

The First Heir 3331

Chapter 3331

With Hardy around, others did not talk that much, and everyone fell silent.

Philip tilted his head and looked at the scenery outside the window. This was the first time he had seen such a dense forest since he came to the other shore.

It stretched for thousands of miles with no end in sight, so at least the environment here was well-protected.

The general appearance of some species was quite similar to those in the original world. Maybe because of the strong vitality, the plants here seemed much bigger, and even an ordinary flower was taller than a person.

From time to time, birds and beasts that were disturbed by the convoy ran out of the woods in hordes.

Seeing Philip's surprise at the sizes of those creatures, Claire whispered, "Most special medicines are small in size. After all, it's the essence that counts."

In front, Hardy frowned, tilted his head, and stared at Claire.

Maybe because she was uncomfortable being stared at, Claire quickly said with a chuckle, "Of course, some special medicines are very big too."

"Everyone, get ready. We have about one hour before arriving at the destination!" Elder Whitmore, who was in the front passenger seat, broke the awkward atmosphere.

From the earlier map displaying the geographical location of the seventh continent, which was the city where Philip was located, they were very close to the borders of the two continents. It was probably for better power balance.

"This vehicle is not bad. How much does it cost?" Philip felt that the speed of this vehicle was quite good. He could use it as a mode of transport, so he asked Claire next to him.

Claire scratched her head and said, "You have to ask Elder Whitmore about this. I've no clue."

million star dollars for high-specs,"

most important thing is calm and steady, but when it came to the topic of cars, he could hardly stop

Claire in shock, "Has he her mouth, and said in a low voice, "He's a be customized according to the owner's preferences..." Carter a laugh and said, "Did I make a people sat through Carter's speech. Even if they tried to interrupt, it was to no

loud noise

“What’s wrong?”

it’s ahead, a monitor lizard about 40 to 50 meters long continued to attack the vehicles flying in the air. As its sharp Eagle Beak Mountain. It’s unlikely that it was attracted by the convoy here.” Elder Whitmore attempted to

After saying that, Hardy opened he flew toward the level 5S wind element practitioner in the middle stage of powerhouse in the middle of

He finally met a firmly on top of the clawed lizard. Its short arms could not reach Hardy

The First Heir

Chapter 3332

The gazes of the two clashed, but no one else seemed to notice the tension between the two.

“This eight-star clawed lizard isn’t something an ordinary expert can deal with. We need at least two or three seven-star practitioners at their peak to kill it. Mr. Shell, your skills have improved again,” Elder Whitmore said with a smile.

Hardy ignored him and slowly closed his eyes, fidgeting with the exotic beast’s crystal nucleus that was still warm in his hands.

The scrapped vehicle in front of them did not belong to Montana Alliance, so Philip and the others continued without further delay.

Everyone was silent for a while when Carter suddenly said, “What price range of a vehicle are you planning to buy, Philip?”

Philip was taken aback momentarily before saying with a smile, “I’ll think about it later when I have money.”

Carter made no further comment.

slowed down, and Elder Whitmore turned back and car slowly parked in a newly created parking lot. They got of them had exclusive patterns on their bodies, most probably the logos of the organizations

a newly built steel to the guide, this building could at least withstand the impact of key to their rest cabin, which was different from the rest cabins in the city's hotels. This rest cabin was similar to the sleeping cabin used by the space to such lengths to save loudspeaker in the corner between the floors announced, "Everyone is required to of this building was quite spacious, and the few thousand people taking part in clearly the outfits were members of the royal family in combat uniforms, members of different families in different colored uniforms, and members of gradually took shape. It was a person dressed in a golden

The First Heir

Chapter 3333

"He's Surrey Shell, the person with the highest practice level in the Shell family. He's the supreme emperor of the ancient dragon royal family and also the only top expert in the seventh continent at the holy-tier level. Do you know what a holy tier means?"

As she spoke, Claire stared at the image in front of her with admiration.

This old man was the emperor of the ancient dragon royal family who ruled the seventh continent!

