

The First Heir 3321

Chapter 3321

Moreover, that guy's talent was not composed of any elements but his strong physique, which was many times stronger than any alloy robot. This was a star talent powerhouse who trained his physique!

When he saw Philip, a menacing grin appeared on his face.

"Kiddo, I don't think you've heard of Mighty Mammoth from Starfire Alliance."

A hint of arrogance flashed across his face as he spoke. He was obviously very confident in his strength.

The people of Starfire Alliance were very confident in his strength too. Not only was he a seven-star powerhouse, but he also had strong physical strength, so a normal elemental talent was not his opponent.

To Philip, a seven-star powerhouse was equivalent to the peak of the seventh zone in the world he came from.

In this world, an eight-star talent was equivalent to a half-step to the other shore.

A nine-star talent was the pseudo realm to the other shore!

the

Philip had never heard of one, unconcerned as if he did not take the other party as a serious opponent self-introduction isn't turned cold, and he charged at Philip without further

were extremely swift,

a level with only his physical react at this, the people of Montana

the messenger who did not look upon Philip favorably in the first place. He was also shocked at Philip's actions. However, what happened next was beyond with a speed that surpassed the

How did this happen?

lose control of

puzzled, but Commander Graham saw it

Chapter 3322

Commander Graham's face turned grim as she gritted her teeth and shouted angrily, "Tear his mouth apart!"

At Philip's insult, the three people on the stage were furious. They scattered apart and charged at Philip from different directions, shouting curses.

Philip took a sudden step forward, raised his hand, turned around, and raised his hand again.

The three fell to the ground with a crash and could not get up again.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

How strong was Philip Clarke?

He could instantly knock down three six-star powerhouses at such lightning speed.

Not to mention the normal spectators, even Commander Graham did not see his movements clearly.

Contrary to Commander Graham gnashing her teeth, the person sent by Elder Whitmore smiled as if they had found a treasure. If he could be used by Montana Alliance, they might be able to compete with the Starfire Alliance.

of them were taken away,

for a while. Everyone looked at each other before practitioner with level 5S elemental talent, she was their came on stage anymore, Philip scratched his ears, narrowed his eyes at the people of Starfire Alliance beneath the stage, and said tauntingly, "Is there no

next to Commander

taken her eyes off Philip

She said, "I know!"

until they could not resist in the blink of conflict earlier, the elemental abilities of the two were on par. Moreover, Philip seemed and below, physical practitioners were invincible at the same level, so Commander Graham did not rise to the Alliance and Montana Alliance competed with each

the herb today as an apology for

"Let's go!"

with the people of Starfire Alliance amid everyone's

Chapter 3323

The people of Montana Alliance looked at each other.

Was this person not here to help them grab the special medicine?

Why did he take it with him?

The man took Philip back to Montana Alliance.

In the meeting room, Elder Whitmore could not hide his smile when he heard that Philip had defeated those people of Starfire Alliance one after another.

However, when he heard that Commander Graham had given Philip the special medicine, his smile froze again.

Elder Whitmore stood up, took Philip's hand, and said with a smile, "Philip, if you're interested in this herb, you can take it. If you want to know more about it, the door of Montana Alliance's medical hall will always be open for you."

While he spoke, Elder Whitmore kept rubbing the back of Philip's hand.

Philip felt all crept out but dared not show it. However, he was very interested in their medical hall.

a token and said, "This is my Elder's Token. With this token, you can go anywhere within the there's nothing else, I'll take but don't walk around in his guard up against him. It would probably not

room, Elder Whitmore

to the architectural style of his original world, Philip could not help feeling that something space gate sent him here, the purpose had to be more than just letting him

Philip took out the key to open the door, but he noticed some details this books on a bookshelf by the of ancient medical techniques in Orienta. Compared to other rows, the books on this row were arranged of 'Meridian Classics', so why is it in

he spoke, Philip arranged several books in Creak!

under the bed seemed to have

Philip walked over and moved the bed aside. He saw a long and narrow tunnel which he tunnel, dark metal wall, and the platform seemed completely made of metal. Except for a wooden chair in front of the main panel, all equipment was full of

The First Heir

Chapter 3324

"I learned through some channels that a special medicine here can bring people back to life. Your grandfather has been ill for many years, so I had to come here, even if I had to leave my young son..."

"Also, I have many things I need to do here, for the country, for the human race, and you, my child."

At this point, there was guilt in the image of Philip's mother. "Phil, I'm sorry..."

"Mom..."

Since Philip could remember, this was the first time his mother apologized to him.

"I found the special medicine. It's in a box under the table. No one can open it except you. I planned to return to Earth after getting everything, but..."

His mother wore a difficult expression before she continued, "Phil, before you reach the pseudo realm of the other shore, don't come into contact with any members of the royal family. I have to go now."

With that said, the image scattered into fluorescent light.

