Chapter 2351

Philip was silent. A chill flashed in his eyes as he asked, "The Hall of Evil, what level are they?"

Fennel replied, "The weakest are the disciples of the third zone, the middle-ranked ones are disciples of the fourth zone, and several fifth zone disciples are acting kings of disciples! Vataco should be the king of disciples in the fifth zone. Recently, there are rumors that he may soon enter the sixth zone."

Hearing this, Philip frowned, turned to look at Fennel, and asked, "Between you and him, who is stronger?"

Fennel smiled and said, "I've never fought him before. It should be 50-50."

Philip took a deep breath and said, "I want to visit the Hall of Evil. I need to clarify some things."

Fennel was silent for a moment before he said, "Okay, I'll go with you."

Then, Fennel took out a document and handed it to Philip while saying, "These are the information and clues I recently found out about your sister, Hannah Clarke. The power disputes behind your sister are more complicated than we thought. There seems to be a bigger game and conspiracy behind her. I advise you to be mentally prepared for it. It's very likely that the enemies you're facing are not ordinary people."

Philip took the document from Fennel and flipped through some photos of Hannah. Although they were mostly candid shots and not very clear, Philip recognized her at a glance. It was Hannah. Moreover, in every photo, she always had one woman beside her.

There are no clues about her information. Her identity is very well-hidden. She must be an important person in the organization behind Hannah. Moreover, according to the current information, Hannah had spent some time in the Hall of the Underworld back then. Later, because Hannah stole something from Hades, she incurred the pursuit of the Hall of Philip squeezed Wynn's small hand and said, "Wynn, trust me. No matter what decision you make, I'll support you. I'll always be your greatest support."

Wynn's tears started falling.

Philip got up and left the bedroom. He walked to the door, turned back to Wynn, and said with a smile, "Have an early rest tonight."

Then, Philip returned to his bedroom.

These days, he and Wynn slept separately. With certain things acting as a barrier between them, it was not that easy to resolve the issue between them. Many things needed time to fade away.

In the middle of the night, both of them lay on their beds. Neither could fall asleep as both were lost in their thoughts. The two rooms were separated by a wall.

Instantly, the meeting room fell silent.

Willy sat on the chair calmly as he stared at Wynn with a flash of chill in his eyes.

"Madam Johnston, you don't have much time left. I hope you'll consider the conditions I proposed last night." Willy added, and the sneer in his eyes intensified.

Wynn's face was slightly cold at the moment. She glanced at Willy, squeezed out a smile, and said, "Mr. Fadden, a 70-30 profit distribution is absolutely impossible for us. At the most, it'll be 60-40. 60 to us, and 40 to you."

After saying this, a determined look flashed across Wynn's face.

Willy raised his eyebrows and said with a chuckle, "Oh, have you found another business partner to work with? Why such a firm attitude today?"

Wynn smiled and said, "Mr. Fadden, Beacon Group is open to discussing cooperation with like-minded people. If you want to take advantage of the situation or make some unspoken demands, excuse us for not agreeing to it! So, please think about it. If it doesn't work out, we can only end the discussion here."

A tall and handsome figure stood at the door, his eyes glowing with a cold light as he stared at Willy Fadden in front of him.

“How dare you threaten my wife? Do you want to die?” A cold and stern voice came from the figure!

Willy was taken aback. He raised his head, stared at the man standing in front of him, and asked with a frown, “Who are you? Go away!”

As he tried to push Philip away, Philip raised his hand and slapped him.

Smack!

This slap resounded throughout the meeting room. It also caused Willy to spin on the spot like a top. He covered his rapidly swelling left cheek and staggered in a daze. He stared at Philip viciously and roared, “Damn it! Where did this punk come from? How dare you hit me? Do you want to die? Take him down!”

Willy yelled, and the four bodyguards behind him rushed out immediately, kicking and punching out at Philip!

As soon as Philip said that, the board members and shareholders of Beacon Group present in the meeting room were shocked!

What was going on?

All the companies and industries under Willy Fadden, including all the shares of Beacon Group, had been transferred to Wynn’s name?

How was this possible?

Was Philip Clarke bragging?

“Shut up! Philip, don’t think that you can do whatever you want just because you’re Madam Johnston’s husband!”

“That’s right! Who do you think you are? This is Beacon Group’s board meeting. How dare you barge in like this and beat Mr. Fadden up so viciously? You’re simply smearing our group’s image!”

“Madam Johnston, your husband will be in big trouble for doing this!”

