when you brought out that blade, maybe you could use it to your advantage" said Zeus after he noticed the minute changes from the Kemet Army immediately that Blade saw the daylight.

Bor nodded and went on his way to assist the girls leaving the three brothers with their father "I see you managed to defeat Oceanus, that impressive of you boy, but your winning streak ends here" said Chronos to Poseidon with burst of green aura oozing out of him which even affect the very fabric of reality, the space around them tore and repaired itself.

This is the power of the God king, the true power of Chronos.

The three brothers also got ready as they faced off the final obstacle in their path, their father, Chronos.

"Let's do this" said Zeus and with that, the three brothers attacked their father.

Even with the three of them fighting Chronos, it was very difficult to get an upper hand on him as Chronos proved to be very slippery and unpredictable, it seems he could predict their attack before they even make one, while he is unpredictable to them, they were predictable to him.

But the three brothers didn't relent and continue to exchange blows with their old man as they believed that he would not last very long with the three of them facing him.

But that was not true because, Chronos fought with them for almost four months now but he did not seem to be tired instead he appeared to be in his peak state throughout the time giving the brothers headache.

"I told you didn't I, your winning streak ends here" said Chronos as he sent a blast of green energy canceling the attack aimed at him.

"We have to come up with something else, I don't think we are ever going to wear him out like this" said Poseidon as he was getting sick of the back and forth play with their father.

Hades sighed and brought out the chain Gaia gave to them several years back and threw it away "we have been trying to wear him down since we started so that we can use this chains but I don't think we can continue like this, so I suggest we fight him with killing intent" said Hades.

Zeus frowned but he knew that Hades was saying the truth and if they continue like this then they will never defeat Chronos anytime soon "we don't have any other choice now, it is either him or us" Zeus said as he always threw his chains to the ground.

Poseidon sighed and looked at Chronos who was watching them from above "we just tell we have no other option rather than to kill him, what's the worst that can happen?" Poseidon said as he also threw his chains.

"Are you lots done or are you going to keep on talking like that forever, because I'm itching to beat you lots to your death but I prefer to do it while you are still fighting" said Chronos as he grinned from ear to ear after finally putting his boys in their place.

Poseidon, Hades and Zeus did not respond but instead had a sudden change in their aura "now let's get things on the road" said Poseidon not holding back anymore.

Meanwhile Lucifer who was watching all of this along with the others smiled as he looked at Gaia "I told you that your plan is not going to work, they are now going to kill him, what else do you plan to do after that?" Said Lucifer as he smirked at Gaia.

Gaia didn't respond and just watched the ongoing battle between her son and her grandsons at each other's throat.

After not getting any response from Gaia, Lucifer just smiled and continued watching the battle like everybody else.

Five years later

The entire Kemet Army and the Titans's Army were completely wiped out and the other Titans has been captured by the allies Metis brought from the different Realms Lucifer had connections with.

After the defeat of the other Titans, the three sisters joined their brothers to fight against their father while the others went to take their rest.

The Hekatonkheires and the Cyclopes did not go back but instead helped the siblings by distracting Chronos from time to time making the Olympians land several blows or deliver devastating attacks at him.

Chronos was now at wits end and did not know what to do anymore but he vowed never to give up no matter what and he must show this brats true despair so he is not going to go down that easy.

He called upon his power as the God King of the Realm and strengthen himself several fold making him to keep up with them, he even managed to injure Hestia greatly making her to withdraw from the battle momentarily reducing his burden a little.

"I have to say, if I was not the God King of this Realm, I would have been long dead a long time ago, but you chose the wrong place to face me" said Chronos as he sent the Olympians flying with blast from him.

Bleeding from his mouth, Zeus glared at his father, the cockroach who refuse to go down even if he is the last man standing, his eyes blazing with thunder "you said this is your Realm right? What will happen when we take you to a place that does not fall under your jurisdictions?"

Chapter 64: Titanomachy 12: Taking The Fight To Tartarus

"you said this is your Realm right? What will happen when we take you to a place that does not fall under your jurisdictions?"

Zeus looked at Hades who understood what he meant, so he put his hands together and close his eyes, he stood there for a while until a black portal materialized in front of him "get him to the portal fast" said Hades to Zeus.

Zeus nodded and looked at his siblings, they all understood what he was about so they all gathered for a combine attack aimed at Chronos who float in the air with arrogance as he created a wall of shield using his aura.

The siblings were glad that Chronos was still arrogant despite in the face of danger, which they used to their advantage.

