

The First Heir 1551

Chapter 1551

William blamed himself for pampering his son too much and allowing him to run rampant.

If this matter could not be resolved today, the Little family might really suffer.

He wondered what the outcome of Sire's communication was.

Toby felt extremely embarrassed at this moment His father actually slapped him in front of outsiders, which made him feel very humiliated!

Thus, he glared at Philip with resentment and said angrily, "What the hell did you do? Why did my dad come over?"

Philip chuckled.

William was extremely furious and slapped him again while chastising, "Toby, shut the hell up! How dare you talk to Mr. Clarke that way? Do you know that I've been removed from the Holton Law Firm? I'm just an ordinary lawyer now. Whether I can get through this difficult situation depends on Mr. Clarke, so you need to apologize to him at once! Also, what stupid thing did you do to make Mr. Clarke so angry?"

Toby was dumbfounded!

Since young, he had had his fair share of being beaten by William like this. It had left a shadow in his heart.

William belted him several times before turning around and squeezing out a smile. He did not even dare to wipe the cold sweat off his forehead and spoke to Philip, "Mr. Clarke, I'm sorry. My son is ignorant and has offended your wife. Why don't I get him to apologize to your wife?"

"Why are you lying down and pretending to be dead? Quickly get up and apologize to Mr. Clarke!" William yelled at the howling Toby.

A dumbfounded Toby was dragged up by William to apologize to Philip.

However, Philip said, "Patriarch Little, you may have misunderstood something. I never promised to let him go. Of course, I didn't promise to spare the Little family either. Besides, your son was quite adamant about sending my wife to jail just now. He even wanted me to kneel and apologize to him."

Hearing this, William's mouth twitched as his eyes flashed with a chill. His fists were clenched tightly as he said with a humorless smile, "Mr. Clarke, there's no need to go to the extreme, right? Why can't we talk about this? It's better to forgive and forget. Yes, my son is a little disobedient. I'll go back and teach him a good lesson. Regarding your wife's matter, my Little family will not interfere."

William's face changed as the muscles at the corner of his eyes twitched.

He clenched his fists, the corners of his eyes going cold. This Philip Clarke was too aggressive.

William gritted his teeth and said coldly, "Mr. Clarke, you should be more forgiving. There's no need to push things to the extreme. It's good to leave others a way out."

However, Philip did not speak and just watched quietly.

Seeing the look on Philip's face, William could no longer control himself and shouted angrily, "Philip, don't be such a tyrant! I'm the head of the Little family, after all. Even if you've used some tactics to remove me from the Holton Law Firm, do you really think I'll be afraid of you? The connections I have are not fewer than yours, so don't push your luck! If you know what's good for you, you should let this matter end here. I'll not hold you accountable for today's incident. Otherwise, I vow to send you to jail!"

William was really furious!

He had humbled himself and pleaded for mercy but the other party did not appreciate it at all.

He had been in the industry for so many years. What sort of people or incidents had he never encountered before? For him to grovel in front of a junior like that, he had long been annoyed with it!

However, Philip still did not say anything. With his hands behind his back, he quietly watched.

"Fine, I don't believe no one in this world can take you down!"

Luke Tucker, who was on the other end of the phone, was so frightened after hearing these names that he fell limp onto the chair. His eyes revealed his panicked state while the cold sweat on his forehead poured like a waterfall!

How could this happen?

Could it be that someone had leaked the information? These were the names of the people he had secretly supported to make money for him!

There was no wrong name on the list!

He had been supporting these people for many years and this matter had been kept under tight wraps. However, it was now being exposed by a stranger with no background. Luke was flabbergasted!

Who on earth was the other party and how did he find out everything about him in such a short time?

What a terrifying force this man must be!

Lynn Johnston was very scared and whimpered, "Brother-in-law, I was wrong. Don't hit me. I'm scared."

Lynn was panicking now. She never imagined that Philip was so powerful!

In such a short time, not only did he get Toby's license revoked but also his father's membership revoked!

He even got them arrested! His methods were simply too terrifying!

Lynn had never heard of such means. All along, she thought Philip was just a loser who relied on Wynn. He was supposed to be a kept husband. However, everything that happened today made her panic.

