

The First Heir 1651

Chapter 1651

Upon hearing this, Charles and Martha fell silent.

Philip had made it clear enough. If Martin and Bernard really did something illegal, Philip would not let them off the hook.

After much hesitation, Charles asked, "Can you not take it to the extreme? After all, they're my second and third brothers. They're Wynn's uncles."

Philip thought about it and replied, "Dad, what if they had tried to send Wynn to prison and wanted to kill the two of you?"

Martha immediately panicked at his words and shouted, "Philip, in that case, be tough on them! Take things to the extreme!"

Martha did not wish to die.

Charles was very surprised and hurt that his brothers would backstab him. Charles shook his head, got up helplessly, and left the room.

Wynn looked at Charles' departing back and felt very sad. She suddenly thought that her father had aged a lot at that moment.

"Philip, if possible, I still hope that you won't be too tough on my uncles." Wynn raised her eyebrows and looked at Philip, her gaze clear and gentle.

Philip nodded and said, "I have my discretion."

passed without incidents. The next day, Philip received Victor's Uppercreek to seek cooperation with the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce. How do you think we should handle this matter?" Victor stood next the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce later. I want you to arrange for more people to and said, "Young Master Clarke, to tell you the truth, we tried to look into it but there's no news at all. It's clear the people who came that mouth as he nodded and said, "Okay,

later, Philip arrived at that he was in a hurry to develop and indeed the best choice. Beacon Group had also recently expanded into when he smelled a perfume. The next moment, he figure was knocked to

you watch

paired with a red hip-hugging skirt. Her straight and slender legs were wrapped Trendy and sexy!

waist, slim

those red lips that looked very striking. They could render a man it on purpose. He quickly pulled the other party up and said apologetically, "I'm very sorry. Are

Chapter 1652

Very well.

This woman turned out to be Ruby Ford. What was she doing in Uppercreek?

"Damn it! I was wondering who it was. I didn't think it was you, the wimp!"

Ruby's expression was full of displeasure as she patted the dust off her hips unhappily.

Philip only chuckled and stood aside awkwardly.

"I didn't expect that after such a long time, you're still such a loser. What are you doing here?" Ruby looked at Philip smugly while sizing him up.

F*ck!

Ruby felt very upset at the thought of the embarrassing scene in front of Philip back then.

inquiry, she learned that Philip's family was rich but she also heard was still

here to take a look," mind, her jaw dropped as she asked with disdain, "I see. Is it because your Clarke Group has gone bankrupt and Beacon has also been taken over by your uncles, so you're desperate now? Are you here to apply for a saying that, she looked at Philip mockingly. Her smug and gloating and her actions made Philip looking

Ruby gave him a look of contempt and spat out the words, "That's enough, hurry up and get lost. Don't embarrass yourself here. I'm the newly appointed public relations manager of this company. With

Huh?

a

Ford was actually the new PR manager of the

"Why?" Philip asked.

wants to apply for a job as a security guard for the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce? Who was full

The First Heir

Chapter 1653

Ruby was stunned and looked at Philip incredulously. A second later, she laughed in exasperation and said to Philip mockingly, "What did you say? Can you even do anything to me?"

Philip did not speak and clenched his fists, expressing his emotions through his eyes.

Ruby pointed at his nose and scolded, "Rubbish! A piece of trash like you dares to do anything to me? I'm the manager of the public relations department of the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce. In terms of position and status, how can you be compared to me?"

"Do you think you can act arrogant just because you used to be rich? You're nothing but a dog right now. Do you really think of yourself as a human being?"

Ruby cursed like a shrew and said harsh words.

Philip's face changed, and his heart was full of anger. He said, "So what if you're the PR manager? Believe it or not, one word from me and you'll be out of here!"

Ruby almost died of laughter. This fool, Philip Clarke, could actually say such arrogant words. One word from him and she would be out of here?

Ruby went over and kicked Philip in the knee while cursing, "A loser like you still dares to act so pretentiously? You want to fire me? One word from you and our Director Luther has to obey your orders with respect?"

"Maybe," Philip sneered.

Pfft!