A holy-tier powerhouse!

"Oh..." Philip nodded.

"What do you mean by that?" Claire puzzled to have Philip manner.

***

"The trip to the forbidden area this time is very dangerous. I'm very pleased to see everyone here," The old man stroked his beard and continued, "I won't be taking part in the young people's activities this time. All the treasures obtained in the forbidden area will belong to the individual."

Everyone cheered at the announcement.

"However, if we find anyone making trouble or robbing other people of their secret treasures, don't blame the royal family for showing no mercy."

As he spoke, the old man's eyes sharpened, and everyone shuddered.

'What a strong mental impact,' Philip thought.

"The forbidden area is expected to open at noon tomorrow. Please take care of yourself."

and left after chatting with the leaders of several major rest cabins after dinner. He never expected to meet original world, the holy tier should be the realm of the other

***

up the others, but

Let's get the downstairs, several teams were is food rations, in the middle are daily necessities, and on the

the food

can get

want to get combat

the food rations. At the front of the line were a few people from the royal family. He frowned when he saw that the royal family might be aware of his existence, he could not rule out the possibility of being drugged. If they prepared something special for him, it might be

was a

have to take fat, aren't I? I need to

for more than a dozen people in his arms, and he would receive a wave of abuse and ridicule fat guy merely grinned and this opportunity. When this person approached, he slightly raised his hand to change the space under fall forward. However, he did not forget to protect chuckle and stepped forward to support him

he stumbled, the guy

jerked the food in his arms toward Philip and said, "Buddy,

Chapter 3334

Soon, everyone assembled.

Hardy, who disappeared earlier, also returned to the team, but no one asked questions.

They had only heard a brief description of the sword gorge earlier. Although they heard of its magnificence, seeing was believing.

The sword gorge itself was quite plain, but after thousands of years, some plants had grown and reached the edge of the sword gorge. As opposed to man-made, everyone was more inclined to believe that this was the work of nature.

Standing on the edge of the sword gorge, Philip was deeply attracted by it. A god-tier being could actually do something like this with one blow.

The sword intent contained in the depths of the sword gorge made the Caelum Sword in Philip's space ring shrill loudly.

They were now in the middle of the sword gorge, which was also the widest area. The team sent by the White Marsh royal family stood on the opposite side.

made arrangements for their people to take the hover cars down to the depths of the sword bunker that Claire had mentioned before. Its appearance was a member of the alliance under the command of the ancient dragon royal family. He cheered and wanted could not even wait before taking time was not ripe yet. People from mainly came from the two royal families and the vassal families under them. Other ordinary alliance outfits of the White Marsh royal family were extremely luxurious, and even the combat verbal to physical. Dozens of people close to each the cave entrance shouted, "It's blasting their skills from time to time, trying to be the first to enter and get to everyone from Montana

did not cause

The First Heir

Chapter 3335

This passage had the strongest sword intent. Although it was possible to obtain treasures here, it could be a very dangerous trap too.

Gradually, most people made their decisions. To normal people, the sword intent from the caves was almost the same, but some with stronger senses could feel the stronger intent from the third passage. Most of them chose to go there.

Philip led the people of Montana Alliance through the portal and arrived at an empty field similar to a martial arts arena. Except for four giant stone sculptures placed in the corners, nothing else was in sight.

Some people from Montana Alliance began to complain, "There's nothing here at all."

“If I’d known earlier, I’d have selected another passage with the others.”

There was not even another door leading to other passages in sight. The portal was a one-way transfer.

Everyone started to search for secret treasures.

One person walked up to a stone statue and said under his breath, “Is there any treasure in this stone statue?”

Then, he raised his hand and touched the stone statue.

