

The Fake 481

Chapter 481 Connecting Lotus Leaves to the Sky

When Shi Xi reached the backstage, she saw the models changing their clothes in an orderly manner before going on and off the stage.

Hua Wenying stood in front of a model and asked with concern, "You really can't move?"

"I'm sorry," the model said apologetically. "I twisted my previously injured foot. It's hard for me to even stand up."

Seeing that the other party's foot was already red and swollen, Hua Wenying could only give up.

"What's wrong, Big Sis Wendy?" Shi Xi walked over and asked.

Hua Wenying looked a little embarrassed. "The model suddenly twisted her foot. Can you help her put on this dress and go on stage last?"

"You want me to be a model?" Shi Xi was slightly taken aback.

"Yes!" Hua Wenying nodded and quickly said, "the money is easy to talk about. I'll transfer you the cost of the show."

"Aren't there a lot of models backstage? I don't have any runway show experience yet."

Why her?

"They all have their own clothes to change into, and the last dress has a very high requirement for the figure." Hua Wenying's gaze swept over Shi Xi's exquisite curves.

Shi Xi: "..."

In order to show off the clothes, most models had to be tall and flat-chested. The more bony they were, the more they could highlight the beauty of the clothes.

"I've never been on stage before, so I'll try my best," Shi Xi said cautiously.

"Don't worry." Hua Wenying heaved a sigh of relief and smiled. "You just have to wear the clothes I designed and walk on the T-stage."

It was a simple request, so Shi Xi didn't refuse.

Moreover, the clothes designed by Hua Wenying were so beautiful, and she quite liked them.

The IW Fashion Show was proceeding in an orderly manner.

Toward the end, most people were tired of appreciating beauty.

No matter how beautiful things were, one would get sick of them after seeing them for a long time.

The media photographers took pictures mechanically, and they had already passed the initial surprise.

In the end, some people were already packing up their machines and getting ready to get off work.

However, at this moment, the lights in the stadium dimmed, leaving only a spotlight.

Everyone looked over.

A girl in a green cheongsam stood under the light with a bright smile.

The girl's skin was already white, and with the green background, it was even whiter than snow. Her palm-sized face had a faint smile, her eyes were as bright as stars, and her long eyelashes were distinct. Her long hair was tied up and fixed in place with a red jade hairpin.

The green cheongsam was hand-embroidered with lotus leaves and flowers, and the collar was pressed with gold thread. She looked playful, but in reality, she exuded a luxurious atmosphere.

The girl was holding a fan in her hand. The fan was embroidered with a blooming lotus flower.

The leaves of the heaven-connecting lotus were endlessly green, and the lotus flowers that reflected the sun were bright red.

The girl's appearance caused everyone's eyes to light up.

The camera lights kept flashing, but it didn't affect the people on the stage at all.

The brighter the lights, the brighter Shi Xi was.

[F*ck, why is Shi Xi here at the IW Fashion Show? Don't they never invite celebrities?]

[Shi Xi isn't a model. Why would she be on the show?]

[She looks so good in a cheongsam!]

In the age of the internet, the video of Shi Xi's appearance at the IW Fashion Show was quickly circulated.

#Shi Xi's Green Cheongsam#

In the video, a slim girl in a dark green cheongsam walked to the front of the T-shaped stage.

The round fan moved slightly to cover half of her face, and the beauty in her makeup was like colored glass.

Her long eyelashes were slightly raised, and one glance was ten thousand years long.

After the video was broadcasted, the viewership index doubled.

[Ah, ah, ah, ah! This mother fan has gone bad. Shi Xi is my wife from today onwards!]

[Don't you have a wife? Why did you steal my wife?]

[Aowu, what a great outfit! I really want to get the same style of this cheongsam.]

Chapter 482 Her Voice Cracked While Singing, She Slipped While Dancing, And Did a Somersault in the Air

[Don't even think about it. That dress was personally designed by a senior designer from IW. It's not for sale.]

[My god, what kind of resources did Shi Xi get to eat? That's awesome.]

[Shi Xi in green and Shi Xi in pink are both so beautiful, I'm moved.]

[So, the black fans are chirping again? You're jealous of Shi Xi's resources, so you started spreading all sorts of rumors about her having a sugar daddy yesterday?]

[Maybe she got this resource by sleeping with them. Fans, stop bragging.]

There were all sorts of comments on the internet, with fans and haters, and it was extremely chaotic.