They released their attack and it flew to Chronos who stood like unshakable mountain in the sky but what he did not expect was that the attack was not meant to harm him or anything instead it was a distraction.

When the attack hit him, due to the combined force of the siblings, Chronos was a little shaken and in daze giving Zeus the opportunity to toss him inside the Portal which would cut his connection with the Realm of Greco and the additional boast he gets right now.

The siblings also joined as they went into the portal. The portal closed the moment Hades walked into it.

"Where did they go?" Gaia said with panic in her tone as she did not expect things to turn out like this.

Lucifer looked at her and raised a brow "oh, you didn't anticipate this, did you? I doubt it, but I can help you with your question, they are in Tartarus and you can't go in there anymore" said Lucifer.

Gaia's ears perked up hearing where they were "but you can go there, right? Take me there" she said as she held his clothes.

"Jeez, you are a Primal goddess, act like one" said Lucifer before snapping his fingers and their scenery changed to a gloomy and eerie place.

"Welcome to Tartarus" said Lucifer as he smiled when he noticed some changes from what it used to be due to the Merge.

"Where Is This Place? Where Did You Brats Take Me?" Yelled Chronos as he felt his connection to the Greco Realm severed and he could use his authority as the God King of the Realm to strengthen himself here.

"You are in Tartarus, my domain and your burial ground" said Hades whose voices sounded from everywhere.

Chronos turned to look at his children with the hint of fear in his eyes but he didn't let it get to him, because in his eyes, they are nothing but mere children "no matter what you do, I will not be stopped by the likes of you, I am Chronos, the ..."

"Shut up, you talk too much and that's not what we are here for" said Hela cutting her father off.

Angered by the disrespect shown to him by his daughter, Chronos attacked without wasting any more time "time to end this once and for all" he said.

The siblings also attacked back with Hades making the greatest contributions as the others were not suited to battle in Tartarus, they were not in their element.

Hades together with Cerberus dealt devastating blows after blows to Chronos with his siblings assisting from behind him.

Chronos was at disadvantage as he did not have the power of the Greco Realm to assist him and he knew continuing this fight would lead to his demise which would mean his children will win and they will not suffer any losses, and he was not going to let that happened, he decided to take them with him.

"If I am going down, I will take each and everyone of you with me" said Chronos as his eyes shone with a green glow, his aura became unstable and his veins were bulging on his body as he grew into his Titan Form which would not mean anything to the siblings but he continued to increase in size and height.

"Not good, he is going berserk, something Iapetus taught us when mother brought the idea to kill father, but Iapetus said it was going to be dangerous and only him would survive should in case he used it because of what he represents, so we all vowed never to use it but he is doing it, he has lost his sanity, mother, we have to do something" said Rhea as she panicked for the well being of her children.

Gaia sighed as she saw how far Chronos has fallen, he is beyond redeemable but he is still her son and she still want the best for him.

But even at that, she can't let him take her grandchildren to their early grave, the entire Greco Realm now depends on them.

Chronos finished his transformation and felt his every cells in his body filled to the brim with new found strength and it feels as if nothing can stand in his path
"MWHAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHAHAHA"

He burst out laughing so hard, clearly drunk in the feelings of power, he looked at his children and a terrifying grin formed on his face "I told you, no matter how hard you try, you can never best me, now time for you to feel the wrath of the God King of Greco" he said as the entire Tartarus shook from the terrifying pressure emitted from him.

The siblings all attacked their father with what they got but all proved to be for naught.

"How are we going to fight something like that? Are we really not going to get rid of him?" Said Hestia as she breathed heavily after barely surviving an incoming attack from Chronos.

"I don't think we can do anything anymore, we have done the best we could do and yet he is still alive and refused to give up, he is like a cockroach" said Hades as he sent a blast of the flames of Tartarus at Chronos who dodged it. Continue your journey on

"Go rest, I will take it from here"

Chapter 65: Titanomachy 13: The Last Stand

"Go rest, I will take it from here"

Chronos and the Siblings turned to see Gaia with a stern look on her face as she locked eyes with her son Chronos.

"Decided to show yourself mother, I always knew you were behind this little Brats since the day that bastard made his appearance in my home, but I looked the other way because you were my mother but I will not do the same again" said Chronos.

Gaia sighed as her son did not even a single shred of sympathy left in him "you were the one who made them the bastard they are, all because of your greed and selfishness, at least Ouranos was better than you in that aspect, he didn't put his children away because he was afraid they will take his throne from him but because he saw them as hideous, something that he couldn't stand but you, I fear there is no saving you in this life" said Gaia as she walked in front of the siblings.

