

The Enticing CEO's Chosen Bride Novel

Chapter 15

Chloe's sarcastic remarks were blatant, casting a shadow over Carolina's face in no time.

"This whole mess, thanks to Keira for being considerate enough not to air out your dirty laundry of you trying to push her into the sea" Carolina said.

'As for you and Lance, they just naturally gravitated towards each other and developed feelings. It's best if you just step aside. Lance's heart isn't with you, you know that, right? Forcing never leads to happiness"

The chill in Chloe's heart grew deeper, causing her to feel a faint pain that she had thought was already numb

She pushed Keira into the sea?

Keira and Lance naturally ended up together?

What a joke!

When someone was being biased, it was just terrifyingly blind!

Chloe didn't want to waste more time on them. She just wanted to save a bit of strength to keep her heart a bit warm.

She simply picked up her fork again, calmly and elegantly took a bite of her pancake.

Seeing Chloe's cold demeanor, the three of them were visibly upset. Carolina shot her a glance, her gaze swept across the cabinet in front of her.

Her brows knitted slightly, saying coldly. "Take some rest, before turning and leaving the room.

As they left the hospital room, Carolina stopped in the hallway, addressing Nick and Viviana behind her,

"Get Keira some pancakes too. If Chloe has some, Keira should too What were you guys thinking?" "Pancakes?"

Nick and Viviana were taken aback, since when did they get Chloe pancakes?

Carolina had always loved pancakes, sometimes even sending servants early in the morning to that famous diner, but they weren't always available. Were those pancakes Chloe was eating from that famous diner?

Who bought them?

Lance?

But he was with Keira in her room just now?

Even if he bought it, he wouldn't have only got for Chloe, right?

So, it was just her?

Look at her, taking care of herself. Really knew how to enjoy!

Viviana said, "I got it, Mom. I know you've always loved the pancakes from there. I'll make sure they bring an extra one."

Viviana replied gently, easing Carolina's mood a bit,

'Let's go

In the private room on the third floor of the famous diner.

Nate stood before Damon, reporting.

He also told Damon about his chance encounter with Carolina, Nick, and Viviana

In reality, some things about the Summers family weren't exactly secrets.

With just a bit of probing, he found many rumors.

Damon sat alone at the head of the table.

The sunlight quietly highlighted his handsome features, his demeanor was refined and relaxed, filled with charm.

He had his head slightly lowered.

His slender fingers were on the solid wooden table, occasionally lapping his expensive silver cufflinks sparkling with his movements.

"So you're saying she's isolated at home?" His noble and deep voice echoed leisurely and coldly, making Nate involuntarily tense up

"It seems that way for now Miss Chloe's reputation doesn't seem to be very good"

Nate said delicately

In fact, her reputation was not just bad, it was downright terrible

But before things were confirmed, he wouldn't comment too much.

Damon didn't say a word just his smart eyes slightly narrowed.

Seeing this, Nate

immediately shut up and respectfully asked, "Sir, do you want me to look into it?"

"No need" Damon said
