

The First Heir 1441

Chapter 1441

Hearing these words, Chester's heart trembled violently!

"What the hell? Who's the other party? Were you being followed when you came here?"

Chester's expression instantly turned dark and his eyes flowed with surprise as well as shock!

The man in the lead quickly responded, "Master Ludwig, that's impossible. We checked the area before coming back. No one followed us."

Chester looked very flustered. He glanced at his little daughter who was on the bed and said to the man, "Bring my daughter out. No matter what happens, don't turn back!"

Chester had a strong feeling that he would not be able to wait for tomorrow's deal. There might be a big battle tonight!

Since the other party could even abduct his little daughter, it meant that they had figured out everything about him.

Even his household was under someone else's control!

Chester quickly took out his phone and dialed his wife's number.

As soon as the call was connected, he shouted anxiously, "Dear, did anything happen at home? Where's our son?"

On the other end of the phone, a soft female voice laughed and said, "Honey, what's wrong? Our son is at home. Oh by the way, your subordinates brought Sugar to Cloudside earlier in the day. Has she arrived yet?"

Nigel immediately pointed at Chester and yelled angrily, "Chester, you're really shameless! Do you think that if you push everything on the Wes family, you'll be fine?"

Chester said with a feigned smile, "Nigel, you can't say that. I really didn't participate in this. I'm always thinking of Young Master Clarke's needs. As long as Young Master Clarke gives an order, I can immediately destroy the Wes family and capture the father and son of the Wes family for Young Master Clarke."

"That won't be necessary."

Suddenly, Philip said coldly, "Kinley Wes is dead and Sidney Wes has been crippled."

Hearing this, Chester pretended to be surprised and exclaimed, "Huh, how could this be? Dead?"

Philip chuckled and asked, "Didn't you know?"

replied, "I really didn't know. Alas, Kinley ultimately reaped what he sowed. Oh, by Interesting. This Chester Ludwig was not bad. He was very crafty.

Seeing all those people gathered around, the man began to have more confidence. He straightened his back while saying to Philip, "Young Master Clarke, why don't we do this? You go back first and I'll let the men conduct a thorough search of this place. Don't worry, I'll definitely find your daughter."

After Chester finished speaking, he sneered inwardly. If Philip Clarke could go with the flow, so could he.

No matter what, he was also one of the 11 people carefully selected by the lord to join the Gentleman Court. He was not that stupid father and son duo of the Wes family!

Nigel frowned when he saw the commotion. His face was cold as he whispered in Philip's ear, "Young Master Clarke, it seems that Chester has arranged for a lot of manpower in Cloudside. I've never seen these people before. They must have snuck in under disguise."

Philip nodded as he looked at the people around Chester. They did not seem like the common street gangsters or the usual combat bodyguards. They must be specially trained death warriors!

At a glance, there were about 40 or 50 people here. All of them carried a chill that revealed their experience in fighting life-and-death battles. They each had a dormant killing aura!

These people must be Chester's trump card.

On the other side, when Rachel saw these people around Chester, her eyes suddenly constricted and her pretty face darkened!

How dare Chester train death warriors in private?!

Philip said coldly. The killing intent in his eyes could no longer be suppressed!

Chester did not speak. His face was illuminated brightly under the headlights and a hideous sneer could be seen.

"Nigel!" Philip barked out.

"Yes!" Nigel answered.

"Tonight, lock the city down! Only allow entry but nobody can exit! I want to see how many monsters will come to Cloudside tonight!"

Philip said angrily. This roar soared straight to the clouds and was particularly pervasive on this dark night!

Hearing Philip's order, Chester finally could no longer hold back. He glared at the other party and asked, "Young Master Clarke, do you really want to do this? As long as I can't leave Cloudside within an hour, the four areas at the borders will riot. By then, lives will be lost and you'll carry a charge that you can never wash away in this lifetime!"

The four regions were facing upheaval and lives were in danger. At that time, the chain reaction that would be triggered would be too much even for the Clarke family!

With monstrous rage, Philip walked step by step toward him!

This was what Chester felt. From the crowd, he could feel the threat from hell that flowed from Philip.

The man was full of rampant killing intent!

Frigid!

That demeanor and that gaze... It was like the devil himself!

With just one glance, Chester felt his soul tremble!

He wanted to run!

Yes, run!

Even with so many death warriors, Chester's heart still surged with extreme fear!