However, this couldn't cover up the fact that Shi Xi had once again stunned everyone at the IW Fashion Show.

Before leaving for M Country, Shi Xi had left a godly picture for the internal entertainment industry.

And it even spread abroad.

[The looks of the Chinese contestant in [The Top]. Is this the beauty of the Chinese?]

[Wow, she looks so cute. I really want to watch the show soon.]

[She doesn't look very smart. She doesn't seem to know how to sing or dance.]

Very quickly, there were fans explaining below.

All-round idol, campus belle, top student, variety show belle, top popularity.

In the midst of the excitement, [The Top] finally began recording.

As it was a talent show of the five countries, the program was extremely popular.

Even the netizens who didn't watch talent shows knew about this program.

They sincerely hoped that their idols would not make a fool of themselves on [The Top].

This was the real embarrassment to the world.

After quietly recording for a month, the fans were all waiting to be fed.

During this period, Nan Wan's movie finished filming and continued to be active in the entertainment industry.

Nan Wan was the little princess of the capital and naturally had a lot of resources.

After the movie hit rock bottom, she immediately joined a top student variety show and mixed in there like a fish in water.

Even if she made a fool of herself occasionally, they would be fooled.

Shi Xi's fans had wanted to expose her, but they did not want to give Nan Wan any attention, so they turned a blind eye to it.

Anyway, Nan Wan was going to be screwed, so they didn't care.

Compared to Nan Wan's popularity, it was better to repost and like their own Xi Xi.

The entertainment industry was changing with each passing day, and many things were happening in real life.

Shi Chen was unyielding and the Board of Directors was dissatisfied. They bypassed Shi Chen and went to Grandpa Shi to propose for Shi Xu to take over the position of president.

With the Board of Directors' votes and Grandpa Shi's approval, Shi Xu returned to the position of the Shi Corporation's president.

After Shi Chen received the funds, he continued to develop in M Country.

After a month of silence, [The Top] released a preview.

[The Top] was a variety talent show. It was jointly organized by five countries, each sending ten trainees, five boys and five girls, a total of 50 trainees.

After three rounds of popularity selection, the most popular idol was finally selected and became the champion of [The Top].

The male and female idols were fighting, and the netizens couldn't help but click on the trailer.

In the trailer, there were clips of the performances of the contestants from various countries.

This included, but was not limited to, breaking their voice while singing, slipping while dancing, and flipping in the air.

The teacher's face was serious, and he couldn't believe it.

After a few flashes, the camera was pointed at Shi Xi.

The girl's expression was filled with worry. Her skin was snow-white, and her black hair was dyed red with some silver strands. Her hair was shining under the light.

Her cherry lips were slightly pursed, and her black eyes were like stars in the sea. Her long eyelashes fluttered as a tear fell.

Jue Mei shed tears.

The camera turned to Conrad, who announced, "The first contestant to reach the top is—"

The camera quickly flashed past the contestants, leaving the final suspense.

When the trailer came out, the netizens were all excited.

Chapter 483 Shi Xi's Performance Was Terrible, She Broke Down and Cried On the Spot

[Shi Xi's performance was terrible. She broke down and cried on the spot.]

[International talent shows are very strict. Shi Xi crumbles.]

The marketing account immediately took action and sent #Shi Xi Tears# to the hot search.

Even though the program hadn't been broadcasted yet, Shi Xi had cried together with all the terrible performances of the contestants from all over the world.

If they were to combine all of this together, Shi Xi must have cried because she had been criticized!

The anti fans also quickly moved upon hearing the news.

[Shi Xi is being praised too much in China. There's no one to praise her anymore overseas. ]

[Embarrassing overseas.]

[I've already told you not to let Shi Xi participate in such talent shows. I really don't know why she would want to ruin her own reputation.]

[She's just a flower vase, half a flower vase, yet she still has to represent the country in a talent show and insist on getting a nationality bonus.]

More insults and curses poured in, and the black fans vented their dissatisfaction crazily.

The fans couldn't help it.

[They only released a trailer. Where did they see that Shi Xi's performance was terrible?]

[I'm dying of laughter. Xi Xi Zi's tears are so beautiful, but in the eyes of the marketing accounts, she's breaking down and crying? It's really the first map and the rest is all made up.]

[If you have anything to say, why don't you wait until the show airs? The more you mock now, the more painful it will be when you get slapped in the face.]

[Shi Xi can sing and dance well. Let's go take a look at her stage first before we talk about her ability.]

