Sterling could feel Faye's frail body shift beneath him, pressing the mound of her pelvis against his impossibly rigid cock, seeking the deliciousness of his shaft grinding into the tiny nub of her throbbing clit. Faye was enjoying the sensation as much as he was. Her frantic movements were driving him wild.

Her pupils were dilated, and Sterling could see the euphoria in her expression. Faye's body twisted and turned under his weight as she begged with him. Her swollen sex ached for him to give her relief.

"Please, do it more," her eyes beseeched him to continue.

Affectionately reaching up, Faye placed her hand gently on Sterling's chest. She watched him flinch at her subtle gesture, as if she had burned his body with a hot iron. Faye perceived an excitable quiver run through him, shaking the bed beneath them.

Sterling's hips suddenly stopped rolling into her sex, and he embraced her with a fierce hug. Her lips were so plump and succulent that he found himself wanting to devour them. He lowered his mouth over hers, and he could taste the sweetness of her soft lips in the deep, lush kiss. He savored her taste, coaxing and licking her mouth as she eagerly sucked on his tongue in return.

He felt Faye wrap her arms around the rigid contours of his flexed shoulders, clinging to him. Her hands made their way to the base of his nape, and she twisted her fingers through his silky coal-black hair, holding him in place as she tried to control the kiss, not wanting him to stop. When they parted, He rested his forehead on hers. They were both out of breath, gasping for air.

The Duke took a deep, ragged breath. Then let it out. He was trying to calm his tumultuous state before he lost all control and did something to Faye he would regret.

He sweetly peppered kisses all over his wife's brightly flushed cheeks. She tilted her head back and felt a shuddered gust of breath hit her neck as his lips glided tantalizingly to the swell of her breasts, making her entire body hum. Sterling's gaze smoldered as his eyes met Faye's through the damp fringe of his bangs. His mouth had settled in the valley between her perky mounds.

She saw his dark brow arch, and then his lips curved into a triumphant smile of pleasure. He said, his gaze still boring through her. "I want my mouth and hands to touch every inch of you."

Excitement coursed through Faye's body at his remark, causing her to shiver uncontrollably.

His tongue lapped and sucked between her peaks. He gave special attention to each breast. His mouth hollowing and sucking as he drew in each hardened tip. He nipped at her nipples lightly with his teeth, making Faye hiss. He continued his journey down her torso. Sterling felt her belly dip as he left delicate kisses on her stomach, slowly teasing as he made his way to what lay between her legs.

When he reached her cleft, Sterling could see she was already soaking wet with arousal. Sterling turned his head and observed Faye watching him play with her body. He flashed her a devastatingly gorgeous smile. The Duke wet the pad of his thumb with saliva from his tongue and placed it gently over her clit. He felt her jolt as he applied a light pressure, and her breath hitched.

"I want to take you here, Faye. The trouble is, once I start, I won't be able to stop."

She cried out his name as the Duke's thumb pad made small circular motions over the swollen nub of her clit. "AH!...Mmm—Ngh! Sterling!" Everything in her center tightened, making her toes curl in delight.

Faye aggressively pushed her sex into his hand, eager for him to move faster. Tiny spikes of euphoria ran through her body, causing her breath to catch.

Sterling watched, enraptured, as Faye raced to meet her first mind-blowing orgasm.

He saw Faye's delirious expression. A climax was pending and about to tear through her violently. The bed rocked, and she shouted his name in ecstasy. "HAA!! AHHHH!!! STERLING!!!! NGH!" Faye let the orgasm take over. She clasped her little fingers around the bed sheets with a death grip.

Once the euphoria wore off, she was left limp. Her breath hitched as she gasped for air. Her body felt like it was floating on a cloud.

Not giving Faye any time to recover from her explosive crescendo, Sterling had already inserted a finger in her entrance and slid the long length of his digit inside. She gasped at the sudden unexpected intrusion and tried to wiggle away. Sterling grasped her hip and held her in place, still slowly pushing his long, thick finger in further till he was knuckle deep inside of her.

He languidly slid it out. He could see it shining with her wetness, only to push it in quickly again and again, maintaining the same rhythm non-stop. Then he plunged in a second finger, filling her completely. At that moment, he was satisfying her body's need for release.

She could hear the lewd, wet sound of her pussy that merged with her moans. Her sex spasmed and clamped around his fingers, pulling him in tighter. She rode his hand, matching his pace. Another orgasm was coming. She was on the edge of bursting when Sterling suddenly stopped.

"NO!" she cried out, unable to understand why he had halted when she was so close to going over the edge once more. She watched as he gave her a wicked grin and sucked her wetness from his fingers.

"...Your almost ready."

Sterling's hands felt like flames licking her flesh as they moved across her oversensitive skin. His burning lips pecked tender kisses down her inner thigh to her pussy. His breath was warm on her cleft as his lips reached the folds of her pretty pink sex.

Faye's smell was enticing, and he could not wait to taste the sweetness between her thighs.