Especially when he saw Nigel's subordinates fighting with the death warriors like crazy!

Even if the death warriors were powerful, they could not withstand being under siege!

At the brief moment when Chester hesitated, Philip had already passed through the crowd and walked up to him.

Chester laughed miserably and said, "Family? Haha, I sent them to Country M a long time ago. You can't threaten me! Now, I'll give you one region in exchange for my little daughter!"

However, just as he said that, Chester saw a few people walking out from behind the crowd again.

A woman in a black trench coat was holding a seven or eight years old boy while also supporting a blind old woman by her side.

“Honey, Son, Mom? You... Didn’t you go to Country M? Why are you here? Why?!”

Chester was going crazy. It was his family in front of him, his weakness!

Although he could betray even his biological brother, he was exceptionally good to his wife, children, and mother!

He looked at Philip with red eyes and shouted, “Let my family go or I’ll order the regions to act right away!”

Philip shook his head and said, “Chester, it’s not your turn to be talking terms with me now. I should be the one talking terms with you, understand?”

This sentence stunned Chester.

Victor quickly said, “Yes, Young Master Clarke! ”

After that, he asked again, "Young Master Clarke, is the young miss alright?"

Philip nodded in response and said, "She's fine. I'll return soon."

After ending the call, Philip's eyes were extremely cold and he said to Nigel, who was standing beside him respectfully, "Send me back to Uppercreek."

Nigel was startled and said, "Young Master Clarke, is it so urgent? Why don't you stay another couple of days? I can show you around Cloudside."

Philip shook his head and said, "I can't make it. Something has happened in Uppercreek."

After saying that, Philip thought of something and shouted into the air, "Where's the Shadow Squadron?"

“Men, pass my orders. Starting today, Cloudside will strictly investigate all forces and dig out any foreign forces that are lurking in Cloudside! Also, all jade shops and jade quarries are to stop business operations for a month!” Nigel shouted.

Not long after Philip left, all forces lurking in Cloudside received a definite answer.

For example, Giada Wallis, who had left Arcadia Island and returned to Cirrus Villa in Riverdale, had a subordinate report to her at this moment. “Madam Wallis, according to confirmed sources, Philip has left Cloudside and Chester Ludwig of the Gentleman Court has also been taken away. This time, the lord of Gentleman Court made no move to stop it.”

Giada was walking in the garden with a fluffy white Persian cat in her arms.

She had two female bodyguards following behind her. “Okay, I got it,” Giada said, putting the Persian cat in her arms on the ground.

Then, she gradually looked puzzled and muttered, “Why didn’t the Gentleman Court make a move?”

As if she could not figure it out, she said to the female guard behind her, “Follow my orders and contact the lord of the Gentleman Court. Tell him that Giada Wallis of the Wallis family will visit him soon.”

She held Mila's little face, looked at it with distress, and said anxiously, "Mila, are you hurt? Do you feel pain anywhere? Let me take you for a check-up."

Mila shook her head, took Wynn's hand, and wiped her tears sweetly. She said, "Mom, don't cry. I'm fine. You have a baby in your stomach. You need to rest more."

Hearing such tender words from her daughter, Wynn immediately hugged Mila's head while crying with great sadness but also with relief.

Philip stood silently by the side, a happy smile playing at the corners of his mouth.

"Phil, thank you," Wynn raised her eyebrows and said to Philip.

Philip smiled, walked over, and touched his daughter's and Wynn's head. He said, "What's there to thank?"

The family's brief reunion was filled with happy laughter.

As for Lydia Jensen, she rushed here the second she received the news. She pursed her lips and wiped her tears as she looked at Mila.

The crisp sound of this slap immediately drew the attention of the passersby at the hospital’s entrance!

Kelsey’s eyes widened at once. When he came back to his senses, he pointed at Philip hysterically and shouted, “How dare you hit me? I’m the third young master of the branch family! This time, I’m here to represent the branch family and my father! You’re simply too arrogant!”

However, Philip just flexed his hand lightly, while Kelsey took two steps back in fright.

He said grimly, “Kelsey, I’m educating you on behalf of your father. You’re simply too ill mannered. What should you do when you see the heir of the main Clarke family?”

This...

Kelsey was immediately flustered. The Clarke family had rules. When they saw the heir of the Clarke family, those of the same generation must bow and salute. I went without saying that they could not speak rudely to them.
