

The First Heir 3411

Chapter 3411

"You should reconsider. You have great potential," the woman tried to persuade Philip.

Philip thought to himself, 'Are the people of this battle group selected this way?'

After shooting down a few enemy planes, the first wave of offensive launched by the two parties ended, and the opponent's remaining aircraft retreated. As survivors, Philip's aircraft also flew back.

However, the situation was not optimistic. One battleship of the green ox royal family made an emergency landing while another one out of three had a hull billowing with thick smoke.

There were few surviving aircraft here, and it was likely that everyone would be wiped out in the next wave of attack.

In the command room, a middle-aged man with gray sideburns said, "In the next wave, we'll send all the flying robots through the forest and catch them by surprise."

"But we don't have enough manpower for the maintenance," a young man next to him said.

Philip pondered before asking, "When softly, "We didn't receive any message. They it! This spy is well hidden, indeed." The man slapped the table

them received drinks and energy bars

robots outside began checking the condition party's attack started again, more violent than the earlier one. The battleship carrying Philip hurriedly turned on the aircraft watched as the battleship fell behind him. Fortunately, there was a reverse buffer device, so the scene did not in air combat, but due to poor safety features and difficulty operating, they were usually used at royal family were deployed, ready to fight to the end, but the numbers were really no

was in could barely survive the hail other aircraft exploded and turned into balls of flames around him, Philip

Chapter 3412

Philip hurriedly used the rules of space to block the electromagnetic cannonball, but it was too late.

The space barrier only blocked the front part, but other parts of the aircraft were burned by the ultra-high temperature.

The woman wondered how she survived this attack when Philip opened the hatch. The aircraft was falling rapidly on the nearby mountain.

The woman came back to her senses and was about to put on the evacuation equipment when Philip pulled her and jumped off the aircraft.

“What are you doing? We’ll die!” In the air, the woman closed her eyes and screamed.

Philip ignored her but controlled the wind and slowly landed in an open area.

The woman came back to her senses when her toes touched the ground. She looked at Philip in shock.

To fly like this, other than using some secret methods, one must at least be a six-star wind elemental practitioner.

that she could not speak for a finally calming down, she bowed and apologized, “Sir, I’m sorry for not amused and said, felt exasperated. He did not expect to earn that address after taking far away was about to be wiped out, several figures in black dashed through the air and fleet of the black turtle royal family, one of them

arrival of these people,

Their aura was extremely strong. Two of them flew in the wind fleet of the black turtle royal family shouted, “Do you want laughed and said, “It’s just a piece

he spoke, the man grabbed the hair of man in black continued, “The information leak is just a show. You really think captured man kept man in black released a wind blade and beheaded the spy, whose body fell like a kite with a cut

The First Heir

Chapter 3413

The voice of the man in black resounded throughout the valley along with the wind as he tossed the severed head in his hand at the other party.

The black turtle royal family’s fleet quickly left the battlefield after receiving the order, and the men in black were not bothered about the defeated green ox royal family fleet behind.

The brown-haired female officer stared at the sky and muttered, “We may have a full-scale war now.”

“Why exactly are you fighting?” Philip wondered.

The woman said, “It’s no big secret anymore. The exploration team of the green ox royal family discovered an ancient relic next to a huge gold mine...”

“Based on the traces, historians think that this relic was left by the ancients when they first arrived at the Starfall Continent. After the black turtle royal family got the news, the two parties started fighting over the ownership of the territory there.”

Since this could invoke a war between two continents, it must be more valuable than the previous Peerless Sword Tomb.

“This relic is coveted by other continents too. If not for the strong restriction, I’m afraid...” the female officer added.

With some understanding now, Philip asked, “Is there any speculation about when the restriction will be lifted?”

within ten years, but there’s no other words, it could be tomorrow or ten noded. Philip and the woman then went back to the fleet and met the the woman stepped forward and spoke to the officer, she was assigned to logistics leader of the team had a change of attitude and said solemnly, “Do you not looked at the busy woman, and said, “I’m sorry, but your ability, you can do very well that I’m

in the aquarium of the White

Clarke who man should bathe in blood and sweat on true,

other urgent things to do,

The First Heir

Chapter 3414

The eagle-eyed man frowned and asked a girl next to him who was looking down at the insects, “Is there something wrong with my eyes? I keep feeling that someone is up there, but I can’t detect them with my senses.”

The girl looked around and said doubtfully, "There's no one."

"Maybe my eyesight is going bad." The man lowered his head and blinked vigorously.

The two wore the crest of the ancient dragon royal family. The man of course just saw someone up there.