"And you think you are any better? You turned children against their father twice and I doubt if there is not going to be a third time. All of these are just games for you, we are nothing but disposable goods to you, when we are not of use anymore, you get rid of us, Isn't That Right Mother?" Said Chronos angrily making the entire Tartarus tremble..

Tears streamed down Gaia's cheeks as her son has been clouded by desire for power that he does not even know what he did wrong again, that's why she must save him, that's her duty as a mother "that's your bias, you are have been drunk in power clouding your decision making and now you pin the blame on me?

I will have to show you the error of your ways with the little time you have left" said Gaia as the earth of Tartarus shook and came to life, she threw boulders of rocks his way to which he easily deflected, dodged or destroyed.

"Is this the best you can do, mother? I am clearly disappointed, bring back the children, at least they pose as a better challenge than you" Chronos said while laughing like a mad man.

Gaia didn't answer him and continued sending several rocks after rocks at Chronos who was now having difficulties coping with them.

With a burst of his aura, Chronos destroyed all the rocks aimed at him into pieces "I thought you could do better than ..." Said Chronos who pause to realize something, he could not move, he was wrapped in many strong vines that he could not get out off no matter how he tried.

"RELEASE MEEEE" Chronos shouted at Gaia after he found out what she did.

Gaia walked to her boy with tears in eyes "you have turned into a mad man.

Far from the sweet little boy you were centuries ago, I shouldn't have let you be the God King, it is my fault you turned out this way, the power corrupted you and turned you against your own children, your flesh and blood even to the point of killing them at the expense of your life" she said as she kissed him on his forehead "just as I have given you life, I will also take it from you, I made you into this monster, so it is my duty to correct my mistakes"

A dagger appeared on her hands as she used it to stab Chronos in his chest "I love you, my son" she whispered into his ears, letting her tears fall to the ground of Tartarus.

Chronos drew his last breath at the arms of his mother, ending the era of the Titans and the Titanomachy.

Rhea, Themis and Mnemosyne all came to their mother's side and comforted her, it is not easy for a mother to take the life of someone they brought to the world but she did it despite the love she had for him.

Gaia stood up and buried the body of Chronos here in Tartarus before leaving and going back to the Greco Realm.

No body celebrated their victory as the end was Tragic and nobody expected things to turn out the way it did but there I nothing that can be done about it.

After the Titans were defeated, a peaceful month passed as all the Olympians and their allies all rested while waiting for the appointment of the new God King which is today.

All the gods of the Greco Realm gathered on Mt. Olympus for the special occasion.

"Gods of the Greco Realm, it is an honour for us to be gathered here today to celebrate with our new god king. We all know the recent war that ensued for this day to be possible, a fierce war between the Titans and the Olympians, which would forever go down in history as the Titanomachy" said a lesser god who act as the host of the event.

"Now let us make a loud noise as we call upon the New God King and his siblings to make their appearance"

The whole crowd went into frenzy as everyone was shouting and cheering for the arrival of their new ruler.

"Before that, I would like to make an announcement" hearing that statement, the crowd booed but stopped immediately when seeing who it was that said that, it is Gaia, the Primal goddess of the Earth and Nature "good, now that I have gotten your attention, I can continue, due to the recent event, I have decided that the Greco Realm will not be having a God King anymore"

Gaia said leaving the crowd aghast and shocked by what she said, even the Olympians were not an exception to this, only Lucifer knew where this is going.

According to the myth that he remembered, Gaia would have destroyed this ceremony by creating Typhon, a being who has the appearance of a man from his torso upward and his legs were two huge coiled snakes making him a god and a monster.

She would use him to caused the Olympians a great deal of trouble because of her children but now she has all of them, so that won't be necessary.

But because she has seen the way power corrupted her son and did not want that to happen ever again so she will come up with a way to divide the power amongst the six siblings.

"The Greco Realm will be Ruled by the Six siblings, the Olympians, side by side"

Lucifer smiled, just like he thought.

Chapter 66: Going To The Kemet Realm

It has been 100 years since the Titanomachy ended, and peace returned to the inhabitants of the Greco Realm.

Lucifer, Aphrodite and Amaterasu are now ready to begin their vacation when they got a news from from an old friend and flame.

It was a message from Bast, telling them what her father was up to.

After reading the letter, Lucifer burned it "it seems our vacation would be proposed" said Lucifer to the two girls who understood what was going on "I will have to go to the Kemet Realm, and take care of things there"

After he said that, he called Amiel and the two of them left for Kemet.

Aphrodite and Amaterasu looked at each other and sighed "do you think he is going to kill him?" Said Amaterasu.

