

The Enticing CEO's Chosen Bride Novel

Chapter 14

Chloe smirked, head down

Did he really think she'd be the slightest bit scared or react to his rage?

When she had heard certain things enough times, she just stop caring

He pointed at Chloe, "I really regret not strangling you back then! You're always doing something embarrassing and ruining our family's reputation!"

Chloe scoffed, "Reputation? What good reputation does the Summers family have? Driving your firstwife to her death and marrying a young, pretty new one. If being vain and greedy counts as a goodreputation, then the Summers family is definitely the best in P City!"

"You you're out of line!"

Nick was almost choked with rage. He'd never thought his seemingly indifferent daughter would saysuch outrageous things.

"Enough!"

Carolina suddenly spoke up with a stern voice. Nick gritted his teeth in anger, but Viviana held onto hisarm tightly.

Chloe didn't even want to give them a cold sneer.

Carolina said in a deep voice, "I thought you'd learn some restraint after all these years abroad, but itseems you've only become worse."

Chloe said, "It appears you don't know that I've been back for three years already"

Carolina stopped in front of her, and the cane in her hand made a dull sound as Chloe finished speaking.

The collision of floor tiles and solid wood was a deliberate display of her anger

“I originally wanted to grind away your stubborn and ruthless nature, but it seems three years is far from enough!” Carolina said.

Chloe finally looked up at Carolina, then stood up. Her slender body was weak, but tall and straight.

In an instant, she went from looking up to looking down at the not-so-tall Carolina.

Carolina’s face suddenly darkened.

She despised the arrogant and flamboyant attitude Chloe had.

Just like her mother, that invisible domineering strength seemed to flow naturally in their blood, never weakening.

“What? You want to send me back to S country?” Chloe asked.

Six years ago, they had sent her to the economically backward and culturally harsh S country without any explanation, never paying attention to her again!

Her survival was pure luck. If she died, it was her own fault, and no one would know or care.

If she wasn’t certain she was Nick’s biological daughter, she’d think she was his enemy!

Just because of Keira, they seemed to want to push her to the brink of survival!

How could she accept that?

Her life, would never be easily controlled and trampled by others!

Thanks to their ‘care, she learned how to persevere in difficult situations!

And thank them for their indifference and neglect; they didn't even know she had left S c ountry, secretly going to France all by herself

They certainly wouldn't know what she'd done during those three years in France.
