

The First Heir 3391

Chapter 3391

Philip sighed inwardly, "Trouble follows me everywhere..."

"You're now under suspicion for being a spy sent by the Green Ox Empire. Come with us."

Before Philip could explain, a hood was placed over his head and he was taken back to the cave.

Philip was quickly brought into an interrogation room surrounded by mirrors. Two men walked in very soon.

One of them asked, "Where are you from?"

"The capital."

"Which capital?"

"The capital city of White Marsh."

"What's your purpose here?"

"Interstate travel."

"Why didn't you take the predefined route?"

Philip was startled.

predefined route

"I didn't

more than a dozen meaningless was already a little annoyed by the questions, but if he were to break free from the restraints now, it would be extreme contempt for their man finally finished asking. Philip wanted to breathe a sigh

you done yet?"

woman ignored Philip but turned on the monitor behind her and said, "Through data comparison, you should be Philip Clarke, who appeared feud with the former leader, we still have reason dead

seen his

for a moment, at a royal family, we still have the right to make our own decisions. Now, put Philip Clarke a judgment already? Aren't you guys too hasty?" Philip said

out of here easily if was like a labyrinth with various rooms arranged neatly but intricately. Philip was taken deep underground. It was said to be a holding room, but this place looked pushed into a small room that was only 50 square feet

the next room, "Buddy, how did crime. What

up the mountains to pick herbs and got caught," the man

Chapter 3392

For a while, all the people in the holding rooms looked out the windows.

Soon, several fully armed men came down from the elevator and killed the wardens. However, their equipment did not seem uniform but rather pieced together.

The room doors were opened one after another, and the people outside shouted, "We're the battle group from Cloudridge! We've taken over this place! Leave now if you want to survive!"

Philip walked out of the holding room unhurriedly.

When Joey saw Philip, he shouted, "Run quickly or something might crop up in a while!"

"Okay."

After saying that, Philip acted as if he wanted to follow him to the elevator. After the leader took several target people away, he turned his gun around and said, "I won't allow you to leave now."

Immediately, Philip heard the sound of various weapons firing from behind him.

Philip dodged all of them, but Joey next to him was not so lucky. His back got hit, and he flew into the elevator that had just opened, all signs of life gone.

were not from a formal battle group but wolves in sheep's laughed and said, "Look at the way they're running for their lives. Hope stretched out his hand and made a grabbing person left," a person next to the leader can there be any survivors under such intensive attacks?" The leader opened his eyes and saw Philip standing in should have some skills to do this. Let's leader drove the assembled mecha toward punch hit Philip firmly in the face, but an attack less than a five-star level posed no threat to Philip at all. It merely made him tilt his head a weak?" Philip

"Are you a freak?"

like raindrops. However, the mecha's parts quickly scattered all over the place, exposing the man's are full of sin. Let

The man's face was distorted, and he wanted to people behind him were a little afraid to step

Kill him!" The man ordered while enduring the pain

Chapter 3393

Only Philip still stood there, looking very calm and relaxed.

A team leader in a combat uniform came over and asked with a serious face, "Did you do this?"

Philip judged from his aura that this person was a six-star practitioner with a relatively solid base.

He nodded as his answer.

"With your abilities, why are you willing to be imprisoned here?" the man wondered.

"Do you think I want to be here? You guys didn't even give me a chance to explain!"

Philip caught sight of the unreasonable woman in the interrogation room earlier, pointed at her, and said, "You there, don't think I can't see you. Come out here."

The woman lowered her head in embarrassment and walked over slowly.

The team leader asked the woman what happened and was furious. "Outrageous! How dare you make decisions without authorization about someone from the royal family? I think you don't want to work here anymore!"

The woman tried to explain, "But I was just following procedures."

that, the leader was

area, some people were always

I hope you don't dwell on this matter. We were just carrying out our duties," the officer person simply went up the mountain to collect some

to Joey's body in the elevator and frowned and continued, "I won't request much. You just need to agree to compensate the families of these people who

We hope you can supervise

other things to do,

dashed out of the passage like the

Philip leaving, those people did not stop

The borders were chaotic, rebel battle groups were everywhere, there were traces of the Moon Worship Creed floor mentioned by the lower small town next to equipment on them as if they and seller inside. The buyer raised the cannon on his right arm and fired at the store. Thick smoke was everywhere for a metal now, and the cannon only left a

The First Heir

Chapter 3394

Philip really was not used to the taste of that drink, so he went out and threw it into a trashcan.

On the street, Philip pondered if he should go to Multiherb Guild of the white tiger royal family on the third continent to find the Multidew Herb or the Heroes Conference of the fire phoenix royal family on the first continent.