Aphrodite just raised both her hands in a relaxed way "I don't know and I don't care but seeing as he carries Amiel with him, I doubt if there will be a Kemet Realm ever again or if it would be the way it was before" she said.

Amaterasu sighed before they both walked back to the Palace.

Kemet Realm

"Should I lay waste of this place?" Said Amiel who just arrived in Kemet Realm alongside Lucifer.

"No, we won't lay waste to anything, we will just wreck havoc and kill some few pests in the process, do you understand?" Said Lucifer as he looked at his sister.

Amiel just nodded "so should we start now or do you want to take care of something first?" She asked hoping for him to say now as she has been dulled up this past hundred years without doing anything.

Lucifer smiled as he overlooked the entire Kemet Realm "wreak havoc" he said before flying to the central domain where the God King resides and his aides.

Amiel grinned widely as her shadow expanded and from it came terrifying Daemons of greater strength than the ones she summoned hundred years ago during the Titanomachy.

HAHAHAHA HAHAHAHA

She laughed loudly while commanding her Daemons to lay waste of anything in their lone of sight.

Central Domain

A large feast was taking place in the Palace of the God King, there where ladies dancing and entertaining the men and woman of higher authority and power.

Men and women laughing and drinking, having discussions with each other.

Today is the wedding of their God King's daughter Bast to Ptah the god of Creation, thus the all feast.

Lucifer arrived at the gate to the Palace and transformed into native of the Kemet Realm.

He walked inside without being stopped by the guards and he made his way into the Palace where he could say Ra on his throne laughing and chatting with other god Kings in his alliance, the one he calls 'Killing The Devil Alliance'.

"Bunch of wastrels, plotting to kill me, what a joke, if I had told Amiel about it, she would have stormed into this place demanding their heads" said Lucifer jokingly before looking for a place to sit down while waiting for the bride and the groom.

"You are a new face, I never seen you around here" said a middle age man who held a staff that has a crescent moon at the to.

Lucifer turned to look at the Kemetian who spoke to him while raising a brow at him "and you are supposed to be?" Lucifer asked him ad he truly has no idea who he was talking to.

The man laughed almost drawing attention towards them if not for the already loud environment "I said it, you are a new face, and from the way I see it you are not from this Realm but disguising to be one, which means you are up to something" said the man as he looked at Ra sitting on his throne and back at Lucifer "and considering you managed to pull your ruse without getting caught proves you are truly good at what you do or you are a very powerful god, either way I would like to see what kind of trouble you are going to cause, so don't worry your secret is save with me" the man said and turned to leave only to paused back and looked at Lucifer with a grin on his face "I'm Khonsu by the way" with that the man left.

Lucifer on other hand sighed as he remembered something of this particular god in one of the superhero movie his brother used to watch, something called the Moon Knight or so, a very troublesome and tricky fellow, that's all he could say about him.

Time flew by as the time everyone has been waiting for arrived, the arrival of the groom and the bride.

Ra stood up from his throne with a joyous expression on his face, clearly happy "it is my greatest honour to have you all gathered together to celebrate this wonderful day with me.

It is sad that Sekhmet is not here with us but this is not the time to dwell on that as I have everything ready to have my revenge against the one who killed her in the first place, so let us forget about the sad memory and focus on the good ones including today, thank you all once again for taking the time to come to this wedding ceremony, I truly appreciate" said Ra as he raised his drink for a toss "now, the moment you've all been waiting for, ladies and gentleman I present you the couple and the stars of the day, Ptah and Bastet"

The whole crowd cheered and clapped as Ptah and Bast entered the hall side by side..

"They are so pretty together"

"Wow, I wish I could take the place of Bast and be married to Ptah instead"

"That's just wishful thinking but true nonetheless"

"Poor thing Sekhmet isn't here today if not that bastard would be having the two of them today"

"Is that a compliment or an insult"

The gods all bickered back and forth as they stared at the couples.

"That sneaky bastard, this time I will make sure you never see the light of the day ever again"

Chapter 67: Crashing A Wedding

"That sneaky bastard, this time I will make sure you never see the light of the day ever again"

Lucifer said as he watched them walked up to their respective seats.

The ceremony continued from there until Lucifer couldn't keep it together anymore, he came out to the middle of the wall and looked at the two couples.

"Ahem" he first cleared his throat and looked around him and could see Khosnu looking at him, he just shock his head and sighed before focusing on the couple again "I don't think this marriage is a joyous occasion for me, I mean, the bride is clearly not happy about it and would very much like to leave the hall right now.