Philip was silent for a long while. He calmed his emotions and found the box with the herbs his mother had mentioned.

was silver except for a black identification panel in the middle. However, when herbs were once stored here was by the to collect had disappeared just like this, and there was no trace of the box being broken by an external force. Even though he and hurried

anyone been here before in progress. No history found..." The cold electronic voice sent shivers down medicine to disappear into thin

the wooden chair and stared at the

by Montana Alliance.

his breath before leaving the passage, Philip felt even more uncomfortable as he watched

looking bright and youthful, jumped out and stood in front did not want to speak to her, so he just walked

the first time the girl doubtfully, looked at her reflection, and said, “I girl ran up to Philip, opened her arms to stop the scowling man, and said, “Don’t ignore

Chapter 3325

He turned around, picked up the girl, and disappeared between the buildings in a flash.

Philip stopped in an alley. He looked at the snickering girl and wondered if all the girls in this world were so wicked.

“Tell me what you want,” Philip said in exasperation.

“Elder Whitmore was afraid you’d get lost, so he asked me to be your tour guide,” the girl said with a smile.

‘Rather than a tour guide, I think a watchdog seems more like it,’ Philip thought inwardly.

Philip sighed and said, “It just happens that I want to see Elder Whitmore. Lead the way.”

“Elder Whitmore has gone to attend the Alliance Meeting and won’t be back until tomorrow. I’d better show you around,” the girl said.

“What meeting?” Philip raised his eyebrows and asked with interest.

The girl thought for a while as if making up her mind and said, “Don’t tell Elder Whitmore that I told you.”

Philip nodded, motioning for her to continue.

Marsh royal family is about to open. Everyone is getting

Whitmore is representing Montana Alliance to attend forbidden land? What sort of forbidden land?” Philip it was created by a sword strike from an ancient power, and there’s a long and narrow bunker in the middle of this not dare to approach it easily, but the guards recently noticed that the pressure is gradually receding, and there at all and spoke incessantly, “The person who carved a gorge hundreds of miles long with a single that, the girl stood there in a daze, her face full of

You can

the two parties were about

Philip to go along, and the information this girl told him was most likely disclosed have to show you the way. By the way, that said, the girl tried to pull Philip “Philip...”

saying his name, Claire interrupted him mercilessly. “Philip

she raised her fair and tender felt exasperated and

The First Heir

Chapter 3326

Facing the entrance was a small garden full of flowers, very similar to the ancient courtyards back in the country.

Several people in the yard went about their own business. There was some vibrancy amid the elegance.

At this time, an elderly but powerful voice came from the inner hall. It sounded quite gruff.

“Who’s there?”

Soon, an old man dressed in linen walked out. Except for the communicator on his wrist, he looked like an ancient elder.

He slowly walked up to Philip and said smilingly, “It’s been a while since the medical hall received any guests.”

With that said, the old man raised his head and opened his eyes under his bushy white eyebrows.

He opened his eyes wide and looked at Philip carefully, muttering under his breath, “Oh, very similar, indeed...”

Claire imitated the old man and looked at Philip’s face but did not notice anything.

She asked the old man blankly, “Similar to what?”

scrutinized by two people said helplessly, “That will

You can also call

to his senses and introduced

“My name is...”

is Philip learned her lesson yet, he slapped her on the back of enough,”

to be so

away, afraid that Philip would slap

smiled and said, "Hehe, had decided to dig for clues here, so he said, "Mr. Keppel, it's getting late. I wonder if you have empty

"Yes, of course."

the depths of the corridor. "Here, come told Philip that he could walk around the bed first, Philip sneered and up

"I'm tired. I'm going to close the

Chapter 3327

Claire's eyes lit up, and she turned her focus on this dish. She said, "I'll have that."

"Pebble grass with mixed vegetables can help in physical growth and development, but..."

Before Timo could finish speaking, Claire had already put a spoonful into her mouth and promptly screamed.

Timo continued with a smile, "But pebble grass is hotter than chili peppers."

Following that, more than a dozen dishes were introduced, each with its own special effect. Even Philip, whose realm had been stuck in the early stage of a half-step to the other shore, felt as if there was a slight advancement.

In the next two days, Philip read all the books in the medical hall and asked Mr. Keppel about some herbal knowledge.

The herb he got from Commander Graham the other day was a grade-seven herb to prolong life. This herb mostly grew in obscure places, and herbs were also divided into grades, from grade one through 11.

The higher the grade, the rarer it was!

legends. It was the god grade. Almost no one had comprehensively judged and graded. Most of were not comprehensive. Most of the herbs only had book, Philip found several back from the dead, but the resurrected will be irritable and attack both

It'll take about an hour to revive a person who just died, sighed and closed the book. His mother probably left this behind when she was the old man who was the special medicine that was gradually being ground into powder in his hand and said, "She has been of great help to our medical hall. I can even time, our alliance had just been established, and it was the period of expansion. The resources in our medical hall were no higher than grade five, but we had countless casualties. That was until people back from the brink of death. Some of the herbs stored in the medical hall now were left over from a portion of the medicine had been ground,

"She has done more than that. By virtue of her strength alone, she intimidated several established alliances and won us a suitable living space. Not only Montana Alliance but also the development of several other alliances affect the status of their leaders, so they joined forces to drive her out of this area.

old man stood up and massaged his back, lamenting how time

The First Heir

Chapter 3328

After receiving the message, Philip said goodbye to Claire and Timo and quickly left for the meeting room.

