

The First Heir 1741

Chapter 1741

“Hehe, he won’t buy it?” The guy next to Hector sneered disdainfully. “A loser with a face like that is nothing but trash!”

At this point, everyone burst into laughter again. Immediately after, the bimbo walked over. She looked at Philip disdainfully and said, “Dude, don’t say that I won’t help you in this matter. I’ll give you two options. Either kneel down and apologize to Hector or throw yourself into the river. You choose!”

Philip smiled and sat aside, calmly saying, “Sorry, I don’t want to choose either.”

At this point, Fennel just acted like a passerby who stood aside and watched silently. This petty tiff was just like kids horsing around. The chicks in this bar were still beautiful and the liquor was decent as well.

Hector immediately sneered and said, “Stop bullsh*tting with him. Once his boss gets here, we’ll get rid of both of them in one fell swoop!”

After saying that, he directly dialed the phone number of Angus Wager. A gruff voice came from the other end of the phone, “Young Master Hector Dunley? What is it? Do you have any orders for me?”

Hector immediately turned on the speaker so that everyone around could hear him. He said with a smile, “Hello, Angus, I’m at Starlight Bar right now. This place is on your territory, right?”

Hector looked at Philip and sneered.

“Sure, give me ten minutes. I’ll be there in ten minutes!”

Angus said and hung up the phone.

At this point, Hector said to Philip, “Kid, to be honest, I can’t figure it out. Why is a loser like you being pretentious? Do you really think you can fight me?”

Philip sneered and could not be bothered to talk nonsense with Hector.

The bimbo followed with a snicker. “He has a reason to be smug. After all, he has a big boss named Victor Dell!”

As soon as Philip uttered those words, the bellyful of bragging remarks Angus had prepared earlier got stuck in his throat!

This was not the first time he had made such a grand appearance. According to previous experience, when he asked this, the bolder ones would only manage to speak while trembling.

The more timid ones would already balk from fright. However, Philip not only steadily stood up but even dared to respond to his question directly.

This guy was more courageous than the average person!

Despite that, Angus had weathered some storms. In a flash, he came back to his senses. He pointed at Philip and yelled sternly, "You son of a b*tch, how dare you act so cocky in front of me? I'll have you admitted into the hospital today!"

As soon as he finished speaking, the young lads he brought with him immediately grabbed hold of the empty liquor bottles in the corner. Those who could not find empty bottles grabbed the stools beside them. Those who had picked up some sticks outside brandished them while pointing at Philip.

All of a sudden, a street brawl was about to break out.

All of a sudden, a street brawl was about to break out. Just then, Hector spoke up from the side, "Angus, don't bash him up too badly later. I want to personally teach him a lesson!"

"Haha, don't worry, my buddies have been through a lot of battles with me and know what to do!" Angus grinned menacingly.

The bimbo also spoke, "Wow, Angus is so savage, but... I like it!"

Angus Wager just got slapped in the face?

Of course, the ones who were most surprised were the bimbo, Hector, and his friends. At this time, they stared at Angus with wide eyes.

Did Angus not say earlier that he was the rightful big boss in this part of bar street? Did he not say he was not afraid even if Victor Bell, one of the three lords of Uppercreek, showed up?

How dare this random Master Heath who came out of nowhere slap him in front of so many people?

However, a scene that surprised them even more happened next.

After being slapped in the face, not only was Angus not angry but the smile on his face grew bigger. "I deserve this slap. I've been worried that there's no one to whip me into shape and you happened to appear."

That flattering look and his act of sucking up to Heath inevitably reminded people of court jesters who still had to crack jokes in front of the king despite being beaten.

At this time, everyone's jaws dropped to the floor. What the hell was happening here?

With Philip's permission, Heath no longer hesitated and kicked Angus right in the face.

Instantly, a size 42 shoe print appeared on Angus' face.

Immediately after, Heath stepped forward and grabbed Angus' collar, violently knocking his head on the floor three to four times. Only when Angus screamed and his face was covered with blood that Heath grabbed him by the collar again and dragged him in front of Philip.

This...

Angus was so startled that he even forgot to scream. What did Master Heath mean?

Not just Angus but his underlings who were kneeling on the floor were also stunned. Why did he drag the boss in front of this poor loser?

The most surprised was naturally Hector and his buddy. The two looked at this scene in astonishment and could not stop their jaws from dropping.

Philip Clarke?

How was this matter related to him?

At this time, Heath grabbed Angus' collar and said, "Now do you know what you did wrong?"

Angus' gaze shifted between Philip and Heath continuously before asking in confusion, "This kid?"