The fans would naturally protect their children especially since Shi Xi didn't have any shortcomings in terms of strength.

However, in the trailer, Shi Xi was indeed crying.

There was no cause or effect, and the fans couldn't figure out the reason for their tears.

But even so, the topic #Shi Xi Tears# quickly rushed to the top of the hot search.

In addition to the haters, there were also some neutral comments from passersby.

[After watching the trailer, I don't see any scenes of Shi Xi performing. Perhaps she's so touched that she's crying. There's no need to take credit for Shi Xi's lack of ability, right?]

[I've finished watching the trailer. Shi Xi is really beautiful. She's stunning every time she appears in the industry.]

[She looks so beautiful every time she dyes her hair! Previously, the green color has been on my mind, and the pink color is so romantic. This time, the red color is also suitable! Ah, ah, ah! I also want to dye my hair!]

[Sister Xi Xi's makeup has never been bad. Although I'm not her fan, I really want to see her on stage.]

Of course, the neutral comments were all turned into fans by the haters.

[Shi Xi isn't that good, but she's good at controlling her fans' comments.]

[With this money, it's better to reduce the number of fake reviewers and improve your abilities.]

[It seems like Shi Xi has bought quite a lot of fake reviewers on Weibo. They've all retired.]

In any case, the black fans didn't allow passersby to praise her.

Praise was a fan.

The passerby fans were so angry that they fell into the pit on the spot.

[I'm a fan? Then I'll be Shi Xi's fan. Who doesn't like pretty girls?]

The country was in chaos, and the more people tore it up, the longer it would remain in the hot spot.

The more widely the divine picture of tears spread.

Even Shi Xi's style of dyed hair was popular.

All the hair salons printed advertising pictures overnight and pushed Shi Xi's style.

Beauty bloggers even removed makeup and gave beauty lessons.

...

[The Top] was a talent show jointly organized by the five countries, and the trailer was released at the same time.

The netizens from other countries naturally saw the trailer as well.

When they saw the contestants singing out of tune and falling while dancing, the netizens from all over the world had almost the same attitude.

[Don't embarrass yourself overseas!]

[Good luck! You're the best!]

Other than that, they also asked who the beautiful woman who was crying was.

[Pretty sister, don't cry anymore. You're making me so sad.]

[I want to know everything about her! I'll vote for her.]

Chapter 484 A Painting of the Crying God Appeared on the Hot Search of the Five Nations

[My heart broke when I saw her cry.]

[She's Shi Xi from China. I saw her photo before the competition. She's really pretty and has a great figure.]

In the trailer of [The Top], the moving picture of Shi Xi crying was cut off separately in the other four countries.

It also made it to the hot search.

A divine map was a hot search in the five countries.

With just her face, she had conquered the netizens who were all face-cons.

The show hadn't even aired yet, but Shi Xi's popularity had already reached an unprecedented level.

Many foreign fans were looking for Shi Xi's video to watch.

The fans in China were a little overwhelmed by the favor.

Fortunately, they had been organized before the match, and they were able to distribute Shi Xi's previous materials in an orderly manner.

Stage, variety shows, web dramas, and TV series, editing by fans

After reading this, the foreign fans who had fallen into the trap lay at the bottom of the pit with peace of mind.

[The Top] had not even been aired yet, but the trailer had already been played more than 100 million times.

Under the urging of the fans, [The Top] released the second trailer.

However, Shi Xi wasn't in the trailer this time. Instead, there were scenes of the trainees.

When the fans of the various trainees saw it, they naturally liked it.

However, they didn't see Shi Xi's stunning beauty.

After the trailer was released, there were only 50 million views and it stopped.

The first comment was, [When will Shi Xi be released?]

Other than that, they continued to watch the first trailer.

[The Top] only released these two trailers before it was broadcast.

However, they had used Shi Xi's photo as the cover of the countdown.

This way, the fans were both surprised and happy.

For her to be on the cover, it meant that Shi Xi's performance must have been outstanding, or that her popularity had been acknowledged.

The first trailer was watched repeatedly by fans, and the final number of views was 210 million.

Meanwhile, the second trailer was stuck at 70 million views.

[The Top] finally aired after a long time.

First, the trainees entered the venue.

In the spacious and bright broadcasting studio, opposite the stage was a triangular seating area.

There was only one position at the top.

The trainees from different countries were all a little reserved when they first met.

With language barriers, most people only chatted with people from their own country.

