

The First Heir 1461

Chapter 1461

Everyone looked for the source of the voice. The door of the private room opened and a young man dressed in a casual outfit walked out.

Behind him was a man in his 50s or 60s who seemed quite formidable. He must have an extraordinary identity.

When Juan heard this voice, his heart trembled. He raised his eyebrows and looked over. Sure enough, it was Philip Clarke!

He retracted his leg and said with displeasure, "I was just wondering who it was. So, it's you."

Philip glanced at the bodyguard lying on the ground. Dissatisfaction flashed in his eyes as he said to Juan coldly, "He's just a bodyguard. It's a little too much for you to bully him like this."

Juan snorted. "I'm just teaching a bodyguard a lesson. What does it have to do with you? Do you want to interfere with this too?"

Juan was upset. Philip was being too nosy, right? However, the corner of Philip's mouth curled slightly, revealing a trace of coldness as he said, "Why doesn't it have to do with me? They're the bodyguards at the door of my private room, so they have something to do with me. By bullying the bodyguards at my door like this, you're the one not showing any respect to me."

Philip's tone had gone cold.

Juan frowned as he looked at Philip.

The few friends behind him immediately stepped forward, pointed at Philip, and shouted angrily, "Damn it, who the hell are you? How dare you talk to Mr. Parker like this?! You must be tired of living!"

"That's right! Mr. Parker is just teaching these two bodyguards a lesson. What does it have to do with you? I advise you to get the hell out of here, or else, I'll call someone to take care of you!"

"Philip, don't blame me for not reminding you. You might not be able to afford to provoke these three people. I advise you to bow down obediently and apologize to them. Perhaps you can live another day if you do so."

Juan said coldly at this time with a smug smile on his face, looking very taunting.

Unexpectedly, he came into some luck today.

After offending these three families, there was no way Philip could remain in Uppercreek.

If things were not handled properly, he might even die here.

However, Philip did not say anything. At this time, Victor walked out from behind him. He glared at the three young masters and said coldly, "What did you just say? You want to arrest Young Master Clarke and deal with him?"

"Who the hell are you? You have no business here. Get lost!"

Hearing this, many people on the scene gasped.

The young master of the Seed family, Zachary Seed, was going up against Master Bell to the end!

However, the outcome was difficult to say.

After all, the Seed family was no ordinary affluent family but a family of special guards!

The members of the Seed family were elite guards who had undergone special training!

They had branches and training camps in Uppercreek as well as many other areas in the country.

Many special guards from the Seed family had become personal bodyguards of big shots and possessed certain strength as well as influence.

Especially in the last ten years, four special bodyguards had been produced by the Seed family. The status of the people they protected could even reach the heavens!

Therefore, in recent years, the development of the Seed family had been in full swing. Many were working with the Seed family because of the four guards.

Hiss!

Everyone's faces were full of shock!

This Victor Bell was worthy of being one of the three underground forces in Uppercreek. His methods were ruthless!

He was not worried about the Seed family at all!

Many people who cheered for Zachary just now all shut their mouths at this moment and stood aside to watch the scene.

Among them were some guys who deliberately wanted to create a fuss. Now that Zachary had been beaten up, sneers appeared on their faces.

The more trouble, the better.

With this kick, Zachary's stomach was in excruciating pain. He knelt on the ground and gasped for breath as he groaned.

"Damn it! Victor Bell, how dare you kick me? I'm the young master of the Seed family! My grandfather is Everyone was astounded by his words.

What?

This guy still dared to behave so pompously?

They were completely surrounded by fully armed special guards from the Seed family!

No matter where they were, they were not an existence ordinary people could afford to provoke!

Even Victor Bell had to control his temper now.

After all, having a conflict with a family with special powers like the Seed family would be detrimental.

After hearing Philip’s words, Zachary immediately scoffed. “Haha! What did you say? The Seed family won’t have a place in Uppercreek? Who the hell are you bluffing? Do you think I’d be afraid of you just because you have Victor Bell with you? Don’t you see all the members of the Seed family around you?”

Philip laughed lightly as a hint of mockery appeared at the corner of his mouth.