At this time, Philip spoke again, "Didn't you ask me to choose between kneeling and jumping into the river? Are you still letting me choose now?"

Hector quickly said, "No, of course not. I was blind and ignorant before this. Young Master Clarke, please let me off this time!"

Philip chuckled, looked up, and his gaze fell on Hector's buddy.

At once, the guy trembled and his legs went weak. He immediately knelt on the floor. "Young Master Clarke, I didn't mean to do it. Please let me go."

Seeing the frightful looks on these two people, Philip could not help but smile again.

To be honest, although these two people had wanted to deal with him, Heath came in time and they did not end up doing anything. Hence, Philip did not want to go too far.

Thus, he said, "Heath, that's enough. Let's just leave it at that."

Heath nodded.

Then, he turned around, raised his leg, and kicked Hector and the others out of the bar. "Next time, make sure to keep your eyes open. Also, if you dare to go out and say anything about Young Master Clarke's identity, I'll kill you!"

"No, of course not. We'll keep our mouths shut!"

Angus and Hector said as they scrambled to flee, even forgetting about their cars.

Chapter 1747

After returning to the hotel, Philip left Heath a few instructions and went upstairs.

He did not notice two sneaky guys behind him watching as he went upstairs. They followed him the entire way, saw the room number, and turned around to go back downstairs. Then, they found Angus and Hector who were waiting in a car parked at the hotel's entrance.

After listening to his subordinates' report in the car, Angus sneered coldly. "Young Master Hector, since we already know his room number, the rest will be easy. Rest assured that I'll definitely teach that arrogant guy a lesson for you this time! We'll make him a cripple and leave Uppercreek immediately. At that time, I'll have to ask for your support."

Hearing this, Hector's eyes exploded with chills as he responded, "Angus, that definitely won't be a problem. As long as that son of a b*tch is crippled tonight, you'll be my comrade for life! With me around, you'll easily gain a foothold in Charbury!"

After talking, Hector took the baseball bat passed by his friend from the back of the car and held it in his hand. Smiling fiercely, he put on the black mask he had prepared!

Then, he pushed open the car door and was the first to step down before anyone else.

Angus signaled with his eyes and immediately put on a mask with a few of his men before they followed Hector who took the lead. This was an opportunity to die for and Angus would not miss it!

When he came to the floor of Philip's suite, he looked around and found a few bodyguards patrolling outside the corridor.

Once he heard that she was alone and was also Philip's girlfriend, Hector's sneer turned malicious!
"Hehe, I didn't expect that kid to have such a beautiful girlfriend. I'm sorry, then. He provoked me so you can go to hell for him, b*tch!"

With a roar, Hector raised the baseball bat in his hand and smashed it on Anne's head!

Boom!

The bat landed right in the middle of Anne's head. She directly passed out from that, blood gurgling from her hair, instantly streaking her pale face with blood.

"F*ck! Why is this b*tch so weak?"

Hector was taken aback and cursed while kicking her.

Wynn, who was resting in the bedroom, heard the commotion in the living room outside. She called out,
"Anne, what's wrong? What's that noise?"

Blood! The floor was covered with bright red blood!

Anne was passed out on the floor! She was covered in blood!

After a brief pause, a heartbreaking cry was heard in the suite. "Anne, Anne!"

Wynn recovered from her panic and immediately ran over while holding her stomach!

Philip quickly squatted on the floor, put his finger just below Anne's nostrils, and felt for her breath. She was still breathing.

At the same time, a few bodyguards in black suits were standing at the door of the suite. They were shocked by the scene in front of them!

Fortunately, Mrs. Clarke was fine.

Philip carried Anne bridal-style from the floor, looked at Wynn, and shouted at several bodyguards, "Contact the nearest hospital immediately. Also, call Victor to send more men to surround the whole hotel to ensure Madam's safety!"

"Yes, Mr. Clarke!" Several bodyguards nodded solemnly and got to work, calling the hospital and Victor.

Following that, Simba played the video on his phone.

The surveillance footage showed the entrance to Wynn's hotel suite. Two guys ran to the door and clashed with the bodyguards there, who chased them out. Not long after, Philip followed them.

At this time, a group of people wearing masks appeared at the door. Immediately after, Anne opened the suite door.

The leader of the group raised the baseball bat in his hands and hit Anne right on the head!

Subsequently, the footage showed Philip's arrival and how the group of people ran away.

Seeing this, Philip clenched his fists tightly and took a deep breath with chills in his eyes!

He recognized this group of people. It was Hector, Angus, and several others who had clashed with him in the bar earlier!