Occasionally, a famous contestant would come in, and a burst of exclamations would be heard.

As outstanding trainees selected from the five countries, most of them had some achievements in the field of singing and dancing.

Some of them have released world-famous songs, some of them have won the World Dance Competition, and some of them have won Oscar Awards for their movies.

Moreover, there was almost no one who looked bad.

Li Jinfa had never looked worried before, but when he saw these people coming in, he actually felt a trace of pressure.

As expected of a talent show jointly launched by the five nations.

It was indeed different.

There were a total of 50 contestants. When all of them arrived, the audience still didn't see Shi Xi.

[Where's Shi Xi? Why don't I see Shi Xi?]

[A total of 50 contestants. It seems that all of them have arrived.]

[Isn't Shi Xi a trainee from China? Why didn't I see her? Is she the last to come out alone?]

The bullet screen was filled with question marks.

However, after all the trainees had arrived, it was time for the next segment.

The lights in the studio dimmed.

The trainees were surprised and looked at the big screen behind the stage.

[Instructors, please enter.]

Those who had participated in or watched the talent show were no strangers to it.

Next, it was time for the mentors' show.

They just didn't know who would be the mentors.

Chapter 485 Not Only is Shi Xi a Mentor, She's Also

The stage went dark.

A person walked up from the backstage and stood in the center of the stage with her back facing the crowd.

After a few seconds, a ray of light landed on the girl.

She held a black microphone in one hand and put the other on her waist.

Her long hair was casually let down, and the highlighted red hair made the girl look free and unruly. The silver hair that was braided in was eye-catching under the light.

The girl was wearing a red muslin top, a black short skirt, and high heels. From the back, one could tell that she had a thin waist and long legs.

As the background music played, the girl flicked her hair and turned around, raising her long eyelashes.

The lights behind the stage lit up, and she looked like a saint of light.

With just one action, she stunned the trainees in the seats and the audience watching the show.

Shi Xi stood there casually with her back facing the stage.

When she heard the background music, she flicked her hair and turned around. She picked up the microphone and said in a clear voice:

"Is it wrong to like you—"

"But that's how I feel alive."

"(Is it wrong to like you? But only then do I feel like I'm alive.)"

The girl's appearance was sweet, and she was most suitable for singing love songs.

Those autumn-like eyes looked at the camera with the purest love.

"The moment I saw you—"

"My heart beats more alive."

“(The moment I see you, my heart beats even more.)”

Even when she was singing and dancing, she did not stop to catch her breath.

With a light tap of her toes, the girl was as light as a swan on the lake. She spun and twisted her body, creating a rhythmic wave.

Every movement was filled with beauty and power.

“Although the end is missed”

“The stars are still shining all night—”

“(Although the ending was missed, the stars still flickered)”

As the last action ended, the background music also stopped.

The girl lowered her eyes and stood in the middle of the stage. She slowly raised her eyes.

Under the long eyelashes of the crow’s feathers, her black and bright eyes seemed to reflect thousands of stars.

The applause at the venue was thunderous.

Shi Xi smiled faintly.

Li Jinfan, who was in the seating area, was shocked. “I didn’t expect Sister Xi to be a mentor.”

Bai Cangyang said, “She was a coach in [Star Idol], so it’s not strange for her to be a mentor here.”

“Didn’t the internet say that she’s here to compete?” Li Jinfan asked.

“Just take a look at the comments on the internet. The netizens have been underestimating Shi Xi’s abilities,” Bai Cangyang said.

Li Jinfan seemed to be deep in thought. “If she’s a mentor, we should have a lot of time together, right?”

Bai Cangyang glanced at him but did not say anything.

This man had never concealed his feelings for Shi Xi.

Shi Xi was the only big-hearted one who treated Li Jinfan as her younger brother.

The lights on the stage dimmed, and it was time for the next coach to perform.

The following performance coaches were all outstanding artistes from all over the world, and they were more than capable of performing on stage.

The last to appear was a well-known actor and male singer from M Country who had won an Oscar for Best Male Lead, Conrad.

The crowd exclaimed.

After the mentors’ show ended, the five mentors began to introduce themselves and announce the rules.

Some people noticed that when the five instructors were standing together, Shi Xi, who was the youngest and the one who had been in the industry for the shortest time, was standing in the middle!

The most famous and oldest in the industry, Conrad, was standing next to Shi Xi.

Not only was Shi Xi a mentor, but she was also in the central position of the mentors?