Ruby could not hold back her snickers

mock him. "Well done, Philip, could not be bothered with her. He directly took out his phone, dialed Hoyt Luther's number, found Ruby looking at him with admiration. She even gave him a thumbs re awesome. You have to play out the entire act, right? Let's expect that a wimp like Philip would go to such an extent just to put

of her? In that case, she would watch as he

"What's going on?"

sounded. The security captain of the

of him, the security

the new public

What's the matter? Do you need Seeing that Ruby was young and beautiful, he began to flatter her. This was like finger, pointed at Philip, and said fiercely, "He bumped into me

he heard that, how could he let who even seemed a little silly. Thus, he immediately understood as he pointed at Philip and shouted, "What

Philip was guard was just another lackey who looked down on

The First Heir

Chapter 1654

Philip's temper flared. After all, he was the heir of the Clarke family, and even this chamber of commerce belonged to him. Although he kept a low profile, he could not allow these bugs to harass and look down on him.

"You're pretty tough, huh?"

The security captain, Dave Carter, looked at Philip with sarcasm.

Was this silly kid not right in the head?

Did Philip not see his people standing behind him? How dare he act tough? He was simply putting himself at gunpoint and looking for death!

"Come on, boys, kick him out for me!"

The corners of Dave's eyes froze as he said viciously, "It's really an interesting day today, meeting a blind idiot with no foresight."

In a flash, several security guards rushed over and pushed Philip to drive him away.

Suddenly!

An angry rebuke rang out at the entrance of the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce!

"Stop it!"

saw a group of people surrounding Young Master Clarke. By the looks of it, they were going to

This was a mutiny!

This bunch of fools!

brings

he immediately bent down to greet

However... Smack!

slapped Dave's face fiercely, causing the latter

care of you bent over, and bowed at 90 degrees. He respectfully greeted, "Young Master Clarke,

Thump!

At this moment, she was completely flustered when she heard

you doing? Why are you so respectful to a bankrupt struggle as she asked incredulously with a

"A bankrupt loser?"

around and looked at Ruby coldly until introduced to everyone, "This is the founder of our Uproar!

and Ruby dropped their jaws in surprise, their faces

Chapter 1655

"I can't afford to have you calling me Brother Clarke."

Philip sneered and said, "You're the manager of the public relations department of the Upper creek Chamber of Commerce. Who am I? A loser who's applying for a job as a security guard."

Ruby knew that Philip was making fun of her ignorance. With a self-conscious look, she thought about it and once again bent over to apologize. "Brother Clarke, I really made a horrible mistake this time. I was blind and looked down on you. I beg you, on account of my past relationship with Howard, please don't drive me away."

Ruby was afraid. It had not been easy for her to get a job with a high salary and prestige. If she lost this job, she would surely regret it!

Philip glanced at Ruby and waved his hand. "I don't want to see you again."

Then, he turned to Dave Carter, the security captain who was standing at the side.

At this time, Dave looked as if he had seen a ghost. He quickly bent down and apologized, "Young Master Clarke, I'm sorry. I deserve to die!"

With that said, Dave slapped himself on the mouth. That was a drastic move.

However, Philip only said coldly, "You're fired."

After that, he ignored Dave's glum face and walked into the building of Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce. Hoyt followed closely behind.

water as her legs were as weak as jelly. She looked at Philip's back as he went inside. Her heart tightened as she glanced at Dave who had fallen limply on the ground. Then, she raised her legs people was following Philip respectfully, making it a grand

of Commerce stood up and respectfully greeted prim and proper as she stepped building of Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce looked very imposing! The

the director's office on

"Y-Young Master Clarke."

coffee, she walked up to Philip,

and sneered inwardly of Riverdale. Her appearance and figure were exactly what the rich young kids coveted. However,

a Casanova apologize to you again. I was Ruby bowed again and said, "To express my apologies, can Dinner?

at Ruby and said lightly, "Dinner won't

Ruby pouted and felt was doing this just to mat a former loser would actually be the founder of the

Chapter 1656

i

With a sneer, Philip said, "Bring him up. You can handle him while I observe on the side."

