

The First Heir 1291

Chapter 1291

After consideration, Philip called Josh Clancy and the others.

Soon, they met at the hotel lobby.

Josh and the group looked serious. He asked, "What's the situation? The former supreme wants to see you?"

"I don't think we should go. There are only eight of us. It's still unclear how many of them are stationed in Uppercreek. If we act rashly, the risk is too great."

"Bah, he's just an old codger. If the teacher were here, he wouldn't be so arrogant!"

Several people babbled incessantly, all of them not in favor of Philip taking the risk.

Philip thought for a while and asked Josh, "How confident are you?"

Josh's face was very serious and his brows furrowed as he said, "If you insist on going, we'll accompany you and act according to the situation. I don't think they'll move recklessly. After all, the Dragon Warriors are not a force to be trifled with."

Philip nodded, looked at the eight of them, and said, "Then I'll have to trouble you all to go with me."

The eight people looked at each other, all dormant with chills, and said, "Okay!"

More than ten minutes later, Philip arrived at Tidal Pavilion.

Sure enough, the surrounding areas were under martial law!

More than a dozen guards in suits guarded the area strictly!

The old man shook his head and continued, "There's no need for you to be angry, Young Master Clarke.
I'm just here to talk to you about a deal.

I can help you with the branch family. Of course, when you succeed the Clarke family in due course, I need the Clarke family to do me a favor."

"What kind of favor?" Philip asked.

The old man said, "Now is not the time yet. I just need you to agree, Young Master Clarke."

There was silence.

Philip got up and said in a cold voice, "No, thanks. There's nothing to discuss between us."

After saying that, he turned around to leave.

Philip listened silently as he formed a judgment in his heart. Now was not the time to deal with this old guy yet. However, his mother's accident had something to do with him. He had to make a trip. "Teacher, if I'm about to deal with him, will you help me?" Philip asked. After a moment of silence, Reed said, "I won't step in, but you're free to utilize the Dragon Warriors." After all, this involved the former supreme, and very often, Reed could not be involved. He could only help Philip pacify the threats from the rear as much as possible. With these words from Reed, Philip felt some reassurance. He smiled and said, "Thank you, teacher." Haha! came from the other end of the phone. The next day, Philip brought Mila to the hospital to visit Hannah.

However, before he entered the door, he saw a lot of people gathered at the entrance of Hannah’s ward. They were pointing and talking.

“Gosh, these ruffians are treating that young lady so harshly!”

“Yes, that little girl is so pitiful. Why is no one from her family here yet?”

Philip had just walked in. When he heard these comments, he panicked. He pushed aside the crowd and saw four or five people in the ward.

Among them, a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes was sitting on the sofa with one leg propped over the other. He had a broad back and a slightly chubby figure. He was smoking a cigar while looking at Hannah whose head was buried in the pillow on the hospital bed.

The other four bodyguards in black suits stood beside her with a solemn expression!

“Hannah Clarke, what’s wrong? Don’t you recognize me anymore after returning to the country? When will you pay back the money you owe us?”

The middle-aged man grinned and sneered, his eyes filled with a deep chill.

“I’ll pay you back soon. Please leave quickly. My brother will be here soon. I don’t want him to see...”

Hannah’s sobbing tone was filled with grievances, and the tears from the corners of her eyes dripped.

“Hehe, you have a brother? Just nice. Let him pay on your behalf, then.”

The ward suddenly fell silent!

The middle-aged man looked at Philip with astonishment before laughing mockingly.

“What did you say? Do you want me to kneel and apologize to her? Friend, I’m afraid you still don’t know who I am.

Let me introduce myself. I’m a subordinate of Lord Hades from the 12 Sacred Halls of the West!”

Philip frowned as his expression chilled.

The 12 Sacred Halls, huh?

It turned out to be them.

Seeing the frown on Philip, the middle-aged man continued coldly and said, “Haven’t you heard of it? Let me give you a detailed introduction to our Lord Hades, then.

He rules the seven western cities with seven great envoys under him, each of whom is a successful entrepreneur with abundant wealth! People like you can’t even begin to imagine the wealth and abilities of the seven great envoys! The status and strength of Lord Hades are not something you can figure out!

“Just to give you the simplest example, even if Mr. Gates were to meet our Lord Hades, he must be respectful!

“Now, do you still want me to kneel and apologize to your sister?”

The more the middle-aged man said, the more arrogant he felt. His eyes were full of triumph.

At this moment, the middle-aged man was finally flustered. He frowned and looked at Philip who was walking toward him and shouted, "How dare you do this to the people belonging to the lord envoy? You're looking for death!