The fans who saw the show panicked.

[Xi Xi Zi, you should stand at the edge! Don't stand in the middle!]

[Isn't Shi Xi's positioning a little too subtle? I'm afraid the other instructors will be angry.]

[M Country usually doesn't value positions, right?]

[Maybe they're just standing in a random formation. They'll be fine after they sit down. Don't panic, everyone.]

Meanwhile, the black fans took the opportunity to stir up trouble.

Chapter 486 Mentor's C Spot

[Isn't Shi Xi too rude? You like to stand in the center position that much?]

[This kind of emotional intelligence will be embarrassing even when she goes abroad.]

[I feel embarrassed just looking at the embarrassing Shi Xi.]

[...]

!!

Before the fans could celebrate the fact that Shi Xi was a mentor, their hearts were broken by her actions.

[What's Xi Xi Zi doing? You can't be standing in that position!]

[She's just standing at a random spot. Some people really have hyperspace cancer.]

Conrad stood beside Shi Xi and announced the rules and rewards of the competition.

"Welcome to [The Top]. After three national votes, the trainees who reach the top will receive film resources, solo songs, and joint promotion by five countries."

Every reward sounded extremely tempting.

After the announcement, the instructors took their seats.

Everyone realized that even among the instructors, Shi Xi was still sitting in the middle.

Meanwhile, Conrad, who was sitting beside Shi Xi, didn't seem to be displeased at all.

He even helped Shi Xi sort out the documents in front of her.

The fans were speechless.

[I thought Shi Xi was standing randomly. I didn't expect her to be in the middle of the room.]

[Who's the one who's feeling great? It's me!]

[so, Xi Xi can get the center position overseas. She's our Shi Xi after all!]

[Hahaha, shut up, black fans. The festival team has arranged for Xi Xi to be in the middle!]

[We can get rid of the cross-dimensional cancer, but the festive group can't do this!]

Shi Xi was tacitly acknowledged as the top mentor, giving her fans a shot in the arm.

No matter how much the haters tried to smear her, they couldn't erase her glory.

...

After that, it was the normal first stage.

Most of the people's performances were relatively normal, and could even be said to be eye-catching.

Among them, there were people who were slacking off or were asked to test in areas they were not good at.

While the instructors were discussing, some of them realized that Shi Xi was able to understand the others' intentions very quickly. Most of the time, she was the leader.

[So, does Shi Xi know five languages?]

[That's not necessarily true. Perhaps they've already spoken the same language.]

[Shi Xi's foreign language skills are already very good.]

In the midst of all the speculations, there were indeed people who had guessed correctly.

Shi Xi was indeed proficient in the five languages.

She didn't even use the translation machine that Ning Yu had given her.

Moreover, she was able to sit in the c position of the mentors not because of her ability, but because she was proficient in five languages, so she could better and faster communicate with the mentors.

Hence, Shi Xi was either standing or sitting in the middle.

It was a good thing that the other mentors had a good attitude and didn't mind such things.

After the director's inquiry, he let Shi Xi sit in the middle.

Shi Xi's heart was calm as she watched the performance on the first stage.

It seemed like it was similar to being a popularity coach in China. It was the same preliminary stage selection.

She could even see a few familiar faces.

Mu Zhao, Bai Cangyang, Li Jinfan...

Shi Xi found the other Chinese participants familiar, but she didn't know them.

In any case, they were one of the more powerful young people in the internal entertainment industry.

When they performed on the first stage, they did not disappoint either Mu Zhao's dance or Bai Cangyang and Li Jinfan's singing and dancing.

Mu Zhao went to a dance academy and had learned to dance since she was young. Her figure was soft and her dance moves were graceful.

However, her singing was not as good as she had expected and she got 40 points in the end.

Bai Cangyang and Li Jinfan were both male group members, so they could easily sing and dance. Both of their scores were above 45.

As the participants were all the best of the best from their respective countries, the rules were stricter.

Chapter 487 The Most Beautiful Female Mentor In the History of the Talent Show

The first stage used a scoring system. Each of the five mentors scored ten points, and the full score was 50 points.

The higher the score, the better.

The person with the highest score would become the Top of the first episode.

In the end, only one person could reach the top and become the champion of [The Top].

!!

After two days of preliminary stage selection, three people finally got 49 points.

The female trainee from M Country, Felomina,

A male trainee from H Country, Park Seongyi.

And Bai Cangyang from China.

In this way, the Top of the first episode would be chosen from these three people.