So for the sake of her happiness, I call this ceremony a loud of crap and should be called off" he said as he smile at Bast.

"Who Do You Think You Are? How Dare You Come To My Place And Demand Such A Thing From Me? Have You Gone Senile?" Yelled Ra clearly angered by the way Lucifer carried himself "take this man outside this instance" he said to the guards who immediately came to apprehend Lucifer.

"And here I wanted to be civil" said Lucifer as the guards grabbed his two arms and dragged him out of the hall.

After he said that, he released a little bit of his aura which sent the guards flying "I did not make myself clear earlier, I'm sorry, that's my fault, when I said this ceremony should be called off, it wasn't a negotiation or a suggestion, I want this ceremony to be called off or I will do it myself" Lucifer said as he transformed back to his true self making the entire crowd gasp in shock while some due to his handsomeness.

When Ptah saw who it was he shrieked back in fear when he looked at the eyes directed at him.

"You, Ptah are one sneaky bastard, you came to the War in the Greco Realm with your clone, you almost fooled me into thinking I actually killed you but I guess that was not your lucky day" said Lucifer to Ptah who was now regretting why he didn't withdraw from the marriage earlier.

Everyone was silent including Ra, he did not expect Lucifer to appear so suddenly, him being here would make all of his plans useless.

Bast immediately stood up from her sit and run to Lucifer and hugged him.

Lucifer smiled as he ran his hands through her hair reassuring her "so can I leave with the bride or do you want to stop me? your choice" said Lucifer to Ra.

Ra looked at the other God Kings for help. they communicated with their eyes and after a while, Ra snapped his fingers and out of nowhere, soldiers appeared around the hall surrounding every corner "take the guest away from here, things are about to get bloody" he said as he stood up from his throne, willed his staff to appear in his hands and also his clothing changed into his battle armor.

"Since you came here, don't even think of going back" Ra said as he prepared for battle.

Your adventure continues at

Lucifer looked around him and smiled before he held Bast close to him and whispered something into her ear.

After Lucifer said what he needed to Bast, he snapped his fingers and she disappeared from the hall.

"Where did you take her and what did you say to my daughter?" Ra asked.

"I told her that I might make a mess of the entire Realm and maybe gravely injure you in the process to which she agreed as long as I don't kill you" said Lucifer as he looked at the other God Kings besides Ra and notice that some of them bore some resemblance to the African people, the continent where he came from "which of you is Shango?" He asked the God Kings.

"I am, what do you want with me, Devil?" Said a dark skinned man with dread like hairs, his eyes sparkle with electricity, and he has an accent Lucifer remembered all too well.

When Lucifer heard him, he smiled widely even more "just take your people and leave, I will forget you ever joined sides with Ra to kill me, what do you say?" Said Lucifer offering an olive branch to the African god.

"I will not do such a thing, I don't know who you think you are but I highly doubt you can take all of us together" said Shango as electricity danced around his body ready to strike.

Lucifer shook his hand knowing fully well the bastard would refuse his offer "if it were back then, I would have never said this but I can, you are all nothing but ants, group of ants, and I will show you what it means for an ant to talk to a Dragon" said Lucifer as his eyes glowed to a terrifying red colour, horns protruded from his forehead "you all call me the but do you know why I am called so?"

Said Lucifer after he completed his transformation into the Devil.

He grew claws, red scales appeared on his body and can only been seen through the visible spots, he grew a tail, and a scaly draconic wings appeared on his back, his slitted just like a snake.

"Damn, I don't like this look, it makes me look like an ugly monster, don't you think so Khonsu?"

Khonsu who was hiding among the other gods watching the event unfurling shivered when he heard his name, he immediately came out of his hiding spot and smiled at the other gods "I have to say, it suites your Devil persona" he said as he stood beside Lucifer.

Ra was surprised to see that the trouble maker was in cohort with the enemy.

As if knowing what Ra was thinking, Khosnu immediately shook his head and wave his hands at Ra "it is not what you are thinking, I just met him today and I kind of like him, besides, I am trying to survive here, you are the one going against someone who you should have befriended" said Khosnu as if he was not doing anything wrong.

"Enough with all this talks, I have three women waiting for me at home and I don't want to keep them waiting, so let's deal with this small fries first before going for the big bosses" said Lucifer as he looked at the armies surrounding him as his eyes glowed brightly.

The soldiers fell one by one until all of them were all down and showed no sign of life before Lucifer looked at the god kings "now where were we?"

Chapter 68: Getting Rid Of The God Kings

"now, where were we?"