It was this sarcasm that made Zachary completely furious!

He pointed at Philip and hissed. “Kid, I don’t care who you are. Kneel and apologize to me right now! Otherwise, I’ll even kill you and Victor together!”

Seeing this scene, Zachary's face was extremely dark.

As for Victor, he shouted grimly, "Young Master Seed, do you still want Young Master Clarke to kneel?"

Zachary looked at the two confronting parties and sneered, "Master Bell, you're indeed very powerful.

In such a short time, you managed to get so many people over here."

Hmph!

What did it matter if they had more people? They were all unarmed thugs, while the special guards of the Seed family were fully armed elites.

Victor said sullenly, "Young Master Seed, I advise you to ask your people to withdraw quickly."

Zachary was upset and clenched his fist, roaring, "Are you trying to scare me? Today, let's see just how powerful you are!"

"Come on! Charge in! Take all these people down!" Zachary roared.

Walton immediately thought of something and quickly bowed as he said, "So you're Young Master Clarke. It's nice to meet you. Today's matter was my son's fault. I apologize on my son's behalf."

Wow!

The people watching the scene were astonished at this moment!

Before this when Victor protected Philip, they had not thought too much about it.

However, now that even Walton was treating Philip with respect, some people could not help but speculate about his identity.

"Philip Clarke? Why does the name sound so familiar to me?"

On the side, someone finally realized something.

“Oh, I remember now! He’s the Young Master Clarke who led the national martial arts to defeat Fusha in the world tournament! I heard that even the Jensen family, the family of national martial arts, has to respect him.”

“Holy sh*t, no way! So Zachary Seed messed with a big shot! No wonder Walton Seed is so respectful.”

“Well, in my opinion, I’m afraid the Seed family won’t end well this time.”

When Zachary said this, he glared at Philip sullenly!

Walton was about to die from anger. He turned around.

Suddenly...

A deep voice tinged with anger sounded from behind the crowd.

“Calling the bodyguards of Le Reverie dogs... Is this the tone and arrogance of the Seed family?”

Swoosh!

The crowd dispersed. From behind them, a man in a white suit who looked to be in his 30s or 40s strode over with a chilly aura. He had a stern and rigid appearance.

Hearing this, Walton was so frightened that his legs went weak!

To think of Le Reverie as a pushover was simply an unforgivable act!

Many people were overwhelmed by the pressure exuding from Wilbur.

It was too strong!

Such intensity and majesty were worthy of Wilbur Ellis!

“Answer me!”

Wilbur shouted solemnly with a biting chill in his eyes.

Zachary was full of regrets now. Of all people, why did Wilbur Ellis appear? What should he do now?

At once, Jake Chance and Casper Lent, who were beside him, silently stepped back and hid in the crowd. Zachary glanced at his father next to him and hesitated for a long time, not knowing what to say.

Walton quickly jumped in, saying, "Mr. Ellis, you've misunderstood. My son didn't mean that. He was only trying to say- "

"Is it your turn to speak? I'm asking your son!" Wilbur chastised coldly.

By speaking out of turn, he was not showing respect to Walton Seed in public. Walton's face darkened, and the corners of his mouth trembled. He lowered his head, clenching his fists bitterly.

Walton's face instantly darkened as he gritted his teeth and said coldly, "Young Master Clarke, since you're putting it that way, then the Seed family really wants to see what means you have."

Philip laughed and was about to make a move when Wilbur, who was standing at the side, said lightly, "Young Master Clarke, can you spare the Seed family on my account? There's a special auction party at Le Reverie tonight. Can I invite you to attend?"

Philip turned his head and scrutinized the cold demeanor of Wilbur Ellis.

He could not see through this person at first glance. He was an interesting character.

After thinking about it, Philip smiled and said, "Okay, I'll let the Seed family go for your sake."

"Haha, thank you then, Young Master Clarke. This way please." Wilbur made a gesture of invitation.

Philip walked forward, followed by Victor behind him. From the beginning to the end, he did not pay attention to Walton and Zachary who stood sullenly on the side.
