

The First Heir 1151

Chapter 1151

With a sense of anxiety, Philip gently pushed open the door.

A scene entered his eyes.

A beautiful silhouette with an exquisite back and a graceful figure had her arms raised. She was pulling up the big waves of her hair while putting on a white shirt and a fiery red professional skirt.

Such an enchanting figure!

As if realizing that the door had been pushed open, the woman hurriedly clasped the buttons on her chest and turned her head to glance in the direction of the door. She asked angrily, "Who's there?"

Philip was stunned!

"I'm sorry. I didn't mean to!"

Philip apologized in a hurry, shut the door, and stood there while gasping for breath. He could not react for a long time.

Awkward!

A few minutes later.

The door was pushed open again from the inside and Philip turned around, wanting to apologize.

Since he had Mila, he could never watch such a thing happening.

Especially since his sister, according to the records, once lived in this orphanage for some time.

Although Philip did not know the specific reason, since his sister was still taking care of the orphanage here, Philip would guard it for her to the end!

Whoever dared to make these children homeless, Philip would make them disappear from the world!

Geoff looked at Philip. From his angry eyes, Geoff could discern the freezing and biting chill!

This guy was obviously very ordinary, but why was there such a look in his eyes?!

Moreover, he could actually take down seven or eight of them at once!

"Ivy Thomson, think about it carefully, you're going up against Heath! If he finds out, it's over for you! And this bunch of kids will be doomed!"

Knowing that Philip could not be intimidated, Geoff turned his head. Enduring the severe pain, he shouted threateningly at Ivy over there.

Ivy was still in shock, but she reacted to his words.

This was Heath, the leader of the entire Southcross District in Uppercreek.

He was a man with money and manpower.

He had more than 40 men under him and managed more than 20 venues, large and small.

Anyone on the streets would have to greet him courteously when they saw him!

This was his prestige.

“Heath, you’re finally here. This kid hurt several of my men and wants to stand up for Merry Orphanage!”

Geoff and his men had already scrambled up from the ground at this moment. They were standing beside Heath in a hurry and panic.

Philip put his hands in his trouser pockets and looked at the group of people indifferently. The newcomers looked aggressive and hostile.

Heath puffed on his cigar with a smile of admiration at the corners of his mouth, saying, “Young man, you’re very courageous. Why don’t you join me? Beauties, manpower, and money, you can have anything you want.”

At this moment, Heath had actually set his eyes on the talent and said with a faint smile.

Hearing that, Geoff dared not say anything. He only glared at Philip with utmost resentment in his eyes.

An offer from Heath was something most people could only dream of.

In the outside world, countless people were hoping to earn Heath’s acknowledgment.

If they followed Heath, they could practically rise with the tide and stay on top.

He paused and turned to look sideways.

All the people he brought had fallen to the ground!

Looking at the kid again, he was kicking the scarred man's chest with a sharp kick, then retracted his foot before turning to look at him indifferently.

"You!!"

Heath panicked, and his hand holding the cigar could not help shaking a little.

However, right after, Heath reacted and pointed at Philip while shouting, "You piece of sh*t, do you know what you've done? You're dead meat! How dare you touch my men?! I'm going to kill you right here and no one can stop me!"

After speaking, he hurriedly took out his cell phone and wanted to call someone.

However, Philip moved and stood right in front of Heath.

Snap!

The wave of wind brought by his hand made Heath take a few steps back.

The phone in his hand also fell to the ground and was crushed under Philip's foot!

He was one of the three heroes in Uppercreek!
With a wave of his hand, the entire Uppercreek would stomp its feet!
The power of Master Bell in Uppercreek was deeply ingrained and had been unshakeable for the past 30 years!
Countless people had challenged Master Bell before, but the result?
In Master Bell’s hand, all were dead!

For such an oblivious and unknown junior like Philip... To put it nicely, he had some skills, but to put it harshly, he was nothing but cannon fodder!

The four King Kongs around Master Bell were mercenaries from abroad!

Each of them was an expert who could take down dozens of opponents with no problem!

This guy was simply a madman to be so arrogant!

“Are you sure?”

Heath’s voice trembled slightly, but his eyes were cold.

Once Master Bell turned up, this kid would be dead for sure!

Chapter 1158

Soon after, Heath respectfully opened the car door. From inside the car, an old man walked down with a cane. He was wearing a white suit and a white top hat, looking to be about 50 or 60 years old.

At first glance, he exuded a strong presence and seemed very robust.

That square face of his was full of majesty.

That was Master Bell!

He was one of the three underground heroes in Uppercreek!

Behind Master Bell, another old man in black followed. With his waist bent and his footsteps light, his pair of somber eyes scanned past the venue.

He noticed Philip at first glance.

Philip frowned and naturally noticed that the old man was not an ordinary person.

Chapter 1159

Naturally, there were also a lot of discussions going around.

“Hey, that young man is really unlucky. Provoking Master Bell spells the end for him.”

“Alas, such a young man. It’ll be useless even if his family members came and pleaded for him.”

“I’ve been optimistic about this orphanage for many years, but a lot of things have happened recently. Master Bell is determined to demolish it.”

A group of people stood and watched.

After they understood the situation, different gazes from the crowd fell on Philip.

There was admiration.

After all, he was standing up for this group of helpless children and was very manly for doing that.

There was also contempt.

A kid who was unaware of his ability dared to provoke Master Bell! He was simply tired of living.

“Haha, he’s just a greenhorn who doesn’t understand anything. That’s Master Bell. He’s courting death!”

“I think he’s just playing hero. Not only has he gotten himself into trouble, but the children in this orphanage are also implicated too.”

In the crowd, some people on the sidelines repeatedly expressed their criticisms.

Over here, since the arrival of Master Bell, Heath and his men had been full of confidence.

No matter how powerful the kid was, he must kneel down and apologize in front of Master Bell!

Their eyes were all filled with a special look that could only be obtained after experiencing life and death!

It was chilling to the bone!

After these people stood forward, everyone else around them all stepped back several meters!

It was because they had all heard of the prestige of the Four King Kongs.

Without Master Bell's permission, the four great King Kongs beside him would not even let a fly get close.

"Gone! That kid is doomed for sure with the four great King Kongs around. One of them can go up against ten!"

Someone joked in the crowd.

The older people in the crowd shook their heads and shouted, "Young man, please kneel down and apologize. Your life is more important."

However, Philip's expression remained indifferent while his figure remained motionless. His cold eyes looked at the Four King Kongs who were rushing at him in a flash.

Life or death was just a thought away!

Almost everyone believed that Philip would be beaten up badly and even lose his life.

"How dare foreign mercenaries like you cross the border? Have you forgotten the terms of the war agreement signed on the border back then?"