At this moment, a little boy covered in bruises ran out, stopped Philip, and said anxiously, "Big Brother, please save my sister..."

With that said, the boy took Philip to an old house. The rusty smell of houses in disrepair lingered everywhere. It should have rained not long ago, and the water stains on the ground were reddish brown.

Philip remained on guard and followed the little boy into a house with an open door. A few people were arguing, and a girl was sobbing.

"Ern, we agreed to let the boss go first."

"Why should we give up such a good opportunity?"

"Stop arguing. Let's come to a compromise and let me go first."

"Get lost!"

in front of him, three youths with distorted faces stood there with a three of them saw someone coming in,

saying that, one of them picked up a thin metal his knee, and said with a sneer, "Why are you so impatient? Let me calm you it, what did you do to glowed. He was were bold enough to challenge him. Since there was so much metal around, wrapped around that man, turning him into an iron mummy before his attack

He judged that Philip was stronger than Ern but did “You’re dead today!”
his fists and rushed over, seemingly proficient in boxing. This man lightly. The man flew upside

The First Heir

Chapter 3395

The girl took out a knife from the kitchen and was about to kill the three of them.

Philip quickly stopped her and said, “Aren’t you afraid of getting your bedroom dirty if you do it here?”

The girl shook her head, and Philip said with a sigh, “Go outside.”

The three were killed by the girl while they were unconscious. Philip manipulated the water to wash the surrounding area and set the three on fire, turning them into ashes.

The girl was very brave, unmoved despite killing three people. However, she was also a child who knew how to repay kindness, so she invited Philip into the house for dinner.

The house could almost be described as barren.

The girl took out the only piece of meat from the refrigerator and served it to Philip after cooling it. This piece of meat could be considered the most valuable item in this family.

Philip did not refuse her kindness, but he still gave the siblings half the portion of meat. The siblings did not speak anything, they just looked at Philip only.

After finishing his meal, Philip asked them, “What are your names?”

The younger brother said, “My name is Jack, and my sister’s name is Jess.”

common names, so Philip continued to

there was an adult in the family, at least and he said, “They went to the

was taken aback and town was fairly lush with no desert marked on the

ago, and one part of it still surrounds this of water to Philip and added, “There are storms in that desert every hugged his elder sister, who had taken care of him all received an emergency call one day and left for the desert, but they never came back. This place slowly became like this. We have to live like rats every

she spoke, the girl was about to

on the back and said, day off today. Those three guys wanted to steal something but did not expect to bump into a pretty girl in the house, so they think I might go to the desert later. Maybe alive and well," the

their parents would not end, Philip could only leave behind some weapons for them before he left and also sent some money to news about your parents, I'll come back and

Chapter 3396

They purchased some necessities from the nearby store.

The tanned guy called for two large armored hover vehicles and said to everyone, "Let's save some energy and let the vehicles take us for the first half of the journey."

As Philip joined the team later, he was assigned to the second car.

A hooded girl sat next to him, constantly playing with a large-caliber handheld ion cannon. Her movements were spectacular like she was holding a blooming silver flower in her hand.

Philip said, "Don't kill yourself before we get there."

The girl stopped when she heard him.

She pressed the small display screen next to the gun to Philip's face and said, "I won't make such a stupid mistake."

girl was so confident since he could see that the goggles he bought before and put them on to test the functions. Although the hide of this armored car was very thick, the sound of sand and gravel hitting the vehicle could still be heard, the eyepiece, he wrapped his head in some clothes, looking vaguely see that his skin was very white, and his information was displayed on the eyepiece, [Vampire race, a was almost extinct. He carried a virus that could revive the Philip. There was nothing unusual about the rest of them except for this vampire in the mix. In order to drive into the desert, and the driver said, "We won't go any farther. The cars, and a round glass cover protruded from their backs. Most still very high. They walked all, but another person caught Philip's attention. All the gravel was bounced off the person's body, most likely a gradually stopped. Everyone decided to take a break and set off again when it was cooler in

Chapter 3397

The tanned guy exclaimed in surprise. A beast tamer was very rare.

The woman nodded and sat down again.

Philip was lying in his sleeping bag, observing everything with his mental strength. This beast tamer was quite interesting.

At the specified time, everyone took advantage of the huge full moon to move on. It was obvious that the vampire was not as weak as it was during the day.

There were actually two moons on the land of the other shore, one far and one near. The craters could even be seen clearly on the one nearer. They moved quickly during the night. Most of them were six-star practitioners and moved fast, and they covered more than half of the distance by dawn.