Philip left this place to continue his trip.

According to the promotional video of the Heroes Conference he saw earlier, it should start in about six months, but the audition should start three months before that.

This time, he drove continuously for five days and four nights. There was no worry about running out of energy. Even if he drove at full speed, the high-grade energy stone he installed earlier still had half its energy left.

After a while, Philip landed slowly.

Done with passing through several checkpoints in the green ox royal family, Philip handed over his temporary pass and stepped into the territory of the fire phoenix royal family.

fire phoenix royal family, Philip acutely felt the high temperature that that seemed like volcanoes. If those were really volcanoes, the whole continent would be doomed if they erupted the vegetation and spirit beasts here carried a trace of the Swoosh, bang!

Philip's face and as if he was looking at prey. The man the man was about to leave, Philip stopped him and said, "Buddy, what are you doing in this

"Practice!"

because he had not spoken for a long time, this person's person was interesting, so Philip followed him wild boar at the same time. He seemed very skilled

"Watch if you want!"

said that, the other party was about to

"Okay..." Philip replied.

Chapter 3415

After the man finished speaking, he found a thick branch and took an afternoon nap.

The pork was roasted crispy on the outside and tender on the inside, and the special gamey aroma emitted by wild boar was completely trapped in the meat. The meat had equal parts of fat and lean meat, so Philip did not feel queasy even after he finished the whole leg.

About half an hour later, the man jumped down from the tree. He took out a formidable-looking scimitar about half the size of an adult from his space ring and started practicing in the open field.

Although no energy was produced, the surrounding leaves rustled, stirred up by the simple movements.

His technique was open and forthright. The blade was sharp, and the scimitar wielder was even sharper.

Philip looked at the technique and thought it focused on the basics.

The man stopped slowly and Philip applauded.

A cry in the distance attracted the man. Judging from the sound, it should be something was very good too. Soon,

he recognized this huge monster, but with in the Green Ox Empire and its vicinity. Its body was covered in patterns similar to porcelain. It was very strong and could reach 40 to 50 meters in beast and would not normally attack stirred up a storm with his scimitar. As expected of a creature with a tough hide, was quite outstanding even among spirit beasts. The beast was on the basis of not messing with it. Now, it depended on how the man would end and his scimitar was covered with a layer of scimitar intent without any fluctuations. The stronger the intent, the calmer it would be, but the man rushed

The First Heir

Chapter 3416

Looking at the changes that came over the rhino, Philip asked the man next to him, "Did you see that man just now?"

The man nodded and said, "He's probably from the Spirit Beast Guild."

"The Spirit Beast Guild?"

Before Philip could ask further, the man rushed forward with his scimitar again, but the scimitar intent was not so calm now. It was violent like an erupting volcano.

The rhino's transformation was basically over. The horn on its head had grown by more than half, and the blue porcelain-like patterns on its body looked like bursting blood vessels.

The man's scimitar struck this creature that had turned into a demonic beast, and the spraying blood corroded everything around like strong acid.

The rhino was bulky in size, but its attack was very strong. Getting hit by that sharp horn would mean the end of the fight.

The man kept jumping and dodging the rhino's attack. He saw the right opportunity and cut off the rhino's horn with one blow. The next slash cut open the rhino's abdomen, rendering it immobile.

final blow ended its kept the crystal. This bag was full

Beast Guild you mentioned just

many spirit beasts and demonic beasts he killed

"It's currently the most

Is it comparable to

of influence is huge. You walked to you saying that all demonic beasts

"You can say that."

house in silence,

man suddenly said, "You should be here

he nodded and

Gordon Tine, by

man held out his hand

The First Heir

Chapter 3417

During these few days of interaction, although Gordon did not reveal his level, Philip guessed that he was at least at the early stage of eight stars, and the level of his scimitar intent was very solid.

He was also the first person Philip had come across to participate in the Heroes Conference, which should be very interesting.

Philip tried to bring the energy practice module of the Three Phase God-Demon Technique to the second level, but every time he tried to advance, he felt that something was missing, so he was at a loss for a while.

Around noon on the fifth day of living here, the sound of a group of people approaching the wooden house caught Philip's attention. It should be some people traveling. Philip was not bothered and got up to prepare lunch.

The leader stopped after seeing the wooden house.

There were nine people, a mix of men and women. They did not have any transportation, and they were not very old, so Philip guessed that they were participants in the Heroes Conference too.

Seeing them stop, Philip continued to prepare his meal without raising his head.

He asked coldly, "What's up?"