"Yes, Young Master Clarke," Hoyt replied.

A few minutes later, Liam approached with a face full of smiles. He stretched his hand out and said fawningly, "Oh, Director Luther, we're finally meeting. I'm full of excitement and anticipation."

Hoyt smiled slightly and said, "Manager Johnston, you're too kind."

Seeing that Hoyt was shaking hands with him, Liam immediately smiled. It seemed that there was a chance for him to cooperate with the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce today. Sure enough, Liam

Johnston was the cream of the crop and the future of the Johnston family. As long as they could cooperate, the position of general manager in the company would be his!

However, with a flick of his eyes, he suddenly saw someone else in the office. The said person was sitting on the sofa and drinking coffee in a dignified manner.

“Philip Clarke? What is a wastrel like you doing here?”

Liam’s face changed as he looked displeased. There was a hint of coldness and contempt in the corners of his eyes.

Why was this loser here?

the sofa and drinking coffee

know where this

of the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce’s wave, and crap! Why are you here?!” Liam was immediately angry. His eyebrows were furrowed together, and his eyes looked acting so relaxed

you the right to be sitting down? And drinking coffee? Do you know where this is?

was annoyed. If Hoyt got angry because of this insolent Philip, neither of annoyed when he saw Liam treating Philip so rudely. He Master Clarke was obviously not a simple person, so why would be a peculiar indifferently, “Why can’t I be here? I have something to discuss with “Haha!”

Luther? Oh, I see, are you here to beg Director Luther to discuss cooperation on behalf of Beacon? Philip, I can tell you that you stand no chance. This time, eyes

could he do on

The First Heir

Chapter 1657

Upon hearing this, Liam got agitated. He turned around, glared at Philip angrily, and yelled, “Philip Clarke, no one will treat you as a mute if you don’t speak! Besides, this is my Johnston family’s business. It’s no place for you to intervene! Or are you seeking justice for your wife? Hehe, why don’t you take a good look at yourself and Wynn? Do you think Director Luther is an ignorant person like you? He’ll definitely agree to cooperate with my dad's company. At that time, I'll personally kick you and Wynn, that little tramp, out of the Johnston family! I'll make sure to take over Beacon!"

After scolding Philip, Liam felt very relieved!

He had finally vented his frustration. In the past few days, he had heard his dad praising Philip up to the skies!

What did it matter if Philip had some money and followers? By the looks of him now, he was still nothing more than a loser!

A leopard could never change its spots!

He had money and people?

Ridiculous!

because of Wynn that he got nothing

his face, "Director Luther, why don't we sign lifted the pen, and was about to pushed it back. A voice was heard saying coldly, "Manager Johnston, I think I need pushed the contract back again and again. He quickly said, "Director Luther, the cooperation with Martin Pharmaceutical this time is definitely a great opportunity for Uppercreek. Martin Pharmaceutical is backed by big figures. We have strong funds, extraordinary strength, and many talents. Beacon no longer has anything to their name. They may seem like a golden apple but it's rotten on the inside. Besides, Beacon's chairwoman, Wynn placed on the back burner for the time being. Manager Johnston, I said coldly, "Send

Thump!

his heart jumping with fear. He thought that Hoyt Luther would readily agree, but unexpectedly, the other

Damn it!

Wynn was having an affair with some kind of private agreement for

Chapter 1658

On the ground floor of the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce, Liam caught up with Philip with a face full of anger. He grabbed Philip's collar and warned viciously, "I don't care what method you're using, but I'm telling you that the cooperation with the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce will definitely belong to Martin Pharmaceutical! If you want to fight for that little b*tch Wynn Johnston, you don't stand a chance! Moreover, the humiliation I suffered will be returned to you tenfold! I will prove to everyone that in the Johnston family, Wynn is not the only capable one, there's also me, Liam Johnston! Wynn and I will forever be at odds with each other!"

The corners of Philip's eyes froze as he shoved Liam's wrist away. The force of Philip's grip instantly caused Liam to groan in pain.

"Ah! Let go of me, let go! It hurts!"