Philip Clarke was not at all what he appeared to be!

It was too frightening!

"Lynn, pass my message along. I'll return to Riverdale in the evening. Tell the two uncles to get ready and welcome me."

Philip said coldly as his eyes surged with intense anger!

Hearing this, Bernard was anxious and quickly asked, "One sentence? What did he say?"

Lynn shuddered and replied, "He said that in this world, there's no one that he, Philip Clarke, can't afford to mess with not even the Little family. They can only wait for their destruction."

Hiss!

On the other end of the phone, Bernard gasped as his back was immediately drenched in a cold sweat.

Why was this guy so arrogant? No one in the world could mess with him?

Too presumptuous!

After a moment of silence, Lynn's voice was heard over the phone. She sounded very anxious and worried as she asked, "Dad, what should we do? Toby has been arrested and the Little family is gone now. Will we be arrested too? Will Philip come after us?"

Bernard's face went dark. He was no longer a man of an ordinary household, working hard every day just for his daily bread and butter.

Chapter 1557

At this moment, Martin was chatting with a few friends in the living room of the villa. They were the directors of Beacon Group and also the co-initiators of this covert battle!

Seeing Bernard barge in, Martin frowned and said to the people around him, "Excuse me for a moment."

After that, he got up and went to the small garden next to the villa with Bernard following closely behind.

"Tell me what's wrong. Why are you panicking like this? How indecent. Stop making a fool of yourself." Martin scowled.

They had overstepped their boundaries and put on shoes that were too big for their feet. They were already used to poverty but suddenly, this big enterprise fell right onto their laps. Furthermore, being in the position of chairman, many of their bad habits naturally had to be changed!

This was why the Johnston brothers had spent so much money to repackage and rebrand themselves. Firstly, it was to satisfy their vanity. Secondly, it was to show everyone that they were not beggars pretending to be kings!

In fact, this was the inferiority complex in their hearts at work.

Bernard immediately bent apologetically and said, "Martin, something has happened. I told Lynn to go to Uppercreek to look for Wynn to sign the document but a problem cropped up. Wynn didn't sign it and asked that punk Philip to show up on her behalf instead."

Hearing this, Martin's face darkened. He turned around with a frown, stared at Bernard with displeasure, and asked, "She didn't sign it? just how did you handle things? Didn't you say to leave this matter to you? Now, with this hiccup, what are we going to do for the day after tomorrow?"

Instantly, more than a dozen thugs rushed out, closely protecting Martin and Bernard.

With a sullen face, Martin went over and kicked the leader of the thugs, saying angrily, "Why the hell are

"Yes, of course! "

The thug in the lead waved his hand and shouted, "Follow me!"

After Bernard left the steel mill, he headed directly to a club. Then, with the guidance of a dedicated attendant, he entered a dimly lit private room.

This room was decorated in a medieval style and a faint fragrance lingered in the air. The sofa bed in the center was surrounded by translucent red curtains. He could see a woman wearing a black nightgown on the bed, lying on her side.

Her figure was superb with a small waistline and a perky butt.

After Bernard entered, he stood there respectfully, not daring to look at the woman on the bed who was slowly getting up. Her carefree posture would mesmerize any man.

He lowered his head and saw her pair of fair jade-like feet walk up to him.

He also got a stronger whiff of the fragrance on her. "What are you doing here?"

The woman's voice was full of temptation, like the music of nature, which made Bernard's body heat up. After saying this, the woman lay on the sofa with her legs tucked on her side. Her posture was seductive and extremely languid. Her graceful body was also on full display in front of Bernard.

Bernard stole a peek before burying his head even lower with fear. He said respectfully, "Madam, Philip Clarke will be coming back soon. My second brother, Martin, has already laid down his trap. This time, he definitely won't be able to get out of Riverdale."

The woman's chuckle sounded like tinkling bells. She said, "Oh, I see."

Wynn looked at Philip very seriously with hope in her eyes.

After so long, was Philip finally going to tell her the truth about himself?

"Do you want to bring me back?" Wynn asked quietly, feeling a little nervous.

If Philip really brought her back, what should she do? How should she face her father-in-law?