When they reviewed the scores, they found that four of them had 10 points and one had 9 points.

And these nine points were all given by Shi Xi.

When Shi Xi saw the three 49 points, she was instantly dumbfounded.

She didn't expect that the final pressure would be on her side.

"Let's see," Conrad said with a smile. "Among the three of them, who will be able to win Teacher Shi Xi's favor?"

Shi Xi thought to herself, 'Three 49 points. How am I supposed to choose?'

There were three people with high scores, but there was only one seat.

Therefore, only one out of the three people could reach the Top.

The first episode came to an end under such controversy.

The contestants with 49 points were from three different countries.

And Shi Xi, who had the most power, just had to be in the same country as Bai Cangyang.

This caused the netizens from other countries to be dissatisfied.

[Isn't this too unfair to the trainees from other countries?]

[In that case, Bai Cangyang will definitely be the one to reach the Top.]

[Shi Xi will definitely choose Bai Cangyang.]

[Are men and women competing together? This isn't very good, is it? There's a difference in physical strength between men and women.]

In their opinion, if Bai Cangyang was able to reach the Top, he would definitely have benefited from Shi Xi's help.

After all, Shi Xi's score was the most important.

The Festival Group was good at stirring things up and attracted all the attention.

Not only did they provoke a conflict between the three countries, but they also provoked a conflict between the mentors and the participants in the men and women's team.

This way, there would be a topic, popularity, and the show's ratings and views would be there.

Killing many birds with one stone.

Everyone in the Festival Group felt that they were geniuses.

After the first episode ended, the most viewed video was Shi Xi's opening dance.

Shi Xi's opening dance, cut, was uploaded onto YouTube and gained millions of views in just one day, leaving all the other contestants' first stage videos far behind.

Even the other coaches' performances on the stage could not compare to Shi Xi's.

Although it was the first time that the five-nation selection was being held, every country had more or less held a selection and beauty contest, such competitions.

Soon, Shi Xi was known as the most beautiful female mentor in the history of talent shows.

However, when it came to chasing after talent shows, fans from all over the world wanted their own country's contestants to reach the Top.

The netizens from all over the world were even more harsh on Shi Xi.

After all, it was three people fighting for a position.

One of them had a friendship with Shi Xi.

Under such circumstances, even the program team wanted to know what Shi Xi would do, let alone the netizens.

The first episode of the five-nation talent show had just started recording, and the program team had not given them too many scripts.

It didn't matter to the Festival Group who reached the top in the first episode.

What they wanted was excitement.

The fewer scripts there were in the early stages, the more exciting they were, so that the audience would catch up.

...

At the scene.

Shi Xi looked at the three contestants with high scores standing in front of the stage and cursed in her heart.

If she had known, she would have given them 10 points too.

'I can't be too responsible!'

"Teacher Shi Xi," Conrad asked with a smile, "Who do you think is the most suitable trainee to reach the Top?"

Shi Xi thought to herself, 'No matter who I say, I'll be scolded.'

Chapter 488 I Won't Drink the Director's Toast

As a newbie who had been in the entertainment industry for more than half a year, Shi Xi had a rough idea of the current situation.

If she chose a foreigner, her local fans would definitely curse her to the heavens.

If she chose a foreign trainee, not only would her local fans scold her, but they would also say that she was unpatriotic and had no sense of belonging.

Shi Xi smiled and suggested, "Let's have an additional test. Shall we re-grade them?"

!!

This was the best solution that Shi Xi could think of at the moment.

Share the responsibility.

She must not be allowed to decide on her own who would be the last to reach the Top.

The instructor from H Country, Quan Duoyuan, nodded and said, "I agree with Teacher Shi Xi's suggestion. We'll have an additional test so that we can re-score the contestants. This will be more fair."

If Shi Xi were to re-evaluate the score alone, it might be biased.

It would be better for all five of them to re-score.

“But if everyone gives 10 points, what should we do?” Conrad asked.

Shi Xi: “...”

This person was so annoying.

“Why don’t we vote? Everyone, give one vote to the trainee you like,” Shi Xi suggested.

Five people voting for three people. Although there was a chance of a tie, it was much fairer than re-scoring.

The probability of giving each of them 10 points was too small, but the probability of giving the other contestants low points was not low.

The coaches all agreed.

The participating trainees had prepared a few stages. After the three of them had an additional test, the five coaches began to vote.

Shi Xi had resolutely chosen Bai Cangyang, while the other two teachers had also chosen their own country’s participants.