With cold eyes, Philip said, "Liam Johnston, I advise you not to provoke me! Also, her name is Wynn Johnston, not little b*tch! She's your cousin! If you insult her again, I won't let you off!"

After saying that, Philip pushed Liam away. The latter staggered and fell to the floor.

"Philip, you deserve to die! How dare you lay a hand on me? You're finished!"

Liam roared and pointed angrily at Philip's back. He was already leaving.

What just happened?

dared to lay a hand on him crazy? Did he not also flustered and apprehensive. It was because the look in Philip's eyes just now made him a

No, no way.

be his ability could a loser like knew very little about Philip's affairs. Martin got up and

Suddenly, his phone rang.

cooperation discussion with the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce was an accident. I'll go back after Philip walked out, he got into a Rolls-Royce on the corner of the car, Liam's car came out of the underground garage not long after. He glanced in Philip's direction and his pupils immediately constricted as his heart blinked and tried to take a closer look when a big truck drove past in front of him. When he looked again, the

Chapter 1659

Uppercreek!

Moreover, the Imperial Court practiced a membership system.

Anyone with assets of less than 100 million would not be eligible to become a member of the Imperial Court. Meanwhile, a well-known entrepreneur in Uppercreek was standing at the entrance of the Imperial Court.

He was the chairman of Medcom Trading Group, Clint Neal. He specialized in overseas trade, import and export of drugs, and medical equipment.

As the chairman of Medcom Trading Group, Clint's personal fortune had reached one billion dollars. He was on the list of the top 20 richest people in Uppercreek! Of course, he was also a domestic collector and had a lot of fame.

Now, Clint was leading more than a dozen top executives from his company to stand respectfully at the entrance of the Imperial Court.

This scene really shocked a lot of people who came here to eat. It also led to a burst of discussions and many awe-inspiring looks.

the chairman of Medcom Trading Group. Who is a billionaire but he's actually waiting

a big shot coming? I haven't heard any news of the Imperial Court. He noticed the two rows of well-dressed elites and said with a frown, "Didn't I say to keep a low

Clarke, I'm sorry for not conveying the things carefully and not make anything public. Tell them to withdraw," Philip said coldly, "Inform Clint Neal nodded and

a turn and

Clint had been humbly and respectfully standing upright while quietly waiting for the big shot's arrival. If he was valued by the Uppercreek Chamber of

was a flashy and handsome young man, Finn Neal. He was Clint's son. He was a famous rich young master in Uppercreek who spent most and feeling a bit dissatisfied. With his hands in his trouser pockets, he grunted. "Dad, how long do we have to wait? Who's the other party putting on such airs? It's been almost half an cast a sideways glance at Finn, exasperated at his son's failure to live up to expectations. He berated him, "Stand up properly! All you know is to drink and dance all day! Later when the big shot arrives, you mustn't talk too much. Whatever happens, you need to observe and listen. Just don't interrupt unnecessarily.

bitterly,

in the morning. He was having a headache now. His

Chapter 1660

Soon, they arrived at a private room.

The moment the door was pushed open, Finn saw two people standing inside. His eyes fell directly on Philip, who had his back to them.

Was that him?

Holy sh*t!

Who the hell could be so arrogant?

Was that the big shot of the day?

He was clearly a janitor who picked up garbage from the streets!

Finn felt even more upset as he let out a sneer.

walked over to Hoyt and stretched out his hand

I'm sorry to have kept you smiled and same time, Clint's gaze naturally fell on the young man beside Hoyt. He

Young Master Philip

Young Master Philip Clarke?

meet the founder of the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce, and by

was surely not

Neal.

"Chairman Neal, please dispense the formalities. Let's make it short. Director Luther mentioned that you wanted Hoyt before he said respectfully, "Young Master Clarke, to tell you the truth, I've always wanted to join the Uppercreek Chamber of Commerce and contribute as a member. Mr. Luther has been helping me all along but the final noded and said, "Okay, I see. Hoyt, you may approve his membership application. In the future, you can also decide on such matters. Other than this, Mr. Neal, is there was a bit baffled at this moment. He company is establishing some channels with foreign companies specializing in