Lucifer said as he stared at the God Kings.

Ra and the others moved had a very unsettling expression on their face, they never knew he was this powerful, they thought that he was just a little stronger than them, Primal and God Kings, but never did they imagine he could wipe out entire armies with only a snap of his fingers.

All of that changed their perspective of him, even Shango was thinking of taking his deal.

As if knowing what Shango was thinking, Lucifer shook his head "there's no way I am going to let you go now, you had your time to choose but you didn't use it well, so you just have to face the consequence of your decision" said Lucifer as he took a step forward making all the God Kings shake in fear.

"You don't want to do this, my father is a Primal god, I promise I can broker a deal with him for you, just let me go" said Shango already regretting his decision to stay.

"Who? Eledumare? That guy? Have you gone blind? Can't you see the Primal gods besides you? They don't faze me neither will your father, so get off your high horse, your privileges has expired" said Lucifer as he took another step.

While this was going on, Amiel was wrecking havoc all over Kemet, making all of the gods of Kemet who did not managed to go to the wedding face her.

"Who are you?" Said a man with a face of a dog.

"You are a talking dog, great, where is your master? I don't want him to miss it when I butcher you" said Amiel who smirked at the god before her.

Veins appeared on the gods head, he was angered by the way she addressed him, calling him a dog and him having a master.

How can she say that about him?

He is the great Set, the one and only the of the Deserts and Storms and he was being called a mere dog?

"You" said set as he pointed his sceptre named after himself at Amiel "I will make sure you suffer an excruciating death" he said as he launched himself at her.

Amiel only heard one word for people like him 'fools', rushing into battle just because you were provoked, she wondered how long he was going to last with that attitude of his.

She dodged his attack by moving out of the way.

Set didn't waste any time after he missed the first time, he immediately turned around to deliver another blow but still the same result.

"Who even trained you? You are so pathetic, comparing you to a trash is even an insult to trashes out there like your father" said Amiel provoking Set even more, making him lose his rationality and attacking her like a mad man and a dog in heat mixed together.

"I WILL KILL YOUUUUU"

Set shouted at the top of his lungs as it travelled through the entire area and even covering the entire Kemet Realm.

Amiel smiled seeing as the bastard has entered a berserk mode "that's how a dig should be, not human like, now all that's left is to tame you or get rid of you whichever one you want" said Amiel as she stopped dodging and deflecting his attacks "so which one?"

Central Domain

"I WILL KILL YOUUUUU"

The voice of Set travelled to the ears of his father Ra who looked at the direction where his son's voice was coming from.

He looked at Lucifer waiting for an explanation.

"I thought you were gathering an army to go to war with me, so when coming here, I decided to bring my own army, I don't want to walk into enemy territory unprepared" said Lucifer as he took another step.

Ra could not control his anger anymore and he gave up all of his reasoning and attacked Lucifer.

The other god Kings remained as they were to afraid to attack hoping Lucifer would show them some mercy.

Ra and Lucifer exchanged blow after blow with Ra gaining the upper hand, even to the extent of drawing blood from Lucifer.

When the other God Kings saw this, they were surprised as they thought Lucifer was going to finish Ra in just two to three moves but all they could see was Lucifer getting his ass kicked. Stay tuned to Without wasting anymore time, they also joined Ra to make the demise of the Devil come quicker.

They joined Ra hoping to turn the tide of the battle only to regret their decision immediately.

Hahahaha Hahahaha Hahahaha Hahahaha

Lucifer's laughter filled the entire hall, he couldn't believe it, just a moment ago they were all just acting like some domestic animals as if they were not capable of harm but when they saw that he was being suppressed, they immediately showed their fangs ready to dig into his flesh, foolish gods.

"You lots are so done for" said Ptah as he immediately appeared behind Ptah and grabbed his neck "last time you escaped from me because I didn't know better but now, I will make sure to kill you and destroy any safe mechanism you have"

Lucifer said as he burned Ptah with Hell Fire after taking his Divinity Of Creation "this is going to come in handy in the nearest future"

Lucifer went for the next God King reaping their lives and taking away their divinity until he was left with only Ra, Shango with a few other gods not worth mentioning.

"Ra, you are a lucky bastard, sometimes I wonder why did you end up becoming her father or why did she even have a sentimental attach towards, I mean you wanted her to get married even after she told you she was in love with another man, when she told you that she was going to marry the one you want but just don't attack the one she loves, you agreed only to make your plans behind her back, now that's not very fatherly is it?" Said

Lucifer as he made Ra knee on the ground "if it were up to me, I would have just killed you and be done with but she says to spare you even if she can't stand to see your face to which I obliged, so I will be taking this" Lucifer continued as he stripped him of divinity making Ra powerless with only a few perks of being a Primal god.