In Montana Alliance's meeting room, Elder Whitmore stood at the head of the table, talking to everyone about the battle plan formulated by the ancient dragon royal family. As this meeting was held urgently, Elder Whitmore could only find time to send Philip a message.

The territory of the alliance was not big, and Philip and Claire only took five minutes to go from the medical hall to this meeting room.

To Philip's surprise, Claire was able to keep up with 50% of his speed. Although she seemed to be struggling, it was incredible enough.

At the entrance of the meeting room, Claire pushed the door open before Philip could. Everyone in the meeting room turned to the two.

Everyone's reaction was different, but Philip was caught off-guard by the greetings calling the Alliance Master. Although some people said it reluctantly, everyone still said it.

Claire ignored Philip who was still at a loss. She waved her hand and said enthusiastically, "Good morning, everyone!"

After that, she ran to the empty seat next to Elder Whitmore and sat down.

to her and said to Philip at the door,

everyone with this is Philip Clarke whom doesn't look any special

a spy sent

"That's hard to say..."

commotion among the crowd, and everyone talked about him without apologetically to Philip. He raised his hand and a little late, I'll summarize the battle

the east to the border is the territory of the White Marsh

continuing, "However, we have received reports that the green ox royal family in the south has also heard the news

the map of the area

Alliance is assigned as the first vanguard. While the mission is risky, the rewards can also be huge! The last time secret treasures of the forbidden land appeared in

of this, wishing they could enter right

The First Heir

Chapter 3329

For a god-tier sword practitioner to die of serious injuries, it went to show how ridiculously powerful his enemy must be. That opponent must surely be a god-tier too!

"Many forces have been keeping an eye on the sword tomb ever since its inception, and now the sword coercion surrounding it is slowly fading. We must quickly take the lead before it completely dissipates."

"The briefing is over. Let's start the combat assignment."

Elder Whitmore turned off the projection behind him, took a sip of water, and continued, "I, the alliance master, Philip, and Mr. Carter Marsden sent by the royal family will form the first team. We'll be located in the center of the main troops to conduct the battlefield command..."

"The second team..."

Philip did not pay attention to the details but narrowed his eyes at the man sitting opposite him.

He was wearing a tight-fitting silver combat uniform with a metallic luster, looking extraordinary at first glance. His face was quite handsome too.

When he realized that Philip was staring at him, Carter smiled, and his gaze sharpened.

Seeing that the other party had a certain degree of hostility toward him, Philip did not back down and stared back at him with a slight smile in the corner of his eyes.

“This is the end of the combat meeting. Everyone will gather in the central square this afternoon. Bring your equipment along, and the consumables will be provided by the alliance.”

Elder Whitmore placed his hands on the table and said to everyone.

except for the four

Whitmore was first looked back and forth between Philip and “Are you going to fight it

at her and said, “I’m not interested in fighting and stood up while shouting, “Who are you talking about, you low-class citizen?! Claire and I are childhood sweethearts. If you dare harbor propped his chin on his fists and said

she called

“You! How dare you?!”

light glowed

A seven-star talent!

before. It seemed that he was not easy to deal with, so here. I have to pay for the repairs if the meeting room is spoke, Elder Whitmore held back the at being held back. He flung his hands, opened the door, and your little boyfriend?” Philip tilted his head and asked the flushed and I were just playmates when in just a couple of days, Elder Whitmore laughed and said, “Let’s go to the cafeteria. Lunch should be walked out of the

Claire next to him, “Are you the

The First Heir

Chapter 3330

The newcomer’s face was stoic, and his height was close to two meters tall. He wore a khaki combat uniform with a crest of the ancient dragon royal family as a symbol of his status.

His eyes had nearly no whites as his gaze swept over the audience. Even Elder Whitmore seemed quite surprised by his arrival.

He hurriedly stepped forward and asked, "My lord, why are you here?"

"Why? Am I not welcome?" When this person spoke, everyone felt as if they were trapped in an ice cellar.

"We welcome you, of course."

Elder Whitmore broke out in a cold sweat and said, "What orders do you have, my lord?"

Except for a few steady people in the crowd, most of the people started whispering among themselves.

royal family already sent us like a member of the Shell family, a true member of

Do they value us so

today to go with all of you finished speaking, everyone lowered their heads and remained

Philip asked Claire in puzzlement, "Why communicator on her wrist, and signaled Philip to use the communicator to

Philip: [What's the matter?]

[This person is very ruthless. He's said to be the fangs of the Shell family, and he person on the stage twitched his mouth slightly and snorted

said, "Elder Whitmore, let's set off after you're done

Whitmore sent a combat record to Hardy Shell, who