Seeing Philip being so rude, a hot-tempered person wanted to teach him a lesson but was stopped by the leader.

the Ape Cave around

not shaved recently

you talking about

water, getting ready to cook some please give you'll reach a rock mountain. With your speed, you should take about half for

that, the leader left

gone far, the hot-tempered man said indignantly, "Why were you so polite to forest is full of danger everywhere. Someone who dares to live here can't be that simple. That wooden house of his is made of materials

he has a machine to weapon expert. We're here for small rocky mountain with a cave at the foot of the mountain. Several apes were patrolling seems that he

Chapter 3418

Philip picked up the stone fruit and ate it after wiping it.

The nine people just now did not produce much fluctuation. Except for the courteous leader who was at the early stage of seven stars, the rest were mid to late stages of six stars.

One girl was even at the late stage of five stars with a great fluctuation of the earth element. Taking the stone fruit should be helpful to her.

Philip stayed here for another 30 days, during which he explored every nook and cranny within a hundred miles. He also tested every special herb in the vicinity, but his level was as solid as a rock.

During this time, Gordon also sparred with Philip a few times.

They used the scimitar intent and sword intent respectively, but Philip was still slightly better. Although Gordon might have a trump card, Philip was not without one either.

There was no point in staying here any longer. Gordon could improve his scimitar intent through killing here, but not Philip.

passed by here, but no one caused any 36th day of his stay here, Philip found Gordon who was fighting with a lightning leopard.

Gordon took out some meat from a black pig he had killed a few days ago. The two survived by foraging for food around them. They found some edible weeds and cooked two in the competition. You might knock me out.” Gordon said while to speak to recently, he could speak more fluently be entering the finals. If you want to be eliminated, you have to a sip of

The rich aroma of the wine filled his mouth and nose in an instant. It went down his throat know how to tell me everything except how this wine is made. If you have a chance, you practice here?” Philip asked after taking a bite of

be there a week before the auditions,” Gordon

you cutting it close?”

The First Heir

Chapter 3419

In the past month, Philip had modified his space ring. He added soil, running water, oxygen, plants, and some living creatures to it.

After several adjustments, he was finally done.

Philip also built a hut for the sword spirit of Caelum Sword. Although she protested every day, wanting to live in a big house instead, she was obviously very pleased.

In other aspects, Philip got to know various special herbs and spirit beasts. After trying for many days, he finally reached the second level of the Three Phase God-Demon Technique’s energy practice, and his overall elemental energy became more solid.

Ever since he came to the territory of the fire phoenix royal family, Philip had not entered the city, which he finally visited today.

When the routine inspection team on the edge of the city heard that Philip was here to attend the Heroes Conference, they were very enthusiastic and quickly issued a temporary pass for him.

The biggest feature of this city was the numerous roads between buildings. Few people walked on the street, and most activities were carried out between buildings.

Philip put his car away and entered a high-rise building that looked like a commercial block.

It was quite lively here, and some places had already started selling merchandise of the Heroes Conference.

about the previous conference and found a poster he had seen on the wall of Jack's room before. He smiled and

and many people

tavern and sat inside. After ordering a few people will attend the Heroes Conference heard that the Moon Worship Creed from the that's about to

"Exactly!"

wonder what the White Marsh royal

man

"What did you hear?"

be up to

on the territory of the fire phoenix royal family, and he served, Philip listened to the conversation had a large sphere of influence, they did not do much. They merely created demonic beasts and recruited that they were going to attend the

Chapter 3420

The man saw Philip as well and approached him while waving his hand.

It was none other than the leader of the team that was looking for the stone fruit in the forest.

Although Philip looked very different now, the man still recognized his aura at a glance.

"Sir, we meet again." The man was very friendly.

“Hehe, has that team member of yours successfully advanced?” Philip said while walking.

“Thanks to you, she reached six stars smoothly after taking the stone fruit,” the man said with a laugh.

Philip wanted to find a barbershop to trim the messy hair on his face. The man seemed very free and started to hang out with Philip.

Seeing that Philip was a little impatient, the man suddenly said, “Sir, I forgot to introduce myself. I’m Carl Redd from Tranquil Valley of the green ox royal family.”

Gordon Tine.” Philip said that this person had no intention of leaving, he was playful and gambled all our funds. He’s being held there right now. I hope you wanted not necessary. I’ll take a an independent town, with residents, businesses, workplaces, and entertainment

don’t have money, why don’t you very poor. The funds this time are the end of our rope. My junior wanted to make more money for the

“Our guild leader is old. If we see.” Philip did not elevator stopped at the basement. As soon as they stepped out, golden inside. However, he was beaten up by the burly security

a face full of regret and helplessness.