There were only two instructors left.

The two teachers looked at each other and finally chose Felomina.

The smile on Conrad’s face deepened as he announced excitedly, “The trainee who got on the Top for the first time is – Felomina!”

The lights were on, and Felomina bowed and sat down at the highest point.

Shi Xi was clapping in the audience, the smile on her face unclear.

As expected, they had already decided on the participating trainees to reach the Top.

If she had really chosen Bai Cangyang, the Festival Group might have made things difficult for her.

Shi Xi took the time to look at Bai Cangyang.

Although it was a little unfair, there was no such thing as fairness in a talent show.

Even though Bai Cangyang did not manage to reach the Top, it was still a good thing for him.

Selling fan tragedy?

She hoped that Bai Cangyang had learned it from the previous talent shows.

Bai Cangyang looked a little disappointed, but he still applauded and gave his blessings to Felomina.

Shi Xi thought, ‘Oh, he’s learned it.’

...

After the program was recorded, the trainees returned to their dormitories.

The mentors were all staying in the hotel.

Conrad invited Shi Xi to dinner.

Shi Xi had wanted to reject the offer, but she thought that it would be beneficial for the show's post-production if she could build a good relationship with the other coaches, so she nodded in agreement.

The five coaches, together with the Festival Group's director and higher-ups, went to the bar for a drink.

Shi Xi had initially thought that there would only be five mentors. She had not expected so many people to be present.

Most of them were men.

Out of the five mentors, only two were female.

One of them was Shi Xi, and the other was a mentor from H Country, Quan Duoyuan.

Quan Duoyuan was from a girl group in H Country. She had outstanding looks, long wavy hair, and was gentle and polite to people.

Shi Xi was closer to her as the only two female mentors in the tutor group.

After entering the private room of the bar, the director asked for a lot of wine and let everyone drink to their hearts' content.

Quan Duoyuan responded in a very familiar manner.

Shi Xi looked at the glass of wine before her. In the end, she picked up an empty glass, opened the glass that she had brought with her, and poured some water into it.

Chapter 489 So She is Also Lou Ruicong

She did not hide her actions at all. When the others saw this, they were all surprised.

Some people pretended not to see it.

"It's just a glass of wine. Can't you drink with everyone?" the director disagreed.

"I'm sorry, I don't drink," Shi Xi said with an apologetic smile.

!!

She didn't even need to explain the reason for her physical discomfort.

Shi Xi felt that since they were in a talent show, they should protect their voices.

Whether it was smoking or drinking, it would affect her performance on stage.

She didn't accept the director's toast – so she was also Lou Ruicong.

The director was a little angry and said in a strange tone, "It seems that you have a lot of face! Everyone's drinking, but you're not drinking!"

Quan Duoyuan, who was next to him, poured herself a glass of wine and said with a smile, "Director, I'll apologize on behalf of Shi Xi. She's still young and can't drink."

The director glanced at Quan Duoyuan and said with a smile, "You're more sensible."

"It's my honor to be able to work with you, Director," Quan Duoyuan said with a smile. "I'll toast you again."

The director patted the seat beside him and said to Quan Duoyuan, "Come to my place and have a drink. let's have a good chat."

Quan Duoyuan did not hesitate and sat down.

The director's lecherous hands immediately wrapped around Quan Duoyuan's shoulders, but the latter didn't seem to mind.

The two of them drank the wine as if they had known each other for a long time.

Shi Xi was already feeling a little regretful.

If she had known that it would be such a trap, she would not have come.

After a while, many beautiful and young girls came into the room.

After these girls arrived, they were selected by the men in the room.

There were two or three people sitting beside the director and the coaches.

And every beautiful girl was trying their best to sit next to the director.

Even Quan Duoyuan was squeezed out of the crowd.

Shi Xi had no intention of fighting for anything. She simply sat at the edge of the room and watched everything quietly.

After Quan Duoyuan was squeezed out, she sat down next to Shi Xi.

"Thank you for speaking up for me just now. Do you want some water?" Shi Xi asked.

Quan Duoyuan smiled and said, "It's fine. In this industry, it's normal to drink and laugh with others."

Shi Xi nodded. "I know."

However, she had never seen it before.

When she was in China, no director dared to treat her like this. They were all very polite to her.

However, were they also like this in private?

Shi Xi shifted her gaze away when she saw the mentors hugging others.

"Are you going back?" Shi Xi asked.

