Chapter 2941

What happened just now?

Philip was taken aback before he reacted. He asked curiously, "What happened just now?"

Lord Ludo glared at him and said, "I told you not to ask! I'm going to ignore you!"

With that said, Lord Ludo walked away. Philip was embarrassed and had no choice but to follow suit. They walked into the depths. Along the way, they never encountered any other creatures. It seemed that the Fire Serpent was the most powerful being in this layer of the alternate space.

Not long after, Philip and his party arrived at the deepest part of this alternate space, which was also the finishing point.

It was a huge towering stone door.

The appearance of this door was rather strange, with a long and narrow triangular stone tablet on both sides. The tablets were carved with many ancient characters and patterns, as well as many battle marks left by extraterrestrial creatures.

There was a passage in the middle of the stone door with a layer of blue water pattern just like a space tunnel.

It was very deep and scary!

Hearing Samuel's words, everyone glanced at each other.

Work together? Who would believe that?

Those who could reach this point were not ordinary, and all of them were conniving people. Even if they agreed to cooperate now, it was uncertain if they would kill each other once inside. Therefore, everyone looked at each other in silence, waiting for someone else to make a stand first.

Finally, someone could hold back no longer and asked, "Mr. Woods, what do you mean by working together?"

Samuel smiled and said, "Of course, it means that we need to work together to pass the fourth level, enter the fifth level, and get the secret treasure of the ancient sage."

"In that case, I'd like to know if some people will have to be screened out in the fourth level. If that's the case, how will the cooperation work?"

"Uhm, where is this place?" Moses asked in amazement.

Lord Ludo took out the diagnostic device, quickly locked onto the space they were in, and said in surprise, "Hey, look at this!"

Everyone crowded around and looked at the words on the diagnostic device. This place was actually a fragmented remnant of space from the other shore.

That was right!

A fragmented space from the other shore. How did this happen?

Who could actually split a space off the other shore?

Everyone was shocked. Towering trees stood in front of them. Compared to these giant trees, they were absolutely insignificant. More terrifyingly, a huge black shadow suddenly passed over their heads in the sky, carrying strong winds and a fearsome aura. It was accompanied by thunderous roars!

Everyone stopped at the entrance of the canyon and observed the surroundings. Huge trees towered outside while the canyon was sprawled out right in front of them, which felt a little strange. More terrifyingly, disturbing breaths could be felt from time to time as if an animal was panting.

With the diagnostic device in her hand, Lord Ludo began to collect the samples here for analysis. However, electromagnetic fluctuations began to appear on the device, making it unstable. Finally, there was data failure.

"Did you find anything?" Philip asked at this moment.

Lord Ludo sighed helplessly and said, "The device broke down. This place seems to be blocking the device."

Philip glanced at it, turned to look at the deep canyon, and his eyes turned sharp. An unknown world lay ahead, and he dared not take risks. This place was full of things that made Philip uneasy, which was enough to show the danger of this space.

Recalling what the electronic figure said earlier, reaching the exit was no easy feat.

Those black chains were as thick as a person's thigh. A beast that was chained with four thick chains filled Philip and the others with disbelief.

"The exit is over there. Let's go around..." At a glance, Philip noticed the narrow exit of the canyon right behind the beast.

Everyone looked at each other and slowly walked against the cliff toward the exit. They held their breaths for fear of waking up this adult One-Horned Beast. However, suddenly, the sound of chains shook the whole canyon!

Huff, huff!

Loud panting breaths rang in their ears!

The beast opened its lantern-like eyes, full of ferocity. It saw these six uninvited guests who suddenly broke into its territory.

Buzz! Buzz!

The huge One-Horned Beast turned lava-like red with rolling heat waves and made a humming sound like charging energy. Moreover, as time went by, the beast became redder and hotter!

Boom!

The beast pawed the ground with its four huge hooves, opened its jaws with a loud roar, and charged at Philip with its huge lava-red horn. At that moment, the single horn broke through the void like a comet collision with terrifying energy pressure. It was comparable to a full blow from a powerhouse of the seventh zone.

Philip's eyes darkened as terrifying energy fluctuations raged all over his body. He put his hands together, and a roaring fire chimera suddenly appeared behind him. The chimera soared into the air with a loud roar, and the entire canyon trembled violently. He pulled his arms back and gathered the surrounding energy in his fists.

More and more energy gathered in his fists before they finally turned into the heads of two dragons. This was also an attack with all of Philip's strength.

Samuel was silent before he said, "It's not impossible. The Heavenly Court has recently detected some instability in the stargate, and we have also found more signs of awakening in these creatures of the other shore that remain in the country, so we have to make advanced preparations."

Having said that, Samuel tapped the electronic watch on his wrist and glanced at the map. They were on the west side.

"Let's go. We don't have many opportunities left," Samuel said.

In the center of the storm, the cliffs and the ground were swept away, causing gravel to fly around. When the storm finally died away, the whole canyon no longer existed!

In the center of the storm, there was a huge deep pit hundreds of meters in size. In the center of the pit, the single horn on the One-Horned Beast had shattered and the beast had fallen to the ground while covered in blood, howling miserably. The four huge chains were also broken.

Philip was not in great shape either. He was fortunate enough to have withstood the storm. After he landed, he glanced at the beast howling in the pit, turned around, and ran to the exit.

Hearing this, everyone was stunned.

A king of the beasts was trying to breach the peak of the seventh zone. This was simply too scary!

Such a powerful beast actually existed on this piece of land?

"Are you serious?" Philip asked with a frown.

This was not good news.

Lord Ludo quickly nodded and said, "That's right. We have records of this situation in the Heavenly Court database. Besides, look!"

"Let's go and take a look first," Philip got up and said.

The others immediately followed and ran all the way.

The closer they got to the area where the king of beasts was, the more Philip and the others could feel the supreme pressure and terrifying power of rules that permeated the air. The pressure was like a strong gust of wind that hurt people's cheeks. More terrifyingly, the closer they got, the slower they became because there seemed to be a huge repelling force that prevented all creatures from approaching. It came from the center of the area where the beast was located.

The biting intent in the air made Philip and the others uneasy. A large piece of scorched earth lay before them. The surrounding giant trees had collapsed into ruins, and the ground was cracked as if an earth-shattering battle had just happened here.

"Did the king of beasts do this? This is too scary. This destructive power is comparable to a nuclear bomb!" Moses said in horror.

He was unable to calm down at the sight in front of him.

It was a huge pit the size of a small town, all scorched earth. Dozens of miles around were burnt black. In the middle of this deep pit, a huge winged beast shaped like a pterosaur sprawled. This beast was very huge. Its pair of wings alone was the size of a soccer field!

Its huge head, sharp beak, and huge fleshy horn on the top of its head glowed brightly with three colors like a luminous gem.

Chapter 2950

Everyone looked up at the huge dragon in the sky. It circled up high in the air with a huge gust of wind and screeched at Philip and the others on the ground with huge energy pressure. At that moment, that energy pressure was like a mountain that weighed tens of millions of tons, pressing down on everyone’s heads!

Philip frowned and had no choice but to unleash his kingship energy field to shield Fennel and the others. The kingship energy field withstood the pressure from the sky. However, he was only in the early stage of the seventh zone. Besides, he had just advanced to this stage and his strength was still unstable. Faced with a king of beasts that was about to breach the peak of the seventh zone, his odds of winning were very low.

The dragon opened its huge beak and spewed strong winds from its mouth. The winds contained wind blades that smashed all the giant trees around to bits!