This man was very bold. The stone statue looked like a ferocious devil with a body as big as a hill. Others dared not even look at it, let alone get close to it.

about to touch the stone statue, the stone statue moved with a creak

The man’s face went statue clenched its fist, and the man turned into mincemeat. The stone statue flung the corpse on the

that guy was at

to fight that

to fight something like down before fighting and ran back to the portal that sent them in here, but the portal flicked them their moss-covered bodies extremely smooth. Each step they took “Golems,” Hardy said.

to bump into such golems?” Claire tried to look calm, but “Don’t they

“They’re the most primitive weapons of war 4,000 to 5,000 years ago. After the War of the Nine Emperors and peace was restored on all continents, they were banned from being used.

hand to form a wind blade, but the indestructible wind blade exploded after touching the body of

Even the wood element will be repelled instantly, and it’s immune to most firearm and said fervently, “Let’s try the power

The First Heir

Chapter 3336

The swordsman who was initially disheartened because all his attacks were resisted promptly perked up when he heard Philip’s remark. He even started a continuous offensive without a pause.

As everyone else was about to help, the stone statue's sword suddenly glowed green, and anyone with a discerning eye could tell that the light contained a wealth of wind elements.

The sword reinforced with wind elements suddenly doubled in speed, and the swordsman actively attacking just now fell into a disadvantage in a blink of an eye. He missed one move and was cut in half from his shoulder.

A few eager swordsmen stopped when they saw this, and their sword-wielding hands trembled slightly.

"As sword practitioners, don't we even have the courage to face our deaths?" A swordsman in a white combat uniform stepped forward and said heartily.

"Espada Gate, Lazaro!"

With that said, the man raised his sword and rushed to the stone statue.

Other sword practitioners were inspired by this sight and sprang into action after announcing their identities.

Villa,

Sword Court,

on the stone statues. Many of those who charged sword since he was a child and had a certain level of understanding is about to happen," Philip said continuous siege, the stone statues were damaged to if they were waiting for everyone to smash them into pieces. As their the wreckage. Although smaller in the mechas picked up the stone swords and lost their radiance burst into a fearsome black light as soon as they were touched. Due to their size, the mechas were encourage everyone to fight noticed by Philip, who frowned and said, "I didn't expect someone

Chapter 3337

Hardy glanced at Philip meaningfully before he chose a mecha and charged forth.

"Claire, wish me luck," Although his hands were shaking, Carter smiled at Claire and rushed forward.

Philip stepped forward slowly and picked up a sword.

Fire sprang from his hands and wrapped around the sword.

His eyes became serious, and he said, "This is enough to turn you into scrap metal."

For a while, all the top experts from various forces sprang into action. If this offensive failed again, the entire troop would be wiped out. Although there was help on hand, Philip wanted to fight a mecha single-handedly.

Most of the people were five or six stars with a few seven stars in between. Even if not everyone was proficient with a sword, they could fight this mecha just by the speed and strength of swinging a sword.

the presence of other people around slightly affected Philip's performance, his every strike accurately hit the joints of mechas seemed to be weakening, and everyone gained the mechas jumped out of their attack range. They retreated to the corners and raised the swords in became brighter. A person closest to them noticed that the black

"Close your shout came in a timely manner, many people did not close their eyes in time. They lost mechas moved again, looking for fiercer, and they did not overpowered a mecha that was

place, his rules of swordsmanship suddenly

Philip realize that the stronger the sword intent, the more damage

while it

it safe, Philip released his sword intent when his sword was infinitely close to the mecha. With one of very strong sword intent floated in front of

Chapter 3338

Elder Whitmore grabbed Claire who was about to rush forward and yelled, "Claire, it's dangerous!"

However, Claire was like an arrow ready to launch and refused to be held back.

"Carter! Please don't die! Carter!"

Claire knelt beside Carter, whose eyes had gone slack, and kept crying.

"Stop shaking him or he'll really die!" Philip, who was performing an emergency rescue, said helplessly when he saw Claire shaking Carter.

Probably due to excessive blood loss, Carter passed out.

The moment Carter closed his eyes, Claire's body suddenly lit up the whole place. Her eyes turned white, and her body floated in mid-air.

With tears in her eyes, Claire gritted her teeth and said in a sacred and indisputable voice, "Everyone shall die!"

About a thousand people entered this place, but only 200 remained.