"And as for you"

Chapter 69: Kemet In Ruins

"And as for you"

Lucifer turned to Shango "I gave you a way out but you refused saying something about you lots taking me together, now what has that gotten you?" Lucifer said as he appeared in front of Shango "your demise, but since I am feeling generous today, I will let you leave if you do something for me"

Seeing a ray of hope coming his way, Shango did not hesitate and nodded his head "I will do whatever you say, just tell me anything, I will do it" he said as he was too afraid to die.

"Aren't you too hasty? You haven't even heard my proposal and yet you have agreed to it, well I won't blame you" said Lucifer who grinned as he took the spear of Ra and passed it to Shango "so I want you to use this weapon to kill the rest of your allies, and you can get your freedom, what do you say?"

Are you going to kill the people you consider friends or let my friend here do it and take your life in the process, your choice"

Lucifer called Khonsu to come stand besides him while they wait for Shango to make his decision.

Shango took the spear and looked at his fellow God Kings and their aides, he looked back at Lucifer hesitating on what to do.

He was conflicted, he did not know what to do, he has his life to save but in other to save himself, he has to kill the others which is something he can't do.

"Oh, let me tell you this in case you thought you have all eternity to make your choice, you don't, so I urge you to make your decision very quickly before heads start rolling along with yours" said Lucifer who went to sit on the throne of Ra and oversee everything.

Shango held his breath before raising the spear and threw it at Lucifer hoping to catch him off guard "go to hell" said Shango.

The spear pierced through Lucifer's heart, coming out from the back while it remained there.

Clap~Clap~Clap~Clap

"You are truly remarkable, I see your aim is on point, but you should have still taken me on that offer but what can I say? You made your bed so you have to lay on it and before I forget, I have been to Hell, stayed there and I am the King of Hell, so you don't have to use that on me"

All the gods present turned to see Lucifer by the door standing there without any injury on him, they turned to look at the throne only to see one of their own by staked to the throne.

Lucifer then signalled to Khonsu to take care of the gods while he go meet up with his sister so that they can get out of here.

Khonsu had a maniac grin on his face as he walked slowly towards his targets "this is going to be fun"

"No, you don't want to do this"

"We are on the same side"

"Khonsu, are you going to side with that devil and let him tell you what to do?"

"You are better than these"

"Release us and we can catch him by surprise and kill him off for good"

"Nooooooooo"

The gods pleaded with Khonsu who just sliced the head off of one of the gods pleading to him "come on, continue begging, that's what going to make this day even memorable" said Khonsu who killed yet another god.

Shango clenched his fists in anger and frustration, there is no way they were all going to get out of here alive, they were all to doomed today, this wedding ceremony has become their funeral ceremony.

"Do what you want, but remember this, my father will come for you" said Shango to Khosnu who only laughed.

"Let him come, I will be waiting" said Khonsu as he stabbed him and continued slicing the rest of the gods into two parts until there was no one left except Ra who watched everything but could do nothing yo help.

Khonsu walked up to the throne and pulled the Spear of Ra and the body away and sat on the bloody throne while grinning at Ra but frowned as he did not feel what he wanted "I don't think being a God King is anything incredible"

He stood up after that and walked to Ra and went down to his level, "I don't want the throne anymore brother, you can eat it if you want" he said before walking out of the hall leaving Ra to his fate.

Lucifer found Amiel and told her it was over to which she stopped and called back all of her Daemons, after that both of them left the Realm of Kemet and went back to the Greco Realm.

The entire Kemet Realm was left in ruins as Amiel went all out on them forcing all the gods who ever challenged her to their grave, only some select few were save as they knew better to escape after they saw that she was not to be messed with, people like Set.

Khosnu saw all of the devastation and just shook his head "I guess I have nothing left to do here, I always wanted to the throne for myself but after sitting on it today, it feels kind of a bore, so there is nothing for me here, so bye, bye Kemet Realm" said Khonsu as he disappeared from the Kemet Realm for good..

The rest of the surviving gods all went to the central domain to seek the help of their God King only to find out that it is also in total mess, bodies of several gods filled every where, the entire army were all dead, they saw their God King on his knees with a devastated look.

Set and his brother Horus ran to him to help him up only to find out that he was just like a lesser god, heck even a lesser god is stronger than him now which made the two brothers wondered what the hell happened here in the Hall.

