What?

His law license had been revoked?

Toby was stunned and rooted on the spot, the corners of his mouth trembling.

“Mr. Jones, are you hungover? Do you know what you’re talking about?” Toby frowned and asked coldly.

‘What was this Donald Jones doing?’

However, Donald said on the other end of the line, “Toby, I’m not joking with you. After investigation, we’ve decided to revoke your law license. At the same time, your law firm will also be investigated. You should get ready. This time, it’s entirely up to you if you can weather this storm. I can’t help you.”

When Toby heard this, his heart thumped.

He asked anxiously, “Donald, tell me, is someone messing with me? Is it Godfrey Hart and his people?”

Toby was annoyed!

When something like this happened out of the blue, there was only one explanation his rival had made a move against him!

However...

"Are you Toby Little? Your law firm has been seized and all documents and hard drives have been taken away by us. We're officially issuing a warrant for your arrest."

Hearing this, the cold sweat on Toby's body dripped!

What?

The company was being investigated?

All the documents and hard disks were taken away?

Oh no!

He was in trouble now!

All his secrets could not be kept under wraps now. Those documents and hard drives contained evidence of his corruption!

"You! Very well! You're very audacious! This is the first time I've heard such words. How dare you make a move against my Little family? Well done! I want to see how capable you are!"

On the other end, William looked furious at the moment.

He was standing in a magnificent hall surrounded by many well dressed men and women, all elites in the domestic law industry. All of them were also guest contributors of the Little family.

The Little family still had some weight in the legal world. After all, as a member of the Holton Law Firm, one of the four largest law firms in the country, they had a lot of resources.

At this moment, they were surprised to see William hang up the phone in anger.

"Patriarch Little, what's the situation? Why are you so angry? Someone dares to take action against the Little family?" the middle aged man on the side asked.

"Hmph...!"

William snorted coldly as he stood with his hands behind his back The brows on his angular face furrowed suddenly as he said gravely, "A kid who doesn't know his limits actually wants to make a move against my Little family. What a joke!"

Hearing this, Lynn's body went weak. She looked at Philip incredulously, her red lips trembling slightly. She anxiously said, "What should we do, then? Toby, will we be arrested?"

Toby chuckled and said, "It's fine. My father will take care of it. This ignorant kid actually wants to make a move against my Little family. He's just courting death!"

Toby mocked inwardly.

Lynn also took a breath and patted her chest, saying, "Toby, you really scared me there!"

After that, she turned her head and stared fiercely at the nonchalant Philip while saying coldly, "Philip, did you hear what Toby said? Even if you rely on Wynn's previous connections to cause a little trouble for Toby, it won't work. His family is not as simple as you think!"

"Is that so?"

Philip sneered, turned his face to look at Toby calmly, and said, "It's useless even if your father or your Little family step forward because you don't carry that much weight or have many qualifications yet. The Holton Law Firm? The Rainbow Society? Haha, I really hope that one of them is willing to help your Little family."

Meanwhile, in a small luxurious manor in Uppercreek William Little was discussing the membership of the bar association with his friends and guest contributors.

Suddenly, the assistant who had left earlier rushed in. He hurried to William's ear and whispered, "Master, something has happened. You need to answer a call from Mr. Walker."

William frowned as his mind was full of doubts.

What was this Leroy Walker doing?

Why was it so troublesome for him to handle such a small matter?

William was unhappy. He got up and said to everyone, "Excuse me, everyone. I need to go out and take care of something. I'll be back soon."

After that, he stepped away and walked to the side hall. He took the phone from his assistant and said with a scowl, "Leroy Walker, what are you doing? I told you to take care of one small thing. Why is it so troublesome?"

His tone was full of questioning and displeasure!

Rats would abandon a sinking ship. The hall that was full of people just now was completely deserted!

Anger and chills welled up in William's body. Someone must be doing this behind his back!

Who was it?

Thump!

Suddenly, a scene flashed through William's mind! Earlier, he had a call with Philip Clarke, who said that he would deal with the Little family.

Could it be him?

However, as per Toby's explanation, this guy was just a useless son-in-law who lived off his wife's family. There was nothing to fear about him.

What the hell was going on here?

While thinking, William hurriedly dialed a phone number.

Soon, Toby received a call from his father and was overjoyed. He laughed at Philip and said, "Haha, my dad's calling me. I'm sure he has settled this matter. You're finished, Philip! Trying to bring down the Little family is just a foolish dream!"

William was nervous and quickly said, “Mr. Clarke, don’t be angry. I’ll take care of this matter.”

However, Philip interrupted him and said, “No need to go through the trouble. I think I’ve already made myself clear. Since your son is adamant to go all out with me, there’s no need for the Little family to exist any longer. Besides, according to the information I received, there’s nothing good about you as well.”

Hearing these words, William’s heart trembled violently. Then, his face darkened as he said, “Mr. Clarke, do you really want to fight to the death? The Little family still has a bit of power. Even though I don’t know what you did to remove me from the Holton Law Firm, I can tell you quite clearly that the backer of the Little family is not only the Holton Law Firm! ”

William knew that if he did not come up with a trump card, Philip would not give up.

However...

Philip smiled lightly, raised his hand, and snapped his fingers. Soon, a bodyguard in a black suit appeared in the private room. He handed Philip a tablet before respectfully exiting the room.

Toby and Lynn were stunned at this.

A disgruntled voice came from the other end of the phone, carrying an air of fury.

An ordinary person would be angry after hearing those accusations.

However, William Little, the patriarch of the Little family and a former member of the Holton Law firm, was not angry at all. Instead, he smiled flatteringly and said, "Sire, don't be angry. I'm just facing a little trouble here and want to ask for your help. Rest assured, the terms are the same and I won't pay a single cent less."

Meanwhile, Toby stood in Philip's path, his face looking smug as he said, "Philip, you're too arrogant. When my dad arrives later, you won't be able to escape. Why don't we do this? You can go down on your knees and apologize to me before signing the document on your wife's behalf. If you do that, I'll let you go without pursuing this matter. However, if you still insist on fighting to the end with me, then I'm sorry, but you'll end up miserably today! I'll also send your wife to jail!"

Toby lost his patience. He did not expect this little matter to cause so much trouble for him.

This Philip Clarke had some means.

However, they were just some petty tricks.

Besides, Philip was also relying on his wife's connections. He was a kept man through and through!

However, Philip looked at Toby calmly and said, "What's the hurry? Your dad is on his way here. If I'm guessing correctly, he must have contacted someone."

"My dad? Oh, do you really think he'll come over? Why does my dad need to come over for a fool like you? What, are you trying to tell me that my dad will come over and apologize to you?" Toby sneered.