Quan Duoyuan looked at Shi Xi in surprise and said, "We've just arrived, how can we leave now?"

Shi Xi felt that she had already been here for a long time. She did not expect Quan Duoyuan to say that they had just arrived.

"I'll be leaving first. You guys have fun," Shi Xi said in a low voice.

After saying that, Shi Xi stood up silently and walked out without disturbing the director and the others.

Even though Shi Xi didn't say a word, she was the only one walking out.

Even though Shi Xi's actions were not big, she had attracted everyone's attention.

When the director saw Shi Xi walk out of the room, he snorted coldly and smashed his wine glass on the table.

The private room instantly fell silent.

"Young people are really insensible. Such a young person has never been beaten by society. She'll only know what manners are after she's suffered a little!" the director said angrily.

"She's just not used to this kind of environment, so she wants to go back earlier," Quan Duoyuan explained with a smile. "Just now, she said that she didn't want to disturb you, so she left directly."

Chapter 490 Meeting My Brother in a Foreign Land

"I respected her enough," the director said viciously, "She's the one who didn't respect me. Such a person will never be able to survive in society."

Quan Duoyuan was about to say something, but the director had already asked the girl beside him, "Do you guys want to participate in [The Top]? It's the most popular talent show right now!"

The girls beside him nodded frantically.

"Haha," the director laughed and said, "but I can't do it this episode. I'll definitely give you a spot in the next episode."

!!

Quan Duoyuan sighed, and the other mentors did not say anything.

In any case, it was Shi Xi who had offended the director, not them.

After coming out of the private room, Shi Xi saw Felomina.

"Aren't you supposed to be in the dormitory?" Shi Xi asked in surprise.

"Can't we come out?" Felomina raised an eyebrow and smiled.

Shi Xi, "..."

According to the rules of the dormitory, no.

Felomina ignored her mentor and pushed open the door to the private room that Shi Xi had just left.

Shi Xi was speechless.

She knew that the director had called for a group of girls, but Felomina was a trainee!

Are you really that open?

Shi Xi was even more confused.

'Forget it, let's go back to the hotel.'

Just as Shi Xi was about to return to the hotel, she saw a familiar figure after taking a few steps.

"Second Brother? What are you doing here?" When Shi Xi saw that the person was really Shi Chen, she was both surprised and delighted.

Meeting an old friend in a foreign land.

Oh no, meeting her brother in a foreign land.

It was much better than encountering those terrible things.

When Shi Chen saw Shi Xi, he looked behind her and said, "I'm here to eat. Did you come alone?"

"I'm here for lunch with the people from the Festival Group. I'm leaving now." Shi Xi said.

Shi Chen frowned slightly and asked, "Are you alone? No one will send you?"

This place was really dangerous.

"They're still eating, so I won't disturb them." Shi Xi smiled. "Second Brother, you should go and eat. I'm going back to the hotel."

There were other people beside Shi Chen, who were looking at the two of them with ambiguous expressions.

"It's fine. I'll send you back first." Shi Chen immediately put down what he was doing.

This place was not safe. He was not at all at ease to let his baby sister go back alone.

As he said that, Shi Chen immediately said something to the person beside him and prepared to send Shi Xi back.

The man beside Shi Chen saw this and said, "I understand, forget your friends when you see a girl."

Shi Chen laughed as he chided, "This is my precious little sister."

Upon hearing this, the man beside Shi Chen's expression changed immediately. He looked at Shi Xi in a gentlemanly and gentle manner and introduced himself, "Hello, I'm Shi Chen's friend, Ron."

Shi Xi gave a faint smile. "Shi Xi."

Shi Chen glanced at Ron. "I'll send my precious little sister home. You can go and eat by yourself."

However, after seeing such a beautiful sister, how could Ron be willing to leave?

“I’ll go with you,” Ron quickly said. “It’s not a big deal anyway.”

They had come here to have a meal and have some fun. Now that they had met such an exquisite girl like Shi Xi, Ron could no longer walk. His eyes were glued to Shi Xi.

Shi Chen didn’t want to bring this embarrassing friend along, but Ron insisted on getting into the car.

After Shi Chen asked Shi Xi which hotel she was staying at, he also asked her about the location of the recording. He said, “I happen to be living nearby. Why don’t you stay at my place for the time being?”

Shi Xi paused and said, “That’s not good, is it? Will I be disturbing you?”

Before Shi Chen could say anything, Ron spoke.