Chapter 70: Leaving For A Vacation

Unknown Location

A dark skinned man with a afro styled hair and muscular build sat on his throne.

He has just gotten a very bad news which he wasn't happy about.

He just found out that his son died when he went to the Realm of Kemet for the wedding Ceremony of the daughter of the God King and also work out their next strategy on how to deal with the Devil but everything went haywire when the Devil made his appearance in the ceremony.

"He was offered a choice to kill the other God Kings and then his life would have been spared but he refused or so I heard" said the messenger to the man on the throne.

He is Eledumare, Primal god of the Alaata Domain of the Alkebulan Realm.

There are many gods who resides in the Alkebulan Realm thus different Primal gods, so they created separate domains for their people.

Eledumare is the father of Shango, the Primal god of the Alaata Domain and former God King before he passed the title over to his son, Shango few years back.

Now his son is dead and all of these is because of that Devil person, but he could not do anything to get his revenge after hearing what happened, he could only mourn his son and continue with his life.

"He should have just killed off those brats, at least he would have come alive and none of these would have happened in the first place" said Eledumare before he looked at the messenger "prepare for his funeral and warn anyone whoever wish to enact vengeance to give up, we can't have anymore of us dying at his hands"

The messenger left to carry out the tasks he was assigned.

"Ra, you bastard, look at what you have done, if I have to take revenge for the death of my son, it is you who would bear the wrath of my anger"

Eledumare said before he closed his eyes and sighed as anytime he thinks about what happened.

The same thing happened everywhere in the entire Realms of the Cosmos, those who joined the Alliance mourned for the loss of their God Kings, those who were fortunate enough to not attend the wedding Ceremony were glad that they got to survive and the ones who refused to join Ra and the rest of his suicide squads were thankful as they didn't suffer any loss.

Now all around the Cosmos, there is only one name that scares the living crap out of everybody and that is the mention of the word 'Devil', it has become an unspoken rule to never offend the Devil or be prepared to face his retribution.

The alliance formed to kill Lucifer disbanded the moment they found out what he did to Kemet Realm and turned over a new leaf, they sent lots of gifts to the Devil's Peak in the Pangu Realm and hoped that it will calmed him down not to attack them. Experience more content on

What they didn't know was that, the moment they formed that alliance was the day they marked their death sentence because even if Lucifer did not make any move, his siblings would like Amiel who was already on her way to lay waste of one of the Realms who plotted against her brother.

Pangu Realm

Emperor's Palace

Nuwa stood facing Shangdi, the Emperor of Pangu Realm face to face "I know about what you have been planning for several years now and I am here to tell you to put an end to it and leave your life.

You are about to become a father very soon and you focusing all of your energy into looking for ways to defeat Lucifer would only put you and the entire Realms in Danger, take Kemet Realm for example, they were close to extinction because they orchestrated a plan and build an animal to kill him, I don't want you to fall down that part" said Nuwa as she looked at her son with love "don't let your son lose his father just as you lost yours, be the better man and bury the hatchet"

With that Nuwa left the palace to take care of the Pregnant Bixia, she only came here to warn her son after finding out what happened to the Kemet Realm and she hopes her son listened to her words.

Shangdi just sat on his throne and sighed, before looking at the papers in his hands "well I guess, I won't be needing this anymore" he said as he set it on fire.

"Yang Ten, go call the council members, let's deal with those Demons in our Realm"

Shangdi said to one of his personal guards after taking a deep thought to what his mother said and decided to let bygones be bygones and deal with the immediate threat in his Realm.

The guard bowed and immediately left.

Greco Realm

"Are you all ready? We don't want to be late" said Amaterasu who was waiting for Bast and Aphrodite to come out so that they can all go in their vacation.

She has already heard about a festival that is going to take place later in the day and the earlier they get there the better.

Lucifer was there with her also waiting for his two wives with their ride, a dragon.

He got the Dragon from the Pangu Realm after he sent Tiānkōng to get a ride for him and she brought this Dragon who was actually the first Dragon to be born with the creation of the Realm.

It was actually Nuwa's but when she heard Lucifer was looking for a ride, she offered the Dragon to him as a peace offering.

Lucifer chuckled when he first saw it but he was actually pleased with the gift that he told Tiānkōng to give the Pangu royalty all of his gifts and presents he got from those bootlickers as he has no use for them.

"Here we are, you should really take a look at your face, it might need a little makeup" said Aphrodite to Amaterasu after she came out with Bast.

"Whatever, let's go, we have a festival to attend" said Amaterasu as she got on the Dragon.

"Wait, can I come also?"