The board members and shareholders scolded Philip and threatened Wynn.

Wynn furrowed her shapely eyebrows at this moment. She looked at Philip with his

Before Willy Fadden finished his words, Philip went over and stomped on his chest viciously.

Crack!

At that moment, Willy felt as if several of his ribs seemed to be broken. His breathing became rapid, and it hurt him to even breathe.

“You said just now that you have the backing of the 12 Sacred Halls of the West. Which one is it? The Hall of the Underworld or the Hall of Evil?” Philip lowered his eyebrows, his eyes flashing with unusual coldness.

Hearing that, Willy gulped nervously, looked at the evil young man in front of him incredulously, and asked, “H-How do you know about the Hall of the Underworld and the Hall of Evil?”

“Hehehe...” Philip chuckled mildly and said, “Is that very strange?”

“Yana Young? I’m sorry, I don’t think I know you.” Wynn smiled and was about to hang up.

However, the voice on the other end said unhurriedly, “Madam Johnston, I’m Philip’s friend. I’ve reserved a private room in Avis Club. There are some things I want to talk to you about the Lovelace family.”

Things about the Lovelace family?

Wynn was startled for a moment as she watched Philip, who had already gotten into the car and left. She frowned and said, “What do you want?”

“Madam Johnston, why don’t we meet and talk?”

On the other end of the phone, Yana’s voice carried a hint of sexiness, which seemed to have a magic power that made Wynn unable to refuse.

“Okay...” Wynn ended the call and crossed her arms. A hint of suspicion flashed in the corner of her eyes before she turned around and left Beacon Group.

Soon, Wynn drove to Avis Club. After announcing her name, Wynn was led into a private room by a dedicated person.

Not long after Wynn left, the partition behind the private room was pushed open from the inside.

A handsome young man with an unruly look walked out from the inside. He walked out and sat in front of Yana naturally. After pouring himself a cup of tea, he took a sip.

Yana looked at the handsome man in front of her and said with a smile, “Young Master Lovelace, I’ve already done what you asked for. Can I also get what you promised me?”

Shane Lovelace raised his eyebrows, took out a small test tube with blue liquid from his pocket, and asked, “Do women really care about their appearance so much?”

Yana took the small test tube containing the blue liquid with eyes full of joy as she said, “You still don’t understand women, especially one at my age. For women like us, looks are more precious than life.”

Shane nodded, took a few sips of tea, and asked, “What’s going on with Philip Clarke recently?”

Yana put away the test tube containing the blue liquid and said, "Someone from the Johnston family contacted the people from the Hall of Evil to kidnap Philip's child but the matter has been taken care of. Now, it seems that Philip is going to go abroad to find the trouble with the Hall of Evil. I think it'll be a good opportunity for you to make a move when Philip goes abroad."

Hearing that, Martin immediately agreed. Then, after hanging up the phone, he looked at the excited Bernard, Liam, and the others. He said, "Boss Young has agreed, but we have to wait two days. During this time, all of you must watch yourselves and avoid alerting the enemy. Don't mess up our plans!"

Bernard nodded.

Liam was even more overjoyed and said, "Don't worry, Dad. I'll just keep an eye on Wynn's every move in these two days and do nothing."

Philip had returned to First Palace at this moment. In the living room, he looked at the jade pendant that he got from Yana's auction. He had been exploring its internal structure. Philip found that the internal structure of this jade pendant was really amazing!

It did not seem like an ordinary white jade. The texture contained spatial rules, man-made rules, and arrays engraved on it.

A guard walked in and bowed to Levi, who had been talking non-stop about the branch family's plans for the next three years that he came up with. The guard walked up to him and spoke into his ear.

Levi's expression changed rapidly before he frowned and said, "Okay, I got it."

After saying that, he glanced at the heads of the branch family below and said coldly, "The meeting is adjourned. Uncle Henry and Uncle Saul, please stay behind. I have something to discuss with you."

Since Wade was locked up in the dungeon, the person in charge of the branch family's guards was replaced by Wade's son, Henry Clarke. Allen's lineage was naturally replaced by his son, Saul Clarke.

The two stayed behind and looked at Levi, who was sitting in the chieftain's seat. They asked, "Chieftain, is there something important?"

Levi looked at Henry with dark eyes and said, "Uncle Henry, according to the news from the main family, George Thomas is mobilizing a team of elite guards to go to Riverdale. He's also secretly taking four members of the Shadow Squadron at the same time. What do you think about this matter?"