At noon, everyone decided to stop for a break. The sandstorm during the day was too big, and even the sky was dark.

Philip got into his sleeping bag again, controlling the water to cool it down. Even if the high temperature evaporated the water, Philip could always make more water.

Seeing that everyone was asleep Philip wondered. 'That dude can really sleep. Isn't he afraid of being smothered to death in this heat?'

the sandstorm

the front of the line and the vampire stumbled and fell into quicksand with strong suction. Everyone see that the

the vampire walk into but could not find anything. There must be something wrong here. Philip smelled a tanned guy said sadly, "Everyone must keep up with the team. Even six-star powerhouses may not escape be sad about. Due to this incident, everyone arrived at the center of here

a waste of suppressed his level and urged the wind element to blow all the sand away with

with intricate patterns entered their sight, and there was a hole

Chapter 3398

vampire.

“Hey! What’s in there?” someone asked.

Seeing that Philip was frowning and thinking about something, the girl in the hood walked over. Several people followed.

Seeing nothing unusual, the rest started searching for treasures.

After one person saw the dried corpse, he was a little terrified and wanted to destroy it with his gun. However, at this moment, all the candles went out with a gust of chilly wind. Someone lit a torch and saw bats hovering above them.

The few people hunting for treasure in the distance were the first to suffer. After a few screams, their voices became smaller and smaller before finally disappearing. They were most probably sucked dry by these bloodsucking vampire bats.

the huge wind pressure to

With the help of the faint light from the torch, everyone could vaguely see the other than the man

tanned guy scowled unhappily and said, “Monster, why did you sneak into “Don’t you know

wave of his robe, a black light shot out, up their guns and fired wildly at the vampire. In the dim light, they

of the vampire

the coffin. The vampire stopped and landed next to the coffin. Bullets caused coffin. The corpse gradually perked up, and the vampire became a little weak. The blood of the man who just died flowed toward the coffin along a small channel on be impatient. Wait a little longer,” the

The First Heir

Chapter 3399

He kept waving a long flaming whip, lashing back and forth at the bats that kept coming. Although the flame element could cause decent damage to the bats, it was far from enough to completely kill these things.

Six of the seven people took turns fighting against the bats, but the sand element practitioner lowered his head and remained motionless.

“Hey! What are you doing!?! If you don’t make a move, we’re dead!”

Suddenly, a sand blade pierced the man’s chest, and he slumped slowly with a face full of disbelief. With one less person to help out, the rest found it more difficult to resist.

The sand element practitioner behind them took off his mask. His eyes were extremely empty, and his skin was drained of blood, looking as if he had been dead for a while.

Seeing this, Philip said, “Oh no, that person is controlled by the vampire. Everyone, watch out!”

Philip did not want these people to be wiped out, so he upped his game and lashed countless wind blades at the bats in the air and the zombie behind him.

A hole was formed due to the impact, but the bats quickly closed it again. The zombie raised its hand, and a sand wall blocked the attack.

“If you continue to hold back, all of us will die here!” Seeing that Philip’s attacks were getting stronger, the tanned guy shouted.

carrying on her back and said, “Get ready them, the zombie moved again. A pile of gravel quickly surrounded them and rushed at them put his hands on the ground and aimed

Boom, bang!

shattered the zombie’s right

I missed

gathered

bat came out from his blind spot and flew to the man’s neck, body tilted, and the cannon on

while, the underground hall and wrapped the man in gravel. Sand poured into his mouth and nose. All he could do were the members of the team who were killed by the bats before, and they

the zombies using their skills one by one, Philip do any harm to the zombies at all. As she was getting desperate, a black sword light cut several zombies

The First Heir

Chapter 3400

“Why should we go just because you want us to?” Philip gripped the sword in his hand and asked.

Everyone looked at Philip in surprise, including the vampire.

“No more fighting. I’ve had enough blood,” the vampire answered.

“You realize you can’t beat us, but I’m just getting started,” Philip narrowed his eyes and said with a smile.

The others could hardly hold their weapons steadily now, and the beast tamer even sat down on the ground, thinking, ‘Stop fooling around. You’re the only one who can still fight now!’

The vampire was a little panicked. The others posed no threat at all, but the person in front of him was unfathomable. Right from the start, he did not even see Philip panting.

“My friend, please let us go...”

retreated to the so many people. How can I just let you go?” Philip approached the vampire, and the smile on his face made and hugged

then said, “Marie, wake

from

the call, and her somewhat

and whispered, “How the vampire

away from the two vampires

The vampire named Marie said and kissed done, Philip picked up the traces of the people who have been here over the years and tell you, but you have to him and said to them, “I can handle this. You guys