"Hey, what do you want? Don't come over!"

Looking at Philip's cold face, the middle-aged man was so scared that he backed away again and again. He tripped his heel on the sofa and fell onto it.

"Apologize to my sister!"

Philip said coldly with eyes that looked like he wanted to kill.

The middle-aged man was quite stubborn and shouted directly, "Impossible! I'm a member of Envoy Kells under Lord Hades! Except for the envoy and the lord, no one is qualified to make me apologize!"

Bam!

Philip went straight up and stepped heavily on the middle-aged man's chest!

Doverton, Shore Manor.

This manor was the symbol of the entire Doverton. The owner of this manor was the largest family in Doverton and also the top family in national martial arts, the Shore family!

The Shore family had resided in Doverton for hundreds of years. Without a doubt, it was a family with the most branch families in Doverton.

Moreover, the entire Doverton respected the familial concept.

As the largest family in Doverton, the Shore family naturally had deployments and contacts everywhere in Doverton!

It was not an exaggeration to say that the Shore family reigned supremacy over the entire Doverton!

No matter where they went, the members of the Shore family would garner full attention and respect.

Today, the entire Shore Manor was crowded with people!

There was a huge arena stage in the square of Shore Manor, and the surrounding stands were already full of people at this moment!

In the uppermost central position, the patriarchs and disciples of the four great families sat in the stands. They looked at the gray-haired old man on the martial arts arena stage from below!

Everyone's expressions became very unpleasant, especially since they were being publicly chastised by an Ace.

Sebastian Lloyd's eyes were cold as a sneer appeared at the corner of his mouth. He said, "Jacob, do you really think you can defeat all of us here? You're on your own. No matter how strong you are, you can't withstand it."

Lupin Gold, the patriarch of the Gold family, sneered in agreement. "Senior Jensen, being able to compete in 32 matches at your age has already made you a role model for my generation. However, you're seriously injured now. Do you think you can continue fighting the next 32 matches?"

Hmph!

Jacob waved his hand and shouted angrily, "For the justice of national martial arts, even if I fall on this martial arts stage today, I'm better than rats like you!"

After speaking, the intensity of an Ace soared within Jacob once again and swept across the audience!

Everyone was stunned again!

Chapter 1299

On the stands, the patriarchs of the smaller national martial arts families and the heads of certain forces rushed out at this moment, pouring onto the martial arts stage!

Instantly!

Jacob was now fighting with more than a dozen people!

Several patriarchs of the smaller families and the heads of other forces were almost taken out with only one blow, flying out and crashing on the ground!

However, as time dragged on and on, the balance of scales also started to tilt!

Finally, Jacob began to run out of energy and started to retreat steadily!

Elliot saw the right opportunity and punched Jacob's chest with an iron-like fist!

Pfft!

Jacob suddenly spurted blood from his mouth, his whole body flying upside down. He fell heavily on the competition stage!

The old man in his 80s whose energy had almost run out slowly stood up from the ground. Looking disheveled, he glared at the dozens of people in front of him!

He shouted coldly, "Vermin, come at me again!"

Elliot remained motionless with his arms on his back. He looked coldly at the swaying Jacob on the other side and laughed as he said, "Old Master Jensen, it's the end of the road for you. If you continue fighting, you'll only meet your end sooner."

Since just now, he had already noticed that Jacob was tethering at the edge. The energy the old man was displaying now was just a brief rebound!

Hearing that, Jacob threw back his head and laughed. "So what if I die? If I can expose the true colors of you and the other vermin and let the world know about such filthy people like you, it'll be my greatest accomplishment!"

"Elliot Shore, Sebastian Lloyd, Lupin Gold, and Shameka Walid, you've betrayed your legacy and turned your backs against national martial arts. One day, all of you will be dragged to hell!

Old Lady Walid stared doubtfully at the extended Lincoln sedan.

Of course, everyone else was also looking at it too.

It was because they could clearly see that the six experts were standing on both sides of the Lincoln like they were guarding the master in the car.

The doors at the front opened first with Theo and Master Bell stepping down.

“Is that Master Bell of Uppercreek and Theo Zander of Riverdale?”

Someone recognized these two people and suddenly shouted.

Elliot frowned. Why had people from the underground world come to his Shore family in Doverton to participate in the affairs of the martial arts world?

Immediately after, under the nervous gazes of everyone, the rear door of the extended Lincoln sedan finally opened.

A tall and handsome figure walked out of the car. He was dressed in a navy blue suit and had a pair of sunglasses on his face. He looked energetic and majestic while exuding an extremely powerful aura.