For a moment, everyone was attracted by Claire's glowing body. This light was like a small sun that seemed to inspire others, and the screams gradually stopped. Even the remaining few mechas halted.

Hardy was startled before he continued to attack the mechas

her hand raised and grabbed its sword-wielding struggled but could not break free from the strange fist and

everyone exclaimed in shock, they realized that the light on Claire's body gradually solidified and wrapped around Crak!

black mechanical arm held by Claire

"Argh!"

ferocious expression, Claire tore off the

this, the other mechas wanted to help, wrapped in a gust of wind, and his body turned into a sword as

and slashed

Elder Whitmore

his hand to cast the rules of space. He did not think the light on Claire's body could it was Claire's golden light that protected her and burst into cheers. Even the sharp-eyed Hardy did not head of the mecha whose arm she was squashed. After several hand knives, the mecha's head finally a while, strong sword

Chapter 3339

"What's up with the sword behind you?"

Seeing that Philip was carrying a sword, Hardy asked suspiciously.

"This sword belonged to the guy who made the first move. It's no ordinary sword. I'll take good care of this sword for him."

As he spoke, Philip patted the hilt of the sword.

Elder Whitmore said with tears running down his face, "Claire's ability was inherited from her father's bloodline. It's heaven's grace that I was able to see it again in my lifetime."

"The power of her father's bloodline? For her to explode with such power and defensive ability, it's not an overstatement to say it's likely Grade A."

On the side, Hardy was tempted to win her over.

The source of power of the nine royal families came from the bloodline power inherited from the nine great beasts, holy beasts, or ferocious beasts passed down from ancient times. Due to the mighty power of their bloodline, they managed to maintain their supremacy for such a long time.

said, "The bloodline power in this child's body is not that strong, and it's greatly found a fairly open space to take sign of another door opening,

Caelum Sword, transformed it into a tiny humans could not absorb sword intent, the others did not care too much about the last shred of sword intent disappeared, the wall on the opposite slowly opened to both sides, revealing another room looked brighter due to the wooden boxes were placed around the stone chamber, still move rushed over. Philip was also very interested good swordsmanship skills. Although these special medicines were sealed properly, the efficacy was still reduced by several degrees due to he snatched right away but carried it back to the Montana Alliance this dangerous place because of me. You can divide this box among the box, they rummaged around and took took a bottle of elixir and

Chapter 3340

After some people collected their emotions, they took care of the bodies of the people they knew.

At this time, the people who entered the third portal looked numb. Although they got some pills, those pills that were about to lose their efficacy were not worth such a treacherous journey.

Looking at the dark passage ahead, they reluctantly dragged their feet inside.

After walking for a long time and just when they were about to collapse, a stone door that could only accommodate two people standing side-by-side appeared at the end of the tunnel. A few lines of words were scrawled on the door.

Just as everyone was at a loss for what to do with the incomprehensible words, an unknown old man with gray hair pushed aside the crowd and walked up to the door

“Sword practitioners have to fight continuously right from the start of practice. They’ll fight with people, with heaven and earth, and with themselves. Only the party that survives the fights can be called powerful. Select two sword practitioners, open the stone door, and have a match.”

After the old man conveyed the words, he retreated into the crowd.

There were two mechanisms on both sides of the stone door, which most probably could only be opened by the participants.

the conditions, everyone chartered, but they could not stop looking at Hardy and Philip who had who wanted him and Philip to go up against each other. This was intent in the process. The stone door opened slowly,

“Let’s do this!”

that, Hardy

Although Hardy Shell had the imprint of the ancient dragon royal family and disappeared into the fog, the stone door closed, leaving the others waiting anxiously for the result. Some even started a changed instantly, and they saw flashes of mountains, rivers, lakes, and bustling streets. Finally, the scene stopped in a quiet bamboo grove. The wind made a rustling sound as it passed through the bamboo forest, and there

man took a sip of tea and soon as the mysterious man finished speaking, Hardy’s hand turned into a sharp blade and slashed Philip, which Philip blocked in front of

Hardy was surprised that Philip